A C T VI.

Anent furnishing of necessars for ministratoun of the Sacraments.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Ordeines that all the Paroch Kirks within this Kingdome be provided of Basins and Lavoirs for the ministratoun of the Sacrament of Baptisme; and of Cups, Tables, and Table-Cloathes, for the ministratoun of the holy Communion; which shall be received to that use by the Minister of the Parochin, in sik convenient place as he shall finde meet, for which he and his heires and executors shall be answerable to the Parochin, in-case the same be lost, or otherwayes used to any profane use. And ordeins the expences thereof, to be made by the Parochiners; and the Ministers of every Kirk to do their diligence for providing the same, by causing the Parochiners stent and taxe themselves to the effect fore said, betwixt and the first of Februar next, under the pain of losing ane yeares stipend. And for putting the said Act in execution, Ordeins the Lords of his Majesties Councel and Session, to give forth their Letters for charging the Parochiners to convene and taxe themselves to the said effect, and make payment of the money wherein they shall be stented, as the same shall be required.

ACT VII.

Anent unlaues of absents from Parliament.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of this present Parliament, hes ratified and approved, and by the tennour hereof Ratifies and approves the thirthe fourth Act of his Highnes eleventh Parliament, 1587. Intitular (the unlaw of absents from Parliament) in the whole heads and clausies thereof, after the forme and rennour of the same in all points; with this addition, that the unlaw of the Commissioners of Barons through their absence from Parliament, shall be ane hundredth pounds money. And declares that no excuse shall be received nor admitted hereafter for absence from Parliament, except their Licence be granted by his Highnes under his note and super-scription, if his Majesty be present within the Realme for the time. And in his Highnes absence, by his High Commissioner of Parliament: and in case of the said Commissioners absence, their Licence to be granted and subscribed by the Lord Chancellor, and Lords of Secret Council, to be produced judicially the first day of the fensing of ilk Parliament, to the Clerk of Register and his Deputes. And farther declares, that in time coming it shall be lawful to whatsomever Duke, Marques, Earle, Vicount, Lord, or Prelat within this Realme, being absent from the Parliament, and lawfully excused, as said is, to send ane sufficient power subscribed with their hands to any one of that estate, having place and vote in Parliament, who shall be admitted to reason and vote in Parliament, and whole dyets thereof, for that person absent, siklike and als freely in all respects as if he had been present himself. And ordeins the said former act with this present, act at ilk Parliament, to be execut with all diligence. And the penalties therein mentioned to be up-lifted to Our Sovereigne Lords use, by his Highnes Thesaurer.

ACT VIII.

Anent the Justices for keeping of the Kings Majesties Peace, and their Constables.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, having considered the Articles and Instructions given of before by his Majesty to the Justices and Commissioners, appointed for keeping of his Majesties Peace, and to their Constables which were presented to his Highnes, and unto the saids Estates, by the saids Justices, and desired to be authorized by decret and sentence of Parliament: Hes ratified and confirmed the same in manner as they are particularly here set down and expressed in every point and article thereof, of the which the tennours followes. That is to say.

The Commissioners and Justices of Peace at their first admitting upon the Bench, shall give the Oath following:

YOU shall sweare, that you as one of the Commissioners and Justice of Peace within the Shire of &c. according to your knowledge, wit and power, shall do equal right both to rich and poor, conform to the Lawes and Customes of the Land and Statutes thereof: And that you shall not be of Counsel with any person in any quarrel or matter depending before you, and that you shall every quarter keep the Sessions, or oftner as you shall be required, not having any just impediment to the contrary: and shall faithfully and truly discharge your duetie, as ane Justice of his Majesties Peace, and shall leave nothing undone, that may tend to the preservation of the same. So help you God.

II

ANY one Justice shall have power upon complaint of any person, being threatned, and fearing to be wronged, to binde the party complained upon, under such a pecunial sum, to keep the Peace, as he shall think fitting. As also to commit him, until suretie be found by him, the said complainer alwayes giving his Oath before the Justice, that he hath just cause to dread his harm. And albeit no person complain, yet if the Justice be credibly informed, of appearance of trouble betwixt any parties, he shall binde them to the Peace in manner aforesaid: except the parties declare upon their consciences, that neither of them doth beare any grudge to other. And all such bands shall be kept in record by him, and he shall make deliverie of the same to the Clerk of the Peace, at the next Session, to be kept and registered by him.

III

IF any person, being charged to make his appearance before a Justice of Peace, shall refuse or delay without cause: if the partie bee a landed Gentleman, whose rents exceed ten chalders of victual, or a thousand marks of silver; then the Justice (whose command is contemned) shall informe the same to some of the Lords of His Majesties privie Council: to the effect the party of the quality foresaid may be called and fined for his disobedience. And if the disobeyer be of a meaner degree, the Justice shall hereby have have power to command the next constable: or absence of a constable, his owne servant, or any other person, having a warrant in writ, subscribed by the saids Justices of Peace, with assistance of the countrey, to bring any such partie before him.

IV.

IF either the Sheriff or Bailie shall condemne any person in a bloodwyte, or otherwise convict him in any paine proper for him to impose, the Justice shall have no power of new to fine that offender for that offence: but if they shall finde him not condignly punished in regard of the offense committed by him, they shall then inform his Majesties Counsel thereof, that they may take order therewith. And if there be no satisfaction made by the Sheriff or Bailie to the partie offended, the Justices may modifie reasonable satisfaction to the party offended, hee pursuing therefore before them: and if they shall finde the satisfaction discerned by the Sheriff or Bailie in favours of the said partie offended, not condigne nor answerable to the offence, and wrong sustained, then they shall also informe his Majesties Counsel thereof, that they may take order therewith as appertaineth.

V.

IF either Sheriff or Bailie, or other Deputies by collusion with the delinquent, shall suffer any person guilty to be quitted or cleared by an Assise (the partie once cleared, is not to be brought further in question before the Justices) but upon their information, the Judges are to bee called, censured, and severely punished by his Majesties Counsel.

VI.

THE saids Justices shall hereby have power to proceed upon all persons, committing ryots, and breaking the Kings Peace, under the degree of Noblemen, Prelates, Counsellors, and Senators of the Colledge of Justice: and to punish and fine according to the quality of the crime, and the estate of the offender. And if any of the saids persons being charged to compare before the saids Justices, shall disobey the summonds being indorsed, the lawful citation verified and fact proven, the Justices shall punish and fine the not comparing, according to the quality of the crime, and the estate of the offender. And for the more clear determination of the order which shall bee kept by the saids Commissioners in the deducing of any such proccesse. Our Sovereigne Lord, with advise of the Estates declareth, That it shall be lawful to the saids Justices whensoever they have any occasion to move any action against parties for committing any like fact or riot, to refer the first summonds to the parties Oaths of verity (in case of inlake of other lawful probation) who being personally summoned by that first citation, shall be holden as confest, and decreit to be pronounced against him, conform to the libell and summonds. And if he be not personally summoned by the first citation, the saids Commissioners shall be holden to cause summond him of new againe, by a second summonds, at his dwelling place: which two citations shall be als sufficient to infer decreit, and sentence upon the libell against him, as if hee were apprehended perforally. And which sentence given after the manner and forme of probation above-written; His Majestie with advise foresaid, authorizes and sustaines as good and lawful in themselves. And concerning these persons of higher degree, the saids Commissioners shall use all their power for preventing and slaying of the riots, commanding the attempters in his Majesties name to cease, and to finde caution for keeping of the peace, and for their comparance before his Majesties Counsel. And if any person, being charged to finde caution, and refuseth or delayeth to do the same, and in the mean time contraveneth the said charge, by committing of some deed bewixt the time of the charge and finding of the caution: neverthelesse he shall be answerable for the paine from the date of the charge, like as if caution had been then found.

VII.

THE saids Commissioners shall put his Majesties Acts of Parliament to due and full execution against wilful Beggars and Vagabounds, Solitarie and idle Men and Women, without calling or trade, lurking in Ale-houses, tyed to no certain service, repute and holden as vagabonds: and against these persons who are commonly called Egyptians: and they shall punish and fyne their receptors, and letters of houses to them accordingly, by such competent paines as is proper to them to injoyn.

VIII.

THE saids Commissioners and Justices of Peace, are hereby authorized, with power to give order (as they shall think most convenient, and with least grief to the subjects) for mending of all High-ways and passages, to or from any Marker towne or Sea-port within that Shire: and shall call before them all such persons as shall strait these passages or otherwayes (as by casting of Ditches and fuses thorow the same) shall make those High-ways nayfome and troublefome unto passengers, and shall punish and fyne them according to the qualitie of their offense. And to the effect it may be known of what breadth all common High-ways should be to Marker townes. Our Sovereigne Lord, with advise foresaid, declares, that the same should be of twentie foot of measure in breadth at the least: and where any are of larger breadth, they ordaine the same so to remain unaltered or straited: and that the saids Justices maintaine the same, with all other wayes from any town in the Paroch, to the Paroch Churches, in the estate as they are: and where they finde any necessitie of other wayes from any town in the Paroch to Paroch Churches, they shall informe his Majesties Secret Counsel thereof; who shall give them (after sufficient information) their direction thereanent: according whereunto they shall be holden to proceed. And if any person refuse to concur for mending of high-ways and passages, the said Justices shall have power to censure and punish them according to their discretion: with provision alwayes, that if in their proceedings therein, they use such severity or rigour, as may move just complaints against them; they shall be censured therefore by his Majesties Secret Council, as appertaineth.

IX.

THe saids Commissioners shall put his Majesties Acts of Parliament to Execution, against cutters and destroyers of Planting, Green-wood, Orchards, Yeards, Haynings, breakers of Dove-houses and Coningers, Stealers of Bees and Bee-hives, users of unlawful games with lying dogs, slayers of red and black fish and smolts in forbidden time, Fowlers fowling in other mens lands, makers of moore-burne and mosse-burne, setters of cruves or nets in waters and dammes, having and keeping of cruves and yares in forbidden time: and shall proceed against them accordingly: And for their better warrant to proceed in the premises, It is his Highnes pleasure, that commission shall be granted to the saids Justices of Peace, to try and punish the violaters of the saids Acts, in the tryal whereof they shall proceed by witnesses, by Oath of partie, and the punishment to be inflicted by them, shall be a pecunial summe, answerable to the circumstance of the offense, and the qualitie of the offender: with special provision, that their censures and punishment shall extend against none but those against whom by the priviledge of their instructions they may lawfully proceed, and also with provision that the said commissions be not extended to any persons who shall be arrested and conveyed for the saids crimes before any other ordinary Judges. It is also provided, that the ordinance and power contained in this Article, shall no wayes be prejudicial to any other commissions or rights whatsoever, granted to others parties, whereby they have power to proceed and censure the crimes and offences above-written.

X.

ITEM, they shall informe the Kings Majesties Council, and his Highnesse Thesaurer or Advocate, at the least once every yeare, of fore-stallers or regraters of Markets, that order may be taken with them conforme to the Acts of Parliament.

XI.

IT shall not be licenced to any Hostler to recept any master-lesse men and Rebels at the Horne, any vagabounds, or other persons guilty of knowne crimes, or using stouth and reafe, under the paines underwritten, To wit, fourty shillings to be incurred by them for the first fault, foure pounds for the second, and ten marks for the third, together with the losing of the libertie of Brewing, the incurreurs of the which pains, shall be punished according to the order aforesaid, by the Barons and Masters of the ground whereupon the Hostler dwelleth, within the space of fifteen dayes after the committing of the fact. And if the saids Barons and Heretours neglect to do the same within the said space, it shall be lawful to the saids Justices to pursue and fyne the Delinquents in their Courts, according to the paines foresaid, and to uplift the same from them: without prejudice alwayes of whatsoever others Acts made against the said Hostlers in the Barons Court-bookes under whom they dwell, bearing any higher pain than as is set down in this above-written Act; and also without prejudice of all action criminal or civil, competent of the Law, against the said Hostlers, in case they be under the danger thereof, which shall not be taken away by any punishment set downe, and to be inflicted, conforme to this Act.

XII.

ITEM, They shall informe the Kings Thesaurer and Advocate, of breakers and contraveiners of the Acts of Parliament made against Malt-makers, that the transgressours and contraveiners thereof may be punished, conforme to the tennour of the saids Acts.

XIII.

They shall set down order in the Country for governance in time of Plague, and shall punish severely the disobeyers of the order appointed by them, according to the quality of the delict.

XIV.

They shall appoint at their Quarter-Sessions, to be kept in August and February, the ordinarie hyre and wages of Labourers, Workmen and Servants, and who shall refuse to serve upon the price set down by them, shall be imprisoned, and further punished at their discretion. And to the effect, that servants may be the more willing to obey the ordinances to be made by the saids Justices and the saids fees, the saids Justices shall have power to discern, and compel the Masters to make payment of the fees appointed by their ordinance, in case the Servants please rather to pursue for the same before them than any other Judge.

XV.

THE saids Commissioners shall take notice in all Scherrifdomes where there are any Gaillies and Prison-houses within any Burgh, that the same may be kept up, and not suffered to decay or become ruinous.

And

And if there be any Shire where there is not any Gaile or Prison-house, they shall inform his Majesties Council thereof, that they may appoint and give order for building of one within the head Burgh of the Shire, and according to the directions to be given there-ament, the Justice shall be holden to proceed.

XVI.

AND because there be a great many of Prisoners apprehended and committed, who having no meanes of their owne for their maintenance and entertainment, will otherwise famish and sterve before they can come to their tryal: who not the lesse in regard of the crimes they have committed, can no wayes be put under surety, or otherwise in faults of lesse consequence, are unable to finde sufficient caution to be made forth-coming and answerable at the next Session. Therefore it shall be lawful to the saids Commissioners, and Justices at their Quarter-Session, to rate every Parochin for a weekly proportion for the entertainment of those poor Prisoners, providing they do not exceed the summe of five shillings Scots money, at the most, nor under one shilling at the least: which summe shall be up-listed for that use by the Minister or Reader, who shall serve at every Paroch, from such Deacons who shall be appointed to collect the same: and the saids sums to be delivered by the Constable of the Paroch, at the Quarter-Sessions, in presence of the whole Bench then conveyened, to such persons as the saids Justices shall trust therewith, and who accordingly shall make due account in paying the Gaileers such rates as shall be allowed for the poor Prisoners, and making the rest forth-coming for such use and intent of the like nature, as the saids Justices shall appoint.

XVII.

ALL Magistrats of Burghs, and keepers of any Gailes or Prisons, shall receive into their Prisons all such persons as either shall be brought by Constables, or sent unto them by warrands, under the hand of any one Justice of Peace (the saids Justices causing satisfie for their entertainment) and if any Magistrats, or their Gaileers, suffer any persons, committed by the Justices to their prisons, to escape, they shall be consequently punished therefore, at the discretion of his Majesties Council.

XVIII.

ITEM, Our Sovereigne Lord with advice foresaid, ordains the saids Commissioners to set a price upon Crafts-mens work, and upon the ordinars of Penny Brydals, together with the price of Shearers fees, and to punish the contraveeners as appertaineth.

XIX.

They shall cause sufficient single and double Ale to be brewed in every Shire, and shall appoint visitors to that effect, with consent of the Baron and Over-Lord of the Ground. They shall set down Acts against notorious and common Drunkards, and impose summes upon the contraveeners, according to their qualities and defaults.

XX.

OUR Sovereigne Lord, with advice foresaid, declareth that three Justices of Peace shall be a full number and Session to decide in matters occurring betwixt the four Quarter-Sessions.

XXI.

Also declares, that no Letters of Caption ought to be granted against the saids Justices for apprehending of Rebels, except they be found subject to do the same by possessing of such other Offices and places, to the which the obedience and putting to execution of any such charges doth belong.

XXII.

AND because there is sensible prejudice seen and felt through many parts of the Kingdome, by reason of the diversitie of Measures and Weights used in the same, Therefore OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice foresaid, for removing of all abuses, which may ensue in any time to come thereby, hath found expedient, and by this Decreet and Statute of Parliament, decernes, statutes, and ordaines, That there shall be but one just Measure and Weight through all the parts of the Kingdome, which shall universally serve all his Highnes Lieges, by the which they shall sell and buy, and receive and give out in all times to come: which Measure his Majesty, with advice foresaid, findes, should be that Measure of Lithgow, which is now commonly used, and which hath been used most customably thorow the greatest part of the Kingdom these fiftie or threecore yeeres bypast. And for setting of a perfect order, whereby all the Measures that are now used may be reduced to the conformitie of the said Measure now authorized, And the Measures for making of proportion answerable betwixt the lesser measure and weights, and the greater, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, hath granted full power and commission to Sir James Weymes of Bogie Knight, Sir George Auchinleke of Bahmanno Knight, Sir James Forbes of Colington Knight, Sir Robert Stewart of George Auchinleke of Bahmanno Knight, Sir William Greirson of Lag Knight, and to James Schiblinlaw, Sir John Waus of Barnbarro Knight, Sir William Greirson of Lag Knight, and to James Nisbet Baillie and Burges of Edinburgh, Master Alexander Wedderburn Clerk of Duudie, Sir Thomas Men-zeis Provost of Aberdeen, James Hamilton Provost of Glasgow, John Oxburn Burges of Air, and Sir George Bruce of Carnok, Burges of Culros.

Whom, or any eight of them, his Majesty, with advise foresaid, ordaines to meet and convene together, at such time and place as they shall think expedient, and to consult and advise together, and to appoint and determine upon the most convenient means, how the saids measures and weights may be reduced to the conformity aforesaid. And after they have ripely advised therewith, and given forth their determination thereanent, they shall deliver the same, and whole course of their proceedings, to the Commissioners and Justices of Peace, and to the Deanes of Guyld of the head Burghs of the Shires, who shall be holden carefully to do their diligence, to see the measure foresaid now appointed, to have the course through all partes, as well Burgh as Landward. And that there may be one constant conformity betwixt Burgh and Land; OUR Sovereigne LORD, with advise foresaid, Ordaines the saids Justices of Peace in Landward, to take tryall of the measures and weights used in Burgh, and to take NOTE from the Magistrates and Deanes of Guyld of every Town, of the weights and measures, and of the number thereof, which the saids Magistrates and Deanes of Guyld in Burgh, shall be holden to shew, declare, and give up to them, to the effect the saids Justices to Landward, may confer the same with the Standard now authorized, and where they finde any difconformity in the same, from the said Standard, the saids Justices shall inform the Kings Majesties Counsel thereof, that they may take order therewith as appertaineth. For it is expressly provided by these presents, that the saids Magistrates in Burgh shall not be permitted to have or use any moe measures within their Townes, than the number to be professed by them, and given up in NOTE, to the saids Justices to Landward, as said is. This alwayes being respected, that if the saids Magistrates within Burgh finde any necessity for having any moe measures then was given up, and used by them before, IT shall be licensed to them to make moe measures, they being answerable and conform to the Standard, and making the saids Justices to Landward foreseen and acquainted therewith, and declaring the number of the measures whereof they finde the necessity of use.

THE saids Justices shall be holden to give command and direction to their Constables, to apprehend any such person who shall be found contemptuously to have disobeyed the censures of the Church, they being lawfully required to doe the same.

XXIII.

THE saids Justices of Peace, als well to Burgh as Land, shall convene and be present at the Quarter-Sessions of the Shire, where the Burgh and Land lyes, give their Oath to the Bench at their admission, make their record, and make payment of the fines inromitted with by them as Justices of Peace of that Shire, and to their Collector.

XXIV.

THEY shall appoint a sufficient Collector for uplifting the fines and penalties which they have power to impose upon any offender, and are to take caution of him for making due accompt.

XXV.

THEY shall have induring the time of Sessions, for every day of their abode (so it do not exceed the number of three dayes at the most at one time) allowed to every one of them forty shillings Scots money, daily to be payed and uplifted by the Collector of the fines, but neither Earle, Lord, Bishop, Privy-counsellour, or Sessioner, shall have any allowance: and all such Justices as have the benefit of that allowance, and shall be absent from every ordinary Quarter-Sessions, or otherways when he is required lawfully by the Custos Rotulorum, to any particular meeting, shall incur the penaltie of forty pounds, Scots money, not being lawfully excused, and the excuse allowed by the rest of the Justices there assembled.

XXVI.

THE Lords of Session shall direct general and summaire charges of horning and pointing at the instance of the Collector (appointed in every Country for ingathering of all fines and penalties whatsoever incurred) upon a simple charge of fiftene dayes, and no suspension shall be granted, but upon consignation of the summes contained in the sentence, and by finding caution for payment of the charges of the Justices at the modification of the Lords.

XXVII.

THE saids Commissioners at the end of every Quarter-Session, shall send to his Majesties Council a Catalogue of all such persons as they have either committed, or otherwise put under surty, with a short abbreviate of the cause thereof: to the effect, that thereupon the Counsel, as they shall think expedient, may return to them against their next Sessions, orto the Custos Rotulorum, in the meane while their further directions.

ANENT CONSTABLES.

I.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with the advise of his Estates, findes and declares, that the Constables are to be made choise of, by the Commissioners and Justices of Peace in their Quarter-Sessions throughout the whole Countrey, two at least in every Parochin, or moc, according to their discretions, having consideration of the quantity thereof. In great townes likewise (not being Cities nor free Burghs) they are to appoint a number of Constables proportionally to the greatnesse thereof: but in all Burghs Regal, and free Cities, the Constables are to be chosen by the Magistrates of the same, and they are to indure, and to be changed from fix to fix Moneths.

II.

AND who shall refuse to accept the charge, and not to give his Oath for dutifull execution thereof, shall be imprisoned and fined at the discretion of the Justice of Peace, at their next sitting.

III.

The Constables shall take the Oath following.

YOU shall sweare that you shall faithfully and truly discharge your office of Constabulary within the Parochin of Sc. induring the time appointed to you, and shall not for favour, respect, or fear of any man, forbear to doe what becommeth you of your office, and above all things you shall regard the keeping and preserving of the Kings Majesties Peace, and shall at every Quarter-Sessions and meetings of Justices, give true and due information of any breach, which has been made of his Majesties Peace, within the bounds of your commandement, and shall no way hide, cover, nor conceal the same, nor any of the proofs and evidences which you can give for the clearing and proving thereof, So help you God.

IV.

A Constable may apprehend any suspect man, who for the most part sleeperth all the day, and walketh in the night, and carry him to the next Justice of Peace, to finde surety for his good behaviour, or otherwise to be committed to prison: and if he bee a man of quality, the Justice of Peace shall go with the Constable, and do it.

Constables shall stay and arrest all Vagabounds, Sturdy-beggars, and Egyptians, and carry them before the next Commissioners of Peace, who shall take order for their committing, or punishment, according to the Statute of Parliament.

V.

Constables shall arrest all idle persons, whom they know to have no meanes to live upon, and will not take themselves to any labour, trade, or occupation, and shall carry them before the Commissioner of Peace, who after examination, shall either commit them, or take surety of them for their appearance at the next Sessions.

VI.

ANY Constable having apprehended a person guilty and culpable of slaughter, murder, theft, or any other capital crime whatsoever, shall then require his neighbours to assist, for safe conveying of such persons to the next Commissioner, who shall then examine the party, and set down his deposition in writing, to be shown at the next Sessions, and thereafter shall send him back to prison. And if a Nobleman, Prelate, or small Baron, or any in their names, having power, shall claime the right of Jurisdiction to proceed against the delinquent, The said Justice shall receive surety of the said party, who required the defender to be delivered to him, that Justice shall be duely ministred, and cause delivery of the said person, be made to him. Always the said Commissioner of Peace, at the next Sessions, shall certifie the whole matter to the Bench: to the effect they may enquire whether Justice hath accordingly been ministred: and if any fault be found, to advertise his Majesties Counsel, that order may be taken therewith.

VII.

ANY of his Majesties Subjects of the degree of Yeomen, who shall refuse or delay to concurre with the Constable in the executing of his office, shall be imprisoned and punished by the Commissioners and Justices: and if he be of an higher degree and quality, the Constable shall inform the Justice thereof, that they may make the Lords of Privy Council acquaint, whom the Estates ordaines to censure the offender according to the quality of the fault.

VIII.

A Constable shall arrest any person of the degree of a Yeoman, who shall be found wearing Hagburs, Pistolets, and Dagges, and shall carry them before a Commissioner of Peace, who is either to take surety for their appearance the next Session, or commit them prisoners till they do the same: but if the person be of of higher quality, the Constable shall informe the Justice thereof, who shall delate the same to his Majesties Counsell, that order may be taken therewith.

I X.

IF any party of the degree of Yeomen, do complain to a Constable, that he is threatned by any other, then shall the Constable apprehende the threatner, and carry him, with the party complainant, before the next commissioner of peace: and if he refuse to go, then shall they carry him to prison. And if he be of an higher degree, the Justice being informed thereof, shall informe the Counsell, and in the mean time, charge the party to bind to the peace.

X.

ALL The Constables, at the least one of every Paroch, instructed with commission, to answer for the rest within the said Paroch, shall attend at every Quarter-Session, there to give information of all such misdemeanours as have happened in those bounds since the last Session; and otherwayes to give to the Bench further satisfaction in any thing wherein they shall be required: and to receive from the saids commissioners, at the end of the Session, such orders and directions as they shall then injoin, and appoint them to doe.

X I.

UPON the appearance of any Fray or stir betwixt parties, the constable may take the assistance of his neighbours, for funding of the parties: and if there be any harme done to the Constable, or any of his assistance, by them who made the effray, they shall bee punished by the Justices at the next Session, they being of the quality of yeomen, and being of an higher quality, the Counsell shall be informed thereof, as said is.

X I I.

WHEN any hath made an effray, & then flees to an house, the Constable may follow to the house, and if the doors be shut, he shall take notice of the master of the house, and require wimess thereon. And albeit the delinquent shall flee further without the bounds of the Constables charge, yet may the Constable follow, and apprehend him in a fresh pursuite, and crave concurrence of the Cuntrey to that effect.

X I I I.

THE Constables within every parochine, shall be executors of the precepts and warrands of the Justice of Peace.

X I V.

Concerning the Fees and satisfaction to be given to the Constables and Clerks for their paines: OUR Sovereigne LORD, with advise foresaid, ordines the saids Justices to give up particular NOTES in writ to the Auditors of his Majesties Checker, of the fines inbrought to them, that out thereof such measure and satisfaction may be appointed and given to the saids Clerks and Constables, as may recompence their travels, wherein if it shall be found that the saids fines will not be sufficient, the saids Lords of his Highnesse Checker, shall appoint such further satisfaction to them, as in their discretion they shall think their labours and diligence doth deserve, and cause them be payed of the same.

AND notwithstanding of this above-written Act, and all the particulars foresaid contained in the same: OUR Sovereigne LORD, with the advise and consent of the saids Estates, statutes, decernes, and declares, That neither the rection of the saids Commissioners and Justices of Peace, and grant of Jurisdiction and privileges to them, nor the making or approbation of the particular Articles above-written, introduced in their favours, nor any thing therein contained, shall be in any sort derogatory or prejudicial to the rights, privileges, or liberties granted and bestowed by His Majesty, or his Highnesse Royal predecessours of before to any of His Majesties Subjects, of whatsoever Estate or quality, from the highest to the lowest: But declares, that the saids rights, privileges, and liberties, shall remaine in their own integrity safe, and intire, and unhurt, or prejudged by the premises or any thing exprest in the saids Articles, and every one of them, and are holden as specially reserved and excepted out of the same.

AND least this above-written reservation should seem altogether to destroy the power, granted to the saids Justices, or should beget controversies betwixt them, and any other having right or liberty of jurisdiction, as said is: OUR Sovereigne LORD, with advise foresaid, for removing of all question, which may arise betwixt them thereanent, Declares, that it shall not be lawful, nor permitted to the saids Justices, to make any citation of party before their Court, till the expiring of the space of fifteen dayes, after the committing of the fact, for which the committer is to be convened, at the compleat out-running of which space, if any having power and jurisdiction, as said is, hath omitted and neglected to use and exerce the privilege and liberty of their right and power, it shall then be lawful to the saids Justices, to make citation, and to proceed against the parties, according to the power and authority given to them by his Highnesse, with advise foresaid, and conform to the particular Articles above-written, in all points, and no otherwayes.

Which all and sundry the premises, OUR Sovereigne LORD with advise and consent foresaid, ratifies and and approves, in all points in manner as the same proports, and gives unto them the strength and force of Acts and Ordinances of Parliament, and ordains execution to pass upon the same as effectres.

A C T IX.

Auent teinding of Cornes.

FOR so much as by divers and sundry Acts of Parliament made of before, auent the order and manner of teinding of Cornes, and specially by the eight Act of his Majesties xvij. Parliament, holden at Perth, upon the ninth of July, 1606. and sensine by the fifth Act of the xxj. Parliament, holden at Edinburgh, upon the 23. of October, 1612. the manner and forme of teinding, and the time and space appointed, for requisition to be made for the same, is at length set down: in the which Acts is statute and ordeined, That all Cornes shall be teinded at three several times in the year, if the owners thereof thinks expedient: to wit, the crottinfield Corn at one time, the Beer at another time, and the out-field Corn at the third time, as the saids Acts proport: Neverthelesse, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, for the greater well and ease of his Majesties Lieges, finding it requisite, that the former Acts be altered in the points following, for setting of a clear and certain order, to be hereafter observed, in all teinding of Cornes, Hath with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, statute, and ordeined, That it shall be lawful to all heritors and labourers of the ground, eight dayes being expired after the compleat shearing of every one of the three sorts of Cornes above-written, to require the owner of the teind, at his dwelling place, within the Parochin: and in case of him not dwelling therein for the time, his Factor and servant, or other person (who is ordeined to be constituted, and specially designed by him in manner after-mentioned) upon the premonition of four dayes to come and make thankfull teinding of the saids Corns: who failing to do the same, and neither the owner of the teind, his self, nor the other person appointed, to be designed by him, as is under-written, comming and making the said thankfull teinding, being so lawfully required:

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent of the saids Estates, declares, That it shall be lawful to the saids Heritors and labourers of the ground, to separate the stock from the teind, and to lead and carry their stock away, and either to stack the same within their Barn-yards, or to place the same in their barns, leaving the teind upon the ground, which they shall be holden to preserve and keep un-destroyed or eaten by beasts, for the space of eight dayes after the expiring of the time of the said requisition: Which Cornes being so led and stacked, or placed in barns, and the teind being left on the ground, and preserved as said is, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent foresaid, declares, It shall be sufficient to liberate them of all danger of spuilzie, or wrongous intromission, which may be moved against them therefore, in any time to come: And for more clear explanation of the premiffes, statutes and ordaines, the owner of the saids teinds, if he have not his dwelling within the said Parochin (whose dwelling there would require premonition to be made to himselfe at his dwelling place, as said is)

TO designe a special servant and factor for him, to whom the said premonition shall be made in his absence, who shall have his remaining either in some certaine house, within the Parochin, or in the next most ewest and adjacent clachan, whose name and particular place of residence, the said owner of the teinds shall cause publickly intimat in the Parish Kirk, either upon the last Sunday of July, or the first Sunday of August, yearly, in presence of the Minister of the Parochin and Paroshiners, that no ignorance may be pretended thereof: which factor so designed, shall be warned either personally, if he can be apprehended, or by intimation to be made to the Minister of the Parish, and at the foresaid place to be designed for the factors remaining: which requisition so made, OUR Sovereigne LORD with advice foresaid, declares, it shall bealsufficient, as if the same were made to the Teind-master himself: Likewise it is declared, that (in case of the Teind-masters, not dwelling within the Parochin, as said is) if the said designation be not made of the said factors name, and place of remaining, at the time, and in maner as is before ordeined, it shall then be also lawful, the saids eight dayes and four dayes being bypast, to the owners of the Corns, to separate the stock from the teind, and to lead, stack, and place their stock in their barns or barn-yards, as said is, leaving the teind upon the ground, and preserving the same in manner before specified: Which being done, they shall be likewise free of all actions of spuilzie, or wrongous intromission, which they thereby may incur. It is alwayes provided, by OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice of the saids Estates, That whereas by this Act and Statute requisition is not ordeined to be made till the expiring of eight dayes after the compleat shearing of every one of the three sorts of cornes before specified: yet notwithstanding theteof, the saids Estates declares, That albeit the tenth part of every sort of the saids cornes, or about the tenth part be the saids Estates declares, That albeit the tenth part of every sort of the saids cornes, or about the tenth part be standing unshorne and un-cut down, the not shearing of that quantity, shall be no cause nor impediment to stay the owner to make the requisition: neither shall the same furnish any lawfull excuse to the Teind-master, upon the pretext whereof he should refuse teinding for the rest: but declares this Act to be effectual, and to upon the own force, albeit the tenth part, or about the same, remaine unshorne, as said is: the saids heritors, or labourers, using the like order of requisition thereafter for teinding of the saids unshorn cornes, the time when the same are ready.

ACT X.

Anent the Poor.

FORASMUCH as there hath been divers worrhy Laws and Statutes made by His Majesty, and his Highnes Predecessors, for restraining of idle and masterful Beggars: and that notwithstanding thereof, the number of the saids Beggars hath daily increased, more and more; and His Majesty, and Estates, considering, that the cause of the multiplying of the saids Beggars, hath, and doth, proceed from this ground, That no order hath been taken in by-gone time, with the poor Children and Orphans, born of poor and indigent Parents, who being tolerated or neglected, at their first entry to begging, doth contract such a custome and habite, that hardly they can be drawn thereafter to any other calling: whereas if the saids Children were in their tender years put to work, and employed, and trained up in any commendable labour, they might thereafter not onely relieve the country of their charges, but also prove profitable to the Common-wealth: which might be easily performed, if the saids poor Children were taken off the hands of their Parents, by some of his Majesties well-affected subjects in particular, or by any of the incorporations and Burghs within this his Majesties Kingdom in common, and employed in some calling or vocation, that might tend to the good of the Realme: THEREFORE, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates, doth in most earnest manner, recommend to all his Highnes loving Subjects, requesting them, as they tender the good and honour of the Realme, to receive within their houses and family, and to take upon their care, intertainment, and education, some of the saids poor and indigent childten, one or moe, every person according to his power and faculty: LIKEAS his Majesty with advice foresaid for the further security of his Highnes Subjects, finds and declares, that it shall bee lawful to his Highnes Subjects, to take the saids poor Children in their power, houses, and family, to be educate, and brought up by them, either in their houses, or to be put by them to such Crafts, callings, and vocations, either within the Country or without the same, as they please: which children so received, shall be obliged and bound, as servants, to their receivers, in manner, and during the time after specified: IT is alwayes declared, that the condition of the saids childten, which shall be so received by his Majesties Leiges, and the manner of their delivery to them, shall be as followeth: That is to say, THAT they be such who shall be found and tryed to be poor and indigent, and to have no meanes for their entertainment, and that by the declaration of the Provost and Bailies, and by the Session of the Kirk, within Burgh, or by either of them: and the Sessions of the Kirks in Landward, where the saids poor children remaines, or are found to be for the time: and if the saids poor children be within the age of fourteen years, they shall be delivered to his Highnesse Subjects, by the Magistrates within Burgh, or by the Session of the Kirk and Parochin where they remaine, with consent of their parents, if they have any known within the Parochin for the time: otherwise they shall be delivered by the saids Magistrates & Session of the Kirk alone or either of them, as said is. And if they be past the age of fourteen years, that their own consent shall be taken thereto, by the advice of the saids Magistrates and Session of Kirk, or either of them, as said is, who at the delivery of the saids poor children, to his Highnesse Subjects, shall give a testimonial, under their, or their Clerks hand writs, of the Estate, quality, and condition foresaid, of the saids poor children, and of their delivery to their Masters: Which testimonial of the saids Provosts, Bailies, and Session of the Kirks, bearing the said trial and delivery, his Highnesse with advice and consent of the Estates foresaid, findes and declares, shall be a sufficient warrant to the receivers, for brooking the benefit of this present Statute: And to the effect his Highnesse Subjects may be moved hereto, by the expectation of the commodity and advantage which they may reap by the labours and service of the saids poor children: His Majesty with advice of the saids Estates, statutes and ordaines, that the saids poor children, received by any of his Highnesse Subjects, upon the testimonial of Provost, Bailies, or Session of Kirks, in manner above-specified, shall be bound and astricted to their saids Masters, their heirs and assignayes, in all kind of service, which shall be enjoyned to them, until they passe the age of thirty years compleat, and that they shall be under discipline to their saids Masters, and their foresaid, and subject to their corrections and chastisements, according to the merits of their offences, in all manner and sort of punishment, the life and torture excepted. Likewise it is declared, that whatsoever the saids servants gaines, or wins, by their travels, during the said space, shall appertain properly to their saids Masters and their foresaid: And if it shall happen the saids servants to absent themselves from their saids Masters service, without their licence, then & in that case they shall be obliged to refound to their saids Masters the whole damage and intresse sustained by them, through their absence, upon the declaration of the saids Masters, without any further probation, by and attour the bodily punishment to be laid upon them at their returning, by the discretion of their saids Masters: And if it shall happen them to be received by any other persons, the saids receipters shall be obliged to restore them again to their saids Masters, within twelve houres after they be required to that effect, personally, or at their dwelling places, in presence of a Norar, and two witnesses, and if they failzie, they shall pay after every requisition, ten shillings daily, ay and till they be restored, and that without prejudice to the saids Masters, to call and pursue for delivery of their saids servants, before the ordinary Judge, as accords of the law, and for the damage and skaith sustained by them, through the want of their saids servants, during the space of their absence, after the said requisition.

ACT XI.

Anent the Queens Majestie her Counsel.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, ratifies & approves the Letter of Nomination made by his Highnesse dearest Spouse, ANNA, by the Grace of GOD, Queen of great Britain, France, and Ireland: of the date the xxvj. day of April, last by-past: whereby her Majesty, with his Highnesse consent, hath nominated, and appointed, Sir GEORGE HAY, of Natherlife, Clerk of the Register, Sir WILLIAM OLIPHANT of Newton Knight, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Advocate: Sir ALEXANDER DRUMMOND of Medope Knight, and Sir WILLIAM SEATON of Kylmore Knight, to be four of her Majesties Counsel, in place of the other foure before deceased: and hath adjoynd them to the other three of her Majesties Counsel, as yet alive: to wit, ALEXANDER, Earle of Dunfermling, Chancellor: THOMAS, Lord Binning, Secretary: and Sir PETER YOUNG, Elemofyner to his Majesty, as in the said Letter of Nomination, of the date foresaid, at more length is contained. And his Majesty, with advise of the Estates foresaids, wills, declares, and ordaines, that the saids Counsellors, at the least four of them, the said Lord Chancellor being alwayes one of the said four, shall have the guiding, government, and administration of the estate, living, and affaires, appertaining to his said Highnesse dearest Spouse within the Kingdome of Scotland: in the same manner and form as is set down in the Act of Parliament, made in the Moneth of July, 1593. years: and under the provisions and conditions expressed in the said Act of Parliament: which his Majesty, with advice foresaid, holds as herein expressed: and whensoever it shall happen any of the saids seven Counsellors, one or moe, to depart this life, his Majesty with advice foresaid, wills and grants, that it shall be lawful to her Highnesse, to nominate and appoint others in place of the persons deceased, to the effect above contained: Likeas his Majesty with advice foresaid, now as if the said nomination were made, and then as now ratifies and approves the same, and declares the same to be as valide and effectual, as if the same were made with consent of his Highnesse, and advise of the Estates foresaids.

ACT XII.

Anent prescription of heritable Rights.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD considering the great prejudice which his Majesties Lieges sustaines in their Lands and Heritages, not only by the abstracting, corrupting, and concealing of their true evidents, in their minority, and lesse age, and by the amission thereof, by the injury of time, through War, Plague, Fire, or such like occasions: but also by the counterfeiting and forging of false evidents & writs, and concealing of the same to such a time, that all meanes of improving thereof is taken away: whereby his Majesties Lieges are constitute in a great uncertainty of their heritable Rights, and divers pleas and actions are moved against them, after the expiring of thirty or forty years: which nevertheless by the civil Law, and by the Lawes of all Nations, are declared void, and uneffectual: And his Majesty according to his fatherly care, which his Majesty hath, to ease and remove the griefs of his Subjects, being willing to cut off all occasion of pleas, and to put them in certainty of their heritage, in all time coming: Therefore his Majesty with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, by the tennour of this present Act, statutes, findes, and declares, That whatsoever his Majesties Leiges, their Predecessors and authors have brooked heretofore, or shall happen to brook in time coming, by themselves, their tennents, and others having their Rights, their Lands, Barronies, Annuelrents, and other Heritages, by vertue of their heritable infeftments, made to them by his Majestie, or others their superiours and authors, for the space of forty yeares, continually and together, following and insuing the date of their saids infeftments, and that peaceably; without any lawful interruption made to them therein, during the said space of forty yeares, that such persons, their Heirs and Successours shall never be troubled, pursued, nor inquieted, in the heritable right and property of their saids lands and heritages foresaids, by his Majesty, or others, their superiours and authors, their Heirs and Successours, nor by any other person, pretending right to the same. By vertue of Prior infeftment, publicke or private, not upon no other ground, reason or argument, competent of Law, except for falsehood: Providing they be able to shew and produce a Charter of the saids lands, and others foresaids, granted to them, or their Predecessours, by their saids superiours and authors, preceeding the entry of the saids forty yeares possession, with the instrument of seising following thereupon: or where there is no Charter extant, that they shew and produce instruments of Seising, one, or moe, continued, and standing together for the said space of forty yeares, either proceeding upon retours, or upon precepts of clare constat. Which rights his Majesty with advice and consent of the Estates foresaids, findes, and declares, to be good, valide, and sufficient rights, (being claid with the said peaceable, and continual possession of forty yeares) without any lawful interruption, as said is: for brooking of the heritable Right of the same lands, and others foresaid. And sicklike his Majesty with advice foresaid, statutes and ordaines, that all actions competent of the law, upon heritable Bands, Reversions, Contracts, or others whatsoever, either already made, or to be made after the date hereof, shall be pursued, within the space of forty yeares, after the date of the same: except the the saids Reversions be incorporate within the body of the infestments, used and produced by the possessor of the saids lands, for his title of the same, or registrated in the Clerk of Register his Books: in the which case seeing all suspicion of falsehood ceases most justly, the actions upon the saids Reversions, ingrossed and Registrated, ought to be perpetual: excepting always from this present Act, all actions of warrantize, which shall not prescribe, from the date of the Band, or Infestment, whereupon the warrantize is sought: but only from the date of the distress, which shall prescribe, it not being pursued within forty years, as said is. And sliike it is declared, that in the course of the saids forty years prescription, the years of minority, and lesse age, shall no wayes be counted, but only the years during the which the parties against whom the prescription is used and objected were majors, and past xxj. yeares of age. And his Majesty, being careful, that no person, who hath any just claime, bee prejudged of their actions, by the prescription of forty yeares, already run and expired, before the date of this present Act: Hath with advice foresaid, granted full liberty and power to them, to intent their saids actions, within the space of thirteen years, next following the date hereof: which shall be as effectual, as if the same had been intended within the said space of forty years, prescribed by this present Act. After the expiring of the which thirteen yeares, this present Act shall have full force and effect, after the rennour thereof in all points. And neverthelesse it is declared, that the persons, at whose instance the foresaid actions shall be moved, and intended within the said space of thirteen yeares, shall not be compelled to insist in the saids actions, at the desire of their parties, upon the first summonds and citation thereof only, except that the saids first summonds be called and continued, and the defenders of new summonds thereby: in the which case, and no otherwayes, it is declared, that they may be compelled to insist at the instance of the party, having entresse.

ACT XIII.

Anent reduction of Retours, and summonds of Errour.

FOR-asmuch as by Act of Parliament, made by his Majesties most Noble Progenitour, King JAMES the fourth, of worthy memory, upon the 13. day of June. 1494. it was statute and ordained, that all summonds of Errour, or inordinate processe, be pursued within the space of three yeares, after the determination of the inquest, or service: the party being of lawful age, and within the Realme, otherwise to prescribe, as in the said Act and Statute at more length is contained. And because the true meaning and intention of the said Act, was, That OUR Sovereigne LORDS Lieges, being upon the said inquest and service, should not lye under the paine and danger of Errour, after the space of three yeares, and no wayes to hurt or prejudice the righteous heire, and nearest of kin, who by the Law of God and man, was to succeed in the right of blood and succession to their Predecessours, and to their lands and heritages, Jure sanguinis. Therefore OUR said Sovereigne LORD, with advice and consent of the Estates foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, That the said Act of Parliament shall no wayes hurt nor prejudice the nearest of kin to seek reduction of the saids Retours, and service, to be past and expied in time coming, and that within the space of twenty years, immediatly following the date of the saids Retours and services: and if the saids summonds of Reduction, be not intended, executed, and pursued, before the expiring of the saids twenty yeares, that the said action of Reduction of the said Retour and service, shall prescribe in the selfe, and no party to be heard thereafter to pursue the same Reduction: And als declares, that hereafter it shall no wayes be lawful to pursue the persons of inquest for wilful Errour, except they be pursued therefore within the space of three yeares next after the date of the said Retour and service: It is alwayes declared, that these presents shall no wayes be prejudicial to whatsoever persons, who have acquired Rights of lands and heritages before the date hereof, bona fide, from persons already retoured thereto in any time by-gone: but the saids persons, who have bona fide, acquired, to brook their Rights, according to the law then standing.

ACT XIV.

Anent Executors.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD understanding that a great number of ignorant people, the time of their sicknesse and discafe, or otherwise at the making of their Testaments and latter wills, do nominate certain strangers to be their Executors, meaning only to commit the care of their goods, and diligent getting thereof, to the saids strangers, and that to the behoof of their children, or other persons who are nearest of kin: Whereas by the contrary, the said Office of Executry, by the interpretation now observed, doth carry with it the whole profit and commoditie of the defuncts part of the goods contained in Testament: which his Majesty findes to be altogether against law, conscience and equity: Therefore his Majesty with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, finds and declares, that all Executors, already nominate in any Testament, not as yet confirmed, or to be nominate in any Testament to be made hereafter, are, and shall be obliged, to make count, reckoning, and payment of the whole goods and gear appertaining to the defunct, and intrometted with by them, to the wife, children and nearest of kin, according to the division vision observed by the Laws of this Realm : reserving onely to the saids Executors the third of the defuncts part, all debts being first payed and deduced, without prejudice alwayes to the saids Executors of whatsoever Legacies left to them by the saids defuncts : which shall no wayes be prejudged by this present Act : but the saids Executors shall have full right to their saids Legacies, albeit the same exceed the said third of the defuncts part : and in case the saids Legacies exceed the whole third part, the saids Executors shall have right to the whole Legacie, and no part of the third : W I T H this expresse declaration, That where Legacies are left to the Executors, they shall not fall both the saids Legacies and a third by this present Act, but the saids Legacies shall be imputed and allowed to them in part of payment of their third.

ACT XV.

Anent the Escheat of Life-rent Tacks.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD having considered that there hath been divers questions moved before the Lords of his Majesties Council and Session, touching the Escheat of Life-rent-tacks of lands and teinds, fallen by the rebellion of the persons to whom the same appertained : and that it hath not been clearly decided, whether a Life-rent tack should fall under the gift of a simple Escheat, or not : For the better clearing whereof in all time coming, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice of the Estates of this present Parliament, declares, statutes, and ordains, that Life-rent tacks of lands, or teinds, shall not fall under a simple gift of escheat, but under the gift of a Life-rent escheat only : And further, in case any tack, set of lands, or teinds, contain moe Life-rents nor one : and that the person to whom the said tack appertaineth in life-rent, be Rebel attour the space of year and day, where-through he loses his life-rent of the said tack. IT is hereby declared, that the remanent Life-renters contained in the said tack, nor the heires or assignayes of the Rebel, who have right to the said tack, after the said Rebels decease, shall not be prejudged by the said Life-renters Rebellion ; so that after his decease, the said person having right to the saids tacks, shall brook and enjoy the same, notwithstanding the saids Life-renters rebellion attour the space of yeat and day : which rebellion shall prejudice himsele only, and no other person succeeding to him in the right of the said tack.

ACT XVI.

Anent the registration of Reversions, Seafings, and others Writs.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, considering the great hurt sustained by his Majesties Lieges, by the fraudulent dealing of parties, who having annallied ther lands, and received great summes of money therefore, Yet by their unjust concealing of some privat Right formerly made by them, render the subsequent alienation done for great sums of money, altogether unprofitable : which cannot be avoided, unlesse the saids private Rights be made publick & patent to his Highnes Lieges : For remedy thereof, & of many inconveniences which may ensue thereupon ; HIS MAJESTY with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, statutes and ordeins, That there shall be ane publick Register, in the which all Reversions, Regresses, Bands, and writs for making of Reversions or Regresses, assignments thereto, discharges of the same, Renunciations of Wadsets, and grants of Redemption, and siklike all instruments of Seafing shall be Registrat within three-score dayes after the date of the same. IT is alwayes declared, that it shall not be necessary to Register any Bands and Writs for making of Reversions, or Regresse, unlesse the Seafing passe in favours of the parties, makers of the saids Bands or Writs : in the which case it is ordained, that the same shall be Registrat within three-score dayes after the date of the Seafing. The extract of the which Register shall make faith in all cases, except where the Writs so Registrated, are offered to be improven. And if it shall happen any of the saids Writs, which are appointed to be Registrated, as said is, not to be duely Registrated within the said space of three-score dayes : then, and in that case, his Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, decernes the same to make no faith in Judgement by way of action or exception in prejudice of a third party, who hath acquired a perfect and lawful Right to the saids Lands and Heritages : But prejudice alwayes to them to use the saids Writs against the partie maker thereof, his heires and successours. IT is alwayes declared, that this present Act shall no wayes be extended to instruments of Seafing, and Reversions therein conreined, given by Provost and Bailies of free Burghs Royal, of lands lying within their Liberties and Freedomes, halden by the saids Burghs in free Bourgage of his Majesty, nor to na other heritable Writs thereof, nor yet to Reversions incorporate in the Body of the Infestments, made to the persons against whom the saids Reversions are used. IT is also declared, that if any Renunciations or Grants of Redemption, which shall happen to be consigned in proccesse betwixt parties, shall be Registrat within three-score dayes after the dates of the decreets whereby the same shall be ordeined to be given up to the parties having right thereto, the same shall be sufficient. And to the effect the said Register may presently and in all time coming be the more faithfully keep- ed : Therefore OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice and consent foresaid, statutes and ordeins the same Registers and Registrations foresaid, to be insert therein, to appertain and belang to the present Clerk of Register, and his Deputes to be appointed by him to that effect. And decernes and ordeins the same Registers to be annexed and incorporate with the said office, and that the Clerk of Register, present present, and to come, have the said Office as ane proper part and pertinent of the Clerk of Register his office, make and constitute particular deputies, ane or moe for all the dayes of their life-times, or otherwise as he shall think expedient, of good fame, literature, and conversation, for whom he shall be answerable, and who shall be resident within the towns and places after-specified, at all times to receive fra the parties their Evidents, and to Registrat the same within the space of fourtie eight hours next after the receipt thereof, and to ingrosse the whole body of the writ in the Register under the pain of deprivation of the Clerk of his place and service, and of the office of Notarie in all time thereafter. And within the same space shall deliver to the presenters of the same, their Evidents marked by him, with the day, moneth, and year of the Registration, and in what lease of the book the same is Registered: and shall take allannerly for his paines twenty six shillings eight pennies money of this Realme, as the price of ilk lease of his Register, containing no lesse then is in this present Act: and in case the lease contain lesse to take lesse accordingly, and so proportionally for every page of the lease, and part of the page, and according thereto shall take for Registring of every ane of the saids Evidents. And the saids Registers to bee filled up by the saids Deputes, to be marked by the Clerk of the Register and his Deputes to be appointed by him to that effect, with ane note of the particular number of the leaves that the same shall containe: & the saids Registers after the filling up of the same to be reported to the said Clerk of Register, to remain with him and his Deputes, and bee patent to all OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Lieges, and extractis thereof to be given by him and his Deputes to be appointed by him, during all the dayes of their life-time, or otherways as he shall think expedient for that effect, to all shall have adoe with the same, which shall make as great faith, as the principals, except in case of improbation. And the saids Registers for the greater ease of the Lieges, to be established in the particular places following: That is to say, Ane in the town of Kirkcudbright in Orkney, for the whole lands lyand within the bounds of the Sherifdomes of Orkney and Zetland: and ane in the Burgh of Inverness, for the whole lands lyand within the Sherifdomes of Inverness and Cromartie: Ane in the Burgh of Elgin for the whole lands lyand within the bounds of the Sherifdomes of Forres and Nairn: Ane in the Burgh of Aberdeen for the whole lands lyand within the bounds of the Sherifdomes of Aberdeen, Banff, and Kincardin: Ane in the Burgh of Dundee, for the whole lands lyand within the bounds of the Sherifdomes of Forfar: Ane in the Burgh of Perth, for the whole lands lyand within the Sherifdomes of Perth and Stewardry of Strathern: (exceptand the Stewardrie of Monteith) Ane in the Burgh of Sterling, for the whole lands lyand within the bounds of the Sherifdomes of Sterling, Clackmannan, and Stewardry of Monteith: Ane in the Burgh of Cowper in Fife, for the whole lands lyand within the boundes of the Shirrefdomes of Fife and Kinrossshire: Ane in the Burgh of Edinburgh, for the whole lands lyand within the boundes of the Sherifdomes of Edinburgh principal, Constabularie of Haddington, Linlithgow, and Barthket: Ane in the Burgh of Lawder, for the whole lands lyand within the Sherifdomes of Berwick, and Bailie of Lawderdale: Ane in the Town of Selkirk, for the whole lands lyand within the Sherifdomes of Roxburgh, Selkirk and Peebles: Ane in the Town of Hannymilton, for the whole lands lyand within the Sherifdomes of Lanerk: (exceptand the Burgh and Barronie of Glasgow) Ane in the City of Glasgow, for the whole lands lyand within the bounds of the Sherifdomes of Renfrew, and Baronie of Glasgow: Ane in the Burgh of Dunbarton for the whole lands lyand within the bounds of the Sherifdomes of Dunbarton, Bute, Argyle, Arrane, and Tarbet: Ane in the Burgh of Air, for the whole lands lyand within the bounds of the Sherifdomes of Air, Bailierie of Kyle, Carrick, and Cunninghame: Ane in the Burgh of Wigtown, for the whole lands lyand within the bounds of the Sherifdomes of Wigtown: Ane in the Burgh of Drumfries, for the whole lands lyand within the bounds of the Sherifdomes of Drumfries, Stewardries of Kirkcudbright and Ammandale: Or any other place or places more convenient, as the Clerk of Register shall think most expedient, due intimation being made to the Lieges of the same. And the saids Evidents to be Registered in the particular Books appointed for the lands within the bounds of ilk Sherifdomes, Stewardrie, and Bailierie, as said is, or in the option of the party in the Books of Register or Session kept by the said Clerk Register himself or his Deputes to be appointed by him, during all the dayes of their life-time, or otherways as he shall think expedient to that effect, in Edinburgh. And OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent of the Estates decerns, and declares, this present Act to have the force, strength and effect of ane Decreet and Statute of Parliament, which shall have force and execution, according to the tennour theteof in all time to come. Ordaining publication to be made of the same in forme as effeires.

ACT XVII.

Anent the loosng of Arrestments.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD considering the great abuse and corruption used in finding of caution to messengers for loosng of Arrestments in times bygone, whereby his Highnesse Lieges have been heavily prejudged, the receiving of the said caution being committed to whatsoever Messenger of Armes the party please to chuse, who at the desire of the party, for the most part, receiveth irresponsal cautioners: and thereafter, when caution is found, there is no warning thereof given to the party arrester; but only a ticket, under the Messengers stamp and subscription, bearing him to have loosd the Arrestment, and to have received such a person cautioner: which ticket is not sufficient of the Law, to furnish action against the said cautioners, without production of the principal Bands given to the said Messenger, receiver of the caution: which Band, if any were taken, remains in the hands of the Messenger, and is either lost by negligence, or absented by malice, whereby the party is altogether prejudged of his action, which he had against the Cautioner, who was found for loosing of the Arrestment: For remedy whereof, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, statutes and ordaines, that all Bills and Supplications for loosing of arrestments, which shall be past and delivered by the Lords of Council in time coming, shall be past upon caution to be found in their Books, and ordaines the Clerk of the Bills to receive the said caution before the giving out of the same, for raising of Letters thereupon: and if any arrestments be otherwise loosed, the same to be null, and ineffectual.

A C T XVIII.

Anent the keeping of Forrests.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD considering that the Forrests within this Realme, in the which Deer are kept, are altogether wasted and decayed, by Shiellings, pastouring of Horses, Mares, Cattel, Oxen, and other Bestial, cutting of Woods within the bounds of the saids Forrests, shooting and slaying of Deer, Venison, and wilde Fowles, with Hagbuts, and with Dogs in forbidden time. And albeit there hath been divers and sundry loveable Acts, Lawes, and Statutes made for punishing the transgressours of the same Acts, yet the same have not been put to due execution in time bygone. In respect the keepers of the saids Forrests, under his Majesty, and others having right thereto, by vertue of their Inseftments had no power nor jurisdiction to punish the saids transgressours. Therefore OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice of the Estates of this Parliament, wils and ordaines in all time coming, that the keepers of the saids Forrests, and others, having right by their Inseftments, as said is, shall have full power, privilege, and jurisdiction, to call, convene and pursue before them, whatsoever person or persons, that shall be found hereafter to transgresse the saids Acts and Statutes, sit, and hold Courts thereanent, and to put them to the tryal of an inquest: And being found guilty, to put the saids Acts to full execution in their contrair, after the forme and tennour thereof in all points: to wit, the slayers and shooters of Deer, Rae, and Wilde-Fowls, being Landed-men, under the pain of five hundred marks, and every unlanded-man, being responsible, under the paine of one hundred marks, and if he be not responsible, under the pain of warding and punishment of his person, conforme to the former Acts made thereanent: and the owners and in-putters of the goods and Bestial, within the saids Forrests, and cutters of Wood, under the paines contained in the former Acts made thereanent, and conforme to the provison of the same Acts.

A C T XIX.

Anent Doucats.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent of the Estates of this present Parliament, considering the great inconvenients sustained by the Lieges of this Realm, through the frequent building of Doucats, by all manner of persons, in all the paris thereof, statutes, declares, and ordaines, that hereafter no person nor persons, shall have power, libertie, nor privilege, to build a Doucat upon any Lands within this Realme, neither within Burgh, nor in the Countrey, except that person, builder of the Doucate, have lands and teinds pertaining to him, extending in yearly Rent to ten Chalders Victual, next adjacent to the said Doucate, at the least lying within two miles to the same: And als declares, that it shall nowise be lawfull to the person foresaid, worth in yearly rent the foresaid ten Chalders Victual, to build moe Doucates upon, and within the bounds foresaid, except one Doucat onely.

A C T XX.

Anent the punishment of Drunkards.

IT Is statute and ordained by OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, for the restraint of the vile and detestable Vice of Drunkenness daily increasing, to the high dishonour of GOD, and great hatme of the whole Realme, That all persons, lawfully convicted of Drunkenness, or of haunting of Taverns and Ale-houses, after ten hours at night, or any time of the day, except in time of travel, or for ordinary refreshments; shall for the first fault pay three pounds, or in case of inability, or refusal, to be put in Jogges or Jayle for the space of six houres: for the second fault to pay five pounds, or in case of inability or refusal, to be kept in Stocks or Jayle, for the space of twelve houres: and for the third fault to pay ten pounds, or in case foresaid, to be kept in Stocks or Jayle, for the space of twenty foure houres: and thereafter, if they transgresse, to be committed to Jayle, till they find caution for their good behaviour in time coming. And for better execution of these presents, special power, authority, and commission is given, granted, and committed to all Sherifs, Stewards, Provests, and Bailies, Justices of Peace, and Kirk Sessions, within every Parish, to call, convene and try the foresaid persons persons, unlawes to uplift, ad pios, & necessarios usus, in every Parish to apply, and all and sundry other things to do and exerce, which necessarily is required for execution of these presents.

ACT XXI.

Anent discharging of Caulpes,

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates, understanding and considering the great hurt and skaith, which his Majesties Lieges have sustained these many years by-gone, by the Chiefs of Clans within the Highlands and Isles of this Kingdome, by the unlawfu! taking from them, their Children and Executors, after their decease, under the name of Caulpes, of their best aught, whether it be Oxe, Mear, Horfe, or Cow, alledgeing their Predecessors to have been in possession thereof, for maintaining and defending of them against their enemies and evil-willers of old: And not only one of the saids Chiefs of Clans, will be content to uplift his Caulpe, but also three or four moe, every one of them will alledge better right then other: And every one of them after ane other, will uptake the same, until foure or five several Caulpes will be taken from one person, howbeit never ane of the saids Clans have right thereto, or to the lands which the persons occupys, wheretsa the Caulpes are uplifted: And so sever are they, that every ane of them after ane other, will pull their Horses and Oxen out of their Plowes, and Harrows, in the very time of their greatest businesse and labours: so that many of his Majesties Subjects which of old were enriched with sufficient store of goods and Bestial, and thereby made his Highnes, and others having right, thankful payment of their mails, caines, and duties, indebted by them yearly to his Majestic, and others having right, are now, by the extortion of the saids Chiefs of Clans and others claiming right to the saids Caulpes, and by unlawful raising and uplifting thereof become depauperate, and unable to pay his Majesty, and others having good right, their just duties. And seeing there was an Act made heretofore, in favours of the inhabitants of Galloway, by his Highnesse Predecessour, King JAMES the fourth, of worthy memory, in his second Parliament, and eighteenth Act or Chapter thereof: Discharging the saids Caulpes, and uptaking thereof, in all time coming thereafter, under the pain of punishment, as Reaf, and to be ane point of Dittay against them in the Justice Airc.

Therefore OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advife of the Estates of this present Parliament, Statutes and Ordaines, that in no time coming none of his Highnes Lieges presume, nor take upon hand, to intromet with nor uplift the saids Caulpes, within any part of this Kingdome under the pain foresaid.

ACT XXII.

Anent the inbringing of Protocolles.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD understanding that that part of the Act of Parliament, made in July, 1587. years, Act xlv. Intituled, When, who, and how, Notars should be admitted, and of their Cautioners, and Protocolles, Whereby it was Statute and Ordained, that all Protocol-Books of Notars, should be within fifteen dayes after the decease of the Notar, brought in to Edinburgh, and delivered to the Clerk of Register, or ane of his Deputes appointed by him for that effect, hath not been put to due execution in time bypast, wherethrough his Majesties Lieges have sustained great hurt and damage: in so far as a great part of the Protoeols, are vitiate and destroyed, by rying out of the leaves forth of the saids Protocolles, inserting and writing of false instruments upon the blank paper contained in the same Protocolles: and sicklike, by inserting of sheets and quaires of new paper, whereupon instruments are falsified, by alteration of the dates of instruments, contained in the saids Protocolles and many other-ways, as hath been divers times exactly tryed by the Lords of Counsel and Session; and that the delaying of the execution of the said Act, hath proceeded upon ane ordinance contained therein, of satisfaction to be given by the Clerk of Register or his Deputes, to the relict, children, or executors of the saids Notars, for the said Protocol, whereby the Clerk of Register or his Deputes, would be drawn to very great and intollerable charges, in regard of the great number of the saids Books.

THEREFORE, and for remedy thereof, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advife foresaid, discharges that part of the said Act of Parliament, anent any other satisfaction to be given to the relict, children, or executors of the Notars already deceased, or that shall happen to deceale, (except as is hereafter expressed) & Statutes and Ordaines, that all persons, alsvel relict, children, executors of whatsoever notar already departed, or other person or persons whatsoever, havers in their hands, custodie, and keeping of any Protocol-Book, of whatsoever Notar already deceased, as of Notars that shall happen to deceale at any time hereafter, shall after the decease of the Notar, inbring the saids Protocolles to Edinburgh, and deliver the same to the Clerk of Register, or his Deputes, to be appointed by him for that effect, under the paine of ane hundreth pounds to be incurred by them, who shall happen to be found to contratraveen, and thereafter the saids Notars Books to be retained and kept by the said Clerk of Register, or his said Depute, to be appointed by him to that effect. At the deliverie and inbringing of which Protocolles, if the same shall bee inbrought by the said relict or children, his Highnes with advice foresaid, Ordaines the Clerk of Register, or his Depute foresaid, to make a note of the names of the said relict and children of the defunct Notars, to the effect, that whensoever any party shall pursue for transumpt of any instrument forth of the same, he shall be astricted hereby to summond by the party having intresse, the relict and children of the defunct Notar, to the effect that the saids relict and children may be satisfi'd by the party, craving the transumpt of the said instrument, at the modification of the Lords of Council and Session. And his Highnes with advice foresaid, declares, that this Act shall not be extended to the in-bringing of the protocolles of the Clerks of any free Burgh Royal within this Realme, deceased already, or that shall happen to decease hereafter: but the relict and children of the saids Clerks of free Burghs, shall be halden to deliver the saids Protocolles to the Proveſt and Baillies of the saids free Burghs, to remaine in the Register of the saids free Burghs, and to be made forth-coming to all parties, having intresse, whensoever they shall crave any instrument to bee transumed forth of the same at any time hereafter.

ACT XXIII.

Act Salvo jure cujuslibet.

Forasmuch as in this present Session of Parliament, there are Ratifications past, wherein divers and new clauses are insert, which may be prejudicial to particular parties Rights, and derogative to many Lawes lawfully made and established of before; albeit the meaning of his Highnes, be at this time, as it was ever in all preceeding Parliaments, That by no particular Act, any other party should be hurt or prejudged.

For remedie thereof, It is Statute and ordained, that no Ratification past in this present Session of Parliament, shall be prejudicial to any privat parties Rights: but that the saids Ratifications be allwayes understood, whether they be general or special. to be Salvo jure cujuslibet.

T H E A C T

Anent the Settling of Measures and Weights, concluded at Edinburgh, the 19. day of Februar, 1618. yeares. By the Commissioners having power to doe the same by Act of Parliament made the twentie eight day of June, 1617.

ORSOMUCH as in 'OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS laite Parliament holden at Edinburgh, the xxviii day of June last by past, his Highnes and Estates conveyened therein, Mooved by the general complaint of all his loving Subjects: and in respect of their sensible prejudice seene and felt through many parts of this Kingdome by reason of the diversitie of Measures and Weights used within the same.

Therefore OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advise of his saids Estates; For removing of all abuses which may ensue in any time to come, thereby hath found expedient and by Decreet and Statute of the said Parliament; Decerned, Statute, and Ordeined, That there shall bee but one just Measure and Weight, through all the partes of this Kingdome; which shall Universallie serve all his Highnes Lieges, by the which they shall buy, sell, receave, and give out, in all tyme to come. Which Measure his Majestie with advise foresaid, Fand; should be that Measure of Linlithgo, which is now commonlie used and which hath been used most customablie through the greatest part of this Kingdome these fiftie or threescore yeares bypast. And for setting of a perfyte order whereby all the Measures that are now used may be reduced to the conformitie of the said Measure now authorized, and for making of proportion answerable betwixt the lesser Measures and Weights, and the Greatest.

His MAJESTIE with advise foresaid, granted full power and Commission, to Sir James Weemes of Bogie Knight, Sir George Auchinleck of Balmanno Knight, Sir James Fowles of Colington Knight, Sir Robert Stewart of Shillinglaw Knight, Sir Johne Waws of Barubarro Knight, Sir William Greifson of Lag Knight, And to James Nisbet Baillie and Burges of Edinburgh, Master Alexander Wedderburne Clerk of Dondie, Sir Thomas Menzeis Provost of Aberdene, James Hamilton Provost of Glasgow, John Osburne Burges of Aire, and Sir George Bruce of Carnuk Knight, Burges of Culros: Whom or any eight of them, His Majestie with advise foresaid, Ordeined to meet and conveyne together, at such tyme and place as they should think expedient. And to consult and advise together, and to appoint and determine upon the most convenient meanes how the saids Measures and Weights might be reduced to the conformitie foresaid. As in the said laite Act of Parliament at more length is contained.

Which whole Commissioners foresaids, having mett and conveyened within the Burgh of Edinburgh upon the twentie ane day of Januar last by-past, and the most part of them upon divers and sundrie others dayes thereafter in the said Moneth of Januar and Februar instant. And having read and considered the foresaid Act of Parliament, anent the saids Measures and Weights, and finding that It is Ordeined that there shall be onlie Ane just Measure and Weight, through all the parts of this Realme which shall universallie serve all his Majesties Lieges (by the which and no other) they shall buy and sell, in all tyme comming. And that it is declared by the said Act that the foresaid Measure and Firlot of Linlithgo, which is now commonlie used and which hath bene most customablie used through the greatest part of this Kingdome these fiftie or threescore yeares bygone, shall be the foresaid just Measure & Firlot which shall be received and used by all his Majesties Lieges in all tyme comming. And that Commission is given be vertue of the said Act to the saids Commissioners for setting of a perfect order, whereby all the saids Measures that are now used, may be reduced to the conformitie of the said Measure of Linlithgo. And for making of a proportion betwixt the lesser Measures and Weights and the greatest. Have first thought it meet and expedient that the Provost and Baillies of Linlithgo who are keepers of the said Measure should produce before them the said Measure which hath been given out be them to the Burrowes & all others his Majesties Lieges these fiftie or threescore yeares bygone, with their Jedges and warrands which they have for the same. Who being cited for that effect, Produced before the saids Commissioners their said Measure & Firlot with the Jedge which is their warrant thereof. And the same Measure and Firlot being found agreeable with the said Jedge, the saids Commissioners caused presentlie fill the same with watter, which being full, they fand that the same contained Twentie ane Pintes & ane Mutchkin of just Sterline Jug and Measure, and that the foresaid Jug contains within the same Three pounds, and seven ounces of French Troys Weight, of clear running watter of the watter of Leith. And because the saids Commissioners could find out no other meane whereby they might trye the warrant of the Quantitie of the said Measure and Firlot of Linlithgo, which hath been in use these fiftie or threescore yeares bygone, But be taking of the Oaths of the saids Provost and Baillies thereanent: They tooke the Oath of Andro Milne Provost

Proveft of the faide Burgh of Linlithgo, Andro Bel and James Glen Baillies thereof, who being with all requifite Solemnitie Sworne : Deponed upon their confciences ; That the forefaid Firlot and Meafure produced by them, was the verie true and juft Meafure which hath been given out to his Majesties Lieges by them and their Prediceffors thefe fiftie or three-score yeeres bygone, and that the fame by their knowledge hath never been altered in any fort during the tyme forefaid, and ficklelike declared upon their confciences, that fo far as they could trye by the moft ancient and aged perfons of their Burgh, that the forefaids Jedges are of great antiquitie, and have never bene altered or changed in any tyme bygone : And that they never had, nor hes, any other Meafure, or Jedge to their knowledge.

Which Firlot, the faids Commissioners Have Found, and Declared, Statute and Ordeined, to be the juft and onlie Firlot which fhall be received and ufed, by all his Majesties Lieges in all tyme comming: For metting of Wheat, Rye, Beanes, Peas, Meal, Whyt Salt, and fuch other ftuff and Victual as before this tyme hath bene in ufe to bee Meafured by ftraik Mett, within this Kingdome. The Wydnes and Breadnes, of the which Firlot under and above even over within the buildis, fhall containe nyneteen Inches, and the feft part of ane Inche; and the deipnes, feven Inches, and ane thrid part of ane Inche: and the Peck, halfe Peck, and fourth part Peck to be made effeaird thereto; And the fteppes of the faid Firlot to be in thicknes one Inche at the leaft: That the Bottome thereof be croffed with Iron nayled to the fame, and to the Ring of the Firlot; and the edge of the bottome entring within the lagene be pared outwith towards the nether-fyde, and to be made inwith plaine and juft rule-right; That the mouth bee ringed about with ane croce or girth of Iron inwith and outwith, having a croce Iron barre paffing over from the one fyde to the other, three squared, and edge down, and a plaine fyde up, which fhall go reul-right with the edge of the Firlot, and everie square fhall be ane juft Inche of Breadth. And that there be ane prick of Iron one Inche in roundnes, with ane fhoulder under and above and tryng upright out of the Centre or midft of the bottome of the Firlot, and paffing through the midft of the faid over croce-barre, rooved both under and above.

AND that the faid Cowpar caufe the ring-ftraik of the faid Firlot, paffe from the one end of the faid over Iron barre to the other: And the fame to be brunt and fealled, with the mark of foure Crownes, upon both the fydes of the bottome, with fyve impreffions of the Letter L. upon the lippes thereof. And for efcheuing of fraud in all tyme comming; The faids Commissioners all in one voice but difcrepance or variance, Have thought expedient, Statute and Ordeined, by vertue of the forefaid Commiffion granted to them by the faid laite Act of Parliament, That all Victual and ftuff fhall be Meafured by ftraik, through all the parts of this Kingdome, in all tyme comming. And by reafon that Mault, Beare, and Aites have ever bene ufed to bee Meafured by heape; and that by the meaning of feveral preceeding Acts of Parliament, IT hath been thought, that the Heape in proportion was the juft thrid of the Firlot and Peck, So thar three ftraiked Firlots, for two heaped Firlots, Sex ftraiked Firlots for foure heaped Firlots, was thought to bee a juft proportion, for the one agreeable to the other. And the faids Commissioners by tryal and examination having found that the Heape in proportion, IS not the juft thrid part of the Firlot and Peck, but that there is a great difference therein, and no fmall prejudice both to the giver and receiver, of three ftraiked Firlots or Pecks, for two heaped Firlots or Pecks, and confequentlie of sex for foure, the Heape being alwayes the leffe meafure as faid is.

THEREFORE they have found it expedient to caufe make ane particular Meafure or Firlot, for metting of Mault, Beare, and Aites, by ftraike, in all tyme comming, which being made and produced in their prefence, they after tryal and examination thereof, Have found the fame in proportion neareft to the faid Heape, fo thar foure ftraiked Meafures or Firlots thereof, contienes in juft proportion (and to the leffe prejudice of all his Majesties Lieges) foure heaped Firlots. Which the faids Commissioners having caufed fill with cleare running water of the water of Leith, They find the fame to conteine Thrittie one Pynts, of the juft Sterline Jugge and Meafure, ilk Pinct contening the Weight forefaid. And the fame to bee in wydnes and breadnes equal and conforme to the former Firlot, and in deipnes, Ten Inches and ane halfe Inche.

WHICH they Find, Statute and Ordeins, To remaine as ane juft Meafure and Firlot, to be Ufed for metting and meafuring of Mault, Beare, and Aites, by ftraike, in all tyme comming. And that the Pecks, halfe Pecks, and fourt part Pecks thereof be made conforme in proportions to the fame laft Firlot: Which new Firlot in all other refpects fhall be agreeable in forme with the old ftraike Firlot above-written, having one Iron girth more in the midft thereof outwith, and marked with the impreffion of the letter H. on the outmoft fyds thereof.

AND the fame with the forefaid other Firlot contening twentie ane pincts and ane mutchkin, To bee given out by the faids Proveft and Baillies of Linlithgow, to whose custodie the fame was committed of old, To the Burrowes and all others his Majesties Lieges for that effect, betwix the date hereof and the twentie day of Apryle next-to-com. And thar foure fulles of either of the forefaids Firlots conteine and bee repure to bee ane juft BOLL, in all tyme comming allannerlie. Sicklyke the faids Commissioners having confidered the great Prejudice fuffeined by all OUR Sovereigne LORDS Lieges through the diverfite of Weights, ufed within all the parts of this Realme.

THEREFORE and conforme to their faid Commiffion and Act of Parliament forefaid, and for efcheuing of all fraud, Have though expedient, Statute, and Ordeined, That there fhall be onely one juft Weight Weight through all the parts of this Kingdome; which shall universallie serve all his Majesties Lieges (by the which and no other) they shall buy and sell, all and whatsoever Wares accustomed to be bought and sold by Weight aswel Forraine, as Countre-Wares; in all tyme hereafter: to wit, The French Troys Stone Weight, containing Sexteine Troys Pounds, in the Stone, and Sexteine Troys Unces in the Pound, and the lesser Weights and Measures to be made in proportion conforme thereto: (And that Weight called of old the Trone weight to be allutterlie abolished and discharged, and never hereafter to be received nor used.) And in respect that the keeping and out-giving of the Weights of old to the Burrowes, and others his Majesties Lieges within this Kingdome; was committed to the Burgh of Lanerke: Therefore the saids Commissioners have committed the keeping and out-giving of the said French Troys Stone Weight, now established, to the foresaid Burgh of Lanerke and their Successors, to be given out by them and their saids Successors to the Burrowes and others his Majesties Lieges, betwixt the date hereof and the First day of May next-to-come, and in all tyme comming.

AND Lykewayes Statutes and Ordeins, that there be double Standards of the foresaid Firlots and Measures, and Jedges thereof, and of the foresaid Weights, Two of everie one of them to remaine in the Register, within the Castell of Edinburgh, and other two within the Castell of Dunbritane, therein to remaine as a warrand for the Measures allannerlie. And the other in the Townes to whom they have been committed of old as said is, to be direct forth to the whole Lieges to be used universallie. And this without prejudice to any persons who are founded, infeof, or addetted, by Tack or contract, of old or new fermes of other Measures and Weights; but that their Foundation, Infeoffment, Tack, or Contract, shall be proportioned to the Measure and Weight now established, so that the same quantitie shall remaine with the giver and receiver, but prejudice to any of them. Sicklyke they have found and declared, That the Elne and Stand thereof committed to the keeping of the Burgh of Edinburgh, containeth Thirtie seven Inches. And that the Pinte Stowp, committed to the keeping of the Burgh of Sterline, containeth the Weight of Three Pounds seven ounces of French Troys Weight cleare running watter of the watter of Leith. Which Elne, and Stowp, They Statute and Ordaine, to remaine and abyde in the same integritie as they are now; and that no other Elne nor Stowp, or greater or lesse proportion containing the said weight, shall be received by any of his Majesties Lieges in any tyme comming, to buy or sell with, in any part of this Kingdome. And that the halfe and quarter Elnes, and halfe quarters, and Nails: Quart, Chopin, Mutchkin, and halfe Mutchkine Stowps, bee made in proportion conforme thereto. And the Burghes of Edinburgh, and Sterline, to whome the keeping thereof hath been committed of old; have the out-giving of the same to the rest of the Burrows and all others his Majesties Lieges to that effect, betwixt and the First day of Apryle next-to-come: And that they have double Standards of the saids Elne, and Stowp, Two of everie one of them, To remaine in the Register within the Castell of Edinburgh, and within the Castell of Dunbritane, for a warrand as said is: and the other with themselves and their Successors, to whome they have been committed of old: And that the foresaid Measures, Mets, and Weights, with the which all and whatsoever persons shall be holden to buy, sell, mett, Measure, Weigh, and deliver, have course allannerlie within this Realme; after the dayes respective after following viz. The Weights after the First day of May next-to-come, and the Measures of Firlots and Pecks, and the rest of that degree, after the First day of June next thereafter, and no other Weights, Mets, nor Measures, to be received nor used in any tyme hereafter; in any part of this Kingdome, under the paines contained in the Acts of Parliament made thereanent: and that all Firlots to be used in Markets both to Burgh and Land be brunt and sealed either with the Marks and Seals of Linhthgou in maner foresaid, or with the burning Iron of the head Burgh of the shyre wherein the saids markets are holden, And that the Provost and Baillies of Royal Burrowes, and Cities both Regalitie and Royaltie, and als the Baillies of Burrowes in Baronnie, and Justices of Peace in whatsoever places where Markets of Victual are holden, or others Forraine or Countre-Wares shall be bought, sold, and Weighed, Mett, and Measured, shall be bound, That all Measures and Weights to be used shall be of one forme and quantitie, according to this present Act: And if any different Measures and Weights be found in any of the places above-mentioned, The saids Provost and Baillies of Royalties, Regalities, Baronies and Justices of Peace; shall take order therewith, and if need be shall be holden to informe the Kings Majesties Council thereof, that they may take order thereanent as appertaineth.

Providing alwayes as is before provided, if any persons be founded or infeof, and addetted by Tack, or Contract, of old or new Ferme, of other Measures & Weights, then are before written in manner foresaid; Their foundation, Tack or Contract, whether it be more or lesse, shall be proportioned to this Measure and weight which now is established, so that the same quantitie shall remaine with the giver and receiver, but prejudice to any of them in maner particularie before expressed. And because by the Provisions immediatlie before writen, divers Pleyes and questions, may arise berwixt parties, receivers and deliverers, Maisters and tennents, Fewers and their Superiors, anent Fermes and Victual, and sicklyke anent other stuff and duties addetted, and bound to be payed and delivered by Weight, either by Infeoffments, Tacks, Foundations, Bandes, or Contracts whatsoever, made before the date hereof anent the conforming and proportionating of the Measures and Weights contained in the saids infeoffments, Tacks, Foundations and others Securines foresaid, with the Measures and Weights now established, if sure notice and tryal be not taken of the just Measure and quantitie of the Measures and Weights, which have been most Customable used & received rhese fiftie or threescore yeares bygone, within the Shirefdomes under-written, viz. Lanerk, Wigton, Drumfreis, Roxburgh, and Bervik. In the which the saids Commissioners considering evidentlie the greatest diversitie of measures and weights, from the measures and weights now established, to be for the most part: So that these fyve Shyres being brought to the conformitie aforesaid, the rest of the Shyres within this Kingdome may be easilie reduced to the same, conforme to this present Act.

T H E R E F O R E the saids Commissioners, Finds it meet and expedient, and by these presents Statuts, Decernes, and Ordains, That the Shirref of everie one of the foresaid fyve shyres of Lanerk, Wigton, Drumfreis, Roxburgh, and Bervik; or their Deputes shall warne the Baillies of Regalities within the same Shyres, and Stewarts of Stewartries thereof, if any bee, Justices of Peace, and Magistrates of Burrowes, To convene ilk one of them within the heade Burgh of the same Shyre wherein they are Magistrates, within twentie dayes after the Councils pleasure shall be signified to them thereanent: and there not onlie to receive and embrace the saids measures and weights, from the Provost and Baillies of Linlithgon and Lanerk, to whom the keeping thereof is concredit in maner foresaid, and which are established by this present Act: But also to take tryal & cognition of the difference betwixt the saids old measures & weights, and the measures & weights now established. And to appoint, conclude and determine, ilk one of them within their own bounds, what proportion lesse or more shall be given and received in tyme coming, for the conforming of their Fermes and dueries addetted by former inscotments, foundations, Tacks, contracts, bands and Securities, to the foresaid Measures and Weights now established, and to insert the same in their Registers and Court books; To remaine with them for decisioun of such controversies as may aryse in those bounds hereafter, anent the disconformitie foresaid: and to report their diligence thereanent and conclusion in writte authenticklie subscribed by the saids Shirrefs of Shyres, Magistrats of Royal Burrowes, Baillies of Regalities, Burghs of Barronies and Justices of Peace; conveneing within ilk one of the foresaid Shirefdomes: And to present the same to the Lords of his Majesties Council and Session, before the first day of Julie next-to-come; To the effect the same may be delyvered to the Clerke of Register to be insert in the bookes of Council (ad futuram rei memoriam) And that none of the foresaid fyve shyres, nor no others his Majesties Lieges within this Kingdome, presume or take upon hand in tyme to come; To buy, Sell, block, bargane, contract, or sett in Tack, to, or with others, for receipt or delyverie, with any other weight, Mett, or measure, nor the same which now by this present Act is approved and established. And this for report of the Commission above-written, Requyring the Lords of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Council and Session, That letters may be direct for publication of the premisses by open proclamation at the market Croces of the head Burrowes of this Realme, and other places needful that non pretend ignorance of the same, Commanding and charging, all and sundrie the saids Provosts and Baillies of Burrowes and Citties, both of Royalitie, and regalitie, and also the Baillies of Burrowes in Barronies, and Justices of Peace, and others whatsoever, in places where markets are holden; To put in execution this present Act and everie part thereof in so farre as concerneth them, so that the same may take full effect after the dayes respective foresaid: With certification to them and they faillye, they shall be called and accused, and the paines contained in the Acts of Parliament, shall bee execut upon them in all rigour in example of others. In witnessing of the which the saids Commissioners have subscribed these presents with their hands, day, yeere, and place foresaid. And ordains these presents to be delyvered to the Clerke of Register, to the effect he may cause insert the same in the Register of Parliament.

By the Grace of GOD, King of SCOTLAND, ENGLAND, FRANCE and IRELAND, Defender of the Faith, &c.

Halden at Edinburgh, the fourth day of August, 1621. by the Noble and Potent Lord JAMES Marquis of Hamilton, Earle of Arrane, and Cambridge, Lord Ayen, and Innerdail, &c. Commissioner appointed for holding of the said Parliament, by vertue of his Majesties Commission granted to him under the great Seale of this Kingdome: with the special advise, consent and assent of the Estates of this Realme.

A C T I .

A Ratification of the Five Articles of the General Assembly of the Kirke, halden at Perth, in the Moneth of August, 1618.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament presently convened, ratifies and approves the Acts of the General Assembly of the Kirk, halden at Perth, the xxv day of August, the yeare of God J^{ai} Vi^e and eighteen, and concluded the twenty seventh of the same Moneth, Sessioe secunda, Whereof the tennour followeth.

I.

SINCE We are commanded by GOD himselfe, that when wee come to worship him, wee fall down & kneele before the LORD our Maker; & considering with all, that there is no part of Divine worship more heavenly & spiritual, then is the holy receaving of the blessed body and blood of our LORD and Saviour JESUS CHRIST: Lyke as the most humble and reverend gesture of the body in our meditation and lifting up of our hearts, best becommeth so divine and sacred an Action. Therefore notwithstanding that our Kirk hath used since the Reformation of Religion, to celebrate the holy Communion to the people sitting, by reason of the great abuse of kneeling used in the Idolatrous worship of the Sacrament by the Papists: Yet now, seeing all memory of by-past superstition is past. In reverence of GOD, and in due regard of so Divine a Myserie, and in remembrance of so mysticalane Union, as wee are made partakers of; The Assembly thinketh good, that, that blessed Sacrament be celebrated hereafter meeklie and reverendlie upon their Knees.

I I .

ITEM, if any good Christian visited with long sicknes, and knowne to the Pastor; by reason of his present infirmities, unable to resort to the Kirke, for receaving of the holy Communion, or being sicke, shall declare to the Pastor upon his conscience, that hee thinks his sicknesse to be deadly, and shall earnestly desire to receive the same in his house: The Minister shall not deny to him so great a comfort, lawful warning being given to him upon the night before, and that there bee three or foure of good Religion and conversation, free of lawful impediments, present with the sicke person to communicate with him, who must also provide a convenient place in his house; and all things necessarie for the reverend administration thereof, according to the order prescribed in the Kirke.

I I I .

ITEM, The Minister shall often admonish the people, that they differre not the Baptising of Infants; any longer then the next Lordes day after the childe bee borne, unlesse upon a great and reasonable cause declared to the Minister, and by him approved. As also they shall warne them, that without great cause they they procure not their children to be Baptized at home in their houses, but when great need shall compel them to baptize in privat houses (in which case, the Minister shall not refuse to doe it, upon the knowledge of the great need; and being timely required thereto) then Baptisme shall be administred after the same forme as it should have been in the Congregation. And the Minister shall, the next Lordes day after any such private Baptisme, declare in the Kirke; that the Infant was bo baptized, and therefore ought to be received as one of the true flocke of CHRISTIS foldc.

I V.

ITEM, Forasmuch as one of the most special meanes for staying the increase of Popetrie, and setting of true Religion in the hearts of the People, is; That a special care be taken in tryal of young children their education, and how they are carechized: Which in tyme of the Primitive KIRK was most carefully attended, as being most profitable to cause young children in their tender yeares, drinke in the knowledge of GOD, and his Religion, but is now altogether neglected in respect of great abuse and errours which crept into the Popish Kirke; by making thereof a Sacrament of Confirmation: Therefore that all superstitious build thereupon may be rescinded, And that the matter it selfe being most necessarie for the education of the youth, may be reduced to the Primitive integritie.

IT is thought good that the Minister in everie Parish shall carechize all young children of eight yeares of age, and see that they have the knowledge, and bee able to make rehearsal of the Lords Prayer, Belief, and ten Commandements, with answers to the questions of the smal Catechisme used in our Kirke: And that everie Bishop in his visitation shall censure the Minister who shall bee found remisse therein; And the saids Bishops shall cause the saids Children to be presented before them, and blesse them with prayer for the increase of their knowledge: and continuance of Gods heavenlie graces with every one of them.

V.

ITEM, as wee abhorre the superstitious observacion of Festival dayes by the Papists, and detest all licentious and prophane abuse thereof, by the common sort of professors; So we think, that the inestimable benefices received from God, by our Lord JESUS CHRIST his Birth, Passion, Resurrection, Ascension, and sending downe of the Holy Ghost, was commendably and godly remembered, at certaine particular dayes and times by the whole Kirk of the world; and may be also now. Therefore the Assembly Ordaines, that every Minister shall upon these dayes have the commemoration of the foresaide inestimable benefices, and make choice of severall and pertinent Texts of Scripture, and frame their doctrine and exhortations thereto; and rebuke all superstitious observacion and licentious profanation thereof.

Which Articles and ordinances, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent of the Estates, Statutes and ordaines to be obeyed and observed by all his Majesties subjects as Lawes in time coming; Annulling and rescinding whatsover other Acts of Parliament, Constitutions and Customes; In so farre as they are derogative to any of the Articles above-written.

A C T. II.

Assent the Taxation granted to his Majestie of Threttie shillings tearmly, upon the pound Land, and the twentie pemie of all Annual-rents.

IN the PARLIAMENT holden at Edinburgh, the fourth day of August, the yeare of God 1621. The Estates of Parliament presently convened, considering the infinite expences and great burden which the Kings most sacred Majestie their dread Lord and Sovereigne, hath been constrained by the straitest bonds of religion to undergoe of late, and in all likely-hood shall lye under a long time; By procuring by Treasurie of Armes, ease and libertie to those who suffer for the Gospel of Christ Jesus professed in this land; and therewithall calling to mynde the long peace flourishing with religion and Justice, which they have enjoyed these many yeares past; and doe yet still enjoy in this universal combustion of the Christian world, and that by the wise, just and happy government of his sacred Majestie: and that they have nothing to bee returned to so great a King for so exceeding greate and rare benefices, but heartie and zealous affections ceeding to no Nation, and ever ready with their goods, landes, and lives, to maintaine true Religion, his Majesties royal person and posteritie, their Honours and Crownes. Therefore in most humble manner, The saids whole Estates of this Realme doe earnestly beseeke his most sacred Majesty, graciously to accept this their offer of a Taxation to be imposed, collected, and payed to his Highnesse, by the saids Estates in manner and at the foure Teames following: That is to say, The Earles, Lords and Commissioners of Shyres, for the Temporal Estate, have granted, that there shall be up-lifted of every pound Land of auld extent, within this Realme, pertaining to Earles; Lords, Barons, Free-holders, and Fewars of his Majesties proper Lands, the summe of Thirtie shillings money at every one of the foure Teames following, viz. The summe of XXX. shillings at the Feast and Teame of Candlemes next to come, in the yeare of GOD 1622. The summe of other XXX. shillings at the Feast and Teame of Martinmes, in the yeare of GOD, 1622. The summe of other XXX. shillings at the Feast and Teame of Martinmes, in the yeare of GOD, 1623. And the summe of other XXX. shillings at the Feast and Teame of Martinmes, in the yeare of GOD, 1624. The Archbishops, and and Bishops for the Spirituall Estate, have granted that there shall bee up-lifted of all Arch-Bishopricks, Bishopricks, Abbacies, Priories, and other inferiour benefices within this Realme, at every one of the Foure Tearmes above-specified, the just Taxation thereof, as they have been accustomed to be taxed unto at all time by-gone, whensoever the temporal Lands of this Realme were stented to thirty Shillings of auld extent: And the same Taxation to be payed at every one of the foure severall Tearmes above-specified. And the Commissioners of Burrowes for their ESTATE, have granted, that there shall bee up-lifted of all Burrowes within this Realme, at every one of the Foure Tearmes above-written, the just Taxation thereof, as they have been accustomed to be taxed in all time by-gone, whensoever the temporal Landes within this Realme were stented to thirtie shillings the pound land of auld extent. And the said taxation to be payed at every one of the Foure severall tearmes above-written. And in regard that his Majesty hath erected sundry Prelacies in temporal Lordships, whereby the owners thereof may claime to be taxed with the Barons of the temporal Estate, and therethrow his Highness will be defrauded of a great part of the same taxation.

THEREFORE IT IS Statute and Ordained, that all Erections of Prelacies, and other smal Benefices, in whole or in part, in Temporal Lordships, shall in payment of the said taxation, pay to the Collectors thereof so meikle of the same Taxation [pro rata] as if they were no-wise erected, and as they were subject to do before the erection of the same. And sicklike, IT IS Statute and ordained, That all dissolved Benefices within this Realme, in whole or in part, shall bee subject in payment off so meikle of the same Taxation [pro rata] as they would have been subject to pay so the same had not been dissolved, and that the parties who have gotten any part or portion of any Prelacies, or other inferior Benefices dissolved, and new securities made unto them by his Majestie, of that part and portion thereof so dissolved, shall be subject to the payment of the Taxation thereof to the Prelate, or other beneficed person for his reliefe of the same Taxation; as they would have been, so the same had not been dissolved: Notwithstanding of any condition contained in the infeftments and securities made by his Majesty to them in the contrary hereof.

AND FOR ORDER, the saids Estates Annulles and discharges all Priviledges and Immunities whatsoever, whereby any persons may think themselves free of payment of this present Taxation (the Priviledges granted to the Ordinar Senators of the Colledge of Justice, and the Taxation of the Benefices given, disposed and mortified for the intertainment of the Universities and Colledges within this Kingdom only excepted.) AS ALSO the saids Estates considering that besides the ordinary charges which his Majesty doth daily undergoe for the maintenance of the Honour, Estate and Dignity of his Highnes Kingdomes: The extraordinarie burdings which now lye upon his Majesty by the occasions before-written, are so great, and do so neare concern every Loyal and true hearted Subject of this Kingdome, as members of that body whereof his Majesty is the head: that in duty they think themselves bound to bear a part of that burden, and to relieve his Majesty thereof. Therefore besides the Ordinar Taxation above-written, THE saids Estates have for the space of Four years next and immediately following the Tearme of Martinmesse next to come, Voluntarily and freely granted to his Majesty a yearly extraordinarie Taxation of the Twenty pennie of all Annual-rents, which any person or persons within this Kingdom have freely due and payable to them yearly or tearmly [their own Annual-rent wherein they are addebted to others, being first deduced.] The first Tearmes payment whereoff shall bee and begin at the said Feast and Tearme of Martinmesse next to come, and so forth yearly and tearmly at Whitunday and Martinmesse, while the saids Four years and the eight Tearmes payment thereof be fully and compleatly out-run. And for the better tryal of every man his Annual-rent which he hath yearly or Tearmly due to him: IT IS ordeined, that this Act shall be published at the Market-crosse of the Burgh of Edinburgh, and of the whole head Burrowes of the Shirreffdoms, Stewardries, Bailliries, and Regalities, within this Kingdome, whereby all his Majesties Lieges may have true notice thereof. And therewithal the saids Estates WILLES, Ordains and Commands, all his Majesties Lieges that have any Annual-rent payed to them, That they compar within the said Head Burgh of the Shirreffdome, Stewardrie, Baillirie, or Regality, or the Head Burgh in any of these Jurisdiccions where the head Courts are halden, and where the saids Annual-renters dwell, or have their ordinar residence, in any court-day in one of the last Weekes Immediately preceeding Whitfonday or Martinmesse. At which time the Shirreffs, Stewards, Baillies, and Baillies of Regalities, and Provest and Baillies of burrows, who are heretabell Shirreffs within themselves, within the bounds of their Jurisdiccions: shall be obliged to hold Courts weekly to the effect after-specified. And the Lieges resorting to the saids Courts, shall give up Inventors to the Clerk thereof, of the whole summes of money for which Annual is due to them yearly and tearmly, the names of the Debtors: As also the whole summes of money for the which they are subject in payment of annual-rent to others, with the names of the Creditors to whom the same is due, whether the same annual-rent be in Viſtual or Silver. The annual-rent of Viſtual to be estimate according to the Stock of money for the which it is paid at Ten for ilk hundreth thereof, And shall cause the parties up-givers of the saids Inventors, every party subscribe his own Inventor himself if he can write, and if he cannot write, the Clerke of the said Court shall subscribe the said Inventor in face of Court, before the members thereof. And also the Sherriff, Steward, Baillic, Baillic of Regality, Proveft and Baillics of Burrowes, who are heretable Shirrefs within themselves, within the boundes of their Jurifdictions: And Clerkes themselves shall make and give up an Inventor of the debts owing unto themselves, and by themselves, as said is. IT IS alwayes provided, that if any person, impeaced by reason of sickness, or distracted by some other just occasion, shall not bee present himselfe, to give up the said Inventor, It shall bee lawful for him to cause any honest responsible man, within the jurisdiction where he dwelleth, to compear, and give up his Inventor: Providing the same be subscribed by himselfe, or a Notar at his command, which the In-giver shall declare to be a true Deede, and abide at the same, on the like hazard and danger as the principal partie should under-lye: which shall be as sufficient as if the Inventor had been personally given up by the principal partie himselfe. And an Inventor being once made, and given up, shall still stand, and be a ground to charge any person, during the time of the foure yeares of the said Taxation, unless the partie change, or otherwayes imploy his summes: And then he shall give up a new Inventor, which shall bee a new ground of a charge, and the former shall cease. And the said Clerk shall make a Record in his Register of the saids whole Inventors: Which Inventors being so recorded, shall be extracted by the said Clerke, and subscribed with his hand, and three Extracts made of the same: one to bee given to the party, if he require the same: another to be sent, by the said Clerke, to the Collector of the same Taxation: and the third, to bee likewise sent by the said Clerk, to the CLERKE of his MAJESTIES REGISTER, to be still kept amongst the Records of His Highness Exchequer: to the effect it may be knowne how farre every partie is lyable in the payment of the said extraordinary Taxation, For the which Extract, and Note made in register, the said Clerk shall have of every person, up-giver of an Inventor, the summe of foure shillings Scots money. And if by sloth, or malice, the Clerke shall happen to delay, or shift the Lieges resorting to the saids Courtes to the effect aforesayd, (Complaint being made thereof to the Lordes of His Majesties Secret Counsel) the saids Clerkes shall be punished accordingly, at the discretion of the saids Lords, And at any Court day, preceeding any Tearme, it shall be lawfull for any person to compear, and offer to give up his Inventor, which the Clerk and Judge shall be astricted to receive.

FURTHER, For the better observation of the said Statute, It is declared, That whosoever receaveth, retaineth, or conditioneth to receive any Annual-rent, and concealeth the same, or any part thereof: or in giving up of his Inventor of Debtes, and Annals owing by him unto his just Creditors, giveth up more then he is justly adebted into, Whosoever first discovereth, and revealeth either the Annuel concealed, or Annuel which is more then the up-givers just debt, shall for his reward have the halfe of that Tearme concealed Annuel, and as much as the half of that Annuel which shall bee discovered to have beene unjustly given up. And in case it shall happen any person whatsoever, by vertue of his up-given Inventor, to be charged for payment of his Taxation, and at the time of his charge to declare in presence of a Judge, by his great Oath solemnly sworne, that his Debtor is a Banke-rupt, whereby he is disabled to make payment of his Taxation, and is contented that the Kings Majestie shall have the whole Annuel-rent adebted unto him by his Banke-rupt debtor of that Tearme: His said Declaration shall be a sufficient liberation to him of the same. And for eschewing of malicious Dilatours of those who have omitted or concealed their summes, IT IS ordained, That whensoever any person shall accuse or delate another of concealing or omitting of Summes the time of making his Inventor, He shall confend upon some probable cause of his Delation, and shall finde caution, [de judicato solvi] in case he faile in proving that which he delateth: And there shall not such actions of delations be lawfull against dead persons, their Heires, no Exequutors: Neither shall it be lawfull, after year and day, after the expiring of the said Taxation, to intend any such action. And in case any person purchase wed-fette of Lands, and set the same backe again in tacke unto him who wed-fette the same unto him, The Tacks-man possessor of the Lands, shall pay for the stent of the Lands, and the haver of the wed-fet shall pay for the Annuel-rent of his money which he hath on the Land, as if the same were employed for Annuel-rent. ATTOUR, IT shall be lawfull by no manner of way, for any Creditour to get reliefe of his Debtor, of this Taxation which is imposed upon Annuel-rents by this Statute, under the paines contained in the Acts of Parliament made against Usurers. And concerning Minors, IT IS declared, that their Minorities shall no wayes priviledge them: But their Tutors and Curators shall give up the Inventors of their Annual-rents in their names: which if the saids Tutors and Curators faile to do, the saids Minors shall incurre the like danger as others, and at their perfect age shall have action of Reliefe against their saids Tutors and Curators for that cause. And in case any person depart out of this Kingdome, after the publication of this present Act, the same shall no wayes excuse him from giving up of an Inventor of his Annuel-rents, and payment of the said Taxation, and underlying of the danger contained in this present Act. But those who are presently soorth of this Realme, and shall not return before the Tearme of Martinmesse next, they shall not come under the danger of this Act, untill the Tearme of Whitfonday next: providing that at that tearme they give up their Inventor, and pay their Taxation, as if they had been present within this Realme before the foresaid Tearme of Martinmesse next. And for the uplifting of the foresaid Taxation, granted upon Annuel-rentes, rentes, And to the effect his Majesties General Collector thereof may know now whom to crave and charge for the same, IT IS Statute and Ordained, That within every Sherrifdome, Stewardrie, Baillicie, and Regalitie, where the Offices of Sherriffes, Stewarres, and Baillics are heretable: and the Provests and Baillics of Burrowes, who are heretable Sherriffes within themselves: These heretable Officers, and their Deputies, for whom they shall be holden to answer, Shall collect the said Taxation, and make payment thereof to his Majesties Collector General of the foresaids Taxations. And where these Offices are not heretable, but changeable, The Clerkes within the saids Jurisdictions having their Offices, [ad vitam] shall bee Collectors thereof. And in case the saids Clerkes have not already found sufficient Caution for discharging of their duties in their Offices, they shall bee holden before they have any intromission with the same Taxation, to finde sufficient Caution for that effect. And where there are no heretable Officers, nor Clerkes, having their Offices [ad vitam] the said Collector General of His Majesties Taxations (and his Deputies in his name, sufficiently authorized by him: and for whom hee shall bee holden to answer, and whose Names hee shall cause publish at the Market-Crosse of the head Burgh of that Jurisdiction where there is no heretable Officer nor Clerke [ad vitam] that his Majesties Lieges may know unto whom they shall make payment) shall collect and up-lift the same Taxation: Which payment being made, the receiver thereof shall bee obliged to deliver unto the payer thereof an Acquittance upon the receipt of the same, [gratis] without payment of any money for the same. IT IS likewise provided, That the Fees of the Collectors, and receivers of the same Taxation of Annuel-rentes, shall bee, like as hereby they are remitted to the discretion and arbitrement of the Lordes of his Majesties Privie Council, to be set downe, and agreed upon by them. And the saids ESTATES hereby discerne and declare, That all Burgeses and Free-men within Burghes, albeit they bee taxed in the ordinarie Taxation above-written, with their Neighbours, conforme to the order prescribed for collecting of the Burrowes part of the said ordinarie Taxation; Yet the same shall no wayes liberate, nor free them from payment of their parts of this extraordinary Taxation also, according to the proportion of the twentiepennie of their Annuel-rentes: but they shall bee lyable in payment thereof, as others his Majesties Lieges are. AT T O U R, The saids ESTATES annul and discharge all privileges and immunities whatsoever, whereby any persons may thinke themselves free of payment of any parte of this present Extraordinarie Taxation: The Priviledges and Immunities granted to the Ordinarie Lords of Session, with the Annuel-rentes due to be payed to Colledges, Schooles, and Hospitales, or mortified for sustentation and up-holding of Kirkes and Bridges, with the Annuel-rentes which may bee claymed of poore people, whose stocke exceedeth not the summe of five hundredth markes onely excepted. AND the saids ESTATES discerne and ordaine the extraordinary Lordes of the Session, together with the whole Advocates, Clerks of the Session, Writers to the Signet, Privie and Great Seales, and other members of the Colledge of Justice, to contribute to the saids Taxations, such like as if they were not exceemed: And that of their owne consentes, and conforme to their voluntary offer made by them to his Majestie, and the saids Estates, upon this special provision, That their said voluntarie offer shall not prejudice nor impair their liberties, privileges, and immunities in any time comming. Which offer the saids Estates accepted, and accept: And will, and declare, That their said Offer shall no wayes derogate to their privileges, and immunities: But that their saids Priviledges and immunities shall bee kept; and observed unto them and their Successors in all times comming, unprejudged by the said Offer.

A C T III.

Anent the Collecting and inbring of the Taxation, and reliefe to the Prelates.

FOR-ASMUCH as the ESTATES of this present Parliament, upon good and weightie considerations, which moved them, have freely and voluntarie offered and granted to the Kinges most Excellent Majestie, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, for supplying of a part of the great Charges and Expenses, which His Majestie hath been constrained, even by the straytest bandes of Religion, to undergoe of late, and by all lykely-hood shall lye under a long time, by procuring by treatie, or Armes, ease and libertie to those who suffer for the Gospel of JESUS CHRIST, professed in this Land, A Taxation to be payed, collected, and uplifted, in manner, and at the foure Tearmes following: That is to say, For the Barrons and Free-holders partes of the same Taxation, Thirtie shillings Scots money, to be uplifted of every pound land of old Extent within this Realme: pertaining to Earles, Lordes, Barrons, Free-holders, and Fewares, of our Sovereigne Lordes proper landes, holden by them immediately of His Majestie, and payed by them at every one of the four severall Tearmes following: THAT IS TO SAY, The summe of Thirtie shillings money, at the Feast and Tearme of Candlemesse next to come, in the yeare of GOD, one thousand, six hundredth, twentie and two yeares. The summe of other thirtie shillings money at the Feast and Tearme of Martinmesse, in the yeare of GOD, 1622. yeares. The summe of other thirtie shillings money, at the Feast and Tearme of Martinmesse, in the yeare of our GOD, 1623. yeares. And the summe of or her thirtie shillings, money afore-said, at the Feast and Tearme of Martinmesse, in the yeare of our GOD, 1624. yeares. And for the Spiritual men, and the Burrowes partes of the same Taxation, That there shall be up-lifted of everie Arch-bishopricke, Bishopricke, Abbacie, Priorie, and other inferior benefice: and of everie free Burgh within this Realme, at everie one of the saids foure Tearmes of payment, the just Taxation thereof, and as they have been accustomed to be taxed unto in all times bygone, whensoever the Temporal landes within this Realme were stented to thirtie shillings money the pound land of old extent: And the same Taxation to be payed at every one of the foure severall Tearmes above-written. AND for In-bringing of the Spiritual mens parts of the same Taxation, Ordaines letters to be directed, charging all and sundry Arch-bishops, Bishops, Abbots, Priors, as likewise all Noble-men, and others, in whose favour the Ereccion of any Prelacie, or other inferior Benefice, or any part or portion thereof, bee it landes, Kirkes, or Teynds, or in whose favour the Patronage of any Benefice, Kirkes, of Teyndes, is past, and all other beneficed persons contained in the Taxt Rolles, their Chalmerlains, factors and introuettours with their Rents and living to make payment of that summe that they and every one of them are taxt unto for every one of the said foure Tearmes payment to the Collector General to be appointed by His Majestie, for receiving of the said, whole Taxation, or to his Deputes, and Officiars in his name, having his power to receive the same at the particular Tearmes above-written, under the paine of rebellion, and putting of them to the Horne. And if they failie therein at the by-passing of every one of the saids Tearmes, to denounce the Disobeyers Rebelles, and put them to the Horne: and to escheate, &c. And that the Prelates, and beneficed persons, and such Noble-men, and others, in whose favours the Ereccions and Patronages above-written, are past for their reliefe, have Letters, charging their Vassalles, Sub-vassalles, Ladies of Terce, Conjunct-seears, Life-renters, Fewares, Tackes-men, and Pensioners, to make payment of their partes of the said Taxation, each one of them [pro rata] according to the summe that they shall be taxed unto: To the saids Prelates, and other beneficed persons, and to the saids Noble-men and others, having power to receive the same, within twentie dayes next after the charge, under the paine of rebellion, &c. And if they failie, to denounce, and Escheate, &c. And to poind and distraine therefore, as they shall thinke most expedient: Providing alwayes, That the first Tearmes payment of the said Taxation be ever past, before the next Tearmes payment be charged for. Alwayes declaring, that the production of sufficient Hominges against the saids Vassalles, Fewares, Tackes-men, and Pensioners, shall be a reliefe to the saids Prelates, Lordes of Ereccions, and beneficed persons: And shall exoner them [pro tanto] from payment of the said taxation: providing that the same Hominges, with their Taxed Rolles, authentickly made, and subscribed by the saids Prelates, Lordes of Ereccions, and beneficed persons, and by their Fewares, Vassalles, Tackes-men and Pensioners, in manner hereafter prescribed, containing the particular summe which each one of them are taxed unto, be delivered to the Collector of the same taxation, within the space of threecore dayes after every Tearme: Otherwayes he shall be nowayes obliged to receive the same. Neyther shall the Prelate, Lord of Ereccion, & beneficed person, be exoner, by production of the same, at any time thereafter. AND FURTHER, That the saids Prelates, and such Noble-men, and others, in whose favours the Ereccions and Patronages above-written, are past, and all other beneficed persons, may have their reliefe of their saids Vassals, Sub-vassals, Ladies of Terce, Conjunct-seears, Life-renters, Fewares, Tackes-men, and Pensioners, to the greater ease, and lesse trouble to their saids vassals, and others foresaid.

AND, to the effect that every one proportionally may paye his part of the said taxation, according to the quantitie and avails of the free rent which he hath of his Benefice, Landes, Pension, Kirkes, and Teind-sheaves pertaining to him, as well the Prelate, Lord of Ereccion, Patron, and other beneficed persons, themselves, as the Fewar, Tackes-man, pensioner: IT IS thought expedient, statute, and ordained, That the saids Prelates, and others above rehearsed, every one of them severally shall conveyne his whole Fewares, Vassalles, Tackes-men and Pensioners, at the particular places hereafter designed: THEY ARE TO SAY, the Arch-bishop of Sanct-Andrewes, at the Citie of Sanct-Andrewes: The Arch-bishop of Glasgow, at the Citie of Glasgow: The Bishop of Orkney, at the Towne of Kirkewal: The Bishop of Caitbines, at the Towne of Dunroch: The Bishop of Ross, at the Towne of Chaurie of Ross: The Bishop of Murray, at the Towne of Elgin: The Bishop of Aberdeen, at the Burgh of Aberdeen: The Bishop of Brechin, at the Burgh of Brechin: The Bishop of Dunkeld, at the Towne of Dunkeld: The Bishop of Dumblane, at the Towne of Dumblane: The Bishop of Galloway, at the Towne of Wigton: The Bishop of Argyle, at the Burgh of Inveraray: The Bishop of the Isles, at the Burgh of Rothsay in Bate: The Abbot of Icolmkill, at the Burgh of Inverness: The Prior of Archtattane, at the Burgh of Inveraray: The Abbot of Ferne, at the Burgh of Thayne: The Lord of Bewlie, at the Burgh of Inverness: The Lord of Kinkhise, at the Burgh of Forres: The Prior of Pluscarden, at the Burgh of Elgin: the Lord of Deir, at the Towne of Peter-head: The Prior of Fyvie, at the Towne of Turriff: The prior of Monymusk, at the Towne of Monymusk: The Lord of Arbroith, at the Burgh of Arbroith: The Lord of Scoue, at the Burgh of Pearth: The Lord of Cowper, at the Towne of Cowper, in Angus: The Prior of Restenmeth, at the Burgh of Forfar: the Collector of the Taxation, in place of the Prior of Charter-house, the Seate now vacand, at the Burgh of Pearth: the Prior of Elcho, at the same Burgh of Pearth: the Prior of Strathbillane, at the Burgh of Inveraray: the Lord of Inchaffray, at the Burgh of Pearth: the Prior of Inchmahom, at the Burgh

And that no farther Citation, nor Summounding, shall be requisite, than the Proclamation and Publication of this present Act, at the Market-Crosses of the Head-Burrowes of this Realme.

AND HEREWITH It is resolved, by the saids ESTATES, That if any Vassal, Sub-vassal; Fewar, Tackfe-man of Teyndes, Pensioner, or any other, justly bound to make reliefe to the Prelate, Lord of Erection, Patron, or other Beneficed Person, of any part of the said Taxation: Shall send any procuratours in his name, sufficiently authorized, to the said Meeting: The same shall not onely excuse the absence of the principal partie: but the procuratour in all things shall bee admitted, and received, to doe, and performe, in the Distribution of the said Taxation, what could, or lawfully might have been done by him who sent him. IT IS in like manner declared, That the Prelate, Lord of Erection, Patron, or other beneficed person, impeded by disease, or distracted upon some other necessarie occasion, from attending that Meeting, having his absence supplied that day, by any sufficient, worthy person, whom hee shall appoynt, and authorize, to that effect, Shall bee as lawfull, as if hee were personally present himselfe. And the partie so authorized, shall bee admitted, and received, in all thinges to doe, and performe in the distribution of the same Taxation, what could, or lawfully might have been done, by him who sent him. IT IS Further statuted, and ordained, That at the said day of Meeting, the saids Prelates, Lordes of Erections, Patrones, and other beneficed persons, shall by themselves, or their Procuratours lawfully authorized, as said is, senfe and holde a Court, call by Name, and Sur-name, upon every one of their Vassals, Sub-vassals, Fewars, Tackfe-men of Teynds, pensioners, and others, obliged to relieve them of any part of the same Taxation: And lawfull time of day beinge hidden, shall shew to their saids Vassalles, Fewars, Tackfe-men, and Pensioners, or their procuratours compeiring for them, the quantitie of the Taxation imposed upon their Prelacie, erected Lordship, or other Benefice, authentickly subscribed by the Clerk of the same Taxation. And they all, at the least to many of them as shall conveene for this effect, with one consent, shall distribute the same to be payed by every man, as well by the Prelate, Lord of Erection, and present possessor of small benefices, for the free rent that every one of them hath of their Prelacies, erected Lordships, and small benefices, as by the Vassal, Fewar, Tackfe-man, and pensioner, according to the great or small quantitie of free rent which every one of them hath, either of their Landes, Teinds, or pensions. Which Certification to any of the saids persons, Fewars, Vassalles, Tackfe-man, or pensioners, that compeireth not by themselves, or their procuratours, at the day and places above specified, to the

the effect aforesaid: That such as shall convene with the saids Prelates, Lords of Erections, Patrones, and other beneficed persons, or their procuratours, shall proceed in the equal distribution of the same Taxation, as well amongst them that are absent, as present: And shall make, and subscribe, an authentick Taxt-rolle there-upon. And in case, that none of the saids Vassalles, Fewars, Tackf-men, and Pensioners, shall convene at the day and places above-specified, to this effect, by themselves, or their procuratours, but shall wilfully absent themselves from the said Meeting, It shall be lawful for the saids Prelates, Lords of Erections, Patrones, and other beneficed persons, being present, by themselves, or their procuratours, at the day and places above specified, to make, set downe, and subscribe the same Taxt-rolle. And in case any of the saids Prelates, Lordes of Erections, Patrones and other beneficed persons, shall not convene, by themselves, or by their procuratours, at the day and places above specified, particularly designed to every one of them, It shall be lawful for the saids Vassalles, Fewars, Tackf-men, and pensioners, at the least so many of them as shall convene, by themselves, or their procuratours, to make, set downe, and subscribe the said Taxt-rolle. Which Taxt-rolle shall containe the particular summe that every one shall be found justly to bee addebred to pay, the parties name addebred to pay the same, and the cause wherefore the same ought to be paycd. And being so set downe, either by the Prelate, Lord of Erection, patron, or other beneficed person, or their lawful procuratours, with so many of their Vassalles, Sub-vassalles, Fewars, Tackf-men of Teinds, pensioners, and others obliged to relieve them of any part of the same Taxation, as shall convene with them to this effect. And in case that none shall convene with them, the same Rolle being then set downe by the Prelate, Lord of Erection, patron, or other beneficed person, or their lawful procuratours: Or in case of their absence, being set downe, made, and subscribed by so many of the saids Vassalles, Fewars, Tackf-men, and pensioners, as by themselves, or their procuratours, shall convene themselves for this effect, THE SAIDS ESTATES Decernes to bee as lawful in all respects, as if the whole number of persons having intres therein, had convened, made, set downe, and subscribed the same. Which Taxt-rolle being so set downe, made and subscribed, in manner above-written (and no otherwise) and delivered to the Clerke of the Taxation: The saids ESTATES ordaines him to give the warrant for giving of letters of Reliefe there-upon, Discharging him in any case to give warrant for giving of letters of Reliefe upon any Rolle presented unto him, not made, and authentickly subscribed, in forme above-written, as hee will answer to the contrary, upon his peril.

IT IS likewise statuted, and ordained, that tackef-men of Teinds shall have reliefe upon their Sub-tackef-men, [pro tanto] respect being had to the gerfome payed by the saids Sub-tackef-men. And for in-bringing of the Barrones and Free-holders partes of the same taxation, and of the Fewars and rentalles of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDES proper landes, their partes thereof, Ordaines letters to be directed, charging all and sundry Shireffes, Stewards, Baillies, their Deputies, and Clerkes, Fewars, Chamberlaines, and Receavers of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDES proper landes, That they, and every one of them, within the boundes of their Offices, rayse, and up-lift the summe of Thirtie shillings, money of this Realme, of every pound land of old Extent, lying within the boundes of their Jurisdictions, for every one of the foure tearmes above specified: and in-bring and deliver the same unto the Collector aforesaid, or to his Deputies, and Officiars in his name, having his power to receive the same, at the particular tearmes above specified, under the paine of rebellion, &c. And if they faile at the by-passing of every one of the saids tearmes, to denounce, and escheate, &c. And for their reliefe, that letters be directed, Charging all, and sundry Earles, Lordes, Barrones, Free-holders, Fewars, and Rentallers, of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS proper landes, personally, or at their dwelling places: And by open proclamation, at the Mercat-Crosses of the head Burgh of the Sheriffdome, Stewardrie, or Baillierie, where their lands lye, if they be within this Kingdome: And if they be without this Kingdome, by open proclamation, at the Market Crosse of Edinburgh, Piere and shoare of Leith, upon threescore dayes warning, to make payment unto the saids Shireffes, Stewards, and Baillies, their Deputies, and Clerkes, Chamberlaines, and Receavers of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDES proper landes, every one of them for their owne partes [respective] of the said summe of thirtie shillings money foresaid, for every pound lande of old Extent pertaining unto them for every one of the saids four tearmes payment, within twentie dayes next after they be charged thereto, under the paine of Rebellion, &c. And if they faile, to denounce, and escheate, &c. And if neede bee, that the saids Sherifffes, Stewards, Baillies, their Deputies, and Clerkes, Chamberlaines, and Receavers of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDES proper landes, poynd and distraine the readiest Goods and Geare being upon the saids landes therefore, as they shall think most meete and expedient. And that the saids Earles, Lordes, Barrones, Free-holders, Fewars, and Rentallers of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDES proper landes, have letters for their reliefe, to charge their Vassalls, Sub vassalles, Ladies of Terce, Coniunct-feeares, and Life-renters, to make payment of their partes of the said Taxation, within twentie dayes next after the charge, under the paine of rebellion, &c. And if they faile, to denounce, and escheate, &c. And if neede bee, that they poynd, and distraine: providing alwayes, that the first tearmes payment of the said Taxation be ever past before the next tearme bee charged for. And for in-bringing of the Burrowes parte of the same taxation, Ordaines letters to bee directed, Charging the Pfovest, and Baillies of each Burgh, to make payment of the Taxt and Stent thereof, to the Collector General foresaid, his Deputies, and Officiars, in his name, having his power to receive the same at the particular tearmes above they, and everie one of them, by North the River of Dee, within the space of fifteene dayes after every Tearme of Martinmesse and Whitfunday: and that they, and everie one of them, by South the River of Dee, within the space of ten dayes after every Tearme of Martinmesse and Whitfunday, deliver to his Majesties said Collector General, a true and just Accompt and Inventor, of the whole summes of money due to be payed by any person within the boundes of their Jurisdiction, for his part of the said Extraordinary Taxation: And that they give up the same Compt and Inventor upon their Oath, solemnely sworne, that the same is just and true: And make payment unto his Majesties said Collector General, or to his Deputyes in his name: having his power to receive the same of the whole moneys due to be payed to his Majesty, conforme to the said Compt and Inventor, within Twentie dayes after each Tearme, under the paine of Rebellion, &c. And in case the saids Sherriffes, Stewardes, Baillies, Baillies of Regalities, and Clerkes faile, to denounce and escheate, &c. For whose reliefe, that Letters bee directed, Charging all and sundry the saids Annual-renters, to make payment to the saids Sherriffes, Stewardes, Baillies, Baillies of Regalities, Clerkes, Provest and Baillies of Burrowes, of the saids twentie pennie of all Annual-rentes, due and payable to them, within Twentie dayes next after the charge, under the paine of Rebellion, &c. And if they faile, to denounce and escheate, &c. And if need bee, that the saids Sherriffes, Stewardes, Baillies, Baillies of Regalities, Clerkes, Provest and Baillies of Burrowes, poynd and distraine therefore, as they shall think most meet and expedient.

AND His HIGHNES, and ESTATES foresaid, Ordaines the Lordes of Session to bee only Judges to all suspensions to be craved and suted by any of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Lieges, touching the saids Taxations, Which suspensions his Majestic and Estates foresaid finds, maybe granted upon lawfull and equitable reasons to bee considered by them, and discharges all other Judges within this Realme, of granting of any suspensions thereanent. With power to the saids Lords to delegate five at the least of their ordinarie number, as they think expedient, To sit, cognosce, and decide the saids suspensions, in time of Vacance, if need be.

ACT IV.

An Act of Ratification, in favour of the PRINCE His Highness.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD With Advise and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Ratifies, Approves, and for Him and His Successors, perpetually confirms all and whatsoever Infeffments, Gifts, Donations, and other Rightes, and Titles, made, or granted by His MAJESTIE, or any other His most Noble Progenitours to His Highnesse, CHARLES, PRINCE and STEWARD of SCOTLAND, His MAJESTIES Dearest Sonne, or any other His Highnesse the Prince, his Predecessours, Princes, and Stewards of SCOTLAND, of whatsoever Lands, Lordships, Barronies, Superiorities, Offices, Annual-rents, Advocations, Donations and Rights of Patronage of Kirkes, Benefices, Chaplainries, Alterages, and others whatsoever, where ever they lie within this Kingdome of SCOTLAND: together with all Actes of Parliament, other Actes, Lawes, Statutes, Custumes, Immunities, Honours, Priviledges, Prerogatives, and Liberties, whatsoever made, introduced, or Joyced, by his Highnesse the Prince, or any His Highnesse Predecessours, Princes of SCOTLAND, in any time by-gone. Notwithstanding whatsoever Actes of Parliament, other Actes, Lawes, or Constitutions, which may appeare to derogate to the same, or that may or can be extended, or bee interprete in the contrarie thereof, either special or general. AND FURTHER Declares, that this general Ratification shall bee as effectual, as if all and sundry the saids Infeffments, Gifts, Donations, Actes, Priviledges, Immunities, Prerogatives, and others foresaid, were at length herein expressed, named, and numbred. Anent the which His Majestic, with advise and consent of the Estates, have dispensed, and dispense, by these presents: Reserving alwayes the Landes, and others, assigned for the entertainment of the Castell of Dumbartane, to be applyed to that use, until some other provision be made thereto, in place of the same.

ACT V.

Anent the Plantation of Kirkes, as yet unplanted.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD understanding, that there bee divers Kirkes within this Kingdome, which by the late Commission appointed for plantation of Kirkes, in the Parliament holden in Junij, 1617. were not settled nor provided with constant Stipendes: But which yet remaine disfurnished, and unprovided of competent meanes to be given to the Ministers, who shall be provided to the charge and function of the cure of the same. AND THEREWITH also His Majestic considering, That there have been heretofore sundrie Kirkes united together, and conjoynd in one: albeit upon good considerations, it may be found more expedient, That the same union bee dissolved, and that the saids Kirkes bee provided severally, with distinct Functions, and separate serviees, at such places where the commoditie may may afforde, in the same manner, as if no such union had been made. And such like, because there be some Kirks, whereof the Parochine is of so large bounds, that many of the Parochiners, dwelling in townes of the Parochine so remote from the Kirk: who for the great distance of the Place, or for the intersecting of Waters betwixt their rowmes and the Kirks, which oftentimes, and especially in Winter, are not passable, or for some such other known impediment, cannot have access and repair to the Paroche Kirks at the ordinary times appointed for Divine Service and Worship, and enjoy the comfort of the Exercise thereof. AND OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, according to the Princelie and Godly Indewments, wherewith His Majesty is singularly blessed, being most careful to establish all good, and propagate the Religious and true worship of GOD, universally throughout all this whole Kingdom: Where-thorow all His People may have occasion to participate the benefite of the Word, without feeling of any of these Prejudices, growing from the above-written occasions: Which his Majestie, in his Royal and Fatherly care over his People, is most desirous to have removed: THEREFORE, his Majesty, with expresse advice, and consent of the Estates of Parliament, hath graunted full power and Commission, to the Lord Chancellor for the time: And to the reverend Fathers in GOD, John, Arch-bishop of Saint-Andrews: James, Arch-bishop of Glasgow: Alexander, Bishop of Dunkell: Adam, Bishop of Dumblane: Andro, Bishop of Galloway: John, Bishop of Caitheffe: Six persons nominate for the Clergie, and Prelates. And in case of decease of any of them, to Patrick, Bishop of Rosse: and Patrick, Bishop of Aberdene. Which two persons the Estates have nominated, to supply, and become in the place of any of the other six aforesaid, if any of them shall happen to decease before this Commission be finished. TO WIT, The first of the two, in place of the first of the six deceasing: To John, Earle of Winton: Robert, Earle of Louthiane: Thomas, Earle of Melroffe: John, Vicount of Lauderdale: John, Lord Belmerino: David, Lord Carnegie: Six persons nominate for the Nobility. And in case of any of their decease, To John, Earle of Wigton, nominate to become in the place of the first deceasing: And Walter, Earle of Buckeleuch, nominate to become in the place of the second. To the Commissioners under-written, nominate for the Barons: To wit, Sir Richard Cockburne of Clerkintoun, Knight, Lord Privy Seale, Sir William Levingstoun of Kilsyth, Knight: Sir James Dondas, of Arneistoun Knight: Sir Archbald Napier of Merchingstoun, Knight: Sir Andro Ker, of Phairnebirch: Alexander Lauder of Halstoun. And in case any of their decease, To David Crichtoun of Lugtown: and Sir John Hamiltoun of Prestoun, persons nominate, to become in order, as they are named, in place of any of the six deceasing. And to John Byres, burgesse of Edinburgh: Master William Fergusone, burgesse of Dondie: Andro Bell, burgesse of Linlithgow: Robert Taylor, burgesse of Saint-Andrewes: Master James Cockburne, buagesse of Haddingtoun: and Sir George Bruce of Carnock, Knight, burgesse of Culros: Six persons nominate for the burrowes. And in case of any of their decease: To Alexander Clerk Merchant, burgesse of Edinburgh: And Master Alexander Wedderburn, Clerk of Dondie: persons nominate, to supply in order, any of the other six Commissioners aforesaid deceasing. WHICH aforesaid Commissioners, or any foure of each Estate nominate, as said is, consenting and agreeing in one voice, shall have power to consult, convey, and determine, upon the matters, and in manner under-written: Providing allwayes, That there is, and shall be requisite to the validitie of any Act, Conclusion, Ordinance, and Determination of the saids Commissioners, The conjunct assent of foure of every one of the saids four Estates, all agreeing together in one voice. Without the which consent of the said foure of every Estate to agreeing. The rest of the saids Commissioners shall have no power to make any valide, or effectual conclusion, by vertue of this present Commission: But whatsoever shall be otherwayes done, is declared to be of none avails, force, nor effect.

THAT IS TO SAY, Our Sovereign Lord, and Estates of Parliament, by the Tendor hereof gives, grauntes, and committes, full power and authoritie to the saids Commissioners, to meete, and convey, in the Towne of Edinburgh, at such time, and times, as they shall appoint, and finde convenient: And thereto call, and summonde before them, all Patrones, Tackes-men of Teynds, great and small, and others, having Right, by whatsoever Title of the Teyndes of any of the Kirks within this Kingdom, which are not already planted by the foresaid first Commission: and which shall any wayes be meddled with by this present Commission, as they shall think necessary, and expedient, To exhibite, and produce before them, their Rights and Titles, whereby they claime the said Teynds, to be seen, and considered, by the saids Commissioners: With power unto them, out of the saids Teynds, of every Parochine and Kirke, not already planted: To appoint and assigne, at their discretions, a perpetual local Stipend to the Ministers present, and to come, at all the saids Kirks, unprovided, as said is: AND that notwithstanding any Right or Title pretended by the saids Tackesmen, or others, in whose favours Teyndes have bene erected: With power also, to the saids Commissioners, to dis-unite such Kirks, one or moe, as were united before, and appointed to be served by one Minister. And as they upon good considerations shall find requisite to appoint the same to be served by several functions, and charges, as distinct parochines, after such manner as shall be found by them most expedient. Providing allwayes, That all parties having interese in the union, and dis-uniting of the saids Kirks, and plantation thereof, give their expresse warrand and consent thereunto.

IN the which case of Plantation, and provision of the Kirks which shall be dif-joynd, as said is, the presentation of the Ministers shall be appointed by the saids Commissioners, to pertain to the Patrons, conform to their rights thereof, to be produced before them. And as the saids Lords Commissioners shall finde most agreeable with reason and equity. With power likewise to the saids Commissioners to appoint and set down such solide order, for erecting and building of new Kirks, in any Parochines, where they shall finde necessitie and conveniencie to do the same, and where the Parochiners are not presently well and commodiously served at the present Kirks of the Parochine, as they shall finde most expedient. And the saids Kirks, being erected, with power to the saids Commissioners, to provide the same with such proportion of Stipends, as they shall finde may be with least prejudice, and best commoditie, made out of the fruites of the saids Parochines, to the Ministers, to be appointed to serve at the saids new builded Kirks; To the which building and making of new Kirks, and providing of the same with competent Stipends, The saids Estates findes and declares, that it shall be expresse necessarie, that the Patrons, Tack-men, and other parties having Interesse in the Erektion and building of the saids new Kirks, and in the planting and provision thereof foresaid, give their expresse warrant and consent thereunto. Which being so had, and obtained, With power to the saids Commissioners, to proceede therein as is most agreeable with reason.

IT IS alwayes declared, that in all, and every one of the cases above-written: that is to say, either in providing of Kirks not planted of before, or in dis-uniting of kirks formerly joynd: and appointing of severall and distinct Stipends to the same: Or in the Erecting of new kirks, and provision of them with Ministers, and stipends, The saids Commissioners shall have expresse power and warrant to determine, and appoint such proportion and quantity, as they shall finde expedient, either amounting over the sum of five hundred Merks, or beneath and under the same, as they shall finde may most conveniently & commodiously be had: after the consideration of the quantity and estate of the fruits of the kirke, and the case wherein the same is: And as may be with least prejudice spared out of the same. AND the saids ESTATES findes and declares, That the saids Commissioners shall have no power, by vertue of this Commission, to alter, or meddle with any kirk, which was settled by vertue of the foresaid Commission, graunted in Anno 1617. yeares; Or to change the estate thereof in any wayes: Or yet to erect, build or provide any new kirke without the special and expresse consent of all parties, having Interesse, had, and obtained thereunto: Without whose consents, it shall not be lawful for the saids Commissioners, in any wayes, to touch the saids Kirks so provided: But the same are expressly excepted (Except in case of consent foresaid) out of this present Commission.

AND ALSO, Forasmuch as the saids ESTATES of Parliament, considering the particular Petitions and supplications after specified, given in to them by the persons under-written, to the effect following: to wit, a petition given in by Thomas Burnet of Lyes; Desiring a new Kirk to be erected, and builded, within the Parochine of Fetteresso, upon any part within the same Parochine, most ewest for the instruction of the Parochiners of Fetteresso, who dwell most remote from the present Kirk thereof. Item, a Supplication given in by the Gentlemen and Parochiners of the Parochine of Roisfnethe; Desiring that the Kirke of Roisfnethe, for the causes specified in their Supplication, founded upon the incommodious situation of the said Kirk, might be transported out of the Yle of Roisfnethe, where it presently standeth, to that part of the maine Land of the said Parochine, called the lands of Ardincomel, as place most convenient, and indifferent for the whole Parochiners to resort unto. Item, a Petition given in by John Earle of Wigton, Lord Fleeming, and Cumbernauld, and remanent Parochiners of the Parochine of Leinzie: craving licence to transport, found, build, and erect, the Kirk of the said Parochine of Leinzie, presently standing at the West end of the Parochine thereof; to any other part of the same Parochine, near the middle thereof, most convenient for the ease of the whole Parochiners: And being builded, to be declared to be the only Kirk of the said Parochine of Leinzie. Item, two Warrants given in under His HIGHNESS Hand, concerning the appointing and determining, which of the two Kirks of Larbaire and Donspace formerly united, should be the ordinary place of publick Divine Service of the saids two Parochines, As in the same two Patentees containing their own severall desires at more length is contained. Item, a Petition given in by the Parochiners of the Parochines of Kilbarrane, Kilmichael, and Kilcublane, united by the former Commission: and of the Parochines of Kilcoblakil, and Kilblane, also united by the same Commission: all lying within Kintyre: Desiring Libertie for building and erecting of a Kirk for serving of the first three Parochines, with another Kirk for serving of the two last Parochines, both united as said is. Item, a Supplication given in by John, Lord Hay of Zester, and the possessors of the Lands of Rodouno: Desiring, that the same Lands of Rodouno, with the Pertinents, should be declared to have been, and to be in time coming, a part of the Parochine of Lyns, as also craving, that it might be lawful to the said John, Lord Hay, of Zester, to build a Kirk upon the most commodious place of his lands of Rodouno, or Megette, for serving of the Inhabitants thereof, at such times as they should be impeded by storme of weather, from coming to the Kirk of Lyns. Item, a supplication given in to the saids ESTATES Desiring, that the dissolution of the fourty pound land of Buchanane, from the Kirk of Lusse, and union thereof, to the Kirk and Parochine of Iusbealzieoeche, done by the former Commission, might be now ratified: and the same fourty pound land, declared to remaine in time coming, as a part of the parochine of

AND OUR said Sovereigne LORD with advife and consent of the saids ESTATES, Declares, statutes, and Ordaines, that all Tackes, which shall bee decerned by the saids Commissioners, to bee given in recompense to any person whatsoever, for the causes above-written: and which shall be set for obedience, and conforme to the said Decreete, and sentence, whatsoever yeares, or long space the saids Tackes shall comprehend, shall be good, lawful, and sufficient securities, to the persons in whose favours the same are appointed to be given, and concealed. Neyther shall the same be any wayes prejudged, by the Act made in the Parliament holden in Anno 1617. By the which it is statuted, THAT no Arch-bishop, Bishop, or Prelate, should sette in Tacke any part of their Patrimonie, for longer space nor nineteene yeares: AND, That no inferiour beneficed persons shall sette in Tacke any part of their Benefice for longer space nor their owne life-times, and five yeares there-after, as the said statute proports: From the which statute the saids Tackes so appointed to bee set, and given in recompense, are, and shall be excepted, and reserved, and shall no wayes come under the compasse of the same Act and statute, nor of any thing therein contained. But the same shall remaine, and abide, valide, and sufficient rights, for the whole space and yeares appoynted therein, according to the Tennor thereof: notwithstanding of the said Act and Statute. And because it may fall fourth, That in the recompence to bee appoynted by the saids Commissioners, to the Patrones, Tackef-men, and Sub-Tackef-men, for the aforesaid burthen to bee imposed upon them, Moc yeares may bee assigned for prorogation of their present Tackes, nor may lawfully, or conveniently be set, by the present beneficed persons, to whom by Law the setting of Tacks of Teynds belongs.

FOR REMEED Thereof, OUR Sovereigne LORD, with advife and consent of the saids ESTATES, Declares, Statutes and Ordaines, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners foresaid, to appoynt as many yeares after the expyryng of the present Tackes, to the Tackef-men of the saids Kirkes, and Teyndes: Or to the Patrones or Sub-tackef-men (respective) for bruiking of the saids Teyndes, for recompense of the said Burthen, as they shall thinke reasonable: Which shall be as good, valide, and sufficient Rights, to the saids Patrones, Tackef-men, or Sub-tackef-men, (respective) and unto their Heires and Assignays, for bruiking, possessing, and disposing on the saids Teyndes, during the saids yeares of Prorogation: As if good, lawful, and valide Tackes and Rights of the saids Teyndes had beene sette, and made to them, by the Titulares of the Benefices, to whom the same belonged, With consent of all parties having Interesse. WITH expresse provision and declaration, That at the expyryng of all the saids yeares, the right of the saids Teyndes, and power to sette Tackes thereof, shall returne, and appertaine to the aforesaid Titulares of the foresaid Benefices, as they did before the making of this present Act. AND OUR said SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advife of the ESTATES, Declares, and Ordaines this present Commission to beginne upon the tenth day of Januarie, next-to-come: with continuation of dayes: and to last and endure, during the space of year and day thereafter. After the which time, the same shall cease and expire: And ordaines the Decreete, and Sentence of the saids Commissioners in all the particulars foresaid, and everie one of them, to have the strength, force, and authoritie of a Decreete, Sentence, and Act of Parliament. For obedience whereof, the Lordes of Session shall direct and grant Letters in forme as effectres, and according as shall be necessarie, Which Commission above-written, taking force, and full effect, in all the saids particulars therein contained, as the same are set downe, and comprehended therein, by pronounciation of decreete and sentence upon the same, conforme to the power therein comprehended, given unto the saids Commissioners.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with expresse consent, and assent of the ESTATES, in that case, findes, and declares, That no person, in whose favours the Teyndes of Kirkes, and Benefices, are erected: nor no other whatsoever, bruiking Teyndes, by vertue of rights lawfully made to them of the same, according to the Lawes of this Realme then standing, shall be ever farther altered, or quarreled in any of their saids rights in any time to come, further then shall be appoynted by the said decreet and sentence to follow upon this present Commission. But the saids rights and securities in-case foresaid, shall remaine in their owne strength, force, and effect, as good, lawful, and sufficient rights, and securities, unto them, and every one of them, for their owne parts, for bruiking and enjoying the saids Teyndes, conforme to the tennour of the saids rights, for now, and for ever.

ACT VI.

Anent Comprisings.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of Parliament, considering that his Majesties Lieges are greatly damnified, and prejudged, by the abuse and evil custome, which heretofore hath been observed in Comprisings: whereby Lordships, Baronies, and other great portions of Landes are comprised for small summes of money: and thereby the compriser hath right to the mailles, duties, and profits of the Landes: notwithstanding that they farre exceede the profite of that summe of money for the which the saids Landes are comprised. FOR remeede whereof, It is statuted and ordained, That the compriser shall have no further right to the mailles, fermes, and duties of the comprised landes, by vertue of of the comprising led at his instance, during the yeares and space that the same is redeemable, but onely to such part and quantitie thereof as will corresponde to the Annuel-rent of the summe, at ten for the hundredth, for the which comprising is led; with this provision alwayes, and expresse declaration, That if the mailes and duties of comprised landes exceede the proportion of the annuel rent of the foresaid summes, for the which the comprising is deduced, and that the compriser please to intromet therewith, and according hereunto, that he have intromission with the same, in that case his foresaid further intromission, which shall extend to any greater quantitie then will justly satisfie him of the foresaid Annuel-rent, shall be ascribed in payment and satisfaction of his principal summes, [protanto]

LIKE AS THE ESTATES findes and declares, That the same further intromission shall bee ascribed in that payment of the said principal summe: So that if it shall happen, that the quantitie of the mailes and duties to be intromitted with by the compriser, to extend unto as much as will satisfie the whole principal summes, with the ordinarie Annuel-rent thereof, according to ten for each hundredth, and the expenses bestowed by the Compriser, in passing, and obtaining Infetment of the Superiour, of whom the Landes are holden: together with the Annuel-rent of the saids summes, so given by the Compriser to the Superiour, for enting of him to the comprised lands, and the necessarie expenses and charges waired and bestowed by the said Compriser, in leading and deducing the said comprising, in that case, thereafter the comprising to expyre [ipso facto] and to cease in all times following.

AND IF that the person against whom comprising is led, be Minor, and of lesser age, IT IS staturd and ordained, That it shall be lawful to him at any time within his perfect age of twentie five yeares compleate, to redeeme the saids comprised landes, by payment of the summes, for the which the said comprising was led, and of the lawfull annuel-rentes thereof, according to ten for each hundredth; Together with the expenses bestowed in passing and obtaining of the Infetment from the Superiour, and ordinarie annuel-rent of the same: together also, with the necessarie expenses bestowed in leading and deducing of the said comprising, as is above-written. And that notwithstanding of the preceeding Lawes, and Practique of this Kingdome, by the which the Legal reversion of comprised Landes, expired within seven yeares after the leading of the comprising: From the which His Majestie and Estates hath, by this present Act and Statute, excepted Minors, in all times coming, declaring the same no-ways to run against them. BUT IT IS Declared, that if a Minor redeeme not Landes comprised, (the right of reversion whereof is competent in his person) within seven yeares after the leading of the said comprising, but according to the benefite granted unto him by this present Act, suffer the comprised Landes to remaine unredeemed, with the compriser, during all the yeares of his Minoritie, and lesse age: then, and in that case, the compriser shall have good right, to meddle, and intromet with the whole Mailes and Duties of the comprised Landes of all these yeares subsequent, after the expyring of the saids seven yeares, and intervening betwixt them, and the saids yeares of his Majoritie, and perfect age of twentie five yeares compleate: Notwithstanding that the duties of the landes extend to more then will answere to the annuel-rent of the money, for the which the land is comprised. And if it shall happen a Minor, having right to redeeme comprised landes, as said is, to decesse before he be of perfect age of twentie five yeares, and that another Minor bee Heire, or Succeede unto him in his right of reversion, and title, competent to him, for the redemption of the saids comprised landes: that Minor so succeeding in the rights, shall have the same libertie and privilege above-written, for redemption of the saids landes, sicklike, and in the same manner, as if they had been comprised from himselfe, wherein he shall nowayes be prejudged by the yeares which ran after the comprising, in the life-time of that person Minor in whose right he succeedeth, but that he may sicklike lawfully redeeme the same at any time before his Majoritie, as said is.

AND IT IS Declared, That in case any Minor, having the right of the said reversion competent unto him, shall happen to decesse after the expyring of seven yeares out-run, after the said comprising, and that a person of perfect yeares succeed to the said Minor, in the right of his reversion aforesaid: in that case the said person Major so succeeding, shall be holden and astricted to redeeme the saids comprised Landes, within the space of year and day after the decesse of the said Minor, in whose right he succeedeth. Otherwayes, the said Redemption nor being used by him within that space, he shall bee perpetually secluded from all benefite, which hee may claime by the reversion and succession thereunto aforesaid, and all power of Redemption of the saids Landes, by vertue thereof. But if at the time of the Minors decesse, all the saids seven yeares were not expyred, It shall be lawfull for his said successor (being Major) to redeeme, within the space of so many of the saids seven yeares, as were not out-run the time of the Minors decesse: such like as if the saids Landes had been comprised from the said Minor himselfe. Which time being expyred, and hee doing no diligence, hee shall bee excluded from the benefite of his reversion.

AND IT IS specially provided, That in all the above-written cases; if the comprised Landes bee not worth such yearly quantitie of Maile and Dutie, as will proportionally effeire to the Annuel-rent of the said Money, at ten for every hundredth, for the which comprising is led: or being worth that the same is exhausted by other lawfull deeds: which may render the same unprofitable to the compriser, and unanswerable to the Annuel-rent of the summes, for the which he hath comprised, either in whole, or in part: then, and in that case, the redeemer (whether he be Major, or Minor) shall be holden, before hee can receive, and in that case, the redeemer (whether he be Major, or Minor) shall be holden, before hee can receive, the full Annuel-rent rent and profite of the fummes, for the which the landes were comprised, so farre as he wanteth, and lacketh, by the benefite of his said comprising. And if the rent of the Land so comprised, consist in victual, The estimation and consideration thereof, shall be had according to the common prices of victual in those Shyres where the comprised landes lye: according as the same giveth betuixt Zuile and Candlemesse. AND the saids ESTATES Declares, That this above-written Statute shall no-ways extend, nor be prejudicial to comprisings, which are already prescribed before the date of this present Act.

ACT VII.

Anent Adjudications.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, AND ESTATES of PARLIAMENT, Considering the great prejudice sustained by diverse and sundry Creditours, by decease of their Debtors: who being prevented by the diligence of their Concreditors, by obtaining of Sentences of Adjudication of their defunct Debtors, Landes, and Estate, in respect of the refusal of the nearest of Kin, to enter Heires to them, are excluded from participation of any part of the landes and goods pertaining to their saids defunct debtors: they being common debtors to the saids whole Creditors, contrarie to all equitie and reason. FOR REMEED wherof, It is Statute, and Ordained, THAT All Adjudications to be obtained by any person at any time hereafter, of any of their defunct debtors landes, and Estate whatsoever, with all rights and Infeimments following there-upon, shall be redeemable from the partie obtainer of the saids Sentences of Adjudication, their heires and assignays, at any time after the pronouncing of the same, AT the instance of any Concreditor of the said defunct debtor, or of any Creditor of the said person, who renounceth, To be Heire to his predecessors, who shall happen thereafter to obtaine decreet of Adjudication, against the appearing Heire of the defunct debtor: And that within the space of seven yeares, next and immediately following the obtaining of the saids Sentences of Adjudication, by payment of the fummes of money specified in the saids Sentences: Together with the Annuel-rent of the same fummes, according to ten for each hundred thereof, during the time of the not-redemption of the same: and of the expenses sustained by them in obtaining of the saids Sentences, to be taxed, and modified, by the Lords of Council and Session. By payment of the which fummes, the said Concreditor shall come in the place and right of the partie from whom he redeemeth: And shall bruike the same by vertue thereof, perpetually thereafter: Except it shall happen another Concreditor, who shall obtaine the like sentence of Adjudication to redeeme the same from him, within the space above-written. In the which case, it is declared, That the partie redeemer, in the second, third, or fourth rowme, and so forth, so long as there are any Concreditors, shall be obliged not only to pay the fummes contained in the adjudication, obtained at the instance of the partie from whom he redeemeth: But also the whole fummes, which were paid by him unto the former Concreditors, for redemption of their Adjudication, with the annuel-rent, and expenses in manner above-specified.

IT IS alwayes Declared, That if the partie from whom the saids Adjudications shall be redeemed, did up-lift the Femmes, and duties of the landes and others, contained in the Adjudications: That then, and in that case, the partie redeemer shall not be holden to pay any annuel-rentes, or expenses: but in so farre as the same annuel-rentes, and expenses, exceede, and are more, than the Mailes, Femmes, and duties, intromitted with by the partie from whom the same is redeemed. AND if the saids Mailes, Femmes, and Duties, exceede both the annuel-rent and expenses, IT IS Declared, That the super-plus shall be allowed in the principal summe, by the sight of the Lords of Council; Consideration being had of the pryses of the Femmes, and Victual, as the same were commonly sold betuixt Zuile and Candlemesse, in the Sheriffdome where the lands lye. IT IS alwayes declared, That these presents shall no-ways be extended to Decretes, and Sentences of Adjudication already recovered.

AND sicklike, it is Declared, That in-case any Minor, who hath renounced in his Minoritie, be reponed [in integrum] against the same renunciation: That then, and in that case, he shall have place to redeeme from the whole Creditours, by payment of the saids whole fummes owing unto them, and where-upon they obtayned Adjudication in manner, and with the provisions above-specified. And all the rest of the Priviledges granted to Minors, in Comprisings, to be likewise granted in Adjudications: which are here holden as repaired.

ACT VIII.

Anent the Extracts of Infeimments, past upon Comprisings, fourth of the Privie Seale: where the same are not registered at the Great Seale.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of this present Parliament, Understanding that sundrie His Majesties Lieges, who for great fummes have comprised their debtors landes, are hecavily prejudged, through the fraudul abstracting, or destroying of the Writtes, Infeimments, or Confirmations of the saids comprised Landes: the saids Writtes, Infeimments, and Confirmations, not being registtated registrated in the Register of the Great Seale. HEREFOR E, whereas any Creditour hath comprised lands holden of His Majestie, and cannot recover fourth of the persons hands, from whom the same are comprised, the KINGES right, and confirmation of the same Infestment, given unto them thereof, Lest the negligence of the partie, not registrating the Infestment, or Confirmation, after the passing thereof at the Great Seale: Secunded with the subseque[n]t fraude, in abstracting and destroying the principal Right and Confirmation, should unjustly in damage the true Creditor, and Compriser: His MAJESTIE, with advice and consent of the saids ESTATES, willes, and declares, That if the saids Infestments, and Confirmations of the saids persons, from whom the saids lands are comprised, have past the Privie Seale, and be registrated in the Register thereof: That notwithstanding the want of the Infestment and confirmation under the Great Seale, or the Extract thereof: the Extract of the said Infestment, or Confirmation, fourth of the Register of the Privie Seale: The same thereafter being past the Great Seale, at any time shall be a sufficient right to the Compriser, whereby to possesse and enjoy the landes comprised: conforme to the Lawes made anent Comprisings: as freely in all respectes, as if the saids Infestments and Confirmations were extant, and registrated in the Register of the Great Seale. Providing alwayes, That this present Act shall no wayes hurt nor prejudice any third person, who hath Infestment or Confirmation of the saids comprised lands, past the Great Seale; of an antieour date to the said Infestment, so past the Great Seale, in manner aforesaid: but shall be onely of force and effect against that person, from whom the landes are comprised, his Heires, and Successours.

ACT IX.

Anent giving of Licence to Bishops to set their Warde Lands in Few-Ferme.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of Parliament, understanding, That a good number of Kirk-landes, pertaining unto Bishopricks, and their Chaptours, are disposed of older to be holden by Service of Warde, and Reliefe; Which forme of holding yeeldes no present nor constant rent and commoditie: but is onely a casualty which vaketh not often: and when it vaketh, is gifted and disposed by the present Titulars, to their owne particular use, without any benefite to rheir Successours. WHEREAS, if the saids Kirk-Landes were sette in Few-Ferme for a competent yearly Duerie, the same would not onely augment, and meliorate the Estate of the Benefice; but also diminish the occasion of applying of Kirk-rentes to particular uses. AND HIS MAJESTIE, out of his Royal care, and Princely disposition, intending the preservation of the Estate of the saids Bishopricks, and their Chaptours: and therefore being most earnest to avoide and remove this evil: HIS MAJESTIE, and ESTATES, statutes and Ordaines, That it shall be lawful for all Bishoppes, and Members of Chaptours, who have Landes holden of them by Service of Warde and Reliefe, to set the same in Few-Ferme, for payment of a competent Few-Ferme dutie, and doubling the same at the entry of the Heire: Providing that the said Few-Ferme dutie be answerable to the retoured dutie of the landes: And where the landes have not been retoured, that the retoure be ruled according to the custome of retoures of landes in the countrey of the like valour, where the saids landes lye: And declares, That this present Statute shall remaine in full force and effect, for the space of three yeares after the date hereof onely, and no longer, while farther order be taken thereanent.

ACT X.

Declaring summes Grafs, given to the Ministers, for their Gleybes to be Teynd-free.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of this present Parliament, considering in the fifth Parliament holden by his MAJESTIE, upon the twentie five day of Julie, in Anno one thousand, five hundredth, threescore, and eighteenth yeares: Chap. 62. His Highness with advice and consent of the ESTATES, Found, and declared, That the Ministers and Readers ought and should pay no Teynd for their Gleybes, and Kirke-landes, extending to foure Ackers of Land, designed unto them conforme to the Act of Parliament: But decerned and declared them to bee free of their saids Teyndes, and discharged them [Simpliciter] thereof in all time coming. LIKE AS in the Parliament holden at Perth, the ninth of Julie, in Anno one thousand six hundredth, and six yeares, Chap. 7. It is Ordained, That there shall be designed to the Ministers serving the cure at Kirkes, where there is no arable land adjacent there-unto, the number of four Summes Grafs for every Acker, of four Ackers of Gleybe, extending to sixteen summes Grafs, for the foure Ackers of Land, and that of the most commodious and best pasturage of any Kirk-landes, lying next adjacent, and most ewest to the Kirk: And ordained letters to be directed, for removing the possessours there-from: in sicklike forme as against the possessours of Manfs and Gleybes. And in respect that the Ministers Gleybes are Teynd-free, and that by consequence the summes Grafs above-mentioned, designed in steade thereof, where no arable land is adjacent unto Kirkes, ought likewise of all equitie and reason to be Teynd-free, in respect the same is dedicated and appointed ad

HERE

HEREFORE, Our said Sovereigne LORD, with advice and consent of the whole Estates of this present Parliament, by the tennour hereof, declares, That the Ministers and Readers ought, and should pay no Teynd for their fumes Grafs, designed unto them in place of their Gleybes, where no arable landes are adjacent to Kirkes. And decernes and declares them to be free of their Teynds, and discharges them [Simpliciter] of all payment thereof, in all time comming.

ACT XI.

Ratification and addition, to the Act of Parliament made anent Restitution of Chaptours.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of this present Parliament, ratifies, and approves the Act of Parliament made in the moneth of Junij, in the yeare of GOD one thousande, fixe hundredth, seaventeen yeares, anent restitution of Chaptours of Cathedral Kirkes, in all the Heads, Clauses, Exceptions, Limitations, and restrictions thereof. And further, Ordaines, and declares, That all Deeds, done since the date of the said Act, or to be done hereafter, whereby any member of any Cathedral Kirke, being an Office or dignitie, hath or shall be suppressed, or any Land Parsonage, Vicarage, or other Living, belonging to the said dignitie dissolved from the same, without ane expresse warrand from his Majestic, and consent of Parliament, are, and shall bee, with all that have followed, or shall follow thereupon, Null, and of no force, nor effect: and shall be so founde in all time hereafter, by way of Action, exception, or replye. Providing alwayes the Marquesse of HAMILTON His right to the Parsonage of Hamilton and Dalserffe: the Earle of MARRE His right to the Parsonage of Carnwoth: and any other Parson having lawful rights conforme to the Lawes of the countrey, before the Act of Parliament, in Anno one thousand, fixe hundredth, and seaventeene yeares, be no wayes hurt, or prejudged herein.

ACT XII.

Anent Packing, and Peyling.

FOR AS MUCH As by divers Actes of Parliament it is statuted and ordained, That no person use Packing nor Peyling of Wool, Hydes, nor Skinnies, losse nor layd out with Free Burrowes, and Priviledges of the same: Notwithstanding whereof, divers strangers, and other Inhabitantes, within this Realme, doe continually resort to the Yles, and other places thereabout, with their Shippes, Barks, and Crears, and other Vessels: and doe not only packe and peyle Skinnies and Hydes; but also do transport from thence Butter, Tallone, and other forbidden Goods, to the great contempt of the saids Lawes, and manifest defraud of Our Sovereigne Lord his customes.

For remeed whereof, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advice and consent of the ESTATES of this present Parliament, statutes, and ordaines, that no strangers, nor Inhabitantes within this Realme, take upon hand to packe or peyle any Hydes or Skins in the saids places of the Yles, out-with the Free-Burrowes: nor that they transport, take away, or carrie forth of this Cuntrey, any Butter, Talone, or other forbidden Goods, under the paine of tinsel and confiscation of the Hydes and Skinnies so packed and peyled by them: and oft tinsel and confiscation of the shippe and whole goods that the owner of the saids forbidden goods hath within the same. AND ORDAINES The Shircffes of the Shires and their Deputies and Over-Lotdes of the Landes where the saids Skinnies and Hydes are packed, and peyled, or from whence the saids forbidden goods are transported, To put this present Act to execution, as they will answere to his Majestic, upon their Office and Obedience.

ACT XIII.

Anent the discharging of protections.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of Parliament, Understanding that there may fundrie protections bee sought by Banckruptes and others, who are addebted in great summes of money: whereby the execution due unto the Creditor, by the Lawes of the countrey, against the Debtor, may be frustrate, To the great Damage of the Creditour. FOR REMEEDE Whereof, IT IS Statuted, and Ordained, That hereafter the Lords of Session shall grant no protection from any Execution due and competent against any man of the Law. AND Declares, That if any shall be hereafter granted, the granter of the same shall be subject and lyable of the Law to the Creditor for the summe, from the which he hath granted protection.

ACT. XIII.

Auent playing at Cardes and Dyce, and Horfe-races.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And ESTATES of Parliament Considering the manifold evils, and inconveniencies, which ensue upon Carding and Dycing, and Horfe-races, which are now over-much frequented in this Country, to the great prejudice of the Lieges. And because honest men ought not to expect that any winning had at any of the Games above-written, can do them good, or prosper: HAVE therefore, statuted and ordained, That no man shall play at Cards nor Dyce in any common-house, Town, Hostellie, or Cookes houses, under the pain of forty pounds, money of this Realme; to be exacted of the keeper of the saids Inns, or common houses, for the first fault: and losse of their liberties for the next. Moreover, That it shall not be lawful to play in any other private mans house, but where the Master of the Family playeth himself. And if it shall happen any man to winne any summes of money, at Carding or Dycing, attour the summe of an hundredth Merks, within the space of twenty four houres: or to gaine at Wagers upon Horfe-races, any summe attour the said summe of an hundredth Merks; The super-plus shall be confiscated within twenty four houres thereafter, in the hands of the Thesaurer of the Kirk, if it be in Edinburgh: Or in the hands of such of the Kirk Session in the Countrey Parochines, as Collects and distributes money for the poor of the same; To be employed alwayes upon the poor of the Paroche, where such winning shall happen to fall out. And to the effect, that either excessie in play may be thus restrained: Or at the least, excessive winning may be employed as said is. OUR Sovereign Lord, by Act of his Supream Court of Parliament, Gives full power, and Commission, to the Bailies and Magistrates of Burrowes, the Sheriffs and Justices of Peace, in the Country, to pursue, and conveen all such persons, for all winning at Cardes, Dyce, and Horfe races, which shall happen to be made by any person, by and attour the said summe of an hundredth Merks, money aforesaid. And in case the Magistrate informed thereof refuse to pursue for the same, The party informer shall have action against the said Magistrate, for double the like summe: The one half whereof to be given to the poor, and the other halfe to the party informer.

ACT. XV.

Act declaring all Tacks set for longer space nor three years, without consent of the Patron, being persons under the degree of Prelates, since 1594. to be Null.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of this present Parliament, Understanding, That diverse beneficed persons, under the degree of Prelates, have taken occasion upon an Act made in our late Parliament, holden at Edinburgh, the twenty eight day of Junii, one thousand, six hundredth and seventeen years, Intituled, Auent the setting of Tacks by Prelates, and other beneficed persons: To sette Tacks and Affedations of Lands and Teynds of their saids Benefices, or some partes and portions thereof, unto diverse and sundry persons, for the said beneficed person his life time, and for the space of five years after his decease: without consent of the Patrone. Albeit the said Act of Parliament giveth no such liberty to any beneficed persons, under the degree of a Prelate, to sette such Tacks. But only declareth, for what spaces a Bishop or other Prelate may sette: and for what spaces a beneficed man, under the degree of a Prelate, may set. Which was done by the ESTATES, to restrict the unbounded libertie used in setting of Tacks for many life-rents, and nineteen years. And the said declaration no wayes taketh away the lawful solemnities, required to the setting of the said Tacks, either by consent of the Chapter, or Patrone. Which still remaineth in the own force, underogate. Otherwayes, it should be lawful for a Prelate, to set Tacks for nintene years, without consent of the Chaptour; which is altogether absurd.

And seeing by an expresse Act, made in our Sovereign Lords fourteenth Parliament, holden at Edinburgh, the eight day of Junii, 1594. IT IS found, and declared, That no beneficed man, under a Prelate, within this Realme, may in time thereafter, set longer Tacks of Teynds, or other pertinents of their Benefice, without consent of their Patrones, but for the space of three yeares only. Which Act standeth in full force, strength, and effect: and is no wayes annulled. nor taken away, by the said posterioir Act above specified.

THEREFORE, His Majestie and Estates foresaids, for eschewing of all controversie that may arise upon the said last Act, Declares, That the said last Act makes no derogation unto the said first Act: And that all Tackes sette by beneficed persons, under the degree of Prelates, since the said eight day of Junii, 1594. of any part of their saids benefices, longer then for the said space of three years, without consent of their patrones, are null, and of none avails, conforme unto the said first Act above specified.

ACT XVI.

Anent Mettes and Measures.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of Parliament, considering, that by the Act of Parliament holden in Junij, 1617. there was a Commission granted unto certaine persones therein nominare, for appoynting and establishing a constant Mette and Measure, for buying and selling of victual within this Realme. Which Commissioners gave out their sentence and determination, declaring the Measure and Furlot of Linlithgow, to be the just and only Furlot, which should be used by all his Majesties Lieges, in buying and selling of victual. Notwithstanding whereof, there are many and great abuses committed in this Kingdome, contrarie to the said Act and determination of the saids Commissioners: To the prejudice of His Majesties Lieges.

FOR REMED whereof, His Majestie, and Estates forsaids, have ratified, approved: and by the tenor hercof, ratifies, approves, and confirms, the Act and Statute [respective] above-written, in the whole Heads and conditions of the same: after the forme and tennour thereof. And commands and charges, all his Majesties Lieges, and subjectes, To acknowledge, imbrace, obey, and observe the same Act and Statute; [respective] in the whole heads and conditions of the same, in forme and manner specially and particularly mentioned and set downe there-inntil, after the formes and tenours thereof, under all highest paine, charge, and offence, which they may incurre, through their disobedience, and as they will be answerable thereanent.

ACT XVII.

Anent the discharging of a Peck to the Bow.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of Parliament, understanding of the fraude and frequent abuse, committed by many of His Majesties subjects, buyers and blockers of victual; who knowing that there are constant and setled measures, lawfully established, by the Lawes and statutes of this Kingdome: by the which all sortes of victual universally ought to be bought and sold, according to the quantitie appointed by the saids metts, without adding of any quantitie to the same, or diminishing therefrom. Yet not thelesse, when they make their bargaines and conditions anent the buying of any particular quantitie of victual, they by their undirect dealing, many times cause the Seller agree to super-adde, and deliver unto them, by and attour the true quantitie which is bought and sold at the prices conveened upon, some certaine farder quantitie of Victual, lesse or more, as they may best move the seller to condescend to, and for the which they are not subject in payment of any price, to the great prejudice of the Lieges, and the manifest abuse and elusion of the Law.

FOR REMED Whereof, It is statuted and ordained, That it shall not be lawful for any of his Majesties subjects, to blocke, or agree upon the price of Victual, more or lesse, except they first agree and condescend upon the price of the first boll of the bargain: which being so agreed upon, the said price shall rule the whole quantitie of the rest of the bolles to be received by the buyer, who shall have no eik, or addition of any further quantitie, except upon the payment of that same price, as is conditioned for the said first boll: And if any person contraven this present Act, hec shall pay the summe of Fourtie shillings for everie boll of Victual, received by him contrarie to the tennour of this Act: and that by and beside the prices of the Victual, the halfe of the said summe to his Majestie and his Thesaurer, and the other halfe thereof to the partie delator of the same.

ACT XVIII.

A Ratification of the Act of the Lords of Council and Session, made in Julie 1620. against unlawful Dispositions and Alienations, made by Dyvours and Banckrupts.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice and consent of the ESTATES, conveened in this present Parliament, ratifies, approves, and for his Highnesse, and his Successours, perpetually confirms the Act of the Lords of Council and Session, made against Dyvours and Banckrupts, at Edinburgh, the 12. daye of Julie, 1620. and ordaines the same to have, and take full effect, and execution, as a necessarie and profitable Law, for the weale of all his Highnesse Subjectes: Of the which Act the tenor followeth.

THE LORDS Of Council and Session understanding, by the grievous and just complaints of many of his Majesties good subjects, that the fraude, malice, and fallhood of a number of Dyvours and bankrupts, is become so frequent, and avowed, and hath already taken such progresse, to the overthrow throw of many honest mens fortunes, and estates; that it is likely to dissolve trust, commerce, and faithful dealing amongst Subjects: Whereupon must ensue the ruine of the whole Estate, if the godlesse deceites of those be not prevented, and remedied; who by their apparent Wealth in Lands and goods, and by their shewe of Conscience, Credite, and Honesty; drawing into their hands upon trust the Money, Merchandize, and Goods, of well-meaning and credulous persons, doeno wayes intend to repay the same: but either to live ryetously by wasting other mens substance: or to enrich themselves, by that subtil stealth of true mens goods, and to withdraw themselves, and their goods forth of this Realme, to elude all execution of Justice: And to that effect, and in manifest defraud of their Creditors, do make simulate and fraudulent alienations, dispositions, and other securities, of their Lands, Reversions, Teyndes, Goods, Actions, Debtes, and others belonging unto them, to their Wives, Children, Kind-men, Alieyes, and other confident and interposed persons; without any true, lawful, or necessarie cause: and without any just or true price intervening in their saids bargaines: Whereby their just Creditors, and Cautioners, are falsly and godlesly defrauded of all payment of their just Debts; and many honest Families likely to come to utter ruine.

FOR remeedy whereof, the saids LORDES, according to the power given unto them by His Majestie and His most Noble Progenitors, to set downe orders for administration of Justice: meaning to follow and practise the good and commendable Lawes, Civil and Canon, made against fraudulent alienations, in prejudice of Creditors, and against the authors and partakers of such fraude; Statutes, ordaines, and declares, That in all actions, and causes depending, or to be intended by any true creditor, for recovery of his just debt, or satisfaction of his lawful action and right: They will decreee and decerne, all alienations, dispositions, assignations, and translations whatsoever, made by the debtor, of any of his lands, teindes; reversions, actions, debtes, or goods whatsoever, to any conjunct or confident person, without true, just, and necessarie causes, and without a just price really payed, the same being done after the contracting of lawful debts from true creditors: To have bene from the beginning, and to be in all times coming, Null, and of none avails, force, nor effect: at the instance of the true and just creditor, by way of action, exception, or reply: without further declaration. And in case any of His Majesties good subjectes (no wayes partakers of the saids fraudes) have lawfully purchased any of the saids Bankrupts landes or goods, by true bargaines, for just and competent prices, or in satisfaction of their lawful debts, from the interposed persons, trusted by the saids dyvours. In that case, the right lawfully acquired by him who is no-wayes partaker of the fraude, shall not be annulled in manner foresaid. But the receiver of the pryce of the saids lands, goods and others, from the buyer, shall be holden and obliged to make the same forth-comming to the behoove of the bankruptes trew creditors, in payment of their lawful debts. And it shall be sufficient probacion of the fraud intended against the creditors, if they, or any of them, shall be able to verifie by writte, or by oath, of the partie receiver of any securitie from the dyvour or bankrupt, that the same was made without any true, just, and necessarie cause, or without any true and competent price: Or that the landes and goods of the dyvour and bankrupt being sold by him who bought them from the said dyvour, the whole, or the most part of the price thereof was converted, or to be converted to the bankruptes profite and use. Providing alwayes, that so much of the saids landes and goods, or prices thereof so trusted by bankrupts to interposed persons, as hath bene really payed, or assigned by them to any of the bankrupts lawful creditors, shall be allowed unto them, they making the rest forth-comming to the remanent creditors, who want their due payments. And if in time coming any of the saids dyvours, or their interposed partakers of their fraude, shall make any voluntarie payment or right to any person, in defraude of the lawful, and more timely diligence of another creditor, having served Inhibition, or used horning, arrestment, comprizing, or other lawful meane, duly to affect the dyvours lands, or goods, or price thereof to his behoove. In that case the said dyvour, or interposed person, shall be holden to make the same forth-comming to the creditor, having used his first lawful diligence: who shall likewise bee preferred to the concreditor, who being posterior unto him in diligence, hath obtained payment by the partial favour of the debtor, or of his interposed confident: and shall have good action to recover from the said creditor that which was voluntarily payed in defraude of the persuers diligence.

Finally, THE LORDES declares all such bankrupts, and dyvours, and all interposed persons, for covering or executing their frauds, and all others, who shall give counsell, and wilful assistance unto the saids bankrupts, in the devising and practising of their saids fraudes and godlesse deceits, to the prejudice of their true creditors, shall be reputed and holden dishonest, false, and infamous persons, incapable of all honours, dignities, benefices, and offices: Or to passe upon inquestes, or Assyses: Or to beare witnesse in Judgement, or out-wit in any times coming.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD With Advice and Consent of the ESTATES of Parliament, Having considered the Act and Ordinance of Secret Council, made anent pryces, set down to be taken by all Writers, Clerkes, Keepers of Seales, and others, particularly expressed in the said Act. Which is of the date at Edinburgh, the fourth day of Februarie, one thousand six hundredth, and six yeares, Hath ratified and confirmed the same, in every poynt and Article thereof. Which all and sundry the premises, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent foresaid, ratifieth, and approveth, in all poyntes, in manner as the same proportes: and gives unto them the strength of Lawes, and Actes of Parliament: and ordaines execution to passe upon the same as effieires. Of the which the tennor hereafter followeth.

Apud EDINBURGH, quarto die mensis Februarij, 1606.

THE LORDES of Secret Council and Session, considering the great extortion used by the Writers and Clerkes of all Judicatories within this Realme, in extorting from the subjectes of the Countrey, such unreasonable and exorbitant pryces, for their Writtes, as ought not to be suffered in a well-governed Common-wealth: Procuring thereby not onely private grudges, but publicke exclamations, against the with-gate and libertie granted unto such shameful scaffoldie and extortion, highlie to his Majesties offence, and contempt, hurt and prejudice of His Majesties good subjectes, and to the reproach and slander of the Judges, under whose Office and Judicatories the saids Clerkes and Writers serve.

FOR Remed whereof in times comming, The Lordes of Secret Council and Session, have set down the prices of all Letters, Actes, Insestments, and Writtes, proper unto whatsoever Clerkship within this Realme: together with the prices of the Signet, Privie and Great Seales. Whereby the subjectes of the Countrey may know, and understand, what prices they ought to give for everie Letter, Writte, Extract, and seale hereafter: and be no wayes subject to the indiscretion of the Writers, and Keepers of the Seales. Which prices now set down, by the saids Lordes, for the ease, benefite, and reliefe of the subjectes of the Countrey, The saids Lordes ordaines, and commandes, all, and sundrie Writers, and Clerkes, and the Keepers of the seales: everie one in their own severall Charge and Office. To observe and keepe, and in no wayes to exceede the saids prices, upon what soever colour or pretence: under the paine of Deprivation of the contraveener from the Office, and seale, which hee possesseth. And ordaines, and commandes, the saids Clerkes, and Writers, To write all their Letters, Actes, Writs, Registers, and such other things as passe thorow their Office and bandes, compactlie: and in no wayes to abuse the People with disperse writing: under the paine to be censured and punished, as abusers of His Majesties subjectes, and as contraveeners of the saids Lordes Ordinance, now set down anent the saids prices. Commanding and charging also all and sundrie Clerkes and Writers, bearing publick Function and Charge within this Kingdome, That they, & every one of them, within the space of a Moneth after the date hereof, have the just and authenticke double of this Act, and of the pryces following thereupon, affixed in some publick and patent place of their Buith, and chamber where they write: where thorow all his Majesties subjectes having adoe with them, may have inspection of the same: and accordingly, know what to pay. And that the saids Writers, and Clerkes, shall write upon the backs of all Writs to bee given out by them, the just and ordinarie price which they receive from the party for their pains: and subscribe the same with their bands, under the said paine of deprivation of the contraveener.

A C T XX.

Act, ordaining Annual-rent to be due after Horning.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of Parliament, considering the great prejudice which diverse of His Majesties Lieges sustaine by the want of their money, lent and given forth upon Band, or Contract, or otherwise justlie owing unto them, by their Debtors: who having used all Execution competent to them by Lawe, against their debtors, by charging, and putting of them to Horne: are forced, after many yeares, to receive their principal summe and penaltie, without any satisfaction of their annuel-rent, and interest of their money in the meane time. Which as it is a prejudice unto the true Creditors; so it is ane occasion to the debtors to contemne His Majesties charges, and Letters of Horning: who resolve in end to pay no more for reliefe of the Horning, after many yeares delay, then they were obliged unto at the beginning.

FOR remeedy whereof, His Majestie, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, statuterh and ordaineth, That whensoever any person is denounced Rebel, and put to the Horne, for not payment of summes of money, owing by him, by band, contract, or otherwayes: That after the said denunciation, the said person so denounced, shall be subject in payment of Annuel-rent for the saids summes for the which he is put to the Horne, and that of all yeares and tearmes from the date of the said denunciation, unto the time of payment of the same: and that notwithstanding there be no paction, nor condition of Annuel-rent made betwixt the saids parties, which may binde the said partie who is denounced rebel, unto the payment thereof. And such persons as are now standing rebels, and at the Horne, This Act shall not worke against them, (quoad preterita,) But shall have strength and force against them in time comming, from the Feast of Martinmesse next in this instant yeare of GOD, one thousand, sixe hundred, twentie and one yeares: and they shall begin to be subject in payment of annuel-rent at that time, and yearly and yearly thereafter, until the payment of the principal summe.

A C T XXI.

Anent Servants, going lowse, and leaving their Masters service.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And ESTATES of Parliament, understanding the great straytes and necessities, whereunto poore Labourers of the Ground are driven, and contrayned; Especially by the fraud and malice of Servants, who either refuse to be hyred, without great and extraordinary Wages promised unto them: Or otherwise hyre themselves only from Martinmesse to Whitsonday:

after the which Teatme of Whitfonday, they cast themselves lowfe, of purpose and intention, to make their gaine and advantage by the extraordinary workes which befall in that season, berwixt Whitfonday and Martinmesse: such as casting and winning of Peats, Turfs, Fewel, Divors, building of fold dykes, shearing in the harvest. For doing whereof, they know the saids Husband-men, who have necessarily adoe therewith, will be forced to hire them at daily and weekly wages, and such high rate as they please, to the great harme of the Labourers of the Ground, and all his Majesties subjects.

FOR remeede whereof it is statuted, and ordained, That it shall not be lawful for any hired servant, from Martinmesse to Whitfonday, to leave his Maister at the said teatme of Whitfonday, and to runne lowfe from that service: Except he be able to verifie to the Justice of Peace, or Constable of the bounds, that he is hyred unto another Master, from the said Feast of Whitfonday to Martinmesse thereafter. And if it be found, that he is not hyred to another Master: Then, and in that case, it is declared, That it shall be lawful unto his present Master to keep, and detain him, from the said Feast of Whitfonday unto Martinmesse, for payment to him of such Wages as he payed to him of before. And if he refuse to serve, that the Justice of Peace shall have power to compel him thereunto. And if the said servant of the quality foresaid, break lowfe from his Master, It shall be lawful for his master to take and apprehend him, wheresoever he findeth him, and present him unto the Constable, or Justice of Peace, upon the ground where he shall be found; who shall have power to compell the Servant to return unto his former Master, if it be found that he be Masterless, and none otherwayes.

AND such like, His Majesty, and Estates, findes, and declares, That it shall be lawful unto all his Majesties Lieges, who have necessarilie adoe with Labour, to take, apprehend, and imploy, in their Works, whatsoever lowfe and Masterlesse Men and Women, whom they shall find within their own Bounds. And suchlike, that the Justices of peace, and Constable, shall have power, at the instance and desire of whatsoever person His Majesties Lieges, to force, and compell all, and whatsoever lowfe Men and Women, to serve for competent hyre and Wages.

A C T. XXII.

Awent Counterfeiting, and making of false Writtes.

FOR Eschewing the danger wherein many of his Majesties Lieges stand, by counterfeiting and falsifying of Evidents: IT IS statuted and Ordained, That whosoever maketh and useth a false Writ, or is accessory to the making thereof, shall be punished with the paines due unto committers of False-hood. AND it shall not be lawful for any person counterfeiter, falsifier, or accessory whatsoever, to declare in judgement, that he passeth from the Writ, quarrelled of False-hood. But if after the tryal, the Writ quarrelled be found false, the passing from, or declaration of the patty, that he will not use the same, shall no wayes free him from the punishment which is due unto those who commit False-hood.

A C T. XXIII.

A general pardon for deedes done against penal statutes, (some few excepted) and a discharge of James Cranston his Commission.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of this present Parliament, considering the complaint made by the Barrons, Sheriffs, Stewards, Bailies, and other Free holders within this Kingdom, concerning the danger which all our Sovereigne Lords Lieges do daily underly, for having transgressed penal Statutes, which have a Pecunial, or arbitrary paine adjected thereunto: And the great hurt and prejudice sustained, by granting Commissions unto private persons, for execution of the same statutes, which have been used amongst the common people, at sundry times, with intollerable rigour, and execution, of before: HAVE discharged, freely pardoned, and remitted: DISCHARGES, freely pardons and remits, all contraveeners of any of the saids penal statutes, for all deedes done by them contrary to the tenor of the same statutes, in times by-gone. Except only the statutes concerning wearing and bearing of Hagbutts and Pistols: Taking of unlawful Usury: Transporting of Money and Gold: and slaying of red and black Fish: Which are no wayes discharged by this present Statute, not comprehended hereintill.

AS ALSO, Our said Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of the saids Estates, Statutes, and declares, That hereafter Commission for putting of penal Statutes to execution, shall only be granted to honest men, of good quality: who shall be sufficiently authorized by the Lords of the Secret Council, for discharging of their Office. And absolutely discharges in time coming, James Cranston, his Deputies, or Officers, to call, or convene any person or persons, for slaying of red or black Fish. And from henceforth declares, The power of his Commission granted unto him for that effect, to be quite extinguished and abolished.

A C T. XXIV.

Ament Evidents past the great Seal, which are not Registrated.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of Parliament, understanding, That there are sundry Infestments, and other Writtes, Which passe his Highnesse Great Scale, That in time by gone, after the expeding thereof, and appending of the Scale thereunto: Have, through the oversight, and negligence of the Receivers thereof, in the nor returning of the same to the Director of His Highnesse Chancellery, and his Deputies, Been omitted, to be registrated in their Books and Registers appointed for that effect. And considering, that the not registration of the same Infestments and Writs, rendeth to the great hurt and prejudice of the persons unto whom the same are granted, and pertaine.

THEREFORE, Our said Sovereign Lord, and Estates of Parliament, for remed hereof, statutes and Ordains, THAT in time coming, when any Infestment, or other Writ, or Evident, which passeth his Highnesse Great Scale, shall be formed and written by the Director of his Highnesse Chancellery, or his Deputies. The same after the writing thereof, shall be delivered by them unto the party, In-giver of the said Infestments, or others Writtes foresaids: To the effect he may get his Highnesse Great Scale thereunto appended. At the Delivery whereof, the party receiver of the same, shall only be holden and asstraitned to pay at that time to the Director of the Chancellery, or his Deputies, That one half of the prices allowed unto him by the Book of Rates for writing of Evidents to the Great Scale: And that only in consideration of the paines taken in forming and writing of the saids Writs and Evidents, without paying beforehand the other half of the saids prices, which hereby is appointed to be reserved unpaid, while the same be registrated in manner after mentioned. Which Infestments and Evidents being delivered to the Keeper of the great Scale, and he having appended the same Scale thereunto, and being satisfied of the price due to him therefore: Ordains the Keeper of the Great Scale, to return, and redeliver the same Infestment, or other Writ foresaid, so sealed by him back again, to the Director of his Highnesse Chancellery, or his Deputies: To the effect the same Infestments, Evidents, or other Writs foresaids, may be registrated by him in the Registers, and Books appointed for that effect. Which being so registrated, Ordains the Director of his Highnesse Chancellery, and his Deputies, to deliver the same to the party: He being satisfied of the other half of the price foresaid, retained by the party, and unpaid by him, at the time of the writing of the saids Evidents to the Great Scale, as due for the Registration thereof, in manner above written.

AND ALSO, Our said Sovereign Lord, statutes and ordains, all and whatsoever persons, who have any Infestments, Writs, or Securities, grauted unto them, and already past the Great Scale, and which are not as yet registrated, to returne the same back again, unto the Director of his Highnesse Chancellery, within the space of a yeare after the publication of this present Act: To the effect the saids Infestments, and Writs, may be registrated by the said Director of his Highnesse Chancellery, and his Deputies: and that (gratis) and without any payment to be given unto him therefore.

A C T. XXV.

Ament Banqueting, and Apparel.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of Parliament, considering, the great hurt coming unto this Country, by the superfluous usage of unnecessary sumptuousness in Meate, Apparel, and otherwayes: and that by all sorts of people, promiseuously, without distinction of persons, of ranks or quality. For repressing of the said abuse in time coming, Do statute and Ordaine, THAT None of Our Sovereigne Lords Lieges, of whatsoever quality or degree, shall weare any cloathing of Gold or Silver Cloathe, or any Gold or Silver Lace upon their Apparels, or any part of their Bodies hereafter. And that no manner of person shall have any Apparel of Velvet, Sattin, or other Stuffs of silke, except Noble-men, Lords of Parliament, Prelates, His Majesties Counsellers, Lords of Session, Barrons of quality, having of free yearly rent fourscore Chalders Victual, or six thousand Merks of silver: and the Proveests of the principal Burrows within this Kingdom, or those who have been Proveests: with such also as shall happen to be, or have been, Proyeests, Bailies, Deans of Guilde, and Thesaurers, within the Towne of Edinburgh: excepting also Rectors of Universities.

AND IT IS statuted, and Ordained, That these persons which are permitted to weare the said Apparelling of Silke, shall no wayes have Embroydering, or any Lace, or Passements upon their cloathes: except only a plain Welting Lace of Silke upon the Seames, or borders of their Cloathes: with Belts, and Hat-bands embroydered with silke: and such-like, that the said apparel of silke be no wayes cut out upon other stusses of silke: except upon a single Tassatie. AND, that the Wives of the saids priviledged persons, their eldest sonnes, and eldest daughters unmarried, and the children of all Noble Men, be licentiate to weare their apparel in manner aforesaid only, under the paine of a thousand pounds, Toties, quoties.

2. ITEM, That no person, of whatsoever degree, shall have Pearling, or ribbening upon their Ruffles, Sarkes, Napkins, and Sockes: Except the persons before privileged. A C T. XXVI.

Anent Thacking of Houses in Edinburgh, with Sklaite and Skailie.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of this present Parliament, considering that fundrie persons of meane qualitie, acquire unto themselves the heretable right of fundrie ruinous Landes, and Wastes, within the Towne of Edinburgh. And for want of meanes to build the same sufficiently, thaickes the same with strawe, and Deales, whereby the Landes next adjacent unto the same, builded upon the great charges and expences of the Heretors, are often-times brought in great hazard, and sometime to decay, in time of sudden Fyre. THEREFORE, and for further decoration of the said Burgh, being the Head-Burgh of this Realme, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with consent of the saids Estates, statutes and ordaines, That in all time to come, no manner of person, or persones, shall be suffered; or permitted to builde any houses within the said Burgh of Edinburgh: But such as shall be covered With Sclaite, or Skallie, Lead, Tylde, or Thacke-stone. AND also, statutes, and ordaines, That the Heritors of such houses as are already thaicked with Thack and Straw, (if the same Thacke, and Straw-Roofs, shall hereafter at any time become ruinous) shall be astricted to thaick the same againe with Sklaite, or Skailie, Lead, Tylde, or Thacke-stone. AND Ordaines, Letters of Horning to be directed here-upon, against the Heritors of the saids lands, in forme as effeires. AND such-like, Ordaines the Provest and Baillies of the said Burgh, To put this Act to Execution.

A C T. XXVII.

Anent Comprising from apparent Heyres, extended as well unto Mens owne debts, as their Predecessors.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of this present Parliament, Ratifies, approves, and confirms, the 106. Act of the seaventh Parliament of King JAMES the fifth, of worthy memory: Intituled [The Creditor may pursue him, who is charged to enter, and entreth not,] in all the Heads, Articles, and Clauses thereof. With the addition and explanation following: THAT the same shall be extended unto Debts owing by any person himselve, as well as to those which are addebred by his predecessors. For the which debt, it shall be as lawful for a Creditor, to charge any person to enter Heir to his predecessor, and with the like certification, as if the predecessor had been debtor thereintil. Where-upon comprising may follow in manner specified, in the said Act.

A C T. XXVIII.

Anent taking of Annual-rent before hand, to be Usurie.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and ESTATES of this present Parliament, considering, That notwithstanding Usurie, and raking unlawful Annual, more then ten for each hundreth, hath been by sundry Actes of before discharged, and forbidden: Yet it hath been usual, by ane evill and corrupt custome, to take, or retaine, the Annual-rent, the time of the borrowing the Money: Which in effecte is eleven of each hundreth, at least. For Avoyding whereof, statutes, and ordains, That no person, who lendes, or gives out money, and receaves Annual therefore, shall retaine the time of the lending, exact, crave, or receive, from their Debtors, the Annual of their lent summes, until the tearme of payment appoynted by their Bandes, be first come. And it shall be lawful, at the time of lending of Money, and making of Bands, to adde the annuel unto the principal summe: providing alwayes, neither principal nor annuel be exacted, or craved, before the tearme of payment appoynted to the said Band. And the contraveeners of this present statute shall be punished as unlawful Usurers.

ACT XXIX.

Ratification of the Act of Secret Council, Against Backsters, Brozzsters, Flesters, and Candle-makers of Edinburgh.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advice and consent of the ESTATES of this present Parliament, By the Tenor hereof, Ratifies, Approves, and confirms, The Act of the Secret Council, of date the seaventeenth day of Februarie, one thousand, sixe hundreth, and eightene yeares: Made and set downe, by his Majestic, with consent of the Lords of His Highnesse Secret Council, against the Backsters, Brozzsters, Flesters, Candle-makers, and others therein contained, In-dwellers within Edinburgh: With the publication and proclamation following thereupon, In all, and fundrie heads, poynts, passages, circumstances, and others, specified there-intil: conforme to the Tenor thereof, in all poynts. AND Willes, and Declares, The same to have bene, in all time by-gone, since the making and publication thereof: And to be, and stand, in all time comming, good, valuable and effectual in it selfe: and to have the due benefite, and execution thereof, conforme thereunto: Against all who have transgressed: or shall happen to transgresse, and contraveen the Tenor of the same. Whereof the Tenor followeth. ●

Apud Edinburgh, decimo septimo Die Mensis Februarii, Anno Domini Millesimo, Sexcentesimo, decimo octavo.

FOR AS MUCH, As The Kings Majestic, And Lordes of His Privie Council, Considering the dangerous and fearful abuse, which hath bene of continuance these many yeares by-gone, within the Burgh of Edinburgh, by the Tollerance, Connivance, and over-sight, which hath bene given unto Backsters, Brozzsters, and others, to builde, and keep stacks of Hather, Broome, Whinnes, and other Fewel, in the heart of the said Burgh, and in the Vennalles and Cloasses of the same: where fundrie of His Majesties good subjects, Inhabitants of the said Burgh, have, with great charges and expences, builded many goodly Houses and buildings: to the credit of the said Burgh, and for the policie and decoration of the same. By the which stacks of Hather, Broome, Whinnes, and other Fewel, builded, and kept, within the said Burgh, not onely are the neighbours of the next adjacent parts thereunto, holden in continual feare, and dreadour, and are in very great hazard, and danger, if either by negligence, or wilful malice, (as GOD forbid) Fire should be set in/ the saids stacks: as fell out by the syring of some stacks in Peibles Wynde, in the 1584. yeare of GOD: But a great number of people, who are inclined, and disposed, to bestow some part of their Estate upon building within the said Burgh, are with-holden there-from, for feare of the saids stacks. And besides this abuse, which is both fearful, dangerous, and hath produced many inconveniences, and great skaith, from time to time, to the said Burgh: there is another shameful abuse there-in: which although it be not altogether so fearful and dangerous as the other, yet it is noysome to the whole civil and honest Neighbours, and to all the Nobilitie, and Countrie people, which come hither for their privadoes: And with that, it is detestable in the sight of strangers, corrupteth the aire, and carrieth many disgraceful and shameful imputations against the said Burgh, as being a puddle of filth and filthinesse: To wit, the over-sight which is given unto Candle-makers, to keep their shoppes and houses where they melt their Tallone, and Cracklings, within the Heart of the said Burgh: And to Flesters, to keep their Slaughter-shoppes within the Towne, and to tuime the filth of the slaughtered Goods upon the high Streets, and in open Vennalles, and Cloasses: whereby it often-times falleth out, that in many streetes and Vennalles of the said Burgh, the filth of slaughtered Goods is in such abundance exposed unto the view of the people: and the cloasses and streetes are so filled therewith, as there can no passage be had thorow the same. FOR removing of the which two abuses, so dangerous and disgraceful to the said Burgh, The Kings Majestic, with advice of the Lords of His Secret Council, hath resolved, concluded, commanded, and ordained, That from the first day of May next to come, there shall be no stacks of Hather, Broome, Whinnes, nor other Fewel, kept nor suffered to bee in any of the Vennalles, Wyndes, or Cloasses of the said Burgh, nor within Houses, nor upon the streetes of the same: and that no Flesters shall be suffered, by themselves, their servants, or others in their names, to keep any slaughter-houses within this Burgh, nor in any Wynde, Cloasse, or vennai of the same: nor to tuime the bloode, and filth of their slaughtered Goodes upon the streetes, or in Cloasses, or in Vennalles: Nor that no Candle-makers keep their melting Houses within the said Burgh: But that the saids stacks of Hather, Broome, Whinnes, and other Fewel, shall be carried, and set at some remote partes of the said Burgh, beside the Portes, Walles, or North-loch-side, where there are no Houses. And that the saids Flesters shall provide themselves of slaughter-houses, at the North-loch-side, where they may have the use of the water for the away taking of the filth of their slaughtered goodes. And that the Candle-makers provide themselves of houses, for melting of their Tallone and Cracklings, at some remote partes of the Towne, from the common-streetes, cloasses, and Vennalles of the same: AND ordaines Letters to bee directed, to make publication hereof, by open proclamation, at the Market-Crofs of Edinburgh; where throw none pretend pretend ignorance of the same : and to command, charge, and inhibite, all and sundry persons, Inhabitants within the said Burgh, of what Trade or Calling soever they bee: That they, or none of them, nor none by their command, and direction, Found, build or keep any stackes, or ruckes of Hather, Broome, Whinnes, or other fewel, within any of the Cloasses, Vennalles, or waste places of the said Burgh, nor within their houses : And that they remove the stackes which they already have, and build the same at some remote places, about the portes and walles of the said Burgh, where there are no houses, or at the North-Loch-side: betwixt & the said first day of May, next to come: under the paine of confiscation of the same Hather, Broome & Whinnes, so to be stacked, against the meaning and intent of this Act, and further: under the paine of five hundredth poundes, to be payed by them, so oft as they shall happen to faile. And such like, to command all and sundry Fleishours, Inhabitants within the said Burgh, that they prepare themselves of Slaughtering-houses, at the North-Loch-side: where they may have the commoditie of water for their use; and that they in no wise presume, nor take upon hand, after the said day, to tuime the filth, -or blood of their slaughtered Goods upon the streetes, nor in the vennalles, cloasses, and wyndes of this Burgh. As also, To charge all Candle-makers, That they, betwixt and the day foresaid, provide themselves of houses, for melting of their Tallone, and Cracklings, at some remote partes of the Towne, from the common-streetes, cloasses, and vennalles of the same: under the paine of five hundredth poundes money, to be incurred by every person, Fleishour, or Candle-maker, so often as they shall faile. AND such like, to command, and charge the Provest and Baillies of Edinburgh, That they have a special care and regarde, to see this present Act to be precisely and inviolably kept: as they will answer to His Majestie, and the saids Lords, upon the ductifull discharge of their Office.

ACT. XXX.

Act restraining the buying and selling of certaine Wyld Fowles.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice and consent of the ESTATES of Parliament, Considering the great abuse and libertie, which hath beene used these divers yeares by-gone, by the subjects of this Realme, in buying and selling of wyld fowles, of the particular species following: to wit, Of Pouttes, Partrickes, Muire-fowles, Blacke-cockes, Gray-hennes, Termigantes, Quayllies, Caperkayllies, &c. For restraining of which abuse in time coming, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice and consent foresaid, statutes and ordaines, That no person whatsoever within this Realme presume, nor take upon hand, to buy nor sell, at any time hereafter, any Wyld-fowles of the species foresaid, under the paine of one hundredth poundes money, to be incurred by the contraveener thereof, buyer or seller. AND Ordaines this present Act to have the strenth and force of an Act of Parliament, to be inviolably observed in all time hereafter, aye, and while the same be lawfully discharged, or altered.

ACT. XXXI.

Anent Hunting, and Hauking.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And ESTATES of this present Parliament, statutes and ordaines, That no man Hunt nor Hauk at any time hereafter, who hath not a Plough of land in Heritage, under the paine of one hundredth poundes. ORDAINES His Majestie to have the one halfe of the penaltie of the Contraveeners of this present Act: and the Dilator to have the other halfe of the said penaltie:

ACT XXXII.

Anent the harrying of Haulke Nests, and hunting in Snow.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And ESTATES of this present Parliament, Ratifies, and approves the Act of Parliament, made by King JAMES the Third of worthy memorie, in the seaventh Parliament, anent the unlaw of stealing of Haulkes, Houndes, Partrickes, and Duickes: in all and sundry points, heads, articles, and clauses thereof: With this addition, that the paine and penaltie of ten poundes therein contained; SHALL BE Now & in all time coming augmented against the contraveeners of the said Act: under the paine of one hundredth poundes money of this Realme. AND ALSO, ratifies, and approves, all Actes of Parliament, made of before by His Majesties most Noble Progenitours, anent the slaying and hunting of Hares, Does, and Rhoes in time of snow: And statutes, and ordaines the paine and penaltie against the contraveeners thereof: to be under the paine of one hundredth poundes money (toties, quoties) as they shall happen to contraven the same. And ordaines the one halfe of the paine to be incurred by the contraveeners of this present Act, to be given to His Majestie: and the other halfe to the persons Dilators of the contraveeners of the same.

A C T. XXXIII.

Salvo Jure Cujuslibet.

FOR AS MUCH, As in this present Session of Parliament, there are many Ratifications and Actes, in favours of particular persons past; wherein diverse and new Clauses are insert, which may be prejudicial to particular parties rights, and derogative unto many and sundry Lawes lawfully made, and established of before: albeit the meaning of the Estates be at this time, as it was ever in all preceeding Parliaments, That by no Act of Ratification, or Act granted unto any particular person, any other party should be hurt or prejudged. For remeedy whereof, it is statuted and ordained, That no Ratification, nor other Act, made in favours of any particular person, shall be prejudicial to any private parties right: But that the saids Ratifications and Actes, made in favours of particular persons, be alwayes understood, Salvo Jure Cujuslibet.

A C T I.

Asent the Taxation granted to His Majestie of thirtie shillings Tearmly upon the pound Land, and the sixteenth pennie of all Annuel-rents.

IN THE PARLIAMENT holden at Edinburgh, the twenty eight day of June, the year of God, 1633. THE THREE ESTATES of Parliament being assembled, having taken to their Consideration the many blessings, which this nation doth enjoy under his Majesties most wise, happy, and peaceable government, whereof each Estate is most sensible, his Majesties royal zeale for propagating the Gospel of JESUS CHRIST, his care for providing sufficient maintenance for the Clergie, his extraordinary paines taken for uniting the disjoynted members of this Common-wealth, and extirping of all roots of discords, relieving the oppressed, and with so even and fatherly a hand curing the wounds of this Common-wealth, as the wisest eye can finde no blemish in the temper of all his Royal Actions: And last, the great comfort they have by enjoying his Majesties Royal presence, paines taken, and expences disbursed by his Majestie in this his Majesties journey: with a most thankful acknowledgement, are most earnestly and humbly to entreat his Sacred Majestie, to accept of this their voluntary offer of aue taxation to be imposed, collected, and payed to his gracious Majestie, in manner, and at the termes following: That is to say, The Dukes, Marquesses, Earles, Vicounts, Lords, and Commissioners of Shires for the temporal Estate, have granted, that there shall be uplifted of every pound land of old old extent within this Kingdome, pertaining to Dukes, Marquesses, Earles, Vicounts, Lords, Barons, and Freeholders, and Fewers of his Majesties proper lands, the summe of thirty shillings money at every one of the six severall termes following, viz. The summe of thirty shillings money at the feast and terme of Martinmas, in the year of God, 1634. The summe of other thirtie shillings money at the feast and terme of Martinmas, in the year of God, 1635. The summe of other thirty shillings money at the feast and terme of Martinmas, in the year of God, 1636. The summe of other thirty shillings money at the feast and terme of Martinmas, in the year of God, 1637. The summe of other thirty shillings money at the feast and terme of Martinmas, in the year of God, 1638. And the summe of other thirty shillings money at the feast and terme of Martinmas, in the year of God, 1639. AND the Archbishops and Bishops for the Spiritual Estate, have granted that there shall be uplifted of all Archbishopsricks, Bishopsricks, Abbacies, Pryories, and other Inferiour Benefices, within this Kingdome, at every one of the six termes above-specified, the just taxation thereof, as they have been accustomed to be taxed unto in all time by-gone, whensoever the Temporal lands of this Kingdome were stinted to thirty shillings the pound land of old extent : And the same taxation to be payed at every one of the six severall termes above-specified. AND the Commissioners of Burrowes for their Estate have granted, that there shall be uplifted of all the Burrows within this Kingdome, at every one of the six termes above-specified, the just taxation thereof as they have been accustomed to be taxed unto, in all time by-gone, whensoever the Temporal Lands of this Kingdome were stinted to thirty shillings the pound land of old extent. And the said Taxation to be payed at every one of the six severall termes above-written. AND in regarde that his Majestie hath erected sundry Prelacies in temporal Lordships, whereby the owners thereof may claime to be taxed with the Barons of the Temporal Estate, and thereby his Majestie will be defrauded of a great part of the said Taxation.

THEREFORE THE SAIDS ESTATES Ordaine, that all erections of Prelacies, and other small Benefices, in whole or in part in Temporal Lordships, shall in payment of the said Taxation pay to the Collectour thereof so much of the same Taxation (pro rata) as if they were no wayes erected, and as they were subject to do before the erection of the same. AND likewise it is statute and ordained, that all dissolved Benefices within this Kingdome, in whole or in part, shall be subject in payment of so much of the same taxation (pro rata) as they would have been subject to pay, though the same had not been dissolved. And that those parties, who have gotten any part or portion of any Prelacies, or other Inferiour Benefices dissolved, and new securities made unto them by his Majestie of that part and portion thereof so dissolved, shall be subject in payment of the Taxation thereof to the Prelate or other beneficed person for his reliefe of the same Taxation, as they would have been, so the same had not been dissolved, notwithstanding of any condition contained in the infeofments and securities made by his Majestie to them in the contrary thereof.

AND FURTHER, his Majestie and the saids Estates annul and discharge all priviledges and immunities whatsoever, whereby any persons may think themselves free of payment of this present Taxation (The priviledges granted to the ordinary Lords and Senators of the Colledge of Justice, and the taxation of Benefices, given, disposed, and mortified for entertainment of the Universities, Colledges, and Hospitals within this Kingdome only excepted.) AND further, the saids Estates, for a more ample testification of their exceeding great affection to his Majesties service, have (beside and attour the ordinary taxation above-written) made a free and willing offer to his Majestie of one yearly extraordinary taxation of the sixteenth penny of all annual-rents which any person or persons within this Kingdome hath freely due and payable to them yearly or termly (Their own annual-rents, wherein they are debited to others being first deducted) : The first termes payment whereof shall bee, and begin at the Feast and terme of Martinmas, in the year of God, one thousand six hundred thirty four years, and so forth yearly and termly at Whitfunday, and Martimas for the space of six years, while the saids six yeares and twelve termes payment thereof be full and completely out-run.

AND For the better tryall of every man his annual-rents, which hee hath yearly or termly due to him : It is ordained, that this Act be published at the Market-Crosse of Edinburgh, and of the whole head burrowes of the Sherifedomes, Stewartries, Baileries, and Regalities, within this Kingdome, whereby all his Majesties Lieges may have true notice thereof. AND therewithal the saids Estates will, command, and ordaine all his Majesties subjects that have any annual-rents payable to them, That they compare within the Head burgh of the Sherifedome, Stewartrie, Baillerie, or Regalitie, or the Head-burgh of any of those Jurisdictions, wherein the head-Courts are holden, and where the saids annual-renters dwell, and have their ordinary residence, in any court day in one of the two last weeks immediately preceeding, and in one of the two first weeks immediately following Whitfunday, and Martimasse. At which time the Sheriffs, Stewards, Bailies, and Bailies of Regalities, and Provest, and Bailies of Free-burrows within the bounds of their Jurisdictions, shall be obliged to hold Courts weekly, to the effect after specified. And the Lieges resorting to the saids Courts, shall give up an inventar to the Clerk thereof, of the whole summes of money for which annual-rent is due to them yearly or termly, with the names of their Debtors, designed by name and surname, and the ordinarie place of their residence. As also the whole summes of money for which they are subject in payment of annual-rents to others, with the names of their creditors, to whom the same is due, designed likewise by name and surname, and the place of their then ordinary residence, whether the same annual-rent be in victual, or in silver: the annual of victual to be esteemed according to the stock of money for which it is payed, at eight for ilk hundred thereof. And shall cause the parties, up-givers of the saids inventars, everie partie subscribe his own inventar himselfe, if hee can write; and if hee cannot write, the Clerk of the said Court shall subscribe the said inventar in face of the court before the members thereof. And also the Sheriffs, Stewards, Baillies, Bailies of Regalities, Provost, and Bailies of Free-burrowes within the bounds of their jurisdictions: And the Clerks themselves shall make and give up an inventar of the Debts owing to themselves, and by themselves, as said is. IT IS alwaies provided, that if any person impedit by reason of sickness, or distracted by some other just occasion, shall not be present himselfe to give up the said inventar, It shall be lawful for him to cause any honest responsal man within the jurisdiction where hee dwells, compeer and give up his inventar, providing the same be subscribed by himselfe, or any Notar at his command, which the ingiver shall declare to be one true deed, and shall abide at the same upon the like hazard and danger, as the principal partie should underlye: which shall be alsufficient, as if the inventar had been given personally up by the principal partie himselfe. And an inventar being once made and given up, shall still stand, and be a ground to charge any person, during the time of the six years of the said taxation, unless the partie change, or otherwaies employ his summes: and then he shall give up a new inventar, which shall be a new ground of a charge, and the former shall cease. And the said Clerk shall make a Record in his Register of the saids whole inventars: which inventars being so recorded, shall bee extracted by the said Clerk, and subscribed with his hand, And three extracts made of the same; one to be given to the partie, if he require the same; another to be sent by the said Clerk to the Collector of the said taxation; and the third to be sent by the said Clerk, to the CLERK of His MAJESTIES REGISTER, to be kept amongst the Records of his Majesties Exchequer, to the intent it may be known how far everie party is lyable in payment of the said extraordinary taxation. For the which extract and not made in Register, the said Clerk shall have of every person, up-giver of an inventar, the summe of four shillings money. And if by sloth or malice the Clerk shall happen to delay, or shift the Lieges, resorting to the saids courts to the effect foresaid, (complaint being made thereof to the Lords of his Majesties privie Council) the saids Clerks shall be punished accordingly, at the discretion of the saids Lords. And at any Court day, in any of the saids two Weekes preceeding or immediately following any terme, it shall be leaseome to any person to compeer and offer to give up his inventar (hee making payment of the taxation due for the same) which the Clerk & Judge shall be astricted to receive.

AND albeit it be declared, that an inventar once given up shall still stand, and be a ground to charge any person during the whole termes of the said taxation, except the same be changed in manner foresaid: Yet because sundry, who have this liberty, delay to make payment of the taxation of their moneys after the time be expired, THEREFORE It is provided and declared, that if they faillie to make payment of the due taxation of their moneys within twentie dayes after each terme, that the partie so faillying, shall be subject in payment of the triple of the said taxation, for each terme wherein he faillies, and letters shall be direct against them, for payment thereof in forme as effectis.

FURTHER, For the better observation of this Act, It is declared, that whosoever receaves, retaines, or conditions to receive any annual-rent, and concealeth the same, or any part thereof: Or in giving up his inventar of debts, and annualls owing by him to his just creditors, giveth up more than he is justly addebted, the up-giver thereof shall forfeit that termes annual to his Majesties use. AND whosoever first discovers, or reveales, either the annual concealed, or annual which is more than the up-givers just debt; shall for his reward have the halfe of that termes concealed annual, and as much as the halfe of that annual which shall be discovered to have been unjustly given up. AND In case it shall happen any person or persons whatsoever, by vertue of his up-given inventar, to be charged for payment of his taxation, and at the time of his charge to declare in presence of a Judge by his great Oath solemnly sworne, that his debter is a bankrupt, whereby he is disabled to make payment of his taxation, and is content the Kings Majesty shall have the whole annual-rent addebted to him by his bankrupt debtor for that terme, The said declaration shall bee a sufficient liberation to him of the same: AND For eschewing of malicious dilators of those who have omitted or concealed their summes, IT IS ordained, That whensoever any person shall accuse, or delate another of concealing, or omitting of summes, the time of making his inventar, he shall condiscend upon some probable cause of his delation, and shall find caution de judicato solvi, in case he faillie in providing that which hee delates. And there shall no such actions of delations bee lawful against dead persons, their heires, nor executors, except that the same hath been intended before the saids persons their deccase. Neither shall it be lawful after year and day after the expiring of the said taxation, to intend any such action. AND In case any person purchase wedset of Lands, and set the same back again in tacks to him who wedset the same, The tacksmen, possessors of the Lands, shall pay for the stent of the Lands, & the haver of the wedset shall pay for the annual-rent of his money which he hath on the Land, as if the same were employed for annual-rent. AT TOWR it shall not be lawful by no manner of way as if a creditor, to get reliefe of his debtor for this taxation which is imposed upon annual-rents, by this statute, under the paines contained in the Acts of Parliament made aient Usurers. AND concerning Minors, it is declared, That their minority shall no wayes privileged them, but their tutors and cutors shall shall give up their inventars of their annual-rents in their names, which if the saids Tutors and Curators failie to do, the saids Minors shall incur the like danger as others, and at their perfect age, shall have action of relief against the saids Tutors and Curators for that cause. A N D in case any person depart out of this Kingdom after the publication of this present act, the same shall no wayes excuse him from giving up an inventar of his annual-rents, and payment of the said Taxation, and underlying of the danger contained in this present Act. But they who are presently forth of this Kingdom, and shall not return before the terme of Whitsunday, in the year of God, one thousand, six hundred, thirty five, they shall not come under the danger of this Act until the terme of Martinmasse thereafter, providing, that at that terme they give up their inventars, and pay their Taxation, as if they had been present within the Kingdom, before the foresaid terme of Martinmasse. A N D for uplifting of the same Taxation granted upon Annual-rents, and to the intent, his Majesties general Collector thereof, may know whom to crave and charge for the same; I T is statute and ordained, that within every Sheriffsdom, Stewartry, Bailiery, and Regality, where the Offices of Sheriffs, Stewarts, Bailiffs are heritable, and the Provost and Bailiffs of Free Burrows, these heritable Officers and their depures, for whom they shall be holden to answer, and Provost and Bailiffs of Free Burrows, shall collect the said Taxation, and make payment thereof to his Majesties Collector general of his saids Taxations. And where these Offices of Sheriffs, Stewarts, and Bailiffs, are not heritable but changeable; The Clerks within the saids jurisdictions (having their Offices ad vitam) shall be collectors thereof. And in case the saids Clerks have not already found sufficient caution for discharging of their Offices, they shall be holden before they have any intromission with the same Taxation, or exercise their Office of Sheriff-Clerk, after the foresaid Terme of Martinmasse, in the year of God, one thousand, six hundred, thirtie four years, to find sufficient Caution for that effect. A N D where there are no heritable Officers nor Clerks (having their Offices ad vitam) and have not found Caution in manner above written, the said Collector general of his Majesties Taxation, and his Depures in his name sufficiently authorized by him, and for whom he shall be holden to answer, And whose name he shall cause publish at the Market-cross of the head Burgh of that Jurisdiction, where there is no heritable Officers nor Clerks (ad vitam) that his Majesties Lieges may know to whom they shall make payment, shall collect and uplift the same Taxation; which payment being made, the receiver thereof shall be obliged to deliver to the payer thereof an acquittance upon the Receipt of the same, gratis, without paying any money for the same. I T IS likewise provided, that the Fees of the Collectors and Receivers of the same Taxation of annual-rents, shall be, like-as hereby they are remitted to the discretion and arbitrement of the Lords of his Majesties Privy Council, to be set down and agreed upon by them. A N D the saids Estates hereby deserne and declare, that all Burgeses and Freemen within Burgh, albeit they be taxed in the ordinary Taxation abovementioned, with their Neighbours, conform to the order prescribed for collecting of the burrows part of the said ordinary Taxation; yet the same shall no wayes liberate nor free them from payment of the said extraordinary Taxation, according to the proportion of the sixteenth penny of their annual-rents, but shall be lyable in payment thereof, as others his Majesties Lieges are. A T T O U R the saids Estates annull, and discharge all privileges, and immunities whatsoever, whereby any person may think themselves free of payment of any part of this present extraordinary Taxation, the privileges and immunities granted to the ordinary Lords of Session, with the annual-rents due to be payed to Colleged, Schools, and Hospitals, or mortified for sustentation and upholding of Kirks and Bridges, with the annual rent that might be claimed of poor people, whose stock exceeds not the summe of five hundred Merks Scots, only excepted.

A C T II.

Anent the Collecting and Inbringing of the Taxation, and reliefe to Prelates.

I N THE PARLIAMENT Holden at Edinburgh upon the twenty eight day of June, the year of God, 1633. The three Estates of the said Parliament being assembled, having taken to their consideration the many blessings which this nation doth enjoy under his Majesties most wise, happy, and peaceable government, wherof each Estate is most sensible, his Majesties royal zeale for propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ, his care for providing sufficient maintenance for the Clergy, his extraordinary paines taken for uniting the disjoynted members of this Common-wealth, and extirping of all roots of discords, relieving the oppressed, and with so eaven and fatherly a hand, curing the wounds of this Common-wealth, as the wisest eye can finde no blemish in the temper of all his royal actions: And last, the great comfort they have had by enjoying his Majesties royal presence, paines taken, and expences disbursed by his Majesty in this his Majesties journey: with a most thankful acknowledgement, are most earnestly and humbly to intreat his sacred Majesty, to accept of this their voluntary offer of one Taxation ordinary to be imposed, collected, and payed to his gracious Majesty in manner, and at the termes following: That is to say, The summe of thirty shillings money at the Feast and Terme of Martinmasse, masse, in the year of God, 1634. The summe of other thirtie shillings money at the feast and terme of Martinmasse, 1635. The summe of other thirtie shillings money at the feast and terme of Martinmasse, 1636. The summe of other thirtie shillings money at the Feast and terme of Martinmasse, 1637. The summe of other thirtie shillings money at the Feast and terme of Martinmasse, 1638. And the summe of other thirtie shillings money at the Feast and terme of Martinmasse, 1639. AND For the spiritual-men and Burrowes parts of the same taxation, That there shall be uplifted of everie Archbishoprick, Bishoprick, Abbacie, Pryorie, and other inferior benefice, and of everie Free-burgh within this Kingdome, at everie one of the saids six termes payment, the just taxation thereof, and as they have been accustomed to be taxt unto in all time by-gone, whensoever the Temporal-lands within this Kingdome were stented to thirtie shillings money the pound land of old extent. And the same taxation to be payed at every one of the six severall termes above-written. AND FOR inbringing of the spiritual-mens parts of the same taxation, Ordains letters to be direct, charging all and sundrie Archbishops, Bishops, Abbots, Priors, as likewise all Noblemen and others, in whose favours the erection of any prelacie, or other inferior benefice, or any part or portion thereof, be it in Lands, Kirks, or Teynds, Or in whose favours the patronage of any benefice, Kirks, or Teynds are past, and all other beneficed persons contained in the Taxt-rols, their heritable Baillies, Chamberlaines, Factors and intromettors with their rents and living, personally, or at their dwelling places, and by open proclamation at the Market-crosses of the Head-burrowes of the Sheriffdomes, Stewartries, and Bailleries, where the saids Prelacies, erected Lordships, and small Benefices lye, if they be within this Kingdome. And if they be without this Kingdome, by open proclamation at the Market-crosse of Edinburgh, Peir and Shore of Leith, upon threescore dayes warning, to make payment of that summe, that they and ilk one of them are taxt unto, for every one of the saids six termes, To the Collector general of the said taxation, appointed or to be appointed by his MAJESTIE, or his Deputes and Officers in his name, having his power and commission to receive the same, at the particular termes above-written, under the paine of Rebellion, and putting of them to the horne. And if they faillie therein, at the by-passing of every one of the saids termes, To denounce the disobeyers rebels, and put them to the horne, and to escheat, &c. And that the Prelates, and beneficed persons, and such Noblemen, and others, in whose favours the erections and patronages above-written are past, For their reliefe have letters, charging their Vassals, Sub-vassals, Ladies of terce, conjunct-feeers, and life-renters, Fewars, Tacksmen, and pensioners, to make payment of their part of the said Taxation ilk one of them (pro rata) according to the summe they shall be taxt unto; to the saids Prelates, and other beneficed persons, and to the saids Noblemen, and others, having power to receive the same, within twentie dayes next after the charge, under the paine of rebellion, &c. And if they faillie, &c. To denounce, &c. and Escheat, &c. And to poynd and distrenyie therefore, as they shall think most expedient: Providing alwaies, that the first termes payment of the said taxation be ever past, before the next termes payment be charged for. And the Estates declare, That the production of sufficient hornings against the saids Vassals, Fewars, Tackf-men and pensioners, shall be a reliefe to the saids Prelates, Lords of erection, and beneficed persons, and shall exoner them (pro tanto) from payment of the said taxation. Providing that the same hornings, with their Taxt-rols authentickly made and subscribed by the saids Prelates, Lords of Erections, and other beneficed persons, and by their Fewars, Vassals, Tackf-men and Pensioners in manner hereafter prescribed, containing the particular summe which each one of them are taxt unto, be delivered to the Collector of the same Taxation, within the space of threescore dayes after every Terme: Otherwise he shall be no wayes obliged to receive the same, neither shall the Prelate, Lord of erection, nor beneficed person be exoner by production of the same at any time thereafter.

And farther, that the saids Prelates and such Noblemen, and others in whose favours the Erections and Patronages above-written are past, and all other beneficed persons may have their reliefe of their Vassals, Sub-vassals, Ladies of terce, conjunct-feeers, life-renters, Fewars, Tackf-men, and pensioners: To the greater ease, and lesse trouble to their saids Vassals and others foresaid. And to the effect, that every one proportionally may pay his part of the said Taxation, according to the quantity and avails of the free-rent, which hee hath of his benefice, lands, pensions, Kirkes, and Teind-sheaves pertaining to him, alsweil Prelate, Lord of erection, Patron, and other beneficed persons themselves, as the Fewar, Tackf-man and Pensioner.

AND here-with it is resolved by his Majestie and the saids Estates, that if any Vassals, Sub-vassals Fewers, Tack-men of Teinds, pensioners, or any other justly bound to make reliefe to Prelate, Lord of Ereccion, Patron, or other beneficed person of any part of the said Taxation, shall send any procurator in his name sufficiently authorized to the said meeting: the same shall not only excuse the principal parties absence, but the procurators shall be admitted in all things, and received to doe and performe in the distribution of the said Taxation, what could or lawfully might have bene done by him who sent him. §

IT IS Like-wise declared, that the Prelate, Lord of Ereccion, Patron, or other beneficed person, impedit by disease, or distracted upon some other necessary occasion from attending that meeting, having his absence supplied that day by a sufficient, worthy person whom he shall authorize and appoint to that effect, shall be as lawful as if he were personally present himselfe: and the party so authorized shall be admitted and received in all things, to doe and performe in the distribution of the same Taxation, what could or lawfully might have bene done by him who sent him.

IT IS further statute and ordained, that at the said day of meeting, the saids Prelates, Lords of erections, patrons, and other beneficed persons, shall by themselves, or by their procurators lawfully authorized, as said is, fence, and hold a Court, call by name and surname upon every one of their Vassals, Sub-vassals, Fewers, Tack-men of teinds, pensioners, and others obliged to relieve them of any part of the same Taxation, and lawful time and day being bidden: To shew to their saids Vassals, Fewers, Tack-men, and pensioners, or their procurators comparing for them, the quantitie of the Taxation imposed upon their Prelacie, erected Lordship, or other benefice authentickly subscribed by the Clerke of the same Taxation. And they all (at the least so many of them as shall convene for this effect with one consent) shall distribute the same to be payed by every man, as well by the Prelate, Lord of Ereccion, and present Possessor of final benefice, for the free rent that every one of them hath of their Prelacies, erected Lordships, and final benefices, as by the Vassal

Vassal, Fewer, Tackf-man, and pensioner, according to the great and small quantitie of the free rent, which every one of them hath either of their Lands, Teinds. or pensions; with certification to any of the said persons, Fewars, Vassals, Tackf-men, and Pensioners, that compare not by themselves or their procurators at the day and place above specified to the effect foresaid; That such as shall convene with the said Prelates, Lords of Erections, Patrons, or other beneficed persons, or their procurators, shall proceed in the equal distribution of the same Taxation, as well amongst them that are absent as present, and shall make and subscribe ane authentick Tax-roll there-upon. And in case none of the said Vassals, Fewars, Tackf-men, and pensioners, shall convene at the day and places above specified, to this effect by themselves or their procurators, but shall wilfullie absent themselves from the said meeting: It shall be lawful for the said Prelates, Lords of erections, Patrons, and other beneficed persons, being present by themselves or their procurators at the day and places above specified, to make, set down, and subscribe the same tax-roll: And in case any of the said Prelates, Lords of erections, Patrons, or other beneficed persons, shall not convene by themselves, or their procurators, at the day and places above specified, particularly designed to every one of them: It shall be lawful for the said Vassals; Fewars, Tackf-men, and pensioners, at the least so many of them as shall convene by themselves, or their procurators, to make, set down, and subscribe the said Tax-roll. Which tax-roll shall containe the particular summe that every one shall be found justly to be addebted to pay, the parties name addebted to pay the same, & the cause wherefore the same ought to be payed. And being so set down either by the Prelates, Lord of erection, Patron and other beneficed person, or their lawful procurators, with so many of their Vassals, Sub-vassals, Fewars, Tackf-men of teinds, pensioners, and others obliged to relieve them of any part of the same Taxation, as shall convene with them to this effect: And in case that none shall convene with them, the said roll being then set down by the Prelate, Lord of erection, Patron, or other beneficed person, or their lawful procurators, or in case of their absence being set down, made, and subscribed by the most part of the said Vassals, Fewars, Tackf-men, and pensioners by themselves, or their procurators as shall convene themselves for this effect; His Majestie and the said Estates decerne to be as lawful in all respects, as if the whole number of persons having interest therein, had convened, made, set down, and subscribed the same: which Tax-roll being so set down, made and subscribed in maner above-written (and no otherwise) and delivered to the Clerk of the Taxation; His Majestie and the said Estates Ordaine him to give warrant for giving of letters of reliefe there-upon, discharging him in any case to give warrant for giving of letters of reliefe upon any roll presented unto him, nor made and authentickly subscribed in forme above-written, as he will answer to the contrarie upon his peril.

IT is like-wise statute and ordained, That Tackf-men of Teinds shall have their reliefe of their Sub-tackf-men, [pro tanto,] respect being had to the person payed by the said Sub-tackf-men. AND FOR INBRINGING of the Barrons and free-holders part of the same Taxation, and of the Fewers and renttellers of Our Sovereigne Lords proper lands their parts thereof: Ordaine letters to be direct, charging al and sundrie Sheriffs, Stewarts, Baillies, their Deputes and Clerks, Fewars, Chamberlanes, and Receavers of Our Sovereigne Lords proper lands; that they and every one of them within the bounds of their proper offices, raise and up-lift the summe of thirtie shillings money of this Realme, of every pound land of old extent lying within the bounds of their Jurisdictions, for every one of the six termes above-specified. And inbring and deliver the same to the collector foresaid, or to his Deputes and Officers in his name, having his power to receive the same at the particular termes above-specified, under the paine of rebellion, &c. And if they faile at the by-passing of every one of the said termes, to denounce and escheat, &c.

And for their relief, that letters be direct, charging all and sundrie Dukes, Earles, Lords, Barrons, Free-holders, Fewars, and Renttellers of our Sovereigne Lords proper lands, personallie, or at their dwelling places, and by open proclamation at the Market-crosse of the head-burgh of the Sherifdome, Stewartrie, Baillierie, where their lands lye, if they be within the Kingdome, and if they be without the Kingdome, by open proclamation at the Market-crosse of Edinburgh, Peir and Shore of Leith, upon threescore dayes warning: to make payment to the saids Sheriffs, Stewarts, and Baillies, their Deputes and Clerks, Chamberlanes, and receivers of our Sovereigne Lords proper lands, every one of them for their own parts respective, of the said summe of thirtie shillings money foresaid, for every pound land of old extent, pertaining to them for everie one of the saids six termes payment. Within twentie dayes next after they be charged thereto, under the paine of rebellion, &c. And if they faile, &c. To denounce and escheat, &c. And if need bee, that the saids Sheriffs, Stewarts, Baillies, their Deputes and Clerks, Chamberlanes, and receivers of our Sovereigne Lords proper lands, poynd and distrenyie the readiest goods and geate being upon the saids lands therefore, as they shall think most expedient. And that the saids Earles, Lords, Barons and Free-holders, Fewars, and Renttallers of our Sovereigne Lords proper Lands have letters for their reliefe, to charge their Vassals, Sub-vassals, Ladies of Terce, Conjoint-feeats, and Life-rentets, to make payment of their parts of the said Taxation, within twentie dayes next after the charge, under the paine of rebellion, &c. And if they faile, &c. To denounce, &c. And escheat, &c. And if need bee, that they poynd, and distrenyie therefore. Providing alwaies, that the first termes payment of the said Taxation be ever past, before the next terme be charged for. AND for inbringing of the Burrowes part of the same taxation, ordains letters to be directed, charging the Provost and Baillies of ilk Burgh, to make payment payment of the tax and stent thereof, to the Collector general aforesaid, his Deputies and Officers in his name, having his power to receive the same at the particular terms above-specified, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. And if they failie, &c. To denounce and escheat, &c. And for their relief, that letters be direct, charging the Provest, Bailiffs, and Council within each Burgh, to convene and elect certain persons to stent their neighbours. And the said election being made, to charge the persons elected, to accept the charge upon them, in setting of the said stent upon the inhabitants of every burgh, and to convene and set the same, and make a stent roll thereupon, as effectors, within twenty four hours next after their charge, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. And if they failie, &c. To denounce, and escheat, &c. And such like, the said stent Roll being made and set down, as said is, To charge the Burghesses, Indwellers, and Inhabitants within each burgh, to make payment of their part of the said stent, to the said Provest and Bailiffs, conform to the tax roll to be given out thereupon, within threedayes next after the charge, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. And if they failie, &c. To denounce, &c. and escheat, &c. And if need be, that the said Provest and Bailiffs poynd and distrenie therefore, as they shall think most expedient. IT IS alwayes provided, that no person whatsoever be stented or taxt within burgh, except according to the avails, and quantity of his rent, living, goods, and gearre, which he hath within Burgh: no wayes respecting his lands, nor possessions, which he hath to Landward; for the which he will be obliged to pay taxation to other Officers. Providing alwayes, that the first terms payment of the said taxation be ever past, before the next terme be charged for.

AT T O U R, His Majesty, and his saids Estates decerne and declare, that the charges to be given for payment of the said Taxation, shall be executed before the terms of payment above-specified, for every tetras payment particularly by it self: And that the denunciation of horning following thereupon, shall not be execute untill the termes payment be by-past, and twenty dayes thereafter. Which denunciation so following, upon the charges given before the saids termes of payment, His Majesty and Estates decerne and declare, to be valid and sufficient.

And his Majesty, and the saids Estates considering the great abuse which hath been used in all time by-gone, by sundry of the Lieges of this Kingdom, against all good conscience, in causing of their poor Farmerers, Tenants, and Labourers of the ground being removable, who are subject in payment of very deare Fermes and other duties, to relieve them of the whole burden of by-gone taxations, which hath been the occasion of impoverishing a number of the saids Farmerers, labourers, and tenants, and bringing of them to utter wrack and ruine, whereas of reason they should be altogether free from payment of any Taxations, And the same should be payed by such as have free rents, lands, and goods of their owne. FOR REMEDIE whereof, it is statute and ordained that no persons whatsoever exact or compel, his tenants, or farmerers removeable, who payes ferme, and other deare duties for the lands occupied by them, to pay any part of this present Taxation, or to seek relief at their hands of the same. And if the same be found done by any persons, that they shall be called and convened therefore, before his Majesties Justice, and his Deputes, or before his Majesties Council as violent and Masterful oppressors of his Majesties subjects, and punished therefore according to Justice.

AND FURTHER, the saids Estates, beside the ordinary taxation above-written, have for the space of six yeares next, and immediatly following the terme of Martinmasse, 1634. yeares, freely and voluntarily granted to his Majesty a yearly extraordinary taxation of the sixteenth penny of all annual rents, which any person or persons within this Kingdom hath freely due and payable unto them, yearly and termly, (their own annual rents, wherein they are adebted to others being first deduced.) The first termes payment whereof shall be, and begin at the said Feast and terme of Martinmasse, 1634. yeares: and so forth yearly and termly at Martinmasse and Whitunday, untill the said six yeares or twelve termes payment thereof be fully and completely out-run. And whereas his Majesty and Estates have by act of Parliament authorized all and sundry heretable Sheriffs, Stewarts, Bailiffs, and Bailiffs of Regalities, and their Deputes, and the Provests and Bailiffs of free Burrowes within the bounds of their jurisdictions, as likewise the Clerks within the jurisdictions where these Offices are not heretable: which Clerks have their Offices (advitam) To collect the said extraordinary taxation, and to make payment thereof to the Collector general of the same taxation. T H E R E F O R E, and for inbringing of the said extraordinary taxation, Ordains Letters to be direct, charging all and sundry the saids heretable Sheriffs, Stewards, Bailiffs, Bailiffs of Regalities, and their Deputes and Clerks, and the saids Provests and Bailiffs of free Burrowes, and their Clerks: as likewise the Clerks within the jurisdictions where these Offices are not heretable, that they and every one of them by North the water of Dee within the space of fifteen dayes after every terme of Martinmasse & Whitunday: And that they & every one of them, by south the water of Dee, within the space of ten dayes after every terme of Martinmasse & Whitunday, deliver to His Majesties said Collector general, a true & just accompt & inventar of the whole summes of Money due to be payed by any person within the bounds of their jurisdiction, for his part of the said extraordinary taxation, And that they give up the same compt and inventar upon their Oath, solemnly sworne, that the same is just and true: And to make payment to His Majesties said Collector general, or to his Deputes in his name, having his power to receive the same, of the whole moneys due to be payed to his Majesty, conform to the said compt and inventar, within twenty dayes after each terme, under the pain of Rebellion. And in case the saids Sheriffs, Stewards warts, Bailiffs, Bailiffs of Regalities, their Deputes and Clerks failyc, &c. To denounce and escheat, &c. FOR WHOSE RELIEF that letters be direct, charging all and sundry the saids annual-renters, to make payment to the saids Sheriffs, Stewards, Bailiffs, Bailiffs of Regalities, their Deputes and Clerks, Provests and Bailiffs of Free Burrows, of the said sixteenth pennie of all annual-rents, free due and payable to them, within twentie dayes next after the Charge, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. And if they failyc, &c. To denounce, &c. And if need be, that the saids Sheriffs, Stewards, Bailiffs of Regalities, Clerks, Provests, and Bailiffs of Free Burrows, poynd and distrenye therfore, as they shall think most expedient.

AND HIS MAJESTIE and the saids Estates, ordaine the Lords of Session, to be only Judges to all suspensions to be craved and suted by any of our Sovereigne Lords Lieges, touching the saids taxations; Which suspensions, the saids Estates finde may be granted upon lawful and equitable reasons to be considered by them: And discharge all other Judges within this Kingdome, of granting of any suspensions thereanent. With power to the saids Lords, To delegate five at the least of their ordinary number, as they shall think expedient, To sit, cognosce, and decide the saids suspensions, in time of Vacance, if need be. And likewise, to depute Commissioners for trying and judging of concealments, with als ample and full power to be given to them, as the saids Lords of Session, by vertue of this present Act, have.

ACT III.

Anent his Majesties Royal Prerogative, and Apparel of Kirkmen.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advice, consent, and assent of the whole Estates, acknowledging his Majesties Sovereigne Authoritie, Princely power, Royal Prerogative, and Priviledge of his Crown, over all Estates, Persons, and Causes whatsoever within this Kingdome, Ratifies and approves the Act of Parliament, made in the year 1606. anent the Kings Royal Prerogative, and perpetually confirms the same, for his Highnes, his Heires and Successors, als amply, absolutely and freely in all respects, as ever any of his Majesties Royal Progenitors did possesse, and exercise the same. And withal remembring, that in the Act of Parliament made in the year, 1609. anent the Apparel of Judges, Magistrates, and Kirk-men: IT WAS agreed, That what order soever his Majesties Father of blessed Memorie should prescribe for the apparel of Kirkmen, and send in Writ to his Clerk of Register, should bee a sufficient Warrant for inserting the same in the Bookes of Parliament, to have the strength of ane Act thereof: HAVE all consented, that the same Power shall remaine with the Person of Our Sovereigne Lord, and His Successors that now is, And with the same clause for execution thereof, as in the said Act is contained.

ACT IV.

Ratification of the Acts Touching Religion.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advice and consent of the Estates, ratifies and approves all and whatsoever acts and statutes made before, anent the libettie and freedome of the true Kirk of God, and Religion presently professed within this Realme, And ordaines the same to stand in their full force and effect, as if they were specially mentioned, and set down herein.

ACT V.

Ratification of the Act of Council anent Plantation of Schooles.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with the Advice of the States, ratifies the Act of Secret Council, dated at Edinburgh the tenth day of December, one thousand, six hundred, and sixteen years, made anent the planting of schooles, with this addition, That the Bishops in their several Visitations shall have power with consent of the Heritors and most part of the Parishoners, And if the Heritor being lawfully warned refuses to appeare; Then with consent of the most part of the parishoners, to set down and stent upon every Plough or Husband-land, according to the worth, for maintenance and establishing of the saids Schooles. And if any person shall find himselfe grieved, it shall be lawful to him to have recourse to the Lords of Secret Council, for redresse of any prejudice he may or doth sustain. And ordaine letters to be direct for charging of the possessours for the time, to answer and obey the Schoole-masters of the duties that shall be appointed in manner foresaid.

ACT VI.

Against the Inverting of Pious Donations.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With the Advice of the Estates, understanding that certaine persons piously disposed, have of late bestowed certaine gifts in Lands, Heritages, and summes of money in favours of Colledges, Schooles, Hospitals, and other pious uses, which by the Administratours, and such others as they have entrusted with the managing thereof; are inverted to other uses then the Will of the disponer, upon some specious pretences, contrarie or different from the Disposers intention, to the evill example of others, and the hinderance of such and the like charitable works, against all reason and conscience. THEREFORE It is statute and ordained, thait it shall no-waies be lawful to alter, change or invert any of the saids gifts, legacies, and other pious donations, to any other use then that specifick use whereunto they are destinare by the disponer himselfe. And that the Heires, Executots, or others entrusted with the saids gifts and legacies shall be comptable for the same, to the use of the Kirkes, Colledges, and others to whom the saids dispositions were made: And that actions shall be competent either to the saids Kirkes, Colledges, and others, to whom the same were disposed, or to the Bishops and ordinaries within the Diocesses where the saids Kirkes, Schooles, and others above-specified lye, for compelling them to apply the same to the true use, And to make compt and payment of the ordinarie profits of everie years intromission, at the rate allowed by the Lawes of the Realme, by and attour the fulfilling of the Disposers Will. And this Act to be extended to all Dispositions made at any time since the majoritie of King JAMES the Sixth, or to be made hereafter in all time comming, And that letters of Horning be direct at their instance, by deliverance of the Lords of Session without citation of parties.

ACT VII.

Agent Invading of Ministers.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with the advice of the Estates, ratifies and approves the Act of Parliament made in the year of God one thousand, five hundred, fourescore and seven yeares, anent the Invaders of Ministers, with this explanation and addition, Thar whosoever invades any Minister, or puts any violent hands on him, by themselves, their men, tenants, servants, or any others by their hounding out, direction or allowance, for whatsoever cause or occasion; whirher the same be for the cause contained in the said Act, or for any other cause, otherwise then by order of Law; or doth offer violence to them, shall incur the like paine as is contained in the said Act, and shall be judged after the forme and manner therein prescribed. And declares, that the same shall be extended to all Arch-bishops, Bishops, and Ministers whatsoever, having power by lawful warrant to preach, and administer the Sacraments: And because the malice of some is such, that the invasion and violence foresaid may be committed by lawlesse and unresponsal men, the hounders out of whom cannot be gotten detected; so as the benefite of this Act, and the indemnitie, of the said Church-men & their foresaids may be frustrate. THEREFORE it is statute and ordained, That the Land-lords, and Heritors, and chiefe of Clanus, and others in whose bounds the saids offenders dwell, or haunt ordinarlie, shall be holden, upon the complaint of the partie offended to the Lords of His Majesties Secret Council, to exhibite and produce the saids malefactors before the saids Judges, to be censured and punished corporally, or otherwise in their estates, if they be responsal at the discretion of the saids Judges. And if it shall happen the saids offenders to absent and remove themselves out of the bounds of the saids Heritors and Land-lords, and others on whom they depend, so that the saids Land-lords, Heritors, and others foresaids, may pretend that it is not in their power to exhibite the foresaids delinquents: Therefore it is statute, thar if after the giving in of the said complaint before the saids Judges, and certiorating of the saids Land-lords, and others foresaid, either by citation, charge, or intimation, or any other Legal manner of way, if the saids delinquents shall be found within the bounds of the saids Land-lords, and others foresaids, haunting publicly and openly by the space of ten dayes; That then and in that case the saids Land-lords, and others foresaid, shall be esteemed as connivers with the delinquents, and be obliged under the like censure and punishment, to exhibite them to the Council.

ACT VIII.

Of Ratification of the Act of Commission anent the Ministers Provisions.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With the advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, ratifies and approves the Act of Commission of Surrenders and Teinds, of the date at Holy-rud-house the twentic sixth day of June, the yeare of God 1627. yeares, whereof the Tenor follows. The Commissioners after after reasoning upon the lowest proportion and provision, wherewith the Ministrie serving the Cure at each Kirke, shall be provided. Have found it meet and expedient, that the lowest proportion shall be eight Chalders of victual, where victual is payed, or proportionally in silver or victual, as the Commissioners shall appoint, at the settling of the Kirke, and according to the Estate of that part of the Countrey, where the payment of the stipend shall occurre. And thinke it meet, that the said proportion of eight Chalders of victual, or proportionally in silver, as said is, shall be the lowest maintenance to each Kirke, except such particular Kirkes occurre, wherein there shall be a just, reasonable, and expedient cause to goe beneath the quantitie now determined.

AND His Majestie, and Estates forefaids, referre to the Commissioners to be chosen by his Majestie, at this present Parliament. The consideration of the reasons and causes, which may move them (after the valuation of the true worth of the Teinds of ilke Parish be closed) To determine and modifie a lesse quantitie for the Ministers maintenance, nor the quantitie forefaide of eight Chalders of victual, or eight hundred markes in victual or money proportionally. And what the saids Commissioners shall determine therein, the same to stand notwithstanding of this present Ratification: And also his Majestie and Estates ratifie and approve the whole particular Acts of the said Commission of Surrenders and Teinds, whereby stipends are appointed and modified by the saids Commissioners alreadye. And ordaine the Ministers to whom the same is assigned, to have intromission therewith: And that the Lords of Session direct letters of horning and poynding, in favour of the said Ministers conforme thereto upon one simple charge of ten dayes allennerly. And also upon all other Acts to be made for plantation of Kirks by the Commissioners appointed by his Majestie and Estates for that effect. And it is declared, that these presents shall be without prejudice to the titulars and others having interest to pursue for rectifying of such valuations, as are or shall be enormely undervalued, and also without prejudice of the Ministers maintenance and augmentation proportionally effecting to the true and just worth of the Teind. &c.

A C T IX.

The Kings General Revocation.

FORSOMUCH As OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, the Kings Majestie, shortly after the decease of his Majesties unwhyle dearest Father, King JAMES the sixt, of ever blessed memorie, for preserving of the libertie and priviledge due to his Majestie by the common Law, and by the Acts and statutes of the Kingdome; And following the laudable custome used before by his Majesties Predecessours; in making of their Revocations: Did upon the twelfth day of October; 1625. make and give forth his General Revocation under his Privie Seale, as the same, in the selfe, at more length beares: AND HIS MAJESTIE being now present in his Royal person, within this Kingdome, and having by Gods grace, favour, and blessing, and with the General acclamation, joy, and comfort of his Subjects, accepted the Crown thereof, wherein he is gloriously inaugurate, and now holding the first Parliament of his whole Estates of the said Kingdome, with whom his Majestie hath advised and resolved anent the said Revocation. Therefore his Majestie, with consent of the three Estates, and whole body of this present Parliament, hath statute, enacted, and ordained, and by these presents, statutes, enacts and ordaines in manner following.

IN the first, his Majestie and whole Estates of Parliament revokes, casses, and annuls all Infeittments, Charters, Precepts, Confirmations, Alienations, Gifts, Donations, Rights, Securities, and other Dispositions whatsoever, of any Rents, Lands, Lordships, Baronies, Heritages, Teinds, Patronages of Kirks, Offices, Priviledges, and others whatsoever annexed to the principality, or to the Prince, who is second person of the Realme, made, conveyed, signed, or consented unto by his Majesties selfe in his minority and lesse age, or by his Majesties unwhyle dearest Father, for himselfe, as Prince of Scotland; or as Father and lawful administrator to his Majestie, or to unwhyle Prince Henrie his Majesties Brother, of worthie memorie, or by the said unwhyle Prince Henrie himselfe, or made and granted by his Majesties said unwhyle dearest Father; or any other his Majesties predecessors, Kings of Scotland, in their times, to what soever person or persons, in hurt and prejudice of the Prince, second person forefaide: or made and granted by his Majestie at any time preceeding the date hereof, unlawfully, and against the lawes of the Kingdome, the same being tried and found to be so.

ITEM. His Majestie with consent of the said Estates, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds, all and sundrie Infeittments, grants, dispositions, confirmations, and other rights whatsoever, made by his Majestie induring his Minority and lesse age, to whatsoever person, or persons, in fee, frank-tenement or otherwise, of the lands, Kirks, Teinds, patronages, offices, and others pertaining to the Lordship of Dunfermling, to the which his Majestie succeeded as onely Son and Heire, to his Majesties unwhyle dearest Mother Queene Anna, who was heritably Infeitt in the said Lordship of Dunfermling. And sick-like, revokes all gifts, alienations, dispositions, and other rights whatsoever, made by his Majestie, or his said dearest Mother, unlawfully, and against the Lawes of the Kingdome, of the said Lordship, or of any lands, teinds, offices, Kirks, patronages, and others pertaining to the said Lordship, at any time preceeding the date hereof, the same being so found and verified before the ordinary Judge.

ITEM,

ITEM, His Majestie and Estates foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds all and sundrie Infestments, charters, gifts, donations, confirmations, alienations, pensions and other dispositions whatsoever made, conveyed, signed, or consented unto by his Majestie, or by his Majesties umwhile dearest Father, or by any other his Majesties Predecessors in their severall times, to whatsoever person or persons, in any manner of way, in fee, few-ferme, frank-tenement or otherwise whatsoever, of any lands, rents, Lordships, Barronies, Patronages of Kirks, customes, annualls, fishings, liberties of fishings, burrow-mails, other rents, Castle-wards, or other whatsoever annex to the Crowne, offices of Justiciary, Stewarrie, and Bailliarie, within the same appertaining there-unto, contrarie to the Acts of annexation made there-upon of before. And where lawful dissolution of the said annexation was not made by his Majestie, his said umwhile dearest Father, and his saids predecessors, Kings of Scotland, in their majoritie, with consent of the three Estates of Parliament, in their severall times, for setting of the same in few-ferme, with augmentation of the rental: To the effect the same may be of none avails in time coming, after the date hereof, by way of action, exception, or reply.

ITEM, His Majestie with consent foresaid, revokes, annuls, retreats, and rescinds all infestments, donations, alienations, and other dispositions whatsoever made by his Majestie, or his said umwhile dearest Father, either in their Minoritie to their hurt and lesion, or in their Majoritie against the Lawes and Acts of Parliament, to whatsoever person, or persons, of whatsoever lands, rents, annualls, and renews not annex to the Crown, whereof his Majesties umwhile dearest Grand-mother Queen Mary, was in possession before the Coronation of his Majesties umwhile dearest Father of happy memorie. And of all offices, such as Chamberlanaries, Bailliarics, office of Customarie made for moe yeares, but from the Exchequer, till the compt be made in the Exchequer following, Constableries, Bailliarics, Tackes and rentals of his Majesties proper lands and rents, above the space of five yeares, made and granted contrary and against the Lawes and Acts of Parliament of the Kingdome, the same being so found and tryed.

ITEM, His Majestie with consent of the Estates, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds, all and whatsoever Infestments, rentals, and other rights whatsoever of any part of the annex property, or of the few-fermes of whatsoever proper lands annex to his Majesties Crowne, made to whatsoever person by his Majestie, or his umwhile dearest Father; or any other his Majesties predecessors, which are made in diminution of the rental, and hurt of the patrimonie of the Crowne, where the diminution may be proved and verified.

ITEM, His Majestie revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds all and whatsoever Infestments, alienations, and dispositions, made by his Majestie, or by his umwhile dearest Father, or any other his Majesties Noble Progenitors, of the few-ferme vidual of any lands pertaining to the Crowne; which were lawfully set in few of before, for payment of the few-ferme vidual: and the same few-ferme vidual is set thereafter in few, or otherwise for silver payment; because such a set or few-ferme being so found and tryed, is clearly understood to be to the great abuse, hurt, and diminution of His Majesties Patrimonie and rent.

ITEM, His Majestie revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds all Infestments, alienations, and dispositions, with all tackes, and assedations, and any other sort of conveyances whatsoever made by his Majestie, or his Majesties dearest Father, or any other His Majesties Predecessors, Kings of Scotland, against the Lawes of the Kingdome, to whatsoever persons, of his Majesties Castles, and Houses, or Places, and Roomes, whereupon the saids Castles and houses were situat, although now demolished by injury done to his Majestie and the said Crown. And sicklike, all Infestments, alienations, and dispositions, and all other sort of conveyances whatsoever, of any of his Majesties medowes, woods, and parks, with all tackes, assedations, and other dispositions thereof, made by his Majestie or his Predecessors foresaid, against the Lawes of the Kingdome, The same being so found and tryed.

ITEM, His Majestie, revokes, retreats, and rescinds all and sundrie Infestments, alienations, gifts, dispositions, or any other conveyances, whatsoever made by his Majesties said umwhile dearest Father, or any other his Majesties Predecessors, Kings of Scotland, induring their minoritie and lesse age, and not thereafter confirmed in their majoritie, to whatsoever person or persons in few-ferme or life-rent, of all lands, and annuall-rents which become in their hands, as propertie by right of the Crowne, through bastardrie, or being last Heire by recognition, or forfaulture, or otherwise with all confirmations, if any be granted in Parliament thereupon: providing that presentation to tennandries fallen by occasion foresaid, shall in no wayes come under this present Revocation, because the same being casualities, could not remaine in his Majestie, or his saids predecessors hands, in prejudice of the Superior of the saids tennandries, but of necessitie it behoved them to present heritable Tennants to the saids Superiours.

ITEM, His Majestie, with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, all new Infestments, confirmations, and other conveyances whatsoever given by his Majesties said umwhile dearest Father, or any other His Majesties predecessors, Kings of Scotland; to whatsoever person or persons, of any Lands, Baronies, Lordships, or other Heritages whatsoever: To be holden in blensh ferme, which were holden of his Majestie or his Predecessors of before, by service of ward and reliefe. And that in so farre as the same is, or may be found and verified, to have beene granted against the Lawes and Acts of Parliament of the Kingdome, without prejudiciall wayes to the heritable possessors, in case of reduction of their changed tenors nors to brooke and hold their said lands heritable, as they were holden before the alteration of the said holding.

ITEM, His Majestie with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds all Regalities and gifts of Regalities, and all confirmations, and ratifications of the said gifts and regalities, made, given, or granted, or consented to by his Majestie, or his said umwhile dearest Father, or any other his Majesties Predecessors, Kings of Scotland, against the Acts and statutes, that no Regalities should be given in heritage, without advice & deliberation of the whole Parliament, together with all charters, infestments, confirmations, gifts de novo damus: And other rights whatsoever, made by his Majestie or his Predecessors above-named, of whatsoever heritable offices, against the lawes and Acts of Parliament of the Kingdome.

ITEM, His Majestie with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds all new creation of lands, baronies, and annexations, and unions of divers lands in fee, which are made by his Majestie, or his said umwhile dearest Father, or any other of his Majesties Predecessors, Kings of Scotland, in prejudice of their due service owing of before: Together with all discharges given of the said service, and futes of court due of old: And that in so farre as the same is, or may be found to be unlawfully made or against the lawes of the Kingdome.

ITEM, His Majestie with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats and rescinds, all new Infestments, made and given by his Majestie, or his said umwhile dearest Father, or any other his Majesties Predecessors, Kings of Scotland, of creation of Baronies, and Lordships annex to the Crowne foresaid, in favour of whatsoever person, in so farre as the same is, or may be verified, to have beene made and granted unlawfully, and against the lawes of the Kingdome.

ITEM, His Majestie with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds all Infestments, gifts, and dispositions whatsoever, set, given and granted by his Majestie, or his said umwhile dearest Father, or any other his Majesties Predecessors, Kings of Scotland, to whatsoever person or persons in fee, few-ferme, or life-rent, of whatsoever Hospitals, Mafondieus, lands, or rents appertaining thereto: In hurt or prejudice of their consciences, and against the lawes and Acts of Parliament of the Kingdome, to the end, that the said Hospitals may be reduced to the first institution, for upholding of the poore, so farre as may be done by the lawes of the Kingdome. Providing alwayes, that the rents of the Trinitie Colledge beside the burgh of Edinburgh and other rents assigned to the Hospitall and Colledge erected by the Provost, Bayliffes, and Councel of the burgh of Edinburgh, be no wayes comprehended under this present Revocation.

ITEM, His Majestie with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls retreats, and rescinds all and whatsoever gifts, pensions, gifts of fees, wages, liveries, and dispositions out of his Majesties casualties, and coffers given by his Majestie, or by any of his Majesties noble Progenitors (except such as shall be of new granted by his Majestie againe) together with all Presentations to offices and places, which by the lawes of the Realme fall under his Majesties Revocation, excepting alwayes the presentations, fees, and pensions given to the ordinary officers of the Crowne after specified, their Deputes, and Clerkes, and to the other persons after mentionate, which are declared no wayes to fall within this present Revocation: They are to say, The fees and pensions given and assigned to the Thesaurer, Comptroller, and Collector principal: And to his Majesties depure Thesaurer, and to their Deputes and Clerkes: To the Secretary principal, and his Deputes: To the Clerke of Registery, to his Majesties Advocat, & the Justice, Justice-Clerke, and their Deputes, and to the Master of Requests, and to the proctor for the poore, director of the Chancellerie, and dictator of the Rolls. And also declares the pensions and others underwritten, no wayes to fall under his Majesties Revocation, viz. The pension to the Duk of Lennox, his umwhile Father or Uncle: The pension to the Earle of Morton, with the tacke and asseidation of Orkney and Zetland: The pension to sir Robert Ker of Ancrum: the pension to Mr. John Sandelands: The pension to sir James Lokart: The pension to sir James Livingston: The pension to sir William Balfour: The pension to Halbert Maxwell: The pension to sir James Carmichael: The pension to sir James Ramsay: And the pension to sir John Murray of Revilrige, which his Majestie and Estates declare shall stand in effect, notwithstanding of this present Revocation.

ITEM, His Majestie with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds all gifts, pensions, and free discharges of the thirds of benefices, granted by his Majestie, or his said umwhile dearest Father, or any other his Majesties Predecessors, Kings of Scotland, to whatsoever person or persons, against the lawes and Acts of Parliament of the Kingdome, with all tacks of thirds of benefices whereby the rentall due is diminished, or where the whole benefice is set and disposed in diminution of the third thereof, in so farre as the same is contrarie to the lawes of the Kingdome, as said is.

ITEM, His Majestie with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds all and whatsoever Infestments made by his Majestie or his said umwhile dearest Father, or any other his Majesties predecessors, of any Church-lands, Fryer-lands, Monk-lands, or common-lands, which any wayes fell, and became in their hands as propertie, and that in so far, as the same is, or may be verified to be made contrary, and against the lawes and Acts of Parliament of the Kingdome, reserving alwayes the infestment made for erection and sustentation of Hospitals, and Ministers within burrows, where there is no assignation assignation nor stipend allowed forth of the thirds of benefices, for sustentation of the Ministers thereof: And declares that all such Infeftments of church-lands as is before exprired, falls under this revocation, if the person or persons, and their successors, to whom the same have been disposed, have not answered and performed the cause and ends expressed in the saids Infeftments, and for the which the saids Infeftments was granted by his Majestie and his predecessors, as said is.

IT E M, His Majestie with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats and rescinds all tackes, assedations whatsoever of any common Churches within the Realme of Scotland, made by his Majestie, or his said umwhile dearest Father, or any other his Majesties Predecessors, Kings of Scotland, in so far as the same is or may be found and verified to be made against the Lawes and Acts of Parliament of the Kingdome: Providing alwaies, that there shall be sufficient Ministers appointed to serve the saids Churches, who shall make residence, and shall be sufficiently sustained of the readiest fruits of the saids common Kirkes, according to the general order taken thereanent.

IT E M, His Majestie, with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats and rescinds all gifts of Monkes portions, first fruits or silt penny of any benefices, whereunto His Majestie hath right by the Acts of Parliament made before to that end, And that in so farre as the saids gifts are or may be found to be granted against the Lawes of the Kingdome.

IT E M, His Majestie, with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats and rescinds all gifts and Infeftments, made, done, and consented unto, to whatsoever person or persons by His Majestie, or his Majesties said umwhile dearest Father, or any other his Majesties predecessors, Kings of Scotland, of whatsoever advocation, donation, and right of Patronage given or annexed to any Lordships, Lands or Baronie where the said Patronage, Advocation and donation of benefice pertained not before of right, but which taketh the beginning and ground from any gift and Infeftment thereof made with this clause (de novo damus) where the purchaser of the said infeftment had no right to the said Patronage, Advocation and Donation of before. And that in so farre as the same is or may be found to be granted against the Lawes and Acts of Parliament of the Kingdome.

IT E M, His Majestie, with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats and rescinds all gifts, dispositions of superplus omitted of the fruits of benefice, given by his Majestie, his said umwhile dearest Father or any other his Majesties Predecessors, Kings and Queens of Scotland, in so farre as the same is or may be found and verified to be granted against the Lawes and Acts of Parliament of the Kingdome.

IT E M, his Majestie, with consent of the Estates, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats and rescinds all grants and infeftments of erections, of whatsoever Abbacie or other Prelacie, in whole or in part, Temporalitie or Spiritualitie thereof, made and granted, or consented unto by his Majestie at any time preceeding the date hereof, to and in favour of whatsoever person or persons, and declares the same null and of none avail, by way of action, exception, or reply, and als his Majestie and Estates, revoke all infeftments of Erections made and granted by his Majesties said umwhile dearest Father, or any of his Majesties predecessors Kings or Queens of Scotland, of whatsoever Abbacie, Priorie, Nunnerie, Preceptorie, or any other Erected benefice whatsoever, of whatsoever nature, qualitie or condition whereof the presentation should pertain to his Majestie, if the same were not erected in a Temporal Baronie, Lordship, or Living, or of any part or pendicle thereof, either Spiritualitie or Temporalitie of the same to and in favour of whatsoever person or persons, And that in so farre as the same is, or may be verified to be granted, against the general Lawes and Acts of Parliament of the Kingdome. And to that effect revokes, casses, and annuls, retreats and rescinds all Acts, statutes, and dissolutions of any of the saids erected benefices, Lands or Teinds of the same, whereupon the saids infeftments of erections are, or have been founded: And that in so farre as the same is or may be found and verified to be contrarie to the general Lawes, Acts of Parliament, and statutes of the Kingdome, as said is.

AND, generally his Majestie, with consent foresaid, revokes, casses, annuls, retreats, and rescinds all Acts, constitutions, dispositions, grants, conveyances, ratifications, and all other things whatsoever done or consented unto by his Majestie at any time preceeding the date hereof, or by his umwhile dearest Father, or any other his Majesties predecessors, Kings and Queens of Scotland, in detriment of their soule and conscience: in hurt and detriment of the Crowne and Church, and contrarie to the Lawes and Actsof Parliament of the Kingdome. And wils and declares, that these presents shall be als amply extended, and to be of als great effect in general and special, as any revocation made by any of his Majesties Royal Predecessors before the date hereof, contained in the bookes of Parliament, which in all heads, clauses, and circumstances thereof are holden as here repeated.

AND also his Majestie, with consent of the Estates, ordaines and decetnes, that albe it shall happen his Majestie for any respect or consideration, to suffer any person or persons, to use or possesse any priviledges or possessions, lands, rents, offices, which are fallen under the compasse hereof, That it shall make no right to the users and holders thereof, but it shall be lawful to his Majestie and his successors to intromit therewith, when ever it shall please them by vertue of these present Acts and consuetudes of the Realme made before, without any obstacle, impediment or contradiction.

ACT X.

Anent Annexation of His Majesties Propertie.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advice and consent of the Estates of this present Parliament, ratifies and approves the whole acts of annexation of whatsoever Lands, Lordships, and Baronies annex to the Crown by his Majesties unwhyle Father, or any other his Majesties Predecessors. And farther, his Majestic and Estates foresaids, and without derogation of the former annexations, of new annexes the same to the Crown; to remaine there-with for ever according to the conditions and provisions contained in the former Acts of annexation of Lands to the Crown; and specially of the Act of annexation made in the dayes of King James the second, in the Moneth of August, 1455.

AT TOWR, His Majestic with consent foresaid, declares the right and title of Superioritie, Of all and fundrie, Lands, Baronies, Milnes, Woods, Fishings, Towers, Fortalices, Manour-places, and whole pertinents thereof, pertaining to whatsoever Abbacies, Pryories, Pryoresses, Preceptories, and whatsoever other Benefices of whatsoever Estate, Degree, Title, Name, or Designation the same be of, erected in Temporal-Lordships, Baronies, or livings, before or after the general Act of annexation of Kirk-lands, made in the Moneth of July, 1587. yeares: together with the whole Few-mails, Few-fermes and other rents and duties of the saids superiorities To be annexed, and to remaine with the Crown for ever: Reserving to such Lords and Titulars of Erections, and each one of them, who have subscribed the general surrender, the Few-mails, and Few-fermes of their saids superiorities, aye and while they receive payment and satisfaction of the summe of a thousand markes, usual money of Scotland, for each chaldre of Few-ferme victual over-head, and for each hundreth markes of Few-mails, and for each hundreth markes worth of all other constant rent of the saids superiorities, not consisting in victual or money, and not being naked service of Vassals, according to the tenor of his Majesties general determination, and according to the conditions therein exprest: And reserving to them and to all other Titulars of Erektion, their propertie and proper lands to be holden of his Majestic and his Successors, in Few-ferme for payment of the Few-ferme duties, and other duties contained in the old infeftments made to them, their Predecessors, and authors before the said Act of annexation. Like-as his Majestic and Estates foresaid, findes and declares that all titulars of erektion without exception, shall hold their propertie and proper lands of his Majestic and his Successors, in Few-ferme, for payment of the Few-ferme duties contained in the infeftments granted to them and their foresaids, before the said Act of annexation, and no otherwise. And his Majestic and Estates declares all rights and deeds whatsoever, made and granted to whatsoever person or persons preceeding the date hereof, which may prejudice his Majestic and his Successors, in the peaceable brooking, enjoying, and possessing of the saids superiorities and Few-ferme duties above-specified (excepting and reserving as said is) To be null and of none avails, force nor effect by way of action, exception, or reply.

AND sikklike, his Majestic and Estates ratifies and approves the Acts of Parliament made by his Majesties said unwhyle dearest Father, of Eternal memorie: The fiftenth Parliament, Cap. 233. Intitulate, [Anent the annexation of the Kings annexed propertie.] Together with the 234. Act of the said Parliament, Intitulate [The annexed propertie may not be disponed, but in Few-ferme allanerly.] And also the 236. Act of the same Parliament, Intitulate [Disposition of the annexed propertie, made before the dissolution, or not conforme to the conditions thereof is null.] And sikklike, the 243. Act of the said fiftenth Parliament, Intitulate, [Anent ratifications or dispositions made in Parliament:] And ordaines the same to have full force and effect in all time coming. And declares all deeds done in contrary thereof, to be null and of none avails by way of action, exception, or reply. IT IS alwayes declared that under this present Act, nor no clause thereof, shall no wayes be comprehended the Temporal lands, superiorities, and others pertaining to whatsoever Arch-bishops, Bishops, and their Chaptors: but that the same shall remaine with them and their successors unhurt or prejudged by this present Act.

ACT XI.

OF DISSOLUTION.

FOR SO MUCH, As albeit the Lands, Lordships, Baronies, and others of old, are lately annex to the Crown, were and are, for great and weighty considerations, tending to the weale of the Crown and whole Realme, Ordained to remaine with OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and his Successors for ever. And not to be disposed nor annallied in fee nor life-rent, to whatsoever person or persons, without advice of the three Estates of Parliament, and for profitable and seene causes, tending to the weale of the whole Realme: Yet nevertheless, it hath been ever thought expedient in the dayes of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS most glorious Predecessors: And no wayes derogatorie to the conditions of the said annexations but agreeable thereto, as tending to the publique weale of the Crown and Kingdome; that the annex and proper lands should be set in Few-ferme for increase of policie and augmentation of the rental:

And his Majestie being well pleased to observe and follow the order kept by his Majesties Predecessors fore-said, anent his Majesties annexed propertie.

THEREFORE His Majestie with consent of his three Estates of Parliament, statutes and ordaines, that it shall be lawful to his Majestie enduring his time, to set all and sundrie lands, Baronies, Lordships, milnes, fishings, and other his Majesties proper lands both of the old and new annexed propertie, and of the temporallitie of Kirk-lands; in Few-ferme, so that it be not in diminution of his Majesties rental, gressumes, and other duties: but in augmentation thereof, providing alwayes that this present dissolution shall no-wayes be extended to the setting in Few-ferme of any of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORDS Castles, Palaces, Yards, Woods, Parks, Forrests, pastures for sheepe and nolt, and in special the Lommonds of Falkland, Coalheuchies, and Offices: But the same to remaine inseparablie annext to the Crown, notwithstanding of this present dissolution. And declares that this present dissolution shall endure for the lifetime of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, the Kings Majestie, who now is allancely. So that the Lands and other foresaids, which he sets in Few-ferme in his time, with the condition foresaid, shall stand perpetuallie, to and in favours of the receivers thereof, their Heirs and Successors, and after his decease, the annexations made at this present Parliament, and of before shall returne to their owne nature.

ACT XII.

Ratification of the Acts of Interruption.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of Parliament, ratifies and approves the Act of the Lords of Council and Session, of the date at Edinburgh, the penult of March, 1630. yeares: anent the interruption of the Act of prescription, in favour of his Majestie and his Successors, together with the Act of Secret Council, of the date at Holy-rude-house, the twentie sixth day of May, 1630. yeares. Whereby the saids Lords of Secret Council have allowed and approved the said Act: And ordaines the saids Acts to be insert in this present Ratification. And his Majestie and Estates declares the saids Acts to have the full force effect and execution of a law, statute and Act of Parliament, in favour of his Majestie and his Successors in all time coming.

Followeth the tenor of the Act of Council and Session.

AT EDINBURGH, the penult day of March, the year of God, 1630. yeares. The which day in presence of the Lords of Council and Session compared personally, Sir Thomas Hope of Craige-hal, Knight Baronet, his Majesties Advocat, and presented a letter directed from his Sacred Majestie, whereof the tenor followeth.

REX. Right trustie, and right wel-beloved Cousin and Counciller, and trusty and wel-beloved, We greet you well. Whereas by Act of Parliament made in the Moneth of June, 1617. yeares, all heritable rights cled with fourtie yeares possession, are declared to be introduceable in all time coming, except the same be quarrelled within the space of fourtie yeares: And by the same Act there is libertie granted to all persons, who might be prejudged by the said prescription of fourtie yeares already run and expired, before the date of the said Act, To intend their actions within the space of thirteen yeares after the date of the said Act: And whereas we, shortly after the decease of our dearest Father, of Eternal memorie, made our general Revocation in the Moneth of October, 1625. yeares. Which revocation we by two special Letters of declaration, one of the date at White-hal the twentie sixth day of Januarie, 1626. yeares: And registre in the Bookes of Secret Council the ninth of February, 1626. yeares. And ane other of the date at Wainstead, the eleventh of July, 1626. yeares: And registre in the Bookes of Secret Council upon the twentie one of July, 1626. yeares. Have restricted to the annulling of rights of the propertie of the Crown, as well annexed as unannexed, whereof accompt hath been made in Exchequer, and of the Principalitie unlawfully disposed by our Predecessors: against the Lawes and Acts then standing, and to the annulling of erections and other dispositions of whatsoever lands, teinds, Patronages, and Benefices formerly belonging to the Kirk, and since annext to the Crown. And of any other lands and Benefices mortified and devoted to pious uses: And of Regalities and heritable offices, and of the change from the ancient holding of ward and reliefe to blensh or taxt ward, since the year of God, 1540. yeares. And because, We were unwilling to enter in processe with our Subjects anent the premises; but rather desired to take a faire course with all such as would voluntarily treat with Us or our Commissioners there-anent.

THEREFORE We were pleased by our Commission of the date at White-hal the seventeenth day of January, 1627. yeares, to appoint certaine of our Nobilitie, Clergie, Gentrie, Barons, and Burrowes, to be commissioners, to treat and deal betwixt Us and our Subjects, anent the premises. And albeit the said Commission hath made a good progresse in the said matter of crection and teinds: and that a great number of

of our Subjects, having interest therein, have subscribed to us general submissions, whereupon, We have given forth our several determinations for the good of our Subjects, and establishing of the perpetual quietness, and peace of that our ancient Kingdome; Yet it is certaine that many of these who have interest in erections and teinds, lye forth, and have not subscribed the said general submissions. Like-as also the remanent points of our said commission anent the Patronage of Kirkes, rights, and inseiments of our Propertie, and Principallitie, Regalities, Heritable offices, and Changed tenours of holding in blensh or taxt-Wards, are nor as yet begun to be handled and treated, and cannot be possibly finished and closed, before the expiring of the time and yeares of interruption, allowed by the said Act. And because, We will not suffer our selfe or our Successors to be prejudged by delay of the execution of the said commission of the lawful actions competent to us and them, for reducing of such rights of the premises, to the which We have undoubted interest. And seeing a multitude cannot be commodiously summoned and warned personally, or at their dwelling places in so short time as is to run of the said time of prescription. THEREFORE and for preservation of our rights and actions competent to us and our Successors anent the premises, Necessary it is, that some solemne Act be done by us, to rectifie our will and resolution, to prosecute our said actions in the owne time, if the same be not taken away and removed by the said commission, which we think cannot be more properly and conveniently done, nor by inserting of this our declaration in your Bookes of Session, and directing of Letters of publication thereupon; certifying all our Lieges who have interest in the premises, by open proclamation at the Market-crosse of our Burgh of Edinburgh, and other places needfull, of this our pleasure, will, and declaration. And that the same be declared by you, to have the strength, force, vertue, and power of a legal and perfect interruption. AND THEREFORE, We require you immediately after the sight hereof, to cause insert these presents in your Bookes of Session, and to declare the same to have the force of a Legal and lawful interruption, and to direct Letters of publication thereupon, in forme as effectes. Which, not doubting you will doe, We bid you, farewell. From our Court at White-hall, the twenty ninth day of November, 1629. yeares. With the which Letter, Tenor, Contents, and desire thereof, after that the same with the Act of Parliament whereunto it is relative, was read in their whole presence; The saids Lords being well and ripely advised, and having considered the Justice and Equitie of his Majesties will and pleasure therein contained: they have ordained and ordaine the said letter and declaration therein contained, to be insert, and registrate in their Bookes of Sederunt: and ordaine Letters of publication to be direct and passe thereupon, certifying all his Majesties Lieges who have interest, by open Proclamation at the Market-crosse of Edinburgh, and other Market-crosses of the Kingdome, where the Lands, Baronies, and others underwritten lye: or where the persons and subjects dwell and remaine, against whom the said declaration is to have the effect of a Legal interruption, in manner following. AND by open Proclamation at the said Market-crosse of Edinburgh, Pier and Shore of Leith, for all such of his Majesties Lieges, who are forth of this Realme, Of his Majesties pleasure, will, and declaration, and of the saids Lords their decreet, and authoritie interponed thereto. Like-as the saids Lords declare, That the said declaration registrate, as said is, and to be published in manner foresaid, shall have the strength, force, and power of a Legal and perfect interruption, against all persons having interest: and that in so farre allannerly as may be extended to the particulars following: To wit, to his Majesties annexed propertie, and his Majesties propertie unannexed, whereof the fermes duties or Fewfermes have been computed in his Majesties Exchequer, since the Moneth of August, 1455. yeares, and unlawfully disposed by his Majesties Predecessors, against the Acts of Parliament and Lawes of the Kingdome: and to the principalitie unlawfully disposed by his Majesties Predecessors, against the Acts of Parliament and Lawes of this Kingdome, and to the reduction of whatsoever erections, of whatsoever benefices, spiritualitie or temporality thereof, against the Laws and Acts of Parliament: and to the reduction of whatsoever patronages of Kirkes pertaining to his Majestie and his Predecessors, and unlawfully disposed by them against the Acts of Parliament: and against unlawful dispositions of whatsoever lands, Teinds, or Rents doted to Hospitalities, or Mason-dieus, and unlawfully disposed against the Acts of Parliament: and against Regalities and heretable offices unlawfully disposed, contrarie the Acts of Parliament: and against all changed tenors of holding from ward to blensh or taxt ward, granted by the Kings and Princes in their minorities, and not granted or ratified by any King or Prince being Major: with this declaration, like-as the saids Lords declare, that the same shall not prejudice any person whatsoever of their lawfull defence competent to them, against any Action to be intended hereafter, at his Majesties instance and his Successors; except in so far as concerne the said Act of prescription, whereupon the saids Lords declare, that no exception shall be founded in prejudice of his Majestie and his Successors, concerning the premises.

Followeth the Tenor of the Act of Secret Council.

THE Which day, in presence of the Lords of Secret Council, compeared personally Sir Thomas Hope, of Craige-hall, Knight Baronet, his Majesties Advocat, and gave in the Act of Session underwritten, made in favour of his Majestie, anent the Interruption of the Act of prescription, and desired the same to be insert insert and registrate in the books of privie Council, and the Lords authority to be interponed thereto: Which Act of Session being read, heard, and considered by the said Lords, and they being there-with, and with the desire of the said Advocat well advised: The Lords of Secret Councell thinke the course and order taken by the said Lords of Session for interrupting of the said Act of prescription, to be just and reasonable: And therefore, they ordaine the said Act of Session to be insert and registrate in the bookes of privie Council, whereof the tenor followeth.

At Edinburgh, the penult day of March, the yeare of God, 1630 yeares: The which day in presence of the Lords of Councell compared personally Sir Thomas Hope of Craige-hall, Knight Baronet, his Majesties Advocat, and presented a Letter direct from his sacred Majestic, whereof the tenor followeth.

CHARLES REX: Right trustie, and right well-beloved Cousin, and Counciller, and right trustie and well-beloved, We greet you well. Whereas by Act of Parliament made in the moneth of June, 1617 yeares, All heritable rights cled with fourtie yeares possession, are declared to be irreduceable in all time coming, except the same be quarrelled within the space of fourtie yeares: And by the same Act there is libertie granted to all persons, who might be prejudged by the said prescription of fourtie yeares already run and expired before the date of the said Act; To intend their actions within the space of thirteene yeares after the date of the said Act. And whereas We, shortly after the decease of our dearest Father of eternal memorie, made our general revocation in the moneth of October, 1625. Which revocation we by two special Letters of declaration, one of the date at White-hall the twenty sixth day of January, 1626 yeares, And registrate in the bookes of our secret Council the ninth day of February, 1626 yeares; And another of the date at Wainsseed the eleventh day of July, 1626 yeares, and registrate in the bookes of our secret Council upon the twentie one day of July, 1626 yeares; Have restricted to the annulling of rights of the propertie of our Crowne, as well annexed as unannexed, whereof accompt hath beene made in our Exchequer; And of the principality unlawfully disposed by our Predecessors against the lawes and Acts then standing; And to the annulling of erections and other dispositions of whatsoever lands, teinds, patronages, and benefices formerly belonging to the Kirke, and since annexed to the Crowne; And of any other lands and patronages, which any wayes should justly belong to the Kirke or Crowne; and of whatsoever lands and benefices mortified and devoted to pious uses; And of Regalities and heritable offices; And of the change of holdings from the ancient holding of ward and reliefe to blenish and taxt ward, since the yeare of God, 1540 yeares. And because We were unwilling to enter in processe with our Subjects anent the premisses, but rather desired to take a faire course with all such as would voluntarily treat with Us or our commissioners there-anent.

THEREFORE We were pleased by our commission of the date at White-hall the seventeenth day of January, 1627 yeares; To appoint certain of our Nobilitie, Clergie, Gentry, Barons, and Burrowes, to be commissioners to treat and deal betwixt Us and our Subjects, in the premisses. And albeit the said commission hath made a good progresse in the said matter of erections and teinds, and that a great number of our subjects having interest therein, have subscribed unto us generall submissions, whereupon We have given forth our several determinations for the good of our subjects, and establishing the perpetual quietnesse and peace of that our ancient Kingdome; Yet it is certain, that many of these who have interest in erections and teinds, lye forth, and have not subscribed the said general submissions: Like-as also the remanent points of our said commission anent the patronage of Kirks, rights, inletsments of our Propertie and Principallitie, Regalities, Heritable offices, and Changed tenour of holdings in blenish, or taxt Wards, are not as yet begun to be handled and treated, and cannot possibly be finished and closed, before the expiring of the time and yeares of the interruption allowed by the said Act. And because we will not suffer our self nor our successors to be prejudged, by delay of the execution of the said commission, of the lawful actions competent to Us and them for reducing such rights of the premisses, unto the which we have undoubted interest; And seeing a multitude cannot be commodiously summoned and warned personally, and at their dwelling places, in so short time as is to run of the said time of prescription: Therefore, and for preservation of our rights and actions competent to Us and our successors anent the premisses, necessarie it is, that some solemn Act be done by Us, to testifie our will and resolution, to prosecute our said actions in the owne time, if the same be not taken away and removed by the said commission, which we thinke cannot be more properly and conveniently done, nor by inserting of that our declaration in your books of Session, and directing of Letters of publication thereupon; Certifying all our Lieges who have interest in the premisses, by open proclamation at the market crosse of Edinburgh, and other places needful, of that our pleasure, and declaration: And that the same be declared by you, to have the strength, force, power, and vertue of a legall and perfect interruption. And therefore, We require you immediately after the sight hereof, to cause insert the premisses in your books of Session; and to declare the same to have the force of a legall and lawful interruption, and to direct Letters of publication thereupon, in forme as effect is Which not doubting you will doe, We bid you fare-well. From our court, at White-hall, the twentie ninth day of November, 1629 yeares. with the Which Letter, tenor, contentes, and desire thereof, after the same with the Act of Parliament whereunto it is relative, were read in their whole presence, The said Lords being well and ripe advised, and having considered the justice and equitie of his Majesties will and declaration contained therein, They have ordained, and ordaine the said letter and declaration therein contained to be insert and registrate in their bookes of Sederunt; and ordaine letters of publication to be direct and passe thereupon, certifying all his Majesties Lieges, who have interest, by open proclamation at the market Crosse of Edinburgh, and other market Cresses of the Kingdome, where the lands, Baronies, and others lye, or where the persons and subjects dwell and remaine, against whom the said declaration is to have effect of a legal interruption in manner following. And by open Proclamation at the said market Crosse of Edinburgh, Pier and shore of Leith, for all such of his Majesties subjects as are forth of this Realme. Of his Majesties pleasure, will and declaration, and of the saids Lords their decret and authoritie interponed thereto. Like as the saids Lords declare, That the said declaration registrate, as said is, and to be published in manner foresaid, Shall have the strength, force and power of a legall and perfect interruption against all parties having interest, and that in so farre alennerly as may be extended to the particulars following, viz. To his Majesties annexed propertie, and his Majesties propertie unannexed, whereof the ferme duties or scw-fermes have bene compted in his Majesties Exchequer, since the moneth of August, 1455. yeares, and unlawfully disponed by his Majesties Predecessors against the Acts of Parliament, and Lawes of the Kingdome: And to the principalitie unlawfully disponed against the Acts of Parliament and Lawes of this Kingdome: And to the reduction of whatsoever erections, of whatsoever benefices, Spiritualitie and Temporalitie thereof unlawfully disponed against the Laws and Acts of Parliament: And to the reduction of whatsoever patronages of Kirks, pertaining to his Majestie and his Predecessors, and unlawfully disponed by them against the Acts of Parliament: And against unlawful dispositions of whatsoever Teinds, Lands, and Rents doted to Hospitals, and masondieus, and unlawfully disponed against the Acts of Parliament: And against Regalities and Heritable Offices unlawfully disponed, contrary to the Acts of Parliament: And against all changed tenours of holdings from ward to blensh or taxt ward, granted by the Kings and Princes in their minorities, and not granted or ratified by any King or Prince being major. With this declaration like as the saids Lords declare, that the same shall not prejudice any person whatsoever of their lawfull defences competent to them, against any action to be intended hereafter at his Majesties instance, and his successors, except in so far as concerns the said Act of prescription, whereupon the saids Lords declare, that no exception shall be found in prejudice of his Majestie, and his Successors concerning the premises.

Anent Regalities of Erections.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Ratifies and approves that head and article of the Act of Parliament made in the moneth of July, 1587. years, 29. cap. anent the annexation of the temporalitie of benefices to the Crown, whereby the right and privilege of regality, which pertained to whatsoever Abbacie, Priorie, Prioreffe, or other benefice whatsoever, is annexed to the Crown: with this declaration, That the heirs of the vassals of the heritable tenants shall be entred by briefes forth of his Majesties Chancelarie, to be direct to the Provost and Baillies of the Burrowes of the saids Regalities. But prejudice alwaies to heritable Baillies and Stewarts of the saids regalities, their heirs and successors, of their rights and infestments granted to them of the saids Bailleries and Stewartries of Regality, which shall remaine with them in the same condition they were before the same Act of annexation, except in the change of their Superior, viz. in the Kings Majestie, and his Successors, who in all times thereafter shall be their superiour, as in the said Act of Parliament of the date foresaid, at more length is contained.

AND farther, his Majestie, with consent of the Estates of Parliament, casses, annuls, retreats and rescinds all rights and titles made and granted by his Majestie, or his Majesties unwhille Father, or by unwhille Queene Marie his Grand-mother, to whatsoever person or persons, of the right and privilege of Regality, pertaining to whatsoever Abbot, Pryor, Pryoreffe, Preceptor, or other beneficed person whatsoever, at any time preceeding the date hereof: And declares the right and title of all and whatsoever Regalities within the Kingdome, which pertained to whatsoever benefice particularly or generally above specified, at any time preceeding the general annexation of Kirk-lands, without respect to any exception mentioned in the said Act of annexation, to pertaine to his Majestie and his Successors in all time coming. Reserving alwaies to all heritable Baillies and Stewarts of the saids Regalities, their rights and infestments of the saids Bailleries and Stewartries, granted to them by the saids beneficed persons, at any time preceeding the date of the erections of the saids Abbacies, Priories, and others foresaid in Temporal Lordships. And it is declared, that these presents shall no waies be extended to the right of Regality of whatsoever Lands, and Superiorities, pertaining to the Arch-bishops and bishops of this Kingdome, by vertue of their gifts and provisions, granted to them or their predecessors thereupon, which shall remaine with them unhurt or prejudged by this present Act.

AND also it is declared, decerned and ordained, that the lands and Baronie of Broughton, comprehending the Towns, lands, burgh in baronie, milnes, and others mentioned in the infestments granted by his Majestie under his Highnesse great Seale, To his Highnesse right trustie Cousin and Counsellor

Robert

Robert Earle of Roxburgh, of the date, the day of one thousand, six hundred, thirtie years, shall not be comprehended herein, excluding the same allutterly there-from, To remaine with the said Earle, his Heires and Successors, after the forme and renour of the Infeftments made to him and his authors of the same.

ACT XIV.

Anent Superiorities of Kirk-lands.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament findes, declares, and ordaines, that his Majestie and his Successors, have and shall have good and undoubted right to the superioritie of all and sundrie Lands, Baronies, Milnes, woods, fishings, Towers, Fortalices, manour places and whole pertinents thereof, pertaining to whatsoever Abbacies, Priors, Priories, Preceptories, and whatsoever other Benefices, of whatsoever Estate, degree, Title, Name, or designation the same bee of, Erected in Temporal Lordships, Baronies, or livings, before or after the general annexation of Kirk-landes, made in the Moneth of July, one thousand, five hundred, fourscore and seven years, And to the whole casualities of the saids superiorities, nor disposed before the date of the general Commission, which is of the date at White-hall, the seventeenth of Januarie, 1627. yeares; And also to the whole Few-mails, Few-fermes, and other rents and duries of the saids superiorities, of all yeares after the date of the said Commission: Reserving to such Lords and Titulars of Erections who have subscribed the general Surrender, the Few-mails, and Few-fermes of their saids superiorities, ay and while they receive payment and satisfaction of the sum of one thousand markes usual money of Scotland, for ilk Chalder of Few-ferme victual over-head; And for ilk hundreth markes of Few-mails, and for ilk hundreth markes worth of all other constant rent of the saids superiorities (not consisting in victual or money, and not being naked service of Vassals) according to the tenour of his Majesties general determination, and conform to the conditions therein contained, which are holden as repeated and exprest here. And sicklike with this declaration, that these presents shall be without prejudice to the saids Lords, and Titulars of erection, of whatsoever Lands, Baronies, Woods, Fishings, Manour-places, Milnes, Multors, and others of the said erected Benefices, pertaining to those who have Surrendered, as said is, in propertie; And whereof they had the right of propertie, the time of the said general surrender acquired by them, either before or since the saids erections, by whatsoever maner of way according to the Lawes of the Kingdome. Providing they hold the said propertie of his Majestie and his Successors, as the same were holden before the date of the saids erections, And for payment of the Few-mails, Few-fermes, and other duties mentioned in the old Infeftments of the saids lands before the date of the saids erections.

AND His Majestie and Estates declare all rights and deeds whatsoever granted by his Majestie, or his unwhile dearest Father, or Grand-mother, Queene Marie, to whatsoever Titulars of Erections which may prejudice his Majestie and his Successors, in the peaceable brooking, joying and possessing of the saids Superiorities, and whole benefit thereof above-specified (under the exceptions alwaies and provisions above-written) To be null, and of none avail, force nor effect by way of action, exception, or reply: And also findes and declares that the saids Lords and Titulars of erection shall hold their propertie and proper lands, Of his Majestie and his Successors, as the same were holden before the date of the saids erections. And for payment of the Few-mails, Few-fermes, and other duties mentioned in the old Infeftments of the saids Lands granted to them and their authors before the date of the saids erections: IT IS alwayes provided, and declared, that these presents, nor no clause therein contained, shall be extended to the superiorities of whatsoever lands, Baronies, and others, pertaining to whatsoever Archbishop, Bishop, and their Chapters: but that the same shall remaine with them and their Successors unhurt or prejudged by this present Act.

ACT XV.

Anent his Majesties Annuittie of Teinds.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And Estates of Parliament, Ratifies and approves the Act of the General Commission of Teinds and Surrenders, Of the date at Holy-rude-house the twenty ninth of May, 1627. yeares, whereby it is found and ordained, That his Majestie and his Successors shall have the constant rent and dutie following, payed out of the Teind Bolls of Victual, And out of the Bodie of the rest of the Teinds of the Kingdome redacted in money, Except the Teind-bolls and silver payed to the Bishops, being the rent pertaining to them, in the Estate wherein the same is presently payed or presently payable to them: And except the Teind-bolls and silver payed to Ministers in name of stipend for serving the cure; and to the Colledges, Hospitals, and other pious uses: That is to say, Of every Teind-boll of the best Wheat ten shillings; Of every Boll of the best Teind-beare, eight shillings; And of every Boll of the best Teind Oates, meale, pease and rye, six shillings: And where oates are of that that nature that they will not render above half mcale, the rent to be three shillings: And where the bolls of victual are of inferior goodnes, worth and price nor the best, That his Majesties annuities forth thereof shall be modified proportionally. And where the rent doth not consist in victual but in money, that his Majestie and his Successors shall have of every hundred marks of Parsonage and Vicarage reind, not consisting in victual rent, the summe of six markes money. Together with the Act of the said commission of the date at holy-rudehouse, the eight of August, 1628. Whereby it is ordained, that the payment of the said annuities shall have the beginning of the crop and yeare of God, 1628. Together with another Act of the said commission, of the date at Holy-rudehouse the fourteenth day of July, 1630. Whereby letters of homing are ordained to be direct at the instance of his Majesties Thesaurer, for payment of the said annuities of the crops, 1628 and 1629. And yearly in time coming. Together with an Act of the convention of the Estates, of the date at Holy-rudehouse the twentieth ninth of July, 1630 yeares, whereby the said Estates have ratified and approved the said Act of the date and tenour foresaid, anent letters of homing, to be direct at the instance of his Majesties thesaurer, for payment of his Majesties annuities of the crops and yeares of God, 1628 and 1629. And yearly in time coming. And sikelike ratifies and approves the Act of the said commission, of the date the twentieth third of March, 1631 yeares. Whereby it is ordained, that in all teinds which shall be unvalued betwixt and the first of August thereafter, that the heritor shall pay his just teind according to the fifth part of the present rent, ay and while the constant rent be determined. And whereby it is statute and ordained, that his Majestie shall have right to uplift his annuity according to the said fifth part of the present rent, ay and while the said constant rent be determined, Together with another Act of the said Commission of teinds and surrenders of the date at Holy-rudehouse the fourteenth of December, 1631 yeares. And ratified by the Lords of secret Councell upon the twentieth day of the said month of December. Whereby it is statute and ordained for an interim, that the annuities of teinds, consisting in victual, shall be payed to his Majestie of all yeares by gone, and in time coming conforme to the tenour of the said last Act: And that according to the just and true prices of the victual in ilk part of the Country, computing for ilk hundred markes of the prices of the said victual being redacted in money six markes for his Majesties annuities. Which Act is thereafter upon the twentieth of December, 1631. ratified by the Lords of secret Councell. And letters of homing and poynding ordained to be direct thereupon, and thereafter ratified by the Lords of Exchequer upon the twentieth third of the said moneth of December. And his Majestie and Estates statute and ordaine the said annuities forth of the teinds to be payed to his Majestie and his Successors, of the said crop and year of God, 1628. And of all yeares sennice and in time coming. And that aswell out of the unvalued as valued teinds conforme to the tenours of the said Acts of convention, secret Councell and Exchequer. And ordaines letters of homing and poynding to be direct by the Lords of his Majesties Exchequer at the instance of his Majesties Thesaurer, principal and depute, for payment of the said annuities of all yeares by gone and in time coming. And ordaines the Lords of his Majesties Exchequer, to sit at all convenient times for granting and discussing of suspensions, touching the said annuities of teinds. It is alwaies declared, that the last clause and article contained in the said Act of annuities, whereby the Commissioners thinke fit that the said annuities of teinds shall bee annexed to the Crowne, is no waies ratified by this present Act, nor no clause thereof. And that his Majestie takes to his own gracious consideration what to do thereanent in whole or in part, as his Majestie in his royall wisdom shall thinke most expedient. And whatever his Majestie shall do now or hereafter thereanent, shall be as valid and effectual, as if the same had been particularly exprest in this present Act.

Anent Vassals Holding Ward.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And Estates of this present Parliament, ratifie and approve the Act of Parliament made by his Majesties umywhyle Father, of eternal memorie, 18, Parliament, cap. 12. intituled, Act anent setting of fewes to sub-vassals of ward lands in the whole heads and articles thereof. And farther, his Majestie with consent of the said Estates, hath extended and doth extend the said Act of Parliament and benefit thereof, in favour of his sacred Majestie and of the Prince of Scotland and their Successors in all time coming: And statutes and ordains, that it shall no wayes be lawful to whatsoever Vassals, holding lands of his Majestie or of the Prince of Scotland, or of any Duke, Marquess, Earle, Vicount, Lord, Prelate, Baron, or any other person whatsoever, holding their land of their Superiours by service of ward and reliefe, to feir their said lands, baronies, milnes, fishings, or any other lands or heritages whatsoever holding ward, as said is, To any other person or persons in Few for payment of a Fewferme due, or in any manner of holding in prejudice of the said ward holding, without special advice and consent of their superiours, of whom they hold the same respective: And rescinds and annuls all former Acts of Parliament of whatsoever date or tenor, which may in any sort derogate to this present Act. And findes & declares that all & whatsoever intseiments to be granted otherwise, without consent of the said superiours respective, or their confirmation obtained thereto, doth no wayes stop the ward of the said lands, nor hinders the course of recognition dition vacand, or which shall happen to vake in the superiours hands, in-case of alienation of the same either of the whole, or of the most part thereof, according to the course of the common Law, without consent of their superiours, but prejudice to their said superiours respective, and their Successors, of the benefit of the said Act of Parliament, 1606: whereby all such infeftments and grants without consent, as said is, are declared to be null by way of action, exception, or reply. Which clause shall stand in favour of his Majesty, and in favour of the Prince, and their Successors, and other superiours respective foresaid; sicklike, and in the same manner as if the said clause were insert in this present Act, and this Act shall not be extended to deeds lawfully done in time by-gone, before the date of this present Act, but only ad futura.

ACT XVII.

Anent the Rate and Price of Teinds.

FOR-SO-MUCH As OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD out of his Royal and Fatherly care, rendering the publike good of this his ancient Kingdome, did immediately after his happie attaining to the Crown, publish and give forth his Royal declaration anent the reforming of the abuses used in leading of teinds, wherein his Majesties umwhile Father, of Eternal and blessed memorie, laboured so much in his time, and for provision and maintenance of Kirks, and other pious uses forth of the saids teinds: And now his Majestie being by Gods gracious providence present in his Royal Person within this his Majesties ancient Kingdome, and holding this his first Parliament of his whole Estates of the same, with whom his Majestie hath advised and resolved, to put that glorious work anent the Teinds to a full perfection.

THEREFORE, His Majestie with consent of the three Estates, by these presents statutes, ordaines, and declares, that there shall be no Teind theaves, or other Teinds, Parsonage or Vicarage led and drawn within the Kingdome, but that each heritor and Life-renter of Lands shall have the leading and drawing of their owne Teind, the same being first truly and lawfully valued, and they paying therefore the price after-specified, in case they be willing to buy the same: or otherwise paying therefore the rate of Teind after-specified. Like-as his Majestie and Estates find and declare, that the just and true rate of Teinds, is and shall be the fifth part of the constant rent which each land payeth in stock and teind where the same are valued joyntly, and where the Teinds are valued apart and severally, that the just rate thereof, is and shall be such as the same is already or shall be hereafter valued, and proved before the saids Commissioners or Sub-commissioners, deducing the fifth part thereof for the ease of the heritors, reserving alwayes liberty to such as shall finde themselves enormely hurt by the leading of the saids Valuations, to pursue for rectifying of the same, before the Commissioners appointed by his Majestie and Estates for that effect. And also his Majestie, with consent of the three Estates, findes and declares, that the price of all Teinds which may be sold and annalied, consisting either in money, victual, or other bodies of goods, is and shall be ruled and estimate according to nine yeares purchase, the prices of victual and other bodies of goods whereof the Teind consists, being redacted in money, according to the worth and price of victual and goods in each part of the Countrey, to the which the same is, and shall be prized and estimate by his Majesties Commissioners already appointed or to be appointed to that effect. And findes and declares that each Heritor in the Kingdome, being willing to buy his owne Teind from the Titulars, having power to sell the same, shall be obliged to buy the Teinds of his own lands, except so much as shall be locally assigned to the Minister, serving the cure of the Kirk, for his maintenance, and to pay the prices foresaid, betwixt and the terme of Martinmasse, in the yeare of God, 1635. zeares, where the Valuation of the Teinds is made and approved before the date hereof, and where the same is not yet valued and approved within the space of two yeares after the same be valued and approved by the Commissioners, to be appointed by his Majestie and Estates to that effect: after the expiring of the which time, his Majestie and Estates declare that the saids titulars shall not be compelled to sell the same, except they doe it of their own good will and consent. With this declaration alwayes, that in case the impediment of not selling, induring the space foresaid, flow from the Titular by reason of his minority or other inhabilitie, in that case the Heritor who offereth himselfe ready to buy his owne Teind within the space foresaid, shall have place so soone as the impediment is removed, to buy his Teinds, notwithstanding of the expiring of the yeares and space above-expressed. And it is declared, that if the Heritor be minor, and his Tutors neglect the buying of his Teinds within the space foresaid, the minor shall have action against his Tutors pro damno & interesse, but no action to compel the titular after the expiring of the space foresaid, for selling of the saids Teinds: And where the saids Teinds are coast by the Heritors, as said is, finde that the Heritor shall be obliged to give to the Life-renter of the saids lands, having right thereto by contract of marriage, Life-rent, Infeftment, Conjunct-fee, or Reservation forth of the Infeftment of Fee, the leading of the Teinds of their saids Life-rent Lands, for payment of the rate of the Teind of the same. And sicklike findes that in all cases where Teinds are not coast, that the Heritors or Life-renters of Lands, who have the leading of their own Teinds by themselves, their Tennants, and others in their name, shall be obliged to pay to the Titulars of Teinds the yearly rate thereof, according to the valuation of the same made or to be made, and to give securitie thereof, according to the order set down and and prescribed by the Commissioners of surrenders and Teinds, or to be set down by the Commissioners appointed, or to be appointed by his Majesty with consent of the Estates of this present Parliament, deducting so much thereof as shall be assigned to the Minister for his maintenance. IT IS alwayes declared, whether the saids Teinds be sold or not, his Majesty shall have his annuities forth of the same, according to the Tenor of the Act of Annuities: And because sundrie questions may arise both anent the Valuation of Teinds, and Price of the same in divers parts of the Countrey, and anent the securities to be made by the Titulars to the Heritors who buy their Teinds, and by the Heritors to the Titulars of the price to be payed for the same where the Teinds are sold, or for payment of the rate of Teind where the same is not sold: And sicklike anent the provision of the Kirkes, with competent maintenance, and for division of the price of Teinds betwixt the Heritors and Life-renters, and rectifying of Valuations already led to the enorme hurt and prejudice of these, having interest. THEREFORE His Majesty and Estates have referred, and refer the determination of the saids particulars, and all others concerning the Teinds to the Commissioners appointed by his Majesty and Estates in this present Parliament. IT IS alwayes declared, that this present Act shall be no farther obligatory against whatsoever Arch-bishops, Bishops, Parsons, Vicars, and other beneficed persons, being Ministers, nor their Successors, but according to the provisions and conditions expressed in the submission, made by the Bishops to his Majesty, which is of the date the day of 1628. yeares, and registrate in the Bookes of Commission of Surrenders and Teinds, upon the thirteenth day of July, 1631. yeares: Which provisions and conditions are holden as expressed herein. And also it is declared, that the Vicarages of each Kirk being a several Benefice and Title from the Parsonage, shall be severally valued, to the effect the Titulars or Ministers serving the cure, who have right to the saids Vicarages, be not frustrate of the true worth of the saids Vicarages.

ACT XVIII.

Anent the Exchequer.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of this present Parliament, ratifie and approve that head and clause of Parliament, made upon the twentieth day of May, 1584; Whereby his Majesties umwhile Father of Eternal memorie, with consent of the Estates, hath appointed and ordained, that all causes concerning his Majesties property, whether the same be suspensions, letters conforme, breaking of arrestment, deforcement of Officers in the premisses, or any thing depending thereupon, shall be discussed before his Majesties Exchequer in the Exchequer-house. And sicklike, his Majesty with consent of the Estates, statutes and ordaines, that the Lords of Exchequer appointed, or to be appointed by his Majesty, shall have undoubted power, warrant, and authority, to sit, cognosce and decide in all the foresaid causes, concerning his Majesties propertie, and others depending thereupon: And also in all causes concerning his Majesties annuities forth of the Teinds, and ordaines them to sit at all convenient times for passing and discussing of suspensions, and for deciding of all other actions concerning the said propertie and annuities of Teinds. And to direct letters of horning and poinding, and other execution necessary upon the decreets pronounced by them, of or concerning the premisses, and the horning to passe upon a simple charge of ten dayes, upon this side of the water of Dee: And upon twenty dayes by North Dee allannerly, at the discretion of the saids Lords of Exchequer.

ACT XIX.

Commission for Valuation of Teinds not valued, rectifying the Valuations of the same already made, and other particulars therein contained.

FOR SO MUCH As OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, immediately after his happy attaining to the Crown of this his Ancient and Native Kingdome, did out of his Royal and Fatherly care to the publique good thereof, give forth his Royal declaration, anent the reforming of the abuses used in leading of teinds, and for provision and maintenance of Kirks and other pious uses forth of the saids teinds. And also for restoring the Crown to the superiorities of whatsoever benefices and temporalities thereof erected in temporal livings, and against other prejudices and detriments done to the Crowne, mentioned in the said declaration. And albeit his Majesty hath bene still urging and following the performance of the particulars foresaid these five yeares by-gone, or thereabout, by Commissions direct by his Majesty under his great Scale, to that effect, wherein there hath bene good progresse made, yet the same could not take a full end without the authoritie of a Parliament: Like-as his Majesty out of his earnest and tender affection to the publique good of this his native Kingdome; And for advancing the saids great and glorious works intended by his Majesty, as said is, hath taken the pains to come hither in his Royal person, where his Majesty being present in solemn Parliament, with his three Estates of his said ancient Kingdome: Have resolved and concluded upon the particular Acts and Statutes after following, tending to the publique good, peace, ease, and comfort of his said Kingdome and subjects thereof: viz. His Majestie and Estates foresaid have ratified the Act of Commission of surrenders and teinds, of the date at Holy-rude-house the twentie sixth day of June, 1627. yeares, whereby it is found meete and expedient, that the lowest proportion for maintenance of Ministers shall be eight chalders of victual, or eight hundred marks proportionally, except such particular Kirkes occur, wherein there shall be a just, reasonable, and expedient cause to go beneath the foresaid quantitie; And hath referred the consideration of the reasons and causes thereof to the Commissioners to be chosen by his Majestie, with consent of the Estates in manner contained in the said Act. Like-as also his Majestie and Estates by another Act and Ordinance, hath statute, ordained, and declared that each Heritor and Life-renter of Lands respectively, shall have the leading and drawing of their owne teinds, the same being first truly and lawfully valued, and they paying therefore the price after-specified, in case they be willing to buy the same, or otherwise, for the yearly payment of the rate of Teinds after-specified. Like-as his Majestie and Estates have by the said Act, found and declared, that the true and just rate of Teind is, and shall be the fifth part of the constant rent, which ilk land payes in Stock and Teind where the same are valued joyntly. And where the Teinds are valued apart and severally, that the just rate thereof is and shall be such, as the same is already by vertue of the former general Commission of Surrenders and Teinds proved and valued to, Or else shall be hereafter valued and proved before the Commissioners to be appointed by his Majestie with consent of the Estates, deducing the fifth part thereof for the ease of the Heritors: Reserving alwaies libertie to such as shall finde themselves enormously hurt by the leading of the saids valuations, to pursue for rectifying of the same before the saids Commissioners to be appointed by his Majestie and Estates foresaid; like-as his Majestie and Estates have by the said Act found and declared, that the price of all Teinds which may be sold and annaied, consisting either in money, victual, or other bodies of goods, is, and shall be ruled and estimate according to nine yeares purchase. The prices of victual and other bodies of goods, whereof the Teinds consist being redacted in money according to the worth and prices of victual and goods in ilk part of the Countrie, To the which the same is and shall be prized and estimate by the said former Commissions of Surrenders and Teinds, or by the Commissioners to be appointed by his Majestie, with consent of the Estates: And also have found and declared, that ilk Heritor in the Kingdome being willing to buy his own Teind from the Titulars, having power to sell the same, shall be obliged to buy the Teind of his own Lands, except so much as shall be locally assigned to the Minister serving the Cure for his maintenance: And to pay the prices foresaid to the Titulars betwixt and twa particular times and diets expressit in the said Act. And also have found that the Heritors shall bee obliged to give to the Life-renter of the lands, the leading of their own teinds for payment of the rate of Teind of the same. And also have found, tharin all cases where Teinds are not coft, that the Heritors or Life-renters of lands who have the leading of their own Teinds by themselves, their tennants, and others in their names, shall be obliged to pay to the Titulars of the saids Teinds the yearly rate thereof, according to the order set down and prescribed by the former Commissions, or to be set down by the Commissioners to be appointed by his Majestie, with consent of the Estates, deducing so much thereof as shall be assigned to the Ministers for their maintenance.

AND Because sundrie questions may arise anent the valuations of Teinds and prices thereof, and anent the securities to be made by the Titulars to the Heritors who buy their Teinds; and by the Heritors to the Titulars of the price to be payed for the same, when the Teinds are coft, or for payment of the rate of Teind where the same is not coft; And anent the provisions of the Kirkes, with competent maintenance, and other particulars mentioned in the said Act. THEREFORE His Majestie and Estates, by the said Act did referre the determination thereof to the Commissioners to be appointed by his Majestie and Estates, With these declarations alwaies, that his Majestie shall have his annuities payed forth of the Teinds according to the tenour of the said Act of annuities; And that the Archbishops, Bishops, Parsons, Vicars, and other beneficed persons being Ministers, and their Successors, should be no farther obliged in any of the premises, But according to the provisions and conditions expressit in the submission made by the Bishops to his Majestie, which is of the date the _____ day of _____ 1628. yeares. And registrate in the saids Books of Surrenders and Teinds, upon the thirteenth of July, 1631. yeares. And that the Vicarages of ilk Kirk being a several Benefice and Tide, should be severally valued, to the effect the Titulars and Ministers serving the Cure, who have right to the saids Vicarages, should not bee frustrate of the true worth of the saids Vicarages. And likewise, His Majestie and Estates by another Act have found and declared, that his Majestie and his Successors have and shall have undoubted right to the superiorities of whatsoever erections, Few-mails, Few-fermes, and other casualties thereof, Reserving to such Lords and Titulars of erection who subscribed the general Surrender, the Few-mails, and Few-fermes of their saids Superiorities, ay and while they receive payment and satisfaction of the summe of one thousand marks usual money of Scotland, for ilk Chalders of Few-ferme victual; and for ilk hundred marks of Few-mails, and for ilk hundred marks of all other constant rent of the saids Superiorities, not consisting in victual or money; and not being naked service of vassals, according to the tenour of his Majesties general determination; and conforme to the conditions therein contained, as in the saids three Acts of this present Parliament at more length is expressit.

AND Forasmuch as it is necessarie for determination of the particulars foresaid, and of all such other points which are fit and expedient for the finishing and full perfection of the said glorious worke, auncient teinds, maintenance of Ministers and others foresaid, That a commission be granted by his Majestie, with consent of the Estates, and by authority of this present Parliament: THEREFORE His Majestie, with consent of the said Estates, hath granted, and by these presents granteth full power and commission to the persons after following: To wit, Nine of the Clergie, nine of the Nobilitie, nine of the small Barons, and nine of the Burgeses; Together with my Lord Chancellor, and eight officers of Estate, viz. *George Earle of Kinnorell Chancellor, William Earle of Morton Treasurer, Iohn Archbishop of Saint Andrews, Thomas Earle of Haddington Lord Privie Seale, Patrick Archbishop of Glasgow, William Earle Marshall, George Earle of Wintown, Iohn Earle of Perth, Iohn Earl of Kinghorne, William Earle of Dumfreis, William Earle of Sterling Secretary, David Earle of Southesk, Iohn Earle of Traquair Treasurer Depute, Iohn Earle of Weymes, Archibald Lord Napier, George Lord Corstonpheine, Alexander Bishop of Dunell, Iohn Bishop of Murray, Iohn Bishop of Ross, Adam Bishop of Dunblane, David Bishop of Breichen, Andrew Bishop of Argyll, George Bishop of Orkney, Sir Iohn Hay Clerke of Register, Sir Thomas Hope Advocate, Sir George Elphinstone Justice Clerk, Sir James Galloway Master of Requests, Sir Robert Spotswood, Sir James Learmonth, Sir James Lockhart younger of Ley, Sir Iohn Charters, Sir Robert Grier, Iohn Boyll of Kelburne, Sir William Douglas of Cavers, The Laird of Inchmartine, the Laird of Lugtown, Iohn Sinklar, Iohn Macknacht, Archibald Tod, Edward Edger, Master Alexander Gutbrie, Gabriel Cuninghame, Robert Taityeor, William Mickle-Iohn, and Master Robert Cuninghame, or any fittene of them, there being three of every Estate, with three of his Majesties officers of Estate. Of which number of fifteen, the Lords Chancellor, Treasurer, and Privie seale, Archbishops of Saint Andrews or Glasgow, Earle Marshall, and Earle of Wintown, or any one of them shall be one, to meet and convene at Holyrudehouse, or Edinburgh at such times and places as they shall think fit; And there to prosecute and follow forth the valuation of whatsoever teinds, parsonage or vicarage within the Kingdome, which are as yet unvalued. And also to receive the reports from the Subcommissioners, appointed within ilke presbiterie, of the valuation of whatsoever teinds, led and deduced before them, according to the tenor of the subcommissions direct to that effect. And to allow or disallow the same, according as the same shall bee found agreeable or disagreeable from the tenour of their subcommissions. And also with power to rectifie whatsoever valuations, led or to be led, to the enorme prejudice of the titulars, and to the hurt and detriment of the Kirke, and prejudice of the Ministers maintenance and provisions, or of his Majesties annuitie. And for the better expediting and advancing of the said valuations, with power to appoint Committies, or Subcommitties of their owne number, To receive the reports of the said valuations made or to be made; And to receive, admit and examine witnesses, and to take parties oathes, with their depositions, where the same is referred to oath; And to give such farther power to the said Committies or Subcommitties of their owne number, as they shall think fit for the good of the worke, and speedy finishing of the same; And sicklike, with power to them if need be, to appoint Subcommissioners, not being of their owne number within any parochin or presbiterie of the Countrie, for leading and deducing of the said valuations, and to receive the reports thereof, allow or disallow of the same: And generally with power to them, to set downe whatsoever other order or course which shall be thought fit and expedient for dispatch of the said valuations rectifying thereof for finally closing of the same. And sicklike, with power to the said Commissioners, or any fifteen of them, as said is, there being three of ilk Estate, with any one of the persons of the quorum above-specified, after the closing and allowance of the valuations of ilk Kirke and Parochin, To appoint, modifie, and set downe a constant and local stipend and maintenance to ilk Minister, to be payed out of the teinds of ilk parochin, according to the tenour of the Acts above-specified. Referring like as his Majestie referres with consent of the said Estates; to the said commissioners, the tryal of the reasons and causes which may move the said Commissioners to goe beneath the quantitie of eight chalders of victual, or of eight hundred markes of money proportionally, in manner contained in the said Act. And sicklike, with power to the said Commissioners, to divide ample and spacious parochines, where the same shall be found necessarie and expedient, or to unite divers Kirks in whole or in part to others; And to ratifie and allow after tryal and consideration such union or disincorporing of Parochines, as hath beene formerly made by vertue of the former Commissions. And sicklike with power to them, to appoint and provide for such other pious uses in each parochin, as the estate thereof may bear. And sicklike, with power to the said Commissioners, as said is, to take order that every heritor and life-renter of lands, shall have the leading of their own teinds, parsonage and vicarage thereof, they paying the price contained in the Act above-specified, in case they be willing to buy the same from the titular, having power to sell, or otherwise paying the rate of teind exprest in the foresaid Act; And to that effect, with power to the said Commissioners to set downe the prices of sellable teinds, according to the worth thereof in each part of the countrey, where the same grow and are bred; And also with power to them to set downe such good and ample securities, as may stand by law, both for the buyers of teinds, to the effect, the titulars may be fully denuded in their favour: And also for securitie to the titulars and sellers of the price due to be payed to them for the said teinds; And also to set downe the securitie in favour of the titulars and of the Ministers, so farre as concerns the maintenance assigned to them for good, thankful, and timous payment of the rate of teind, whete the same are not, or cannot be fold. And sicklike with power to the said* commissioners, to discusse and determine all questions which may arise betwixt the titulars and heritors anent the price of teinds, according to the nature and qualitie of the rights to be sold, whether the same be heritable or temporal, and to proportionare the price accordingly; And also to divide the price of tiends betwixt heritors and life-renters, thereof; And betwixt titulars, tacksmen, and others who have severall and distinct rights to the said teinds sellable, according to the qualitie of their rights: And also with power to them, to cause the titulars who sell their said teinds, to exhibit their rights and titles, to the effect that they may be lawfully denuded thereof, in favour of the said heritors and life-renters respective, without prejudice alwayes to his Majesties annuities, to be payed forth of the said teinds by the said titulars of teinds, or heritors, or life-renters of lands, according to the tenor of the said Act of annuities; And generally with power to the said Commissioners, to decide and determine in all other points, which may concerne the leading and drawing of teinds, the selling and buying of the same, or payment of the rate thereof, contained in the Acts of Parliament above specified, or set downe in his Majesties general determination; with this provision and declaration alwayes, that the Archbishops, Bishops, Parsons, Vicars, and other beneficed persons, being Ministers, and their successors, shall be no farther bound but according to the provisions and conditions expressed in the submission made by the Bishops to his Majestie, which is of the date the day of 1628 yeares, and registrate in the bookes of commission of surrenders and teinds, upon the thirteenth day of July, 1631: Which provisions and conditions are holden as exprest herein; And also with this provision, that the Vicarages of each Kirke being a severall benefice and title from the Parsonage, shall be severally valued, to the effect the titulars or Ministers serving the cure, who have right to the said Vicarages, be not frustrated of the true worth of the said Vicarages; And sikelike, because by the Act above specified, made anent superiorities of erections in favour of his Majestie, there is special reservation made to such titulars and Lords of erection, as have subscribed the general surrender of the few-mails, few-fermes, and other constant rent of the said superiorities, aye and while they be payed of the price thereof contained in his Majesties general determination, and according to the provisions specified therein. Therefore his Majestie and Estates give full power to the said commissioners or any fiftene of them, as said is, to call and convene before them the Lords of erection, and others having right to the said few-mails and few-fermes, and other constant rent of the superiorities of Kirke-lands, at such particular diets as they shall appoint, and to urge the said Lords of erection and others foresaid, to give up their rentals of their said few-mails, few-fermes, and other constant rent foresaid of their said superiorities, conforme to his Majesties decreete and determination, given out thereanent; And with certification as is therein contained, and to liquidat the other constant rent of the said superiorities, not consisting in victual or silver: To the effect that after the full tryall of the said rental and liquidation thereof, the said Lords of erection may receive the price of a thousand marks for each chaldre of few-fermes, and for each hundredth markes of the other constant rent, being redacted in money in whole or in part proportionally, from his Majesties Thesaurers, principal, or depute, and in case of the absence and refusal of the saids titulars and Lords of erection, that the same may be consigned in the hands of the Clerke to the said commissioners, to remaine consigned for their behave; After the which consignment, it shall be lawful to his Majesties Thesaurers, principal or depute, to up-lift, receive, and intromet with the said few-mails, few-fermes, and other constant rent foresaid, of all yeares and termes after the said consignment, according to the tenor of the said general determination; And also with power to the said commissioners as said is, to discusse and determine all questions that may arise betwixt the said Lords of erection and the heritors of the ground, pensioners, life-renters, and others pretending right to the said few-mails, & few-fermes, and to divide the price amongst them, according to the qualitie of their rights, and all other questions anent the few-mails, few-fermes, and other constant rent foresaid: Which by his Majesties general determination is referred to the determination of the commissioners to be appointed to that effect; And whereas it may fall out that some of the commissioners now appointed by his Majestie and Estates, may be unable to attend the service, through death, sickness, or some other notour and knowne impediments; Therefore his Majestie reserves to himselfe the nomination of such other persons in their places, as his Majesty shall think fit, whom his Majestie by his Letters shall recommend to the said commissioners, to the intent they may receive and admit them upon the said commission, and take their oathes for faithful discharge of the same. And his Majestie and Estates ordaine this present commission to endure unto the last day of December in the yeare of God, 1635 yeares: And farther induring his Majesties pleasure, and aye and while the same be expressly discharged by his Majesties warrant, or letter to that effect. And his Majestie with consent of the Estates foresaid, findes, declares, and ordaines the Acts, decreets, and ordinances of the commissioners foresaid, and of the other persons, who shall be surrogate in their places by his Majestie in manner foresaid, in the whole particulars above-specified, and every one of them; To have the strength, force, and authoritie of a decreete, sentence, and Act of Parliament, and ordaines the Lords of Session to grant and direct letters of homing, poinding, and others thereupon, upon a simple charge of ten dayes, or otherwise as shall be found necessary. Attour for clearing of all doubts and difficulties which may arise anent the rectifying of valuations, or other particular heads following: His Majestie and Estates have declared and declare, that where valuations are lawfully led against all parties having interest, and allowed by the former commissioners according to the order observed by them, that the same shall not be drawne in question nor rectified upon pretence of enormelion, at the instance of the Minister, not being titular, or at the instance of his Majesty Majesties Advocat, for and in respect of his Majesties annuitie, except it be proved that collusion was used betwixt the titular and heritor, or betwixt the procurator fiscal and the titulars, and heritors, which collusion is declared to be where the valuation is led, with diminution of the third of the just rent presently payed, and which diminution shall be proved by the parties oathes. And likewise it is declared that the provisions contained in the foresaid submission made by the Bishops, whereof mention is made in the foresaid Act of Tithes, and which is repeated in this commission, shall be restricted to that whereof Archbishops, Bishops, Parsons, vicars, or other beneficed persons being Ministers, Colledges, Hospitals, and other donations to pious uses were in actual and real possession the time of the said submission, which shall remaine with them in quantity and quality, according to the tenor of the said provision: And if any question shall arise betwixt the said Arch-bishops, Bishops, Parsons, Vicars, and other beneficed persons foresaid anent the leading of teinds, that the same shall be referred to his sacred Majestie, and to his Royal pleasure to be signified thereanent. And also anent laick patronages pertaining to any his Majesties subjects, before the yeare of God, 1561 yeares: His Majestie and Estates declare that the same falls within the compass of the general submission made to his Majestie, And his Majesties determination given thereupon, and that alienarily in so farre as concerns a competent maintenance, to be locally payed forth of each Church, to the Minister and his successors; And anent the teinds of other mens lands; And anent the annuitie to be payed to his Majestie forth of the teinds of the said Kirk: And as to the remanent teinds the same to pertaine to laick patrons in price or rate thereof in all cases, where the foresaid laick patrons were in possession of the teinds thereof, by the space of seven yeares within the fifteen yeares immediately preceding the date of the said general submission: With this declaration, that where the titulars or the Ministers provided to the said laick patronages and Kirks thereof, were in possession of the benefices foresaid, and fruites and rents thereof, either by leading of the teinds, or by up-lifting and intronetting with the whole rents thereof, by the space of seven yeares of fifteen yeares immediately preceding the said submission; in these cases, the difference betwixt the said laick Patrons, and the Titulars, and Ministers, shall be referred to his sacred Majestie, and to his Royal declaration to be given thereanent, and ordaines all former commissions anent the premisses, to cease in time coming, and this onely to stand in force in time to come.

A C T X X.

Anent the King His Designation of The Names to be insert in the Commissions anent the Tithes and Lawes.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And Estates of Parliament, considering that the Designation of the particular persons necessarie to be ingross in the two severall commissions granted in this present Parliament; The one anent the teinds; And the other anent the survey of the Laws which was by the said Estates referred to his sacred Majestie. THEREFORE the said Estates appoint and ordaine the clerke of this Highnesse Register to insert in the said two severall commissions such particular persons names as his Majestie by his warrant, signed with his hand, shall appoint and ordaine to be insert thereunto. For doing whereof declares this present Act to beals sufficient a warrant to the clerke of Register, as if the said commissioners names had been now presently insert in the said two severall commissions by his Majestie and estates of Parliament.

A C T X X I.

Anent the Anwei of Eight to be taken of ilk hundred in time to come alemnely, suspending the same for three yeares, and in the interim two of ten to be payed for the said space to his

MAJESTIE.

IN THE PARLIAMENT Holden at Edinburgh, upon the twentie eight day of June, the yeare of God 1633. For so much as his Majesties Lieges and good Subjects are heavily oppress and burdened with exorbitant annual-rents, and interest taken for the use of money, far exceeding the rate and proportion taken in England, France, and other neighbour countries: THEREFORE His Majestie, with advice of the Estates, statutes and ordains, that notwithstanding of any former Act of Parliament, allowing ten pounds to be taken for each hundredth pounds in a yeare: Yet that no person after the date hereof take more then eight pounds for the use of the hundredth pounds in a yeare, and so proportionally in lesser or greater sums, under the paines contained in the former Acts of Parliament made against usurers.

AND forso much as his Majestie, out of his gracious goodness, with consent of the Estates, hath reduced the interest and profit of money from ten of the hundred to eight, conforme to this present Act. Therefore the Estates of Parliament presently convened, being sensible of the great good ensuing thereby, to this whole Kingdome in all times to come; Make a voluntary and humble offer to his Majestie, that of the said ten payed by borrowers for each hundred, during the space of three yeares next ensuing: Two shall be payed to his Majestie, during the said space (by and attour the twentieth penny presently payed to his Majestie in this present running Taxation) and that for the tearmes of Martinmasse next, 1633. yeares, and Whitfunday, 1634. yeares. And by and attour the sixteenth penny of the extraordinary Taxation now presently granted to his Majestie in this Parliament, to begin at Martinmasse 1634. yeares. And hereby it is declared, that those who formerly borrowed moneys for eight of the hundred, shall be free of payment of the said two of ten; for such and the same quantities as they have formerly borrowed, and are presently adebted by them, for payment of eight of the hundred allenerly: and those who formerly borrowed for nine of the hundred, and are presently owing by them, shall be only lyable to pay one to his Majestie of nine, during the said space, for such and the same quantitie of summes, as were formerly borrowed at nine for the hundred.

And it is further declared, that those who never borrowed moneys before the date of this Act, and shall happen to borrow any summes of money hereafter (they being equally participant of the benefite of the said Act, and his Majesties gracious favour thereby extended to them with his other Subjects) shall be subject in payment of the said proportion of two of ten, during the space of three years, as said is: And ordains the lenders to pay the same yearly and tearmly, during the said space of three years, together and in one summe, with the twentieth penny of this present running extraordinary Taxation, for the said tearme of Martinmasse next, 1633. yeares, and Whitfonday 1634. yeares. and together and in one summe with the sixteenth penny granted in this present Parliament, for the tearmes of Martinmasse, 1634. Whitfunday and Martinmasse, 1635. and Whitfunday, 1636. beginning the first tearmes payment of the said two of ten, at Martinmasse next, and so tearmly thereafter, during the said space of three years and six tearmes. And the saids Estates have agreed all in one voice to suspend, like-as by these presents they doe suspend the execution of the said act, for the space of three years, after the date hereof: and by these presents declare that it shall be lawful (notwithstanding of the said Act) to all subjects within this Realme, to take ten markes for each hundred markes of their lent moneys, put out, or to be put out upon annual-rent, conforme to the preceeding Acts of Parliament, during the said space of three years next after the date hereof. And for inbringing of the said Taxation of two markes of ten, ordain letters to be direct in the same forme and manner as is direct for collecting the foresaid extraordinary Taxations of the twentieth and sixteenth penny. And the same to be payed together, and in one summe to his Majesties Collector-general, to be appointed, or to his Deputes in his name, having his power to receive the same.

ACT XXII.

Anent the Lords of Session, their Taxation of Ten shillings to be imposed upon everie Pound Land of old extent.

IN THE PARLIAMENT holden at Edinburgh upon the twentie eighth of June, the yeare of God, 1633. OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD the Kings Sacred Majestie, and Estates of Parliament presently convened: Remembling that at the first institution of the Colledge of Justice, and divers times thereafter in the Parliaments ratifying the same, his Majesties Royall Antecessors, and Estates of the Realme then assembled, found the erection of that Honourable Consistorie (which is a bidding monument of the Glorie of their Reignes) not onely to be most useful for Royall service, but also necessary and profitable for the peace of the Kingdome, and to the seene good and comfort of all the Subjects. And considering that the provision allowed of before to the Lords of Session, was no waies sufficient for defraying of their charges, and that through their continual attendance, their privat affaires are neglected, and great losses thereby sustained by them.

TH E R E F O R E, and to the effect the saids Senators, and Lords of Session present and to come, may be more encouraged to goe on, and to persist as they doe in their zeale and affections to his Majesties service, and in faithful ministracion of Justice, to the general weal of the Realme, and all the Lieges. The saids Estates with the special approbation and gracious good liking of the Kings Sacred Majestie, have most freely condiscended, statute and enacted, that a Taxation be presently imposed upon their Lands and Meanes, which with his Majesties consent foresaid, they ordaine to be collected and payed to the effect, in manner, and at the tearmes following. That is to say, the Dukes, Marqueses, Earles, Vicounts, Lords, and Commissioners of Shyres for the temporal Estate, have granted that their shall be up-lifted of every pound land of old extent within this Kingdome, pertaining to Dukes, Marqueses, Vicounts, Lords, Barons, and Free-holders, and Feuars of his Majesties proper Lands, the sume of ten shillings money, at everie one of the four tearmes following, viz. The sume of ten shillings money at the Feast and tearme of Martinmasse next to come, in this instant year of God, 1633. yeares: the sume of other ten shillings money, at the Feast and tearme of Martinmas, 1634. yeares: the sume of other ten shillings money, at the Feast and tearme of Martinmas, 1635. yeares: and the sume of other ten shillings money, at the Feast & tearme of Martinmas, 1636. yeares. And the Arch-bishops, & Bishops for the Spiritual Estate have granted that there shall be up-lifted of all Arch-bishopricks, Bishopricks, Abbacies, Pryories, and other inferior Benefices, within this Kingdome, at everie one of the four tearmes above-specified, the just taxatione thereof, as they have been accustomed to be taxed in all time by-gone, whensoever the temporal lands of this Kingome were stented to ten shillings the pound land of old extent: And the same taxation to be payed at everie one of the four rearmes above-specified. And the Commissioners for Burrowes for their Estate have granted, that there shall be up-lifted of all the Burrowes within this Kingdome, at everie one of the four rearmes above-written, the just taxation thereof, as they have bene accustomed to be taxed unto in all time by-gone, whensoever the Temporal lands of this Kingdome were stented to ten shillings the pound land of old extent: And the said taxation to be payed at everie one of the saids four rearmes above-written. And in regard that his Majestie hath erected sundrie Prelacies in Temporal Lordships, whereby the owners thereof may claime to be taxed with the Barons of the Temporal Estate, whereby the saids Lords of the Session would be defrauded of a great part of the said taxation, destinate and appointed, as said is.

Therefore the saids Estates ordaine that all erections of Prelacies, and other small benefices, in whole or in part, in Temporal Lordships, shall in payment of the said taxation, pay to the Collectors thereof, so much of the said Taxation, (pro rata) as if they were no waies erected, and as they were subject to do before the erection of the same. And sicklike, it is statute and ordained, that all dissolved Benefices within this Kingdome in whole or in part, shall be subject in payment of so much of the same Taxation (pro rata) as they would have bene subject to pay, though the same had not bene dissolved. And that the parties who have gotten any part or portion of any Prelacies, or other inferior benefices dissolved, and new securities made unto them by his Majestie, of that part and portion thereof dissolved, shall be subject in payment of the Taxation thereof to the Prelate, or other Beneficed person for his reliefe of the same Taxation, as they would have bene, so the same had not been dissolved, notwithstanding of any condition contained in the Inselements and securities made by his Majestie to them in the contrary thereof. And farther, the saids Estates annul and discharge all privileges and immunities whatsoever, whereby any persons may thinke themselves free of payment of this present Taxation: the privileges granted to the ordinarie Lords and Senators of the Colledge of Justice; and the Taxation of the Benefices given, disposed, and mortified for intertainment of the Universities, Colledges, and Hospitalls within this Kingdome, onely excepted. Attour, Our said Sovereigne Lord, and Estates foresaid, have given and granted, and by these presents give and grant full power and authority to the saids Lords of Session, to nominate, appoint, and elect their owne Collectors, one or moe, as they shall thinke most expedient for up-lifting of the foresaid Taxation, to the effect foresaid. Which summes of money, after they shall be in-gathered, as is before appointed; Our Sovereigne Lord, and the Estates foresaid destinate and ordaine to be mortified by employment upon Land heritably, or for annual-rent, or other sufficient security, as may conveniently be found, for the use and benefit of the saids ordinarie Lords of Session, present, and to come: To the effect, that the yearly profit and annual of the saids lands or moneys, (as the same shall happen to be employed) may be received by them and their successors in their saids Offices, yearly and termly, after the termes of payment of the same, and applied to their behove, in manner, and conforme to the consuetude of the divisione of the yearly duety, presently allowed and received by them: and that by and attour the present provision and rents allotted to them by Parliaments heretofore. And to that effect, the saids ordinarie Lords of Session, shall with all convenient diligence make, subscribe, and deliver to his Majesties Thesaurer Principal and Depute, a sufficient and valide security by band or contract, made by the sight and advice of his Majesties Advocat, for employing of the said Taxation, and whole benefit thereof, in whole or in part, as the same shall be up-lifted to the use and effect above-specified. And ordaine the particulare forme and manner of up-lifting and in-gathering of the said Taxation, and reliefe of the Prelars, Lords of erections, and other Beneficed persons, to be conforme to his Majesties owne Taxation, granted in this present Parliament in all points, except in so farre as concerneth the particular day to be appointed to the Vassals, for conveying with the Prelats, Lords of erections, and other beneficed persons, for appointing and setting down of their due and right proportions of the saids Taxations, which they ordaine to be upon the seventeenth day of September next to come, which is declared to be the precise day of meeting, to the effect foresaid; And that no farther citation, nor summoning shall be requisite to that effect, then the publication and Proclamation of this present Act, at the Market-Crosses of the head Burrowes of this Realme, and holdeth the whole remnant clauses, and provisions of the Act of reliefe of his Majesties Taxations, as here repeated. And ordaines letters to be direct here-upon.

A C T XXIII.

Ratification of the liberties of the Colledge of Justice.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament ratifies; approves, and confirms all Acts of Parliament, gifts, grants and donations whatsoever, of all privileges, freedoms and immunities, made, given, granted, or conceived in favour of the Senators of the Colledge of Justice, by any of his Majesties Royal predecessors, or in any Parliament holden by them, dispensing alwaies with the generalitie hereof; And holding this general Ratification as sufficient, as if the whole privileges, freedoms, and immunities, Acts, and grants thereof were specially and at length insert hereintil.

ACT XXIV.

Ratification of the Priviledges of the free Royal Burrowes.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And Estates of this present Parliament, Have ratified and approved, and by the tenour hereof ratifie and approve of new, all Acts and constitutions of Parliament made by his Majesties Predecessours, in favour of the Free-burrowes of this Realme, and Burgeses and Inhabitants within the same, with all Priviledges, Freedomes, Liberties and Immunities granted and given to the whole Burrows in general in any time by-past, by any of OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD his Majesties Noble Progenitors, with all that hath followed or may follow thereupon. And decernes and declares the same to have full strength, force and effect in all times hereafter; so that the same may be put to full and due execution in all points. And specially, without prejudice of the generalitie above-written, His Majestic and Estates Ratifie the Act of Parliament made by his Highnesse Grand-father, umwhile King James the Third, 1466. His second Parliament, Cap. 11: Ordaining that none saile nor passe in Merchandise out of the Realme but Free-men, Burgeses dwelling within Burgh, or their Familiar Factors, Servants being with them in Household at Meat and Drink (excepting and reserving to the Prelates, Lords, Barons and Clerks, as in the said Act is contained: and all other exceptions contained in any Act of Parliament in force, preceeding the day and date hereof) And sicklike the Act of Parliament made by King James the Fourth of worthie memorie, in the Parliament holden at Edinburgh the Elleventh day of March, 1503. yeares, Cap. 84. Ordaining that no person dwelling out of Burrowes, use any Merchandise, nor yet buy nor sell Wine, Wax, Silkes, Spicerie, Wad, nor sicklike stuffe, nor yet Itaple goods: And that none Pack nor Peill in Leith, nor other places without the Kings Burrowes, under the paine of Escheat of the goods that be Topped, Sould, Packed, or Peilled, contrary to that statute. And sicklike the 152. Act of umwhile King James the Sixth, His 12. Parliament: Ordaining that no person exercise the traffique of Merchandise, but Burgeses of Free-burrows, under paine of Escheat of their whole goods and geare, the one halfe to his Majestic, and the other halfe to the Burgh apprehender. And giving power to every Burgh by themselves or a Collector, or Commissioner depute by them to search the saids un-freemens goods, intronnet therewith as Escheat, either within the Countrey, or any other part to arcaist, call, follow and pursue before un-suspect Baillies to be creat by them. As also the Sixth Act of King JAMES the Sixth, His ninth Parliament, Ordaining letters of Horning to be direct against un-freemen, not being Burgeses of the Free Royal Burrowes, to finde caution for desisting from usurping of their Liberties, in all the Heads, Clauses, Articles and circumstances thereof: Like-as his Majestic and Estates declare, that the saids Liberties and Priviledges, mentioned in the saids Acts are only proper and competent to the Free-burrowes Royal, that have vote in Parliament, and beare burden with the rest of the Burrowes, and to no others. Prohibiting and discharging all persons who are not Burgeses of the saids Free-Royal-Burrowes, and beare no burden with the rest, Of all using and exercising of the Liberties and Priviledges foresaids, in all time comming. And ordaine, that Letters of Horning may be direct by the Lords of Council at the instance of all Burrowes upon the foresaids Priviledges and former Acts of Parliament made thereupon: And this present Act in all times to come, for putting of the same to due execution with all rigour against them that do, or come in the contrary of the Acts and Priviledges foresaids, without calling of any partie.

ACT XXV.

Ratification of the Acts made in favour of the Justices of Peace, and their Constables; and Commission to the Lords of Secret Council thereanent.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of Parliament, ratifie, approve, and confirme the eight Act of the twentie two Parliament, holden by King JAMES the Sixth of Eternal memorie, Intitulate, [Auent the Justices for keeping of the Kings Peace, and their Constables.] In the whole Heads, Articles and Clauses therein contained, admitting the generalitie hereof to be als valide and sufficient, as if the same were all herein per expressum ingroft. Attour his Majestic, and Estates foresaid, give full power, authoritie and commission to the Lords of his Majesties Privie Council, to set down and impose penalties upon such of the Justices of Peace as shall not keep and observe the diets prefixed for their several and particular meetings. And with power likewise to the saids Lords of privie Council to enlarge and amplifie the power and authoritie of the saids Justices of Peace, if they shall finde it necessarie and expedient; and what they shall decrete and determine thereanent, finde and declare that the same shall have the force, strength and power of an Act of Parliament.

ACT XXVI.

Explanation of the Acts of Parliament made in favour of the Lords of Session, anent twelve pennies of the pound to be payed in decreetes, to be given by the saids Lords hereafter.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And Estates of Parliament, for explanation of the former Acts of Parliament, made in favours of the Lords of Session, anent twelve pennies of the pound: Statute and ordaine, that whensoever the saids Lords shall decerne and ordaine 12. pennies of the pound to be payed in any decreet or sentence to be given or pronounced by them at any time hereafter; The same shall no wayes be payed by the parties, purchasurs and obtainers of the saids decreetes and sentences, but by these parties aliennerly, against whom the saids decreets and sentences shall happen to be obtained and purchasid: And the booking and extracting of the sentences shall not be stayed for the not payment making of the twelve pennies of the pound, by the purchasurs and obtainers of the saids decreets.

ACT XXVII.

Pardon of Penal Statutes.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, Considering that the precise and rigorous exaction of the pains arbitrarie and pecunial, adjected to penal statutes heretofore made, would prove a burden to his Majesties Lieges heave and insupportable, if by his Majesties grace and favour they should not be eased and liberate of the same; In consideration whereof his Majestie in this his first Parliament, holden in this his ancient and native Kingdome, being willing to give ease and reliefe to his subjects of the foresaid burden: Hath therefore been graciously pleased with consent of the Estates of Parliament, to discharge, freely pardon and remit, and by these presents discharges, freely pardons and remits all contraveners of any of the saids penal statutes for all deeds done by them contrary to the renour of the same statutes in time by-gone. Except only the statutes concerning wearing and bearing of Hagbuts and Pistols, Taking of unlawfull usurie, Transporting of money and gold, Slaying of red and black fish, with the penalties incurred by the concealers of annual-rents, and wrongous up-givers of the inventars of their moneys. Which are no-wayes discharged by this present Act, nor comprehended under the same.

ACT XXVIII.

Ratification in favour of the Vicount of Sterling, of the Infestments and signature granted to him of the Dominions of new Scotland and Canada in America, and Priviledges therein contained, and of the dignity and order of Knight Baronets, and Act of Convention of Estates made thereanent.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of this present Parliament, ratific and approve all Letters Patents, and Infestments granted by King JAMES the Sixth, of blessed memorie, or by our said Sovereigne Lord, unto William Vicount of Sterling, and to his Heires and Assigneis of the Territories and Dominions of new Scotland and Canada in America; and especially the Patent, Charter, and Infestment granted by his Majesties umwhile dearest Father of worthie memorie, of new Scotland, of the date the tenth day of September, the year of God, 1621. Item, another charter of the same, granted by his Majestie, under the great Seale, of the date the twelfth day of July, 1625. yeares. Item, another Charter and Infestment granted by his Majestie of the Countrie and Dominion of new Scotland under the great Seale, of the date the third day of May, 1627. yeares; Item, another Charter and Infestment granted by his Majestie under the great Seale, of the River and Gulf of Canada, bounds, and priviledges thereof, mentioned in the said Patent, of the date the second day of Februarie, 1628. yeares. Item, a Signature past under his Majesties hand of the said Countrie and Dominion, which is to be with all diligence expedit through the Seales, of the date at White-hall the twenty fourth day of April, 1633. yeares. With all Liberties, Priviledges, Honours, Jurisdictions and dignities respective therein mentioned. Together also with all execution, precepts, Instrumts of sealings, and sealings following, or that shall happen to follow thereupon. And also ratifies and approves the Act of general Convention of Estates; at Holy-rude-bourse, the sixth day of July, the year of God, 1630. Whereby the saids Estates have ratified and approving the dignities and order of Knight Baronet; With all the Acts of Secret Council, and Prolamations folowing thereupon, made for maintaining of the said dignitie, place and precedencie thereof. And his Majestie and Estates foresaid, will, statute, and ordaine, that the saids Letters Patents, Charters, and Infestments; and the said dignitie, title, and order of Baronets, and all Letters Patents and Infestments of Lands, and dignities granted therewith, to any person whatsoever, shall stand and continue in full force; with all Liberties, Priviledges and precedencies thereof, according to the Tenour of the same. And in als ample ample maner as if the bodies of the said letters patents, infeftments, and signature above mentioned were herein particularly ingroft and exprest. And ordaine intimation to be made hereof by open proclamation to all his Majesties Lieges, at the market crosse of Edinburgh, and other places needful, that none pretend ignorance hereof.

ACT XXIX.

In Favour of the Earle of Mortoun, and the Lord Dalkeith his Sonne; Auent the Loch of Leiven, and preservation of the fishings thereof.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And Estates of this present Parliament, considering that the Loch of Loch Leiven pertaines heritably in propertie to his Majesties right trustie Cousin and Counsellor William Earle of Mortoun, Lord great Thesaurer of this Realme, and Robert Lord Dalkeith his Sonne; And that the said Loch is well plenished and furnished with Pykes, Perches, and Trouts of divers kinds: And that when the fish ascend forth of the said Loch, to the waters, burnes, and strypes that fall in the same to spawn therein, There is great slaughter and destruction of them committed by the country people about, whereby the said Loch and fishing thereof is not of such worth to the heritors of the said Loch, nor to the country about, as it would be if the said fishes were not slain in the said waters, burnes, and strypes. For remedy whereof, his Majestie, with advice and consent of the Estates of this present Parliament, statutes and ordaines that none of his Majesties Lieges slay any Pykes, Perches, Trouts, or any other fishes in the waters, strypes, or burnes, that fall in the said Loch, or run forth thereof, within the space of five miles to the said Loch, under the paine of twentie pounds usual money of this Realme, to be payed by each contraveener; toties quoties for each contravention: And ordaines the said whole paines and unlaues of contravention to appertaine to the said Earle of Mortoun, and his said Son, their heires and successours; And by these presents gives and grants power and commission to them and their Bayliffes and Deputes, to call before them within the towne of Kinross, all persons suspect of slaying of the said fish within the said burnes, waters, Loch, or strypes, within the said space of five miles to the said Loch; And as they shall be found guilty or innocent of slaying thereof, to assioyie them, or unlaue them in the unlaues foresaid; And to decerne and ordaine the persons convict to pay the same unlaues to the proctor fiscal to be appointed for that effect, by the said Earle of Mortoun, his said son, or their foresaids; And ordaines letters of hornung upon a simple charge of six dayes, poynding, and other letters and executorials requisit to be direct for payment to the said proctor fiscal of the said unlaues; And ordaines publication to be made hereof, in forme as effectis

ACT XXX.

Auent The Clan-Gregour.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, And three Estates of this present Parliament, understanding that albeit by the great care of his Highnes umwhile dearest Father of eternal memory, the Clan-Gregour was suppressit and reduced to quietnesse; yet of late, they are broken forth againe to the heave oppression of many of his Majesties good subjects, who dwell near to the part where they resort, and speciallie in the Shierifdome of Perth, Sterling, Clackmannan, Monteith, Lennox, Angus, and Mernes. Therefore, for the timous preventing of the disorder and oppression that may fall out by the said name and Clan of Mac-Gregour, and their followers, and for farther suppressing of them; Ratifie and approve all Acts of Council and Acts of Parliament made and granted heretofore, against the said wicked and rebellious Clan of Mac-Gregour. And farther, his Majestie and Estates of Parliament statute and ordaine, that the said name of Clan-Gregour and every one of them, as they come to the age of sixteen years, shall thereafter yearly give their compearance before the Lords of privie Council, upon the twenty fourth day of July, if it be a lawfull Council day; and failing thereof the next Council day thereafter, and there find caution for their good behaviour and obedience in all time coming; And take to them some other surname conforme to the Acts of Council already made there-ant; And if they faile in not compearance as said is, and goe to the horne, that then it shall be lawful to any of his Majesties Lieges, to take and apprehend them, and present them to the Sheriffe of the Shire, or his deputies, or to the Stewarts of the Stewartrie, or their deputies, to the effect they may be presented before the Lords of privie Council, there to be taken order with as effectis. And if it shall happen any of his Highnesse good Subjects in taking any of the said Clan-Gregour, being put to the horn as said is, to hurt, mutilate or slay any of them, the partie who shall happen so to do, and their complices, shall no wayes be subject nor liable to law therefore, nor incurre any paine or skaithe in body or goods, and shall be free of all pursuit criminal or civil to be intended against them, at the instance of his Highnesse Advocate, or any other partie; But the same shall be holden and repute as good service done to his Majestie. And farther, our said Sovereigne Lord, and Estates foresaid, for the better extinguishing and extirpating of the said wicked and lawlesse Limmers; Statute and ordaine that no Minister nor Preachers within the bounds of the High-lands or next bordering countreys thereto, Banffe, Invernes, or regalie of Spynie or Elgin, Forres, shall at any time hereafter baptize and christen any male childe with the name of Gregour, under the paine of deprivation, and that that no Clerke or Notar in any time coming, shall make or subscribe any band or other securitie under the name of Gregour, or Mac-Gregour, under the paine of deprivation. And sicklike, statute and ordaine that all and whatsoever of the said Clan-Gregour that shall happen to bee within the said Kingdome upon the fiftenth day of March next to come, shall give their compearance before the Lords of privie Councel at Edinburgh, or where it shall happen them to bee for the time, or the next Councel day thereafter; To the effect that such of them as have already found caution, and whose cautioners are dead, may finde newe caution for their good behaviour in time coming. And such of them who have never found caution, may finde caution and suretie for their obedience in time coming, with certification to them if they doe not compeare, and that the Lords of privie Councel, for their disobedience, shall direct letters of horning against them, or any of them, and that they therefore be put to the home; that then it shall be lawful to any of his Majesties good Subjects, to take and apprehend them, where ever they may bee had, and put them to the next Sheriffe, Stewart, Bayliffe of regalitie, or their deputies; To any of the Justices of peace, or to the Provost and Bayliffs of Burrowes, to the effect they may present them before the Lords of his Majesties privie Councel, that such order may bee taken with the said rebels, as the said Lords shall thinke expedient. And farther, our said Sovereigne Lord declares, that if any of his Highnesse good subjects shall happen in taking of the said rebels, to hurt, mutilate or slay any of them, the partie who shall happen so to doe, and their complices, shall no wayes be subject nor lyable to law therefore, nor incurre any paine or skaithe in their bodie or goods; and shall be free of all pursute criminal or civil, to be intended against them, at the instance of his Highnesse Advocate, or any other partie: But the same shall be holden as good service done to his Majestie. And likewise, his Majestie and Estates foresaid, statute and ordaine, that if any of the said Clan-Gregour, who shall happen to have compeared, and found caution in manner above-specified, bee found masterlesse in time coming, having neither possessions nor callings, whereupon to live, nor will not take them to service, That it shall bee lawful to any of his Highnesse good subjects to take and apprehend them, and present them to the next Sheriffe, Stewart, Bayliffs of Regalitie and their deputies, or to the Provost and Bayliffs of Burrowes; and that they may present them to the Lords, and others of his Highnesse Councel, there to bee taken order with, as they thinke meete. And sicklike, his Majestie and Estates of Parliament, statute and ordaine, That if any of the said Clan-Gregour shall happen to be put to the home by letters of horning direct against them bee made thereof by the Lords of Councel, for the cause above-written: And that publication of the said Lords, to all his Majesties Lieges, and at all places needful; That then whatsoever person or persons shall receive, supply, or intercommoun with the said rebels, or any of them, or supply them with meate, drinke, lodging, or weapons, directly or indirectly, or any other necessaries, shall be punished in their bodies, goods, and geare, as intercommoners with rebels and forners, conforme to the lawes of this Kingdome against intercommoners and forners. And also his Majestie with consent of the Estates foresaid, statutes, and ordaines, and commands all Sheriffes, Stewarts, Provosts, Bayliffs of Burrowes, and Regalities, and all and sundrie his Majesties good subjects to assist and concurre with any of his Highnesse good subjects, who shall happen to be in pursute of the said rebels. And sicklike, statutes and ordaines the said Provosts, and Bayliffs of Burrowes, and Bayliffs of Regalitie, to receive from the hands of his Highnesse good subjects, the said rebels, who shall happen to be apprehended by them in manner foresaid, put, keepe, and detaine them in sure ward and firmance, aye and while they be presented before his Majesties Councel, or Justice. And lastly, his Majestie and Estates foresaid, for suppressing of the said lawlesse limmers and Clan of Mac-Gregour nominate and appoints the Sheriffes of the Sherifdomes of Perth, Dumbarton, Angus, Merness, Sterling, and Stewarts of the Stewartries of Strathern, Monteth, Banff, Immerness, Elgin, and Forres, and their deputies, and the Shireffe of Cromartie and his deputies, and the Provosts and Bayliffs of the Burrowes there; The Earles of Errol, Montros, Arbuthnot, Perth, Tullibairdin, Seaforth, Vicount of Stormouth, Lord Ogilvie; The Lairds of Glenarquhy, Lawers, Garnullie, Weymes, Glenlyon, Glenfalloch, Edinamfil, Grant, or any of them, his Majesties Justices in that part, for setting, trying, and doing Justice upon the said rebels of Clan-Gregour, or any of them and their complices, who shall be apprehended by any of his Highnesse good subjects, for theft, forming, or slaughter, with power to them to hold Courts, proceed and minister Justice upon the said rebels apprehended, as said is, as accords. And where ever his Majesties good subjects shall happen to apprehend any of the said rebels forming, committing theft or slaughter, and shall present them to the said Lords of Councel, Justice or Justice-general, or Commissioners above-specified, or either of them, the doer of that service, shall have for his reward, the moveable goods and geare of the offender, taken and presented by him in manner foresaid.

ACT XXXI.

In favour of his Majestie and Lieges, Intitulate; Salvo jure Cujuslibet.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD and Estates of Parliament declare, that no particular Acts made in favour of any of his Majesties subjects at this present Parliament, nor no Acts of Ratification made in their favour, shall prejudge his Majestie nor his Successours, of the Acts and Statutes underwritten, made in favour of his Majestie in this same Parliament, viz. The Act of his Majesties Revocation: The Act anent the Superiorities of Erections: The Act anent Regalities of Erections; and the Acts made or ratified anent his Majesties annexed properties: And his Majestie and Estates, finde and declare the said particular Acts, and Acts of Ratification, made in favour of any of his Majesties subjects, in so far as the same, or any of them may prejudge his Majestie or his Successours, of the saids Acts and Statutes, made in his Majesties favour, or of the benefit thereof in whole or in part, to be null and of none avail, force, nor effect, by way of exception or reply. And sicklike, Statute and Ordaine that the saids particular Acts, and Acts of Ratification, shall nor prejudge any third party of their lawful rights, nor of their Actions and defences competent thereupon, before the making of the saids particular Acts and Acts of Ratification; But that the Lords of Session and all other Judges shall be obliged to judge betwixt the parties, according to their rights standing in their persons, before the making of the saids particular Acts. And that in respect the saids particular Acts, and Acts of Ratification, are made without hearing of parties having interest; and therefore are made Salvo jure cujuslibet; Like-as his Majestie and Estates declare, That this is and was the true meaning of all the Acts made in the preceeding Parliaments, Intitular, Acts Salvo jure cujuslibet; Excepting alwayes forth of this present Act a Ratification of the Mortification of the Abbacie of Dundrenan to the Chapel-Royal, in favour of the Bishop of Dunblane; The Act of Ratification of the Benefice of Fallsuir with the pertinents, granted to Master Walter Quhytsuir, with the Act of dissolution of the Abbacies of Holy-rude-house and New-Abby, all past in this present Parliament: excepting also forth of this present Act, The Act of Ratification and dissolution, made in favour of the Marquess of Hamiltoun, anent his right to the Impost of the Wines new and old, gifted by his Majestie to him for the space of Sixteen yeares specified in his gifts and grants made to him thereupon; and also excepting forth hereof the Ratification of the contract past betwixt his Majestie and the Lord Lorne, Anent the heritable office of Justiciarie, within the bounds therein mentioned, dated the third, and twentie third day of April, 1628. yeates: And of the Charter under the great Seal, precept, and instrument of seizing following thereupon, together with libertie of creation of Clerks and Members of court, directing of precepts, and letters of horning, and power to denounce; and with all other priviledges therein contained. And sicklike of the three several acts of Council and an act of Exchequer, all relative to his rights of the said office of Justiciarie, and in favour of the said Lord Lorne.

Collected, visied and extracted forth of the Book and Register of the Acts of Parliament, by me Sir John Hay of Lands Knight, Clerk of his Majesties Council, Register and Rolls: Under my Signe and Subscription manual.

OF TEINDS, &c.

With

His MAJESTIES Decrets following thereupon.

Submission made be the Lords of Erections, Titulars, Tack-men, &c. Gentry, Heretours of Lands; To His Majesty, anent their Superiorities, and Teinds, &c.

T WHITE-HALL, The first day of Februar, And HALT-ROOD-HOUSE, The twenty third day of Februar, The year of God, One thousand, sex hundred, Twenty eight. The Persons under-written having or pretending right to whatsoever Erections, & Temporalities of Benefices, Superiorities, and Few-dewties of the same, or to the Kirks, and Teinds great and small, Parsonage, and Viccarage, or Patronages of Kirks pertaining to the saids Erections, or to any other which they, or any of them, have of other mens Lands, be whatsoever Right, or Title. And siclike, the Heretours, and Possessours of Lands; lyand within the saids Kirks, and Benefices, erected, for themselves, and in name of all Others, who are desirous to have Right and Title, of the Teinds of their own Lands, at a competent rate, and price, conform to His Majesties Proclamation made to that effect, THAT IS TO SAY, All the saids Persons, Considering, That his Majesty their Dread, and Gracious Sovereign, out of his Royal care, Fatherly, and tender affection, to the publick well of his Majesties Aneient, and Native Kingdom of Scotland, was largely pleased in the Moneth of Januar, the year of God 1627. years, for the ease of his Majesties Subjects, and removing of the general fears which were conceived, by reason of his Majesties Revocation, given forth, and published in the Moneth of October 1625. years, To grant Commission under his Majesties great Seal, to certain his Majesties Commissioners nominat in the said Commission, to meet, convene, dealc, and treat, anent such reasonable satisfaction, and composition, to be given to such of his Majesties Subjects, as had right to whatsoever erection of Benefices, Temporalities, Few-mails; Kirks, Teinds, and others foresaids, who should make surrender thereof in his Majesties hands; and anent the most convenient and lawfull form how the saids Persons should be denuded of the Superiorities of the saids Erections, without any composition to be made therefore, except for the Few-mails, Few-ferms, and other constant Rent of the saids Superiorities; And how lawfull Dispositions should be made to the Heretours, and possessours of Lands, of the Teinds of the saids lands pertaining to Erections, for such composition, and yearly dewties, to be payed, and refunded to His Sacred Majesty, as the saids Commissioners should think expedient. With power to the saids Commissioners, to consult, and agree, upon the establishing, and annexing, of a certain Parimony to the Crown and means thereof, to remain with the Crown for ever; As the said Commission of the date foresaid, bearing certain Declarations, Reservations, and other Provisions in favours of his Majesties Subjects having right to Erections; And in favours of Heretours, and Possessours of Lands, for securing of the Teinds of the same, at more lenth is contained. BY VERTUE, and conform to the which Commission, the saids Commissioners having now convened, and treated anent the premisses, from the said Moneth of Januar, until the last day of June, last by-past: There was during that time a good progress made by them in the said business committed to their care, And by an Act of the date the Twenty ninth day of May last by-past: It was advised, concluded, and enacted, That his Majesty and His Successours, should have a constant, Rent and Dewty payed out of the whole Teinds of the said Kingdom consisting in victual, or silver, excepting the particular Teinds, excepted and reserved be the said Act, viz. Of every boll of the best Teind Wheat, Ten shillings, of every Boll of best Teind Bear, Eight shillings; and of every Boll of the best Teind Oats, Pease, and Rye, Six shillings, and so the saids Rents to be modified out of the whole of the Teind bolls of victual, of the Teinds foresaids, being of inferiour worth; goodness, and, prices, according to the proportion of the saids Dewties, and Rent, laid, and imposed upon the best Boll of every kinde, in manner foresaid, And where Oats are of the nature, that they will not render above half meale, the Rent to be Three shillings: And also of every Hundred merks of Parsonage; and Viccarage Teinds, which are not Victual, the sum of Six merks money, of yearly rent, and dewty: LIKE AS the saids Commissioners having entered upon consideration of the composition to have been given be his Sacred Majesty, for the Few-mails, and other certain rent depending upon the Superiority of the saids Erections

Erections, and for the Teinds, Parsonage, and Vicarage, pertaining to the saids Erections, and anent the rate, and price of the saids Teinds; THE SAIDS COMMISSIONERS be their Act of the date the 29. day of June, last by-past, Found, that all Superiorities of Erections, should be freely resigned, and surrendered, in his Majesties hands, without any composition. And because the saids Commissioners could not uniformly agree anent the composition to be payed for the Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent of the saids Superiorities, nor yet anent the true estimation, in the rate, quantity, and prices of the same, Therefore, be another Act of the date the 29. day of May last by-past, It was condescended that the determination thereof should be refered to his Sacred Majesty. AND all the saids persons acknowledging in all humility, his Majesties Royal and Princely care, providence, and wisdom, with his Fatherly and tender affection, tending to the removing of all these questions, and contraversies, and to the publick well, and good of the Kingdom; THEREFOR E, All the saids Persons, have with one consent, and assent, of certain knowledge and proper motive, Ratified, and Approven the said Act made be the saids Commissioners, anent the said constant Rent, and Dewty, to be payed to his Majesty, and His Successours, forth of the Rents of the Kingdom; except, as is excepted in the said Act, and with the quality, restrictions, and provisions, mentioned in the said Act, which is of the date the 29. of May last by-past, Together with the said other Act made upon the said 29. of June last by-past: Whereby It is Ordained, That all Superiorities of Erections shall be freely resigned, and surrendered in his Majesties hands: Likeas the saids Persons, and every one of them, for all Right, and Title, which they have, or may pretend to the Superiorities of whatsoever Lands pertaining to whatsoever Benefices erected, of whatsoever Title, name, or designation, the same be, Are content in all humility, promptitude, and alacrity of mind, To make surrender of the saids Superiorities, in manner after-mentioned. And therefore They, and every one of them, of certain knowledge, and proper motive, have made, constitute, and ordained, and be their presents makes, constituts, and Ordains; Master William Elphinstoun, Cup-bearer to his Majesty, and

Their Procuratours: With power to them, and ilk one of them, conjunctly, and severally, to compare before their Gracious, and Dread Sovereign, his Sacred Majesty, and his Successours, or before their Commissioners, having power to receive Resignations, whatsoever day, and place convenient, and there, with all humility and reverence as becomes, To Resign, up-give, and Surrender, in the hands of their said Gracious, and Dread Sovereign, his Sacred Majesty, and his Successours, or in the hands of their Commissioners foresaid, Ad perpetuam remanentiam: Likeas they and every one of them, for their own right, for them, and their Successours, Resigns, and Surrenders in his Majesties hands, Ad perpetuam remanentiam, The Right and Title of Superiority, of all and sundrie Lands, Baronies, Milnes, Woods, Fishings, Towers, Fortalices, Mannour-places, and other Pertinents, pertaining to whatsoever Erections, and Temporalities of Benefices, of whatsoever Title, name, or designation, the same be, to which, they, or any of them, have, or may pretend to have, or pretend right of Superiorty, at the day and date of their presents, and which are holden of them, as Lords of Erection be Reserving unto them, and every one of them, the Few-mails, and Few-ferms, of their saids Superiorities, ay and while they receive payment, and satisfaction, of that which shall be ordained to be payed to them for the same, in manner after-mentioned. LIKEAS, It is expressly provided, and declared, that they shall use, bruick, and possess, the saids Few-mails, Few-ferms, of the saids Superiorities, ay and while they receive payment, and satisfaction, of the composition which shall be ordained, and appointed to them, be virtue of the Submission after-mentioned. and that by virtue of their present Rights, and Infeftments of the same; Notwithstanding of the surrender, and resignation above-specified, or any thing that shall follow thereupon. And alsit is expressly declared, that under the Surrenders, and Resignations above-specified, shall no wayes be comprehended, the right of property of whatsoever Lands, Baronies, Woods, Fishings, Manour-places, Milns, Multets, and Others of the saids erected Benefices, pertaining to the saids Surrenders in property, and whereof they have had, or acquired the right of property of before, or since the saids Erections, be whatsoever manner of way, according to the Law of the Kingdom. To be holden of his Majesty, and His Successours, as the same were holden before the date of the saids Erections: And also Reserving to them, the whole provisions, reservations, and other favours, and Benefites, granted, and reserved to them, be his Sacred Majesty, be virtue of the said Commission: And specially, but prejudice of the generality foresaid, Reserving the particular clauses following, whereby his Sacred Majesty hath declared, That it is not his Majesties intention, nor pleasure, to quarrel, and annull, any of the consumed Fewes, or other lawfull Rights of any of the Lands, Temporalities of Benefices, formerly set be the Ancient Titulars thereof, without diminution of the Rentals, or Fewes granted be his Majesties late Father, to any of the Lords of Erection before their Erections, without diminution of the Rentals, or Fewes bought bona fide, be any of the Lords of Erection, or by any other from them, before His Majesties late Revocation, from any Heretour thereof, without diminution of the Rentals, nor yet to quarrel, nor annul, any of the saids Fewes, set be the saids Lords of Erection, before his Majesties late Revocation, to any of their own Vassals, without diminution of the old Rental. And whereby it is declared, That it is his Majesties special will and pleasure, That the Mansions, Circuits, Places, Orchards, and Gardens, of all the saids erected Benefices, shall be fewed unto such of the saids Lords of Erections, as are in present actual possession thereof, without any other compo-composition then a very small Few-dewtie, to be a testimony, that the same are holden of his Majesty immediately. And also that such Demesnauges, and other Messuages Lands, or other parts of the said Temporalities of Benefices, as were never before set in Few, or Rental, by the Ancient Titulars before the Act of Annexation, nor by his Majesties dearest Father of Eternal memory, since the said Act, and yet is presently possessed be any of the saids Lords of Erections, Maz, and shall be fewed to the saids Lords of Erections, and to no others over their heads nor to their prejudice, and that for such reasonable Few-dewties, as the saids Commissioners shall appoint. And also that such Lands of the Temporalities of Benefices which are not erected, shall be Fewed to the present Possessours thereof, and to no others, for such a reasonable composition, and Few-dewties, as the saids Commissioners shall think fit, according to the validity and invalidity of their present Titles, which his Majesty is graciously pleased to amend to them, by all the lawful wayes, and means that shall be advised by the saids Commissioners. Which whole Inseftments, Rights, and Securities, his Majesty hath graciously pronounced to be ratified, and secured by Deliverance, Decreet, and Confirmation of Parliament; As in the said Commission at more length is contained. And also it is specially provided, that the saids Persons, and every one of them, shall be no farther obliged in warrantice of the Resignation above-specified, but from their own proper fact, & deed allennery. And felike all the saids Persons have ratified, and approved, and be their presents Ratifies, and Approves the said Act made by the saids Commissioners upon the 29. of June last by-past, Where by the determination of the Composition for Few-mails, with the quantity, rate, and price of Teinds, is referred to His Sacred Majesty. And farther, To the effect, that this general and great work intended for the security of every Heretour his own Teinds, may be brought to full perfection, All the saids Persons of certain knowledge, and proper motive, have of new submitted, and by these presents submits, To his Majesty, to stand, & abide, at His Majesty Determination, and Decreet, anent what composition, and price of Teinds, shall be given by his Majesty, to them, or any of them, for the Few-mails, Few-ferms, and other constant Rent of the saids Superiorities Resigned, and Surrendered be them, in his Majesties hands, as said is; And doe freely, and absolutely by these presents submit to his Majesty, All and sundrie Teinds that they or any of them have of other Mens Lands, by whatsoever Right or Title, they possess or occupy the same: Submitting likewise to his Majesty, how they may be denuded thereof in his Majesties favours, omni habili modo quo de jure; And doe in like manner submit to his Majesty to appoint the quantity, and rate thereof, and what price shall be given them for the same, and what securities shall be made there anent, They always being freed, and relieved of the burden of Ministers, pro rata. And because his Majesty will take specially into his Princely consideration, the lawful Rights, and Tacks of Teinds, of Erected Benefices, and of all Laick Patronages, made and set to the present Possessours, or their Authors, by lawful Abbots, Priors, Laick Patrons, and other Titulars of Benefices, lawfully set before the date of the saids Erections, and for the space, and years of the saids Tacks, Rights, and Patronages yet to run, to the effect they may have plenarie and full satisfaction for the saids Tacks, Rights, and Patronages, according as his Majesty shall find the validity thereof, as is usual in the like cases, with the burden alwayes of his Majesties Annuity above-mentioned, And to the effect his Majesty may be informed of their saids Tacks and Rights, before the giving forth of his Majesties determination in the premisses; Submission made be the Bishops and Clergie of SCOTLAND, To his Majesty, Anent the Rights of Teinds.

AT Twenty eight years Wee the The Day of One Thousand, six Hundred Scotland under Subscribing. Considering that His Sacred Majesty, Our Dread Sovereign, out of His Royal Care, Fatherly and tender affection to the Publick good of all his Majesties Subjects of His said Kingdom, for freeing them from the extremitie of damage, which may ensue to them, by leading of their Teinds, Intends to take such course as hereafter every Heretour may possesse, and enjoy the Teinds of his own Lands, for payment of a reasonable Rate, and Dewty for the same; And Wee acknowledging our selves to be bound in Dewty for the advancement of that his Majesties Royal design, tending to the Publick good of the Commonwealth. And being most willing that such Heretours as are subject to the payment of any Teinds to Us, or any of Us, may have their own, being desirous thereof, for payment to Us, and our Successours, of such a reasonable rate, and constant yearly Rent, as his Majesty shall determine to be the Quota, and Rates of the Teinds, within the rest of the Kingdom, so as the Rent and Dewty, in Silver, and Bols payed at the present, as well to Us, as to the Ministers serving at our particular Churches, be not in any sort hurt, or diminished. And also considering the great benefite, which the said course intended be His Majesty, may Import to Us and our Successours, who are thereby to have a certain, and yearly Rent, which may not be altered by any Titulars in prejudice of their Successours. THEREFORE to be bound and oblidge, Likeas Wee Bind and Oblidge Us, and Our Successours, to grant to every Heretour of the several Lands, the Teinds whereof doe appertain to us, or any of us (being desirous of the same) such sufficient security thereof, as may stand with the Laws of the Kingdom, and for such a reasonable Rate and Rent, or rentall Bols as his Majesty shall determine to be the Quota, and Rate of the Teinds: Submitting our selves hereby, to his Majesties Royal Decreet, and Sentence to be pronounced at, or before the last Day of December, in the year of God 1629. And anent what lawful security in manner foreaid, shall be made, and given by Us; or any of Us, to the saids Heretours of their own Teinds, belonging to Our Bishopricks, or Benefices, for payment to be made, be the saids Heretours, to Us, and Our Successours of the said Quota, and Rate, or constant Rent, and Rental, to be set down be his Majesty, for the saids Teinds, out of the saids Lands subject in payment thereof yearly, in such manner, and at such terms, as his Majesty shall be pleased to appoint:
And anent the making, setting down, and establishing of the said Quota, and Rate of the saids Teinds, Rental, or Rental-Bols, payable yearly, for the same to Us, and Our Successours; And anent what Security the saids Heretours shall make, for the sure, true, timeous, and thankful payment to Us, and Our Successours, of the said yearly Rent, and Rental-Bols, at such Times, and Terms of payment, as his Majesty shall think fit to be contained in the security of the said Teinds: And anent the Annuity hereafter payable, be the saids Heretours, for encrease of his Majesties Rent, Providing that Wee, and every one of Us, enjoy the Fruit, and Rent, of Our several Benefices, as they are Possess by Us, at this present time, and that the same be not hurt, nor diminished, neither in quantity, nor quality, whether the same be payed to Us, in Rental-Bols, or by gathering of the Teind-sheaves; But that Wee, and our Ministers, provided to the particular Churches under us, and our, and their Successours, may freely enjoy the same, without any alteration; and that such Rent as shall hereafter belong, and accresse to us, and any of us, and our Successours, by his Majesties said Decreet, anent the said Quota to be payed be the saids Heretours, for the remanent of the Teinds, which are not in our present possession, be secured and made sure to Us, and Our Successours, leaving the saids Heretours of the Lands, out of which the Teinds are due unto Us, To submit themselves to his Sacred Majesty his Decreet and Determination, anent the Annuity, and other Premises which concern them, to be pronounced before the said last Day of December 1629. AND for the more security, Wee, and every one of Us, are content, and consents, that thir presents be Insert and Registrat, Together with his Majesties Determination to follow thereupon, in the Books of Council, and Session of Scotland; to have the strength of a Decreet of the Lords thereof Interponed thereto, and that all Letters, and Execution needful may pass hereupon, in form as effects, and the Hoining to pass on a simple charge of Ten dayes only: And for Registrating hereof, and determination forefaid to follow hereupon as faid is, Makes and Constituts Submission made to His Maſteſty, be certain Tack/men, and Others having Right to Teinds, &c.

AT the Eighteenth day of 1628. The Perſons under-written, having, or pretending a right, be whatſoever Title, Tack, or other manner of right, to whatſoever Teinds of other Mens Lands pertaining to whatſoever Biſhoprick, Abbacie, Priory, Parſonage, Vicarage, Colledge-Kirks, Prebendry, Chaplainry, or other Benefices whatſoever. And ſiclike, the Heretours, and Poſſeſſours, of whatſoever Lands lying within the ſaids Benefices, and who are deſirous to have the Teinds of their own proper Lands pertaining to the ſaids Benefices, at a competent rate, and price, conform to his Maſteſties gracious intention, declared, and ſignified for the well of the Kingdom; And conform to his Maſteſties many, and ſeveral Proclamations made thereanent, THAT IS TO SAY, The ſaids Perſons Conſidering that his Maſteſty, their Dread, and Gracious Sovereign, out of his Royal care, Fatherly, and tender affection to the publick well of his Native, and moſt Ancient Kingdom of Scotland, was lately pleaſed in the Moneth of Januar 1627. Years, for the eaſe of his Maſteſties Subjects, and removing the general fear which was conceived be reaſon of his Maſteſties Revocation, given forth, and publiſhed, in the Moneth of October, 1625. years, to grant Commiſſion under his Maſteſties Great Seal, to certain his Maſteſties Commiſſioners, nominat in the ſaid Commiſſion, to Meet, Conveen, Deale, and Treat, anent ſuch reaſonable Compoſition, and Satisfaction, to be given to ſuch of his Maſteſties Subjects, as had Right to whatſoever Erections of Benefices, Temporalities, Few-mails, Kirks, Teinds, and Others pertaining thereto, and how lawfull Diſpoſition may be made to the Heretours, and Poſſeſſours of Lands, of the Teinds of their ſaids Lands, for ſuch Compoſition, and yearly Dewty, to be payed, and Reſerved to his Sacred Maſteſty, as the ſaids Commiſſioners ſhould think fit, and expedient: As in the ſaid Commiſſion of the Date foreſaid, bearing certain Declarations, Reſtrictions, and other Proviſions, in favours of his Maſteſties Subjects having Right to Erections, and in favours of Heretours, and Poſſeſſours of Lands, for Security of their Teinds, at more length is contained. BE VERTUE, and CONFORM to the which Commiſſion, the ſaids Commiſſioners having Conveened, and Treated anent the Premiſſes, from the ſaid Moneth of Januar, to the laſt of June 1627. years, There was during that time, a great progreſs made be them, in the ſaid buſineſs committed to their care, And be an Act of the 29 of May 1627. years, It was Adviced, Enacted, and Concluded, That his Maſteſty, and his Succeſſours, ſhould have a conſtant Rent, and Dewty, payed out of the whole Teinds of the ſaid Kingdom, conſiſting in Vic-tual, or Silver, Except the particular Teinds excepted, and reſerved be the ſaid Act, Likcas the ſaids Commiſſioners having entered upon conſideration of the Rate, and Price of Teinds, found ſuch difficulties, as they could not uniformly agree upon the true Eſtimation of the ſaids Teinds, in the Rate, Quality, and Prices thereof; And Therefore be ane Act of the Date of the ſaid 29 Day of June 1627. years, Condeſcended that the determination thereof ſhould be referred to his Sacred Maſteſty, As the ſaids Acts of the Dates foreſaids, in themſelves at more length propoerts. And all the ſaids Perſons acknowledging in all Humility, his Maſteſties Royall, and Princely Care, Providence, and Wiſdom, with his Fatherly, and tender Affection, Tending to the removing of all queſtions, and controversies, to the publick well, and good of the Kingdom. THEREFORE All the ſaids Perſons, with one conſent, and aſſent, of certain Knowledge, and proper Motive, have Ratified, and Approven the ſaid Act made be the ſaids Commiſſioners, anent the ſaid conſtant stant Rent, and Dewty, to be payed to his Majesty, and his Successours, forth of the Teinds of the Kingdom, Except as is excepted in the said Act, and with the qualities, restrictions, and provisions mentioned in the said Act, which is of the date the said 29. of May 1627. years, Together with the said other Act, made upon the said 29. Day of June 1627. Years, whereby the Determination of the rates, quality, and prices, of Teinds of other Men's Lands is referred to his Sacred Majesty. AND FOR SAMEIKLE as there was a General Submission drawn up concerning the premises, which was subscribed by the most part of the Titulars, and Heretours of the Kingdom, And that a few number deferred to subscribe the saids Submissions, upon pretence that the Arch-Bishops, Bishops, Parsons, Vicars, and others of the Clergy of the Kingdom, who had Right to the Teinds, had not subscribed the saids Submissions, which Impediment is now removed, in respect the Arch-Bishops, and Bishops, have subscribed a several submission to his Majesty, In so farre as concerns the Teinds pertaining to the Bishopricks. AND his Majesty being willing, and resolved, to have an universal order established within the whole Kingdom, anent the matter of Teinds, and that every Heretour shall have, and brueik his own Teinds, of whatsoever nature the said Teinds be, and to whatsoever Benefice the same pertains, at a competent Rate, and Price, THEREFOR his Majesty be his Letter, and Warrant, direct to the Commissioners for Teinds, of the date the day of last by-past, hath signified his Majesties Gracious will and pleasure; That all Titulars of Teinds, pertaining to whatsoever Kirk, or Benefice, and als all Heretours of Lands, the Teinds whereof pertains to the said Benefices, or Kirk shall subscribe a general submission to his Majesty in referring to his Majesty the price, rate, and quantity of whatsoever Teinds of other Men's Lands: WHICH Letter being read, and considered by the saids Commissioners for Teinds, They be their Act of the date the day of December last by-past, have in all Humility acknowledged his Majesties Gracious, and Fatherly Care, for the Good of his Ancient Kingdom, and have allowed, and approved the said Letter, and interponed their authority thereto. And all the saids Persons being most ready, and willing, in all humility, submission, Promptitude, and Alacrity of Mind, to give Obedience to his Majesties desire for the Publick well of the Kingdom. THEREFOR They all of certain knowledge, and proper motive, have submitted to his Sacred Majesty, All and sundrie Teinds, that they, or any of them have of other mens Lands, be whatsoever Right, or Title, they possess, or enjoy the same, and how they may be deuded Omni habili modo quo de jure, And in like manner do submit to his Majesty, to appoint the rate, and quantity of Teinds, and what prices shall be given for the same, and what security shall be made of the Teinds of other Mens Lands, to the Heretours, and Possessours thereof, in such form as may stand by Law: And all the saids Persons are content, and consents, that his Sacred Majesty give forth his pleasure, and Determination, anent the premises referred to his Majesty in manner foresaid, betwixt the day, and date hercof, and the last day of December 1629. years: With power also to his Majesty to prorogat the time of the giving forth of his said Determination, to whatsoever day, or dayes thereafter, as shall seem good to his Majesty, out of his Royall Wisdom. Likewise all the saids Persons, Binds, and Oblidges them, their Heirs, and Successours, in all Humility to obtemper, fulfill, and obey, his Majesties said Determination, they receiving perfect, and Lawful securities, conform to the Tenor of his Majesties Commission foresaid, and als receiving real payment of that which shall be Obtained by his Majesty, before they denude themselves, either of Right, or Possession of the saids Teinds, and that, at, or within such time, or times as his Majesty shall appoint, be his said Determination. AND for the more security, all the saids Persons, and every one of them, are content, and consents, that thir presents, with his Majesties Determination to follow hereupon, shall be insert, and Registrat in the Books of Council, and Session, and shall have the strength of a Decreet of the Lords thereof, and Execution to pass thereupon, in form as effects, and the Horning to pass one a simple charge of Tendes allennerly, And to that effect makes, and Constituts

Their Procuratours to compar, and consent to the Registration thereof, in manner foresaid. In Witness whereof (Written be William Ferguson Writter,) All the saids persons have Subscribed thir presents, with their hands, day, year, and place foresaid. Before thir Witnesses &c. Sic Subscribitur, Ja. of Lawes, John Buchanan Portioner of Batlasie. Ita est Walterus Watson Nosarius Publicus in premiffis requisitis, de mandato dicti Jacobi Buntein de Kirkcoun, scribere nescien, ut asseruit, Et hunc Calamum meum tangen, Teste manu propria. Ita est Robertus Glen Connotarius in premiffis requisitis, de speciali mandato dicti Jacobi Buntein de Kirkcoun Scribere nescien, ut asseruit, Teste manu propria.

As Wee having now after good Advice, and Deliberation, pronounced, and given forth Our Royal Decree, Sentence, and Determination, in the matters referred, and submitted unto Us, by the General Submissions made by the Arch-Bishops, and Bishops, Lords of Erections, Patrons of Kirks, and Benefices, Titulars of Teinds, and Heretours of the Lands out of which Teinds are payed, and by Our Burrowes, and Others Our subjects, particularly expressed in the saids Submissions, as in the four several Decrees following, pronounced by Us in these matters, at length is contained. AND Wee finding it necessary, and expedient for the good of Our subjects, that Publication, and Intimation should be made of Our saids Decrees, to the intent that Our subjects being acquainted with the Tenour, and substance of the same, they may be the better prepared and resolved, to obtemper, & obey the same. Wee therefore Recommended to the Lords of Our Privy Council, the Publication of Our saids Decrees, which Decrees being exhibit unto Our said Council, and Read in their Audience, upon the Eighteenth Day of September instant, and they in all dewtiful Obedience, acquiescing to Our Royal Direction anent the Publication of Our saids Decrees: Therefore they have Ordained, and Ordains, the saids Decrees to be Published at the Mercat-Crosses of the Head Burrowes of this Our Kingdom, and hath Ordained these Our Letters to be direct for that effect, as an Act made thereupon bears, OUR WILL IS Herefore, and Wee Charge you straitly, and Commands, that incontinent these Our Letters seen you pass to the Mercat Cross of Edinburgh and to the remanent Mercat Crosses of the head Burrowes of this Our Kingdom, and there by open Proclamation, in Our Name, and Authority make Publication, and Intimation of Our saids Decrees, To all, and sundry Our Lieges, and Subjects, wherethrough none pretend ignorance of the same: As you will answer to Us thereupon: The which to doe, Wee commit to you conjunctly, and severally, Our full power by these Our Letters, delivering the same by you duely Execut, and Indorsed again to the Bearer.

GIVEN under Our Signet, at Holy-rude-house, the Eighteenth Day of September, and of Our Reigne the fifth Year 1629.

Per Actum Dominorum Secreti Concilij.

HERE FOLLOWETH THE TENOUR OF THE DECREETS.

His Majesties Determination upon the first General Submissions.

CHARLES By the grace of God King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith. To all and sundry Our Subjects whom it effeirs. FOR SAMEIKLE as by the general Submissions made to Us, by all and sundry persons, having, or pretending Right to whatsoever Erections, and Temporalities of Benefices, Superiorities, and Few-dewties of the same, or to the Kirks, and Teinds, great, and small, Parsonages, and Vicarages, or to Patronages of Kirks pertaining to Erections, or to any Teinds, which they, or any of them have of Other Mens Lands, by whatsoever Right, or Title: And als by the Heretours, and Possessours of Lands lying within the saids Kirks, and Benefices erected, for themselves, and in name of all Others, who were desirous to have the Right, and Title of the Teinds of their own Lands, at a competent rate, and price, conform to Our gracious Proclamations made to that effect; The saids Persons Subscribers of the saids general Submissions did submit themselves to Us; And are bound to stand, and abide, at Our determination, & decree, anent what composition, and satisfaction shall be made, and given by Us, to them, or any of them; for the Few-mails, Few-ferms, and other constant Rent of the Superiorities, of whatsoever Lands, Barronies, Mylnes, Woods, Fishings, Towers, Fortlices, Mannour-places, and their pertinents, pertaining to whatsoever Erections, and Temporalities of Benefices, of whatsoever title, name, or designation, the same be, resigned, and surrendered by them in Our hands: And als did freely, and absolutely submit to Us, all and sundry Teinds, that they, or any of them have of Other mens Lands, by whatsoever Right, or Title, they possess, & enjoy the same: And how they may be denuded thereof, in Our favours, Omni habili modo quo de jure: and als submitted to Us, to appoint the rate, and quantity of the saids Teinds, & what price should be given to them for the same, and what securities should be made thereanent, they always being liberat of the burden of the Ministers Stipends Prorata; As in the saids general Submissions, containing diverse other Heads, and Articles, and bearing full power to Us to pronounce Our determination in the premises, and als to Prorogate the time of giving forth of Our said determination, betwixt and the first day of August then next to come, and now by-gone, to whatsoever day, or dayes thereafter, at more length is contained. And Wee Having called up to Us a number of Our Nobility, Privy Council, and Others, able, expert, and well affected, to give their Advice to Us, in a matter of so great Importance, in the Moneths of April, and May 1628. years, with whom Wee had diverse meetings, and conferences; and heard, and considered, the Reasons, and Arguments of all Parties having interest, with their Opinions, and Judgments thereanent. And in respect of the consequence of the business, Wee took the same to Our farther consideration, and in the meane time Prorogate Our determination to be given upon the saids Submissions, till the last day of December 1629. years, betwixt and the which time, Wee Declared that Wee would give forth Our Royal determination in the matters submitted to Us, by the saids general Submissions: AND NOW Wee being well, and ripely advised therein, and tendering the Well, and Plan-

ration of the Kirks, with the Peace, and Quietness of that Our Ancient Kingdom; PRONOUNCE Our Sentence, and Determination as follows. IN THE FIRST, as to the composition to be given by Us, for the Few-mails, Few-ferms, and other constant Rent of the saids Superiorities, Wee Find, and Decern the sum of One Thousand merks Scots money to be a competent, and reasonable satisfaction, to be paid for each Chalder of Few-ferms Victual over-head, and for each Hundred merks money worth of all other constant Rent, of the saids Superiorities (not consisting in Victual, or Money, and not being naked service of Vassals) the same being valued, and redacted in Moneys by Our Commissioners after-specified: Deducing always of the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent foresaid, the Blench-dewties contained in the Inseftments of Ereftions made to the saids Submitters, or to their Authours: For the which Wee find that Wee ought, nor should give no satisfaction, in respect the same pertains to Us, as Our proper Rent, by their saids Inseftments of Ereftions. And because It is not constant what is the true Rental, and quantity of the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, & other constant Rent of the saids Superiorities, & what part thereof pertains to every particular Person, and what is free deducing the saids Blench-dewties, without the which were tryed, and known, there can be no payment made to them of the said composition, and satisfaction; THEREFORE Wee Ordain the saids Lords of Ereftions, and all others having right to any part of the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent foresaid of the saids Superiorities, to give in the just Rental of the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent of the saids Superiorities, and what part thereof pertains to every particular Person heretaby in Life-rent, or otherwise; and what part thereof is presently payed, or hath been payed to them, or any of them, having, or pretending right thereto, of the years preceeding the decease of Our Umquhile dearest Father of Eternal memory, and sensyne; and what is due thereof deducing the saids Blench-dewties before Our Commissioners nominat, or to be nominat by Us to that effect, at such dayes, and times as they shall be required thereto: And to subscribe the saids Rentals with their hands, and therein to be bound to Warrant the saids Rentals to be just Rentals thereof, from their own deed; and that the same hath been payed these Seven years immediately by-gone, at the least payable by lawful Fewes set before the Act of Annexation: And that the same is not burdened with any pension, nor Life-rent, nor other right flowing from them, their Authours, or Predecessours, since the date of their Ereftions, which may prejudice Our present Intromission therewith: Which being done, and the saids Rentals tryed, allowed, and approved, by Our saids Commissioners, DECERNS, and ORDAINS, Our Thesaurer, Thesaurer-depute, and Receivers of Our Rents present, & to come to make a good & thankful payment to them, and every one of them, according to the saids Rentals, to be tryed by Our saids Commissioners, of the said sum of an Thousand merks, for each Chalder of Few-ferms, & for each Hundred merks of Few-mails, and for each Hundred merks worth of all other constant Rent foresaid, of the saids Superiorities being valued, and redacted in Moneys by Our saids Commissioners, deducing the saids Blench-dewties as said is, and that within the space of a Moneth thereafter, with this special provision, and declaration: That in case Our said Thesaurer-Principal, Thesaurer-Deput, and Receivers, failzie in payment, that then, and in that case, the saids Lords of Ereftions, and other Persons foresaid, having right to the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent foresaid of the saids Superiorities, shall have good right to meddle, and intromet with the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent foresaid, of all years, and tetms thereafter, ay and while the saids sums be really payed, and satisfied to them, and als with this provision, that if it shall happen any of the saids Lords of Ereftion, or any others having, or pretending right to the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent foresaid to failzie in comparing before the saids Lords Commissioners, and giving up of the true Rentals thereof, in manner above-designed, at the dicts, and times to be assigned to them; That then, and in that case, it shall be lawful to Us, and Our Thesaurers, and Receivers, to intromet with the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent of the saids Superiorities, they always being acted, and bound before Our saids Commissioners, appointed, or to be appointed by Us, to pay to the Person sua failzie and the said price, and composition of an Thousand merks money for each Chalder, or Hundred merks of the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent foresaid: And that within the space of a Moneth after they shall give up a just, and true Rental, in manner, and with Warrantice above-exprest, and that the same shall be tryed, and found by Our saids Commissioners, to be just, and Lawful: And als with this provision, that if the Failziers shall purge themselves, by lawful, and reasonable causes before Our saids Commissioners, of their not up-giving of their Rentals. That then, and in that case, Our saids Commissioners shall have power to appoint to them whose failzie shall be so purged, Annual-rent at Ten of the Hundred, from the time of Our Thesaurer's entry to their said Few-mails, to the time of the payment of the said Composition, which is appointed to be made at the up-giving of their said Rentals in manner foresaid. And because, in trying of the Rentals of the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails and other constant Rent foresaid, there may occur question betwixt Two, or more Persons, and Parties claiming right to the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent foresaid, in whole or in part, by Inseftments, Pensions, Life-rents, or other Right standing in their Person; In the which case Justice, and Equity craveth that each Person shall receive a portion of the said satisfaction, according to the quality of their Right, whether the same be Life-rent, Fee, Pension, Annual-rent, or other Right whatsoever, THEREFORE Wee Ordain Our saids Commissioners to take trial of the saids several Rights, and and accordingly to appoint the saids sums ordained to be payed by Our said Thesaurers, and Receivers for composition, and satisfaction as said is, to be payed, or divided amongst them, according to the quality of their Rights. And Wee Will, and Declare that the Difference or dispute to be made amongst the saids Parties, having, or pretending to have right to the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent foresaid, after the true Rental thereof be once tryed, as said is, shall be no hinderance nor impediment, to Our said Thesaurer, and Thesaurer-deput, to meddle, and intromet, with the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent of the saids Superiorities: They alwayes paying, or consigning the saids sums decreed by Us, as said is, in presence of the saids Commissioners, to be forth coming to all the saids Parties, who pretend interest thereof, according as Our saids Commissioners shall appoint. And Farther Wee Declare, that Our entry to the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent foresaid of the saids Superiorities, shall be, and begin at the Feast, and Term of Whitsunday, or Martimes next, and immediately following the payment, or consignment to be made by Our Thesaurer, Principal, or Deput in Our Name, to each person up-giver of his Rental of the sums of money dew to be payed, conform to this Our Decree, and determination. And at the term next, and immediately following the failzie to be committed by those who shall not give up their Rental in manner foresaid, Our Thesaurer, and Thesaurer-depute, being alwayes acted for payment to them, after they shall give up their Rentals in manner foresaid. And als Declares, if any of the saids Few-ferms, Few-mails, and other constant Rent foresaid, be payable at other terms, nor the saids ordinary terms of Whitsunday, or Martimes, that Our entry shall be ruled, and divided according to the respect of the saids ordinary terms of Whitsunday, and Martimes, in manner above-exprest, sua that if payment, or consignment shall be made by Us at Whitsunday, then the whole year, and Cropt shall be due to Us, and if the same shall happen to be at Martimes, then the halfe almennerly shall be dew to Us; And the like course to be observed, where the failzie shall be committed in not up-giving, of the Rentals in manner before exprest. NEXT, Whereas the saids Persons Submitters hath submitted to Us, All and sundry the Teinds that they, or any of them have of Other mens Lands by whatsoever right, or title they possess, or enjoy the same, and how they may be denuded thereof in Our favours; And als have submitted to Us the rate, and quantity of Teinds, price of the same, and manner of security to be made thereanent. Wee find, That it is necessary, and expedient, for the publick well, and peace of this Our Ancient Kingdom, and for the better providing of Kirks, and Ministers Stipends, and for the establishing of Schooles, and other Pious uses, that each Heretour have, and enjoy his own Teinds. AND THEREFORE, to the effect, full, and perfect security may be made to every Heretour of his own Teinds. WE DECERN, and ORDAIN, the saids Submitters, and every one of them, and their Heirs, to denude themselves of the right of Other mens Teinds, in Our favours, by all lawful manner, as may stand by the Laws of the Kingdom, and that of the Cropt 1629. years, and yearly thereafter in all time coming. And to that effect, Wee decern the said Submitters, and every one of them, and their Heirs, to exhibit their Rights, Infestments, Tacks, and other securities whatsoever, whereby they brueik the saids Teinds of Other Mens Lands, to Our Advocat, or Clerks of Our saids Commissions, at such diets, and times, as they shall be required, to the effect, he upon the sight thereof may form such lawful, and valide securities in Our favours as may stand by Law. Which securities, Wee decern the saids Submitters to subscribe, providing they be no farther obliged in warrandice thereof, but from their own deeds, and from the facts, and deeds of their Predecessours, to whom they are Heirs. Excepting therefrom such facts, and deeds, as is made, and perfected by any of the Submitters, and their foresaid, in favours of the present Possessours, Tacksmen, and others having right from them of the same Teinds. Whereupon they, and every one of them shall be obliged to condescend at the time of the exhibition of their rights, to Our said Advocat, or to the Clerks of Our saids Commissions. And as to the rate, and quantity of Teinds, Wee ratifie, and approve the course, and order taken by Our special Command, and direction for valuation of the whole Teinds of the Kingdom, so farre as shall be justly, and lawfully done, according to the tenour of Our Commissions, and Ordains the Commissioners, and Sub-commissioners already appointed, or to be appointed to that effect, to expede the same with all convenient diligence, and finds, and declares that the rate, and quantity of all Teinds of the Kingdom, is and shall be the Fifth part of the constant rent, which each land payeth in stock, and Teind, where the same are valued joyntly. And where the Teinds are valued a part, and severally, Findeth that the rate, and quantity thereof is, and shall be such as the same shall be valued, and esteemed to, by the saids Commissioners, or Sub-Commissioners, Deducing alwayes the Fifth part thereof; Which Wee out of our Fatherly, and Royal care, for the well of Our said Kingdom ordaine to be deduced off the saids Teinds severally valued as said is, for the ease, and comfort of Our Subjects: Reserving alwayes liberty to such as shall be enormly hurt, and greived in the valuations foresaid, either conjunctly, or severally made, to appeale to Us, or Our Parliament, to the effect Wee may take such order therein, as may rectifie all abuses, and disorders committed, or to be committed in the saids valuations. AND AS to the price of Teinds, Wee Find the price of each Hundred merks of Teinds consisting in money, to be valued, and esteemed to Nine years purchase, and where the saids Teinds consists in Visual, or other bodies of Goods; Because there is great difference of the quality of Visual, and of the other bodies of Teinds, both in spaces, and kinds, and in worth, and goodness, according to the diverse places in the Countrey where the same groweth, and are bred; Therefore Wee Decern, and Ordain tryal to be taken by Our Commissioners appointed, or to be appointed by Us, of the price, worth, and estimation of each Chaldre of Viſtial, and of all other bodies of Goods, wherein the Teinds conſiſteth in Kinds, and Goodneſs, as the ſame commonly ruleth in each part of the Countrey: And this being tryed, and condeſcended upon, and the prices thereof being reduced in moneys: Wee find the juſt, and reaſonable Price thereof to be eſteemed to Nine years purchaſe: And Wee declare this Nine years purchaſe, to be the juſt price of the heretable right of Teinds, where the Seller hath the heretable right thereof; But where his rights are not heretable, but temporal, and conſiſteth in Leaſes, and Tacks, or ſome other temporal right, whereof there are many, or few years to run: Wee Declare the price in this caſe to be ruled proportionally, according to the number of the years to run and quality of the rights. And becauſe many Heretours of Lands, hath Tacks long, or ſhort of their own Teinds, or ſome other right thereof ſtanding in their Perſon, in the which caſe it is not reaſonable, that the Heretours ſhould pay the full price to the Perſons having right to their Teinds. Therefore Wee referre this point alſo to our Commiſſioners appointed, or to be appointed, to determine, and ſet down the proportion of the price, according to the years of the Tacks to run, and quality of rights ſtanding in the Perſons of the ſaids Heretours, and according to the quality of the Rights ſtanding in the Perſons of thoſe who hath Title to the ſaids Teinds, after the our-runing of the Heretours Tacks, and rights of the ſame. It is alwayes Declared, that the ſaids Heretours who ſhall buy their own Teinds, ſhall be obliged to pay for no more of the ſame, but ſuch as ſhall reſt by and attour the Miniſters Stipends, and other pious uſes, which by the tenour of the General Commiſſion are ordained to be firſt provided, And alſo that thoſe who ſhall not buy their own Teinds, and are to be ſubject in payment of the rate of their Teind above ſpecified, ſhall be no farther obliged in payment thereof to the ſaids Titulars, but with deduction of ſuch part & portion thereof, as is, or ſhall be provided to the maintenance of the ſaids Miniſters, and other pious uſes foreſaids, expreſt in the ſaid general Commiſſion, Which Wee Will, and Ordain to be deduced, according to the tenour of the ſaid Commiſſion, and Acts thereof made, or to be made therein, Or in any other Commiſſion to be appointed hereafter by Us, in favours of the Miniſters, and other pious uſes therein mentioned. And Declares the ſaids Titulars to be free, and liberat of the Miniſters Stipends pro rata. And Decerns the ſaids Heretours to free, and relieve the ſaids Titulars at the hands of the Miniſters, and others having right of that part of the ſaids Teinds, which ſhall be aſſigned, and appointed to be payed to the ſaids Miniſters, and to the other pious uſes foreſaids: And alſo to relieve the ſaids Titulars at Our hands ament the payment of Our Annuity; And to make yearly payment of the foreſaids burdens, for reliefe of the ſaids Titulars Pro rata. AND SICLYKE Wee Decern, where Wee, or any other have right to Teinds, after inſpection of their Evidents, and due conſideration of their Rights by Our ſelfe, or by ſuch Commiſſioners, as Wee ſhall appoint, That accordingly in regard of the rights that Wee, or they ſhall be found to have, and for making up of a perfect right to the Heretours, ſuch a part, or price, or payable Rent ſhall be ordained to be payed, and applyed to Our, or their uſe. AND Becauſe Wee have a ſpecial, and particular intereſt in the Teinds of Erected Benefices, and that Reaſon, Conſcience, and Juſtice craveth, that a part of the price thereof, or where price is not payed, a part of the yearly dewty ſhould be applyed to Our uſe. And becauſe all Erections are not of one nature, and kind, but ſome of them deſerveth more conſideration, and reſpect nor others, according to the true cauſes, merits, and ſervices, for which the ſame were granted. THEREFORE Wee remit the tryal hereof to Our ſaids Commiſſioners, to determine what proportion of price, or rent ſhall be defeaſed, and allowed to Us of the ſaids Teinds of Erections, according to the validity, and merit of each Perſons rights after the production of the ſame to Our Advocat. AND becauſe, by a ne expreſs claufe in the ſaids Submiſſions, It is ſpecially Declared by Us, That Wee would take to Our Princely conſideration, the lawfull Tacks, and Rights of Teinds of erected Benefices, and of all Laick-Patronages, made, and ſet to the preſent Poſſeſſours, or their Authours, by lawful Abbots, Laick-Patrons, and others Titulars of Benefices, lawfully ſet before the dates of the ſaids Erections: And for the ſpaces, and years of the ſaid Tacks, Rights, and Patronages as yet to run; To the effect that they might have full, and plenary ſatisfaction for the ſaids Tacks, Rights, and Patronages according as Wee ſhould find the validity thereof, as is uſual in the like caſes, with the burden alwayes of Our Annuity mentioned in the ſaids General Securities, and Submiſſions. And to the effect, Wee might be informed of their ſaids Tacks, and Rights, before the giving forth of Our determination in the premiſſes. IT WAS, and is ORDAINED, and Provided, that ſuch of the ſaids Lords of Erections, and other Perſons foreſaids, as have ſuch Tacks, or Rights made, and ſet unto them, their Predeceſſours, and Authours, before the ſaids Erections, ſhould exhibit, and produce the ſame to Our Advocat, at ſuch diers, and times, as ſhould be appointed by Us, or Our Chancellour, at Our command, and direction, before the giving forth of Our determinations in the premiſſes: LYKE AS alſo it is ſpecially provided, That the ſaids general Submiſſions, ſhould no wayes be prejudicial to whatſoever action of Warrandice competent to the ſaids perſons Submitters, or any of them, againſt their Authours from whom they bought, or acquired their Rights of the ſaids Teinds (which falleth within the Compaſs of the ſaids Submiſſions) for ſums of money; But that either the ſaids actions of Warrandice ſhall be reſerved unto them, conform to the tenour of their Rights made to them thereupon: Or otherwiſe, That the ſatisfaction to be decerned in their favours ſhall be anſwerable to their warrandice, and no wayes inferiour thereto; The ſaid Perſons, and ſua many of them who have their actions of warrandice reſerved to them in manner foreſaid, Exhibiting, and producing their ſaids rights, bearing bearing the warrandice foresaid, To Our Advocat, at such diets, and times as should be appointed, and prescribed to them by Us, or Our Chancellour, at Our command, and direction, before the giving forth of Our Determination in the Premises; As in the saids general Submissions at more length is contained. AND FOR SAME IRLE As Wee according to the provisions contained in the saids Submissions, by Our Letter, of the date the last day of Junij 1628. Gave special warrand to Our Commissioners for production of the foresaid Tacks, Leases, and others foresaid, who by their Act, and Ordinance of the date the Eighth day of August, and by publick Proclamation past thereupon: Ordained that all the saids Persons having interest, should compare before them upon the first of November 1628. years; Bringing, and producing with them, all their Leases, and Tacks of Other Mens Teinds, set to them, or their Authours, before their Erections, together with all their rights, and securities of the foresaid Teinds, bearing absolute warrandice, or warrandice of their own moneys in case of eviction: To the effect, the same might be seen, and considered by Our Advocat, with certification to them that failzies, that they should not be heard to claime any satisfaction for the same thereafter. And that some few allanerly of the saids Persons having interest, have given in their Tacks, and Rights, bearing warrandice as said is: Sua that by rigour of Law, Wee might give out Our Determination without respect of the saids Rights, not produced to Our said Advocat, conform to the provision contained in the saids Submissions. YET WEE out of Our Royal clemencie, and goodness DECERN, and ORDAIN full, and plenary satisfaction to be made, not only to those who have already produced, and whose productions are extant in the Registers of the said general Commission: But also to all other persons Submitters, who have lawful Tacks set to them, their Predecessours, or Authours of the saids Teinds of Erected Benefices, which falleth within the compass of the saids Submissions, for the Rights of the saids Teinds during the spaces contained in their saids Tacks, and that without any defalcation, or diminution of the price thereof, in respect of Our particular right, and interest; But according to the full avails of the years to run contained in the saids Tacks; They alwayes exhibiting, and producing to Our Advocat for the time, or Clerks of Our Commissions foresaid, their saids Leases, and Tacks, betwixt this and the last day of May next to come, and no otherwayes; And because after production thereof, every Person will not have alike years, and spaces to run in their saids Tacks; Therefore Wee referre to Our saids Commissioners to set down the just worth, and valuation of the saids Tacks set before the saids Erections, according to the number, and spaces of years of the same which is yet to run; And to modifie the said price, to each Person accordingly. AND SIC LIKE, Wee Decern, and Ordain That the saids Persons Submitters, not none of them shall be any wayes prejudged by their saids Submissions, of their actions of warrandice, competent to them against their Authours, from whom they bought, or acquired their Rights of the saids Teinds, which falleth within the compass of the saids Submissions: But declares their saids actions of warrandice, to be free, and reserved to them, allowing alwayes in the first end thereof, so much as they are to receive by vertue of this Our determination, in the first end of their said warrandice; And if any of them shall happen to be prejudged by, or through occasion of their subscribing of the saids Submissions, of their saids actions of warrandice, and to be debarred therefra in whole, or in part, by occasion thereof. In that case Wee Decern, that whatsoever by Law they might obtain against their saids Authours by their action of warrandice, for warrandage of their rights of the saids Teinds, which falleth within the compass of the saids general Submissions: And for the which they are or shall be debarred by and through the saids Submissions, and this Our determination following thereupon: That the same shall be refunded to them by Our said Thefaurer-principal, Thefaurer-depute, and Receivers foresaid: They alwayes exhibiting, and producing to Our said Advocat, or Clerks of Our Commissions foresaid, their saids rights bearing warrandice in manner foresaid, betwixt and the last day of May next to come, and none otherwise. AND WEE FIND, and DECLARE, That this general course, and order, That every Heretour shall bruick, and possess his own Teinds, shall have beginning in this instant year of God 1629. years. The saids Heretours being alwayes ready to fulfill, and perform their part of this Our determination, And to the effect, that the saids Titulars may receive full, and compleat satisfaction of the price of the saids Teinds, sua farre as is due to them by this Our determination, from the saids Heretours who shall buy their Teinds as said is, or where they shall not buy, that the saids Titulars may be secured in the yearly rate, and quantity of the saids Teinds to be payed to them of the said Cropt 1629 years, and yearly thereafter; Wee Referre the consideration of the terms of payment of the saids prices, And also the terms of payment of the said payable rent of the said Cropt 1629, and yearly thereafter, Together with the manner, and form of security to be given thereancent, by the saids Heretours, to the saids Titulars, unto Our saids Commissioners; To whom Wee give full power to set down, such ample securities as may stand by Law, both for Our security, and for the security of the saids Titulars in the premises. Which form of security to be ordained by them, Wee decern the saids Heretours to observe, and fulfil in all points, after the form, and tenour thereof. Like as also Wee referre to the consideration of Our saids Commissioners, what manner of security shall be made by Us, to every Heretour of the Teinds of his own Lands; To the effect they may bruick the same heretably, and perpetually for ever, according to the meaning of this Our determination. AND WEE DECERN, the saids whole Persons Submitters, their Heirs, and Successours, to obtemper, fulfill, and obey this Our determination, in the whole Heads, and Articles thereof; They receiving lawful, and perfect securities, conform to the tenour of Our Commission, and whole heads thereof, particularly, and generally mentioned in the saids general Submissions: And als receiving real payment of that which Wee have Ordained by this Our determination, before they denude themselves, either of Right, or Possession, of the saids Few-mails, and Teinds; And that in manner particularly exprest in this Our determination, as is above-specified. AND FINALLY, Wee Ordain this Our determination, with the whole Submissions, whereupon the same proceeds, to be registered in the books of Our Council, and Session to have the strength, and force of a Decreet of the Lords thereof, with execution to pass thereupon in form as effairs. and the Horning to pass upon a simple charge of Ten dayes allanerly. And to that effect, makes, and constituts Our Advocat, Our Procuratour, to compear for Us, and consent to the registering hereof, in manner foresaid. In Witneß whereof, Wee have signed these presents with Our hand At Windfore, the second day of September, the year of God 1629. years; Before these Witnesses, William Earl of Menteith, President of Our Council, and Higb Justice of Scotland; Sir William Alexander of Mensfry Knight, Our Secretary, Sir Coline Campbel of Lundee Knight, Baronet, Sir James Lockhart younger of Ley Knight, and Master William Elphinstoun One of Our Cap-bearers.

His Majesties Decreet pronounced upon the Submissions made be certain Tackf-men, and Others having Right to Teinds

CHARLES By the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith: To all, and sundry Our Subjects whom it effairs. For Sameikle, as Wee being fully resolved to have ane universal order established within Our Kingdom of Scotland, anent the matter of Teinds; And that every Heretour shall have, and bruike his own Teinds, of whatsoever nature the saids Teinds be of, and to whatsoever benefice the same pertaineth, at a competent rate, and price; And understanding that diverse of Our Subjects had deferred to subscribe the first general Submissions anent the saids Teinds, upon pretence that the Arch-bishops, Bishops, Parsons, Vicars, and Others of the Clergy had not subscribed the saids general Submissions: Which impediment was thereafter removed by a several Submission, subscribed by the saids Bishops, and Clergy to Us. Therefore, Wee by Our Letter, and Warrant, directed to the Commissioners for Teinds, of the date the 28. day of October last by-past, did signify Our will, and pleasure: That all Titulars of Teinds, pertaining to whatsoever Kirks, or Benefices; And als all Heretours of Lands, the Teinds whereof pertaine to the saids Benefices, and Kirks, should subscribe a general Submission unto Us: Referring to Us the price, rate, and quantity of whatsoever Teinds of Other mens Lands. Which Letter being read, and considered by the saids Commissioners of Teinds, they by their Act of the date the Third day of December last by-past: Did in all humility acknowledge Our Gracious, and Fatherly care for the good of Our said ancient Kingdom, and allowed, and approved the said Letter, and interponed their Authority thereto. Conform to the which there was certain Submissions drawnp: Whereby all Persons subscribers of the saids Submissions, having, or pretending right, by whatsoever Title, Tacks, or other manner of right, to whatsoever Teinds of Other mens Lands, pertaining to whatsoever Bishoprick, Abbacy, Pryory, Parsonage, Vicarage, Colledge, Kirks, Prebendary Chaplanry, or other Benefice whatsoever: And slike the Heretours, and Possessours of whatsoever Lands lying within the saids Benefices, and who are desirous to have the Teinds of their own Lands pertaining to the saids Benefices, at a competent rate, and price, submitted, and by the tenour of the saids Submissions, did Submit unto Us, All, and sundry Teinds, that they, or any of them had of Other mens Lands, by whatsoever right, or title they Possessed, and enjoyed the same, and how they might be denuded thereof, Omni habili modo quo de jure. And als did submit unto Us, to appoint the quantity, and rate of Teinds, and what price shall be given for the same, and what security shall be made of the Teinds of other mens Lands, to the Heretours, and Possessours thereof, in such form as might stand by Law, and were contented, and consented that wee should give our pleasure, and determination, anent the premises referred to Us, in manner foresaid, betwixt the day, and date of the saids Submissions, and the last day of December, 1629. years: As the the saids Submissions subscribed by the particular Persons, Titulars, and Heretours of the several dates thereof, in themselves, more fully portorts. And Wee being well, and ripely advised anent the premises: And finding it necessary, and expedient for the publick well, and peace of that Our ancient Kingdom; and for the better providing of Kirks, and Ministers Stipends, and for establishing of Schools, and other Pious uses: That each Heretour have, and enjoy his own Teinds: And therefore to the effect, full and perfect security may be made to every Heretour of his own Teinds: Wee Decern, and Ordain, The saids Submitters, and every one of them, and their Heirs, to denude themselves of the right of Other mens Teinds, by all Lawful manner, as may stand by the Laws of Our Kingdom, and that of the Cropt 1629. years, and yearly thereafter in all time coming, and to make, and subscribe good, valide, and lawful securities to each Heretour of his own Teinds, by the sight of Our Advocat present, and being for the time, providing they be no farther obliged in warrantice thereof, but from their own deeds, and from the facts, and deeds of their Predecessours, to whom they are Heirs: Excepting therefrom such facts, and deeds, as is made, and perfected fected by any of the Submitters, and their forefairs, in favours of the present Possessours, Tackf-men, and Others having right from them of the same Teinds. And as to the rate, and quantity of Teinds, Wee ratify, and approve the course, and order taken by Our special command and direction, for valuation of the whole Teinds of the Kingdom, sua far as shall be justly, and lawfully done according to the tenour of the Commissions: And Ordains the Commissioners, and Sub-Commissioners already appointed, or to be appointed for that effect, to expede the same with all convenient diligence. And Finds, and Declares, that the rate, and quantity of all the Teinds of the Kingdom, is, and shall be the Fifth part of the constant rent which each Lands payeth in stock, and Teind, where the same are valued jointly: And where the Teinds are valued a part, and severally, Findeth that the rate, and quantity thereof, is, and shall be such as the same shall be valued, and esteemed to, be the saids Commissioners, or Sub-Commissioners, deducing alwayes the Fifth part thereof, which Wee out of Our Royal, and Fatherly care for the well of Our said Kingdom, Ordain to be deduced off the saids Teinds severally valued as said is, for the ease, and comfort of Our Subjects. Reserving alwayes the liberty to such as shall be enormly hurt, and grieved, in the valuations forefairs, either conjunctly, or severally, to appeale to Us, or to Our Parliament; To the effect Wee may take such order therein, as may rectify all abuses, and disorders committed, or to be committed in the saids valuations. And as to the price of Teinds, Wee find the price of each Hundrea merks of Teinds consisting in money, to be valued and estimat to Nine years purchase. And where the saids Teinds consists in Viſtual, or other bodies of Goods; Because there is great difference of the quality of Viſtual, and of other bodies of Teinds, both in species, and kinds, and in worth, and goodnes, according to the diverse places in the Countrey where the same growes, and are bred. Therefore, Wee decern, and Ordain tryal to be taken by Our Commissioners appointed, or to be appointed by Us, of the price, worth, and estimation of each Chalder of Viſtual, and of all other bodies of Goods, wherein the Teinds consisteth in kinds and goodnes, as the same commonly ruleth in each part of the Countrey. And this being tryed, and condescended upon, and the prices thereof redacted to money, Wee find the just, and reasonable price thereof, to be estimat to Nine years purchase: And Wee Declare this Nine years purchase to be the just price of the heretabable right of Teinds, where the Seller hath the heretabable right thereof; But where his right is not heretabable, but temporal, and consists in Leafes, and Tacks, or some other temporal right, whereof there are many; or few years to run. Wee declare the price in this case to be ruled proportionally, according to the number of the number of the years in the Tacks to run, and quality of the Rights. And because many Heretours of Lands hath Tacks long, or short of their own Teinds, or some other right thereof standing in their person; In the which case it is not reasonable that the Heretours should pay the full price to the Persons having right to their Teinds. Therefore Wee referre this point also to Our Commissioners appointed, or to be appointed, to determine, and set down the proportion of the price of Teinds, according to the years of the Tacks to run, and quality of the Rights standing in the persons of the saids Heretours, and according to the quality of the rights standing in the persons of these who had Title to the saids Teinds, after the out-running of the Heretours Tacks, and Rights of the same. It is alwayes declared, that the saids Heretours who shall buy their own Teinds, shall be obliged to pay for no more of the same, but such as shall rest by and attour the Ministers Stipend, and other Pious uses, which by the tenour of the general Commission, are ordained to be first provided. And als that those who shall not buy their own Teinds, and are to be subject in payment of the rate of their Teinds above-specified, shall be no farther obliged in payment thereof to the saids Titulars, but with deduction of such part, and portion thereof, as is resting by and attour the saids Ministers Stipends, and pious uses forefairs. And siclike Wee Decern, where Wee, or any of the saids Titulars have right to the Teinds of Other mens Lands, after inspection of their rights, and due consideration thereof by Our Commissioners appointed, or to be appointed for that effect; That accordingly in regard of the rights that Wee, or they shall be found to have, such a part of the price, and payable rent, shall be ordained to be payed, and applied to Our, or Their uses. And Wee Find, and Declare, That this general course, and order, that every Heretour shall bruck, and possesse his own Teinds, shall have begining in this instant Cropt, and year of God 1629. years: The saids Heretours being alwayes ready to fulfill, and perform their part of this Our determination. And to the effect that the saids Titulars may receive full, and compleat satisfaction of the price of the saids Teinds, sua far as is due to them by this Our determination, from the saids Heretours who shall buy their own Teinds as said is: Or where they shall not buy, that the saids Titulars may be secured, in the yearly rate, and quantity of the saids Teinds, to be payed to them of the said Cropt 1629. and yearly thereafter, Wee referre the consideration of the terms of payment of the said payable rent of the said Cropt 1629. years, and yearly thereafter, together with the manner, and form of the security to be given thereanent by the saids Heretours, to the saids Titulars, unto Our saids Commissioners, appointed, or to be appointed, To whom Wee give full power to set down such ample securities as may stand by Law, both for Our security, and for the security of the saids Titulars in the premises: Which form of security to be obtained by them, Wee decern the saids Heretours to observe, and fulfill in all points, after the form, and tenour thereof. And Wee Decern the saids whole Persons Submitters, their Heirs, and Successours, to obtemper, fulfill, and obey, this Our determination, in the whole Heads, and Articles thereof, they receiving lawful, and perfect securities conform conform to the tenour of Our Commission, and whole heads thereof, particularly, and generally mentioned in the saids general Submissions: And als receiving real payment of that which Wee have ordained by this Our determination, before they denude themselves either of right, or possession of the saids Teinds, and that in manner particularly exprest in this Our determination, above-specified. And finally Wee ordain this Our determination, with the whole Submissions whereupon the same proceedeth, to be registrat in the books of Our Council, & Session: To have the strength, & force of a Decreet of the Lords thereof, with execution to pass thereupon, in form as effects, and the Horning to pass upon a simple charge of Ten dayes aliennety. And to that effect makes, and constituts

Our
Advocat, Our Procuratour, to compare for Us, and consent to the registering hereof in manner foresaid. In Witness whereof Wee have Signed these presents, with Our hand, At Windsore the Second day of September, the year of God 1629 years. Before these Witnesses William Earle of Menteith, President of Our Council, and High Justice of Scotland, Sir William Alexander of Menstry Knight, Our Secretary, Sir Coline Campbel of Lundie Knight, Barronet, Sir James Lockhart younger of Ley Knight, Master William Elphinstoun, One of Our Cup-bearers, and Master John Maxwell Minister at Edinburgh.

HIS MAJESTIES DETERMINATION

upon the Submissions made by the Bishops

CHARLES By the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith. To all, and sundry Our Subjects whom it effects. FOR SAMEIKLE As the Arch-Bishops, Bishops, and remanent Clergy within Our Kingdom of Scotland, Subscribers of the Band, and Submission after-specified. Considering that Wee out of Our Royal care, Fatherly, and tender affection to the publick good of all Our Subjects of that Our Kingdom, for freeing them from the extremity, and damage which may ensue to them by leading of their Teinds, did intend to take such course as hereafter every Heretour may possess, and enjoy the Teinds of his own Lands, for payment of a reasonable rate, and dewty for the same: And the saids Arch-Bishops, Bishops and Clergy foresaid, acknowledging themselves to be bound in duty to advance that Our Royal designe; & being willing that all such Heretours as are subject to the payment of any Teinds to them, or any of them, shall have their own Teinds, being desirous thereof, for payment to them, and their Successours, of such a reasonable rate, and constant yearly rent, as Wee should determine to be the Quota, and rate of Teinds, within the rest of Our said Kingdom: So as the dewty, and rate in Silver, and Bolls payed at the present to them, or to the Ministers serving at their particular Kirks, be not in any sort hurt, nor diminished: And als considering the great benefit, which the said course intended by Us, may inport to their Successours, who are there by to have a certain, and constant yearly rent, which may not be altered by any Titulars in prejudice of their Successours. Therefore the saids Arch-Bishops, Bishops, and remanent Clergy foresaid, by their Band, and Submission, subscribed with their hand, of the date at
The year of God 1628. years: Hath bound, and obliged them, and their Successours, to grant to every Heretour of the severall Lands, whereof the Teinds doe appertain to them, or any of them, (being desirous of the same) such sufficient security thereof as may stand with the Laws of the said Kingdom: And for such a reasonable rate, and rent, or Rental Bolls, as Wee shall determine to be the Quota, and rate of Teinds: Submitting themselves thereunto to Our Royal Decreet, and Sentence, to be pronounced at or before the last day of December, in the year of God 1629. years. And anent what lawful security in manner foresaid, shall be made, or given by them, or any of them to the saids Heretours of their own Teinds belonging to their Bishopricks, or Benefices; For payment to be made by the saids Heretours to them, and their Successours, of the said Quota, and rate, or constant rent, or Rental, to be set down by Us, for the saids Teinds out of the saids Lands subject to the payment thereof yearly in such manner, and at such terms, as Wee shall be pleased to appoint. And anent the making, setting down, and establishing, of the said Quota, or rate of the saids Teinds, rent, or rental-bolls, payable yearly for the same, to them, and their Successours. And anent what security the saids Heretours shall make for the sure, true, timous, and thankful payment to them, and their Successours of the said yearly rent, and rental-bolls, at such times, and terms of payment, as Wee shall think fit to be contained in the securities of the saids Teinds. And anent the Annuity hereafter payable by the saids Heretours, for encrease of Our Rents, providing that they, and every one of them peaceably enjoy the fruits, and rents of their severall Benefices, as they were posselt by them at the time of the said Submission, and that at such rents as should thereafter belong, and accresce to them, or any of them, and their Successours by Our said Decreet, anent the said Quota to be payed by the saids Heretours for the remanent of the saids Teinds which were not in their present possession, should be secured, and made sure to them, and their Successours, leaving the saids Heretours of the Lands, out of which the Teinds are due to them, to submit themselves to Our Decreet, and Determination, anent the Annuity, and other premisses, which concerns them, to be pronounced before the last day of December, 1629. years. With power to Us to give forth Our Sentence, Pleasure,

Pleasure, and Determination anent the premises, betwixt the date hereof and the said last day of December 1629. years. As in the said Band, and Submission of the date foresaid at more length is contained. And Wee having at great length considered, and advised, what is most fit to be done by Us, in the premises Submitted to Us, both for the well of the saids Bishops, and their Successours, and for establishing of a constant Virtual Rent to them, after the expiring of the present Tacks, wherewith the same are burdened: And for better plantation of Kirks pertaining to them: And als for the peace, and quietness, of Our said Kingdom, that no person have the leading of any Other mens Teinds, but the Heretours of the Lands allennerly: Pronounceth Our Sentence, and Determination therein as followeth. IN THE first Wee find the Quota, or rate of all Teinds pertaining to the saids Bishopricks, and other Benefices foresaid, which fallerth within the compass of the said Submission, To be the Fifth part of that which each Land payeth of constant rent of Stock, and Teind, where the same are joyntly valued, conform to the course, and order taken, or to be taken for the valuation of the same. And where the Teinds are valued severally, and apart, Findeth that the rate, and quantity thereof is, and shall be such as the same shall be valued to by Our Commissioners appointed, or to be appointed to that effect: Deducting alwaies the fifth Part thereof, to make the same equal to constant rent communibus annis. And Finds, and Declares, that in the valuation of the saids Teinds, either joyntly to be made with the Lands, or severally, there be any sensible hurt, greivance, and prejudice committed, in excess, or diminution, which shall require to be rectified by Us: That it shall be lawful to the parties greived to appeal to Us, or to Our Parliament, to the effect Wee may see order put thereto as effects. And Decerns, and Ordains, the saids Submitters, and their Successours, to grant to every Heretour of the several Lands, whereof the Teinds appertaineth to the saids Submitters, or any of them being desirous of the same, and to their Heirs, and Successours, Heretours of the saids Lands, such sufficient security thereof as may stand with the Laws of Our said Kingdom, for payment of the said rate, and rent, determined by Us, as said is; And that of the Crompt, and year of God 1629. years, and yearly thereafter, the saids Heretours alwaies who shall desire to have the right of their saids Teinds in manner foresaid, their Heirs, and Successours, making, and subscribing such lawful securities to the saids Submitters, and their Successours, for payment of the said Quota, and Rare yearly, betwixt Zuile, and Candlemess, after the Crompt, with the deduction alwaies of Our Annuity forth of the excess of the Bols; and rent arising to the saids Submitters, and their Successours, after the expiring of the present Tacks, in manner after-specified: And that in such lawful, and perfect manner, as may stand by the Laws of Our Kingdom, and shall be devised by Our Advocate; To whom Wee referre both the manner of right, and security, to be made by the saids Submitters, to the saids Heretours of the saids Teinds: And als of the security to be made by the saids Heretours to the saids Submitters, & their Successours, for sure payment of the rent, and dewty above-specified, together with Our Annuity dew to Us, for encrease of Our Rent, to be payed by the saids Heretours, and their Successours, to Us, and Our Successours, for such part of the said rent, and Bols as shall accrefee to the saids Submitters by the valuations foresaid, after the expiring of the present Tacks of the Teinds of their saids Lands, pertaining to their saids Bishopricks, and Benefices. Which Annuity shall be allowed; and defeased to the saids Heretours off the first end of the said rent, which shall accrefee to the saids Submitters, and their Successours as said is; but prejudice alwaies to the saids Submitters, and their Successours, and to the Ministers provided to the several Kirks under them: To bruik, and possess the fruits, and rents of their several benefices, whereof payment was made to them, the time of the making of the said Submission, and that without all burden of Our said annuity. AND Wee Find, and Declare That it shall not be lawful to the saids Submitters, and their Successours, to be provided to the saids Bishopricks, and Benefices, to set any Tacks long, or short, or to make any other disposition of the saids Teinds pertaining to the saids Bishopricks, and Benefices, after the expiring of the present Tacks thereof, but allennerly for payment of the said rate, rent, and Quota now determined by Us, which shall remain whole, entire, & unhurt in quantity, or quality, and so transmitted to the Successours for ever, without any change, alteration, diminution, conversion in money, or other prejudice whatsoever: Reserving to Us Our Annuity of that which shall accrefee after the expiring of the present Tacks in manner foresaid. And Wee Ordain this Our Determination, with the said Submission whereupon the same proceeds, to be Registat in the Books of Our Council, and Session, to have the strength, and force of a Decreet of the Lords thereof, with execution to pass thereupon in form as effects: And the Horning to pass upon a simple charge of Ten dayes allennerly. And to that effect makes, and constituts

Our Advocate, Our Precuratour, to compare for Us, and consent to the Registrating hereof in manner foresaid. In Witness whereof, Wee have Signed these presents with Our Hand, At Windfore, the Second day of September, the year of God, 1629. years. Before these Witnesses, William Earle of Menteith, President of Our Council, and High Justice of Scotland, Sir William Alexander of Menstry Knight, Our Secretary, Sir Coline Campbel of Lundie, Knight, Bartonet; Sir James Lockhart of Ley Knight; and Master William Elphinstoun, One of Our Cup-bearers.

HIS MAJESTIES DETERMINATION, upon the Submission made by the Burrowes.

CHARLES By the Grace of God King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, To all and sundrie Our Subjects, whom it effects. For Sameikle, As the Commissioners of the free Royal Burrowes within Our Kingdom of Scotland, having full Power, and Commission from their severall Burghs; Considering that Wee out of Our Royal care, Fatherly, and tender affection, to the Publick good of all Our Subjects, of Our Narive, and Ancient Kingdom of Scotland, for freeing them from the extremity, and damage, may ensue to them by leading of their Teinds; Intended to take such course as thereafter each Man might possess and enjoy the Teinds of the Lands pertaining to him in propriety. And they acknowledging themselves to be bound in duty to the advancement of all Our Royal designs tending to so Publick a good. Therefore, They by their Band, and Submission, of the date at Perth, the Second day of July, the year of God 1628. years, Bound and Obliged them, and each of them, Subscribers of the said Submission, and their Successours, for, and in name of the saids Burghs, to grant unto each Heretour of the severall Lands, whereof the Teinds did to them appertain (after the expiring of the present Tacks already granted by them to the present Tackf-men) such rights, and securities for perpetual enjoying of their own Teinds, and for payment of such rates, and Teind, Rental, Bols of Victual, as Wee in Our Royal judgment should decern: Submitting themselves, & each one of them for their own parts thereanent, to Our Royal Decree, and Sentence, and what should be the true rate, estimation, and quantity of the saids Teinds, and what security should be made to them, by the saids Heretours, for yearly payment to be made to them, each one for their own parts of the saids Teind-Bols of Victual, of such sorts as should grow upon the ground of the saids Lands yearly; As shall be determined by Us heruixt Zuile, and Candlemes. For payment whereof the famine Lands shall be lyable, and bound in security of the famine: And were content, and consented, each one for their own part, that Wee should give forth Our pleasure, and Determination. anent the premisses referred to Us in manner foresaid, betuixt the date of the said Submission, and the last day of December, in the year of God, 1629. years: As in the saids Submissions of the date foresaid, containing diverse other Provisions, at more length is contained. And Wee being well, and ripely advised anent the premisses, and finding it necessar, and expedient for the publick well, and peace of that Our Ancient Kingdom, that each Heretour have, and enjoy his own Teinds. *Pronounce*th Our Sentence, and Determination therein as followeth. IN THE FIRST, Wee Decern, and Ordain, the saids Burrowes Royal, Provests, Baillies, and Council of the same, and their Successours, whose Commissioners have subscribed the said Submission; To grant unto each Heretour of the severall Lands, whereof the Teinds doe appertain to them, their Heirs, and Successours (after expiring of the present Tacks, already granted by them to the present Tackf-men) such Rights, and Securities, for perpetual enjoying of their own Teind, for payment of the Rates, & Rental-Bols after mentioned in such ample form, as may stand by the Laws of the Kingdom: The saids Heretours alwaies, and their foresaids, making, and Subscribing to the saids Royal Burrowes, & their Successours, such lawful Securities for payment of the Quota, and rate of Teinds after-specified yearly, betuixt Zuile, and Candlemes, for payment whereof the famine lands shall be lyable, and bound in security for the same; And that in such form, and manner as shall be devised by the sight of Our Advocat for the time, to whom Wee referre the manner, and form of the Securities to be made by the saids Royal Burrowes, to the saids Heretours of their own Teinds, and by the saids Heretours, to the saids Royal Burrowes, of the rate, and Quota of Teinds after-specified. And as to the rate, and quantity of Teinds, Wee Find the Quota, or rate of all Teinds pertaining to the saids Royal Burrowes, to be the Fifth part of that which each Land payeth of constant rent in Stock, and Teind, where the same are joyntly valued, conform to the course, and order taken, or to be taken for the valuation of the famine: And where the Teinds are valued severally, and a part, Findeth that the rate, and quantity thereof is, and shall be such as the same shall be valued to by Our Commissioners appointed, or to be appointed to that effect. Deducing alwaies the Fifth part thereof to make the famine equal to the constant rent Communibus annis. And Finds, and Declares, that if in the valuations of the saids Teinds, either joyntly to be made with the lands, or severally, their be any sensible hurt, grievance, and prejudice committed in excess, or diminution, which shall require to be rectified by Us, that it shall be lawful to the parties grieved, to appeale to Us, or to Our Parliament, to the effect, Wee may lay order put thereto as effects. And Decerns this course, and order that every Heretour shall have his own Teinds, to have the begining in the Crompt, and year of God 1629. years: The Tacks set to the present Tackf-men, being expired, or otherwise lawfully established in the Person of the Heretour by the saids Tackf-men who have right thereto. AT TOW For sameikle, as by the said Band, and Submission, the foresaids Commissioners each one of them for their own parts, hath Bound, and Obliged their saids Burrowes, and their Successours, that in case it shall be found, that the rents of the Teinds great, and small, Victual, or Silver dewties of the famine, doted for the sustentation of Ministers, Rector, and Regents of their Colledges, Masters of their Schools, and poor of the Hospitals of their severall Burghs payed to them shall exceed the yearly sums of money expended by them for the fore-said Pious uses, and their entertainment in the Stipends of the saids Ministers, Rector, and Regents of their Colledges, Masters of their Schools, and of the Poor in their saids Hospitals; Then and in that case, to pay yearly to Us, and Our Collectours, each one of them for their own parts forth of the superplus, and exercee of the saids dewties remaining by and attour the payment of the saids Stipends due to the saids Ministers, Rectors, and Regents of their severall Colledges, Masters of their Schools, and entertainment of their Poor in their Hospitals. Our Annuity due to Us in manner exprest in the said Submission. Therefore Wee Ordain Our Commissioners appointed, or to be appointed by Us, to take trial of the true estate of the Rents, and Teinds pertaining to each Burgh, and of the burden which they have for entertainment of their Ministry, and Poore, and of the Rector, and Regents of Colledges where the same are, and to consider if there be any superplus, and exercee by and attour the burdens foresaid, forth of the which Our said Annuity ought to be payed; And according thereto, Decerns the saids Burrowes, and their Successours, to make payment to Us, and Our Collectours, of Our Annuity which is due to Us forth of the saids superplus, and exercee if any shall be found as said is. And Wee Ordain this Our Decreet, with the said Submission whereupon the same proceeds to be registrat in the Books of Our Council, and Session, To have the force, and strength of a Decreet of the Lords thereof, with execution to pass thereupon, in form as effects: And the Hoving to pass upon a simple charge of Ten dayes allannerly; And to that effect makes, and constituts

Our Advocat, Our Procuratour, to compeat for Us, and consent to the registering hereof, in manner foresaid. In Witnes whereof, Wee have Signed these presents with Our hand, At Windsore the Second day of September, the year of God 1629. years; Before these Witnesses, William Earl of Menteith, President of Our Council, and High Justice of Scotland, Sir William Alexander of Mensrie Knight, Our Secretary, Sir Coline Campbell of Lundie Knight, Barronet, Sir James Lockhart younger of Ley Knight, Master William Elphinstoun One of Our Cup-beaters, and Master John Maxwell Minister at Edinburgh.

A C T concerning the President and Oath of Parliament.

Orasmuch as it hath pleased Almighty GOD, to compassionat the troubles and confusions of this Kingdom, by returning the Kings most Excellent Majesty to the exercise of that Royal Government, under which, and its excellent constitution, this Kingdom hath for many ages enjoyed so much happiness, peace and plenty. And it being upon good and important considerations, an inviolable practice in this Government, before these troubles, that the person nominat by His Majesty, to be His Chancellor within this Kingdom, did of right, and as due to his place, preside in all Meetings of Parliament, and other publick Judicatories of the Kingdom, where he was present for the time. And His Majesty now considering the great advantages do accrue to the publick good of His Subjects, by the due observance of such ancient and well grounded Customs and Constitutions, and the prejudices that do accompany a change thereof: Therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth Declare, That the present Lord Chancellor, and such as hereafter shall be nominate by His Majesty, or His Royal Successors, to succeed in that place; and in case of their absence, such as shall be nominate by His Majesty, are by vertue and right of the said office and such nomination respective, to preside in all meetings of His Majesties Parliaments or other publick Judicatories of the Kingdom, where they shall happen to be present, and that they are now and in all time coming to enjoy this priviledge. And in discharge of this trust, they are at the first down-sitting of every Parliament, to administer to all the Members thereof the Oath of Allegiance, whereof the tenor follows;

I, for testification of my faithful obedience to my most gracious and redoubted Sovereign, CHARLES King of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. Affirm, testifie and declare, by this my solemn Oath, That I acknowledge my said Sovereign only supream Governour

vernour of this Kingdom, over all Persons and in all Causes; and that no Forraign Prince, Power or State, nor person Civil or Ecclesiastick, hath any Jurisdiction, Power or Superiority over the same: And therefore I do utterly renounce and forsake all Forraign Jurisdiccions, Powers and Authorities; and shall at my utmost power, defend, assist and maintain His Majesties Jurisdiction foresaid against all deadly, and never decline His Majesties Power nor Jurisdiction, as I shall answer to GOD. With this addition, And I shall faithfully give my Advice and Vote in every thing shall be propounded in Parliament, as I shall answer to GOD.

Likeas His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth hereby Rescind and Annull all Acts, Statutes or Practices, as to the President, or Oath of Parliament, which are prejudicial unto, or inconsistent with, this present Act, and Declare the same to be void and null in all time coming.

I I.

Act and Acknowledgement of His MAJESTIES Prerogative, in the choice of His Officers of State, Councillors and Judges.

THE Estates of Parliament, considering the great obligations that do ly upon them from the Law of GOD, the Law of Nations, the Municipal Laws of the Land, and their Oaths of Allegiance, to maintain and defend the Sovereign Power and Authority of the Kings Majesty, and the sad consequences that do accompany any incroachments upon, or diminutions thereof: Do therefore, from their sense of humble duty, Declare, That it is an inherent privilege of the Crown, and an undoubted part of the Royal Prerogative of the Kings of this Kingdom, to have the sole choice and appointment of the Officers of State, and Privy Councillors, and the nomination of the Lords of Session as in former times, preceeding the year, 1637. And that the Kings Sacred Majesty and His Heirs and Successors, are for ever, by vertue of that Royal Power, which they hold from GOD Almighty over this Kingdom, to enjoy and have the full exercise of that Right. And therefore, the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth hereby Rescind and Annull all Acts, Statutes or Practices to the contrair, and Declare them to have been undutiful and disloyal invasions upon the Royal Prerogative, and to be void and null in all time coming.

I I I.

Act asserting His MAJESTIES Royal Prerogative, in the calling and dissolving of Parliaments, and making of Laws.

THE Estates of Parliament now convened, by His Majesties special Authority, considering that the Quietness, Stability and Happiness of the people, do depend upon the Safety of the Kings Majesties Sacred Person, and the maintenance of His Sovereign Authority, Princely Power, and Prerogative Royal. And conceiving themselves obliged in conscience, and in discharge of their duties to Almighty GOD, to the Kings Majesty, and to their native Countrey, to make a due acknowledgement thereof at this time; Do therefore unanimously Declare, that they will with their lives and fortunes maintain and defend the same. And they do hereby acknowledge, that the power of Calling, Holding, Proroguing and Dissolving of Parliaments, and all Conventions and Meetings of the Estates, doth solely reside in the Kings Majesty, His Heirs and Successors. And that as no Parliament can be lawfully kept without the special warrand and presence of the Kings Majesty, or His Commissioner; so no Acts, Sentences or Statutes, to be past in any Parliament, can be binding upon the people, or have the authority and force of Laws, without the special Authority and Approbation of the Kings Majesty, or His Commissioner interponed thereto, at the making thereof. And therefore the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth hereby Rescind and Annull all Laws, Acts, Statutes or Practices that have been, or upon any pretext whatsoever, may be, or seem, contrair to, or inconsistent with, His Majesties just Power and Prerogative above-mentioned, and Declares the same to have been unlawful, and to be void and null in all time coming. And to the end that this Act and acknowledgement, which the Estates of Parliament, from the sense of their humble duty and certain knowledge have hereby made, may receive the more exact obedience in time coming, It is by His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Statute and Ordained, that the punctual observance thereof, be specially regarded by all His Majesties Subjects, and that none of them upon any pretext whatsoever, offer to call in question, impugne, or do any deed to the contrair hereof, under the pain of Treason.

I V.

Act asserting His MAJESTIES Royal Prerogative, in making of Leagues and the Conventions of the Subjects.

THE Estates of Parliament, considering that the maintenance of His Majesties Authority and Royal Prerogative, in and concerning the making of Leagues and the Conventions of the Subjects, is not only a necessary duty of the people, but of singular advantage to their happiness and peace: And that their Predecessors wisely foreseeing the good and benefit thereof, and the prejudices and miseries that inevitably did accompany the neglect of the same, did therefore by many several Acts and Laws, assert the Kings Prerogative and Authority therein; and particularly by the hundred and thirty one Act of the eighth Parliament of King James the sixth, it is Statute and Ordained, That none of his Highness Subjects of whatsoever quality, state or function, presume to convocat, conven or assemble themselves for holding of Councils, Conventions, or Assemblies, to treat, consult and determine in any matter of State, Civil or Ecclesiastick (except in the ordinary Judgements) without His Majesties special command, or express licence, had and obtained thereto, under the pains made against such as unlawfully convocat the Kings Leidges. And by the twelfth Act of the tenth Parliament, holden the tenth of December, one thousand five hundred and eighty five, It is by His Majesty, with advice of His three Estates, Statute and Ordained, that no Leagues nor Bonds be made among His Subjects of any degree, upon whatsoever colour or pretence, without His Highness or His Successors privitie and consent, had and obtained thereunto, under the pain to be holden and execute as movers of Sedition to the breach of the Peace. And now finding that the due observance of these Laws, might have contributed much to the preventing of these confusions and troubles, which in these late times have almost ruined both the Kings Majesty and all His loyal Subjects: Therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth revive, renew, ratifie and approve these Acts above-mentioned, and Ordain the same to be punctually obeyed in all time coming, conform to the tenor thereof, and under the pains therein contained. And Declares, that any explanation or gloss, that during these late troubles hath been put upon these Acts, as that they are not to be extended against any Leagues Councils, Conventions, Assemblies or Meetings, made, holden or kept by the Subjects for preservation of the Kings Majesty, the Religion, Laws and Liberties of the Kingdom, or for the publick good either of Kirk or Kingdom, are false and disloyal, and contrair to the true and genuine meaning of these Acts: And therefore His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth Discharge, and for ever Annull the same, and all Acts and Practices that have been in pursuance thereof.

V.

Act asserting His MAJESTIES Royal Prerogative in the Militia, and in making Peace and War, &c.

THE Estates of Parliament, considering the great happiness that this Kingdom hath for many Ages enjoyed, under the Princely Government of their Royal Kings; who by the special blessing of Almighty GOD, have reigned over them, in so long and an unparallel'd series of Royal descents; and the obligation thereby lying upon them, in conscience, honour and gratitude, to own and assert the Royal Prerogatives of the Imperial Crown of this Kingdom, which the Kings Majesty holds from GOD Almighty alone. And to vindicat the same from these invasions, which by the malice or specious pretenses of ill affected persons, and the confusions and disorders of the late times, have been made upon it, Do therefore Declare, that the power of Armes and making of Peace and War, or Treaties and Leagues with Forraign Princes or Estates, doth properly reside in the Kings Majesty, His Heirs and Successors; and that it was and is their undoubted Right, and theirs alone, to have the power of raising in Armes, the Subjects of this Kingdom, and of the commanding, ordering and disbanding, or otherwise disposing thereof; and of all Strengths, Forts or Garrisons within the same, as they shall think fit; the Subjects alwayes being free of the Provisions and Maintenance of these Forts and Armies, unless the same be concluded in Parliament or Convention of Estates. Likas the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, doth hereby Declare, That it is, and shall be high Treason to the Subjects of this Kingdom, or any number of them, more or less, upon any ground or pretext whatsoever, to rise or continue in Armes, to maintain any Forts, Strengths or Garrisons, to make Peace or War, or to make any Treaties or Leagues with Forraign Princes or Estates, or among themselves, without His Majesties special Authority and Approbation first interponed thereto; And doth discharge all His Majesties Subjects to offer upon any pretext whatsoever, to attempt the doing of any of these things hereafter, under the said pain of Treason. And in further detestation of such unlawful and unwarrantable practices, the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth hereby Rescind and Annul all Acts, Statutes, Ordinances or Deeds, past or done in any Parliaments, Conventions, or other Meetings whatsoever, or any otherwise, in so far as they are, or may be contrair to, or inconsistent with, this present Act; and Declares the same (dispensing with the generality, and holding all the particulars as verba sunt herein inserted) to be void and of no force nor effect in time coming.

V I.

Act annulling the pretended Convention of Estates, kept in the Year, 1643.

FOrasmuch as the power of calling of Parliaments, or Conventions of the Estates of this Kingdom, hath alwayes been, and is an undoubted privilege of the Crown, and doth soly reside in the Kings Majesty: And that notwithstanding thereof (among the many other invasions, which during these late times, have been made upon the Royal Prerogative; a pretended Meeting and Convention of the Estates was called and kept at Edinburgh, in June, one thousand six hundred fourty three, without any warrant from the Kings Majesty: And the Estates of Parliament now convened by His Majesties special Authority, having taken into their consideration the indictment, reasons and grounds of the calling of the said Convention, do find that the said pretended Convention of Estates, notwithstanding of all the specious pretexts made for the same, did meet, and convene, without any lawful Warrant or Authority; And therefore the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth Declare the same, with all that was done therein, void and null, and Rescinds and Annuls all Acts or Deeds whatiomever, ratifying and approving the same.

V I I.

Act concerning the League and Covenant, and discharging the renewing thereof without His MAJESTIES warrant and approbation.

FOrasmuch as the power of Armes, and entring into, and making of Leagues and Bonds, is an undoubted privilege of the Crown, and a proper part of the Royal Prerogative of the Kings of this Kingdom, and that in recognisance of His Majesties just Right, the Estates of Parliament of this His most ancient Kingdom of Scotland, have declared it high Treason to the Subjects thereof, of whatsoever number, less or more, upon any pretext whatsoever, to rise, or continue in Armes, or to enter into Leagues and Bonds, with Forraigners, or among themselves, without His Majesties special Warrant and Approbation, liad and obtained thereto, and have Rescinded and Annulled all Acts of Parliament, Conventions of Estates, or other Deeds whatsoever, contrary to, or inconsistent with the same; And whereas during these troubles, there have occurred divers things, in the making and pursuance of Leagues and Bonds, which may be occasion of jealousy in, and betwixt His Majesties Dominions of Scotland, England and Ireland. Therefore, and for preventing of all scruples, mistakes or jealousies that may hereafter arise upon these grounds, the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth hereby Declare, that there is no Obligation upon this Kingdom by Covenant, Treaties or otherwise, to endeavour by Armes a Reformation of Religion in the Kingdom of England, or to meddle with the publick Government and Administration of that Kingdom. And the Kings Majesty with advice and consent foresaid, doth Declare, That the League and Covenant, and all Treaties following thereupon, and Acts or Deeds that do, or may relate thereto, are not obligatory, nor do inter any obligation upon this Kingdom, or the Subjects thereof, to meddle or interpose by Armes, or any seditious way, in any thing concerning the Religion and Government of the Churches of England and Ireland, or in what may concern the Administration of His Majesties Government there. And further, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates, doth hereby Discharge and Inhibite all His Majesties Subjects within this Kingdom, that none of them presume upon any pretext of any Authority whatsoever, to require the renewing or swearing of the said League and Covenant, or of any other Covenants, or publick Oaths concerning the Government of the Church, or Kingdom, without His Majesties special Warrant and Approbation; And that none of His Majesties Subjects offer to renew and swear the same, without His Majesties Warrant, as said is, as they will be answerable at their highest peril.

V I I I.

VIII.

Act against Papists, Priests, and Jesuits.

Our Sovereign Lord considering, that the publick contempt of, and disobedience to, lawful Authority, (though covered with the most specious pretexts) is always accompanied with great confusions and provocations, to the dishonour of GOD, and ruine of the People; And that thereby occasion is offered to wicked and ill affected persons, of all sorts, upon one pretence or other, to subvert Religion, and pervert the Duty and Allegiance of the Subjects; Whereof there be too sad evidence, by the increase of Popery, and the number of Jesuits, Priests, and Papists; which have of late, and do now abound in this Kingdom, in far greater numbers then ever they did under the Government of His Majesties Royal Father and Grand-Father, of blessed memory. And His Majesty, being desirous to trace the His Royal Ancestors, in a due and vigorous prosecution of these many excellent Laws made by them, against the Saying of Mels, and the stay and resset of Jesuits, Seminary and Mels Priests, and Trafficking Papists, within this Kingdom: Doth therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, command and charge all, and sundry Jesuits, Priests and Trafficking Papists, that none of them presume hereafter to Say Mels within this Kingdom; And that within a moneth after the publication hereof, they remove forth of the Kingdom, under the pain of death: And sicklike, His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, doth command, charge and inhibit all His Majesties Subjects, of what quality or degree soever, that none of them presume to hear Mels, resset, supply, entertain, furnish meat or drink, nor keep intelligence or correspondence with any Priests, Jesuits or Trafficking Papists, under the pains contained in the Laws and Acts of Parliament made in that behalf. And to the end that this Act may receive the more exact obedience and prosecution, His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, doth hereby command all Sheriffs of Shires and their Deputes, all Magistrates of Burghs, and other publick Ministers of the Laws, to make exact enquiry and search in their several bounds and jurisdictions, and to apprehend all such Jesuits, Priests and Trafficking Papists, as they shall find within the same, after the last day of March next to come; and to commit them to the next sure Prison, there to remain till they receive due punishment, according to the Laws: And also, that with all possible diligence, they send in to the Parliament, or in case of their not Sitting, to His Majesties Privy-Council, the List of such persons within their bounds, as are known, or suspected to be Papists; that course may be taken with them, conform to the Laws of the Kingdom: And hereof, the Sheriffs and Magistrates, and their Deputes are to take special notice, as they will be answerable at their highest peril: Likewise, His Majesty considering how dangerous it is that Children be educat by persons Popishly affected, do therefore, conform to former Acts of Parliament, appoint that Children under Popish Parents, Tutors or Curators shall be taken from them, and committed to the education of some well affected and religious friend, at the sight and by order of His Majesties Privy Council: And ordains publication hereof to be made at the Mercat Cross of Edinburgh, and other places needful.

IX.

Act approving the Engagement, 1648. and annulling the pretended Parliaments and Committees kept thereafter.

Forasmuch as in the year one thousand six hundred fourty and eight, the Estates of Parliament of this Kingdom, and His Majesties good Subjects therein, from the sense of their duty to Almighty GOD and the King's Majesty, did cheerfully undertake and concur in an Engagement, for relief of His late Majesty of glorious memory from His imprisonment, and for His restitution to the Royal Government of His Kingdoms. And the Estates of Parliament, now convened by His Majesties special Authority, taking that Engagement to their consideration, do find it to have been an Honourable, Just, Necessary and Seasonable Discharge of that indispensable Duty, whereunto this Kingdom, and the Subjects thereof, are by the Law of GOD, by the Law of Nature and Nations, by the Municipal Laws of the Land, by their Allegiance, and by all the strictest bonds of Conscience and Honour, obliged to the most Sacred Person, and Royal Authority of their King's Majesty. And therefore, Our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth Ratifie and Approve that Engagement for His Majesties relief and restitution to His Royal Government. And doth declare, that as it was a most noble and pious Testimony of the Loyalty of His Majesties good Subjects of His ancient Kingdom, and of their affection and zeal to His Majesties Person and Government: So His Majesty, for Himself and His Successors, doth assure, that They will always retain a grateful resentment thereof; And have appointed these presents to remain upon Record, for the due honour of these persons who did engage therein, and of their posterity for ever.

And whereas the necessity and justice of this undertaking, with the interest this Kingdom had in His Majesties Person, by the honour of His Royal Birth, and By these many and singular Acts of Grace He had lately conferr'd upon it, might justly have claimed a ready concurrence of all the Subjects; Yet there wanted not some, and even such, whom not long before, His Majesty had obliged by marks of His Royal favour both of honour and profit, who made it their work to disappoint and oppose the same; And for that end, having gathered some mutinous Commons and others, who by a few seditious Ministers, had been preached into an open Rebellion, they in the month of September, one thousand six hundred forty and eight years, without any lawful Authority, (and not giving the Oath mentioned in the Commission of Parliament: without which, it was expressly provided, they were not to have access to, nor place in, the Committee) did usurpe to themselves the name and power of a Committee of Estates; and having by their own Edicts, declared all such persons as had given testimony of their duty and loyalty to the King, to be incapable of being Members of Parliament, or of having voice in the Elections to the Parliaments. They then, without any lawful Authority, called a Packet meeting of Parliament, to consist only of persons of their own stamp and faction: who accordingly met in January, one thousand six hundred forty and nine years: and assuming to themselves the Sovereign Authority and Government of the Kingdom, intended to Establish and fix the power in their own persons for ever. For which purpose, having publicly declared against that necessary and just Engagement, for His Majesties relief and restitution to His Royal Government: Having approved all the oppositions and risings in Armes against the same, and by Oath solemnly engaged themselves to a constant adherence thereunto: Having for their assistance called in the Usurper Cromwel, and a part of his Army: Having by publick engagement, given up the honour and safety of this ancient Kingdom to the English: and declared, that His Majesty should be obliged to Ratify that unworthy act, before any Treaty were with Him for His relief. Having given order to their Commissioners, to protest against any agreement betwixt His Majesty and His Subjects in England, in the Treaty at the Isle of Wight: Having, so far as in them lay, weakened and dissolved the common Allegiance of the Subjects to the King's Majesty, by proclaiming His Right to the Crown, with base restrictions and limitations, and pressing the Subjects against their consciences, to subscribe the same: Having disowned His Majesties interest in the Quarrel betwixt them and the English, who had invaded this Kingdom, meerly to destroy His Majesties Interest in it: Having taken the lives of some, and forced others of His Majesties good Subjects, of best quality, to flee to Forraign parts for their safety: Having fined, confined, imprisoned, and seized upon the livelihood of many: Having put disgraceful characters and incapacities upon all who had witnessed any affection to His Majesties Government: Having unjustly pronounced, and with cruelty executed Sentences of Forfeiture against the lives and fortunes of such as from conscience of their duties, did oppose them: Having in their publick Meetings, appointed, that the innocent Wives and Children of these, who offered to vindicate His Majesties Authority, should be seized on, and transported to Forraign Countries: Having once and again sollicited their Brethren in England, that such of this Kingdom, as (for venturing their lives for the King) were then prisoners in England, should be still kept Prisoners, as Pledges of the Peace: Having thrust out of the Offices of State, places of Judicatory and publick Trust, all such as were willing to engage for His Majesties relief and restitution to His Government, and put such in their places, as did oppose the same: Having laid on, and raised, great exactions and sums of money from the people, and employed them for their own uses; Having seized on His Majesties Revenues, and bestowed them upon themselves, and such others as were in open Opposition and Arms against Him: Having also seized upon the Properties and due Rights of the Subjects, and the Patrouages by Law secured unto them: And having, by these and many such like Acts, endeavoured to perpetuate themselves in their usurped Power, they prorogated the meetings of their pretended Parliaments from time to time, substituting some of their Trustees, for carrying on of their designs in the while. And the Estates of Parliament, having taken these proceedings unto their serious consideration, Do find, that there was no Law, nor lawful Authority for the Meetings of these pretended Parliaments and Committees of Estates; But that the persons, meeting therein, did without any lawful warrant, and in contempt of His Majesties Authority, usurp the power to themselves.

And therefore, the King's Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth Rescind and Annul these pretended Meetings of Parliament, and Committees above mentioned, and all other Meetings of any pretended Parliaments or Committees flowing from the same, and all Acts, Deeds and Treaties, done by them or their warrant: Excepting alwayes all such Acts as were past in any Meeting of Parliament, or Committee of Estates, authorized by His Majesties presence, and are not inconsistent with this present Act. And also Declares any Ratification, which thereafter was past, of those Meetings and Acts, to have been void from the beginning: Except in so far as is express in the Indempuity, Declarations and Provisions, after-mentioned. Yet, notwithstanding of all these provocations, the King's Majesty, from His innate goodness, being more desirous to reclaim His Subjects to their duty by Acts of Mercy, then to reduce them by their too much deserved Censure, Doth of His meer favour and grace, with advice and consent foresaid, Indemnifie all such persons, who sat and acted in these pretended Parliaments and Committees, or who acted in order therunto, or by vertue of, and in obedience to, the same, To be in all time coming, unquestioned in their lives and fortunes, for these their actings; Excepting such as shall be excepted in a general Act of Indemnity, to be past by His Majesty in this Parliament.

And forasmuch as the Ordinar Courts of Justice, did sit and act by Warrant of these Meetings, the King's Majesty, for the good and ease of the people, doth with advice foresaid, Declare, That none of the Acts, Decrees or Sentences, given by these who sat as Lords of Session, or as interior Judges within this Kingdom these years, nor no Execution following thereupon, are for want of lawful Authority to be questioned: Whereanent, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, by these presents dispenses. And also, His Majesty, considering that by a pretended Act and Commission, from the laid pretended Meetings or Parliaments, Augmentations were granted to Ministers, Kirks were divided, new Kirks were erected, and Lands from one Paroch to another, disjoyned and annexed, and divers other particulars decreed, in relation to the Plantation of Kirks: which Commissions, one or more, though they had no lawful Authority, but in themselves were and are null. Yet, His Majesty, being desirous to give all due encouragements to the Ministers of the Gospel, doth, with advice and consent foresaid, Declare, That all Acts, Decrees and Sentences, pronounced and given forth by the saids Commissioners, and all Executions thereupon, are and shall stand valid in time coming, except such as upon the complaint of any party, shall be found to have been unjustly or exorbitantly pronounced and decreed. The determination whereof, is hereby referred by His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, to the Commission for Plantation of Kirks, to be established by His Majesty in this present Parliament: that they after hearing of parties, and consideration of particulars, may take such course for altering, annulling or allowing of what was done by virtue of the saids Commissions in the years, one thousand six hundred and forty nine, and one thousand six hundred and fifty, as they shall think just, conform to the standing Laws and Acts of Parliament, preceeding the year one thousand six hundred and forty nine; and Ordains process upon supplication to be summarily granted, parties always being cited, and that without any reduction. As also, with power to the saids Commissioners to be appointed, upon the dependence of the saids complaints and process, to discharge execution upon the foresaid Decrees in whole or in part, as they shall find just, ay and while the matter may be determined by them. And forasmuch as by a pretended Commission for the Exchequer, divers Infeftments, Gifts and others, were past in the foresaid years, one thousand six hundred and forty nine, and one thousand six hundred and fifty; His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Declares, That all such Gifts, Infeftments and others, are and shall be valid, excepting always new Gifts and Dispositions of Lands and others, granted and past to His Highness prejudice, and such other Gifts as upon the complaints of parties, shall by His Majesties Treasurer and Commissioners of Exchequer, be found to have been unjustly granted or past, in prejudice of prior Gifts under His Majesties Hand, though not past in Exchequer. And whereas by a pretended Act of the foresaid pretended Parliament, entituled, Act abolishing the Patronages of Kirks, all Patronages and Presentations of Kirks, whether belonging to the King or any Laick Patron, Presbyteries or others, were discharged, and all Acts, Gifts and Rights, granted thereanent, Rescinded. And yet nevertheless, it was thereby declared, That the taking away of the Patronages, should not prejudice the Patrons Rights to the Teinds, nor weaken his Infeftment wherein the same is contained. And that the Teiths of the Kirks, whercof the Presentations were abolished, should belong heretably to the Patrons, and be inserted in their Rights and Infeftments in place of their Patronage, with power to the Patron to dispose upon the saids Teinds, in manner and with the exception contained in the said Act. And notwithstanding that the foresaid Act and whole Parliament be declared null; yet nevertheless, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth by these presents Declare, That it shall be lawful to Laick Patrons or Herctors, to agree with the benefited persons for Tacks or Rights of Teinds, belonging to the said benefited person, according to the Laws of the Kingdom; with this provision that the saids Tacks, shall be no wayes prejudicial to the Stipend and Maintenance of the Ministers and persons to be presented, according as the same hath been already modified, or shall be modified in time coming; and that notwithstanding of any Acts or Statutes made in the contrair. All which Acts, his Majesty, with consent foresaid, by these presents Discharges; And in like maner, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Declares, That as to such persons who are presently in possession of Kirks, pretaining to the saids Laick Patronages, the saids persons and Ministers shall, during their service, claime no right nor possession to the Teinds of their saids Kirks and Parochins, other then they had formerly before the making of this Act; they having alwayes a sufficient maintenance allowed and granted to them according to the Laws of the Kingdom.

X.

Act condemning the Transactions concerning the King Majesty, whilst He was at Newcastle, in the years, 1646. and 1647.

THE Estates of Parliament, considering the many sad and dangerous consequences that do accompany the neglect and contempt of lawful Authority; and that among the other Judgements, wherewith it pleaseth Almighty GOD to visit such who resist the Powers, and oppose the Commands of those intrusted by Him, as his Vicegerents, for the Government of His People, they are oft-times left to their own counsels, to do that which highly provokes GOD to wrath, renders themselves justly odious to the world, and hateful to their Posterity. Whereof there is too doolful an experiment in an Act of the printed Records of Parliament, of the sixteenth of January, one thousand six hundred and and fourty seven, entituled, Declaration of the Kingdom of Scotland, concerning the Kings Majesties Person. Which being now taken into consideration, The Estates of Parliament do find and Declare, That it was carried on, and concluded by a prevalent party, against the judgement of many of His Majesties Loyal Subjects; And that it is a most sinful, disloyal, and unworthy Act, contrary to the will and commandment of GOD; contrary to all Laws, Divine and Humane; contrary to the Duty and Allegiance of Subjects; contrary to all the rules of Justice, Honour, Gratitude and Humanity; and highly reflecting on the honour of this ancient Kingdom, and the reputation of His Majesties good Subjects therein. And therefore, the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth hereby Annull and Condemn the same for ever: And Ordains it to be expunged out of all Records, and never to be remembered again, but with due abhorrence and detestation.

And the Estates of Parliament, conceiving themselves obliged in Conscience, to make the truth of this business, and the manner of the carrying of it, known to the world, for the just vindication of this Kingdom, and His Majesties dutiful and loyal Subjects, who otherwise may seem to be comprehended and concluded in it. They do therefore, from their certain knowledge, Declare, That even in that Parliament (from which many of His Majesties good Subjects were debated, for their affection and adherence to His Majesties Service and Commands) there was a considerable number of worthy Patriots, of all Estates, who, at the passing of that base Act, gave a publick testimony and dissent from it, which is here Recorded for their due honour; and for which, their memory will in all ages receive a famous celebration. And that there were divers others, who, upon the pretences of Reformation, and assurances of the Safety of His Majesties Person, being enveigled, were in the simplicity of their hearts drawn along for the time: But shortly thereafter, being convinced of their error, did imbrace the first opportunity to expiate the same, by freely hazarding their lives and fortunes in the year, one thousand six hundred and fourty eight, to redeem His Majesty from these restraints and dangers, which by that impious Act he was driven into. And therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, doth Declare, That the Act of Parliament foresaid, of the sixteenth of January, one thousand six hundred and fourty seven, is not to be look'd upon as the Deed of the Kingdom, but as the Act of a few disloyal and seditious persons, who, having upon specious, but false pretences, screwed themselves into the Government, did by force of Arms, keep the same; and from the conscience of their own guiltiness, being afraid of the justice of His Majesties Government, did violently carry on that Act. And in further owning thereof, did, in the said year, one thousand six hundred and fourty eight, rise in Arms, in opposition to those who endeavoured to restore His Majesty to His Government, and to relieve Him from the imprisonment and hazard He was then lying under, as the natural effects of that unworthy transaction, so justly hereby condemned.

And for the further clearing of the sense of this Kingdom, as to that base and treacherous Act, and the aspersions which have been thereupon raised, as if there had been previous Transactions and Bargains of Money for carrying on of the same, The Estates of Parliament Declare, They do abominat every thought of any such thing; and that if at any time hereafter, there shall be discovery of any such wickedness, (which they are confident GOD Almighty will in His justice bring to light, (if it be true) and wherein they earnestly intreat the concurrence of all His Majesties dutiful and loyal Subjects) The persons guilty thereof, shall without mercy be pursued as the vilest of Traitors, and shall be incapable of the benefit of any Act of Pardon, Oblivion, or Indempnity for ever.

XI.

Act for taking the Oath of Allegiance, and asserting the Royal Prerogative.

Our Sovereign Lord, being truly sensible of the many sufferings and sad confusions, that His dutiful and loyal Subjects have been brought under, during these troubles; and desirous, that His Royal Government, in it's due Administration, may be refreshing and comfortable unto them; And conceiving it necessary for that end, and for the honour and advancement of His own Service, the welfare and happiness of His Subjects, and the peace and quiet of this Kingdom, that the places of publick Trust (which be the Channels and Conduits by which His Majesties Government is conveyed unto His people) be supplied and exerted by persons of known integrity, abilities, and loyalty. Do therefore declare, That it is, and will be, His Majesties Royal care, that those whom (according to the undoubted Right of the Crown) He hath, or shall think fit to call to His Councils, or any publick employments, shall be so qualified; And that for the full satisfaction of all His good Subjects, and for removing any scruples or jealousies, can arise upon this account, they shall before their admittance to, or exercise of, any such Trust, give such publick testimony of their Duty and Loyalty, as may evidence to the world, they are such as the Kingdom and all honest men and good Subjects, may justly confide in. And therefore the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth Statute and Ordain, that all and whatsoever person, or persons, who are, or shall be, nominat by His Majesty, to be His Officers of State, of His Privy Council, Session, or Exchequer, Justice-

Justice General, Admiral, Sheriffs, Commissioners, and their Deputies, and Clerks, and all Magistrates and Council of Royal Burghs, at their Admission to their several Offices, and before they offer to execute the same, shall take and swear the Oath of Allegiance, hereunto subjoyned. And also, that all other persons who shall be required by His Majesties Privy-Council, or any having Authority from them, shall be obliged to take and swear the same.

And since all the troubles and miseries that have overspread this Kingdom, and almost destroyed all religious and civil, all publick and private interests, these twenty years by-gone and upwards, have arisen and sprung from these invasions, that have been made upon, and contempts done to the Royal Authority and Prerogative of the Crown, His Majesty conceives Himself obliged, both for His own Royal interest, and for the publick interest and peace of His people, to be careful to prevent the like for the future. And therefore, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, that all persons, who are, or shall be called to any publick Trust, as said is, shall, beside the taking of the Oath of Allegiance, be obliged before they enter to their Offices and Trusts, to assent under their hand writing, His Majesties Royal Prerogative, as is express in the Acts past in this present Parliament, and in the manner hereunto subjoyned: Certifying all such, as, being required, shall refuse or delay to take the Oath of Allegiance, they shall not only thereby render themselves incapable of any publick Trust, but be lookt upon as persons disaffected to His Majesties Authority and Government; and such as shall refuse, or delay to assent His Majesties Prerogative, in manner under-written, shall from thenceforth be incapable of any publick Trust within this Kingdom.

Follows the Oath of Allegiance.

I, For testification of my faithful obedience to my most gracious and redoubted Sovereign, CHARLES, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. Affirm, testify and declare, by this my solemn Oath, That I acknowledge my said Sovereign only Supreme Governour of this Kingdom, over all Persons and in all Causes; and that no Forraign Prince, Power, State or person Civil or Ecclesiastick, hath any Jurisdiction, Power or Superiority over the same: And therefore I do utterly renounce and forsake all Forraign Powers, Jurisdictions and Authorities; and shall at my utmost power, defend, assist and maintain His Majesties Jurisdiction foresaid, against all deadly, and shall never decline His Majesties Power and Jurisdiction, as I shall answer to GOD.

Follows the Acknowledgement of His MAJESTIES Prerogative.

FOrasmuch as the Estates of Parliament of this Kingdom, by their several Acts of the eleventh and twenty fifth of January last, have, from the sense of their humble duty, and in recognition of His Majesties just Right, Declared, That it is an inherent Privilege of the Crown, and an undoubted part of the Royal Prerogative of the Kings of this Kingdom, to have the sole choice and appointment of the Officers of Estate, Privy-Councillors, and Lords of Session; That the power of calling, holding and dissolving of Parliaments, and all Conventions, and Meetings of the Estates, doth solely reside in the Kings Majesty, His Heirs and Successors: and that as no Parliament can be lawfully kept, without the special warrand and presence of the Kings Majesty, or His Commissioner; So, no Acts, nor Statutes, to be past in any Parliament, can be binding on the people, or have the Authority and Force of Laws, without the special approbation of His Majesty, or His Commissioner, interposed thereto at the making thereof; That the power of Armes, making of Peace and War, and making of Treaties and Leagues with Forreign Princes or States, or at home by the Subjects among themselves, doth properly reside in the Kings Majesty, His Heirs and Successors, and is their undoubted Right; and their's alone; And that it is high Treason in the Subjects of this Kingdom, or any number of them, upon whatsoever ground, to rise or continue in Armes, to maintain any Forts, Garisons or Strengths, to make Peace or War, or to make any Treaties or Leagues with Forreigners, or among themselves, without His Majesties Authority first interposed thereto; That it is unlawfull to the Subjects, of whatsoever quality or function, to convocate, convene or assemble themselves, for holding of Councils, Conventions and Assemblies, to Treat, Consult and Determine in any matters of State, Civil or Ecclesiastick (except in the ordinary judgements) or to make Leagues, or Bonds, upon whatsoever colour or pretence, without His Majesties special consent and approbation had thereunto; That the League and Covenant, and all Treaties following thereupon, and Acts or Deeds that do or may relate thereunto, are not obligatory, nor do infer any obligation upon this Kingdom, or the Subjects thereof, to meddle or interpose by Armes, or any seditious way, in any thing concerning the Religion and Government of the Churches in England and Ireland, or in what may concern the Administration of His Majesties Government there: and that none of His

Majesties Subjects should presume, upon any pretext of any Authority whatsoever, to require the renewing or swearing of the said League and Covenant, or of any other Covenants or publick Oaths concerning the Government of the Church or Kingdom; And that none offer to renew or swear the same, without His Majesties special warrant and approbation, &c. I do, conform to the Acts of Parliament aforesaid, Declare, That I do with all humble duty acknowledge His Majesties Royal Prerogative, Right and Power in all the particulars, and in the manner aforesaid; and that I do heartily give my consent thereto, by these presents: Subscribed by me, at

XII.

Act concerning the Judicial proceedings in the time of the late Usurpers.

FOrasmuch as since the year of GOD, one thousand six hundred and fifty one, the late Usurpers did take upon them to establish Judicatories, superior and inferior, within this Nation; as Judges for Administration of Justice, in place of the Judicatory of the Session formerly established by Law, Commissioners for the Admiralty, Sheriffs of Shires, Commillars, Justices of Peace, and other inferior Courts. In which Courts the people did in name of the Usurpers, or under the notion of the Keepers of the Liberties, prosecute and defend their several Causes and Interests, these many years past. And his Majesty considering that the matters agitate, pursued and concluded, were for the most part, things of course, belonging to the ordinary Judicatories formerly established in this Kingdom; and being unwilling that the people should be put to any further trouble, where Matters have been acted, and Cases determined, according to Law: Therefore, His Majesty, with consent of the Estates of Parliament, Declares, That all and whatsoever Acts, Interlocutors, Decrets and Sentences, made, pronounced and given forth by the saids Courts, superior and inferior, with all execution thereupon, and all execution by Horning, Inhibition, Caption, Comprising, Poinding and others, to have been, and to be, valid, and stand in full force, notwithstanding of the unlawfulness of the Authority, by which these Courts were held; and the execution used: But because the Judges or Commissioners for Administration of Justice, did sometimes proceed in an arbitrary way, contrair to Law and Justice; and at other times, many of them being strangers and ignorant of the Law, did proceed unwarrantably and unjustly betwixt parties. Therefore, His Majesty, with consent aforesaid, doth Declare, That whatsoever person or persons, hath any just reason to quarrel their Acts, Interlocutors, Decrets, and Sentences, they are hereby warranted and allowed to do the same, without any Reduction or Suspension, within the space of one year, next after the down-sitting of the Session: And if parties complainers be Minors, within the space of year and day, next after they shall attain the age of twenty one years compleat, Parties alwayes being lawfully cited thereto. And if any person or persons, be charged under the pain of Horning, Suspension shall be granted to them upon Caution, or if they be not able to find Caution, super Cautione Juratoria. And if it shall be found, that the complainer doth, without any just ground, unnecessarily vex the party complained upon, in that case, the Lords of the Session are hereby authorized, to determine the parties damage and charges to be paid by the unjust complainer. Likewise, all Decrets before the saids pretended Commissioners for administration of Justice, whether given in absence, or parties comparand, are hereby allowed to be brought in question, revised and recognized, in manner aforesaid. And whereas there be many Processes as yet depending undecided, upon Summons and Letters raised in the saids Usurpers names, the same Processes shall be all waiked in His Majesties Name, and be put to a final close by the Lords of Session, as if they had been intended from the beginning, in His Majesties Name and Authority. And whereas, any Acts or Decrets have been made or given forth in the Admirall Courts, or any other inferior Courts, the same may be brought in question before the Lords of Session, in the same form and manner as was formerly established by Law and Practick of this Kingdom.

And forasmuch as the said Usurpers, did from time to time, nominate and appoint Commissioners of Exchequer, having the same power to pass all sorts of Writs, Signators and others, and to discuss Processes and Suspensions, in the same manner as His Majesties Treasurer and Commissioners, appointed by His Majesty, had power to do; Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent aforesaid, for the good and ease of His people (under the provisions under-written) doth Declare, all and whatsoever Writs, Giits, Signators of whatsoever nature and quality they be of, past and expd the Privy great and quarter Seals respective, or past according to pretended Orders for the time, when there were no Seals, to be of full force and effect; Providing alwayes, that where any Signators were past in Exchequer under the Usurpers, and the Composition paid, and yet not past the Seals, the same shall be presented and past in Exchequer, de novo, if there be reason therefore, without any Composition; and where Resignations only have been made upon Procuratories in the Usurpers time, Signators may without new resignation pass thereupon. It is also provided, that this Act be no wise extended to new Giits of Lands, Teinds and others, past to the prejudice of His Majesty, nor to Giits of Bastardie, or ultimus Heres, unless the same be of new ratified and approved by His Majesties Treasurer

Treasure and Commissioners of Exchequer, nor to any other Gifts, Confirmations, Charters upon Resignation, where the saids Gifts, Confirmations and Charters were made and granted, in prejudice of any person or persons who had former rights granted unto them by His Majesty, or His Royal Father of blessed memory, under their Seals, or Past their Royal Hands. And generally providing, that all and whatsoever Gifts, Grants, Commissions, Charters and other Writs whatsoever, past in Exchequer, and through the Seals in the Usurpers time, and all and whatsoever Acts and Sentences pronounced and given forth by them, shall and may, be called in question at the instance of any of the people, who may pretend to have been unjustly wronged and prejudged thereby: And that upon complaints to be given into His Majesties Treasurer and Commissioners of Exchequer, wherein they shall have power to determine, as they shall think just and reasonable.

XIII.

Act and offer of Forty thousand pounds Sterling, to be paid to the Kings Majesty yearly during His lifetime by this Kingdom

THe Estates of Parliament, taking to their consideration, the great happiness this Kingdom hath in former time enjoyed, under the Government of His Majesties Royal Ancestors, with the miseries and bondage, which by the neglect and contempt of the Authority, and commands of His Royal Father of blessed memory, it hath groaned under, during these twenty years troubles. And that the Kings Majesty, hath been graciously pleased (notwithstanding of all the provocations given to himself and His Royal Father) to evidence His affection and favour to this His ancient Kingdom, comforting and reviving it, by the Rayes of His Royal Government and Authority, under the protection of which, the just Liberties, Freedom and Interest of this Kingdom, and the Subjects thereof, are, and can only be, secured; Do with all humble duty, thankfulness and sincerity, acknowledge His Majesties unparallel'd Grace and Goodness. And that as their happiness doth depend upon the Safety of His Majesties Person, and the establishment and exercise of His Royal Authority and Greatness: So this Kingdom will be ready at all occasions, to offer their Lives and Fortunes against all deadly, in every cause, wherein His Majesties Person, Authority, Prerogative, or Government may be concerned. And seeing, for the due establishment of His Majesties Authority, and settling and securing the peace of this Kingdom, His Majesty may have occasion, for some time, to raise and keep some Forces within the Kingdom; and that the late troubles will at present, necessitate a greater expence, for support of the Royal Government, then formerly, and that His Majesty hath signified His resolution, not to raise any more Sells; Therefore, and from the due sense of their duty and obligations, the Estates of Parliament, Do in name of the Kingdom, make humble and cheerful offer to his Majesty, of a yearly Annuity, of Forty thousand pounds Sterling, during all the dayes of His Majesties lifetime, which they pray may be long and prosperous, that this Kingdom may have further occasion, to let the world know, they do above all things, hate the very thoughts of disloyalty, and that no people under Heaven, can expresse more duty and obedience to the Authority and Commands of their Sovereign, then they are, and will be ready to do.

XIV.

Act for raising the Annuity of Forty thousand pounds Sterling, granted to His Majesty.

XV.

Act Rescinding and Annulling the pretended Parliaments, in the years, 1640, 1641, &c.

THe Estates of Parliament, considering that the Peace and happiness of this Kingdom, and of His Majesties good Subjects therein, doth depend upon the Safety of His Majesties Person, and the Maintenance of His Royal Authority, Power and Greatness; And that all the miseries, confusions and disorders which this Kingdom hath groaned under, these twenty years, have issued from, and been the necessary and natural products of these neglects, contempts and invasions, which in and from the beginning of these troubles, were upon the specious (but false) pretexes of Reformation (the common cloak of all Rebellions) offered unto the Sacred Person and Royal Authority of the Kings Majesty, and His Royal Father of blessed memory. And notwithstanding, that by the sacred Right, inherent to the Imperial Crown (which His Majesty holds immediatly from GOD Almighty alone) and by the ancient constitution and fundamental Laws of the Kingdom; the power of convocating and keeping Assemblies of the Subjects; the power of Calling, Holding, Proroguing and Dissolving of Parliaments, and making of Laws, the power of entering into Bonds, Covenants, Leagues and Treaties; the power of raising Armes, keeping of Strengths and Forts, are Essential parts, and Inseparable priviledges of the Royal Authority and Prerogative of the Kings of this Kingdom: Yet, such hath been the madness and delusion of these times, that even Religion it self, which holds the Right of Kings to be Sacred and Inviolable, hath been pretended unto, for warrant of all these injurious Violations and Ineroachments, so publickly done and owned, upon and against, His Majesties just Power, Authority and Government; By making and keeping of unlawfull Meetings and Convocations of the people; By entering into Covenants, Treaties and Leagues; By seizing upon, and possessing themselves of His Majesties Castles, Forts and Strengths of the Kingdom; and by holding of pretended Parliaments, making of Laws, and raising of Armes for the maintaining of the same: And that not only without warrant, but contrary to His Majesties expresse Commands. And although the late Kings Majesty, out of His meer grace and respects to this His native Kingdom, and the peace and quiet of His people, and for preventing the consequences, which such a bad example, and practice might occasion, to the disturbance of the Peace of His other Kingdoms, was pleased in the year, one thousand six hundred and fourty one, to come into this Countrey, and by His own presence, at their pretended Parliaments and otherwayes, to comply with, and give way to, many things nearly concerning the undoubted Interest and Pretogative of the Crown, expecting that such unparallel'd Condescensions should have made His Subjects ashamed of their former miscarriages, and the very thoughts thereof, to be hatefull to them and their posterity for ever. Yet such was the prevalency of the spirit of Rebellion that rag'd in many for the time, that not content of that peace and happiness, which even above their desires, was secured to them; nor of those many Grants of honour and profit, by which, His Majesty endeavoured to endear the most desperate of them to their duty and obedience, they then, when His Majesty had not left unto them any pretence or shadow of any new desire to be proposed, either concerning themselves or the Kingdom, did most unworthily engage, to subvert His Majesties Government, and the publick Peace of the Kingdom of England: For which purpose, having joyned in a League with some there, they, for the better prosecution of the same, did assume unto themselves, the Royal Power, kept and held Parliaments at their pleasure; by the pretended Authority of which, they laid new exactions upon the people (which in one month did far exceed what ever by the Kings Authority had been raised in a whole year) levied Armes, sent out Edicts, requiring obedience unto their unlawfull demands; and with all manner of violence pursued such as out of duty to His Majesties Authority opposed them, by fines, confinements, imprisonment, banishment, death, and forfeiture of their posterity; and with their Army thus raised, invaded His Majesties Kingdom of England, and joyned with such as were in Armes against His Majesty there. And thus maintaining their usurped power, and violently executing the same against all Law, Conscience, Honour and Humanity, have made themselves instruments of much loss, shame and dishonour to their native Country, and have justly forfeited any favour they might have pretended to, from His Majesties former concessions. And so much, as now it hath pleased Almighty GOD, by the power of His own right hand, so miraculously to restore the Kings Majesty to the Government of His Kingdoms, and to the exercise of His Royal Power and Sovereignty over the same, The Estates of Parliament do conceive themselves obliged, in discharge of their duty and conscience to GOD and the Kings Majesty, to employ all their power and Interest for vindicating His Majesties Authority from all these violent invasions that have been made upon it, and so far as is possible, to remove out of the way, every thing that may retain any remembrance of these things, which have been so injurious to His Majesty and His Authority, so prejudicial and dishonourable to the Kingdom, and destructive to all just and true interests within the same. And considering, that besides the unlawfulness of the publick Actings during these troubles, most of the Acts in all and every of the Meetings of these pretended Parliaments, do highly inroach upon, and are destructive of, that Sovereign Power, Authority, Prerogative and Right of Government, which by the Law of GOD and the ancient Laws and Constitutions of this Kingdom, doth reside in, and belong unto, the Kings Majesty, and do reflect much upon the honour, loyalty and reputation of this Kingdom, or are expired, and serve only as testimonies of disloyalty and reproach upon the Kingdom, and are unfit to be any longer upon Record. Therefore the Kings Majesty and Estates of Parliament, do hereby Rescind and Annul the pretended Parliaments, kept in the years one thousand six hundred and fourty, one thousand six hundred and fourty one, one thousand six hundred and fourty four, one thousand six hundred and fourty five, one thousand six hundred and fourty six, one thousand six hundred and fourty seven, and one thousand six hundred and fourty eight, and all Acts and Deeds past and done in them, and Declares the same to be henceforth void and null. And His Majesty, being unwilling to take any advantage of the failings of His Subjects during those unhappy times, is resolved not to retain any remembrance thereof, but that the same shall be held in everlasting oblivion; and that all difference and animosities being forgotten, His good Subjects may in a happy union, under His Royal Government, enjoy that happiness and peace, which His Majesty intends, and really wisheth unto them as unto Himself, Doth therefore by advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, grant His full Assurance and Indempnity to all persons that acted in, or by vertue of the said pretended Parliaments and other Meetings flowing from the same, to be unquestioned in their Lives or Fortunes, for any Deed or Deeds done by them in their said usurpation, or by vertue of any pretended Authority derived therefrom, excepting alwayes, such as shall be excepted in a general Act of Indempnity, to be past by His Majesty in this Parliament. And it is hereby declared, That all Acts, Rights and Securities, past in any of the pretended Meetings above-written, or by vertue thereof, in favours of any particular persons, for their civil and private interests, shall stand good and valid unto them, untill the same be taken into further consideration, and be determined in this, or the next Session of this Parliament.

XVI.

An Act concerning Religion and Church Government.

Our Sovereign Lord, being truly sensible of the mercies of Almighty GOD, towards Him in His preservation, in times of greatest trouble and danger, and in his miraculous Restitution to His just Right and Government of His Kingdoms. And being desirous to improve these Mercies, to the glory of GOD and honour of His great Name, Doth with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Declare, That it is His full and firm resolution, to maintain the true reformed Protestant Religion, in it's purity of Doctrine and Worship, as it was established within this Kingdom, during the Reigns of His Royal Father and Grand-father of blessed memory. And that

His

His Majesty will be careful to promote the power of Godliness, to encourage the exercises of Religion, both publick and private, and to suppress all prophaneesse, and disorderly walking. And for that end will give all due countenance and protection to the Ministers of the Gospel, they containing themselves within the Bounds and Limits of their Ministerial Calling, and behaving themselves with that submission and obedience to His Majesties Authority and Commands, that is suitable to the Allegiance and Duty of good Subjects. And as to the Government of the Church, His Majesty will make it His care, to settle and secure the same, in such a frame as shall be most agreeable to the word of GOD, most suitable to Monarchical Government, and most complying with the publick peace and quiet of the Kingdom. And in the mean time, His Majesty, with advice and consent forsaide, Doth allow the present Administration by Sessions, Presbyteries and Synods, (they keeping within bounds and behaving themselves as said is) and that notwithstanding of the preceeding Act; relesory of all pretended Parliaments, since the year one thousand six hundred and thirty eight.

XVII.

Act for a Solemn Anniversary Thanksgiving for His Majesties Restauration to the Royal Government of His Kingdoms.

THE Estates of Parliament of the Kingdom of Scotland, taking to their consideration the sad Condition, Slavery and Bondage, this ancient Kingdom hath groaned under, during these twenty three years Troubles: In which, under the specious pretences of Reformation, a publick Rebellion hath been, by the Treachery of some, and mis-persuasion of others, violently carried on against Sacred Authority, to the ruine and destruction, so far as was possible, of Religion, the Kings Majesty, and His Royal Government, the Laws, Liberties and Property of the People, and all the publick and private Interests of the Kingdom; So that Religion it self, which holds the right of Kings to be Sacred, hath been prostitute for the warrand of all these treasonable invasions made upon the Royal Authority, and disloyal limitations put upon the Allegiance of the Subjects. And hath it not also been pretended unto, for the warrand of all those vile and bloody Murthers, which in high contempt of Almighty GOD and of His Majesties Authority and Laws, were under colour of Justice committed upon His Majesties good Subjects, meerly for the discharge of their Duty to GOD, and Loyalty to the King? Hath not that Royal Government, under whose Protection this Nation hath, to the envy of the World, been so famous for many ages, been of late troden under foot, and new Governments and Governours established and kept up without His Majesties Authority, and against His expresse Commands? Hath not Law, which is the Birth-right and Inheritance of the Subjects, and the Security of their lives and fortunes, been laid in the dust, and new and unjust Edicts and Orders past and published, for subverting both life and fortune, and what else was dear unto any of His Majesties good Subjects, to the Cruel and Ambitious Lusts of some usurping Rulers? Hath not Religion and Loyalty been the only objects of their Rapine and Cruelty? And hath not their new and arbitrary Exactions and Burdens upon the People, exceeded in one moneth what ever had been formerly in many years paid to any of the Kings of this Kingdom? And when the best of men and the most Excellent of the Kings of the earth, had in an unusual way of confidence rendred His Person to the Trust and Loyalty of His Native Subjects, was not the security of Religion pretended unto by some, who then governed in Church and State for the ground of that base (and never enough to be abhorred) transaction, in leaving such a Prince their Native and Dread Sovereign, to the will of these who were in open Rebellion; and for the time had their swords in their hands against Him; And that when by these and many such like undutifull carriages, the Kings Majesty was removed from His Kingdoms, the foundations of this ancient and well constitute Government was overturned, the Liberties and Property of the people inverted; And this Kingdom exposed to be Captives and Slaves to Strangers, and nothing left unto them but the sad meditation of their increasing miseries, and the bitter remembrance of their by-past disloyalties? Yet even then it pleased Almighty GOD to compassionat their low condition, and by the power of His own right-hand, most miraculously to restore the Kings most Sacred Majesty to the Royal Government of His Kingdoms; And thereby to Redeem this Kingdom from its former Slavery and Bondage, and to restore it to its ancient and just Priviledges and Freedom. And the Kings Majesty acknowledging, with all humility and thankfulness, the Goodness, Wisdom and power of GOD, in this Signal Act of His mercy to Him and His people, Doth, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, That in all time coming there be a Solemn yearly Commemoration of the same: And for that end, the twenty ninth of May, (which day GOD Almighty hath specially honoured and rendred auspicious to this Kingdom, both by His Majesties Royal Birth; and by His blessed Restauration to His Government) be for ever set apart as a Holy day unto the LORD, and that in all the Churches of the Kingdom, it be employed in publick Prayers, Preaching;

Preaching, Thanksgiving and Praises to God for so transcendent Mercies: And that all Trade, Merchandize, Work, Handy-labour, and other ordinary employments be forborn, and the remaining part of the day spent in such lawfull divertisements as are futeable to so Solemn an occasion. And it is hereby recommended to all Ministers of the Gospel, and to all Sheriffs, Justices of Peace, and other publick Ministers in the several Countreies, and to all Magistrates within Burghs, to be carefull that for this presant year, and in all time coming, the twenty ninth day of May, be accordingly kept and observed within their several Jurisdictions. And for the speedier and more full intimation hereof to all His Majesties Subjects, It is Appointed thir Presents be printed, and published at all the Mercat Crosses of the Royal Burroughs.

XVIII.

Act for the due Observation of the Sabbath-day.

THe Kings Majesty considering, how much it concerns the honour of GOD, that the Sabbath-day be duly observed, and all abuses thereof restrained: And that notwithstanding of several Acts of Parliament made in that behalf, particularly the third Act of the sixth Parliament of King James the sixth of blessed memory, the said day hath been much prophaned by Salmond-fishing, going of Salt-pans, Milnes and Killies, hiring of Shearers, and using of Merchandize on that day and otherwayes. Therefore our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Ratifies and Approves all former Acts of Parliament, made for observation of the Sabbath-day, and against the breakers thereof; And by these presents Inhibits and Discharges all Salmond-fishing, going of Salt-pans, Milns or Killies; all hiring of Shearers, carrying of Loads, keeping of Mercats, or using any sorts of Merchandize on the said day, and all other prophanation thereof whatsoever, under the pains and penalties following; viz. The sum of twenty pounds Scots for the going of ilk Salt-pan, Miln or Kill on the said day, to be paid by the Heritors and possessors thereof; and the sum of ten pounds for ilk Shearer and fisher of Salmond on the said day, the one half thereof to be paid by the Hirers and Conducers, and the other half by the persons hired; and the said sum of ten pounds for every other prophanation of the said Day: And which Fines and Penalties are to be uplifted and disposed of, in manner contained in the Act and Instructions anent the Justices of Peace; and if the Party Offender be not able to pay the penalties foresaid, then to be exemplarily punished in his body, according to the merit of his fault.

XIX.

Act against Swearing and Excessive Drinking.

Our Sovereign Lord, being desirous that all His Subjects within this Kingdom, may live a quiet and peaceable life under His Government, in all godliness and honesty; And in order thereto, having resolved to curb and suppress all sort of sin and wickedness, and especially these abominable and so much abounding sins of Drunkenness and all manner of Cursing and Swearing. Therefore our said Sovereign Lord Ratifies and Approves all Acts of Parliament, made in former times against the said crimes, or either of them. And further Declares, That each person, who shall Blaspheme, Swear or Curse; and whosoever shall Drink into excess, shall be lyable in the pains following, according to the quality of the offenders; viz. Each Nobleman in twenty pounds Scots, each Barron in twenty Merks, each Gentleman, Heritor or Burghs in ten merks, each Yeoman in forty shillings, each Servant in twenty shillings toties quoties, each Minister in the fifth part of his years Stipend: and that the saids Fines and Penalties be uplifted and disposed upon, in manner contained in the Act and Instructions anent the Justices of Peace. And if the party Offender, be not able to pay the Penalties foresaid, then to be exemplarily punished in his body, according to the merit of his fault.

X X.

Act against Cursing and Beating of Parents.

Our Sovereign Lord, and Estates of Parliament, considering how great and atrocious a crime it is, for Children to beat, or curse their Parents; And how the Law of GOD hath pronounced just sentence of death against such, as shall either of these wayes injure either of their Parents. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice of His Estates, Doth hereby Statute and Ordain, That whosoever, Son or Daughter, above the age of sixteen years, not being distracted, shall Beat or Curse either their Father or Mother, shall be put to death without mercy: and such as are within the age of sixteen years, and past the age of pupillarity, to be punished at the arbitrement of the Judge, according to their deservings, that others may hear and fear, and nor do the like.

XXI.

Act against the Crime of Blasphemy.

OUR Sovereign Lord, and the Estates of Parliament considering, that hitherto there hath been no Law in this Kingdom, against the horrible crime of Blasphemy. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice of His said Estates, Doth hereby Statute and Ordain, That whosoever hereafter, not being distracted in his wits, shall rail upon, or curse GOD, or any of the Persons of the blessed Trinity, shall be processed before the chief Justice; and being found guilty, shall be punished with Death. Likewise, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Finds, Statutes and Ordains, That whosoever hereafter shall deny GOD, or any of the persons of the blessed Trinity, and obstinately continue therein, shall be processed, and being found guilty, that they be punished with Death. As also, His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, Declares, That all Persons who have committed the foresaid Crimes since the seventeenth of February, one thousand six hundred and forty nine, shall be proceeded against according to this Act; and Ratifies all by-gone Decrees and judicial Proceedings, against any Person committer of the said Crimes since the foresaid date, which have been pronounced and done against the saids Committers, according to this present Act. And Declares, That the pronouncers and executors of the saids Sentences shall never be questioned therefore, in any manner of way, but are, and shall be, hereby secured, no less then if this Act had been of the foresaid date.

XXII.

Act concerning the several degrees of Casual Homicide.

OUR Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of the Estates of this present Parliament, for removing of all question and doubt that may arise hereafter in Criminal pursutes for Slaughter, Statutes and Ordains, That the cases of Homicide after-following; viz, Casual Homicide, Homicide in lawful defence, and Homicide committed upon Theeves and Robbers breaking houses in the night; or in case of Homicide the time of masterfull Depredation, or in the pursute of denounced or declared Rebels for capital Crimes, or of such who assist and defend the Rebels and masterfull Depredators by Armes, and by force oppose the pursute and apprehending of them, which shall happen to fall out in time coming; nor, any of them, shall not be punished by death: And that notwithstanding of any Laws or Acts of Parliament, or any Practick made heretofore or observed in punishment of Slaughter; but that the Manslayer, in any of the cases aforesaid, be assailed from any Criminal pursute pursued against him for his life, for the said Slaughter, before any Judge Criminal within this Kingdom. Providing always, that in the case of Homicide casual, and of Homicide in defence, notwithstanding that the slayer is by this Act, free from Capital Punishment; Yet it shall be leifum to the Criminal Judge, with advice of the Council, to fine him in his means, to the use of the defuncts wife and bairns, or nearest of kin, or to imprison him. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Declares, that all decisions given conform to this Act, since the thirteenth of February, one thousand six hundred and forty nine years; shall be as sufficient to secure all parties interested, as if this present Act had been of that date: And that all cases to be decided by any Judges of this Kingdom, in relation to casual Homicide, or Homicide in defence, committed at any time heretofore, shall be decided as is above expressed.

XXIII.

Act Ratifying the Priviledges of the Colledge of Justice.

OUR Sovereign Lord considering, that nothing is more necessary and of more universal concernment, then the administration of Justice; and in order thereto, that the Judges, Advocats, Clerks and other Members of the Supream Judiciary; should be faithful, able and qualified persons; and for their encouragement to serve the Countrey in their respective stations and places, and to undergo the great toil, trouble and expence of time, and otherwayes for inabling them for, and during their service therein, It hath been the wisdom and practice of all Princes and Nations, and in special, of His Majesties Royal Progenitots, to grant to them diverse Liberties and Priviledges, as is evident by many Acts of Parliament and Statutes concerning the Priviledges and Immunities of the Colledge of Justice, and Members thereof, Granted, Renewed and Ratified from time to time: Therefore

fore His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Ratifies and Approves all and whatsoever Liberties, Priviledges and Immunities, given and granted by His Majesties Royal Predecessors, to, and in favour of, the said Colledge of Justice, and of the Senators, Advocats, Clerks, Writers to the Signet, and remanent Members of the same, or whercof they have been in use and possession in any time by-gone, together with all Laws, Acts of Parliament, Statutes and Constitutions, made and conceived in their favours; Holding and Declaring this present Ratification to be as sufficient as if all the foresaids Priviledges, Freedoms and Immunities, Acts, Statutes and Grants, of, and concerning the same, were in special and at length exprest herein. And His Majesty with advice and consent foresaid, Ordains and Declares, That the whole Priviledges, Liberties and Immunities foresaid, granted and belonging to the ordinary Lords and Senators of the Colledge of Justice, shall be extended, belong and appertain to, and enjoyed by, the Advocats, Clerks, Writers to the Signet, and remanent Members of the said Colledge of Justice, in all time coming, notwithstanding of whatsoever Act, Custome or Practice to the contrare.

XXIV.

Act concerning Appeairand Heirs, their payment of their Predecessors and their own Debts.

Our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, taking into consideration, that Appeairand Heirs immediately after their Predecessors death, do frequently dispoñe their Estate in whole or in part, in prejudice of their Predecessors lawful Creditors, before their acath come to their knowledge, or before they can do lawful diligence against the saids Appeairand Heirs; and which Dispositions the saids Appeairand Heirs do often make before they be served Heirs and Inieit; or otherwayes, by collusion they suffer their Predecessors Estates to be comprised or adjudged from them for payment of their own proper Debts, real or simulate, without respect to their Predecessors Creditors, And His Majesty, considering how just it is, that every mans own Estate should be first liable to his own Debt, before the Debts contracted by the Appeairand Heirs. Therefore, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Declares, That the Creditors of the Defunct shall be preferred to the Creditors of the Appeairand Heir in time coming, as to the Defuncts Estate; Providing alwayes, that the Defuncts Creditors do diligence against the Appeairand Heir, and the real Estate belonging to the Defunct, within the space of three years after the Defuncts death. And because it were most unreasonable, that the Appeairand Heir, when he is served and retoured Heir, and inieit respective, should for the full space of three years, be bound up from making Rights and Alienations of his Predecessors Estate; and yet it being as unreasonable that he should dispoñ thereupon immediatly or shortly after his Predecessors death, in prejudice of his Predecessors Creditors, he having year and day to advise whether he will enter Heir or not. Therefore it is hereby Declared, That no Right or Disposition made by the said Appeairand Heir, in so far as may prejudice his Predecessors Creditors, shall be valid, unless it be made and granted a full year after the Defuncts death.

XXV.

Act for Denouncing of Excommunicate Persons.

Our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, considering the insolency of Excommunicate Papists and others, who slight the dreadful Sentence of Excommunication, to the dishonour of GOD, and obduring of their own hearts; Doth therefore ratifie and Approve all Acts of Parliament and Acts of Privy Council, standing before the year one thousand six hundred and fourty, against Excommunicate Persons. And Statutes and Ordains, That in time coming, forty dayes being past after the said Sentence of Excommunication, Letters be direct at the instance of His Majesties Advocate, for denouncing all Excommunicate Persons, His Majesties Rebels, and putting them to the Horn, and that by warrand of the Lords of Privy Council or Session: which denunciation being used, by vertue of the saids Letters, at the Mercat Crosse of Edinburgh, and Peir of Leith, is hereby Declared, to be sufficient against them, and for using of Caption thereupon, and taking of the Echeat and Liferent of the Rebels conform to the standing Laws of this Kingdom. Providing alwayes, that before the passing of any such Letters of denunciation, the whole Process and Sentence of Excommunication be exhibite and produced before the Lords of Session, in Session-time, to the end, that they may consider the legality of the Process, and grounds whereupon the Sentence proceeded: and that accordingly they may give forth the saids Letters of denunciation, as they shall think just and reasonable.

XXVI.

Act appointing the Pursuer of the Thief, to have the Goods stolen from him, restored.

Our Sovereign Lord understanding, that when Thieves are taken and execute for Theft, or declared Fugitives, their whole Estate and the goods stolen also, doth fall to His Majesty and to Lords of Regalities, and other Justitiars pretending right to the saids stolen goods. For remed whereof, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That any person having goods or gear stolen from him, and having purstued the stealer thereof, shall have his own goods again, where ever the same can be apprehended: and where the stolen goods cannot be had, the Pursuer of the Thief, shall have the just value of the goods and gear stolen from him, out of the readiest of the Thiefs goods, with the expences waired out by the Pursuer, he alwayes pursuing the Thief, usque ad sententiam; Reserving alwayes to the Sheriff or other Magistrates, and taker of the Thief, the expences waired out by them in taking and putting the Thief to execution.

XXVII.

Act for the Pardon of Penal Statutes.

Our Sovereign Lord considering, that the precise and rigorous exaction of the Pain, Arbitrary and Pecunial, adjected to Penal Statutes heretofore made, would prove a burden to His Majesties Leiges, heavy and unsupportable, it by His Majesties grace and favour they should not be eased and liberate of the same. In consideration whereof, His Majesty, being willing to give ease and relief to His Subjects of the foresaid burden, Hath therefore been graciously pleased, with consent of His Estates of Parliament, to Discharge, freely Pardon and Remit, and by these presents Discharges, freely Pardons and Remits, all Contraveeners of any of the saids Penal Statutes, for all Deeds done by them, contrair to the tenor of the same Statutes, in time by-gone; except only the Statutes concerning the unlawful taking of Usury, Transporting of Silver and Gold, and Slaying of Red and Black Fishes, which are no wayes discharged by this present Act, nor comprehended under the same.

XXVIII.

Act discharging the Quots of Testaments.

Our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, for many weighty considerations moving His Majesty, Statutes and Ordains, That no Quots of Testaments; confirmed since the sixteenth of November, one thousand six hundred and fourty one, and to be confirmed in time coming, shall be exacted from any of His Majesties Leiges by Commissars, Commissar-Clerks, Fiscals, and others whom it effeirs; but prejudice alwayes of the ordinary Fies due to them as accords.

XXIX.

Act for Poynding upon Sheriffs and Commissars Decreets.

Our Sovereign Lord and the Estates of Parliament, considering, That albeit by Act of Parliament, of the date the ninth of July, one thousand six hundred and six years, Letters of Horning are Ordained to be directed by deliverance of the Lords of Session upon Sheriffs, Commissars, and other inferior Judicatories their Decreets, upon the simple Charge therein mentioned: Yet, the Act bears no warrant for Letters of Poynding to be granted by the deliverance foresaid upon these Decreets; whereby the parties interested, obtainers of the Decreets, are oftentimes prejudged of their payment, when these parties, against whom these Decreets are obtained, do sit or remove out of the Shire or Jurisdiction of the Judge before whom the saids Decreets are given. Therefore His Majesty, with advice of the saids Estates, ratifies the Act of Parliament above-mentioned, in the whole heads and points thereof: And for remedy of the prejudice foresaid, Ordains Letters of Poynding to be direct by deliverance of the Lords of Session, at the instance of the Parties interested, upon the saids Sheriffs, Commissars, and other inferior Judges their Decreets contained in the foresaid Act. Sicklike, and in the same manner, as Letters of Horning are appointed by the said Act to pass upon the same Decrees, that thereby the Parties may have real execution, as well as personal upon their Decrees fore-saids. Likeas, His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, Declares, That all execution of Poynd-ing, legally used upon the saids Decrees since the twelfth of June, one thousand six hundred and forty nine years, shall be valid and sufficient; and the Parties, Messengers and others, Executors and ushers thereof, shall never be questioned, nor any Process sustained against them therefore, either Civilly or Criminally, before any Judge whatsoever; But prejudice alwayes to Parties against whom Poynding have been used, upon reduceable or unwarrantable Sentences, to pursue repetition as accords of the Law.

X X X.

Act anent the Fewers and Vassals of Kirk-lands.

Our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of the Estates of this present Parliament, considering, That whereas by the general Surrender of Kirk-lands, and Erections made by the Superiors and Titulars thereof, in favours of His Majesties dearest Father of ever blessed memory; It is specially provided, that the said Superiors and Titulars, notwithstanding their Surrender foresaid, shall have right to the Few-ferms and Duties of the Vassals and Fewers of the said Kirk-lands and Erecctions, till the Kings Majesty make payment to them of the prices of the saids Few-ferms and Duties, modified by the Lords and others of the Commission for Surrenders and Teinds. And sicklike the Fewers and Vassals of the saids Kirk-lands and Ereccions, are obliged by their new Infestments under the great Seal, to pay the saids Few-ferms and Duties to the Kings Majesty and His Successors; and so against reason may appear to be lyable to double payment thereof: It is therefore Statute and Ordained by His Majesty, with consent foresaid, That the saids Fewers and Vassals of Kirk-lands and Ereccions, their Heirs and Successors, shall be obliged to make thankful payment of the saids Few-ferms and Duties contained in their Infestments; and whereof the said Superiors and Titulars have been in possession preceeding the Surrender foresaid, to the saids Superiors and Titulars, their Heirs and Successors, ay and while they get payment of the prizes modified by the saids Lords and others of the Commission fore-said, according to the Act of Parliament, one thousand six hundred and thirty three years. And that Letters of Horning and Poynding shall be granted to that effect, without prejudice alwayes to His Majesty, and His Successors, of the Superiority of the saids Fewers and Vassals surrendred in manner foresaid, and without prejudice to them of their Infestments taken to be holden of His Majesty and His Successors. Likeas it is Declared, That the said Fewers and Vassals of Kirk-lands and Ereccions have been, in bona fide, in payment of the saids Few-ferms and Duties to the saids Superiors and Titulars of all times by-gone, according to the provisions contained in the said general Surrender. It is alwayes provided, that this Act shall not be prejudicial to an Act past by this Parliament in favours of the Earl of Lauderdaill of the Lordship of Musselburgh, of the date the ninth day of April last.

X X X I.

Act concerning the Registration of Comprisings.

Our Sovereign Lord, with consent of the Estates of Parliament, considering, that the Registration of Comprisings, was only established by an Act of Secret Council, and never authorized by any Law, or Act of Parliament, and that the Registration thereof did put the Lieges to unnecessar charges: neither adding to the validity of the Comprisings, nor to the benefit of the Comprisers:
 Hath therefore discharged, and by these presents discharges all Registration of Comprisings, with all Gifts, Acts of Council, and other warrands and Custome whatsoever, granted and observed, at any time heretofore thereanent; and by thir presents Ratifies and approves the Custome observed these many years past; whereby, in place of the said Registration, a short Record of all Comprisings of Lands, Teinds and others, and of the Comprisers names and designations, the Defenders names, the Debts for which the Comprising is deduced, the Messengers and Clerks names, the date of the Executions, the Witnesses names thereto, and of the Superiors of whom the Comprised Lands are holden, hath been made in a Book by the Clerk of Register and his Deputes, at the allowing of the saids Com-prisings, (for which Allowance and Recording, there is only fourty shillings Scots to be paid) and which Custome is very useful and necessary for information of the Lieges. And therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, Ratifies and approves the foresaid Custome, and Ordains all Comprisings formerly deduced and not allowed and recorded in manner above-written, to be brought brought in to the Clerk of Register and his Deputes, within three score dayes after the publication hereof, and all Comprisings to be led and deduced hereafter, to be brought in to the said Clerk of Register and his Deputes, within three score dayes after the date thereof. XXXII.

Act concerning Heritable and Moveable Bonds.

Our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, for many just and reasonable causes moving Him, Statutes and Ordains, That all Contracts and Obligations for Sums of money payable to parties at any time, made and dated since the sixteenth day of November, one thousand six hundred and forty one, or to be made in time coming, containing clauses for payment of Annualrent and Profit, are, and shall be, holden and interpret to be Moveable Bonds, except in these cases following; viz. That they bear an expresse obligation to incest, or that they be conceived in favours of Heirs and Assignes, including Executors, in either of which cases, Ordains the Sums to be Heritable, and to pertain to the Heir; otherwayes to be confirmed by the Executor, and to appertain to the nearest of Kin, and to the Defuncts Executors and Legators, according to the Law and practick of Moveables, Declaring alwayes, that all such Bonds, quoad fiscum, shall remain in the same condition as they were before the said sixteenth of November, one thousand six hundred and forty one, not to fall under the compass of single Escheat, nor shall any part thereof pertain to the Relict, jure relicta, where the Bonds are made to the Husband, nor to the Husband, jure mariti, where the Bonds are made to the Wife, unless the Relict, or Husband, have otherwayes right and interest thereto, Declaring nevertheless, that this provision shall no way prejudice Wife, nor Husband, and their Executors of their respective Titles and interests to the by-gone Annualrents of the saids Bonds, resting before either of their deaths.

XXXIII.

Act for the right Packing of Salmond.

Our Sovereign Lord and Estates of Parliament, understanding, that the Salmond-fishings are one of the principal benefits, whereby Trade is maintained, and Money brought into the Kingdom; And that through the evil ordering thereof, both in the insufficiency of the Barrels, and also in the disloyal packing of the same; not only is the Merchants estate damnified thereby, but also the Nation is dishonoured abroad, and disappointed of what should return thereby. Therefore, Our said Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of the saids Estates, Ratifies and Approves all and sundry Acts of Parliament, Laws and Constitutions of this Realm, made anent Salmond-fishing, and the sufficiency of the Barrels, and loyal packing thereof, with this addition, That the whole Coupers within this Kingdom, make the said Salmond Barrels of good and sufficient new Knappel, for which they shall be answerable, without worm-holes, and white-wood, and of sufficient tightness, for containing the pickle, and sufficient tightness for enduring all kind of stress in the handling; and that the Barrels contain no less then ten Gallons of the Stirling pint, (conform to an Act of His Majesty's Council, of the date at Halbrood-house the fifteenth day of July, on thousand six hundred and nineteen years, which His Majesty with consent foresaid, Ratifies and Approves, in all the Heads, Clauses and Articles thereof) under the pain of five pounds; to be paid by the Couper, for each insufficient Barrel, and escheat of the said Barrel, and that the same be well pinned in the pickle before the packing; and thereafter the said Barrels to be well lighted and double girthed before the transporting thereof to Forraign Nations. And that no Barrel be sooner made and blown, but the Coupers Birt be for thereon, on the rapone-staff thereof, in testimony of the sufficiency of the Tree; and that every Couper be answerable and liable in payment of such loss as happen to be laid on the Fish at the Mercat, if it be found to be in the default of the Couper by the insufficiency of the Tree, or packing, or any other means in the Coupers default, and that they keep right gage, both in the length of the staves, the bilg-girth, the wideness of the head, & deepness of the chine, the Barrel being made, marked, and thrice gene in the packing, shall be marked with the Marking-iron, under a very particular Merchant mark, as use is. And that no Burgh, or any other trading with Salmond, shall presume to counterfeit the Mark or Birn of another Trade, under the pain of confiscation of the Salmond, by and attour the punishment of the parties counterfeiters, at the pleasure of the Judge ordinar; the one half of the said pain to pertain to His Majesty, and the other half to the Burgh so wronged, and ordains the Magistrates within the Burgh to put this Act to execution.

XXXIV.

Act against Clandestine and unlawful Marriages.

OUR Sovereign Lord, and the Estates of this present Parliament, considering how necessary it is, that no Marriage be celebrate, but according to the laudable order and constitution of this Kirk; and by such persons, as are by the Authority of this Kirk warranted to celebrate the same. And that notwithstanding hereof, sundry, either out of disaffection to the Religion presently professed in this Kingdom, or being desirous to eschew the Censures of this Kirk, or to satisfy their promise of Marriage formerly made to others, or to decline the concurrence and consent of their Parents or others having interest, or out of some other unlawful pretext, do procure themselves to be Married, and are Married either in a Clandestine way, contrary to the established order of the Kirk, or by Jesuits, Priests, Deposed or Suspended Ministers, or any other not authorized by this Kirk. Therefore His Majesty, with advice of His saids Estates, Statutes and Ordains, that whatsoever person or persons, shall hereafter Marry or procure themselves to be Married in a Clandestine and inordrly way, or by Jesuits, Priests, or any other not authorized by this Kirk; that they shall be imprisoned for three months, and beside their said imprisonment shall pay, Each Nobleman, one thousand pounds Scots; each Baron and landed Gentleman, one thousand merks; each Gentleman and Burgeis, five hundred pounds; each other person, one hundred merks; and that they shall remain in Prison, ay and while they make payment of these respective penalties above-mentioned, which are hereby ordained, to be applied to Pious uses, within the severall Paroches where the saids persons dwels. And that the Celebrator of such Marriages be banished the kingdom, never to return therein, under the pain of Death. Likewise His Majesty, with advice toresaid, Prohibites and Discharges all men and women, having both their ordinar residence within this kingdom, to get Marriage to themselves with others within the Kingdom of England, or Ireland, without Proclamation of Banns here in Scotland, and against the Order and Constitution of this Church, or kingdom, under the pains following, viz. For each Nobleman so Married, one thousand pounds; for each landed Gentleman, one thousand merks; for each Burgeis, five hundred pounds; and for each other Substantious person, five hundred merks; for an Yeoman, one hundred pounds; for each person of inferior quality, one hundred merks; the one half of the which penalties, shall belong to the Kings Majesty, the other to the Patoch, or Paroches where the Married Parties did reside; and Ordains His Majesties Advocate, and the Procurator of the Kirk, to pursue before the civil Judge, the Parties Contraveeners of this Act, or either part thereof, for payment of the penalties respective above-mentioned; and in case of the poor condition of any man, Married in manner toresaid, Ordains him to be punished with Stocks and Irons: which pains corporal and pecunial, shall no wayes be prejudicial to, or derogat from, the Order and Censures of the Kirks, to be inflicted against the Delinquents.

XXXV.

Act concerning the Election and Charges of the Commissioners from Shires to the Parliament.

THE Kings Majesty considering, That divers debates have formerly occurred, concerning the persons who ought and should have vote in the Election of Commissioners from the severall Shires of this Kingdom to Parliament, and who are capable to be Commissioners to Parliaments, and that it is necessary for the good of His service, that the same be cleared for the future, Doth therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament Statute, Enact and Declare, That beside all Heritors who hold a fourty shillings Land of the Kings Majesty in capite; that also all Heritors, Liferenters and Wodsetters holding of the King, and others who held their Lands formerly of the Bishops or Abbots, and now hold of the King, and whose yearly Rent doth amount to ten Chalders of virtual

virtual or one thousand pounds (all Few Duties being deducted) shall be, and are capable to vote in the Election of Commissioners of Parliaments, and to be elected Commissioners to Parliaments; excepting alwayes from this Act all Noblemen and their Vassals. And it being just, that those who shall be chosen and accordingly shall attend His Majesties and the Kingdoms service in Parliaments, have allowance for their charges; His Majesty doth therefore, with advice foresaid, Modifie and Appoint five pounds Scots of daily allowance to every Commissioner from any Shire, including the first and last dayes of the Parliament, together with eight dayes for their coming, and as much for their return, from the furthest Shires of Caitness and Sutherland; and proportionably at nearest distances; and that the whole Free-holders, Heritors and Liferenters, holding of the King and Prince, shall according to the proportion of their Lands and Rents, lying within the Shire, be lyable and obliged in the payment of the said allowance, excepting Noblemen and their Vassals. For payment of which, all execution of Horning, Poynding and Quartering is to passe, as for raising of the Excise, and that according as the time and dayes of the Parliament shall be attested under the Clerk of Registers hand. And because at this time, some Commissioners of Shires have been put to extraordinary expences in providing of Footmantles for the riding of the Parliament; It is hereby Statute, That the Commissioners shall be relieved of the prices thereof, to be given in under their hands; and that the prices of the Footmantles be raised in the same way and by the same execution, with the daily allowance aforesaid; the Commissioners alwayes, at the rising of each Parliament, making the Footmantles forthcoming to the Shire, to be disposed as they shall think fit.

XXXVI.

Act anent Presentation of Ministers.

Forasmuch as the Kings most Excellent Majesty, considering how necessary it is for the right and orderly administration of GOD's Worship, and the exercises of Religion, and for keeping of His good Subjects within their duties they owe to GOD, to His Majesty, to their Native Countrey, and fellow Subjects, especially at this time after so many confusions and distractions, both among Church-men and others; That more then ordinary care be had in presenting of Ministers to all such Kirks as are, or shall be vacant within this Kingdom; hath given particular Commission under His great Seal, as to all Presentations to all Personages, Vicarages, and other Benefices and Kirks at His Majesties presentation. And as to all other Benefices and Kirks, whereof the presentation belongs to any other Patron or Patrons whatsoever, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all Patrons or Persons whatsoever, who hath, or pretends any right to the Presentations to any Patronages, Vicarages; or other Benefices of Cure, Kirks or modified Stipends; be careful in all time coming, that Presentations to these Benefices, Kirks or Stipends, be granted by them to such persons only, as shall give sufficient evidence of their Piety, Loyalty, Literature and peaceable Disposition; And shall, in presence of the Patron or his Attorney, and of the Sheriff of the Shire, Stewart of the Stewartry, or heretable Bailly or Commissar of the bounds, if it be in the Countrey, and of the Magistrates of the Burroughs within the Burgh, before the granting and their accepting the Presentation, take and subscribe the Oath of Allegiance, the said Sheriff, Stewart, Bailly, Commissar and Magistrates having first taken the Oath themselves. And it is hereby Declared, That if any person who hath not taken the Oath of Allegiance, shall be presented by any Patron, not only shall the Presentation be void and null of it self, but the right of the Patronage, as to that vacancy, shall belong to the Kings Majesty, and the Patrons be reputed disaffected to His Majesties Government, and contemners of His Royal Authority. And Ordains their presents to be printed and published at the Mercat Crosses, that none pretend ignorance:

XXXVII.

Act concerning the Bullion.

Our Sovereign Lord, with advice of the Estates of Parliament, now presently convened by His Majesties special Authority, considering how much the penury and scarcity of His Majesties Coyn here in Scotland, is occasioned by the meanness and smallness of the proportion of Bullion at first imposed, never heretofore considerably augmented; notwithstanding His Majesties Customs have been several times augmented, Enacts Statutes and Ordains, That all Commodities lyable in payment of Bullion, shall pay according to the Rates mentioned in the Alphabet of Bullion inter-following, as the same is now augmented and condescended upon. Which Alphabet of Bullion, His Majesty with advice foresaid, Ordains to be printed and published. And to prevent all abuse and prejudice to the said Mint, that may occur and fall out by the Customers exacting of His Majesties, and His predecessors, their own Coyn from the Merchants exporters of the Commodities lyable in payment of the quantities of Bullion, as is aforesaid, or else exacting so much per cunce of the said Merchant exporter, to the great prejudice and utter destruction of the said Mint, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, that every Farmer, or Customer, within this His Majesties Kingdom, shall by the advice and concurrence of the several Clerks of Cocquer, cause all and every Merchant, (whether Native or Forraigner) exporter of the Commodities lyable in payment of the quantities of Bullion, set down in the aforesaid Alphabet of Bullion condescended upon, and agreed to, as the same is now augmented and Ordained to be printed and published, find sicker Surety and Caution, or give Pledges that he may answer for, that Bullion equivalent in proportion to the quantity of the goods exported, be delivered to the Officers of His Majesties Mint, (and that of Forraign Bullion) either Plate or burnt Silver, twelve Denier fine, and being bales, to be considered by weight and reckoning, and the said Surety, or Pledges, to be taken before the said Merchant receive his Cocquer, Transire or other Warrant whatsoever, for exporting the said goods lyable in payment of the quantities of Bullion, as it is aforesaid; and Prohibites and Discharges all and every of the saids Customers, and Clerks of Cocquet within this Kingdom, to exact or receive any of His Majesties, or His Predecessors, Coyns or any other satisfaction whatsoever; except the said Forraign Bullion at the fineness aforesaid, and that not only under the pain of deprivation of their Offices, but also of punishing their persons, and fining of them in their goods, by the appointment and at the discretion of the Lords of His Majesties Secret Council; and to the effect any such collusion or transaction may be discovered, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, that each person delating or discovering any such collusion, or transaction, as is aforesaid, shall receive and have paid to him, the third part of the value of the Bullion, that was due to have been paid by the Merchant exporter, but prejudice of the certification foresaid. As also, it is Statute and Ordained, That the saids Customers, their Accounts be controlled upon the quantity of Bullion delivered to the saids Officers of His Majesties Mint, according to their Letters of receipt thereof; and what rests not delivered, that the Customers be answerable therefore; and that the saids Customers, grant a convenient time for home-bringing of the said Bullion, correspondent to the distance of the port, at which the goods exported are to be delivered; the longest time not exceeding seven moneths. And in like manner, it is Statute and Ordained, That the Alphabet of Bullion, as the same is now established and appointed to be printed and published, be of full force from the date of thir presents. And that all Commodities exported after the said day, be lyable to the several proportions of Bullion therein contained; notwithstanding of any Act or Acts, made or to be made, in this present Parliament, in favours of any Manufacturies, Companies of Fishing or Trade, or other Acts whatsoever; which are hereby Declared, not to impede the payment of Bullion, augmented in manner foresaid.

Commission and Instructions to the Justices of Peace and Constables.

Our Sovereign Lord, taking to His Royal consideration, how much the appointing of Justices of Peace and Constables within all the Shires of this Kingdom, under the Reign of His Majesties Royal Predecessors, did contribute to the Peace, Quiet and good Government thereof, and to the speedy and impartial execution of Law and Justice to all persons subjected to their jurisdiction and power. Therefore, and for the furtherance of these ends in the future, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth hereby Statute and Ordain, That in all time coming, there shall be Justices of His Majesties Peace appointed within each several Shire of this Kingdom, to be nominated, from time to time, by His Majesty and His Royal Successors: Which Justices of Peace are hereby empowered to administer Justice, and put His Majesties Laws in execution, according to the particular Instructions after-mentioned, viz.

The Justices of Peace at their first sitting, shall take the Oath of Allegiance, and Oath De fidelis administratione: which at first shall be administered to them by the Sheriff or his Depute of ilk respective Shire, or in their absence, by the President and Conveener for the time.

Followeth the Oath of Allegiance.

I For testification of my faithfull Obedience to my most gracious and redoubted Sovereign, Charles, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. Affirm, testify and declare, by this my solemn Oath, that I acknowledge my said Sovereign, only Supream Governour of this Kingdom, over all persons, and in all Causes, and that no Forraign Prince, Power or State, nor Person Civil or Ecclesiastick, hath any Jurisdiction, Power or Superiority over the same: And therefore I do utterly renounce and forsake all Forraign Jurisdictions, Powers and Authorities; and shall at my outmost power, defend, assist and maintain His Majesties Jurisdiction foresaid against all deadly, and shall never decline His Majesties Power nor Jurisdiction; as I shall answer to GOD.

Followeth the Oath De fideli administratione.

I As one of the Commissioners and Justices of Peace, within shires, according to my knowledge, wit and power, shall do equal Right both to rich and poor, conform to the known Statutes and Customs of the Land: and that I shall not be of Council with any person in any quarrel or matter depending before me; and that I shall every Quarter keep the Sessions, or oftner, as I shall be required, not having any just impediment in the contrair, and shall faithfully and truly discharge my duty as a Justice of His Majesties Peace, and shall leave nothing undone that may tend to the preservation of the same: So help me GOD.

The Justices of Peace, in each respective Shire, shall meet and convene together, four times in the year, viz. On the first Tuesday of May, the first Tuesday of August, the last Tuesday of October, and the first Tuesday of March. In which Sessions, they shall administer Justice to the people in things that are within their Jurisdiction, and punish the guilty, for Faults and Crimes done and Committed in the preceding Quarter: and by mutual and conjunct advice, make and rectifie Ordinances for the Fees of Servants, Shearers in Harvest and other Labouring men, appoint Prices for all Handicrafts, elect or continue Constables or other Officers, and dispose of the Fines and Mulcts for Payment of the constables, Clerks and other Officers Fees, and employ the remnant on such necessary and pious uses, as they shall find most expedient; and shall have power to continue the said Sessions, or to adjourn the same to such dayes and place as shall be most convenient.

And one Justice shall have power upon complaint of any person, being threatned and fearing to be wronged, to bind the party complained upon, under such a pecunial sum to keep the Peace, as he shall think fitting: As also commit him until Surety be found by him, the said Complainer always giving his oath before the Justice, that he hath just cause to dread him harm. And albeit no person complain; yet if the Justice be credibly informed of appearance of trouble betwixt any parties, he shall bind them to the peace in manner foresaid, except the parties declare upon their consciences, that neither of them bear any grudge to other: And all such Bonds shall be kept and Recorded by him, and he shall make delivery of the same to the Clerk of the Peace at the next Sessions, to be kept and registrate by him.

If any person being charged to make his appearance before a Justice of Peace, shall refuse or delay without cause, if the party be a Landed Gentleman, whose Rents exceed ren chalders of victual, or one thousand Merks of silver, then the Justice (whose command is contemned) shall inform the same to some of His Majesties Privy Council, to the effect, the party of the quality foresaid may be bettalled and fined for his disobedience; and if the disobeyer be of a meaner degree, the Justice or Peace shall hereby have power to command the next Constable, or in absence of a Constable, his own servant, or any other person having a Warrant in writ subscribed by the said Justice of Peace, with assistance of the Country, to bring any such party before him.

If either the Sheriff or Bailly shall condemn any person in Blood-wyt: or otherways convict him in any pain proper for him to impose, the Justice shall have no power of new to fine that Offender for that offence; but if they shall find him not condignly punished in regard of the offence committed by him, they shall then inform His Majesties Council thereof, that they may take order therewith; and if there be no satisfaction made by the Sheriff or Bailly to the Party offended, the Justices may modifie a reasonable satisfaction to the Party offended, he pursuing therefore before them: And if they find the satisfaction decreed by the Sheriff or Bailly, in favours of the said party offended, not condign, nor answerable to the offence and wrong sustained, then they shall also inform His Majesties Council thereof, that they they may take order therewith as appertaineth.

If either Sheriff or Bailly or their Deputes, by collusion with the Deliquent, shall suffer any person guilty, to be quitted or cleared by an Assize, the Party once declared, is not to be brought further in question before the Justices, but upon their information, the Judges are to be called, censured and severely punished by His Majesties Council.

The saids Justices shall hereby have power to proceed upon all persons committing Riots, and breaking the Kings Peace under the degree of Noblemen, Prelats, Councillors and Senators of the Colledge of Justice, and to punish and fine according to the quality of the Crime, and the Estate of the Offender. And if any of the saids persons, being Charged to compear before the saids Justices, shall disobey, the Summons being indorsed, the lawfull Citation verified, and Fact proven, the Justices shall punish and fine the not compearing, according to the quality of the Crime and Estate of the Offender. And for the more clear determination of the order which shall be kept by the saids Commissioners Commissioners, in the deducing of any such proceſs, Our Sovereign Lord, with advice of His Eſtates, Declareth, That it ſhall be lawfull to the ſaids Juſtices, whenſoever they have any occaſion to move any action againſt Parties, for committing any like Faſt or Riot, to reſter the fiſt Summons to the Parties oaths of verity, failzeing of other lawfull probation; who being perſonally ſummoned by that fiſt Citation, ſhall be holden as conſeſt, and Decreet to be pronouncd againſt him, conſorm to the Libell and Summons. And if he be not perſonally ſummoned by the fiſt Citation, the ſaids Commissioners ſhall be holden to cauſe Summon him of new again, by a ſecond Summons at his dwelling place; which two Citations ſhall be as ſufficient to infer Decreet and Sentence upon the Libell againſt him, as if he were apprehended perſonally. And which Sentence given after the manner and form of probation above-written, His Majeſty, with advice foreſaid, Authorizes and Suſtains as good and lawfull in themſelves. And as concerning theſe Perſons of higher degree, the ſaids Commissioners ſhall uſe all their power for preventing and ſtaying of the Riots, commanding the attempters in His Majeſties Name to ceaſe, and to find Caution for keeping of the Peace, and for their comparance before His Majeſties Council, And if any perſon being charged to find Caution, and reſuſe it, or delay to do the ſame, and in the mean time contraveneth the ſaid Charge, by committing of ſome Deed betwixt the time of the Charge and finding of the Caution, nevertheleſs he ſhall be answerable for the pain, from the date of the Charge, like as if Caution had been then found.

The ſaids Commissioners ſhall put His Majeſties Act of Parliament to due and full execution againſt willful Beggars and Vagabonds, ſolitary and idle Men and Women without Calling or Trade, lurking in Ale-houſes, tyed to no certain ſervices, repute and holden as Vagabonds; and againſt thoſe perſons who are commonly called Egyptians, and they ſhall puniſh and fine their Reſſetters and Setters of houſes to them accordingly, by ſuch competent pains as is proper for them to enjoyn.

The ſaids Commissioners and Juſtices of Peace are hereby authorized and impowered, to give order (as they ſhall think moſt convenient, and with leaſt grief to the Subjects) for mending of all High-ways and Paſſages, to or from any Mercat-town or Sea-port within that Shire, and ſhall call before them all ſuch perſons as ſhall ſtrait theſe Paſſages (or otherways by caſting of Ditches or Fulſies through the ſame) ſhall make theſe High-ways noiſome and troubleſome unto paſſengers, and ſhall puniſh and fine them according to the quality of their offence. And to the effect it may be known of what breadth all common High-ways ſhould be to Mercat-towns, Our Sovereign Lord, With advice foreſaid, Declareth, That the ſame ſhould be of twenty foot of meaſure in breadth at the leaſt, and where any are of larger breadth, they Ordain the ſame ſo to remain unaltered or ſtrained, and that the ſaids Juſtices maintain the ſame, with all other Wayes from any Town in the Paroch to the Paroch Churches, in the eſtate as they are: And where they find any neceſſity of other Wayes from any Town in the Paroch to Paroch Churches, they ſhall inform His Majeſties Secret Council thereof, who ſhall give them (after ſufficient information) their direction thereunto; according whereunto, they ſhall be holden to proceed. And if any perſon reſuſe to conent for mending of High-ways and Paſſages, the ſaids Juſtices ſhall have power to cenſure and puniſh them according to their diſcretion; with proviſion alwayes, that if in their proceedings therein, they uſe ſuch ſeverity or rigour as may move juſt complaints againſt them, they ſhall be cenſured therefore by His Majeſties Secret Council as appertaineth.

The ſaids Juſtices ſhall put His Majeſties Acts of Parliament to execution, againſt Cutters and Destroyers of Planting, Green-Wood, Orchards, Gardens, Haynings, Breakers of Dove-houſes and Cunnighares, Stealers of Bees and Bee-hives, uſers of unlawfull Games with Setting Dogs, Slayers of red and black Fiſhes and Smolts, in forbidden time, Foulers fouling in other mens Lands, Makers of Moorburn and Moſſeburn, Setters of Crooes and Nets in Waters and Dames, having, and keeping of Crooes and Yairs in forbidden time, and ſhall proceed againſt them accordingly. And tot their better warning and to proceed in the premiſſes, it is His Highneſſe pleaſure, that Commiſſions be granted to the ſaids Juſtices of Peace, to try and puniſh the violators of the ſaids Acts; in the tryal whereof they ſhall proceed by witneſſes, or by oath of Party; and the puniſhment to be inflicted by them, ſhall be a pecuniial ſum, answerable to the circumſtance of the offence, and quality of the offenders; with ſpecial proviſion, that their Cenſures and Punishments ſhall extend againſt none, but thoſe againſt whom by privilege of their Inſtructions they may lawfully proceed. And alſo with proviſion, that the ſaids Commiſſions be not extended to any perſons, who ſhall be attreſted and convened for the ſaids crimes, before any other ordinary Judge. It is alſo provided, that the ordinance and power contained in this Article, ſhall no wayes be prejudicial to any other Commiſſions, or Rights, whatſoever, granted to other parties, whereby they have power to proceed and cenſure the crimes and offences above-written.

These

Item, They shall inform the Kings Majesties Council, and His Highnesses Treasurer, or Advocat, at the least once every year, of Forestallers and Regraters of Meercats, that order may be taken with them, conform to the Acts of Parliament.

It shall not be lesse to any Hoastlar, to resset any Masterles Men and Rebels at the Horn, any Vagabonds, or other persons guilty of known Crimes, or using Stouth and Reaf; under the pains underwritten: To wit, fourty shillings to be incurred by them for the first fault, four pounds for the second, and ten merks for the third; together with the losing the liberty of Brewing: The incurreurs of the which pains, shall be punished according to the order foresaid, by the Barrons and Masters of the ground whereupon the Hoastlar dwelleth, within the space of fifteen dayes after the committing of the Fact; and if the saids Barrons and Heritors, neglect to do the same, within the said space, it shall be lawful to the saids Justices, to pursue and fine the Delinquents in their Courts, according to the pains foresaid, and to uplift the same from them; without prejudice alwayes of whatsoever Acts, made against the saids Hoastlars in the Barron Court Books, under whom they dwell, bearing any higher pain, then as is set down in this above-written Act, and also without prejudice of all Action, Criminal or Civil, competent of the Law, against the saids Hoastlars, in case they be under the danger thereof, which shall not be taken away by any punishment, set down, and to be inflicted, conform to this Act.

Item, They shall inform the Kings Treasurer and Advocat, of breakers and contraveeners of the Acts of Parliament, made against Malt-makers, that the transgressors and contraveeners thereof may be punished, conform to the Tenor of the said Acts.

They shall set down order in the Countrey, for Governance in time of Plague, and shall punish severly the disobeyers of the order appointed by them according to the quality of the Delinquent.

They shall appoint at the Quarter Sessions to be kept in August and February, the ordinary Hire and Wages of Labourers, Work-men and Servants, and who shall refuse to serve upon the price set down by them, shall be imprisoned, and further Punished at their discretion: and to the effect Servants may be the more willing to obey the Ordinances to be made by the saids Justices, for the saids Fees, the saids Justices shall have power to decern, and compel the Master to make payment of the Fees, appointed by their Ordinance, in case the Servants please rather to pursue for the same before them then any other Judge.

The saids Justices shall take notice in all Sherifffdoms, where there are any Goals, and Prison-houses, within any Burgh, that the same be kept up and not suffered to decay or become ruinous: and if there be any Shire, where there is not any Goal or Prison-house, they shall inform His Majesties Council thereof, that they may appoint and give order for building of one within the Head Burgh of the Shire, and according to the directions to be given thereanent, the Justices shall be holden to proceed.

And because there be a great many of Prisoners apprehended and committed, who having no means of their own for their maintainance and entertainment, will otherways famish and strave before they can come to their tryal, who not the lesse, in regard of the crimes committed, can no wayes be put under surety, or otherways, in faults of lesse consequence, are unable to find sufficient Caution to be made forth coming and answerable at the next Session; Therefore it shall be lawful to the saids Commissioners and Justices, at their Quarter Session, to rate every Paroch for a weekly proportion, for the entertainment of those poor Prisoners; providing they do not exceed the sum of five shillings Scots money at the most, nor under one shilling at the least; which sum shall be uplifted for that use by the Minister or Reader who shall serve at every Paroch, from such Deacons, who shall be appointed to collect the same; and the saids sums to be delivered by the Constable of the Paroch, at the Quarter Sessions, in presence of the whole Bench then convened, to such persons as the saids Justices shall trust therewith, and who accordingly, shall make due account in paying the Jaylor's such rates as shall be allowed for the poor Prisoners, and making the rest forth coming for such use and intent of the like nature, as the saids Justices shall appoint.

All Magistrates of Burghs, and keepers of any Goals or Prisons, shall receive into their Prisons, all such persons as either shall be brought by Constables, or sent unto them by warrands under the hand of any one Justice of Peace, the saids Justices causing satisfe for their entertainment; and if any Magistrates, or their Jaylor's, suffer any persons, committed by the Justices to their Prisons, to escape, they shall be condignly punished therefore, at the discretion of His Majesties Council.

Item, Our Sovereign Lord, with advice foresaid, Ordains the saids Commissioners, to set a price upon Crafts-mens work, and upon the Ordinars of Penny-Bridals, together with the price of Shearers Fees, and to punish the contraveeners, as appertaineth.

They shall cause sufficient single and double Ale to be brewed in every Shire, and shall appoint Visitors to that effect, with consent of the Barron and Over-lord of the ground: They shall set down Acts against notorious and common Drunkards, and impose sums upon the Contraveeners, according to their qualities and deserts.

Our Sovereign Lord, with advice foresaid, Declareth, That Three Justices of Peace shall be a full number and Session, to decide in matters occurring betwixt the four Quarter Sessions.

Also Declares, that no Letters of Caption ought to be granted against the saids Justices, for apprehending of Rebels, except they be found subject to do the same, by possessing of such other Offices and places, to the which the obedience and putting to execution or any such charges doth belong.

And because there is sensible prejudice seen and felt through many parts of the Kingdome, by reason of diversity of Measures and Weights used in the same. Therefore Our Sovereign Lord, with advice foresaid, for removing of all abuses, which may ensue in any time to come thereby, Hath found expedient, and by this Decree and Statute of Parliament, Decerns, Statutes and Ordains, That there shall be but one just Measure and Weight through all the parts of the Kingdom, which shall universally serve all His Highnes's Lieges, by the which they shall sell and buy, and receive, and give out in all times to come; whch Measure, His Majesty with advice foresaid, finds should be that Measure of Lincolne, which is now commonly used and which hath been used most customably, through the greatest parts of this Kingdom these many years by-past. And for setting a persit Order, whereby all the Measures that are now used may be reduced to the conformity of the saids Measures now authorized; and for making of proportion answerable betwixt the lesser Measure and Weights, and the greatest. His Majesty with advice foresaid, hath granted full Power and Commission to Alexander Fraser of Phallorth, Sir Gilbert Ramsay of Balmoryn, William Scot of Ardrors, John Murray of Toucheadam, Sir Robert Hepburn of Keith, James Gresham of Saint Leonards, Sir Andrew Ramsay, Sir Robert Murray, Sir Alexander Wedderburn, John Bell, William Cunningham, Andrew Glen, Sir William Thomson. Whom, or any seven of them, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Ordains to meet and convene together, at such time and place as they shall thinke expedient, and to consult and advise together, and to appoint and determine upon the most convenient means, how the said Measures and Weights may be reduced to the conformity foresaid; and after they have ripely advised therewith, and given forth their determination thereanent, they shall deliver the same, and whole course of their proceedings, in the said matter to the Commissioners and Justices of Peace, and to the Deans of Gild of the Head Burghs of the Shires, who shall be holden carefully to do their diligence to see the Measure foresaid, now appointed, to have course through all parts, as well Burgh as Landwart. And that there may be one constant conformity in Head Burgh and Land, Our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent foresaid, Ordains, that the saids Justices of Peace in Landwart, take tryal of the Measures and Weights used in Burgh, and to take a Note from the Magistrates, and Deans of Gild of every Town, of the Weights and Measures, and of the number thereof, which the saids Magistrates and Deans of Gild in Burgh, shall be holden to shew, declare and give up to them, to the effect the saids Justices to Landwart, may confer the same with the standard now authorized; and where they find any disconformity in the same, from the saids Standard, the saids Justices shall inform the Kings Majesties Council thereof, that they may take order therewith as appertaineth: For it is expressly provided by these presents, that the saids Magistrates in Burgh, shall not be permitted to have or use more Measures within Towns, then the number to be presented by them, and given up in Writ to the saids Justices to Landwart, as said is: this alwayes being respected, That if the saids Magistrates within Burgh, find any necessity for having any more Measures then was given up and used by them before, it shall be licenced to them to make more Measures, they being answerable and conform to the Standard; and making the saids Justices to Landwart foreseen and acquaint therewith, and declaring the number of the Measures, whereof they find the necessity of use.

The saids Justices shall be holden to give command and direction to their Constables, to apprehend any such person, who shall be found contemptuously to have disobeyed the Censures of the Church, they being lawfully required to do the same.

The saids Justices of Peace, as well Burgh as Land, shall convene and be present at the Quarter Sessions of the Shire where the Burgh and Land lyeth, give their Oath to the Bench at their admission, make their Record, and make payment of the Fines intromitted with by them as Justices of Peace of that Shire, to their Collector.

They shall appoint a sufficient Collector for uplifting the Fines and Penalties, which they have power, to impose upon an Offender, and are to take Caution of him for making due accomt.

They shall have, during the time of Sessions, for every day of their abode (so it do not exceed the number of three dayes at the most at one time) allowed to every one of them, forty shillings Scots money, daily to be paid and uplifted by the Collector of the Fines; but neither Earl, Lord, Bishop, Privy Counciler, or Sessioner, shall have any allowance; and all such Justices as have the benefit of that allowance, and shall be absent from every ordinary Quarter Sessions, or otherwise when he is required lawfully by the Custos Rotulorum to any particular Meeting, shall incur the penalty of forty pounds Scots money, not being lawfully excused, and the excuse allowed by the rest of the Justices there assembled.

The Lords of Session shall direct general and summar Charges of Horning and Poynding, at the instance of the Collector appointed in every Countrey for ingathering all Fines and Penalties

Quorum

Measures & Weights

Dean of Guild to see if Measures be lawfully used as well in Burgh as Landwart whatsoever intred, upon a simple Charge of fifteen dayes; and no Suspension shall be granted thereof, but upon consignation of the fums contained in the Sentences, and by finding Caution for payment of the Charges at the modification of the saids Lords.

The saids Commissioners, at the end of every Quarter Sessions, shall send to His Majesties Council, a Catalogue of all such persons as they have either committed, or otherways put under surty, with a short Abbreviate of the cause thereof; to the effect, that thereupon the Council, as they shall think expedient, may return to them against their next Session, or the Custos Rotulorum in the mean time, their further directions.

The saids Justices shall put in execution, all Acts of Parliament made for punishing all persons whatsoever, who shall Curse or prophantly Swear, or shall be Mockers or Reproachers of Piety, or the exercise thereof; and shall require and levy upon every Offender, the several penalties following, viz. Of a Nobleman twenty pounds: each Barron twenty merks; each Gentleman, Heritor or Burges, ten merks; each Yeoman fourty shillings; each Servant twenty shillings, Scots money; each Minister in the fifth part of his years Stipend; without prejudice to other proceedings against any such Minister for the same. And in any of all the cases before specified in this Instruction, the saids Justices shall put in execution all such Laws, as for Corporal punishments, have any provisions mentioned in them for such cases: And in case of the inabilities of the parties Delinquents to pay the sum mentioned in this Instruction, the saids Justices shall put in execution such Laws, as for Corporal punishments, have any provision mentioned in them for such cases; and that the Wives Delinquents shall be punished according to the quality of their respective Husbands, and that their Husbands be lyable for the payment of their Wives Fines respectively, in manner above-mentioned, toties quoties for each fault: And all others whatsoever, not particularly herein nominat, are to pay in proportion to their respective qualities and degrees. And also, the saids Justices are to put in execution, the Acts of Parliament made for the punishing of all persons that shall be found guilty of the sin of Fornication; and that they levy or cause to be levied, the several pecunial fums therein mentioned, viz. For each Nobleman, for the first fault four hundred pounds; each Barron two hundred pounds; each other Gentleman and Burges one hundred pounds; every other person of inferiour quality ten pounds, Scots money; and that these penalties shall be doubled toties quoties, according to the relapses and degrees of the Offence, and quality of the Offenders. And that the said penalties shall be levied, not only of the Man, but also of the Woman, according to her quality, and the degree of her offence, the one without prejudice of the other. All and sundry which penalties so to be levied, Are to be disposed of as followeth; To wit, one half to pious uses in the same Paroch where the Offenders live, or the Offence hath been committed, and the other half to be divided in two equal parts, one part whereof to be given to the Informer and Prosecutor, and out of the other half, to satisfie the Constable, or other persons who shall be employed for bringing the person accused to Justice, and the remainder to be disposed to pious uses, or to satisfie the Constables for their travel and service in other parts of their office, according as the Justices shall think fit.

That the Justices shall put the Acts of Parliament in execution; for the punishing of all persons found guilty of the sin of Drunkenness or excessive Drinking, especially under the names of Healtys, or haunting Taverns or Ale-houses after ten of the Clock at night, or at any time of the day, except in time of travel; or for ordinary refreshments. As also against the keepers of the Taverns or Ale-houses, that shall sell the drink unto them: Which penalties in the saids several Acts contained, the saids Justices are to levy, or cause to be levied, upon the saids Delinquents; and the saids penalties are to be disposed of by the saids Justices, in like manner as aforesaid.

The saids Justices shall put in execution, all Acts of Parliament, made against such persons as shall Profane the Lords-day, and require or levy the penalties therein contained: which penalties foresaid, the saids Justices are to dispose of, in like manner as aforesaid.

And at what time and whensoever one shall accuse another person or persons to be guilty of Treason, Murder or other Felony, Blasphemy, Incest, or any other hainous Crimes; in such cases the said Justice or Justices, shall forthwith cause such person or persons to be apprehended, and after inquiry made in the cause, the saids Justice or Justices, if they find cause, shall commit the Offender to prison; or take sufficient Bail, if the case by the Law be bailable; and shall take the information of the Party accusing upon oath, and bind him to Prosecute, and shall take the testimony or deposition of the Witnesses likewise upon oath, and bind them to give in evidence, and shall also take the Examination of the Party accused. All which Recognizances, Informations, Depositions and Examinations, the said Justice or Justices, shall certifie to the next Quarter Sessions, Assizes or Criminal Courts respectively, to the end the Justice may proceed against them according to the Law.

And if any Nobleman, Barron or Bail, or any in their names, having power, shall accuse the right of jurisdiction to proceed against any Delinquent apprehended by a Constable for any Capital crime: Then, and in that case, any of the Justices shall receive security of the said Party, who required the Defender to be delivered to him, that justice shall be duly ministered, and then shall cause delivery of the said person to be made to him; and the said Justice of peace, at the next Session, shall certify the whole matter to the Bench; to the effect they may enquire, whether justice hath been accordingly ministered, and if any fault be found, to advertise His Majesties Council, that order may be taken therewith.

The saids Justices shall twice in the year, at the first of December and the first of June, take up a list of the Poor in every Paroch within Burgh or Land; into which number there shall no person be received, who are any way able to gain their own living; and to the effect these Poor may no longer be necessitate to seek their living, with such hardship and difficulty by scandalous vaging as hitherto they have been in use of, the Justices shall appoint two or more persons of good fame and quality in every Paroch, to be Overseers for the Poor in each Paroch aforesaid, and to authorize the saids Overseers to make due tryal and examination of the condition and number of such Poor, Aged, Sick, Lame and impotent inhabitants of the said Paroch, who (of themselves) have not to maintain them, nor are able to work for their living, as also of all Orphans and other poor Children within the said Paroch, who are left destitute of all help: and the saids Overseers are to list and inroll all such persons, and to provide them such a convenient House for their dwelling, either a part or together, as they shall judge requisite; and upon consideration had, what the necessary maintenance will extend to weekly, the saids Overseers are to call for the Collections of the said Paroch, or other Sums appointed for the maintenance of the poor thereof; and the persons who have the saids sums in their hands, are hereby required to deliver the same to the saids Overseers; and their Receipts under their hands, shall be their sufficient Discharge: which sum so received, the Overseers, are to dispose proportionably to the several poor people aforesaid, according as they shall find their necessities to require, and the saids Overseers are to take due tryal of the good behaviour and carriage of the poor persons, listed and inrolled as aforesaid, that if any of them being so provided, shall go abroad to beg, or otherways miscarry themselves, or shall refuse, being able, to work any manner of work that they are able to perform; in such cases, the said Overseers are to acquaint the said Justices therewith, who shall appoint such punishments for the first fault, as in their judgements they shall find requisite; and if they shall continue in such miscarriages, they are to be holden and repute as Vagabonds, and so to be proceeded against according to the Law in that case provided. And to the end that there may be an exact performance of the premises, the saids Justices are hereby required, to call before them the saids Overseers once in every six months, or oftner if they shall think expedient, to give an account upon Oath of the whole Sums received by them, and to produce the Rolls of the said poor, together with an Account of what money they have received any otherways, for the use of the said poor; and after a due consideration of the charge, together with the Discharge thereof, to approve, allow, or disallow the same, as shall be found just, and the said Justices are to take due tryal and examination how the said Overseers have discharged their Trust; and in case of refusal of any of the saids Overseers, nominat and elected as aforesaid, to accept the said office, or having accepted, shall be found negligent therein, or shall refuse or delay to give an account of their intrusions, when required as aforesaid, or to deliver what money shall be found resting in their hands, undisposed of at the end of the year, unto such new Overseers as shall be appointed: in such cases the offenders shall incur the penalty of twenty pounds Scots, to the use of the Poor, and suffer further Censure, at the said Justices, at their Quarter Sessions, upon consideration had of their fault, shall see meet to impose.

And further, the saids Justices are hereby empowered and commanded, to call for an account from these who took upon them to exerce that place and office, during the late Usurpation, of all Fines, Penalties and others, raised, exacted or uplifted of any persons, and to ordain them to deliver and make payment to them of what hath not been by sufficient order disposed of: in any case of any difference arising thereupon, that the Justices consult His Majesties Council, who shall give their orders therein.

Constables.

Our Sovereign Lord, with advice of His Estates, findes and Declares, that the Constables are to be made choise of, by the Commissioners and Justices of Peace, in their Quarter Sessions, throughout the whole Countrey, two at least in every Paroch, or more, according to their discretion, having consideration of the quality thereof; In great Towns likewise, not being Cities nor free Burghs, they are to appoint a number of Constables proportionably to the greatness thereof; but in all Burghs Regall, and free Cities, the Constables are to be chosen by the Magistrates of the same; and they are to endure, and to be changed, from six to six months.

And who shall refuse to accept the Charge, and not to give his Oath for dutifull execution thereof, shall be imprisoned, and fined at the discretion of the Justices of Peace at their next sitting.

Followeth the Oath to be taken by the Constables.

I Do swear, that I shall faithfully and truly discharge the Office of Constabulary, within the Paroch of, &c. induring the time appointed to me, and shall not for favour, respect, or fear of any man, forbear to do what becometh me in the said Office: and above all things, I shall regard the keeping and preserving, of the Kings Majesties Peace, and shall at every Quarter Session and meeting of Justices, give true and due information of any breach which hath been made of His Majesties Peace, within the bounds of my Commandment; and shall no way hide, cover, nor conceal the same, nor any of the proofs and evidences which I can give for the clearing and proving thereof: So help me GOD.

All the Constables, or at least one of every Paroch intrusted with power to answer for the rest within the said Paroch, shall attend at every Quarter Session; their to give information of all such breaches of the Peace, and other misdemeanors as have happened within their bounds, since the preceding Sessions, and have come to their knowledge; and shall no way hide, cover, nor conceal the same, nor any of the proofs and evidences which they can give for the clearing and proving thereof; and to receive from the said Justices at the end of the Session, such order and direction, as they shall enjoyn and appoint.

Every Constable, in their respective Patoches, shall apprehend any suspicious persons, who are night walkers, and cannot give a good account of themselves, and carry them to the next Justices of Peace, to find Caution for their good behaviour, or otherwise be Committed to Prison; and the said Constable, or Constables, shall stay and arrest all Vagabonds, sturdy Beggars and Egyptians, and carry them before some Justice of Peace, who shall take order for their committing to Prison, or other punishments, according to the Statutes of Parliament.

Every Constable, in their respective Paroches, shall arrest all idle persons, whom they know to have no means to live upon, and will not betake themselves to any Labour, Trade or Occupation; and shall carry them before some Justices of Peace, who after examination shall either commit them to Prison, or take surety of them for their appearance at the next Quarter Session.

All Constables in their respective Paroches, shall apprehend every person or persons, that shall be guilty and culpable of Slaughter, Murther, Theft or any other culpable crime whatsoever, and shall require his Neighbours to assist for safe conveying of such person or persons, to the next Justice of Peace who shall commit him or them, to take Surety according to the Instructions given to the Justice of Peace in such like cases. And if any person or persons, shall refuse or delay to assist the said Constables, in executing his or their offices, such persons, for refusing or delaying, shall be imprisoned, or otherwise punished by the said Justices at their Sessions.

All Constables shall arrest any person not being in His Majesties service, who shall be found wearing of Hagbuts, Guns or Pistols in any sort, and shall carry them before some Justice of Peace, who is either to take security for their appearance the next Quarter Session, or commit them prisoners till they do the same, unless they be Licenced from the Council, or some empowered from them to give such Licences.

Upon the appearance of any Fray or Stir betwixt parties, the Constable shall require the assistance of his Neighbours, for fundering of the parties; and if there be any harm done to the Constable, or any of the Assistance, by them who made the Fray, they shall be punished by the Justices at the next Session.

When any person or persons, have made a Fray, and then flee to an house; The Constable or Constables may follow to the house, to open the doors; which if he or she shall refuse, he shall take notice of the Master or Keeper of the house, and require witnesses thereon; and albeit the Delinquent shall flee further, without the bounds of the Constables charge, yet may the Constable follow and apprehend him in a fresh pursuit, and crave concurrence of the Countrey for that effect.

The Constables in every Paroch, shall execute all such Precepts and Warrantands as they shall from time to time receive from the Justices of the Peace.

And that the saids Constables may have satisfaction for their travels and pains, Our Sovereign Lord, with advice foresaid, Ordains the saids Justices to give up particular Notes in writ, to the Auditors of His Majesties Exchequer, of the Fines in-brought to them, that out thereof, such measure and satisfaction may be appointed and given to the saids Constables; and also to the Clerks of the Peace as may recompence their travels; wherein if it shall be found, that the saids Fines shall not be sufficient, the saids Lords of His Highness Chequer, shall appoint such further satisfaction to them, as in their discretion they shall think their labours and diligence do deserve, and cause them be paid of of the same. And notwithstanding of this above-written Act, and all the particulars foresaid, contained in the same, Our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of His saids Estates, Statutes Decerns and Declares, That the erection of the saids Commissioners and Justices of Peace, and grant or Jurisdiction and Privileges to them, and the making or approbation of the particular Acts above-written, introduced in their favours, or any thing therein contained, shall not be in any sort derogatory or prejudicial to the Rights, Privileges and Liberties, granted and bestowed by His Majesty or His Highness Royal Predecessors of before, to any of His Majesties Subjects, of whatsoever estate or quality from the highest to the lowest: But Declares, that the saids Rights, Privileges and Liberties shall remain in their own integrity, safe, intire, unhurt or unprejudged by the Premises, or any thing exprest in the saids Articles and every one of them, and are holden as especially relieved and excepted out of the same.

And lest this above-written Reservation, should seem altogether to destroy the power granted to the saids Justices, or should beget controversie betwixt them and any other having right and liberty of Jurisdiction as said is, Our Sovereign Lord, with advice foresaid, for removing of all question, which may arise betwixt them thereanent, Declares, That it shall not be lawfull nor permitted to the saids Justices, to make any Citation of Parties before their Courts, till the expiring of the space of fifteen dayes after the Committing of the Fact for the which the Committer is to be conveyed: At the compleat out-running of the which space, if any having Power and Jurisdiction as said is, hath omitted and neglected to use and exerce the Privilege and Liberty of their Right and Power; it shall then be lawfull to the saids Justices to make Citation, and to Proceed against the Parties, according to the Power and Authority given to them by His Highness, with advice foresaid and conform to the particular Articles above-written in all points, and no otherways.

If any Party complain to a Constable that he is threatened by another, then shall the Constable apprehend the Threatner and carry him with the party Complainer before the next Justice of Peace, and if he refuse to go, then shall he carry him to Prison.

Which all and sundry the premises, Our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent foresaid, Ratifies and Approves in all points, in manner as the same proports. And gives unto them the strength and force of Acts and Ordinances of Parliament, and Ordains execution to pass upon the same as effects.

XXXIX.

Act for the Fishing, and Erecting of Companies for Promoving of the same.

Our Sovereign Lord, considering the best and readiest means for improving the benefit and advantages which properly belong unto Him, by the Fishes which are, or may be taken within the Seas, Channels, Firths and Lochs; adjacent and surrounding this His ancient Kingdom. And perceiving the same may be of great advantage many wayes, especially in that the same Trade will not only be a Nursery for Sea-faring men, and a speedy occasion of building Ships for His Majesties and His Subjects use, both in Peace and War; But likewise will set many poor and idle persons a work, and furnish the materials of a great native Export, for the continual enriching of His Majesties Kingdoms by a sure foundation of Trade and Commerce. For which ends, and that the said Trade of Fishing may be the more effectually advanced and promoted within this His Majesties ancient Kingdom, His Sacred Majesty, with consent of His Estates now convened in this present Parliament, hath Erected, and by the tenour hereof Erects, Creates and Establishes, particular Societies and Companies of His Majesties own free born naturalized Inhabitants in Scotland; and of all others who shall be taken and inrolled in any of the same Companies and Societies, and admitted to the privileges thereof, and shall enter themselves in the said Societies within any Shire or Burgh of this said Kingdom, one or more, betwixt and the . . . day of . . . as the first modern Societies and Companies to the effect after-specified, Constituting and Creating such persons who shall enter themselves, and their Successors, in a Body and Incorporation politick, to exerce the Trade under-written. And Ordains that none be accepted therein, except he who shall enter the sum of five hundred merks Scots, at least, of Stock, in the said Society. And Wils and Grants; that whosoever are of the foresaid Societies or Companies to be Constitute, their Heirs or Assignes, shall enjoy the yearly benefit of the Stock to be given by them, in all time after the in-giving thereof; but to have no power to uplift the Stock, except by consent of the Company or Council thereof after-specified. Granting and Committing, likeas His Majesty, by the tenour hercof, Gives, Grants and Commits, to the saids Companies and Societies so to be Constitute, and to all such whom they or their Successors shall admit or receive therein, full power to take and fish, Herring and White-fish, in all and sundry Seas, Channels Firths, Rivers, Floods, Lakes, and Lochs of this His Majesties said ancient Kingdom of Scotland, and Isles thereunto belonging, whersoever Herring or White-fish are, or may be taken and to bring in and disburthen the saids Herring and other White-fishes, to salt and sundry Ports, Harbours, Shoars, & to lay the same on the Land, & to pickle them with Salt, and to dry; and load the same in Barrells and Puncheons; and for conservation of the saids Herring and Fishes, to build Houses and little Cottages, and other things necessary for the use of the said fishing-trade, in whatsoever places shall be convenient, upon the payment of the allowance underwritten, unto the Lord or Master of the ground, or otherwise, to sell, use and dispose upon the saids Herrings and other

Fishes, to the Inhabitants, to keep and conserve the same in their Ships and Boats, and to make and prepare them therein, and to carry and transport the same to forraign parts beyond Seas, in Ships and other Vessels belonging to them, or His Majesties other Subjects; and to sell, use and dispose thereupon, to such who shall be in friendship and amity with His Majesty and His Successors. With power also to the saids Companies and Societies respective, to elect and make choice of such of their own number as they shall think fit, for making and framing of Laws, Statutes and Rules, for the regulating, managing and carrying on of the said Trade of Fishing (the saids Laws being always approved and allowed by the Council of Trade) and to punish transgressors accordingly. And that none be admitted to be Councillors of the saids Societies, except such who shall enter of Stock the Sum of one thousand merks money foresaid, and that they be Scots-men, or naturalized Strangers, and Residents within the said Kingdom. And to the which Council, so to be Nominate and Constitute, the said Companies respective shall submit, and to all their Acts, Statutes and Rules, especially, but prejudice of the generality foresaid, to the particular Rules under-written. To wit; First, That none after the creating and setting of the said Company or Society, may enter or come in but by consent of the Company or the Council thereof, after the said day of next, except they be appointed to be intolland taken in by the Council of Trade, to whom any person, in case of execution, may make his Address. Secondly, That the return from Forraign places upon the Stock, may be all sold in free Burghs and to free Burghesses within this Kingdom, by the saids Companies or any of them or their Factors, without any previous offer to the Burgh; providing they do not retail by selling less quantities nor five Tun of Wine, or the equivalent in value in other Commodities; and if the Import and Return shall be of less quantities, then and in that case these Commodities shall only be sold in whole sale, without any retail whatsoever. Thirdly, That no Herring or White-fish taken by Scots-men in the said Kingdom or Isles thereto belonging, be sold, fresh or salt, to any but to Natives, except by the Companies respective: And that no Stranger unnaturalized, shall have any liberty to make and prepare Herrings or White-fish upon the Land, or to make Booths for that effect, under the pain of confiscation of what shall be seized upon, and the double thereof to be exacted of the Seller, except they be free of one of the Companies foresaid. With power also to the said Council, to use and have a Seal and Gage for ilk Company respective, wherewith all their Barrels or Puncheons may be marked, and that ilk Barrel of green fish contain twelve gallons, which is to be the ordinar Gage betwixt Buyer and Seller. And also to make use of, and employ, all and sundry Tolbooths and Warding-houses, where necessity requires, for holding of Courts, warding or punishing of transgressors, the Burghs being always free of the charges of the Prisoners; and further, to depute such of their number as they think fit concerning all businesses and affairs, and to cognosce and determine in all questions and debates relating to the said Trade of Fishing; and to cause execute such Decrets and Sentences as shall be pronounced thereupon: and for that effect, to make choice of Officers and Servants, and to administer Oaths to them, and amongst themselves, for the good of the Trade; and if need be, with power to the said Council, to design certain Judges under them in convenient places, to administer Justice in the matter of the Trade of Fishing allanely. And Our Sovereign Lord, being most willing to cherish and encourage the foresaid Societies and Companies, in the said Trade, hath out of His Innate Beneficence and Royal Bounty, Ordained; and by the tenour hereof Decerns and Ordains, that Salt, Cordage, Hemp, Cork, Pitch, Tar, Clapboard, Knapple, Skew-hoops, and Holland Nets, imported for the Trade of Fishing foresaid, by the foresaid Companies respective, is, and shall be, free of any Customs or other Imposition whatsoever; and that the Herring and White-fish taken, made or prepared therewith, are and shall be free of any manner of Taxation or burden in the exportation of the same. And also, that all Strangers Fishers, who shall repair to this His Majesties ancient Kingdom, and will come and make their residence within the same, shall be naturalized by His Majesty, upon the desire and application of any of the saids Councils, and shall be entered Burghesses in any City where they shall reside, and shall be freed of all manner of exaction, for the space of seven years next after their arrival. And further His Majesty hath Released and Discharged, and by the tenor hereof simpliciter Releases and Discharges, the Teind Herring and Teind Fish, of all such Herring and Fish, which shall be taken by the Boats and Fishers of the saids Companies respective, or such who shall be hired by them, in all time hereafter. And also, Exoners and Discharges the Excise Herring due to His Majesty (except the Herring of Dumbar) for all the dayes, space, years and terms of nine years, next after the date hereof. And in like-manner, His Majesty Declares, That all Ale, Beer, Strong-waters, and other provisions for our-reeking of any Vessel for the saids Fishings of the said Companies, is, and shall be, free of all manner of Impositions whatsoever, Commanding hereby the Lords and Masters of the ground, in all places through the said Kingdom where there is Loch or other Fishings, not only to protect, maintain and defend the said Company and Society, and all Masters of Ships, Fishers and others whatsoever, going about the said Trade, and belonging to the respective Companies of Fishing, from all harm, trouble or damage whatsoever, or else to satisfy and refund their losse and damage which they shall sustain upon their Land; but also, that they, nor none of them, presume nor take upon hand, to exact or lery, any more from the saids Fishers, Merchants, or their Servants, belonging to the saids Companies, for Ground-leave, but only twelve shillings Scots for every Last; and that in full satisfaction of the Saturdayes fishing, or any manner of Dues whatsoever. And for the greater encouragement of Merchant-fishers, Masters of Ships and other Vessels, and their Servants, to attend the said Trade of Fishing; His Majesty, by His Sovereign Authority and Prerogative Royal, not only by these presents Declares the Ships, Boats and other Vessels, with their Furniture, provided for, and in exercise of, the said Trade of Fishing, no wayes to be Arrestable by any Creditor, but that the same and those that shall serve therein, shall not be pressed to any publick service, without His Majesties particular Command. And that the Fishers, Masters and Servants, in the saids Vessels, and makers of Herring and White-fish, during the whole time of the said Fishing, and their employment therein, shall be free from all Actions, and no wayes conveyable before any Judge or Judicatory whatsoever for any cause or causes Civil, which may be intended against them; But also by the tenour hereof, Declares the saids Fishers, Masters and their Servants above-written, shall be free of all Captions, Arrestments or other Attachments on their persons, or against their Materials and Instruments of Fishing, during the time and season of Fishing, they being actually serving therein allannerly. And further, that none who shall be upon the Council, or any of the Societies of Trade fore-said, shall be lyable to Sels, Stents or Taxations, for what Stook they have entered or shall enter in the saids Companies or Societies respective, or for the benefit and profit arising thereby in time coming. And it is hereby Declared, that it shall be licent to any of the Council or Societies of the said Trade of Fishing respective, for the good thereof, to dwell and reside in any part or place of this said Kingdom, albeit they be Burgeses in any Burgh Royal, and not thereby loss their freedom, notwithstanding of any Act or Acts in the contrair. And in like-manner it is hereby Declared, that no person or persons shall have liberty to export Herring or Fish, nor use or have the Priviledges, Liberties and Immunities above-written, but those that shall enter themselves and be free in one or other of the saids Companies and Societies. And finally; it is hereby Statute and Ordained, that those in the severall Shires and Burghs of this Kingdom, who shall enter in the saids Companies and Societies, conform to the tenour of this present Act, shall give an account thereof to the Parliament, or His Majesties Council of Trade for the time within after the creation thereof, that the same may be Recorded ad futuram rei memoriam.

Act for Erecting of Manufacturies.

Our Sovereign Lord, considering how many great advantages this Kingdom, and the Subjects thereof, may have by the Erecting, Cherishing and Maintaining of Manufacturies, thereby keeping in the Country great sums of money, daily exported for bringing in such Commodities as may be made at home, and bringing in money for such Commodities as may be made and wrought within the same, and exported to Forraign Nations; besides that thereby many Poor people and Idle persons and Vagabonds, will be set at work and entertained, whereby vertue will be increased and idleness curbed and restrained. And that upon this account, and for this end, severall Acts have been past by His Majesties Royal Predecessors, in their Parliaments, Conventions and Councils; and especially the one hundred and thirteenth Act of the seventh Parliament, and the two hundred and fifty, and two hundred sixty two Acts of the fiftenth Parliament of King James the sixth, and Acts of Council in the years one thousand six hundred, one thousand six hundred and one, one thousand six hundred and twelve, one thousand six hundred and fourteen, one thousand six hundred and sixteen, one thousand six hundred and twenty, one thousand six hundred and twenty three, and Acts of Convention, one thousand six hundred twenty five; and one thousand six hundred twenty six years. And His Majesty, being resolved to prosecute what hath been formerly intended, and to give such new encouragements as is necessary for advancing of Manufacturies; Hath therefore thought fit, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, hereby to grant to all such persons as have or shall undertake to set up any Manufacturies, the Priviledges following, viz. If any Stranger shall come, or be brought into this Kingdom by Natives, to set up Work, and teach his Art in making Cloath, Stuffs, Stockings, Soap, or any other kinde of Manufactory, he shall enjoy the benefit of the Law, and all other Priviledges that a Native doth enjoy; with power to erect Manufacturies either in Burgh or Landward as they shall think fit, and there to dwell and exercise their Trade without any stop or trouble.

And

And for their further encouragement, Declares, all Oyl, Dying-stuffs, Forraign Wool, Pet-Allies or any other materials whatsoever usefull for Manufacturies, that shall be imported, to be free of Customs, Excise and other publick Dues; and that all Cloath, Stuffs, Stockings or any other Commodity to be made and exported by them, be free of Custom and Excise, for nineteen years after January, one thousand six hundred and sixty two years. And if any Stock shall be employed for erecting or entertaining of any Manufacturies of any kind, the same is to be free of all publick and private Taxes whatsoever. Likeas all Customers, Collectors, Farmerers of Customs or Excise, and others, are hereby discharged to demand any Custom, Excise, or any other Imposition whatsoever, for such Materials before mentioned and belonging to Manufacturies, as they will be answerable. And in regard of the great prejudice to the Kingdom by Exportation of Wool, and Skins with Wool upon them, and of other Native Commodities and Materials fit for Manufacturies; Therefore His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Doth hereby Discharge all and every person whatsoever, Native or Stranger, to Export out of this Kingdon any Wool, or Skins with Wool upon them, or Skins of any kind, or any Materials usefull for Manufacturies, until they be made in work, or put to the best avail for the good of the Kingdom; Certifying such as do in the contrair, they shall forfeit such Wool, Skins and other Materials, or the just value thereof, the one half to His Majesty, and the other half to the Informer, who shall discover, apprehend, and prosecute the same before His Majesties Exchequer, besides that the persons and estates of such Contraveeners, shall be lyable to such punishment and fine for the same, as His Majesties Exchequer shall appoint. And also His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Discharges all Regraters and Foretallers of Mercats of Wool, and that no Merchant nor person whatsoever, buy and keep up Wool to a dearth, but that they bring the same to be sold in open Mercats, under the pains contained in the Acts of Parliament made against Regraters and Foretallers. And in regard there is much deceit by wrapping up of Wool in the Fleece, by putting stones, Sand, and other insufficent stuff in the same, It is hereby Declared, that all such Wool shall be confiscat, the one half to His Majesties use, and the other half to the use of those who shall apprehend, discover, and pursue the same. Likeas His Majesty, for the further encouragement of the saids Manufacturies, Doth with advice foresaid, Discharge all Quartering, or Levying of Souldiers upon Manufacturies, or the Masters thereof; and that no person whatsoever entice, respect, or entertain any of the Servants or Apprentices of the Manufacturies, without consent of their Master, under the Pains contained in the Acts of Parliament against Coal-hughers, Salters, and their Rescoters. And for the further improving of the saids Manufacturies, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Doth hereby Impower the Masters, Erectors, or Entertainers of Manufacturies, to meet by themselves for making of Ordinances for the good and advancement of their Trade, for the right ordering of their Servants, and for the sufficiency of their Stuffs, Cloath and others; and chuse one of the most expert of their number for visiting of their work, that a Mark or Seal may be put upon it, distinguishing what is sufficient and what not. And because many things may occur hereafter, which may be necessary for advancement of Manufacturies; Therefore His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Doth Impower the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council or Exchequer, or such as shall be appointed by His Majesty, during this present Parliament, or thereafter, to consider such Overtures as shall be offered for the good of Manufacturies; and to make such Orders, and grant such further Liberties and Priviledges to them as they shall think just. It is always Declared, that it shall be free and lawfull to His Majesties Treasurer and Commissioners of Exchequer, as they shall find cause, to grant licence for exporting of Wool and Skins, any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithstanding.

X L I.

Act for Planting and inclosing of Ground.

Our Sovereign Lord, considering how many laudable Laws have been made, by His Majesties Royall Progenitors, for Parking and Inclosing of Ground, and Planting of Wood, and for preserving of the same: and finding the great prejudice have followed upon the not dew observance of so notable and necessar Laws. And how expedient, fit and necessar it will be, for the good of this His Majesties ancient Kingdom, especially for Shipping and Building, that Timber be Planted; and how advantageous it is for the increase of Corns and Cattel, and the sowing of Lint and Hemp for Manufacturies, that Parking and Inclosings be made. Doth therefore with consent and advice of His Estates of Parliament, Revive the ninth Act of the fourth Parliament of King James the first, of Blessed memory, Entitled, An Act for Planting of Woods, Forrests and Orchards, and all other Acts made for that effect, by His Majesty or any other His Royal Predecessors; and Ordains the same to be put to execution in time comming, conform to the Tenor thereof, in all points; with this addition. Likeas His Majesty with advice of His saids Estates of Parliament, Doth hereby Statute and Ordain, that every Heritor, Liferenter, and Wodsetter (according to the qualifications underunder-written) within His said ancient Kingdom of Scotland, with one thousand pounds or yearly valued Rent, shall inclose four Aikers of Land yearly at least, and plant the same about with Trees of Oak, Elm, Ash, Plain, Sauch or other Timber, at three yards distance. And that all other Heritors of greater or lesse Rent nor the said sum or one thousand pounds money foreaid, do Plant, Inclose and Ditch yearly, more or fewer Aikers, according to their respective Rents, for the space of ten years next ensuing; and that of such Lands as the Heritors shall think most fit for Planting and capable for inclosing, to be also Planted, Ditched or Inclosed in manner foreaid; and that the saids Heritors begin to Plant, Ditch, and Inclose, the said ground at the feast of Michaelmasse next to come, and uphold the same in time coming. And for the further encouragement of the saids Heritors, Wodsetters and Liferenters, to go about the ready observance of the said Act, liberty and power is granted to them, at the sight of the Sheriffs, Stewarts, Lords of Regalities, Barons, and Justices of Peace in their respective bounds, to call about the High-ways to their conveyance, providing they do not remove them above two hundred ells upon their whole ground; Excepting all-ways heretofore, Burrough and incorporate Aikers, which are no ways to be Parked or Inclosed, unless the Heritors thereof shall think it meet and expedient. And where there are Liferenters upon Lands, it is hereby Declared, that the same shall be done upon the equal charges and expences of the Liferenter and Heritor. And in case of Proper Wodlets, it is also hereby specially Declared, that the same shall be done by the Wodletter, and the charges thereof is and shall be added to the reversion, and no ways redeemable, while they make payment thereof, as well as of the sums for which the Lands are Wodlet. And for the better encouragement of Heritors, and for preserving of the said Planting and Inclosures, It is Statute and Ordained, that whosoever shall cut or break any of the saids Trees, (not being the Heritors themselves) shall pay unto the Heritors or persons wronged, twenty pounds for every Tree: or if he be not able to pay the said twenty pounds, it shall be in the power of the party thereby wronged, to make him work six weeks, giving him meat and drink allanely. And further it is Ordained, that whosoever shall break down the Hedges or Dikes on the saids Parks or Inclosures, or be found within the same, being a stranger, shall be holden and repare a breaker down thereof, and pay five pounds for every fault; or if he be not able to pay the said five pounds, to work ten dayes to the owner of the saids grounds, for meat and drink as said is. And for the greater encouragement of all persons who shall be virtuously inclined to Ditch Inclose or plant their ground, in manner aforesaid, His Majesty, with consent above specified, hath Declared, and by this presents Declares such parts and portions of their said ground, as shall be so Inclosed and Planted, to be free of all manner of Land-tithes, Taxations or Impositions, of whatsoever nature, or Quarterings of Horse in the saids Inclosures, for the space of nineteen years, next after the date hereof; and that at the proportioning of the saids Burthens, the same inclosures shall be exempted and made free thereof accordingly. And also for the better preserving of the saids Inclosures, and of the Trees and Planting to be let about the same, it is Statute and Ordained, that ilk Heritor, Tennant and Cottar, keep their Cattel and Goods, out of their neighbours Inclosures at all times, that their Trees, Planting and Ditching, be no ways Damified or prejudged, under the penalty of five pounds for ilk contravention, toites gaires, to be paid to the party damified. And further Statutes and Ordains, That where Inclosures fall to be upon the border of any persons Inheritance, the next adjacent Heritor shall be at equal pains and charges in Building, Ditching and Planting that Dike which parteth their Inheritance. And Recommends to all Lords, Sheriffs and Baylies of Regalities, Stewarts or Stewartries, and Justices of Peace, Baylies of Burroughs, and other Judges whatsoever, to see this Act put in execution, and to grant Proccle in the instance of the Parties damified and prejudged, and to see them repaired, after the form and tenor of this Act above-written, in all points.

XLII.

Act Establishing Companies, and Societies for making Linnen-cloth, Stuffs, &c.

Our Sovereign Lord, considering that all the laudable Laws and Statutes, made by His Majesties Ancestors, anent Manufacturies, for enriching of His Majesties ancient Kingdom, putting of Poor children, Idle persons and Vagabonds to work for the maintenance and relief of the Countrey, of the burthen of such unprofitable persons, have been hitherto rendred ineffectual; And that many good spirits, having aimed at the publick good, have for want of sufficient stocks, council and assistance, been crushed by such undertakings, Do conceive it necessary, to Create and Erect Companies and Societies for Manufacturies, that what was above the capacity of single persons, may be carried on by the joynt assistance, council and means of many. And therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth Establish particular Societies and Companies, in the persons of such as shall enter themselves in the saids Societies within any Shire or Burgh, one or moe of this Kingdom; and after their decease, in the persons of their Successors, (it being always Declared hereby, that not any of them shall be represented but by one person allannerly) or at the first modern Societies and Companies for making of Linnen-cloath, Worstead Stockings, Sear-ges Baifes Sayes, Cottons, Sempeternums, Castilians, Perpetuanacs, and all all other Woollen Stuffs with advice and consent foresaid, Prohibits and Discharges any of His Majesties Liegcs, to carry and transport into Spain, Portugal, Riscay, Russia, France, or any place beyond Seas, any Linnen-Cloath, Baifes, Sayes, Cottons, Sempiternums, Castilians, Perpetuanacs, or any other Woollen Stuffs or Cloaths, except they be free, and of one of the Societies aforesaid, and that all the saids Stuffs or Cloaths, all Materials imported for the use of the saids Manufacturies, and that all the saids Stuffs or Cloaths, exported by the said Company, shall be free of all Customs, Excise, or any other Imposition whatsoever, for the space of nineteen years after the day of all other Merchants not free in one or other of the saids Companies, paying the usuall Customs, Excise, or any other Impositions, for any of the saids Commodities Exported by them. As also His Majesty, with advice foresaid, for the good and encouragement of these who shall enter themselves in the saids Companies, Doth discharge the saids Companies respective, where ever the same shall be erected, to receive any within the same, except these who shall contribute and bring in, to make up a Stock to the saids Manufacturies, the sum of five hundred merks Scots, and doth grant liberty to the saids Members of the saids Societies respective, to choose and elect a certain number of their own Incorporation and Society, to be a Council for making of Laws, for their better regulating and ordering of the said Company and Manufactory, and things belonging thereto; providing alwayes, that no person elected have less of Stock, in the said Company or Society, nor one thousand merks Scots money. And that this Pious, Charitable and profitable Design, may be no longer frustrate, nor poor Children, Vagabonds or Idle persons, continue to be burdensome to their Countrey; It is Statute and Ordained, that there be in each Paroch, one or moe persons provided and appointed, upon the charges and expences of the Heritors thereof, for instructing of the poor Children, Vagabonds and other Idlers, to fine and mix Wool, spin Worstead, and knit Stockins. And for the more speedy perfecting of the laudable Design and Policy so much aimed at by His Majesties Royal Predecessors, and now prosecute by His Majesty in His prudence, and condescending care for the meanest of His Subjects, It is Statute and Ordained, that within moneths after the dissolving of this present Parliament, the Commissioners of Shires do convene the whole Heritors within their respective Shires, for electing of some of the Heritors within each Paroch, to see this present Act made effectual, and persons appointed for instructing of the Children and others foresaid, to fine and mix Wool, knit Stockins, and spin Worstead, and to see a maintenance setled in every paroch upon the saids Instructors: And within the space of next after the said first meeting, that they convocate the persons elected, within the several Paroches of the respective Shires, to take an account of them and of their care and diligence in the matters aforesaid; and in case they shall be found to have failed, that the saids Commissioners now attending this present Parliament, do see this present Act put in execution after the time aforesaid, in all the said Paroches where the saids persons elected shall be found to have been deficient; and Ordains Magistrates of Burghs to be carefull that the same be made effectual within their Burghs and Liberties. And in case all or any of the saids Commissioners or Magistrates aforesaid, do fail herein after the foresaid time, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates aforesaid, Doth commit the care hercof to the Lords of His Majesties Secret Council, that the Laws may be no longer frustrate, nor the Kingdom burdened with Idle persons, Vagabonds or poor Children. And that Manufacturies may be promoted, and for the encouraging of skilful Artizans to come from abroad, for training up the persons foresaid, and working for the use of the saids Companies, It is hereby Declared, that all such as shall be brought home and employed for the saids Companies, shall be free to set up and work in Burghs and Landwart where the Companies shall think fit, without paying any thing whatsoever to any person or persons, under whatsoever colour or pretext for their Freedom; and shall be free of Taxes and publick Burdens or Exactions during their lifetime; notwithstanding of any Law, Statute, Priviledge or Indulgence, made or granted in the contrair by His Majesty or any of His Predecessors, in favours of any Commitee, or Incorporation whatsoever, which are all hereby Cassed, Rescinded, and Declared void and null, in so far as they may be conceived to derogate from the Priviledges and Immunities granted by this present Act, in favours of Tradf-men, Natives or Strangers, belonging to, or brought home by, the saids Companies, for working in the saids Manufacturies. And to the end that the foresaid Stuffs and Cloaths may be more useful at home, and have the better vent abroad, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth Prohibit and Discharge any Weaver belonging to the saids Companies or private Tradf-men, to make any Searges, under the breadth of an ell and a nail; Perpetuanacs and Sempiternums, under the breadth of three quarters and a half, nor no Woollen cloath under an ell and a half broad; under the pain of twenty pounds, to be paid by the Weaver thereof, and the saids Stuffs and Cloaths, to be confiscat, the one half hath to His Majesties use, and the other half to the use of the discoverers thereof. Further, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, for encouragement of these who shall enter into the saids Companies or Manufacturies, doth grant to ilk one of the saids Companies all the Priviledges and Immunities that are, or shall be hereafter by the Kings Majesty indulged to the Companies or Societies of Fishers, as if the same were herein exprest. Whereanent, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, hath dispensed, and hereby dispenses for ever.

XLIII.

Act discharging the exportation of Linnen-yarn, and regulating the breadth of Linnen-cloth, &c.

Our Sovereign Lord, conceiving it necessary for the good and wel-being of His Majesties Subjects, to project and endeavour the improvement of all the Native Commodities of this His Majesties ancient Kingdom, and to make Laws and Ordinances, for evirng and preventing of all fraud and deceit used heretofore, in making Sale of the saids Commodities; And considering that it would tend more to the advantage of His Majesties Subjects, and promoting of Manufacturies, to restrain the liberty that Merchants have taken to export Linnen-yarn, then suffer them to carry the same unto other places and Kingdoms. Therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Discharges any Merchant or others whatsoever, to transport out of this Kingdom any Linnen-yarn, under the pain of Confiscation of the same, the one half to His Majesties use, and the other half to the use of the Attacher and Apprehender of the said Yarn; and Statutes and Ordains that all Yarn be sold by weight, and that no Reel be made use of within this Kingdom, under the measure and length of ten quarters, and that under the pain of Confiscation of any Yarn brought to the Mercat of a shorter Reel, the one half to His Majesties use, and the other half to the use of the Delaters and Apprehenders of the said Yarn. As also, His Majesty considering, that Linnen-cloth is one of the most usefull Commodities of the product of this Kingdom, whereby much money in ancient times was brought home; And that now, to the great prejudice of the said Commodity, the same is brought in contempt abroad, and become hardly vendible, through the deceitfull Making, evil Bleerching, and unequal Breadth thereof; Therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent of the saids Estates, doth Discharge and Prohibit all Weavers to make any Linnen-cloth, of the price of ten shillings Scots the ell, or above, under the breadth of an ell and two inches, after the first day of November next to come, under the pain to be imprisoned, for the space of fourteen dayes, and of twenty pounds Scots to be paid for each fault, to Magistrates of Burghs, Sheriffs of Shires, Lords of Regalties, and Barrons within their respective bounds, and of the Confiscation of the same, to the use of the Atrachers and Discoverers thereof; and Statutes that all Linnen-cloth be taken up by Selvage, and not by the Rigg, and so to be presented to the Mercat; and that all Linnen-cloth be Bleerched without Lime, under the pain of twenty pounds for each fault, to be paid to the Magistrates foresaid, within their respective bounds. And lastly, it is hereby Declared that all Flax and Linnen-yarn Imported, and all Linnen-cloth Exported, by such as shall enter into the Companies and Manufacturies for making of Linnen-cloth, shall be free of all Custom, and all other Imposition, for the space of fifteen years after the saids Manufacturies shall be established in the persons of such as shall enter themselves in the said Companies, betwixt and the first day of January next, conform to another Ordinance of Parliament for establishing the saids Companies.

XLIV.

Act for encouraging of Shipping and Navigation.

Our Sovereign Lord, considering that the Wealth, Safety and Strength of this Kingdom, are very much concerned, in the increase of Shipping, and encouragement of Trade and Navigation; both which are much decayed; if not wholly ruined, by the late unhappy Wars, and the said effects that have followed thereupon. And perceiving the present low condition of Trade, and the small number of Ships and Sea-men within this Kingdom, Hath thought expedient, out of His Princely zeal for the publick good, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament now presently convened, to Statute and Ordain, and by these presents Statutes and Ordains, that from and after the day of and thence forward, no Goods nor Commodities whatsoever, that are of Foreign growth, Product or Manufacture, which are to be brought into Scotland, or any of the Isles thereto belonging, shall be shipped or brought from any other place or places, Countrey or Countries but only from those places where the saids Commodities do grow, are produced or made, or from the Ports where the saids Goods and Commodities commonly are, or usually have been, first shipped for Transportation, and from no other place or Countrey; and in noother Ships or Vessels, but such as do truly and only belong to His said Kingdom; and whereof the Master, and three fourth parts of the Mariners, are Natives and Inhabitants within the same; or at least in such Ships and Vessels, as do truly and only belong unto, and are of the build of, these Kingdoms or Countries where the saids Commodities do grow, are made or produced; and whereof the Master, and three fourth parts of the Mariners, are Natives and Inhabitants within the same. All which is to be verified and attested, under the Seal of the City or place from whence they come, and Oath of the parties to whom the said Ships or Vessels do belong, under the pain of Confiscation of all such Goods as shall be Imported from any other place or Countrey, or in any other Ship or Vessel, contrair to the true intent and meaning of this Act; As also of the Ship in which they shall happen to be imported, with all her Guns, Furniture, Tackle, Ammunition and Apparelling, the one half to His Majesty, and the other half to the use of those who shall discover the Contraveeneers of this present Act, and pursue for the same before the Lords of His Majesties Exchequer. And further it is Statute and Ordained by His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, that all Goods or Commodities whatsoever, produced or shipped, as is above express, which from and after the said day, and thence forward, shall be Imported into this Kingdom, or any Islands thereto belonging, in any Ships or Vessels, that shall not truly and only belong to the Natives and Inhabitants thereof (except in English or Irish Vessels, providing alwayes that Scots Vessels, enjoy the like benefit of Trade within the Kingdoms and Dominions of England and Ireland, and no otherways) shall be lyable to double Custome, and pay accordingly, whether the said Goods pertain to Natives or Aliens. And further it is Statute and Ordained, that from and after the said day, and thence forward, all Goods and Commodities whatsoever, belonging to Aliens, Exported or Imported in whatsoever Ships or Vessels, whether Forraign or Scottish, shall be lyable to double Custome and pay accordingly. And it is further Statute and Ordained, that from and after the said day, and thence forward, all Goods or Commodities whatsoever, Exported, in any other Ships or Vessels, then such as do truly and only belong to the Natives and Inhabitants of this Kingdom, shall be lyable to double Custome and pay accordingly, whether the saids Goods appertain to Natives or Aliens. And it is further Enacted and Ordained by His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, that after the said day, and thence forward, all Ships and Vessels belonging to this Kingdom, shall be Navigated only by Scots-men, dwelling in Scotland, at least the Master and three fourth parts of the same being such, under the pain of being esteemed Forraign Vessels, and paying double Custome, for all the Goods and Commodities, Imported or Exported within the same. And for preventing of all fraud, which may be used in the buying or Forraign Ships, It is Statute and Ordained by His Majesty, with consent foresaid, that from and after the said day, no Ship whatsoever shall be deemed, or pass as a Ship belonging to Scotland, or enjoy the benefit of such a Ship or Vessel, untill such time that he or they, claiming the same to be theirs, shall make appear to the chief Officer or Officers of the Customs at Lieth, he or they residing in any place betwixt Berwick and Stirling on the South side or Forth, and to the chief Officer or Officers at Burntisland, he or they residing in any place betwixt Stirling and Fife-ness upon the North-side of Forth, and in case of their abode in more remote places, to the Officer or Officers of the Port next to the place of his or their abode, that they or he are not Strangers, and shall have taken an Oath before such Officer or Officers, who are hereby authorized to administer the same, that such Ship or Vessel was bona fide, and without fraud, bought by him or them, for a valuable consideration, expressing the Sum, Time, Place and Persons, from whom it was bought, and who are his Partners (if he any have) All which Partners shall be lyable to take the said Oath before the chief Officer or Officers of the Customs respective, as said is; and that no Forraigner, directly nor indirectly, hath any part, interest or share therein; and that upon such Oaths, he or they shall receive a Certificate under the Hand or Seal of the said chief Officer or Officers of the Port next the abode of the persons so making Oath, whereby such a Ship may for the future passe, and be deemed as a Ship belonging to the said Port, and enjoy the Privilege of such a Ship or Vessel; and the said Officer or Officers, shall keep a Register of all such Certificates, as he or they shall so give, and return a Duplicate thereof to the chief Officers of the Customs at Lieth, for such as shall begranted in all the other Ports of this Kingdom, together with the names of the person or persons, from whom such Ships were bought, and the sum of money which was paid for the same; as also the names of all such persons as are Partners, if any such be. And it is further Enacted by His Majesty, with consent foresaid, that if any Officer of the Customs, shall from and after the said day, allow to any Forraign Ship or Vessel, the priviledges due to a Scots Ship, till such Certificate be by them produced, or such Proof and Oath taken before them, or such as they shall appoint to receive the same, and to examine whether the Master and three fourth parts of the Mariners at least be Natives and Inhabitants within this Kingdom; that for the first offence, such Officer or Officers shall be put out of their Offices or Places. And it is further Statute and Ordained, that no

Merchant

Merchants belonging to this Kingdom, shall employ any Alien, or person not born within this Nation or naturalized, or made a free Denizen thereof, from and after the said day, as Factor in any place beyond Seas, for the use and account of the Merchants of this Kingdom, under pain of a pecuniary Mute, to be paid by him, or them that shall employ him: which sum shall be imposed at the discretion of the Council of Trade, the one half thereof to His Majesty and Successors, and the other half to him or them that shall inform and pursue for the same. It is alwayes hereby provided, that this Act, not any Clause therein contained, extend not to, or be meand to restrain or prohibit the Importation of any of the Commodities of Asia, Africa, or America; as also of the Commodities of Musco and Italy, from such Ports and places, and in such Ships and Vessels, as may be gotten most conveniently, until such time as the Merchants of this Kingdom have actual Trade to these respective places; and that the same be prohibited by Act of Parliament, Privy Council, or Council of Trade. It is hereby Declared, That it shall be lawful to import any sort of Corns, in time of dearth, from any place or places, in any Ship or Vessel whatsoever, without being lyable to Confiscation, double Custom, or any other Penalty contained in this present Act; the dearth and necessity of import being alwayes cognosed and declared, by a publick Act of the Privy Council, or Council of Trade.

XLV.

Act discharging the Exportation of Skins, Hides, &c.

THe Kings Majesty, considering how necessar it is, that all former Laws for improving of Native Commodities be Revived; and understanding that the Deacons and remnant Trades-men of the Skinners, have upon their own charges, brought from Forraign places, Perfumers, Makers and Preparers of Leather, by whose pains and Art, the Kingdom may be furnished with Gloves at easier Rates, and be able to furnish other Nations abroad with Made-work; Doth therefore with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Ratifie and Approve the hundred seventy eight Act of the thirteenth Parliament of King James the sixth of blessed memory, discharging the Exportation of Skins and others therein contained; and Ordains the same to be put to execution, conform to the tenor thereof in all points. And also considering how useful Goat-skins, Hart, Deer, and other wilde Beasts Skins might be, if they were prepared and improved by Skinners within the Kingdom; His Majesty doth therefore with advice foresaid, Discharge all Merchants, Trades-men and others, to Transport any Cali-skin, Kid-Skin, Hudderen, or Shorling-skins, or any Goat-skins, Hart, Buck, Deer, or any other wilde Beasts Skins forth of the Kingdom under pain of Confiscation of the same. And for the further encouragement of the Skinner-trade and Manufactory, Licence is hereby given to Export Gloves made within the Kingdom, free of all Custom and Excise, for the space of ninteen years after the date hereof; reserving alwayes to the Lord-Treasurer and Commissioners of Exchequer, to give Licences for Exporting of Skins, as they shall find cause, after one year from the date hereof.

XLVI.

Act discharging Exportation of Wollen-yarn, Worstead, broken Copper and Pewter, &c.

THe Kings Majesty, considering the great prejudice this Kingdom and Manufacturies do receive by the Export of Worstead, Wollen-yarn; Raw and Unwaked-cloath and Stuffs; and the discouragement that Trades-men and Artists have by the Export of broken Copper, Brass and Pewter; Doth therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Discharge all Merchants, Trades-men, and others whatsoever, as well Strangers as Natives, upon any colour or pretext whatsoever, to Export forth of this Kingdom any Worstead, Woollen yarn, Raw or Unwaked-cloaths and Stuffs whatsoever, made within the same, (Plaiding excepted) or any broken Copper, Brass or Pewter, under the pain of Confiscation of what of any of the particulars above-written shall be apprehended in the Exporting; the one half to be applied for His Majesties use, and the other half for the use of the apprehender and pursuer of the same.

XLVII.

Act discharging Tradef-men to Import Made work.

THe Kings Majesty, considering the great discouragement given to Manufacturies and Trades, by Tradef-men's bringing home from Forraign places, such Commodities as may be made within the Kingdom, by these of the same Trade; Doth therefore, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Inhibit and Discharge all Tradef-men and Mechanicks, to Import from Forraign parts any Made-work belonging to that Trade or Calling whereof they are Free-men; or to vend the same, or any such Ware brought home by Merchants, in their Shops or otherwayes, under the pain of Confiscation, the one half to His Majesties use, and the other to the apprehender or purchaser of the same.

XLVIII.

Act for encouraging of Soap-works.

THe Kings most Excellent Majesty, considering the great advantage this His ancient Kingdom hath had, and may have by erecting and keeping up of Soap-works, whereby the Eastern Trade and Green-land Fishing will be much helped, by Importing of Pot-ashes and other Materials; and money brought into the Kingdom, by the Exported Soap made within the same; And His Majesty being sensible of the prejudice this Kingdom hath suffered during these troubles, by the decay of these works, and being willing to give all due encouragements to the same for the future; Doth therefore, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Declare all Oyl, Pot-ashes, and other Materials of any kinde whatsoever, to be Imported for the use of Soap-works or making of Soap, and all Soap made within the Countrey, to be free of all Custom and Excise, and all other publick or private Dues whatsoever; and also that all Soap, so made and Exported, shall be free for the space of nineteen years after the setting up of these works, and after the date hereof, for such works as are already set up; and discharges all Customers, Collectors or Fermerers of Excise or Custom, and all others whatsoever to demand Custom, Excise or other Duty, for any Oyl, Pot-ashes, Tallow, or other Materials Imported for making of Soap, or use of Soap-works allannerly, or for Soap made within the Kingdom, and exported as said is.

XLIX.

Act Reducing the Annals to six for the Hundred.

THe Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Hath thought fit upon diversie good considerations, to Reduce, Likeas hereby they do Reduce, the Annualrents of all money within this Kingdom, to six for the Hundred yearly, in all time coming. And Declares the said six for the Hundred to be free of all Retention, or other publick Burdens whatsoever.

L.

Act and Offer of Twelve thousand pounds Sterling to the Lords of Session.

FOrasmuch as among the many and unparallel'd blessings, wherewith it hath pleased the Almighty GOD to visit these Kingdoms, is the return of His Majesty to the exercise of His Royal Government, it is the greatest happinesse of this Kingdom, that the ordinary Judicatories, the fountains and seats of Justice, are by His Majesty established, according to their ancient and well grounded Constitutions; And the Estates of Parliament considering, how much it doth import the advancement of His Majesties service, the honour of the Kingdom, and the good of the Subjects, that the Senators of the Colledge of Justice (who are the Supream Judges under His Majesty, in all civil Causes) should be provided to a competent allowance, towards their charge and expenses, in their attendance on this their publick Administration. And understanding, that by the calling down of the Annualrents from ten to six of the hundred; and by the disability of some Debtors, and by laying aside the twentieth penny of Sentence-silver, (which is conceived to be an unequal burden and grievance to such as must sue the benefit of the Law; and so are lyable thereto, before they can have repetition tion of it, or recovery of their just Debts) the present yearly allowance to each of them will not exceed one hundred pounds Sterling; which being so mean, and unsureable to the honour and reputation of that employment, and to equity and Justice, as to the persons called by His Majesty to serve therein; Therefore the Estates of Parliament have thought fit to grant, Likas they do hereby make a free offer and grant of a Taxation of twelve thousand pounds Sterling, towards the making up of a Stock, whereof the Annualrent is to be employed for the use aforesaid, and to be paid by the Shires and Burghs of the Kingdom; the one half thereof in the moneth of November next to come, and the other half in the moneth of May thereafter, in the year one thousand six hundred and sixty two years, and to be raised in the same manner, the present or last Impositions are, and have been paid. And in order thereunto, The Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth hereby Statute and Ordain, the said sum of twelve thousand pounds Sterling, to be paid by the Shires and Burghs of the Kingdom, in manner for the use aforesaid, the one half thereof in the moneth of November, and the other half in the moneth of May next to come; and that the same be brought in and delivered to any, whom the Senators of the Colledge of Justice shall appoint to receive the same; and whose discharge upon the receipt thereof, in whole or in part, shall accordingly be a sufficient exoneration to the Shires and Burghs, and all others whom it effeirs. And the saids moneths of November and May respective, being past, Ordains Letters of Horning and Poynding, and all other Execution necessary to be directed at his or their instances, against the Shires or Burghs of the Kingdom and their Collectors: And twenty dayes being expired, after either of the saids moneths respective, Ordains Quartering to be upon deficient Shires, and Burghs; and that all who command the Forces within the Kingdom, gives orders, and be assisting hereunto accordingly.

Act concerning Arrestments.

Owring to their Debtors, by vertue of Heritable Bonds, Contracts and other Writs bearing payment of Annualrents: which in respect of the Obliegment for Annualrents, were not in former times Arrestable. Therefore the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Finds and Declares, that all sums of money which are addebted by Bonds, Contracts and other personal Obliegments, whereupon no Infestments have followed, are, and shall be Arrestable at the instance of any Creditor, notwithstanding that the Bonds, Contracts and other Obliegments bear payment of Annualrents. And the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent aforesaid, Declares that this shall no wayes change the nature of the saids Sums, nor prejudice the Heir nor any other person their rights to the same as being Heritable, which are hereby Declared to remain in their own nature unchanged by this Act pro ut de jure, except that only the same are Arrestable. And it is hereby expressly provided, that all Arrestments and Executions thereof, since the twenty ninth day of July, one thousand six hundred and forty four years, used conform to the tenor of this Act, shall be as valid and sufficient, as if this present Act had been of the said date; But prejudice alwayes to the Creditors to Comprise the saids Heritable Sums, if they shall choose rather to Comprise then to Arrest.

L II.

Act concerning the disposal of Vacand Stipends.

Forasmuch as by divers Acts, it is found that Stipends and Benefices of Vacand Kirks, or which thereafter should vaik by Decease, Deposition, Suspension, Transportation of Ministers, Dis-union of Kirks, or any other way, should, during the Vacancy thereof, be employed on pious uses; and the Kings Majesty considering, that during these troubles, many Learned and Religious persons in the Ministry and Universities, for their expressions of duty and loyalty to His Majesty, or not concurring in the confusions of the time, have been Deposed, or Suspended from their Charge and Ministry, and have been otherwayes put under great sufferings, and they and their Families, reduced to extrem misery and want. And conceiving it to be an Act of great Piety and Justice, to have regard to the sufferings of those honest and faithfull Ministers and others, and in some measure to provide for them, and repair their losses; Therefore His Majesty, with advice of His Estates of Parliament, Ordains all Stipends or Benefices of Kirks that are Vacand, and not already disposed of, or which shall vaik by Decease, Deposition, Suspension, Transportation, or any any other wayes to be employed for the supply and maintenance, and towards the reparation of the sufferings and losses of the persons aforesaid, and of the Wives and Bairns of such of them as are dead; and that in such manner and wayes as after tryal of their merits and sufferings, and the causes and grounds thereof, shall be thought fit by the Lords of His Majesties privy Council, to whom His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, commits the care of this busines; And doth hereby empower and require them to use all diligence, that the favour and Justice hereby intended by His Majesty to these suffering Persons and their Families, may be made effectual; and that notwithstanding of any thing contained in any of the saids Acts to the contrair. It is alwayes provided, that this Act is without prejudice of any benefit, which by the Law and Custom of this Kingdom, falls to the Relict, Bairns or Executors of a Minister after his deceale; and that this Act is to endure for the space of seven years, and longer as His Majesty shall think fit.

LIII.

Act ratifying the Act of Parliament 1633. anent the Annexation of His Majesties Property, &c.

OUR Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of the Estates of this present Parliament, Ratifies and Approves, and for His Highnesse, and His Successors, perpetually Confirms, the tenth Act of the first Parliament of His Majesties Royal Father of blessed memory, King Charles the first, holden at Edinburgh, in Anno one thousand six hundred and thirty three, Intituled An Act anent the Annexation of His Majesties Property, in the whole Heads and Clauses thereof, especially that Clause of the same whereby His Majesty and the Estates of Parliament then convened, did Declare the right and title of Superiority, of all and sundry Lands, Barronies, Milns, Woods, Fishings, Towers, Fortalices, Mannor-places, and pertinents thereof pertaining to whatsoever Abbacies, Priors, Prioresses, Preceptories, and whatsoever other Benefices, of whatsoever Estate, Degree, Title, Name or Designation the same were of, Erected in temporal Lordships, Barronies or Livings, before or after the general Act of Annexation of Kirk-lands made in the moneth of July one thousand five hundred eighty and seven, together with the whole Few-mails, Few-fermes and other Rents and Duties of the saids Superiorities to be annexed, and to remain with the Crown for ever, upon the reservation of the Lords and Titulars of Erection therein specified: Likeas thereby His Majesty and Estates foresaid, Found and Declared, that all Titulars of Erection without exception, should hold their property and proper Lands of the Kings Majesty and His Successors in Few-ferm, for payment of the Few-ferm-duties, contained in the Infeiments, granted to them before the said Act of Annexation, and no otherwayes. And that all Rights and Deeds, made and granted to whatsoever person or persons, preceeding the date of the foresaid Act, which might prejudice His Majesty and His Successors, in the peaceable injoying of the said Superiorities and Few-ferm-duties, should be null and of no avail, by way of Action, exception or reply. And further His Majesty with advice and consent foresaid, of new Declares, the foresaid Superiorities of all and whatsoever Kirk-lands, Milns, Woods, Fishings and whole pertinents of the same, pertaining of before to whatsoever Chapters, Priors, Prioresses, Preceptors, and whatsoever other Benefices of whatsoever other Estate, Degree, Title, or Designation they be of, whereof the presentation belonged to His Majesty and His Highnesse Predecessors, erected in temporal Lordships, Barronies and Livings, to pertain to His Majesty and His Highnesse Crown, therewith to remain all time comming. And also Declares all and whatsoever Grants, Rights or Infeiments, of any of the saids Superiorities of the Lands and others pertaining to whatsoever Chapters, Priors, Prioresses, Preceptors, Abbacies, and whatsoever other Benefices of whatsoever Estate, Degree, Title, Name or Designation the same were of, with all Warrands, Tacks, Commissions, Baileries or Deputations for entering of the Vassals thereto, made and granted by His Majesty or His said Umquhile dearest Father in any time by-gone since the Surrender in Anno one thousand six hundred twenty seven, or to be made in time comming with all other Gifts and Donations of the saids Few-duties formerly belonging to the saids Lords of Erection, and made by His Majesties said Umquhile dearest Father after the Surrender, and before the Redemption thereof from the saids Lords, and all heritable and irredeemable Rights granted by His Majesties said Umquhile dearest Father after the redemption whereby the Profits Casualties & Emoluments of the Superiority of the said Kirk-lands, may be consierd to any other person, except the proper Vassals thereof, directly or indirectly, of whatsoever Name, Title or Designation they be of, & of all Gifts of new Regalities or Jurisdiction, to be null by way of exception or reply: Reserving alwayes to these persons, who have right to the Few-duties, the right and Title thereto. And reserving to John Earl of Lauderdale, His Majesties Sole Secretary for the Kingdom of Scotland, a Signatur superscribed by His Majesty at His Court of Whitehall, the twenty fifth day of May last by past, and past in His Majesties Exchequer, of all and whole the Lordship, Barrony and Regality of Mulleburgh, containing a new gift of Union and Erection of the same, in a free Lordship, Barrony, and Regality; and discharges the Treasurer Principal and Depute, Commissioners of the Treasury and remnant Lords Lords of Exchequer, Writers to, and Keepers of the Seals, from all passing or expeding any such new Grants, Rights, Infeiments, Tacks, Warrands, Commissions, Bailieries, or Deputations for entring of Vassals, except rationally such Infeiments and Signatures, as shall be granted to the Lords and others, who had formerly right to the saids Erections and Superiorities, whereby they might have right to claim the Few-fermes and Few-duties addelbed by the Vassals and others subject in payment thereof, allanerly, ay and while they be satisfied therfore, in manner specified in the fourteenth Act of his Majesties said unquibled dearest Father His first Parliament, and with the whole remanent exceptions and reservations, contained in the saids Acts, made in anno one thousand, six hundred, and thirty three, which are holden as repeated and exprest herein. It is alwayes Declared, that notwithstanding of this Act, any who have gotten or shall get any new Infeiment of Superioritie of Kirk-lands, the same shall stand good, as to such Vassals who have given their consents to the said right of Superioritie: In regard that such a consent, as to His Majestie, is of the nature of a Resignation of their proprietie, in favours of the said Superior, to be holden of the King. But prejudice neverthelesse to His Majestie, of His Highnesse Right of Reversion of the Few-ferm, Few-duties and Casualties, conforme to the foresaid Act of Parliament, one thousand, six hundred, and thirty three.

L IV.

Act in favours of Laick Patrons, of Provestries, Prebendaries, Chaplanaries and Alterages.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice and consent of His Estates of parliament, Ratifies and Approves the Act of Parliament, made by King James the sixth, His Majesties Grand-Father of eternal memorie, Parliament first, Chap. twelfth, Anent Provestries, Prebendaries, Alterages, Chaplanaries, and Collegiat Kirks, pertaining to laick Patrons, together with the Act of Parliament twelfth Chap. one hundred and fifty eight, Ratifying the same; and Ordaines the saids Acts to have full force and effect in all time coming; with this Declaration alwayes, That in respect the Vassals which held Lands of the saids Provests, Prebendars, and others foresaid, are put to a great uncertainty of their Superiors, it not being known to them who are provided to the saids Provestries, Prebendaries, Chaplanaries, Alterages, and others foresaid, by reason there is no publick Register, to the which they may have recourse for knowledge and notice thereof, and that the most that they can know by any Register, is the Infeiments and Seizings, made to those who are laick Patrons holding of His Majestie. Therefore, for securing of the Vassals, who hold Lands, Milnes, Fishings, Tenements, Annual-rents or others whatsoever, of the saids Provestries, Prebendaries, Collegiat Kirks, or of Chaplanaries, Alterages, and others of that nature, at any time of before; It is Statute and Ordained, that the entry of the saids Vassals by Retour, Precept of Clare constat, Resignation, Comprising or otherwise whatsoever, shall pertain to the laick-Patrons and their successors, who stand inest in the said laick-Patronages, holding immediatly of His Majestie; and that the entry of the Vassals by them, shall be as valid and sufficient to the saids Vassals, receivers thereof, as if they were entred by the Titulars of the saids Provestries, Prebendaries, Alterages, Chaplanaries, and others foresaid. And that the saids laick-Patrons, shall be in all time coming in their place, as Superior to the saids Vassals, and to have the same power to give Infeiments to His Majesties Subjects, upon Retour or by precept of Clare constat, or by Resignation, Comprising, or any manner of way, with Gifts De novo damus; and that without consent of persons provided, or so be provided, to the saids Provestries and prebendaries of Collegiat Kirks, Alterages, Chaplanaries, or other Titulars of Collegiat Kirks; and also without consent of the Chapter or Convent of the saids prebendaries thereof, or most part of the same, which of before was in use and custom. Whereanent, and anent all Acts in the contrair, His Majestie, with consent foresaid, dispences for ever; Reserving alwayes to the Titulars of the saids Provestries, Prebendaries, Alterages, Chaplanaries, and others foresaid, the Fruits, Rents and Emoluments of the saids Provestries, Prebendaries, and others foresaid, which are no wayes prejudged by this present Act. It is hereby further Statute and Ordained, with advice and consent foresaid, where there are any Prebendaries, Chaplanaries, Alterages, or other foundations of that nature above-mentioned, founded, and situated within any Burgh Royal of this Kingdom, that the Provost, Bailies and Council of that Burgh, where the same are founded, are and shall be in all time coming, only undoubted Superiors, by whom and by no others, the Vassals and Tennants shall enter in manner above-specified; the saids Provost, Bailies, and Council having been formerly Patrons of these Chaplanaries.

Act anent Cocquets and Entries of Ships.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, understanding there are divers abuses committed by the Customers and Receivers of entries of Ships; and by the keepers of the Cocquet, in sometime, exacting from Masters of Ships, greater sums of money then is due to them, and sometimes absenting themselves, selves, to the great prejudice of the Merchants estate, and to the hazard of the loss of their voyage. Therefore Our Sovereigne Lord, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Ordains that there be no greater price exacted, for entering their Ships and Goods, then the sume of twentie three shillings four pennies; and for the said Cocquet, then the sume of forty shillings; and that the keepers of the said Cocquet, attend by themselves or their servants, diligently and readily to answer and give out Cocquets to all Merchants and Masters of Ships, under pain of losing their place, whensoever they shall be found either to exact more then the said sum above-written, or shall occasion to the saids Merchants and Masters more delay nor is needful for writing of the same.

LVI

Act anent Coal-hewers.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Ratifies the eleventh Act of the eighteenth Parliament of King JAMES the sixth, of worhie memorie, made anent Coal-hewers and Salters, with this addition, That because Water-men who laves and draws Water in the Coal heugh-head, and Gate-men, who work the wayes and passages in the saids Hewghs, are as necessary to the Owners and Masters of the saids Coal-heughs, as the Coal-hewers and Bearers. It is therefore Statute and Ordained by Our Sovereigne Lord, with advice and consent foresaid, That no person shall hire nor seduce any Water-men, Windf-men and Gate-men, without a Testimonial of the Master whom they serve, under the pains contained in the former Acts in all points. And because it is found by experience, that the giving of great Fees, hath been a mean and way to seduce and bring Coal-hewers from their Masters, It is therefore also Statute and Ordained, That it shall not be lawfull for any Coal-Masters in this Kingdom, to give any greater Fee then the sum of twentie merks in Fee or Bounteth, under any colour or pretext: and because the saids Coal-hewers and Salters, and other work-men in Coal-hewghs within this Kingdom, do ly from their work at Pasch, Zule, Whitsonday, and certain other times in the yeare; which times they employ in Drinking and Debauchry, to the great offence of God, and prejudice of their Masters; It is therefore Statute and Ordained, that the saids Coal-hewers and Salters, and other Work-men in Coal-heughs of this Kingdom, work all the six dayes of the week, except the time of Christ masse, under the paine of twenty shillings Scots, to be paid to their Master; for ilk dayes failzie (by and attour the prejudice sustained by their saids Masters) and other punishment of their bodies.

LVII

ACT discharging the Custome of two and a halfe of the Hundred, and the Impost of four pounds on the Tun.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, considering that the prices of all Merchandise do dayly rise to exceeding great dearth, which is alleaged to be occasioned through extraordinary Customs and Impositions. For remedy whereof, His Majestie, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament Doth discharge all and sundrie whatsoever Customs and Impositions exacted by the Customes, which are not allowed by the Acts of Parliament, and especially the late Custome of two and an half per cent, and the late new Imposition of four pounds upon the Tun of Wine, and all raisings of His Majesties Customs, directly or indirectly, without consent of Parliament. And because that the too much troubling of Merchants, and drawing of Masters and Mariners from their ordinary charges, doth much impede the Trade; Therefore His Majestie, with advice and consent foresaid, discharges the taking of Merchants, Masters and Mariners Oaths in the matter of Customs. And to the end, that the Subject of Trade may not be restrained with unnecessary Customs, His Majestie, with advice and consent foresaid, Declares, That all Goods and Merchandise, Imported from Forraign places to this Kingdome and out of the same, paying Inward-custom, shall be free of all Outward-custom, according as is used in England and Ireland. Like-as His Majesty Declares, that He consented to the Act above-written upon this condition, that Commission and Warrant be granted to the Exchequer, to establish the Book of Rates; according as the prices of Merchandise now rules; and His Majesty permitted the option to the Burroughs, whereupon the Burroughs having advised, they made choice to be ruled by the Book of Rates anent the Customs; and consented, that Commission should be granted to the Exchequer to establish the Book of Rates, according as the prices of Merchandise now rules. In respect whereof; Our Sovereigne Lord, Ordains a Commission to be drawn up to the Exchequer to the effect foresaid, and extracted thereupon, for establishing the Book of Rates according as the prices of Merchandise now rules: And therefore Our Sovereigne Lord, with advice and consent foresaid, Ordains the Act above mentioned to stand as a Law, in manner and to the effect above-rehearsed.

LVIII.

Act in Favours of these who get their Ward-holding changed by the Kings Majestie.

THE Estates of Parliament having taken to consideration, that some difficulty hath occurred in the prosecution of his Majesties Royal Fathers intention of; changing of Ward-holdings in Few, for the well of his Subjects, conform to the two Commissions, granted by His said Majestie thereanent; under the Great Seal of this Kingdom: And that the said difficulty hath risen upon this ground, that diverse of His Majesties Subjects, holding Lands of His Majestie or of the Prince, ward, or Few Cum maritagio, holds also other Lands of other Superiors, Ward; who whilst their Vassals held Lands Ward, or Few Cum maritagio, of His Majestie or of the Prince, could pretend no right to the Marriage of the Vassals Heir; when the same shall be changed in Few, and Composition and a yearly Few-duty being granted to His Majestie or the Prince for the said Ward and Marriage, the other Superiors of the saids Vassals, of whom he holds Ward, may contend for the benefit of the casualty of the Marriage of His Vassals Heir, when the same falls out, he being the Vassals eldest Superior of whom he holds Ward; which was grievous to the Vassals, who by this new course of changing of his holding, hath composed both for Ward and Marriage. Therefore It is Statute and Ordained, by the Kings Majestie, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, that all Vassals, holding Ward of His Majestie or the Prince, or holding Few Cum maritagio, who shall hereafter compose and agree with the Commissioners to be appointed by His Majestie, for changing of their Holdings, from Ward to Few, or for renunciation of the Marriage, contained in their Few-infeftments, their Heirs and Successors in the saids Lands, shall be free of the Marriage that can be acclaimed by their Superiors of the Lands holden by them of their saids other Superiors, Ward; and that the saids other Superiors, shall have no right to the Marriage of their Heirs, when the same falls out, no more then they would have had, if the Lands holden Ward of his Majestie or the Prince, had continued still Ward: but that the saids Vassals, whose holding shall be changed, or who shall compose for their Marriage, as said is, their Heirs and Successors, shall enjoy their Lands in all time thereafter, free of any such burden of Marriage: Providing alwaies, Like-as it is hereby Provided and Declared, that if the foresaid Vassals whose Holding shall be changed as said is, and who shall compose for the renunciation of the Marriage contained in their Few-infeftments, or their Heirs or Successors in the saids Lands which once held Ward, or Few Cum maritagio, shall alienate and dispose the saids Lands to any other persons; then and in that case, the Aliener, or his Heirs shall no longer have the benefite of this present Act; but that notwithstanding of this present Act, if they hold Lands Ward of any other Superior, that their Superior shall enjoy all the benefit of his Superioritie, as if this present Act had never been made. And such-like, for the greater furtherance of His Majesties Lieges, in the way of the changing of the tenours of the saids Ward-holdings, or renouncing of the Marriage contained in their saids Few-infeftments, Our Sovereigne Lord, with advice and consent foresaid, Ordains Signaturis to be past to the Lieges by the Exchequer, on the recommendation of the saids Commissioners of the Ward-lands in their favours, upon the Lieges their Resignation for new Infeftments to be granted to them; bearing the new manner of Few-holding, or bearing the renunciation of the said Marriage contained in their old Few-infeftments, as shall be Ordained by the saids Commissioners of the Ward-lands.

LIX.

Act anent the Exchequer.

THE Kings Majestie, considering that some doubts and debates may arise, concerning the meaning of the eighteenth Act of the Parliament, holden by his Majesties Royal Father of blessed memorie, in the year one thousand, six hundred, and thirty three, Anent the deciding & Judging in Causes concerning His Majesties proprietie; Doth for explanation thereof, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Find, Declare, Statute and Ordaine that the validity and invalidity of Infeftments of His Majesties Property, or of any other Infeftments, may nor be discussed not decided in the Exchequer, neither by way of Exception, Action nor Reply; but that the discussing and decision thereof, is only proper to the Lords of Session; Reserving alwaies to the Exchequer to judge in all other buisnesses concerning His Majesties Rents and Casualties, as they might have done before the year one thousand, six hundred, and thirty three.

Act concerning Docqueting of Signatures.

THe Kings Majestie, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth Ratifie and Renew the twentieth Act of the tenth Parliament of King James the sixth, of blessed memory, and accordingly Statutes and Ordains, that no Signatures, Writs, Letters or Warrants shall be presented to be signed by His Majestie, but by His ordinary Officers, to whose charge the same properly belongs. And that His Majestie may the better know what passeth under His Hand, and upon what grounds He signs the same, It is appointed, That any of His Majesties Officers, who shall present any Signature, Writ, Letter or Warrant to be signed by His Majestie, shall cause Registrare the Docquet of the same in a Register, and then send the just double thereof under their hands to His Majesties Secretary, who is to give His Majesty timely notice of any prior Deed, differing or contrary to the same, that His Majestie may give His further Orders concerning the same.

L X I.

Commission for Plantation of Kirks, and Valuation of Teinds.

Our Sovereign Lord, considering the great care His Royal Father and Grand-father, of ever blessed memory, had, at all times, of the Reformed Religion, within this Kingdome, and of the Maintenance and Provision of the Ministry and Churches thereof; Concerning which, and for the publick good of the Nation, His Majesties Royal Father did emit a declaration, immediately after His succession to the Crown; and concerning diverse other particulars relating to Teinds and Superiorities of Kirk-lands: in order whereunto, diverse Acts and Ordinances of Parliament and of Commissions, were from time to time made, during the Reign of His ever Glorious Father; And yet, by the unhappy Troubles of the time, His Royal purpose hath not got a final accomplishment, so that diverse Churches are as yet unprovided with sufficient Maintenance, many Teinds unvalued, and diverse other particulars are as yet unperfected; And His Majestie being desirous to prosecute this good Work, for the universal good of the People, and namely for the encouragement of the Ministers of the Gospel, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Doth Ratifie and Approve the nineteenth Act of the Parliament holden at Edinburgh by His Royal Father, in Anno one thousand, six hundred, and thirty three, intituled, Commission for Valuation of Teinds &c. in the whole Heads, Clauses and Contents thereof, except in so far as there hath been any derogation made thereto, by Acts and Commissions made and granted by His Majesty, since the date of the said Act, or granted by pretended Parliaments since and which are Ratified or Salv'd, or to be Reserved by this present Parliament. And His Majestie, with advice and consent foresaid, doth give full power and Commission to the persons aftermentioned, viz. John Earl of Middleton His Majesties Commissioner, William Earle of Glencairn Lord High Chancellor, John Earl of Craufurd and Lindsay Lord Thesaurer, John Earl of Rothie President of His Majesties privy Council, William Duke of Hamilton, James Marquess of Montrose, John Earl of Lauderdaile His Majesties Secretary, William Earl of Marischal, John Earl of Arbuthnot, George Earl of Linlithgow, James Earl of Home, James Earl of Tullibardine, William Earl of Roxburgh, John Earl of Haddington, James Earl of Annandale, William Earl of Dumfries, John Earl of Tweeddale, James Earl of Calendar, John Earl of Dundee, David Viscount of Stoimount, John Lord Sinclair, David Lord Cardros, John Lord Belhaven, Lord Halkerton, William Lord Cochran, William Lord Belleuden, Sir John Gilmor of Craigmiller President of the Session, Sir Archibald Primmer of Chester Knight and Barronet, Clerk of His Majesties Council, Registers and Rolls, Sir John Fletcher His Majesties Advocate, Sir Robert Murray Justice Clerk, Sir James Lockhart of Lce, Sir George Mackenzie of Tarbet, Sir James Foulis of Colington, Sir Archibald Stirling of Carden, Sir James Dalrymple of Stair, Sir John Scougal of Whitekirk, Senators of the Colledge of Justice; Alexander Bruce of Kincairn, Sir John Urquhart of Cromarty, Sir Robert Flecker of Salton, Sir Alexander Gibson of Durie, Sir Robert Innes of that ilk, James Crichton of St. Leonard, George Kinnaird of Rossie, Sir Gilbert Ramsay of Balnayn, John Murray of Pohnais, William Scot of Ardrase, Sir James Dundas of Arnestoun, Sir John Foulis of Ravilston, Richard Murray of Broughton, Sir Robert Hepburn of Keith, Mr. Robert Preston of that ilk, Sir Andrew Ramsay, Sir Robert Murray, Sir Archibald Sydeserf, Sir William Tomson and John Mih Burgesses of Edinburgh, Sir Alexander Wedderburn, & Alexander Wedderburn of Dundee, Mr. John Pater son of Perth, John Bell of Glasgow, William Cunningham of Air, Andrew Glen of Linlithgow, Duncan Nairn of Stirling, Alexander Bruce of Culross, Andrew Carstairs of St. Andrews, and William Seaton of Haddington, Burgesses: Or any thirteen of them, there being alwayes present three Noblemen, three Gentlemen, and three Burgesses, with His Majesties Commissioner, the Lord Chancellor, Lord Thesaurer, Lord President of the Council, Lord Privy Seal, the Lord Secretary, or any one of them, with power to them, or Quorum foresaid, to meet and convene at Edinburgh, or such other place or places, at such times and diets as they shall appoint, to value and cause value whatsoever Teinds great or small, Parsonage or Vicarage, of whatsoever Lands and others within this Kingdom lyable to the payment of Teinds of whatsoever soever nature or quality the same be of which are yet unvalued. Providing the Ministers serving the Cure; who do lead Teinds, be secured of good and thankful payment of so much vitual or money answerable to the worth of the saids Teinds, as the Teinds shall be valued to. And also with power to them to receive reports from Sub-commissioners, and to appoint Sub-commissioners conform to the former Acts and Commissions, to appoint constant and local Stipends, and grant augmentations, to disjoyn too large and spacious Kirks, build and erect new Kirks, dis-member, annexe and unite Kirks, and to take order that every Heritor and Life-renter shall have the leading and buying of their own Teinds, if they be willing, according to the Rates prescribed by former Commissions, namely by the foresaid Commission granted by his Majesty, with consent of the Estates of Parliament, in Anno one thousand six hundred thirty and three. And with power to the saids Commissioners or Quorum foresaid, to give recompence to Parties for the augmentation of Stipends to be imposed by this Commission in the same way as was done by former Commissions, namely by the Commission in Anno 1617. With power to them to determine all Questions concerning the Prices of Teinds betwix Titulars and others having right to the Teinds, and the Heritors: And to appoint such securities in favours of the Titulars and others having right, by the Heritors payers of the valued Duties or buyers of the saids Teinds, and in favours of the Ministers as to their maintenance, as the saids Commissioners shall think fitting, according to the Rules set down in the saids former Acts, namely in the said Act, in Anno one thousand six hundred thirty and three. And suchlike, with power to them to appoint and provide for such other pious uses in each Paroch as the Estate thereof may bear: Declaring, that where the Vicarage of any Paroch is a several Benefice and Title from the Parsonage, the same shall be severally valued, to the effect the Titulars or Ministers serving the Cure, having right to the said Vicarage, be not frustrate of the true worth thereof. It is alwayes Declared, That Ministers serving the Cure, who now lead their Teinds, and that Colledges, Schools and Hospitals be not constrained to sell, set nor dispone their Teinds in prejudice of their Successors notwithstanding of the valuation thereof; and that Titulars and others having right to Teinds, shall not be forced to dispone any Teinds valued or to be valued, which they shall be content and willing to assign and dispo to the Minister serving the Cure of the Paroch as apart of his Provision. And His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Declares, That where valuations are lawfully led against all parties having interest, and allowed by former Commissions, according to the order observed by them, that the same shall not be drawn in question, nor rectified upon the pretence of enorm lesion, at the instance of the Minister, not being Titular; or at the instance of his Majesties Advocate, for and in respect of his Majesties Annuitie: Except it be proved that collusion was used betwix the Titulars and Heritor, or betwix the Procurator-fiscall and Heritors and Titulars; which collusion is Declared to be where the Valuations are led with the diminution of a third of the just Rent; and which diminution shall be proved by the Parties Oaths. And albeir that all the Acts of the pretended Parliaments, in the years one thousand six hundred and fourty, and one thousand six hundred fourty and one, and since; are declared by an Act of this present Parliament, null and of none avail in all time coming; yet it is hereby Declared, That all and whatsoever Valuations, Acts, Sentences and Decrets, done, concluded, and decerned by vertue of any Commissions granted by the saids pretended Parliaments, with all execution used or to be used thereupon, are and shall stand valid in all times coming, notwithstanding of the foresaid Act Rescissory; And this for the good and ease of the People, and for incouragement of the Ministers of the Gospel, whereunto his Majesty hath alwayes a tender respect. And although by a special Act of this present Parliament, the pretended Parliament holden in Anno one thousand six hundred and fourty nine, and in the beginning of the year one thousand six hundred and fifty, is from the beginning Declared void and null, and all that hath followed thereon; Yet nevertheless His Majesty Doth, with advice foresaid, Authorize all Valuations, Acts, Decrets and Sentences led, deduced and pronounced by the Commissions one or moe appointed by the said pretended Parliament, for Plantation of Kirks and Valuation of Teinds, and all execution competent thereupon; Excepting such Decrets and Sentences given in favours of Ministers for their Stipends, or for dividing, uniting, annexing or building of Kirks, which shall be found to have been unjustly or exorbitantly decerned: The determination whereof is hereby referred by his Majesty, with consent foresaid to the saids Commissioners, that they after hearing of parties, and consideration of particulars, may take such course for altering, annulling or allowing of the saids Acts, Decrets, and Sentences, as they shall think fitting, conform to the Laws, Practique and custom observed preceeding the year one thousand six hundred and fourty nine: and Ordains Proccesse upon Supplications to be summarily granted, parties alwayes being cited, and that without any reduction. And it shall be lawful to the saids Commissioners or Quorum foresaid, to proceed in all Summons and Actions to be intended for that effect, within the space of two years after the first down-fitting of the Commission. As also, with power to the saids Commissioners, upon the dependance of the saids Complaints and Proceses to discharge execution upon the foresaid Decrets, in whole or in part, as they shall find just, ay and while the matter be determined by them. As also in respect that by diverse Decrets pronounced by the saids Commissioners appointed by the said Commission, in Anno one thousand six hundred and fourty nine, the burden of an Augmentation was put upon diverse Tacks-men of Teinds, and yet no recompence was made to them by prorogating of the saids Tacks; in regard also that diverse Registers of Commissions, preceeding the year one thousand six hundred and fourty nine, are lost, whereby Prorogations were granted in favours of Tacks-men, and the Extracts also perished the time of the Troubles: Therefore his Majesty, with consent foresaid, Gives power to the saids Commissioners, or Quorum foresaid, appointed by this Commission, to grant recompence and prorogation to the saids Tackl-men, in the same manner as was prescribed by the former Commissions, namely by the Commission in Anno one thousand, six hundred, and seventeen, the Titulars alwayes being cited thereto. And whereas it may fall out that some of the saids Commissioners now appointed, may be unable to attend the service, through death, sickness, or some other notour and known impediment. Therefore His Majesty Declareth, that He shall be careful to fill their places with other persons qualified, whose Oaths for faithful discharge of the same, shall be taken by the Lord Chancellor, or in his absence, by the President of the said Commission for the time: And ordains this present Commission to endure ay and while the same be discharged by His Majesty; and Ordains the Acts, Decrees and Ordinances thereof, to have the force, strength and effect of a Decreet, Sentence and Act of Parliament; and the Lords of the Session to grant and direct Lettters of Horning, Poynding and others requisite, in manner contained in the foresaid former Commissions. And considering that it was the will and pleasure of His Majesties Royal Father, that all Heritors, who should be willing to buy, should have their own Teinds at reasonable Rates; Therefore His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, that all Heritors whose Teinds are not valued, shall have liberty to value and buy the same at such Rates as are contained in the Act of Parliament one thousand, six hundred, and thirty three years. With power to augment the saids Rates according to the burden of Augmentations and others sustained by the Titulars, since the said Act of Parliament one thousand, six hundred, and thirty three years; and the saids Heritors to have the liberty of buying, as said is, within the space of three years after the valuation. With power to the saids Commissioners to determine therein according to Justice; with this Declaration alwayes, That in case the impediment during the space foresaid, flow from the Titular, by reason of his minority or other inability, in that case, the Heritor who offered himself ready to buy his own Teind within the space foresaid, shall have place, so soon as the impediment is removed, to buy his Teinds, notwithstanding of the expiring of the years and space above exprest. And it is Declared, that if the Heritor be Minor, and his Tutors neglect the buying of his Teinds within the foresaid space, the Minor shall have Action for two years after his minority, to compel the Titular for selling of the saids Teinds.

XLII.

ACT for ordering the payment of Debts, betwixt Creditor and Debitor.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, considering how necessary and essential it is to the very being and flourishing of Kingdoms and Nations, that there should be a National confidence among the people themselves, and with these of other Nations with whom they have correspondence and traffick abroad; and that the most effectual and proper way to beget, cement, and maintain the same, is, that Promises, Pactions, Obligments and Debts be faithfully performed and satisfied, without which there can be no trust, and consequently no society, intercourse and commerce at home, and all Trade and Traffick with other Nations will certainly decay and cease, to the irreparable loss, ruine and discredit of the Nation: Yet, the troubles and difficulties of the time being so great, that it is fit some breathing time and encouragement should be given to the Debtors, for the better enabling them to keep their credit, and to take some effectual course for payment of their Debts. Therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That for all Sums and Debts contracted before the reatm of Whitfunday, one thousand, six hundred, and fifty eight years, and exceeding one thousand pounds Scots of principal, personal execution shall be forborne by the space of six years, to begin at Whitfunday last by-past, in this instant year, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty one; Providing that the Debtors make payment of one yeats Annual-rent at Candlemesse next, in the year one thousand, six hundred, and sixty two, and that the residue of the by-gone Annualrents of the saids Sums resting unpaid at Whitfunday next, shall become and be made a principal Sum, and the Debitor shall give security for the same to these who have right to the by-gone Annualrents, when they take the benefit of the foresaid forbearance, in manner after-mentioned; or at any other time that the same shall be demanded: Which Security to be granted for the said by-gone Annualrents, made up in a principal Sum, shall bear obligation to pay Annualrent for the same, in manner and from the terms after-specified, viz. For a third part thereof, from Whitfunday next, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty two years; and for an other third part, from Martmessé thereafter, in the said year, and for the last third part, from Whitfunday, in the year one thousand, six hundred, and sixty three, during the not payment of the said principal Sum so made up, for which, personal execution is to be forborne, as for the other principal Sums, by the space aforesaid of six years after Whitfunday last. And without prejudice of the Security to be granted in manner foresaid, It is also Declared and Ordained, that the said by-gone Annualrents, are made up, and shall be holden and esteemed principal Sums; And that Annualrents shall be due and payable for the same from the terms and in manner foresaid, and that execution shall follow at the instance of those who have right right to the same, upon and by virtue of their Bonds, Contracts and Rights, and of this present Act and Ordinance, in the same manner as if a new Security were already granted in manner and of the tenour above-written.

And notwithstanding of the Premises, It is hereby Declared, that the Lords of Session shall have power to grant and passe Suspensions for Sums not exceeding one thousand pounds, upon such reasons as they shall think just.

And where those who have right to by-gone Annualrents are only Liferenters, and have no right to the stock and principal Sum, It is Ordained, that it shall be lawful to them to use execution for the whole by-gone Annualrents due to them, as they might have done before the making of these Presents; and that the saids Lords of Session shall have power to grant and passe Suspensions against the saids Liferenters, in case they shall find just grounds and cause for granting of the same.

It is likewise Provided, that the benefit of the said forbearance, shall only be granted and competent to such Debtors, as shall pay the said years Annualrent, within the time foresaid, and shall betwixt and the first day of November, compare before any of the Lords of Session with the Clerk, and declare before them upon Oath, that their Debts exceeds the value of Four years Rent of their Estate, pertaining to, and possess by them: which Declaration, extracted under the hand of the Clerk of Register, or his Deputies, shall be a sufficient Security against Personal execution: And for which Extract, the Clerk Register and his Deputies shall have for their Fees the sum of thirty three shillings four pennies Scots, and no more. And it is Declared, that all persons, who shall not by themselves, or their Tutors or Curators, appear and declare within the time, and in manner foresaid, shall be excluded from the benefit of the foresaid forbearance, and shall never be reponed or admitted thereafter, upon any pretext whatsoever.

And the benefit of the foresaid Forbearance being granted to the Debtors, or any of their Cautioners, upon the compareance and declaration foresaid, shall only be personal for them and their Heirs and others representing them, and shall not be extended to those who are bound with them, and lyable to the saids Debts, unless they also compare and declare, that their own proper Debts and Cautionry for persons who have taken the benefit of this Act, exceeds the value of Four years Rent of their Estate, and that within the time and in manner foresaid.

And for the more ease of the Debtors, It is Ordained, that in case within the time of the Forbearance foresaid, the Debtor shall offer to the Creditor a part of his Debt, not being beneath or within the third part of the whole Sums due by them to the Creditor for the time, the Creditor in that case, shall be holden to accept of the said partial payment: and in case of his refusal, offer being made of a part of the saids Sums, not within the proportion foresaid, in presence of a Notary and Witnesses, the Debtor, upon consignation of the same in the hands of the Clerk of the Bills; shall be free of the Annualrent of that part of the said Sum that shall be consigned, in all time coming after the consignation foresaid.

And whereas the legal reversion of Comprisings was formerly limited to seven years, His Majesty, for the reasons and with consent foresaid, is graciously pleased to extend the same to ten years in all time coming; and Statutes and Ordains, that all Comprisings already deduced, and whereof the legal reversion is not yet expired, or which shall be deduced any time hereafter, shall be redeemable within the space of ten years after the date of the same; and all comprisings deduced since January, one thousand, six hundred, and fifty two years, and whereof the legals are expired, and all comprisings deduced before the said Moneth of January, one thousand, six hundred, and fifty two years, and which were not expired before the said Moneth of January, one thousand, six hundred, and fifty two years, shall be redeemable within the space of three years, after Whitsunday now last by past, notwithstanding the legal reversions of the same be now expired.

And in case the Lands and others comprised, exceed in yearly Rent and value, the Annualrent of the Sums contained in the saids Comprisings, and of the expence disbursed in obtaining Infestments thereupon, and the Debtor shall desire the Creditor to possess the Lands and others comprised, it shall be lawful to the Lords of Session, like-as the saids Lords are hereby impowered and authorized, upon a Supplication to be made to them by the Debtor, and citation of the comprisers, to appoint the Apprifiers to possess such of the saids Lands and others, during the legal reversion, as the saids Lords of Session shall think just and reasonable; the saids Debtors always giving possession to those who have right to the saids Comprisings, and ratifying their possession already apprehended by them (if any such possession they have) of such of the saids Lands and others, as the saids Lords of Session appoint, not being beneath in yearly Rent and value of the Annualrents above-mentioned; or otherways giving to the Creditors (whether they have possession or not) sufficient security, at the sight of the saids Lords, for payment of the saids Annualrents, during the time foresaid; the saids Lords of Session having always power to determine, whether in the cases foresaid the Debtor shall give surety to the Creditor, for his Annualrents, or the Debtor not being able to give surety, the Creditor shall be obliged to take possession of the Debtors Lands. And if the Lords of Session shall appoint, in the case foresaid, the Creditor to be possess for his Annual-rent, then and in that case, the Debtor shall be holden to deliver the Evidents of the saids Lands to the Creditor, or transmits thereof, providing always, that the Creditors right, by virtue of the saids Comprisings, be noways prejudged after the expiring of the same; And

And that the whole Lands and others, both such as shall be possessed by the Debitor, and the remanent of the Lands and others contained in the saids Comprisings, shall pertain to the Creditor irredeemably.

And because oftentimes Creditors, in regard they live at distance, or upon other occasions, are prejudged and prevented by the more tedious diligence of other Creditors, so that before they can know the condition of the common Debitor, his Estate is comprised, and the posterior Comprisers have only right to the Legal reversion, which may, and doth often prove ineffectual to them, not being able to satisfy and redeem the prior Comprisings: (their means and money being in the hands of the common Debitor) Therefore it is Statute and Ordained, that all Comprisings, deduced since the first day of January, one thousand, six hundred, and fifty two years, before the first effectual Comprising, or after, one thousand year and day of the same, shall come in pari passu together, as if one Comprising had been deduced and obtained for the whole respective Sums, contained in the forefaids Comprisings. And it is Declared, that such Comprisings as are preferable to all others in respect of the first real Right and Infestment following thereupon, or the first exact diligence for obtaining the same, are and shall beholden the first effectual Comprising, though there be others in date before and anterior to the same; and the forefaid benefit given and introduced hereby, in favours of these whose Comprisings are led within the time, and in manner forefaid, is only granted and competent in the case of Comprisings, led since the first day of January, one thousand, six hundred, and fifty two years, and to be led after the date of their presents, and for personal Debt only, without prejudice alwayes of ground Annuals, Annualrents due upon Infestment, and other real Debts, and Debita fundi, and of comprisings therefore of Lands and others affected therewith, which shall be effectual and preferable according to the Laws and Practick of this Kingdom now standing; And it is also provided, that the Creditors having right to the first comprising, except as is above excepted, shall be satisfied by the posterior comprisers, claiming the benefit forefaid, of the whole expence disbursed by them, in deducing and expeding the said first comprising and Infestments thereupon.

And further, for obviating the frequent and fraudulent practice of the appearand Heirs of Debtors, who are in use to acquire the right of expired comprisings, and by vertue thereof, to enjoy and possess their Predecessors Lands and Estate, to the prejudice and defrauding of the posterior comprisings and other Creditors, It is Statute, that in case the appearand Heir of any Debitor, or any other confident person to his behoof, shall at any time hereafter acquire the right of an expired comprising, already deduced, or which shall be led and deduced hereafter, the said right shall be redeemable from the appearand Heir, or the said confident person their Heirs and Successors within the space of ten years, after the acquiring of the said right, by the posterior comprisers, upon payment allanerly of the Sums truly paid and given out, for buying and acquiring the saids rights, at the least so much thereof as shall be testifying unsatisfied, for the same, by the intromission of the appearand Heir, or of the said confident person, or their forefaids.

And His Majestie, with consent forefaid, doth Declare, That the benefit forefaid introduced hereby anent Comprisings, shall be extended to Adjudications for Debt; so that the Creditors, at whose instance the same are obtained, and those who have right to redeem the same, shall be in the same case as to the benefit forefaid, as if the said Adjudications for Debts were Comprisings.

And in case a Creditor, against whom the benefit of the forefaid forbearance for six years shall be taken, or who hath led or shall lead a Comprising against the Debitor, shall think fit, and be willing, and desirous to take his Debtors Lands, or other Estate, or any part thereof for security or payment, and in satisfaction of his Debt, then and in either of these cases, the Debitor shall be holden to give Security out of his Lands, and other Estate, or to sell the same to the Creditor, at the sight of the Lords of Session, with such warrantize, and at such rates and prices (if the Creditor be content to buy) as they shall appoint; with certification, that otherwayes the Debitor, refusing or failing, shall lose and forfeit all benefit introduced in favours of the Debtors by this present Act, as if it had never been made.

And in regard some persons may have taken advantage of the late times and troubles, by taking and acquiring of proper Wodfets of Lands and others, exceeding the Annual-rent of the Sums lent upon the same; and providing nevertheless, by the right of the forefaids Wodfets and expresse provisions therein, or by writ a part, that they should not be lyable to any hazard of the Fruits, Tennents, War, or Troubles; His Majestie, with consent forefaid, Statutes and Ordains, that all such Wodfets, granted since the year one thousand, six hundred, and fourty nine, shall be restricted to the ordinary Annual-rent of the Sums whereupon the same are redeemable; and the saids Wodfeters shall be countable for the superplus of the Mails and Duties and other benefit of the same, exceeding the Annual-rent of the saids Sums, and the same shall be imputed and ascribed, in satisfaction of the saids principal Sums pro tanto: And in case any such Bargains and Rights shall be made and acquired hereafter, His Majestie, with consent forefaid, Declares the same unlawful and usury, and the contraveeners shall be punished severely as Uirers, conform to the Lawes and Acts of Parliament against Oekerers and Userers.

And as to proper Wodfers, granted since the time forefaid, where the Creditor undergoes the saids hazards, and the same are affected with the ordinar provisions and clausies irritant, in case of not payment of the sums given out and due upon the saids Wodfets, at the tearmes and in manner mentioned in the saids

Rights:

Rights: albeit the saids Wodfets and Provisions be lawful; yet His Majesty, considering and having respect to the difficulties of the times, Statutes and Ordains, with consent foresaid, That the saids Clauses irritant, shall not take away the Heritors right, they alwayes redeeming within the space of five years after Whit-sunday last: And in case the Debtors conceive, that they have dis-advantage by the said proper Wodfets, and shall desire to redeem the same, it shall be lawful to them to redeem at any term of Whitunday or Martimasse they please, notwithstanding of any provision to the contrair in the said Wodfet-rights, or any other right apart suspending the redemption thereof. Like-as it is Declared, That the clauses of requisition contained in proper Wodfets, granted since the year one thousand, six hundred, forty nine years, shall be effectual and no wayes suspended nor prejudged hereby: But prejudice alwayes to the forbearance of personal execution in manner above-written. And where the Creditors and Wodfettors have transacted with their Debtors, and have acquired irredeemable rights, for, and in place of their former Wodfets, it is Ordained and Declared, That when, and at what time soever the saids Wodfets were granted, whether before or since the year one thousand, six hundred, and fifty years, the saids transactions and irredeemable rights acquired by the Creditor for the same, are and shall be valid and effectual, and shall no wayes be prejudged by these presents.

And further His Majesty, with consent foresaid, doth Declare, That in case any Debtors have by Voluntar agreement betwixt them and their Creditors, or any of them, renounced the benefit of any Acts of this nature, concerning Debtor and Creditor, made or to be made, the said agreement shall be of force and effectual, and shall not be prejudged hereby; without prejudice alwayes to the said Debtor of the prorogation foresaid of the Legal reversions of comprisings led and deduced against them; and not as yet expired, notwithstanding of the agreement and renunciation foresaid.

And because, before the year one thousand, six hundred and fifty, when money past at eight or ten per cent, divers proper Wodfets were then made and granted, and are yet unredeemed; and since the beginning of January, one thousand, six hundred, and fifty, there be divers persons, who taking advantage of the times, refused to lend their money, unless they got proper Wodfets of Lands and Teinds, at extraordinary advantages, to the heavy prejudice of the Debtors: Therefore, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, That in time coming, during the not requisition of the Sums whereupon the saids Wodfets are redeemable, and during the not redemption of the same respectively, if the Debtors shall give sufficient Security to the Wodfetter, for payment of his Annualrent, during the not redemption, or not requisition, as said is; In that case, the Creditors-Wodfetter, shall be holden to renounce and quyt his possession of the saids Lands and Teinds, in favours of the Debtor and others having right from him; At least if the Wodfetter shall be content to retain the possession of the same; In that case all the free Profits and Rents, which he shall have or uplift out of the saids Lands, shall be restricted to six per cent. yearly of free money, and the Wodfetter shall be countable to the Debtor, or others having right from him, for the superplus; and that without prejudice of the Wodfettors real Right and Infelement, ay and while the Lands be redeemed, and the principal Sum whereupon the same is redeemable shall be satisfied. It is alwayes provided, that where any Creditor hath had loss by his possession of the Wodfet-lands and others since the date of his Wodfet, So that he hath not received as much Free Rents as, communibus annis, hath extended to the Annualrent allowed by Law for the time, all charges and burdens being deduced; in that case, it is provided that the Wodfetter shall be first satisfied of what he wants before he quyt his possession of the said Wodfet-lands, or be holden to accept Security for his Annualrents: And it is Declared, that in the account of the Wodfettors by-gone loss, there shall be allowed what he hath disbursed upon reparation and building of Tennents houles, Milnes, and for the advantage of the ground; and generally all other expence which the Wodfetter was put to, and what loss he sustained in reference to the saids Wodfet-lands, Rights and Securities thereof, any manner of way; and what he hath lost by Quarterings, Cefs, waste Land, depauperated Tennents, or by Tennents who were or are not able to pay, unless the ground should be casten waste: And because the Wodfettors probation of his saids loss may be difficile, he not conceiving that there should be necessity for any such count, or that there should be any alteration made in the right and possession of his proper Wodfet, Therefore His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth allow the Lords of Session to take such reasonable probation as in equity they shall think fit; And if there be any deficiency, to take the Wodfettors Oath in supplement; and where the Wodfetter is in natural possession of the Wodfet-lands, by dwelling thereon or labouring the same with his own Plough and Goods, or otherwayes, having the same plenished with his saids Goods, in that case, he shall not be holden to remove from his said possession, but at the ordinary term of removing, and that he be lawfully warned forty days before, and after sufficient Security shall be made to him, in manner above specified, before the said warning.

And His Majesty having granted so much favour, benefit and indulgence to Debtors, as the like cannot be thown to have been granted at any time in this Kingdom, doth Declare, Statute and Ordain, That the Laws and Practick of the Kingdom, concerning Debts and payment thereof, and diligence & execution for the same, and concerning proper Wodfets, where the Creditor-wodfetter hath the hazard of Fruits, Tennents, War and others, shall be observed inviolably, and be of full force, vigor and effect in all time coming, excepting so far as the same is altered, innovat and repealed by this present Act.

LXIII.

Act Salvo jure cujuslibet.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, taking to consideration, that there be many Acts of Ratification and others, past and made in this Session of Parliament, in favours of particular persons, without calling or hearing of such as may be thereby concerned and prejudged. Therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all such particular Acts, and Acts of Ratification, past in manner foresaid, shall not prejudice any third party of their lawful rights, nor of their actions and defences competent thereupon before the making of the saids particular Acts, and Acts of Ratifications; and that the Lords of Session and all other Judges within this Kingdom, shall be obliged to judge betwixt parties according to their several rights, standing in their persons before the making of the saids Acts. All which are hereby expounded and declared to have been made, Salvo jure cujuslibet.

ACT for the Restitution and Re-establishment of the Ancient Government of the Church by Arch-bishops and Bishops.

SO RASMUCH as the ordering and disposal of the external Government and policy of the Church, doth properly belong unto his Majesty, as an inherent right of the Crown, by vertue of his Royal Prerogative and Supremacy in causes Ecclesiastical. And in discharge of this Trust, his Majesty, and his Estates of Parliament, taking to their serious consideration, that in the beginning of, and by, the late Rebellion within this Kingdom, in the year, one thousand, six hundred and thirty seven, the ancient and sacred order of Bishops was cast off, their Persons and rights were injured and overturned, and a seeming parity among the Clergy factiously and violently brought in, to the great disturbance of the publick Peace, the reproach of the reformed Religion, and violation of the excellent Laws of the Realm, for preserving an orderly subordination in the Church: And therewithal considering, what disorders ders and exorbitances have been in the Church, what encroachments upon the Prerogative and Rights of the Crown, what usurpations upon the Authority of Parliaments, and what prejudice the liberty of the Subject hath suffered by the invasions made upon the Bishops and Episcopal Government, which they find to be the Church-Government, most agreeable to the word of God, most convenient and effectual for for the preservation of Truth, Order and Unity, and most suitable to Monarchy and the Peace and Quiet of the State. Therefore, His Majesty with advice and consent of his Estates of Parliament, hath thought it necessary, and accordingly doth hereby Redintegrat the State of Bishops to their ancient places and undoubted privileges in parliament, and to all their other accustomed Dignities, privileges and Jurisdictions; and doth hereby Restore them to the exercise of their Episcopal Function, precedence in the Church, power of Ordination, inflicting of Censures, and all other Acts of Church-discipline, which they are to perform, with advice and assistance of such of the Clergy as they shall find to be of known loyalty and prudence. And, his Majesty with advice foresaid, doth Revive, Ratify and Renew all Acts of any former Parliaments, made for the establishment, and in favours of this ancient Government. And doth Ratify and approve all Acts and Proclamations emitted by his Majesty or His Privy Council, since the first day of June last, in order to the restitution of Bishops. And further it is hereby Declared, that whatever shall be determined by his Majesty, with advice of the Arch-bishops and Bishops, and such of the Clergy as shall be nominated by his Majesty, in the external Government and Policy of the Church (the same consisting with the standing Laws of the Kingdom) shall be valide and effectual. And his Majesty, considering how necessary it is, that all doubts and scruples, which from former Acts or Practices may occur to any concerning this sacred Order, be cleared and removed, Doth therefore, of certain knowledge, and with advice foresaid, Rescind, Cass and Annul all Acts of Parliament, by which the sole and only power and jurisdiction within this Church, doth stand in the Church, and in the general, provincial and presbyterial Assemblies, and Kirk-Sessions; And all Acts of Parliament or Council which may be interpreted to have given any Church-power, Jurisdiction or Government, to the Office-bearers of the Church, their respective Meetings, other then that which acknowledgeth a dependance upon, and subordination to the sovereign Power of the King, as Supream; and which is to be regulated and authorized, in the exercise thereof, by the Arch-bishops and Bishops who are to be referred to all Ecclesiastical matters and causes, and to be accountable to his Majesty for their Administrations. And particularly, his Majesty with advice foresaid, doth Rescind and Annul the first Act of the twelfth Parliament of King James the sixth, holden in the year, one thousand, five hundred and ninety two, and Declares the same, and all the heads, clauses and articles thereof, void and null, in all time coming. And His Majesty, considering, that the Jurisdiction of the Commissaries is a proper part of the Rights and Privileges belonging to the Bishops, Doth therefore, with advice foresaid, Restore the Arch-bishops and Bishops to their said jurisdiction of Commissaries, according to the sixth Act of the Parliament, one thousand, six hundred and nine, which is hereby Ratified and Renewed: And accordingly Ordains, that in all time coming the Quotes of Testaments be payed in to the Arch-Bishops and Bishops; in their respective Dioceses, as formerly; and Rescinds and Annuls the twenty eight Act of the last Session of this present Parliament, anent the Quotes of Testaments, and declares the same void in all time coming. It is always hereby Declared, that this Act is without Prejudice of the present Commissaries, their Clerks and Fiscals, their enjoying their Places and benefits thereof, conform to their Gifts and Laws of this Kingdom; unless, for their insufficiency or misdemeanors, they be found incapable of the same. Further, His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, That no Act, Gift, or Deed, passed by whatsoever Authority, since the interruption of the Government by Arch-bishops and Bishops, in the year one thousand, six hundred and thirty seven, to the prejudice of their Rights, Patronages, Admiralties, Superiorities, Rents, Possessions and Jurisdictions pertaining to the several Bishopricks, stand valide or be in force. But that the saids Arch-bishops and Bishops may have their Claim, Right and Possession, for the year one thousand, six hundred, and sixty one, and all years following, to whatsoever was possessed by, or by the Laws of the Kingdom was due to their Predecessors in anno, one thousand, six hundred, and thirty seven; and that notwithstanding of any donation or rights made to Colledges, Churches, Corporations, Ministers, or any other persons, since the year one thousand, six hundred, and thirty seven, by whatsoever Order, Deed or Warrant, excepting as is aforesaid, in favours of Commissaries, Clerks and Fiscals: And whereas, divers persons having right to Lands, Annualrents, or some other estate holden formerly of Bishops, or who had succeeded or acquired Rights to the saids Lands, and others of the nature and holding foresaid, have been forced, during the late troubles, there being no other way or superior for the time, to obtain themselves in feft therein, holden of His Majesty or his Royal Father, or of their Donators, having right for the time; and to that effect did take Precepts out of the Chancery, and to pass Infeftments under the great Seal, and to obtain Precepts and Charters from the saids other persons who had right to their Superiorities for the time. And His Majesty being graciously pleased, that such Rights and Infeftments as, for the time, were necessary and of course taken and past in manner foresaid, should not be prejudged; Therefore it is statute and declared, That all persons, who, since the beginning of the Troubles, in the year one thousand, six hundred and thirty eight, are entered or in feft by his Majesty or his Royal Father, by the pretended Authority for the time; or any other person having right from them in any Land or Estate holden immediately of the Bishops before the saids troubles, shall now hold the same of the Arch-bishops and Bishops, their lawful Superiors, in the same manner as they, their Predecessors and Authors, held the same before the late troubles.

bles. And it is Declared, That neither this nor any other Act of the last or present Session of this Parliament, shall prejudice any Retours, Signators, Charters, Precepts, Infeiments, Seizings of Lands, Annualrents, or any other Estate holden immediatly of Bishops, whereby the same are retoured, or Infeiments of the same are taken to be holden of the King or his Donators since the time foresaid, upon Retours, Resignations, Comprisings, Adjudications, or by way of confirmation, or Precepts of clare constat or otherways; which Infeiments being orderly past as they ought to have been for the time, with the Retours, Signators and other Warrands of the same, His Majestie with consent foresaid, doth Ratifie and approve, and Declares to be valide Rights, as if the same had been granted or renewed by the saids Arch-bishops or Bishops. It is alwayes Declared, that the Declaration and Ratification foresaid, shall not be extended to any new Gift or Grant, or any other Clause or Right contained in the saids Infeiments or Signators, or other Warrands of the same, whereby any new Gift or original Right of the saids Lands and others are given, or the Right of the same is granted or conveyed otherways then conform to the Rights and Infeiments thereof, before the time afore said. Likas it is Declared, That the said Ratification and Declaration foresaid, shall not corroborat or import any Ratification of the saids Vassals their former Rights, which are to be in the same case as they were in the beginning of the saids troubles, in the year foresaid; In regard it is His Majesties intention; likewise it is Declared by His Majesty, with consent foresaid, That the Arch-Bishops and Bishops shall be, as to their Patrimony and Rents, in the same case and condition as they were in the year foresaid, notwithstanding of whatsoever Acts of the pretended Parliaments, since the time foresaid, to the contrair; And notwithstanding of whatsoever Rights, Grants or Deeds flowing from, or depending upon, or done or granted by vertue of any Act or Acts of the said pretended Parliaments, which His Majesty with consent foresaid, doth Declare, Decern and Determine to be void and null, except in so far as is reserved and ratified in manner abovewritten. It is hereby Declared, That this Act of Restitution shall give no Right to any of the saids Arch-Bishops or Bishops, or their Successors, nor to the Heirs or Executors of the deceased Bishops, of any Rents belonging to the Arch-bishopricks or Bishopricks preceeding the year, one thousand, six hundred and sixty one, after the said year one thousand, six hundred and thirty eight; but that all the saids Rents intromitted with by, and pertaining to, such persons as had right thereto for the time, and wherewith they have or might have intromitted, shall be secured to them. As also, all such persons who, bona fide, have made payment of their Few-dues, Teinds and Teind-dues, and others Rents of their Bishopricks, are and shall be also secured, for bygones allannerly, free of any action or question, notwithstanding of this present Act or any thing therein contained.

*ACT for preservation of His Majesties Person, Authority

THE Estates of Parliament taking into their consideration, the miseries, confusions, bondage and oppressions, this Kingdom hath groaned under since the year, one thousand, six hundred, and thirty seven, with the causes and occasions thereof, Do with all humble duty and thankfulness acknowledge His Majesties unparallel'd grace and goodness, in passing by the many miscarriages of His Subjects, and restoring the Church and State to their ancient Liberties, Freedom, Rights and Possessions; and the great Obligations thereby lying upon them to expresse all possible care and zeal in the preservation of His Majesties Person, (in whose honour and happiness consisteth the good and welfare of His people) and in the security and establishment of His Royal Authoritie and Government, against all such wicked attempts and practices for the time to come. And since the rise and progress of the late troubles, did, in a great measure proceed from some treasonable and seditious positions infused into the people, That it was lawfull to Subjects, for Reformation, to enter into Covenants and Leagues, or to take up Arms against the King, or those Commissionated by Him, and suchlike: And that manie wilde and rebellious courses were taken and practised in pursuance thereof, by unlawful meetings and gatherings of the people, by murinous and tumultuarie petitions, by insolent and seditious Protestations against His Majesties Royal and just Commands, by entering into unlawful Oaths and Covenants, by usurping the name and power of Council Tables, and Church Judicatories, after they were by His Majesty discharged, by treasonable Declarations, that His Majesty was not to be admitted to the exercise of his Royal power, untill he should grant their unjust desires and approve their wicked practices, by rebellious rising in Arms against his Majesty and such as had Commission from Him; And by the great countenance, allowance and encouragement given to these pernicious courses by the multitude of seditious Sermons, Libels and Discourses, preached, printed and published in defence thereof. And considering, that as the presentage is not fully freed of those Distempers, so posterity may be apt to relapse therein, if timely remeid be not provided. Therefore the King's Majesty and Estates of Parliament liament do Declare, that these positions, That it is lawful to subjects, upon pretence of Reformation, or other pretence whatsoever, to enter into Leagues and Covenants, or to take up Arms against the King; or that it is lawful to subjects, pretending His Majesties Authority, to take up Arms against His Person or those commissioned by Him, or to suspend Him from the exercise of His Royal Government, or to put limitations upon their due obedience and allegiance, Are Rebellious and Treasonable: And that all these Gatherings, Convocations, Petitions, Protestations and Erecting and keeping of Council-tables, that were used in the beginning, and for carrying on, of the late troubles, and keeping lawful and seditious: And particularly, that these Oaths, whereof the one was commonly called The National Covenant, (as it was sworn and explained in the year one thousand, six hundred and thirty eight, and thereafter) and the other entituled, A Solemn League and Covenant, were, and are against the fundamental Laws and Liberties of the same; and that there lyeth no obligation upon any of the Subjects from the saids Oaths, or either of them, to endeavour any change or alteration of Government either in Church or State; And therefore Annuls all Acts and Constitutions, Ecclesiastical or Civil, approving the said pretended National Covenant, or League and Covenant, or making any interpretations of the same or either of them. And also it is hereby Declared by his Majesty and Estates of Parliament, That the pretended Assembly, kept at Glasgow in the year one thousand, six hundred, and thirty eight, was in it self (after the same was by His Majesty discharged, under the pain of treason) an unlawful and seditious Meeting; and that all Acts, Deeds, Sentences, Orders or Decrees past therein, or by virtue of any pretended Authority from the same, were in themselves from the beginning, are now, and in all time coming, to be reputed unlawful, void and null: And that all Ratifications or Confirmations of the same, past by whatsoever Authority or in whatsoever Meetings, shall from henceforth be void and null. Like-as, His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, reflecting on the sad consequences of these rebellious courses, and being careful to prevent the like for the future, have therefore Statute and Ordained, and by these presents Statutes and Ordains, That if any person or persons shall hereafter plot, contrive or intend death or destruction to the Kings Majesty, or any bodily harm tending to death or destruction, or any restraint upon His Royal Person, or to deprive, depose or suspend Him from the stile, Honour and Kingly Name of the Imperial Crown of this Realm, or any others His Majesties Dominions, or to suspend Him from the exercise of His Royal Government, or to levy War or take up Arms against His Majesty or any commissioned by Him, or shall entice any strangers or others to invade any of His Majesties Dominions; and shall by writing, printing, preaching or other malicious and advised speaking, express or declare such their treasonable intentions, every such person or persons, being upon sufficient probation legally convicted thereof, shall be deemed, declared and adjudged Traitors, and shall suffer forfeiture of life, honour, lands and goods as in cases of high Treason. And further, it is by His Majesty and Estates of Parliament Declared, Statute and Enacted, That if any person or persons shall, by Writing, Printing, Praying, Preaching, Libelling, Remonstrating, or by any malicious and advised speaking, express, publish or declare any words or sentences to stir up the people to the hatred or dislike of His Majesties Royal Prerogative & Supremacy in causes Ecclesiastick, or of the Government of the Church by Archbishops and Bishops as it is now settled by Law, or to Justifie any of the deeds, actings, practices or things above-mentioned and declared against by this present Act, that every such person or persons so offending, and being, as said is, Legally convicted thereof, are hereby declared incapable to enjoy or exercise any place or employment, Civil, Ecclesiastical or Military, within this Church and Kingdom, and shall be liable to such further pains as are due by the Law in such cases; Provided alwayes, that no person be proceeded for any of the offences aforesaid, contained in this Act, (other then these that are declared to be high Treason) unless it be by order from His Majesty, or by order of His Privy Council for the time; neither shall they incur any of the penalties above-mentioned, unless they be pursued within eight Moneths after the offence committed, and sentenced thereupon within four Moneths after the intending of the Process. And it is also Declared, That if his Majesty grant His pardon to any person convicted for any of the offences contained in this present Act; After such pardon, the party pardoned shall be restored to all intents and purposes, as if he had never been pursued nor convicted, any thing in this Act to the contrary, notwithstanding.

III.

Act concerning such Benefices and Stipends as have been possessed without presentations from the lawful PATRONS.

THE Kings most Excellent Majesty being desirous, that all His good Subjects may be sensible of the happy effects and fruits of the Royal Government, by a free, peaceable and safe enjoyment of their due interests and properties under His protection; and that in His restitution they may find themselves restored to these Rights, which by Law were secured unto them, and by the violence and injustice of these late troubles and confusions have been wrested from them: And considering, that notwithstanding the right of Patronages be duly settled and established by the ancient and fundamental Laws and Constitutions of this Kingdom; Yet, divers Ministers in this Church have, and do possess Benefices and Stipends in their respective Cures without any Right or Presentation to the same from the Patrons. And it being therefore most just, that the lawful and undoubted Patrons of Kirks be restored to the possession of the Rights of their respective Advocations, Donations and Patronages; Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth Statute and Ordain, That all these Ministers who entered to the Cure of any paroch in Burgh or Land within this Kingdom, in or since the year one thousand, six hundred and fourty nine (at and before which time the patrons were most injuriously dispossessed of their patronages) have no right unto, nor shall receive, uplift nor possess the rents of any Benefice, modified Stipend, Manse or Gleib for this present crop, one thousand, six hundred and sixty two, nor any year following, but their places, Benefices and Kirks are, ipso jure, vacant. Yet, His Majesty, to evidence His willingness to pass by and cover the miscarriages of His people, Doth, with advice foresaid, Declare, That this Act shall not be prejudicial to any of these Ministers in what they have possessed, or is due to them, since their admission: And that every such Minister who shall obtain a presentation from the lawful patron, and have Collation from the Bishop of the Diocese where he liveth, betwixt and the twentieth of September next to come, shall from thenceforth have right to, and enjoy his Church, Benefice, Manse and Gleib, as fully and freely as if he had been lawfully presented and admitted thereto at his first entry, or as any other Minister within the Kingdom doth or may do. And for that end, it is hereby Ordained, That the respective patrons shall give presentations to all the present Incumbents, who in due time shall make application to them for the same. And in case any of these Churches shall not be thus duly provided before the said twentieth of September, then the patron shall have freedom to present another betwixt and the twentieth day of March, one thousand, six hundred and sixty three; which if he shall refuse or neglect, the presentation shall then fall to the Bishop, jure devoluto, according to former Laws. And suchlike His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth Statute and Ordain the Archbishops and Bishops to have the power of new Admission and Collation to all such Churches and Benefices as belong to their respective Sees, and which have vaked since the year one thousand, six hundred and thirty seven: And to be careful to plant and provide these their own Kirks conform to this Act.

I V.

A C T concerning Masters of Universities, Ministers, &c.

THE King's most Excellent Majesty, according to the laudable example of His Royal progenitors in former parliaments, Doth, with advice and consent of His Estates convened in this present parliament, Ratifie and Approve all and whatsoever Acts and Statutes heretofore made, concerning the liberty and freedom of the true Church of God, and the Religion now professed and established within this Kingdom: And considering how necessary it is for the advancement of Religion and Learning, for the good of the Church, and peace of the Kingdom, that the Universities, and Colleges be provided and served with professors, principals, Regents and Masters, well affected to His Majesty and the established Government in Church and State; His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Doth Statute, Ordain and Enact, That from this time forth, no Masters, principals, Regents, nor other professors in Universities or Colleges within this Kingdom, be admitted, nor allowed to continue in the exercise of any Function within the same, but such as are of a pious, loyal and peaceable conversation, submitting to, and owing the Government of the Church by Archbishops and Bishops, now settled by Law; and who having given satisfaction therein to the Bishops of the respective Diocesses and patrons, and having, in their presence, taken the Oath of Allegiance, shall procure their attestation of the same; that is to say, the professors and other Masters of the Universities of St. Andrews, Glasgow and Aberdeen, to have the approbation and attestation of the Archbishops and Bishops, who are the respective Chancellors of the said Universities; and the professors and other Masters of the New-toun Colledge in Aberdeen and Colledge of Edinburgh, to have the approbation of the respective patrons, the Earl of Marbair, and Magistrates of Edinburgh and Aberdeen, and an attestation and certificat under the hand of the Bishops of Edinburgh and Aberdeen, respectively, that they have taken the Oath of Allegiance, and that they are persons who submit to, and own the Church-government as now settled by Law. Likewise, His Majesty finding it necessary for the peace and quiet of the Church, that the Ministers be such as will acknowledge, and comply with, the present Government of the same, Doth therefore, with advice foresaid, Statute and Enact, That whatsoever Minister shall, without a lawfull excuse to be admitted by his Ordinarily, absent himself from the visitations of the Diocese, which are to be performed by the Bishop or some of the Ministers to be appointed by him, or from the diocesan Assembly; or who shall not, according to his duty, concur therein, or who shall not give their assistance in all the Acts of Church-discipline, as they shall be required thereunto by the Archbishop or Bishop of the Diocese, every such Minister so offending shall, for the first fault, be suspended from his Office and Benefice till the next diocesan Meeting; and if he amend not, shall be deprived, and the Church and Benefice to be provided as the Law alloweth in other cases cases of Vacancies. And his Majesty considering, that under the pretext of Religious exercises, divers unlawful Meetings and Conventicles (the nurseries of sedition) have been kept in private families; Hath thought fit, with advice foresaid, hereby to Declare, That as he doth, and will, give all due encouragement to the Worship of God in families amongst the persons of the family, and others who shall be occasionally there for the time, so he doth hereby Discharge all private Meetings or Conventicles in houses, which under the pretence of, or for, Religious exercises, may tend to the prejudice of the publick worship of God in the Churches, or to the alienating of the people from their lawful Pastours, and that duty and obedience they owe to Church and State. And it is hereby Ordained, That none be hereafter permitted to preach in publick or in families within any Diocese, or teach any publick School, or to be pedagogues to the children of persons of quality, without the licence of the Ordinary of the Diocese.

V.

ACT concerning the Declaration to be signed by all persons in publick Trust.

FOrasmuch as it hath pleased Almighty God, in His Majesties Restitution to His Royal Government, to restore this Kingdom to its ancient liberties and peace, and to deliver His Majesties good Subjects from these miseries and bondage whereby they have been oppressed, during these troubles; And the Estates of Parliament, finding themselves obliged in a due resentment of this mercy, and in discharge of that duty they owe to God, to the Kings Majesty, to the publick peace of the Kingdom, and the good of His Subjects, To use all means for the due preservation of that peace and happiness they now enjoy under His Royal Government; and to prevent and suppress every thing that may tend to the renewing or favouring of these courses, by which, the late Rebellion hath been fomented and carried on; And conceiving, that the employing of persons of sound principles and intire loyalty, in all offices of Trust and places of publick Administration, will conduce much to these ends: Therefore, and for quieting the spirits of His Majesties good Subjects, and begetting a confidence in them of their security for the future; His Majesty hath thought fit, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, to Statute, Ordain and Enact; Likeas His Majesty, by these presents, doth, with advice foresaid, Statute, Ordain and Enact, That all such persons as shall hereafter be called or admitted to any publick Trust or Office, under His Majesties Government within this Kingdom; that is to say, to be Officers of State, Members of Parliament, privy Counsellors, Lords of Session, Commissioners in Exchequer, Members of the Colledge of Justice, Sheriffs, Stewarts or Commissaries, their Deputs and Clerks, Magistrates and council of Burroughs, Justices of Peace and their Clerks, or any other publick Charge, Office and Trust within this Kingdom; shall at and before their admission to the exercise of such places or Offices, publickly, in face of the respective Courts they relate to, subscribe the Declaration under-written: And that they shall have no right to their said Offices or Benefices thereof, untill they subscribe the same as said is; but that every such person who shall offer to enter and exerce any such Office, before he subscribe the Declaration, is to be reputed and punished as an usurper of His Majesties Authority, and the place to be disposed to another. Likeas His Majesty doth, with advice foresaid, remit to His Commissioner, to take such course as he shall think fit, how these who are presently in Office may subscribe the said Declaration. And it is hereby Declared, that this Act is without prejudice of any former Acts, for taking the Oath of Allegiance and asserting the Royal Prerogative.

I Upon pretence of Reformation or other pretence whatsoever, to enter into Leagues and Covenants, or to take up Armes against the King or those commissioned by Him: And that all these Gatherings, Convocations, Petitions, Protestations, and erecting and keeping of Council-tables, that were used in the beginning, and for carrying on, of the late troubles, were unlawful and seditious. And particularly, that these Oathes, whereof the one was commonly called, The National Covenant, (as it was sworn and explained in the year, one thousand, six hundred and thirtyeight, and thereafter) and the other entituled, A Solemn League and Covenant, were, and are, in themselves unlawful Oaths, and were taken by, and imposed upon, the Subjects of this Kingdom, against the fundamental Laws and Liberties of the same. And that there lyeth no obligation upon me, or any of the Subjects from the saids Oaths, or either of them, to endeavour any change or alteration of the Government, either in Church or State, as it is now established by the Laws of the Kingdom.

VI.

Act for suppressing of Theft, Robberies and Depredations.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD considering, That notwithstanding the many laudable Laws made by His Royal Progenitors, for suppressing of Theft, Robberies, Depredations, &c. Yet some insolent persons have of late, and daily do commit several Out-rages, Thefts and Robberies upon the persons and goods of divers of His Majesties faithful Subjects, to the dishonour of Religion, contempt of His Majesties Authority, and reproach of the Nation. And His Majesty being most willing to remedy these insolencies for the future, that so all His good Subjects may find the fruit and effect of His happy Restauration, in the safe protection of their persons, and secure possession of their goods; Doth therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, That whensoever any Oppressions, Herillips, Reifs, Sornings, Thefts, Robberies or Depredations shall happen to be committed within any part of this Kingdom, by whatsoever person or persons; the owner of the Goods away-taken shall immediately after the way-taking of the same, by himself or some in his name, give intimation thereof to the Sheriff of the Shire or his Deputes, or any of the Justices of Peace or Constables within the Paroch out of which the Goods are taken, as can be most conveniently had; and which Sheriff, Justice of Peace or Constable, shall immediately upon intimation foresaid, under the pain of being lyable in the restitution of the Goods away-taken, or payment of the value thereof, command and require all sensible persons within the said Paroch, to concur and go along with them in the pursute of the said Goods and Way-takers thereof; and which persons are hereby obliged to obey under the pain foresaid. And in case it shall happen the saids Theeves or Robbers, to pass through or rest in any other Paroch where the Justices of Peace, Constables, Heretors, Wodsetters and Fewers within the same are able to stop and oppose the Carrying away of the saids Goods, then and in that case the saids Justices of Peace, Constables, Heretors, Wodsetters and Fewers, shall be themselves, tennants and servants, and such as they can command, make opposition, and seize upon the Goods and Drivers thereof; and shall be obliged upon complaint made to the Sheriff or his Deputes, or any of the saids Justices of Peace, by the owners of the saids Goods or any having power from the owner for that effect, to restore the saids Goods within fifteen dayes after the requiring thereof, and deliver or secure the Drivers and Way-takers thereof, that they may underly the Law. And in case the committers of the foresaid crime be so numerous and powerful that they cannot be stopt and mastered by the inhabitants of the said Paroch, then the saids whole sensible inhabitants shall be obliged, under the pain foresaid, to rise in Arms and follow and pursue them, and require all the sensible persons in any other Paroch they shall happen to pass through to joyn with them (and which persons shall be obliged to do the same, under the pain of being lyable for the Goods or value thereof, as said is) in the prosecution and recovery of the saids Goods, that so the Goods may be restored to the right owners, and the Depredators punished according to Law. It is likewise Statute and Ordained, That if the pursuer of the Goods shall not be able, after all his utmost endeavours, with concurrence aforesaid, to recover the saids Goods and apprehend the Way-takers thereof, then and in that case the respective Heritors, Wodsetters and Fewers within the Paroch wherein the Goods shall be found to have been disposed of or sparpelled, shall be lyable for the value of the saids Goods according to their several interests. And further it is Statute and Ordained, That in case it shall happen the parties whose Goods shall be taken away, or those that are obliged to rise with them in manner foresaid, to slay, hurt or mutilat in the said pursute, any of the Way-takers thereof or their associates; yet notwithstanding they shall never be drawn in question, nor lyable in any pursute, Civil or Criminal, for the said slaughter, mutilation or other hurt, but are hereby as freely remitted as if they had our Sovereign Lords special Commission for that effect. And for the better suppressing of the foresaids Thefts, Robberies and Depredations, and punishing of the persons committers thereof, the Sheriffs in the respective Shires and their Deputes, are hereby strictly required to put in execution the power allowed to them by the former Acts and Laws of the Nation, for pursuing and apprehending Robbers and Theeves, with all other persons who have no certain residence nor known way of livelyhood, and that under the pains contained in the foresaid Acts respective. And for defraying of the saids Sheriffs and their Deputes their charges, and rewarding their pains, the Lands, Goods and Geer of the saids Theeves and Robbers and their Refettors, and the Refettors of such persons as have no certain residence nor known way of livelyhood, as said is, shall be made use of and employed, at least, so much thereof as the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council shall think fit upon consideration of the case.

And further it is Statute and Ordained, That the In-bringer of every Robber and Theef, after he is outlawed and denounced Fugitive, shall have two hundred pounds Scots for every Theef and Robber so apprehended and brought in: And all Sheriffs of Counties and their Deputes, Magistrates of Burghs and Justices of Peace are hereby required to receive the said Theef or Robber off their hands without delay, giving the In-bringer of the said Theef or Robber a receipt thereof under his or their hands: To the end, he may repair to His Majesties Secrer Council, and receive the reward afore-mentioned.

VII.

Act for the allowance of ten thousand pounds Scots, yearly, to the Lords of Session, out of His Majesties Customs.

THE Kings most excellent Majesty taking ro His consideration, how much His own honour, the general good of the Kingdom, and the particular interests of His Subjects, of all ranks within the same, are concerned, in the speedy and equal administration of Justice; and how necessary it is, in order thereunto, that the Senators of the Colledge of Justice, who are the only ordinar supream Judges of this Realm, in all Civil causes, be provided with a competent and futeable allowance for the defraying of the charge and expence they are put to, in their attendance on the discharge of that publick Trust; Hath therefore, out of His princely care, thought fit to grant the saids Senators of the Colledge of Justice, an addition of ten thousand pounds Scots to be payed unto them yearly, and that over and above the former Annuity of ten thousand pounds granted by His Royal Grand-father, in the year one thousand, six hundred, and nine, or what hath been formerly granted to them in this or any other Parliament, or otherwayes doth appertain to them. And His Majesty considering, that this grant will much tend to the profit, advantage and good of His Majesties service and well-fare of His Kingdom, Doth therefore, with advice and consent of his Estates of Parliament, appoint the same to be payed out of the Customs of this Kingdom: And for that end, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, and after mature deliberation had thereupon, dissolves, annuls and instrings from the Crown and Patrimony thereof, the annexation of the Customs of this Realm, in so far as the same may be extended to the said sum of ten thousand pounds, of the first and readiest of the Customs. And now after this dissolution, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, gives, grants, assigns and disposes to the saids ordinar Lords and Senators of the Colledge of Justice, and their Successors in the said Office and Trust, in all time coming, all and whole the sum of ten thousand pounds usual money of Scotland, to be uplifted and received by them, and their Collectors appointed by them, at two termes in the year, Whitfunday and Martimafs, by equal portions, forth of the first and readiest of His Majesties Customs, or any part thereof, from his Majesties Thesaurer, Deput-theasurer, Receavers, Tack-men, Possessors, Intromettors with the saids Customs, and others lyable in payment thereof, present and to come; beginning the first termes payment thereof from the feast and terme of Martimafs last by past, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty one years, and so forth, yearly and termly thereafter at the termes foresaid in all time coming; charging hereof the said Theasurer, Deputy-theasurer, Receavers, Tack-men, Possessors, Intromettors with the saids Customs, and others lyable in payment thereof, present and to come, to make thankful payment at the termes of payment above-written, of the foresaid yearly sum of ten thousand pounds to the saids ordinar Lords of Council and Session, their Successors and Collectors in their names, out of the first and readiest of the saids Customs; and that they be preferred in payment thereof to all and whatsoever other person or persons pretending right to the saids Customs or any part thereof by pension, assignation, gift, or other right or disposition whatsoever. And likewayes commanding the Lords of Exchequer, present and to come, to allow the same to the payers of the said sum of ten thousand pounds, yearly and termly, in the first end of their accounts, upon sight of the saids Lords of Session, or their saids Collectors acquittance upon payment thereof. And also, His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, Decerns and Ordains His Majesties Theasurer, Deput-theasurer, Receavers, Tack-men of, and Intromettors with the saids Customs, present and to come, to become enacted themselves and find sufficient caution, acted in the Books of Council and Session, for the yearly payment of the foresaid sum of ten thousand pounds to the saids Lords of Session and their Successors, or their Collectors, at the termes and in manner above-exprest: And at the decease or dimission of any of the persons so enacted, that the next entrant shall become enacted, and find caution to the effect foresaid. As also, at the setting of any new Tacks, the Tack-men find caution to the effect foresaid; otherwayes, the saids whole Tacks to be null, and the nullity thereof to be decided by way either of action or exception: And that Letters and Executorials of Horning, upon an charge of ten dayes, be directed against them, by deliverance of the saids Lords of Session, for payment of the said sum of ten thousand pounds in manner above-written. And Decerns and Ordains, That no Suspension be granted in this matter, to whatsoever person or for whatsoever cause, by the Lords of Parliament, Lords of Exchequer, or other Judge whatsoever, except upon consignation of the sums charged for, or production of sufficient acquittances; and that the saids ordinar Lords and Senators of the Colledge of Justice are, and shall be, only Judges for discussing of the saids Suspensions, discharging all other Judges of granting Suspensions, concerning the premises and discussing of the same, and of their Offices in that part for ever. And to the foresaid Disposition and Assignation of ten thousand pounds, and to the whole Heads and Articles of this Act above written, His Majesty and Estates of Parliament interpones their Consent and Authority, as to an Act which doth highly concern the good and well-fare of the Nation. And His Majesty, for his Highness and His Successors promises, in verbo Principis, never to impugn or quarrel the same, nor come in the contrait thereof, directly nor indirectly, in time coming, and the like execution being granted by Act of Parliament in the year, one thousand six hundred and nine, for payment of the ten thousand pounds then granted to the Lords of the Session; It is hereby appointed by His Majesty and the Estates of Parliament, That in time coming they be paid together; and that all the execution contained in this or that former Act shall pass, and be allowed for payment of the whole twentie thousand pounds Scots yearlie, as fullie as if the said twenty thousand pounds had been granted together, and in one sum, and that this Act had been expresse made and granted for the same.

VIII.

THE KING'S MAJESTIES

General

REVOCATION.

THE Estates of Parliament having considered His Majesties Revocation, past under His Royal hand, and this day presented to them by His Majesties Advocat, Do Ordain the same to be recorded in the Books of Parliament; whereof the tenour followeth.

CHARLES R.

WE CHARLES, by the grace of GOD, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, taking to our consideration, That during the time of the late troubles, and by occasion thereof, many Writes, Declarations, Ratifications and other Deeds may have past Our hands, to the prejudice of the Church, Our Estate, Patrimony, and just interest of our Subjects, and derogatory to our honour, the priviledges of our Crown, and dignity of our Person, either before we attained to the age of twenty one years or thereafter; as also, that many Deeds might have past our Royal Fathers hands during the late wars, to the enorm hurt and lesion of His Sacred Majesty, in all the particular wayes above exprest, which by the Lawes of this our Kingdom can no wayes be binding, or obligatory against us, but by vertue of the saids Lawes may be revoked. And seeing, before our return to the Government of our Kingdoms, in May one thousand, six hundred and sixty, we had not the fit occasion of Judicatories within this our Ancient Kingdom, to whom we (according to the practice of our Royal Ancestors) might have directed our Revocation of such Deeds: Therefore, now after that we are, by the blessing of Almighty God, returned to the exercise of our just, lawful and Royal Authority, do, by these presents, Revoke, Cast, Annul, Retreat and Rescind all Acts of pretended Parliaments, Conventions or Councils, Declarations, Treaties or Ratifications of the same; and all and sundry Inseftments, Charters, Gifts, Donations, Dispositions, Confirmations, Pensions, Tacks, Affidations, and other Rights and Deeds whatsoever, conveyed, signed or consented to by us, to whatsoever person or persons, of any Rents, Lands, Teinds, Patronages, Offices, Few-farmes, Casualties, Priviledges, Services and others whatsoever, which the Lawes and consuetude of our said Realm alloweth us to Revoke, either past by us in our Minority, or since, at any time preceeding the twenty ninth day of May, one thousand, six hundred and sixty, or by our Royal Father of glorious and blessed memory, at any time since the year one thousand, six hundred and thirty seven, to the hurt or prejudice of the Church, His or Our Honour, Estate, Patrimony, Priviledges of our Crown, Dignity of His or Our Person, or just right and interest of our Subjects. And We Will and Declare, and by our Sovereign, Royal Authority Ordain, That these presents shall be as amply extended, and of as great force, strength, and effect, in general and in special, as any Revocation made by any of our Royal Predecessors, contained in the Books and Records of Parliament, which in all beads, clauses and circumstances thereof we Will and Ordain to be holden as here repeated. And We Will and Ordain these presents to be as valde, legal and effectual to all intents and purposes, as if the same had been done and Registered in the Books of Parliament, before our Age of twenty five years; Protesting solemnly, that the omission thereof, nor our absence forth of our said Kingdom of Scotland, at this time, nor want of other Solemnities whatsoever, shall be no prejudice to us aient this present Revocation, with all which we do dispence, and do supplie all defects thereof by our Kingly power and Authority Royal; Declaring also, that albeit we, of favour and benevolence, and for any respect or consideration whatsoever, suffer any person or persons to use and enjoy any Priviledges, Possessions, Lands or Rents, Offices or any other thing falling under the compass of this our Revocation, the same shall make no right to the users or holders thereof, unless the same hath been granted or confirmed by us since the twenty ninth day of May, one thousand, six hundred and sixty, or shall be of new confirmed by us in any time hereafter: But it shall be lawful to us and our Successors to intronnet therewith, when we or they please, but any contradiction, and that by vertue of this our Revocation, and Acts and Constitutions of our Realm. And we do

Declare, that the Gifts or Confirmations made and granted by us since the twenty ninth of May, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty, and such as shall be granted or confirmed by us at any time hereafter, are not, nor shall not be comprehended within this Revocation, but are excepted out of the same; which Revocation we Will and Orain to be intimate. insinuat, declared and registrate in the Records of this present Parliament now sitting in Edinburgh, and holden by our trusty and well-beloved Cousin and Councillor, John Earl of Middleton, Our Commissioner in Our Name and by Our Authority. Given at Our Honour of Hampton-Court, the fourteenth day of July, one thousand, six hundred and sixty two, and of Our Reign the fourteenth year.

And His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth Declare, that this Revocation is to be extended to all and whatsoever Deeds done in hurt and prejudice of whatsoever Lands, Lordships and others annexed to the principallity, or to the Prince who is second Person in this Realm. And for the clearing and further satisfaction of the Subjects, as to that clause, by which all and whatsoever Rights and Deeds, made and done by His Royal Father, are Revoked, which the Laws and Consuetude of this Kingdom allow His Majesty to Revoke; His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth Declare, That all such Deeds are only thereby to be Revoked and Rescinded which were made against the Laws and Acts of Parliament in force, before the year one thousand, six hundred, and thirty seven; And that this general Revocation shall be without prejudice to His Majesty to make a more special Revocation hereafter, if His Majesty shall think fit so to do.

I X.

Act anent the Teinds belonging to Bishops and other beneficed persons.

FOrasmueh, as by the Kings Decreet arbitral, in the Moneth of one thousand, six hundred and twenty seven years, His Majesty found, upon the Submission made by the Bishops and other Clergy, that the quota, or rate of all Teinds pertaining to the Bishopricks and other Benefices which falleth under the Submission, should be the fifth part of the constant rent of Stock and Teind. In which Submission, there is an exprcs Clause, that the Bishops, and others of the Clergy, should enjoy the fruits and rents of their several Benefices, as they were possessed by them the time of the said Submission. By which provision it appears, that whatsoever Teinds, Parsonage or Vicarage, they were in possession of, by leading and drawing the same, or by rental Bolls, they were not at all to be valued by the Heritors thereafter. Like-as, till the year one thousand, six hundred, and forty one, none of the saids Teinds, possessed by the Bishops and other Beneficed persons, were valued and approved by any Commission, unless by consent or collusion, none making opposition thereto. And it being reasonable, that the Rights and Priviledges belonging to the Church-men in the year one thousand, six hundred, and thirty three, should be restored to them: Therefore, the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, all by any pretended Commission for valuation of Teinds, since the year one thousand, six hundred, and thirty seven, to be void and null in time coming; And that the saids Bishops and other beneficed Persons and shall enter to the said possession of rental Bolls, and leading of the saids Teinds, Parsonage and Vicarage, this cropt and year of God, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty two years, and in time coming; Providing always, like-as it is hereby provided, that the Heritors of such Lands, whereof the Teiches belongs to the Arch-bishops, Bishops, and other beneficed persons, being Ministers, and were set in tack, the time of their submission to His Majesties Father of blessed memory, shall be in that same place and condition they were in, by the Decreet arbitral pronounced thereupon, and by the nineteenth Act of the Parliament held, Anno, one thousand, six hundred, and thirty three, Entituled, Commission for valuation of Teiches, &c. and shall have the full benefit thereof.

The Kings Majesties gracious and free Pardon, Act of Indemnity and Oblivion.

THe Kings most Excellent Majestie considering, that by the late troubles, divers of His Subjects, of this his ancient Kingdom of Scotland, have fallen under, and are involved in many great crimes, faults, offences & other deeds of commission & omission, whereby they have contraveened the Laws of this Kingdom, & thereby rendered themselves lyable to the pains, penalties, censures due thereto: And being most desirous, that a perfect peace be setled in this Kingdom, and that all His good Subjects may be sensible of, and enjoy the happiness and blessings of His Government, and that no crime, offence or other deed whatsoever, committed against His Majesty, or His Royal Father of blessed memory, or by any of His Majesties Subjects against another, in relation to the late troubles, shall hereafter rise in Judgment, or be brought in question against any of them before any Judge, Civil or Criminal, to the prejudice either of their lives, Estates, Offices, priviledges, Liberties or reputations: But that all seeds of future differences, and remembrance of former pro-proceedings, may as well by his Majesty, as by his Subjects one towards another, be forgotten: and that all names of reproach or distinction which have been used, or may revive the memory of the late differences, be buried in Oblivion. Therefore, His Majesty, of His signal prudence, Grace and Goodness, Doth, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Declare, Statute and Ordain, That all manner of Treasons, Rebellions, Murthers, Offences, Crimes, Contempts, Injuries, Misdemeanors and all other Deeds, as well of commission as omission, commanded, acted or done by any person or persons, by vertue of any power or warrant of any pretended Parliament, Council or their Committees, Commanders of Armies, or others pretending Authority, under whatsoever title, name or designation, since the first day of January, one thousand, six hundred and thirty seven years, and before the first day of September, one thousand, six hundred and sixty, (other then such as are hereafter excepted in this present Act) be and are hereby Pardoned, Released, Indemnified and Discharged; and that all and every person and persons or Incorporations, Acting, Advising, Assisting or Abetting the same, and their Heirs, Executors, and Successors (except as shall be hereafter excepted) are hereby Pardoned and Indemnified, and Discharged thereof, and of all pains of Forfeiture, Death, Fines, Imprisonment, Banishment, and other pains, Penalties, Action and Question, Civil or Criminal; and of all Decrees, Sentences, Acts or Orders past thereupon, and all other damage, prejudice and inconveniencies whatsoever, they or any of them might or may be liable unto for the same. All which Pains, Sentences, and others forefaids, are hereby declared void and null in all time coming; and that this Free and General Pardon, Indemnity and Oblivion, shall be as effectual in Law, to every one of his Majesties Subjects, and bodies politick and incorporat, and person or persons whatsoever, in, for and against all things; (which be not after excepted) as if the saids Persons, Crimes, Offences, Injuries, Deeds, Misdemeanours, Penalties, Decrees, Sentences and Orders, had been specially and particularly here inerr, and in expresse words Pardoned and Released; and that none be hereafter, in any manner of way pursued or questioned for the same, but that these presents shall be in all cases, in Judgment and outwith the same, a sufficient defence and exoneratoin to all parties concerned: Discharging hereby, all and sundrie Judges, Civil and Criminal, to give order for intending any Process, either at the instance of his Majesties Advocat, against the Subjects, or at the instance of any of the Subjects against another, for any of the saids Crimes, Faults, Offences or other deeds, or to proceed in any Process already intended, or to be intended thereanent. And His Majesty, with advice forefaid, doth hereby Statute and Ordain, That every clause and word, in this present Act, be understood and interpreted in the most favourable sense the expression may bear, for Indemnity of the whole persons who may have interest therein: Excepting always from this present Act, and the Pardon and Indemnity therein contained; all such persons (if any be) who were guilty of, and accessory to, any previous transactions and bargains of money, for carrying on of that proceedor concerning his Majesties Person, condemned by the tenth Act of the first Session of this present Parliament; and excepting all such (if any be) who upon any contrivance were art and part of the horrid murder of his late Majesty of blessed memory: And sick-like, Excepting all private murthers, thefts, witch-crafts, incests, buggeries, briberies, forging of false Writes, perjuries, usuries, and other crimes of that nature, not relating to the late troubles; and the Accounts of all such persons as have intremitted with any of his Majesties Revenues, publick Impositions, Excise, Fines, Forfeitures, Sequestrations, and all other publick money, for which they had not Order, Warrant or Assignment, (for their own privat use) or for which they have not duly counted, and received Discharges thereof, from such as pretended to have the Authority for the time, to do the same; And also Excepting all such persons who have been forfeited, or declared Fugitives, in this present Parliament, or by the Committee of Estates, since August one thousand, six hundred, and sixty. And particularly, Excepting the Decrees of forfeiture against Archibald Campbell, late Marquess of Argyll; Archibald Johnston, sometime called Sir Archibald Johnston of Warristoun; John Swintoun, sometime called of Swintoun; James Guthery, William Govan, John Home, and William Dundas, James Campbell, sometime called of Arkinglafs, and James Campbell, sometimes called of Ormsay; which Decrees are to stand in full force and have further execution, conforme to the tenours thereof. And sick-like, Excepting all Decrees, Sentences, Assignments and Orders, past, given and renewed by this present Parliament, in favours of any person or persons; And but prejudice of the generality forefaid; Excepting such persons, as to the payment of such sums of money, as are respectively exprest in another Act, past in this Parliament, Entituled, Act concerning some exceptions from the Act of Indemnity.

X I.

Act Salvo jure cujuslibet.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, taking to consideration, that there be many Acts of Ratification and others, past and made in this Session of Parliament, in favours of particular persons, without calling or hearing of such as may be thereby concerned and prejudged. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all such particular Acts, and Acts of Ratification, past in maner forefaid, shall not prejudice any third party of their lawful Rights, nor of their actions actions and defences competent thereupon before the making of the saids particular Acts, and Acts of Ratifications; And that the Lords of Session and all other Judges within this Kingdom, shall be obliged to judge betwixt parties, according to their several rights, standing in their persons before the making of the saids Acts. All which are hereby expounded and declared to have been made, Salvo jure cujuslibet.

 Defender of the Faith.

By a Noble Lord, John Earle of Rothes, Lord Leilly and Bambreith, His MAJESTIES Commissioner for holding the same, by vertue of a Commission under His MAJESTIES Great Seal of this Kingdom.

With the special Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament.

Begun at Edinburgh upon the eighteenth of June, 1663. and continued to the ninth of October thereafter.

I.

ACT anent the way and maner of Election of the Lords of the Articles.

THE WHICH DAY, The Earle of Rothes, His Majesties Commissioner, represented to the Estates of Parliament, That it was His Majesties expresse pleasure, That in the constitution of Parliaments, and choising of Lords of the Articles at this Session and in all time coming, the same form and order should be kept, which had been used before these late troubles, especially in the Parliament holden in the year One thousand, six hundred, and thirty three. And the manner of election of the Lords of Articles at that time being now seen, and considered, be the Estates of Parliament; They did with all humble duty acquiesce in His Majesties gracious pleasure, thus signified unto them. And in prosecution thereof, The Cleggy retired to the Exchequer chamber, and the Nobility to the Inner house of the Session, (the Barons and Burgeses keeping their places in the Parliament house) The Clergy made choice of eight Noble men to be on the Articles, viz. The Duke of Hamilton, The Marquess of Montrose, The Earles of Errol, Mar, Eglington, Haddington, Callendar, and Amandaile; And the Nobility made choice choice of eight Bishops, viz. The Archbishops of Sanct-Andrews and Glasgow, The Bishops of Edinburgh, Galloway, Dunkeld, Breichen, Caithnes, and Isles; which being done, the Clergy and Nobility mett together in the Inner Exchequer house, and having shewn their elections to others, the persons elected, at least so many of them as were present, stayed together in that room, (whilst all others removed) and they jointly made choice of Eight Barons, and eight Commissioners of Burrows, viz. Sir John Gilmour of Craigmillar, President of the Session, Sir James Lockhart of Lee, Sir James Foulis of Collingtown, Sir Archibald Stirling of Carden, Sir Peter Wedderburn of Gosford, Sir Thomas Hamilton of Preston, Murray of Polmais, and William Scott of Ardsrofs, Sir Robert Murray Provost of Edinburgh, Master John Paterson of Perth, Alexander Wedderburn of Dundie, Gilbert Gray of Aberdeen, Duncan Nairn of Stirling, Andrew Carstairs of Sanct-Andrewes, Andrew Glen of Linlithgow, and William Cunningham of Air, Burgeses; And then represented the whole elections to his Majestie's Commissioner, who being satisfied therewith, did then with the Clergy and Nobility return to the Parliament-house, where the list of the eight Bishops, eight Noblemen, eight Barrons, and eight Burgeses being read, It was approved, And his Majestie's Commissioner did add to the list the Officers of Estate, And appointed the Lord Chancellor to be President, in the meetings of the Lords of the Articles; who are to proceed in discharge of their trust, in preparing of Laws, Acts, overtures, and ordering all things remitted to them by the Parliament, and in doing every thing else which by the Law and Practick of the Kingdom, belonged, or were proper to be done by the Lords of Articles at any tyme bygone.

A C T against separation and disobedience to Ecclesiastical Authority.

FOrasmuch as the Kings Majesty, considering the prejudices which did ensue to the Church and Protestant Religion, to the prerogative of the Crown, to the Authority of Parliament, to the Liberties of the Subject, and to the publick Lawes and Peace of the Kingdom, by the invasions made upon Episcopal Government during the late troubles; And finding that Government, to be the Church Government, most agreeable to the word of God, most convenient & effectual for preservation of Truth order & Unity, and most sureable to Monarchy and to the Peace and Quiet of the State; Hath therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, by several Acts past in the second Session of this Parliament, restored the Church to it's ancient and right Government by Arch-bishops and Bishops, and hath redintegrated the estate of Bishops to the exercise of their Episcopal Function, and to all the privileges, Dignities, Jurisdictions, and Possessions due and formerly belonging thereunto. And in further order to the settlement of the Church, and bringing the Ministers to a due acknowledgment of and compliance with the Government thereof thus established by Law, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, hath also Statute and Ordained, That all these Ministers, who entered to the Cure of any Paroch without Right or presentations from the lawful Patrons, in and since the year, one thousand, six hundred, and forty nine, and should not, betwixt and the twentieth of September last, Obtain Presentations from their severall Patrons, and Collation from the Bishop of the Dioceses where they lived, should have no right to the uplifting the Rents of any Benefice or Stipend for the year, one thousand, six hundred and sixty two, but that their places, Benefices and Kirks should be, ipso jure, vacand: And that whatever Ministers should, without a lawful excuse to be admitted by their Ordinary, absent themselves from the Dioecesan Assembly, or who should not concur in all the Acts of the Church-discipline, as they should be thereunto required by the Arch-bishop or Bishop of the Dioecses, should be for the first fault suspended from their Office and Benefice till the next Dioecesan Meeting; and if they amend not, should be deprived, and the Church and Benefice to be provided as in other cases of vacancies. And the Kings Majesty having resolved to conserve and maintain the Church in the present State and Government thereof by Arch-bishops and Bishops, and others bearing office therein, and not to endure nor give way or connivance to any variation therein in the least, Doth therefore, with advice and consent of his Estates convened in this third Session of His Parliament, Ratifie and approve the afore-mentioned Acts, and all other Acts and Lawes made in the two former Sessions of Parliament, in order to the settling of Episcopal Dignity, Jurisdiction and Authority within this Kingdom; and Ordains them to stand in full force as publick Lawes of the Kingdom, and to be put to further execution in all points, conforme to the tenor thereof. And in pursuance of His Majesties Royal resolution herein, His Majesty, with advice afore said, doth recommend to the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, to take speedy and effectual course, that the Acts receive ready and due obedience from all His Majesties Subjects; And for that end, that they call before them all such Ministers, who having entered in or since the year, one thousand, six hundred, and forty nine, and have not as yet obtained presentations and Collations, as afore said, yet dared to preach in contempt of the Law, and to punish them as seditious persons and contemners of the Royal Authority. As also, that they be careful, that such Ministers, who keep not the Dioecesan Meetings, and concur not with the Bishops in the Acts of Church discipline, being for the same suspended or deprived, as said is, be accordingly, after deprivation, removed from their Benefices, Glebs and Manſes; and if any of them shall notwithstanding offer to retain the possession of their Benefices fices or Manles, that they take present course to see them dispossess; and if they shall thereafter presume to exercise their Ministry, that they be punished as seditious persons, and such as contemn the Authority of Church and State.

And as His Majesty doth expect, from all His good and dutiful Subjects, a due acknowledgment of, and hearty compliance with, His Majesties Government, Ecclesiastical and Civil, as it is now established by Law within this Kingdom, and that in order thereunto they will give their chearful concurrence, countenance and assistance to such Ministers, as by publick Authority are or shall be admitted in their severall Parishes, and attend all the ordinary Meetings for divine Worship in the same; So His Majesty doth Declare, that He will, and doth, account a with-drawing from, and not keeping and joyning in, these Meetings, to be seditious, and of dangerous example and consequence. And therefore, and for preventing the same for the future, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates in Parliament, doth hereby Statute, Ordain and Declare, That all and every such person or persons, who shall hereafter ordinarily and willfully with-draw and absent themselves from the ordinary Meetings of divine Worship in their own Paroch-Churches (the Church) shall thereby incur the pains and penalties under-written, viz. Each Noble-man, Gentleman and Heretor, the loss of a fourth part of ilk years Rent, in which they shall be accused and convicted; and every Ycoman, Tennent or Farmer, the loss of such a proportion of their free moveables (after the payment of their Rents due to their Master and Land-lord) as His Majesties Council shall think fit, not exceeding a fourth part thereof; and every Burges to lose the liberty of Merchandizing, Trading, and all other Priviledges within Burgh, and fourth part of their moveables. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth hereby authorize and requite the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, to be careful to see this Act put to due execution; and for that end, to call before them all such persons as after admonition of the Minister, in presence of two sufficient witnesses, and by him so attested, shall be given up to the Council as transgressors of this Act, in with-drawing from their Paroch Churches as aforesaid; and the same, after hearing of the parties, being duly found, to decern and inflict the censures and penalties above-mentioned, and such other corporal punishment as they shall think fit, and direct all execution necessary for making the same effectual, and to do every other thing they shall find necessary, for procuring obedience to this Act, and putting the same to punctual execution, conform to the tenor and intent thereof.

I I I.

Additional ACT concerning the Declaration to be signed by all persons in publick Trust.

FOrasmuch, as by an Act, pass in the second Session of this Parliament, on the fifth of September last, concerning the Declaration to be taken by all persons in publick Trust, It is remitted to His Majesties Commissioner to take such course as he should think fit, how these, who are presently in Office, may subscribe the Declaration; And the King's Majesty being resolved, that all in publick Trust, should without further delay, sign the same: But considering, that in this vacand time, many of the Courts of Justice do not sit, so as some longer time, must be allowed unto them. Therefore, the King's Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates in Parliament, Statutes and Ordains all persons, who enjoy or possess any publick Trust or Office within this Kingdom, as Officers of State, Members of Parliament, Privy Councillors, Lords of Session, Commissioners in Exchequer, all Members of the Colledge of Justice; Sheriffs, Stewarts, Bailies of Regalities, Commissaries, Justices of Peace and their respective Deputs and Clerks, and all who enjoy any other publick Charge, Office or Trust within the Kingdom, to subscribe the Declaration hereunto subjoynd, in presence of the severall Courts they relate to, betwixt and the eleventh of November next to come, or sooner, as they shall have occasion or be required thereto by His Majesties Council; Discharging hereby all such of them, who shall not sign the same, as said is, to exercise any publick Trust or Office within the Kingdom, after the said eleventh of November. And that a speedy account may be returned herof, It is hereby Ordained, that the Sheriffs in the severall Shires be careful in requiring due obedience to this Act, and that they and all others concerned therein, make report thereof to His Majesties Council, betwixt and the first of January next to come. And seeing the election of the Magistrates and Council of Burghs will occur about Michaelsmas next, and that some disaffected persons in Burghs, having none or small advantages by their Magistracy, may, upon account of this Declaration, refuse to accept any Charge or Trust; It is therefore, by His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Statute, That at the next ensuing election of Magistrates within Burgh, all such persons who shall continue in, or be of new elected to be Magistrates, Clerks, or of the Council of Burghs, shall at such their elections, if they be present, or otherwise, how soon thereafter they shall be required thereto by those who did elect them, sign the Declaration aforesaid; Declaring hereby, all who shall refuse or delay the same, to be from thenceforth not only incapable of, and to have forfeited, the priviledges of a Magistrate, but also all the priviledges of Merchandizing, Trading, and others belonging to a Burges; And that the severall Burghs make report of their proceedings therein to His Majesties Council betwixt & the foresaid eleventh of Nov. as they will be answerable upon their duty & allegiance: And for such as shall hereafter be admitted to any publick Trust or Office, they are to sign the Declaration in the manner, and under the certifications, express in the former Act of Parliament of the fifth of September. And His Majesty doth hereby recommend to the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, to be careful that these Acts be put to due execution, and receive obedience conform to the tenor thereof.

I Do sincerely affirm and declare, that I judge it unlawful to Subjects, upon pretence of Reformation or other pretence whatsoever, to enter into Leagues and Covenants, or to take up Armes against the King or those commissioned by Him: And that all these Gatherings, Convocations, Petitions, Protestations, and erecting and keeping of Council-tables, that were used in the beginning, and for carrying on, of the late troubles, were unlawful and seditious. And particularly, that these Oathes, whereof the one was commonly called, The National Covenant, (as it was sworn and explained in the year, one thousand, six hundred and thirty eight, and thereafter) and the other entitled, A Solemn League and Covenant, were, and are, in themselves unlawful Oathes, and were taken by, and imposed upon, the Subjects of this Kingdom, against the fundamental Laws and Liberties of the same: And that there hath no obligation upon me, or any of the Subjects from the saids Oathes, or either of them, to endeavour any change or alteration of the Government, either in Church or State, as it is now established by the Laws of the Kingdom.

I V.

Act against Protections.

THe Kings most Excellent Majesty being careful, that the benefit of the Law in the administrations of Justice, be free to all His Majesties good Subjects; And considering the prejudices many have formerly sustained, in the stopping of the course of Justice, by the too frequent granting of Protections against personal execution. Therefore, and for preventing of the like for the future, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates in Parliament, Doth Ratifie, Approve and Renew all former Acts of Parliament, made against the granting of Protections; And Discharge the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, Session and Exchequer, to grant Protections to any persons against personal execution, certifying such as shall grant the same, they shall be liable for the debt against which they grant the Protection; and all execution shall pass against the havers thereof, as if the same had not been granted.

It is alwayes hereby Declared, That notwithstanding hereof, it shall be free to the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, Lords of Session and Exchequer, and to the Justice-general and his Deputes, when any person or persons are summoned and appointed to appear personally before them, to give order now, as they have been in use formerly to do, for suspending personal execution against the persons so summoned and appointed to appear, for such few dayes, as they may come to give their appearance, and during their necessary stay, and some few dayes for their return, and that according as the saids respective Judges shall find reason, upon the particular applications to be made thereupon.

V.

Act for the establishment and constitution of a National Synod.

FOrasmuch as the ordering and disposal of the external Government of the Church, and the nomination of the persons, by whose advice, matters relating to the same are to be settled, doth belong to His Majesty, as an inherent right of the Crown, by virtue of His Prerogative-royal, and supreme Authority in causes Ecclesiastical: And in prosecution of this Trust, His Majesty, considering how fit and necessary it is, for the honour and service of Almighty God, the good and quiet of the Church, and the better Government thereof in unity and order, that there be a National Synod and Assembly duly constitute within this Kingdom, Hath therefore Appointed and Declared, and by these presents Appoints and Declares, that there shall be a National Synod of the Church of Scotland; And that this Synod, for the lawful Members thereof, shall consist and be constitute of the Archbishops of Sanct-Andrews and Glasgow, and the remanent Bishops of these two Provinces, of all Deans of Cathedral Churches, Arch-deacons, of all the Moderators of Meetings for exercise, allowed by the Bishops of the respective Diocesses, and of one Presbyter or Minister of each Meeting, to be chosen and elected by the Moderator and plurality of Presbyters of the same; and of one or two from the University of Sanct-Andrews, one from Glasgow, one from the King's Colledge, one from Marshalls Colledge, of Aberdeen, and one from the Colledge of Edinburgh; And this Synod, thus constitute, is to meet at such times and places as His Majesty, by His Proclamation, shall appoint; and is to debate, treat, consider, consult, conclude and determine upon such pious matters, causes and things, concerning the Doctrine; Worship, Discipline and Government of this Church, as His Majesty shall from time to time, under His Royal hand, deliver, or cause be delivered, to the Archbishop of St. Andrews, President of the said National National Assembly, to be by him offered to their consideration. The Estates of Parliament do humbly recognise and acknowledge His Majesties Royal power and prerogative aforesaid, with the piety, justice and prudence of His Majesties resolution herein; Likeas His Majesty, with their advice and consent, doth hereby Establish, Ratifie and Confirm this constitution of a National Assembly, as the lawful constitution of the National Synods and Assemblies of this Church, His Majesty, or his Commissioner (withour whose presence, no National Synod can be kept) being alwayes present: And Declares, That no Act, Canon, Order or Ordinance shall be owned as an Act of the National Synod of the Church of Scotland, so as to be of any effect, force or validity in Law, to be observed and kepted by the Arch-bishops and Bishops, the inferior Clergy, and all other persons within this Realm (as far as lawfully, being Members of this National Church, it may concern them) but that which shall be considered, consulted and agreed upon by the President and major part of the Members above-specified. It is alwayes hereby provided, that nothing be enacted or put in execution, by Authority of a National Synod within this Kingdom, which shall be contrary to his Majesties Royal prerogative or the Lawes of the Kingdom; And that no Act, Mater or Cause be debated, consulted and concluded upon, but what shall be allowed, appoven and confirmed by His Majesty or his Commissioner, present at the said National Synod.

ACT anent ruinous houses in Royal Burghs.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD being informed, that upon the high Streets of severall of His Majesties Burghs-Royal, and in the vennels and other passages within the same, there be many houses in the publick view of all people resorting thereto, very ruinous and not inhabited these divers years by-gone, nor likely to be repaired by any, to the great opprobry of the saids Burghs, and common scandal of the Kingdome, as being altogether defective of that policy and good order which is, and ever hath been, so earnestly intended in the many wholsom and laudable Laws already made, by his Majesty and his Royal Progenitors of most worthy memory. And finding the Burtoughs very desirous to have these many dangers and inconveniencies prevented and remedied, which the Inhabitants of these Burghs, and the rest of the Lieges frequenting the same, do continually fear from such ruinous buildings; Doth therefore, with advice of His Estates of Parliament, Ordain the Provost and Bailies of the Burgh where such ruinous houses are, to cause warn and charge all persons, that have or pretend right to the property of such Lands and buildings, or any Annual-rents forth thereof, to cause build and repair, in a decent way, within year and day, such Houses and Buildings as have been waft and not inhabited three years before the date of this present Act, or shall be waft and not inhabited thereafter by the foresaid space of three years, or else to sell the same to others, to be builded within the same space of year and day: And to charge all known persons, personally or at their dwelling places, and by open Proclamation at the paroch-kirk or Mercat-crofs of the Burgh; and all others by open Proclamation at the said Mercat-crofs and Paroch-kirk. And in case of their absence out of this Realm, at the Crofs of Edinburgh, and Peer and shoar of Leith, upon threescore dayes; with certification to them if they failzie, the said Provost and Bailies shall cause the saids Lands and Tenements to be valued by certain persons, to be chosen and sworn by them for that effect, and sell the same to any person that will buy them, and pay the price of the same to these owners, if they be known; and if they be not known, to consign the prices thereof in the hands of the Provost, one of the Bailies, or Dean of Gild of the said Burgh, to be forthcoming to these who have interest thereto: And if no man will buy them, it shall be lawfull to the said Provost and Bailies, after apprising thereof, as said is, and payment or consignment of the prices of the same, to cast down the said ruinous houses and cause build the same of new. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Declares, That it shall not be lawful in time coming, to any maner of person to pursue them nor their successors therefore, nor pretend any right or interest thereto, but that the said right shall be a perfect security to the builders thereof and their successors.

ACT discharging the Importation of Strong Waters, &c.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD and Estates of Parliament understanding, that there are divers Strong-waters, Mum-beer and other Beer for drinking, brought into this Kingdom from forraign places, which might be more conveniently made within the Kingdom, to the benefit of the Natives thereof. Therefore, His Majesty, with consent of the saids Estates, Discharges all in-bringing of Aquaviva or Strong-waters, Mum-beer and other Beer for drinking (except Black-beer, called Spruce-beer) within this Kingdom under the pain of escheat thereof.

VIII.

ACT discharging the mixing of Tin with Lead.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD and Estates of this present Parliament considering, the great hurt sustained by His Majesties Lieges, by the fraudulent dealing of Pewterers, in mixing the finer sort of Tin brought from England, France, Flanders and other parts beyond sea, with baser and coarser metal of Tin and Lead, and their exacting greater prices betwixt the new Pewter casten by them, and the old which they receive from the Lieges. For remeid thereof, It is Statute and Ordained, that the Pewterer or founder of Tin, shall put the mark of the Thistle, and the Deacons mark, with his own name, upon every peece of work that he happens to cast, and that the same shall be of the finest of the Pewter marked with the Rose in England; And in case the same be under the finest of the said Pewter of England, that the same shall be confiscat, and he punished in his person at the discretion of the Magistrats of the Burgh where he dwels: And Aslike-ways, that he shall take, betwixt the pound of old pewter and Tin, marked with the Rose fore-said, and the pound of new casten by him, two shillings Scots allanerly, under the pain fore-said.

IX.

ACT anent the discharging of Advocations for sums within two hundred merks.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD and Estates of Parliament considering, the manifold prejudices and troubles arising to divers of His Majesties Lieges, in pursuing of matters of final importance, by the too frequent granting of Advocations from inferiour Judges. Therefore, Our said Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of the saids Estates, discharges the Lords of Session from giving and granting Letters of Advocacion, of any actions intended or to be intended before whatsoever inferiour Judicatories, which may competently, by the Lawes of the Kingdom, be decided by the saids inferiour Judges, before whom the said Action is or shall be intended, for sums of money within two hundred Merks; or for any other cause whereunto, by the Laws of the Kingdom, the saids inferiour Judges are expressly appointed Judges.

ACT in favours of Minors, anent the duties of the Lands comprised from them.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD considering, the favourable condition of Minors, who are oftentimes destitute of Tutors and Curators; and though they have them, yet in respect of their minority, they are not in capacity or credit to raise sums of money for satisfaction of their Creditors: And it being unreasonable, that their Creditors comprisers of their Estate, should, during the not expiring of the legal reversion, which, according to Law continues during their minority, have more advantage by their Estate then corresponds to the Annual-rent of the true sums owing to them by vertue of their comprisings; Doth, with advice and consent of his Estates of Parliament, Ratifie and approve the Act of Parliament, made in August one thousand, six hundred, and twenty one, Cap. 6. in so far as the same concerns Minors; And Declares, that the true meaning thereof was, and is, that Minors, having right to the Legal reversion, should be no further obliged during their minority of twenty one years of age, but allanerly for the Annual-rent of the sums contained in the comprisings; and that they lose not the right of the super-plus of the mailes and duties of the Lands, so far as the same exceeds the said Annual-rents, during their said minority.

XI.

ACT against exportation of money forth of the Kingdom.

THE Estates of Parliament considering, how much the Kingdom is impoverished by the daily exportation of money forth of the same; and that the making use of our own native Commodities, for furnishing us with these things which formerly were brought to us from forraign places, is, by the commendable industry of several deserving Country-men and ingenious Artists, much improved: And that in order to their encouragement, and that our own native Commodities may go the better off, necessar it is, that some more severe restraint then formerly be laid upon the exportation of money. Therefore, the King's Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That no person or persons whatsoever, shall trade or use merchandize with any other Nation, till first they take an Oath before the Lord Theasurer or Theasurer-depute, or before such persons as they shall appoint for that effect, That they shall shall not export by themselves or others, directly or indirectly, by Sea or Land, any Gold or Silver, coined or uncoined, except such a sum as they shall declare upon Oath before the said Lord Thesaurer, Thesaurer-depute, or these appointed by them, as said is, to be necessary for making of their voyage to the port where they are going; and that if he know any money transported by any other person, he shall delate the same to the Lord Thesaurer, Principal or Depute, or to the foresaid persons appointed by them. As likewise, every Skipper shall, before he make any voyage after the publication hereof, to any other Kingdom or Nation, take an oath before the said Lord Thesaurer or Thesaurer-depute, or these appointed by them for that effect, that he shall not himself transport, nor suffer any Gold or Silver, coined or uncoined (except as is above-excepted, and except the sum of three score pounds at most, which every Passenger is hereby allowed to carry forth of the Country for his necessary spending) to be transported in the Ship wherein he is Master, and that he shall use his utmost endeavour for discovery of the same, if any be: And that if after he hath made fail, it shall come to his knowledge, that there is any money concealed in his Ship, or in any other Ship, he shall at his return, delate the same to the Lord Thesaurer, Principal or Depute, or to these appointed by them for that effect: And which persons appointed by them, are hereby required, to give timely notice thereof to the said Lord Thesaurer or Thesaurer-depute, under the penalty of the half of the money informed to have been transported. And likewise, the said Oaths shall be renewed and taken before the said Lord Thesaurer or Depute, or these appointed by them, as said is, by all Skippers and Merchants, at the making of every particular voyage; And both the said Oaths shall be subscribed by the respective parties, and insert in the Books of Exchequer, or in the books of these persons appointed by the Lords Thesaurer or Depute for that effect: For which Extracts, they shall pay to the keepers of these Registers twelve shillings Scots allanerly, the one thereof to be carried to the Customer, and insert in their Books gratis; the other to be carried to the keeper of the Cocquet, and insert in his Books gratis. And it is further Statute and Ordained, That in case any Merchant or Skipper, shall, after the publication hereof, trade with, or make any voyage to any other Kingdom or Nation, before the taking of the said Oaths, and production of the Extracts thereof to the Customer and keeper of the Cocquet, that then they shall forfeit the fifth part of their moveables and be incapable, the Merchant of all trading, and the Skipper of having any charge of any Ship within this Kingdom in all time coming. Provided alwayes, that the taking of the Oaths above mentioned shall be without prejudice of search for, or seizure of, any exported money: And if any Gold or Silver, coined or uncoined, shall, after publication hereof, be discovered carrying out of the Kingdom, by any person who hath taken the said Oath, the same not only to be confiscate, but the person or persons owners thereof, to be proceeded against as perjured persons, and further lyable to six months imprisonment. As also, it is hereby Declared, that notwithstanding of the said Oaths, if it shall at any time thereafter be legally proven, money hath been carried out of the Kingdom by the persons takers of the said Oath, the said persons shall be proceeded against as perjured persons, and by and attour, be fined in the value of the money exported; and whatsoever money shall be discovered or seized upon, the one half thereof to be for His Majesties use, and the other half to the informer. And the Lord Thesaurer and Thesaurer-depute are hereby required, to appoint sufficient honest men, to be found at the respective Ports of this Kingdom, or Royal Burghs next adjacent thereto, for taking of the said Oaths; And that they take bond, with sufficient caution, from each of the persons so appointed, under the pain of six thousand pounds Scots, that they shall not suffer any Merchant or Skipper to use trade or Merchandize with any forraign Kingdom or Nation, before they have taken the said Oaths; and shall do their utmost endeavours for discovery and seizure of all money carried out of the Kingdom: And that if it shall be informed to them, that any money hath been carried out of the Kingdom, they shall give speedy and timely notice of their information to the said Lord Thesaurer or Thesaurer-depute, the one half of the foresaid sum of six thousand pounds, in case of failzie, to be for His Majesties use, and the other half to be given to the delator, and to be further lyable to six months imprisonment for breach of their trust. And likewise, the said Lord Thesaurer principal, and Thesaurer-depute, are hereby required, to cause the Farmerers and Collectors of the Custom, and keepers of the Cocquet, to take an Oath, that the said Farmerers and Collectors of the Custom shall use their utmost endeavours, for the discovery and seizure of all money carrying out of the Kingdom by Sea or Land, either by Merchant, Skipper, or by any person of whatsoever quality or degree, except as is above excepted; And that they shall not give warrant to any Skipper to receive a Cocquet, unless they have received, both from the Skipper and Merchants in the Ship, extracts of the respective Oaths, as said is; and that the keepers of the cocquets shall give no Cocquet, unless they have likewise received extracts of the Oaths above-mentioned, both from Skipper and Merchants; and both Customers and keepers of the cocquet to give bond, with sufficient caution, under such sums of money as the said Lord Thesaurer principal, and Thesaurer-depute shall think fit, for fulfilling of the premises. And in case the said Farmerers, Collectors and keepers of the cocquet, or either of them, shall refuse to compare, or comparing, refuse or delay to take the Oath, and give their Bond as aforesaid, then their Tack, Commission, Gift, or any other Title, by which they enjoy their places and charges, to be void and null, and they to be further lyable to such censures, as the said Lord Thesaurer principal, and Thesaurer-depute shall think fit for their contumacy. And if it shall be made appear to the said Lord Thesaurer principal, and Thesaurer-depute, that any of the Farmerers or Collectors of Custom, or keepers of Cocquet, shall transgress the Oath and Bond above-mentioned in any part, then their Tack, Commission, Gift or any other Title by which they enjoy their saids places, to be void and null, and they to have incurred the sums and penalties contained in their respective Bonds (the one halfe thereof to be given to the Informer or delator) and to be further proceeded against as perjured persons; Discharging hereby, all granting of Licences for exporting of money; except to such persons allannerly as shall make faith in Exchequer, or these appointed by the Lord Thesaurer or Thesaurer-depute, and give sufficient Bond, that the money which they are to carry out, is to be bestowed upon Timber in Norway, or in order for bringing in of Victual in time of extream dearth, and that they shall return in specie, what part of the money shall not be so bestowed.

ACT. for encouragment of Tillage and Pasturage.

OUR Sovereign Lord considering, how necessar it is, for the encouragment of the tillage of this Country, which is subject to so much toil and expence, though the improvement thereof be most advantageous to the whole Kingdom, That liberty be granted for the exportation of Corns, after the Natives are sufficiently provided for. Therefore, the King's Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates in Parliament, Statutes and Declares, That it shall be lawful to export Corns of all sorts, when they are under the prices following, at the Ports or respective places of exportation; viz ilk Boll of Wheat, under twelve pounds the Boll, Beir & Barly under eight pund the boll, Oates and Pease, under eight marks the Boll; notwithstanding of any former Acts, Laws or practice to the contrary, they paying the usual custom and Bullion as formerly: with this provision, That when the Lords of His Majesties Secret Council shall judge it necessar, for the good of the Kingdom & preventing of dearth, they may discharge the exportation of Victual of all sorts, for so long time as they shall think fit. As also, for improvement of the Pasturage of this Kingdom, and for encouragment of the breeders of the Bestial thereof, It is Statute and Ordained, with advice and consent foresaid, that the exportation by Sea, of all sorts of Bestial, either Nolt, Sheep or Swine, and barrelled Fleshes of all sort, shall be free of Custom, Bullion, and all other impositions, for the space of nineteen years next after the date hereof.

ACT for a new Imposition upon English Commodities.

THE Estates of Parliament considering, how much it concerns the credit and wealth of the Kingdom, that our own native commodities be manufactured amongst our selves, and that the endeavours of such persons as are setting up Manufacturies and Trades, have been, and are much retarded, by the importation of such forraign commodities as may be made within the Kingdom. Therefore, and for their due encouragment, the King's Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That from and after the first day of September next, twelve pounds Scots upon ilk ell of broad English cloath; six pounds upon ilk ell of Tork-shire and all narrow cloath; two pounds, eight shillings upon ilk ell of Serge; thirty shillings upon ilk ell of eastilians; forty eight pounds upon ilk Beaver-hat; twenty four pounds upon ilk Demy-beaver and Vigon; and three pounds upon the piece of ilk common Hat; thirty six pounds upon the dozen of worstead Stockings; twenty four pounds upon the dozen of Stag-gloves; and twelve pounds upon the dozen of single Stags, cordivans, Kid or Shiverings; and twenty four shillings upon ilk pound of Tobacco, imported either for sale or private use into this Kingdom from England, all Scots money; Be exacted, levied and collected; and fourscore per cent. upon all other sorts of commodities imported into this Kingdom from England, and not particularly named in this Act, and upon all the growth and manufactory of that Kingdom, though imported from any other place, and that over and above all other impositions put upon the same already. And to the effect this present Act may be the more exactly put to execution, It is Statute and Ordained, That all Goods imported from England, or of the growth and manufactory of England, not above particularly exprest, shall be valued, after sighting, by two skilful honest men, upon oath, to be nominate by the Dean of Gild or his Assessors, or Magistrates of the Burgh, or next adjacent Burgh to the custom-office, where the saids Goods are entered, or by the oath of the party to whom the saids Goods belongs, and accordingly pay the said fourscore per cent. And the Lords Thesaurer and Thesaurer-depute; and Lords of His Majesties Exchequer are hereby required to take an Oath; and Bond with sufficient caution, from the Farmers or collectors of the saids impositions, that they shall exactly collect the same, without any abatement thereof directly or indirectly; and that they shall not suffer any of the saids Goods to pass or be conveyed away un-entred, and that under the penalty of the worth of the saids Goods, if the contrary shall be made appear, the one half thereof to His Majesties use, and the other half to the informer, and under the pain of forfaulting their Tacks and commissions, and being declared incapable to farm or collect, in any time hereafter, any custom, Excise, or other Imposition whatsoever within this Kingdom.

And

And if any of the forefaids Goods or Commodities fhall be informed and made appear to be brought in, or fhall be feized upon, nor being entered in the Custom-office, or any other Office appointed for that effect, then the fame to be wholly confiscat, the one half to His Majesties ufe, and the other half to the first informer or feizer thereof.

XIV.

ACT imposing a Custom upon Corn imported from Ireland into this Kingdom.

THE Estates of Parliament considering, what great sums of money are caryed out of the Kingdom, by persons, importers of Corn hither from Ireland, who having sold their Corns, export the money without bartering any of the Commodities of this Kingdom; whereby the whole Nation, particularly those near adjacent parts of the Kingdom, are much impoverished of money: And that it is just and reasonable that the saids Corns should bear Custom, toward the increase of His Majesties Revenue, proportionally with other imported Commodities, especially when the Corns of this Kingdom are sold at easie rates. Therefore, the King's Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth hereby impose three pounds Scots of Custom upon ilk boll, Lintithgow measure, of Corn imported into this Kingdom from Ireland, after the first day of September next; and appoints thirty shillings Scots to be raised upon ilk boll already imported, and not yet retailed, conform to an Act of the Committee of Estates made there-aneat, in anno, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty. But least the more indigent sort of people might be prejudged, by hightning the prices of the saids Corns in time of dearth under preence of the said Custom; Therefore, the King's Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, doth hereby give power to the Lords of His Privy council to remit and discharge the exacting of the said Custom, when they shall find the prices of the Victual of this Kingdom, Meal and Barley respective, to exceed eight pounds the Boll; And appoints the Lords of His Exchequer to cause put this Act to full execution, and cause the foresaid Custom be exactly levied, with power to them to allow such fees to the Collectors thereof as they shall think fit.

XV.

ACT for in-bringing of His Majesties Rents.

FORasmuch, as His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, taking to their consideration, the great contempt and neglect of the several Fewers and others lyable in payment of His Majesties Rents, whetthrough (notwithstanding of the diligence and endeavours of His Majesties Thesaurer-principal, Thesaurer-depute, and others His Majesties Officers appointed for the management of His Majesties Revenue) the same are not payed, or otherwise so unseasonably payed, that it proves a great hinderance and prejudice to His Majesties affairs. And finding several Acts of Parliament made for the timeous and seasonable payment of His Majesties Rents, as well constituting the time and sitting of the Exchequer, to the effect that the persons lyable in payment, might know both the time, place and persons, where, when and to whom they should compt and make payment of the saids Duries, as also such censures and penalties as might induce them to due obedience thereto: particularly, the sixty third Act, Par. eleventh, holden by His Majesties Grand-father of blessed memory, in anno, one thousand, five hundred and eighty seven, Ordaining the Exchequer to sit down the first day of July yearly, and to continue to the last day of august thereafter; requiring not only the Thesaurer, Comptroller, Collector, their Deputes and other Officers, to be present and give their attendance during the said time; but also all persons lyable in payment, who ought to make compt in Exchequer, to be charged by precepts to compare thereat, under the pain of fourty pounds, to be up-lifted by the Thesaurer; Ordaining Letters of Horning to be directed against them for payment thereof, and that the saids persons do attend for making of the saids accompts to the close thereof; and in case of disobedience to the said Precept, that they be charged of new at the Mercat-crofs of Edinburgh, and in case of their disobedience to the said Charge, to be denounced Rebels at the said Crofs; which denunciation is declared to be as sufficient, as if the same were at the head Burgh of the Shire where the person liveth, and that the Horning be registrat in the Thesaurers books or Sheriff books of Edinburgh. And sikelike, by the sixty fifth Act of the said Parliament, all Chamberlains and other Receivers of His Majesties Rents, as well heretable as moveable, are ordained to find caution to the Thesaurer in Edinburgh, for making compt at the ordinar time of Exchequer, and payment within twenty dayes after the terme. And also, by the eighty Act of the said Parliament, it is Ordained, that Letters be directed, charging the Sheriffs, under the pain of rebellion, with certification, &c. to find caution, Burgeses Indwellers in Edinburgh, that they shall yearly make their accompts in Exchequer, and pay all things resting owing to the Kings Majesty, by vertue of their office. And sikelike, by the two hundred and thirty Act, Parliament fourteenth, anno, one thousand, five hundred, and ninety four; not only the foresaid Act is ratified and approved; but also, all Chamberlains, Fewers, Customers, Bailies of Burroughs, and Sheriffs, and others intrumetors with the foresaid Rents, are ordained to find caution Burgeses of Edinburgh, for yearly compearing and making compt in Exchequer. And sicklike by another Act, Parliament fifteen, Act two hundred and sixty two, for preventing of the prejudice that did then arise, through the not timestous payment of the foresaid Rents, payable out of the High-lands and Isles, the saids Fewers are Ordained to find caution to the Exchequer, for yearly and thankful payment of the yearly Rents, Duties and Services due and payable forth of the Lands posselt and occupied by them, or any other in their names; wherein if they failed, their pretended Infestments, and other Rights and Titles they have to any of their Lands, either property or superiority, are declared forfault and null. Which whole Acts of Parliament respective above-mentioned, The King's Majesty and Estates of Parliament, taking of new to their consideration; and finding no means could have been more probable and conduceable, for preventing of these prejudices and obstructions that have arisen to His Majesties Affairs, through the not timely payment of His Rents; and that the neglect of the exact putting of the saids Acts to execution, hath been the only fountain from whence these have sprung. Therefore, and for preventing of the same in the future, the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, doth Revive, Renew, Ratifie and Approve the foresaid Acts respectively and particularly above-written of the dates, tenors and contents thereof in all points, in so far as the same are or may be extended to the payment or securing of His Majesties Rents; and Ordains the same to have force, and to be punctually obeyed and extended against all Chamberlains, Fewers, Sheriffs, Stewarts of Stewartries, Bailies of Regalities, Bailies of Burroughs, and others lyable in payment of any of His Majesties Rents, for finding caution in Exchequer to the Theasurer-principal and Theasurer-depute, who are hereby required to cause charge the foresaid persons, particularly above-mentioned, at the Mercat-crofs of Edinburgh to compear before them, to the effect above-written; with certification, not only under the pains contained in the respective Acts of Parliament; but also, in case of their disobedience, to denounce them Rebels at the said Mercat-crofs of Edinburgh, and to be registrate in the Theasurers or general Registers of Hornings: Which charge, denunciation and registration respective, the King's Majesty and Estates of Parliament Declares to be as sufficient, to all purposes and intents, as if the same charge were given to them personally at their dwelling-houses, and the denunciation at the head Burgh of the Shire where they live, and the same registrate in the Sheriff's Books thereof. And sick-like, His Majesty and Estates of Parliament taking to their consideration, that several of the saids Fewers, charged and denounced for not compearing, compting and paying of their saids Duties, do ly under the Process of Horning, apprehending themselves (from the distance of the place) secure, both as to their persons and goods, to the great contempt of His Majesties Royall Authority, slighting, contemning and vilipending His Majesties Laws: And His Majesty and Estates of Parliament considering, by the nature, duty and office of each Sheriff, Stewart and Bailies of Regalities, within their respective Jurisdiccions, they as His Majesties Officers are obliged, and by several Acts of Parliament (viz. the 30. Act Ja. 4. Par. 3. Par. 6. Act 69. Act 97. Ja. 5. Par. 7. Act 74. Par. 6. Ja. 6. Act 75. Ja. 6. Par. 6.) Ordained, to execute His Majesties Laws, and put letters of Poinding and Caption to execution, take and apprehend the Rebels, uplift their estates and compt for the same to the Comptroller and Theasurer, and to cause their Clerks give in the Registers of Hornings, and to up-lift His Majesties retoured Duties, blench duties, taxations, and other duties payable to His Majesty, as not only the saids Acts of Parliament, but also the several Rols of Exchequer, bears; Whereby it appears, both by the Law, and the nature, and duty of their Office, that they ought to execute His Majesties Letters, and cause His Majesty be payed of His Rents by the persons lyable in payment thereof within their bounds, and that the contemnors of His Majesties Authority be duly punished, and His Majesties Laws put to execution by them as His proper Officers. Therefore, the King's Majesty and Estates of Parliament Ordains, when any of the foresaid persons, for disobedience to the charges given to them for payment of the Mails, Farnes and Duties, as said is, are denounced Rebels and put to the horn, Letters to be directed to charge the Sheriff of the Shire and his Deputes, Stewarts of Stewartry, Bailly of the Regality respective, within those bounds where the saids persons dwells or Lands lyes, to take and apprehend their persons and put them in ward, ay and while payment be made to the Theasurer and Theasurer-Depute, or others appointed by them, and an equ retired thereof, or to poind and destrinzie the readiest goods and geer, and to make sale of so much thereof; and to cause His Majesties Theasurer and Theasurer-depute, and others appointed by them for that effect, to be compleatly payed of the said sum charged for, or to instruct sufficient and exact diligence for the same, within twenty one dayes next after they be charged: With certification, if they failzie, the saids twenty one dayes being by-past, Letters shall be directed to charge them or their respective cautioners, to make payment thereof themselves, under the pain of rebellion and putting of them to the horn; and if they failzie, to denounce them rebels, &c. in maner above-specified.

XVI.

ACT concerning Beggars and Vagabonds.

Our Sovereign Lord, considering the many laudable Acts of Parliament, made by His Majesties Royal predecessors for relief of the Poor, and for constraining of Beggars, Vagabonds and idle Persons to take themselves to lawful Callings, that they might not be burdenson and dis-graceful to the Kingdom; Especially the seventh Act of the sixth Parliament of His Majesties Royal Grand-father King James the sixth of happy memory; Ordaining the names of the poor of ilk Paroch, and such as must be necessarily sustained by almes, to be taken up, and to tax and stint the persons within the Paroch, according to the estimation of their substance, without exception of persons, to such weekly charges and contributions, as should be thought sufficient to sustain the said poor People: And the hundred and sixty eight Act of the fiftenth Parliament King James the sixth, Ratifying the former Act; With this addition, That strong Beggars with their Bairns, be employed in common Works, and that they shall continue servants therein during their life-times. And considering the tenth Act of the two and twentieth Parliament of His said Royal Grand-father King James the sixth, Recommending to all His good Subjects, to take into their service poor and indigent children, declaring that they shall be subject to their said Masters, their Heirs and assignes, in all kind of service that shall be enjoyned to them, untill they pass their age of thirty years compleat, and that they shall be subject to their Masters correction and chastisement in all maner of punishment (life and torture excepted) and that if it shall happen, the said persons to absent themselves from their Masters service without their licence, not only to be liable to bodily punishment at their Masters discretion, but that all receptors of them shall be obliged to restore them to their Masters, within twenty four hours after they be required, otherways, to pay to their said Masters, ten shillings Scots for ilk dayes absence till they be restored. And His Majesty considering, that the chiefe cause, whereby the foresaids Acts have proven in-effectual, and that Vagabonds and idle persons do yet so much abound, hath been, that there were few or no common Works then erected in the Kingdom, who might take and employ the said idle persons in their service; and that now, by His Majesties princely care, common Works for Manufacturies of divers sorts, are setting up in this Kingdom; Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates in parliament, Ratifies and Approves the foresaids Acts of Parliament; with this addition, That it shall be leifum to all persons or Societies, who have or shall set up any Manufacturies within this Kingdom, to seize upon and apprehend the persons of any Vagabonds, who shall be found begging, or who being Masterless and out of service, have not wherewith to maintain themselves by their own means or work, and to employ them for their service as they shall see fit, the same being done with the advice of the respective Magistrates of the place where they shall be seized upon; And Ordains the Paroches where such Vagabonds or idle persons, as shall be found begging, were born; Or in case the place of their nativity be not known, the Paroches where they have any residence, haunt, or most resort for the space of three years immediately preceeding their being so apprehended, who thereby are relieved of the burden of them, to make payment to the persons or Societies that shall happen to employ them; two shillings Scots money per diem, for the first year after they be apprehended, and one shilling Scots per diem for the next three years thereafter; the one half thereof to be payed by the Heretors of the severall Paroches respective, and the other half thereof to be payed by the possessors and Inhabitants dwelling upon the ground of each Heretor respective. Likewise, His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, Ordains the Heretors of each Paroch, or as many of them as shall happen to meet, upon publick intimation, made at the Paroch-kirk upon any Sabbath at the dissolving of the Church from the first Sermon, by any of the Heretors of the Paroch, or by the employers of the poor, to make up a stent Roll for maintenance of the Poor in their Paroch, who shall be employed, as said is, at the rate aforesaid, the one half thereof to be payed by the Heretors, either conform to the old extent of their Lands within the Paroch, or conform to the valuation by which they last payed assessment; or otherways, as the major part of the Heretors, so meeting, shall agree, Life-renters and Wod-setters always being lyable, during their Rights as Heretors; and the other half thereof to be laid upon the Tennents and possessors, according to their means and substance. And in case the said Heretors, being required by any person or Society, employing the poor as said is, shall failzie to make up and deliver a stent Roll in maner foresaid, with power to the persons, Society or others intrusted by them, to charge the Heretors of each Paroch for the sum of two shillings Scots per diem, for each one of their poor, whereof they shall be relieved in maner foresaid, conform to the old extent or valuation foresaid, at the option of the person or Society employing, or these intrusted by them; which stent Roll shall continue and stand for one year after the making up thereof, either by the Heretors, or in case of failzie, by the Persons or Societies employing the poor, as said is, and shall then be renewed from year to year, during the years above-written. Providing also, that the Heretors in case they failzie to make a stent Roll, as said is, and be charged conform conform to the old extent or valuation of their Lands, that they shall have relief of the Tennents and possessors of their Lands, for the one half of what they shall be distressed for. And His Majesty, with consent of the saids, Ordains Letters of Horning to be directed hereupon, at the instance of the Persons or Societies of the said daily allowance for the Poor, or against the recepters of them, being so employed, for ten shillings Scots money per diem, upon fifteen dayes only: Providing alwayes, that after examination of the case, the Lords of the Privy Council shall find cause for idrecting such Letters; And ordains all Sheriffs, Stewarts, Bailies of Regality, Principality, Magistrates of Burroughs, or Justices of Peace and their Constables, to the assisting in the apprehending of the saids Vagabonds, or in the bringing of them back to their service, after they shall be employed: And strictly Prohibits and Discharges all persons whatsoever, to oppose or hinder the taking or bringing back of them in maner foresaid respective, under the pain of deformeement. Likeas, it is hereby Declared, That the Poor so employed shall continue in the service of the employers, and under their direction and correction, in maner foresaid, not only during the space of the maintenance to be payed for them by their Paroches, in maner above-written; but also for the space of seven years thereafter for meat and cloath only; Declaring alwayes, likeas it is hereby expressly Declared, that the Burgh of Air nor their inhabitants shall no wayes be comprehended herein, but are excepted here-from in all points. And recommends to the Lords of the Privy Council, to see this Act and all former Acts of Parliament made And against sturdy Beggars and Vagabonds, put to execution, with power to them to supply by their order what shall be deficient, as to the execution of the saids Acts.

XVII.

ACT anent the measure of Coal.

Our Sovereign Lord, considering, that severall questions and debates do arise, betwixt the buyars of Coal, and the Customers and Receivers of the Bullion, anent the measure of the Chalder, by which the Custom and Bullion imposed upon the Coal should be paid; Doth therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statute and Declare, That the rates of Custom and Bullion, imposed upon the Chalder of Coal, is and shall be understood of the Cuthof-chalder; and the saids rates exacted and paid according to that measure allanerly, notwithstanding of any former Custom to the contrary.

XVIII.

ACT anent the Foot-measure.

The Estates of Parliament considering, that notwithstanding by the ancient Laws of the Kingdom, the ell is designed to be thirty seven inches, yet many use inches by which the ell is divided into fourty two inches, & of these small inches, make the Foot-measure of a smaller proportion then it ought to be, to the great prejudice of the Lieges; & that the occasion of this liberty hath been, because, that hitherto there hath no Standard been appointed for foot-measure, as well as other measures. Thetefor His Majesty, with advice & consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes & Ordains That from and after the first day of June next, one thousand, six hundred, sixty four, no Work-man nor other person shall make use of any other Foot-measure, then such as consists of twelve of these inches whereof the ell contains thirty seven: And that this may be the better made practicable to the Lieges, Ordains an exact Standard-foot to be made by the Magistrates of Edinburgh, before the first of January, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty four, of Iron or Copper, and preserved by the City of Edinburgh, for all time coming. And that all Burghs shall have a measure made according to it, and hung at their Tolbooth doors or upon their Mercat-crosses, before the first of March, one thousand, six hundred and sixty four; And any Burgh that shall fail in this, shall be lyable to the penalty of one hundred pounds Scots. And Ordains, That all Wrights, Glasiers, Masons, and all other sorts of publick Work-men, shall work by this Foot-measure allanerly, that the Lieges may not be abused by variety of measures. Providing alwayes, that this do infer no further privilege to the Burgh of Edinburgh, in iusting of the Standard to the Shires and Burghs within the Kingdom, then the keeping of the same; nor to any others that have Standards of the like nature.

XIX.

ACT discharging Monday and Saturday Mercats in Royal Burghs.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD considering, that there is much occasion given for profanation of the Lords-day in the Royal Burghs, by keeping their weekly Mercats on Monday and Saturday, and that the same may be as conveniently kept on other dayes of the week; Doth therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates in Parliament, Inhibit and Discharge all the Royal Burghs, from keeping any Mercats, in time coming, upon the Monday or Saturday, under the pain of one hundred Merks, to be payed by each of the Royal Burghs for every contravention respective: And allows them to change and keep their Mercats on other dayes of the week as they have done formerly, since the year, one thousand, six hundred, and forty four, and that they make timeous intimation of the change to the next adjacent Burghs. It being alwayes Declared, that this Act is not to be extended against Flethers in Royal Burghs, who may keep Mercat of flethes in their respective Burghs upon these dayes, this Act notwithstanding.

XX.

ACT anent Lint-seed, Hemp-seed and Steel.

THE Estates of Parliament, raking to consideration, the manifold mistakes and differences that do and may arise, betwixt the Farmers of Excise and Merchants, anent the exacting of Excise upon Lint-seed, Hemp-seed and Steel, which seems to be occasioned because these Commodities are not particularly excepted, in the Act of the Annuity, from payment of Excise: and being certainly informed, that the present Farmers of Excise and their Collectors, do require and exact duty of Hemp-seed, Lint-seed and Steel, contrary to the meaning of the said Act of Annuity, and of the 40 Act of this present Parliament, made for encouragment of Manufactures. Therefore, Our Sovereign Lord, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth Declare, all Hemp-seed, Lint-seed and Steel to be included in the generality of the proviso of the said Act of Annuity; as also of the said fourtieth Act, whereby all materials for Manufactures are exempted from Excise.

XXI.

ACT anent Manfes and Glebs, and poiding for Ministers Stipends.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, considering the great difficulties which often-times the Ministers of the Gospel do meet with, in the due payment of their Rents and Stipends; So that they are sometimes forced to use legal execution by poiding, and in so doing are necessitate to carry the Goods poynded, to be appressed at the Mercat-cross of the head Burgh of the Shire, Stewartry, Bailiery or Regality, many miles distant from the place where the Goods are poided, to the great prejudice of the party and of the Goods also. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Declares, that it shall be sufficient to the Ministers foresaid, in poiding, apprising, destrenzying the Goods of the persons deficient in payment of their Rents and Stipends, to comprise the saids Goods, by honest sworn men, upon the ground of the Lands and place where the Goods are, which shall be as sufficient, as the same were done at the saids Mercat-crosses. And because, notwithstanding of divers Acts of Parliament made of before, divers Ministers are not yet sufficiently provided with Manfes and Glebs, and others do not get their Manfes free at their entry; Therefore, Our Sovereign Lord, with advice foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, That where competent Manfes are not already built, the Heritors of the paroch, at the sight of the Bishop of the Diocess, or such Ministers as he shall appoint, with two or three of the most knowing and discreet men of the paroch, build competent Manfes to their Ministers, the expences thereof not exceeding one thousand pounds, and not being beneath five hundred merks: And where competent Manfes are already built, Ordains the Heritors of the paroch to relieve the Minister and his Executors of all cost, charges and expences, for repairing of the foresaid Manfes; Declaring hereby, that the Manfes being once built and repaired, and the building or repairing satisfied and payed by the Heritors in maner foresaid, the saids Manfes shall thereafter be upholden by the incumbent Ministers during their possession, and by the Heritors in time of vacancy, out of the readiest of the vacand Stipend. In like-maner Ordains, that every Minister have Fewel, Foggage, Feal and Devors, according to the Act of Parliament, made in anno, one thousand, five hundred, and ninety three. As also, that every Minister (except such Ministers of Royal Burroughs, who have not right to Glebs) have Grafs for one horse and two kine, over and above their Gleb, to be designed out of Kirk-lands, and with relief according to the former

Acts

Acts of Parliament standing in force; And if there be no Kirk-lands lying near the Ministers Manse, out of which the grafs for one horse and two kine may be designed, or otherwayes, if the saids Kirk-lands be arable Land, in either of these cases, Ordains the Heritors to pay to the Minister and his Successors yearly, the sum of twenty pounds Scots, for the said grafs for one horse and two kine, the Heritors alwayes being relieved according to the Law standing, of other Heritors of Kirk-lands in the said Paroch. And because severall Kirks have no Glebs as yet designed to them, it is hereby specially provided, that in all designations of Glebs, Incorporat-acres, in Village or Town where the Heritor hath houses and gardens, the same shall not be designed, he alwayes giving other Lands nearest to the Kirk. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, for special causes and considerations, Declares, that this present Act, as to the Manses, is to have force, as the same had been made and dated the fourteenth of March, one thousand, six hundred, and forty nine.

XXII.

ACT anent Comprisings.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, considering, that since the first day of January, one thousand, six hundred, and fifty two, before the making of the sixty two Act of the first Session of this Parliament, entituled, Act for ordering the payment of debts betwixt Creditor and Debitor, divers persons, having right by posterior Comprisings to the Legal reversion of the first Comprising deduced of their Debtors Estate, have according to the Law then in force, redeemed or satisfied the first Comprising, and acquired the right thereof for their own better security, lest the legal reversion of the first Comprising should have expired to their prejudice. And whereas, by an Clause of the foresaid Act of parliament, it is Ordained, That all Comprisings, led since the said first day of January, one thousand, six hundred, and fifty two, within year and day of the first effectual Comprising, shall come in pari passu together, in maner, and upon the provisions, mentioned in the said Act: Which Clause, as it is most just as to all Comprisings led, and standing un-redeemed and un-satisfied by the subsequent Comprisers having right to the legal reversion, So it were unjust to prejudge those, who for their own security, have redeemed or satisfied the first Comprising, as said is, according to the Law then standing. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Declares, that albeit the foresaid Act was made ad præterita, to regulate the diligence used by Comprisings at the instance of the Creditors: Yet it was no wayes their meaning to prejudge posterior Comprisers, who, bona fide, for their own security, and for preventing the hazard of the expiration of the legal reversion of the first Comprising, did redeem or satisfie the same; And Therefore it is Statute and Ordained, That the saids second Comprisers shall no wayes be prejudged of the right of the foresaid first Comprising, redeemed and satisfied by them; Declaring nevertheless, that as to the second or posterior Comprising, standing in the parties person who satisfied the first, the same shall only come in with the rest of the Comprisers, pari passu, as it is provided by the foresaid Act. As likewayes Declaring, that these presents be no wayes extended to any Comprisings satisfied by the second Comprisers, since the making of the foresaid Act of Parliament, or to be satisfied in time coming.

XXIII.

ACT anent Sentences of Excommunication.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD considering, that the proviso in the twenty fifth Act of the first Session of Parliament, entituled, Act for denouncing of excommunicat persons, anent the exhibiting the Process and Sentence of Excommunication before the Lords of Session, to the end they might consider the legality of the Process, and grounds whereupon the Sentence proceeded, before any Letters of denunciation should pass against the excommunicat persons, was concluded before the restoration of the Bishops, and is prejudicial and derogatory to the jurisdiction of Ecclesiastical Authority as it is now established; Doth Therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Retreat and Rescind the said proviso, and Declares the same to be void and null.

XXIV.

ACT for additional provision in favours of the Universities.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD and the Estates of Parliament, taking into serious consideration, the condition of the severall Universities of this Kingdom; And finding, that the present mean and competent provision of the Masters and Professors thereof, is so prejudicial to the flourishing of these Seminaries of Church and State, that unless some considerable augmentation be settled upon them them for their encouragement, the ablest and fittest persons of ingenious spirits and education, will shun and avoid the undertaking of Functions in Universities, for want of such ingenious means as should invite, entertain, encourage and oblige men sufficient for such laborious employments, to the great decay of Learning, and detriment of all ranks of Persons in the Kingdom: For preventing and remedying whereof, there being an expedient proposed, that the Archbishops and Bishops, and the rest of the inferior Clergy, may allow some part yearly of their Rents, Benefices and Maintenance, for the space of five years to come, as an exemplary testimony of their piety and zeal, for the advancement of Learning and Religion. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Doth Statute and Ordain, That for the crops and years, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty four, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty five, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty six, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty seven, and one thousand, six hundred, and sixty eight, there be raised yearly, out of the Rents of ilk Archbishop and Bishop, the sum of fifty pounds for every thousand merks of the saids Revenues, and the sum of forty pounds out of every thousand merks of the Stipends or Benefices of every Minister, and so proportionably six of the hundred, as the Benefice or Stipend shall be valued to be more or less by the Bishops of the Diocesses: And that the saids several proportions, payable by the Bishops, shall be yearly given in to the Archbishops of the respective Provinces, or such as shall have warrant from them; and that the saids several proportions, payable by Ministers, shall be yearly given in to the Bishops of the respective Dioceses, or such as shall have warrant from them, and for whom the saids Bishops shall be countable: Which sums so to be raised, shall be distributed to the several Universities, according to those proportions which shall be assigned by His Majesty, by a Committee to sit at Edinburgh, consisting of the Archbishops of Sanct-Andrews and Glasgow, and the Bishops of Edinburgh and Aberdeen, and four others, whereof one to be nominat by the Visitors of the University of Sanct-Andrews, and another by the Visitors of the University of Glasgow, the third by the Visitors of Aberdeen, the fourth by the Council of Edinburgh; Hereby authorizing the Archbishop of Sanct-Andrews, and in his absence the Archbishop of Glasgow, to preside in the said Committee, and to appoint their diets of meeting from time to time; and the Committee to take care, that the sums thus allotted, shall be put into a Stock and settled upon Land or otherways, by advice of the respective Bishops, who are Chancellors of the saids Universities; and Ordains the Annual-rent of the said Stock to be proportioned to the Masters and Professors of each University, as the Visitors thereof shall appoint. And further, His Majesty and Estates foresaid, do Ordain, that Stipends, and all Benefices of Kirks that shall vaik after the first day of February, in this following year of God, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty four, for the space of seven years next thereafter, shall be up-lifted by Collector thereof, and employed by him in the maner, and according to the proportions above-specified, for encreasing of the Stock of each University: Declaring, that the fifty two Act of the first Session of this Parliament, Concerning the disposal of vacand Stipends, shall be of no force during the space of the years foresaid; And Ordains Letters of Horning and Poinding, and all other execution necessary, to be directed at the instance of the saids Bishops, or any to be appointed by them; and at the instance of the said Collector, for the more speedy in-bringing of the sums respective above-mentioned. Further, His Majesty and the Estates of Parliament, do recommend to the Lords of the Privy Council, to entertain and promote any voluntary offer or contribution, for the ends aforesaid, to be made by Noble-men or Gentlemen, for a work so worthy of the publick wisdom, piety and honour of this Kingdom. It is alwayes Declared, that this Act shall be without prejudice of Acts past in this Parliament, for allowing the vacand Stipends of the Dioceses of Mles and Argyl for breeding of young Schollars, the sum being regulate by the Committee above-named; and that this Act shall be no preparative for laying on any burdens on the Clergy hereafter, without their own consent.

X X V.

ACT regulating the proportions of Excise in the several Shires and Burghs.

THE Estates of Parliament, taking to their consideration, the grievances represented to them by the several Shires and Burghs, anent the excessive proportions of Excise laid upon them by the late Act of Parliament, and what great burthen the Land-rent of the saids Shires and Burghs lyes under, for making up the saids proportions, and the great ease which several other Shires have in their proportions; And it being just and reasonable, that all publick impositions of that nature, should be equally distributed upon those lyable in payment thereof. Therefore, the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, that the several Shires and Burghs of this Kingdom, shall, for the Moneths of November and December next, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty three, and January one thousand, six hundred and sixty four years, and in all time thereafter, be lyable in the monethly payment of the respective proportions under-written, viz. The Shire of Edinburgh principal, in the sum of two thousand, one hundred, and forty pounds Scots money; The

XXVII.

An humble Tender to His Sacred Majesty, of the duty and loyalty of His ancient Kingdom of Scotland.

FOrasmuch, as the Estates of Parliament, upon consideration of the great blessings this Kingdom enjoyeth, under the protection of His Majesties Authority and the administrations of His Royal Government; being thereby not only delivered from their former troubles, and all the evils which attend such usurpations; but being fully restored to, and possess of, all the liberties and privileges of a free people; Have, by their several addresses to His Sacred Majesty, made offer of their lives and fortunes, and all that is dearest to them, for the advancement of His Royal Honour, Authority and Greatness. And this Kingdom being still more and more sensible of this their happiness, by the often and renewed expressions of His Majesties grace & favour, and of His tenderness and care of their preservation, in the peaceable and secure enjoyment of their Religion, Laws, Liberties and Properties; Do find themselves the more obliged to renew the expressions of their duty and loyalty to His Majesty. And therefore, the Estates of Parliament, of this His Majesties ancient Kingdom of Scotland, do, in name and behalf of all His Majesties good Subjects within the same, by these presents, renew the dutiful tender of their lives and fortunes, for the promoting of His Majesties Service and the advancement of His Royal Authority. And as they do cheerfully recognise His Majesties Royal Prerogative and undoubted Right of the sole power of raising, arming and commanding of His Subjects; So, in a further acknowledgment of their duty, they do make humble and hearty offer to His Majesty, of twenty thousand Foot-men and two thousand Horse-men, sufficiently armed, and furnished with forty dayes provision, to be raised from the several Shires of the Kingdom, according to the Proportions following, viz. From the Shires of Roxburgh and Selkirk, one thousand, three hundred, thirty three Foot, and one hundred, forty, eight Horse. From the Shire of Berwick, eight hundred, Foot, and seventy, four Horse. From the Shire of Edinburgh, eight hundred Foot, and seventy four Horse. From the Shire of Haddington, eight hundred Foot, and seventy, four Horse. From the Shire of Peebles, two hundred, sixty six Foot, and twenty nine Horse. From the Shire of Linlithgow, three hundred, thirty three Foot, and forty two Horse. From the Burgh of Edinburgh, Liebt and Canongate, eight hundred Foot.

From

From the Shire of Dumfries, eight hundred Foot, and eighty eight Horfe. From the Shire of Wigtoun, eight hundred Foot, and eighty eight Horfe. From the Shires of Air and Renfrew, one thousand, three hundred, thirty three Foot, and one hundred, seventy, six Horfe. From the Shire of Lanerick, one thousand Foot, and one hundred, forty, eight Horfe. From the Shires of Stirling and Clackmannan, six hundred sixty six Foot, and eighty eight Horfe. From the Shires of Fife and Kinross, one thousand, six hundred Foot, and one hundred, seventy, six Horfe. From the Shire of Perth, one thousand, six hundred Foot, and one hundred, seventy, six Horfe. From the Shire of Forfar, one thousand Foot, and one hundred and three Horfe. ACT asserting His Majesties Prerogative in the ordering and disposal of Trade with forrainers.

THE Estates of Parliament considering, that during the late troubles, divers invasions were made upon the Royal Prerogatives of the Crown; And that in a just abhorrence thereof, and on all occasions to vindicate and assert the same, in the several branches thereof: And since the ordering and disposal of Trade with forraign Countries, and the laying of restraints and impositions upon forraign imported Marchandizes, is, by the Law of Nations, acknowledged to be proper to, and inherent in, the persons of all free Princes, as an undoubted Prerogative of the Crown. They therefore, in a dutiful and humble recognizance of His Majesties Prerogative-royal, do Declare, That the ordering and disposal of Trade with forraign Nations, and the laying of restraints and impositions upon forraign imported Commodities, doth belong to His Majesty and His Successors, as an undoubted Priviledge and Prerogative of the Crown; And that by vertue thereof, they may lay such impositions and restraints upon imported forraign Commodities, and so order and dispose upon the Trade of them, as they shall judge fit for the good of the Kingdom. Likewise, the King's Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates in Parliament, doth hereby Revoke and Annul all Acts, Statutes, Constitutions and Customs to the contrary; And Declares the same void and null in all time coming.

XXVIII.

COMMISSION for plantation of Kirks and valuation of Teinds.

THE King's most Excellent Majesty, being desirous to prosecute the work of valuation of Teinds and plantation of Kirks, in reference to His own interest for the annuity, and the universal good of His people, especially for the encouragement of the Ministers of the Gospel; Doth with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Ratifie and Approve the nineteenth Act of the Parliament, holden at Edinburgh by His Royal Father of blessed memory, in anno, one thousand, six hundred hundred and thirty three, (entitled, Commission for valuation of Teinds,) in the whole heads, clauses and condicions thereof, except in so far as there hath been any alterations made therein, by Acts and Commissions made and granted by His Majesty since the date of the said Act, or granted by any pretended Parliaments since, and which are Ratified, Salvèd or Reserved by this present Parliament; and which alterations are not destructive of, and contrary to, this present Act, or any clause thereof. And sicklike, Ratifies and Approves the sixty one Act of the first Session of this present Parliament, entitled, Commission for plantation of Kirks, &c. in the whole Heads, Articles and Clauses thereof, except in so far as the same may be contrary to this present Act, as said is. And His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, gives full power and commission to James Archbishop of St. Andrews; William Earl of Glencairn, Chancellor; John Earl of Rothes, Thesaurer; Alexander Archbishop of Glasgow; William Earl Marshal, Privy-Seal; Duke of Hamilton; Marquess of Montrose; Earl of Lauderdale, Secretary; Earl of Eglington; Earl of Linlithgow; Earl of Kelby; Earl of Haddington; Earl of Annandail; Earl of Leiven; Earl of Tweddail; George Bishop of Edinburgh; James Bishop of Galloway; George Bishop of Dunkel; Bishop of Aberdeen; John Bishop of Ross; Robert Bishop of Dumblance; William Lord Bellenden, Thesaurer-deputè; Sir John Gilmour, President of the Session; Sir Archibald Primrose, Clerke Register; His Majesties Advocat; Sir John Home of Renton, Justice Clerk; Sir James Lockhart of Lee; Sir John Scougal of whitekirk; Charles Maitland of Halton; Sir Thomas Hamilton of Preston; Sir John Wauchop of Nidrie; Sir Robert Fletcher of Salton; Sir Henry Wardlaw of Pitrevey; William Scot of Ardrofs; Sir Andrew Ramsay, Provost of Edinburgh; Sir Robert Murray there; Sir Archibald Sydsersf; Sir Alexander Wedderburn; Sir William Thomson; John Miln; Robert Lenthov, Provost of St. Andrews; Mr. John Paterson, Provost of Perth; William Seatoun, Provost of Haddington; or any fifteen of them; whereof three of the Clergy, three of the Nobility, three Officers of State, three Commissioners of Shires, and three of Burghs; of which number, the Archbishop of St. Andrews, or the Chancellor, or the Thesaurer, or the Archbishop of Glasgow, or the Privy-Seal, or the Secretary, or the Duke of Hamilton, or the Earl of Haddington, or any of them, being alwayes one, to meet and convene at Edinburgh, the day of one thousand, six hundred and sixty years; and at such other place or places, times and diets as they shall appoint, to value, and cause be valued, whatsoever Teinds, great or small, Parsonage or Vicarage, of whatsoever Lands within this Kingdom, lyable to the payment of Teinds, which are yet un-valued; Excepting alwayes the Teithes of the Archbishops, Bishops and other beneficed persons, whereof they were in real and actual possession, by leading and collecting the same, in the year, one thousand, six hundred and twenty eight; And with provision, that they be not prejudged of the Fruits and Rents of their severall Benefices, as the same was posselt by them, anno, one thousand, six hundred and thirty seven, conform to the Submission made by the Bishops to His Majesty in the said year, and Decree arbitral following thereupon: With power to the saids Commissioners, or quorum foresaid, to appoint Sub-commissioners, conform to the former Acts and Commissions for valuation of Teinds, and receive reports from them. And with power to them, where Ministers are not already sufficiently provided, or have not Localities assigned to them for their Stipends, out of the Teinds within the Paroch where they serve the Cure, to modifye, settle and appoint constant local Stipends to ilk Minister, out of the Teinds of the Paroch where they serve the Cure, in so far as the same will amount to, according to the quantities of victual or money mentioned in the saids Acts and Commissions, and to decide and proportion the saids Localities. And with power too dis-joyn to large and spacious Paroches, to cause erect and build new Churches, to dismember and annex Kirks, as they shall think just; and to take order, that every Heretor and Life-renter shall have the leading and buying of their own Teinds, if they be willing, according to the rates prescribed by former Commissions; Particularly, by the Commission granted by His Majesty, with consent of the Estates of parliament, in anno, one thousand, six hundred and thirty three; with power to them to determine all questions concerning the prices of Teinds, betwix Titulars and others having right thereto, and the Heretors; and to appoint such securities, in favours of the Titulars and others having right to the Teind, for the prices to be granted by Heretors, payers of the valued duties, or buyers of the said Teinds, and in favours of the Ministers, as to their maintenance, as the saids Commissioners shall think fitting, according to the rule set down in the saids former Acts, namely in the said Act, anno, one thousand, six hundred and thirty three. Declaring, That where the Vicarage of any Paroch is a severall Benefice and Title from the Parsonage, the same shall be severally valued; to the effect, the Titulars or Ministers serving the Cure, having right to the said Vicarage, be not frustrat of the true worth thereof; And that Titulars, and others having right to Teinds, shall not be forced to dispose any Teinds, valued or to be valued, which shall be assigned, disposed and allocat to the Minister serving the Cure of the Paroch. As also, with power to the saids Commissioners or quorum foresaid, to rectifie whatsoever Valuations, led or to be led to the enorm prejudice of the Titulars, and to the hurt and detriment of the Kirk, and prejudice of the Ministers maintenance and provisions, or of His Majesties Annuity. Provided alwayes, likeas it is hereby expressly provided, that where Valuations are lawfully led, against all parties having interest, and allowed by former Commissions, the same shall not be drawn in question, nor rectified upon the pretence of enorm lesion, at the instance of the Minister (not being Titular) or at the instance of His Majesties Advocat, in respect of His Majesties Annuity, except it be proven that collusion was used betwixt the Titulars and Heretors, or betwixt the Proctor-fiscal and Heretors and Titulars; which collusion is declared to be, where the Valuations are led with the diminution of the third of the just Rent, which diminution shall be proven by the parties Oaths. And albeit all the Acts of the pretended Parliaments, in the years, one thousand, six hundred, and forty, one thousand, six hundred, and forty one and thereafter, are declared, by an Act of this Parliament, null and of no avail in all time coming: Yet, it is hereby Declared; That all and whatsoever Valuations, Acts, Sentences and Decrets, done and past by any Commissions granted by the saids pretended Parliaments, with all executions used or to be used thereupon, are and shall be as valide in all time coming, as if the saids Valuations, Acts, Sentences and Decrets, had been given and pronounced by persons legally empowered to that effect, any thing in the foresaid rescissory Act to the contrary notwithstanding; Excepting such Decrets of Valuation, modification of Stipends, or augmentations thereof, past and granted since the year, one thousand, six hundred, and thirty seven, whereby the saids Archbishops or Bishops are prejudged of any part of their Rents, whereof they were in possession in the said year thirty seven. And although, by a special Act of this present Parliament, the pretended Parliament, holden in anno, one thousand, six hundred, and forty nine, and in the beginning of the year, one thousand, six hundred and fifty, is, from the beginning, Declared void and null, and all that had followed thereupon; Yet nevertheless, His Majesty doth, with advice foresaid, authorize all Valuations, Acts, Decrets and Sentences, led, deduced and pronounced by the Commissions, one or more, appointed by the said pretended Parliament, for plantation of Kirks and Valuation of Teinds, and all execution competent thereupon; Excepting such Decrets and Sentences, given in favours of Ministers for their Stipends; or for dividing, uniting, annexing or building of Kirks, which shall be found to have been unjustly or exorbitantly decreed: The determination whereof is hereby referred by His Majesty, with consent foresaid, to the saids Commissioners, that they, after hearing of parties and consideration of particulars, may take such course, for altering, annulling, or allowing of the saids Acts, Decrets and Sentences, as they shall think fitting, conform to the Laws, practick and Custom observed preceeding the year, one thousand, six hundred, and forty nine; And ordains Processes, upon supplications, to be summarily granted, parties always being cited, and that without any reduction. And it shall be lawful to the saids Commissioners, or quorum foresaid, to proceed in all Summons and Actions to be intended for that effect, within the space of two years after the first down-sitting of the Commission. And whereas it may fall out, that some of the saids Commissioners, may be un-able to attend the service, through death, sickness, or other known impediment; Therefore, His Majesty Declares, that He shall be careful to fill their places with other persons qualified, whose oaths for faithful discharge of the same shall be taken by the Lord Chancellor, or in his absence, by the President of the said Commission for the time; And Ordains this present Commission to endure ay and while the same be discharged by His Majesty; and the Acts, Decrets and Sentences thereof, to have the force, strength and effect of a Decree and Sentence of Parliament, and the Lords of Session to grant and direct Letters of Horning, Poinding and others requisit, in maner contained in the foresaid Commissions. And considering, that it was the will and pleasure of His Majesties Royal Father, that all Heretors, who should be willing to buy, should have their own Teinds, at reasonable rates; Therefore, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, That all Heretors, whose Teinds are not valued, (excepting as is formerly excepted in this Commission) shall have liberty to value and buy the same, at such rates as is contained in the Acts of Parliament, one thousand, six hundred, and thirty three. With power to the saids Commissioners, to augment the saids rates according to the burden of augmentation, and others sustained by the Titulars since the saids Acts; and the saids Heretors to have the liberty of buying, as said is, within the space of three years after the Valuation. With this Declaration alwayes; That in case the impediment, during the time foresaid, flow from the Titular, by reason of his minority or other in-ability; in that case, the Heretor who offers himself ready to buy his own Teind, within the space foresaid, shall have place, so soon as the impediment is removed, to buy his Teinds, notwithstanding of the expiring of the years and space above-exprest. And it is Declared, that if the Heretor be Minor, and his Tutors neglect the buying of his Teinds within the foresaid space, the Minor shall have action for two years after his minority, to compel the Titular for selling of his saids Teinds; And His Majesty, with consent foresaid, hereby discharges all former Commissions, Declaring the same to be expired.

XXIX.

ACT anent penal Statutes.

THe King's most Excellent Majesty, having, out of His grace and goodness to His Subjects, granted an full and free Act of Indemnity, Pardon and Oblivion, for all crimes and offences committed by them, relating to the late troubles, and more fully exprest in the tenth Act of the second Session of this Parliament. And considering, that besides these, there be divers arbitrary and pecunial pains, adjected to penal Statutes, which being strictly exacted, would prove an heavy burden to the Subjects who may be lyaible thereto. And His Majesty being desirous, now at the close of this His first Parliament, that all His good Subjects may find the effects of His mercy, as to exceed all former presidents, so to be beyond their own expectation; Hath therefore thought fit, with the advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, by these presents, to discharge, Pardon and remit all contraveners of any penal Statutes, for all deeds heretofore done by them, contrary to the tenour thereof; Excepting the Statutes concerning the unlawful taking of Usury, transporting of Silver and Gold, slaying of red and black Fish, and all Acts and Statutes past in this present Parliament, which are no wayes discharged by this present Act.

XXX.

ACT Salvo Jure cujuslibet.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD and Estates of Parliament, considering, that in this last Session of this present Parliament, many particular Acts and Ratifications have been past, wherein divers Clauses may be inserted, prejudicial to the rights and interests of several persons, albeit it hath alwayes been His Majesties purpose and meaning, and the purpose and meaning of the Estates of Parliament, in this, as in all preceeding Parliaments, That all particular Acts and Ratifications, general or special, howsoever conceived (where persons concerned have not been heard, for their Interest before the passing thereof) should not prejudice private Rights of parties. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all particular Acts and Ratifications whatsoever, past in this last Session of this present Parliament, shall be interpreted Salvo jure cujuslibet; Excepting alwayes, an Act and Ratification past in this Session of Parliament, in favours of the Duke and Dutcheß of Buccleuch, of their Contract of Marriage, which is Declared by His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, no wayes to be comprehended herein.

Extracted from the Records of Parliament, by Sir Archibald Primrose of Chester Knight and Barronet, Clerk of His Majesties Council, Registers and Rolls.

To his PARLIAMENT of SCOTLAND, in the year 1663.

Concerning the Act of Billeting.

CHARLES R.

My Lords and Gentlemen.

S WEE have just cause to account it one of the great blessings of Almighty God, upon Our Person, and Government, that You the Members of Our Parliament of that Our Ancient Kingdom of Scotland, Have so unanimously joined in rescinding all pretended Parliaments, and Acts derogatory to Our Authority, and in making so many laudable Laws, whereby the Church and State are now again settled, upon their proper, and solide foundations; Peace and Order established; Laws restored to their former lustre, and vigour, Our Authority and the Royall Prerogatives of Our Crown, transmitted to Us from so many Ancestours, now fully asserted, and clearly vindicated, and the seeds of Rebellion rooted out. By all which, Truth, and Righteousness, Peace, and Plenty, are by Gods blessing, like to be the lasting fruits of your labours: So Wee have thought it fit at the beginning of this Session of Our Parliament, again to signifie unto you, Our just esteem of that eminent Pietie, Loyalty, Prudence, and Affection, to Our Person, Crown, and Dignity, which you have by these excellent publick Acts, manifested to the World. And Therefore Wee doe again return Our most hearty thanks, which Wee doe desire may be recorded to Posterity. Wee shall not enumeat the particulars, for that were to recite all the Laws of general concern enacted in the first Session of this present Parliament, and some in the last Session. Only Wee shall let you know, that Wee have observed all along in the framing of these Laws, a most obsequious compliance with whatsoever hath been represented to you by Our last Commissioner to be Our intention, or what might be acceptable to Us, and that to a degree, that could not but proceed from an unparalleled affection to Our Person, and Service, and an intire deferency to Our Judgment in every point. In so much that although some few things hath been carried on, and even past, and Our consent given to them, without Our knowledge, and very farre from Our intention, which upon deliberat consideration, Wee find to be of quite another strain, then these other excellent Laws, which Wee so deservedly applaud: Yet Wee cannot attribute your concurrence therein to any thing, but that affection and deferency Wee have mentioned, though in the contrivance, and promoting of them, some sinister and giddie courses hath been taken, whereby the Loyal intentions of well meaning Persons have been led into absurdities, which if not redressed, may prove a pernicious example of dangerous consequence, as tending to the dishonour of Our Parliament, and to the subversion of all Justice, and good Government of this nature. And indeed the thing Wee mainly insist on, was that strange Act for incapacitating Twelve transmitted to Us sealed, (And which Wee have so ordered that it shall never more come to light,) and the yet stranger way of voting it, even by Billets. A way never before practised under Monarchy, nor ever heard of under any Government, as to punishments of such a nature as this was, where the Persons concerned, were so farre from being accused, heard, or upon evidence condemned, that their names were never made known to your selves who so sentenced them. But because the consent Wee gave to the incapacitating some few, seems to have been made use of as the ground of this, with which Wee are with so much reason most unsatisfied: We shall let you know clearly how both Wee and you were abused in this particular. Before the last Session of Parliament, Wee did by Our Instructions to Our last Commissioner declare Our pleasure concerning fines to be imposed by Our Parliament, both as to the crimes for which Wee did allow fining, and as to the proportions: And this moderat way of raising fines (which Wee intended to employ only for the relief of Our good Subjects who had been great Sufferers) was the only punishment Wee gave warrant for. Wee also commanded the Act of Pardon, and Oblivion to be transmitted to Us, before Our Royall assent was given to the same, because Wee were desirous Our self to see Our grace extended as large as Wee intended it: In obedience to which command Our Commissioner dispatched to Us last Summer, A Gentleman, with a letter of Credit, He brought to Us two draughts of an Act of Pardon and Oblivion: The One excepted only as to fines, the other excepted also as to incapacity from publick trust. And this last he owned to be the desire of Our Parliament, (though Wee are since sufficiently informed that incapacitating was never so much as heard of in Our Parliament till his return.) He likewise prest in name of Our Parliament, Our consent to the incapacitating some few of the most guilty, not exceeding exceeding Twelve. To the last Wee consented; And meerly upon the accompt of gratifying the desire of so faithfull and so Loyall a Parliament. NOW You can best Judge whether you gave warrant for such a desire as was made in your name, whether Our consent so obtained, was represented as a command from Us, and wherlier it was made use of as the rise and ground of this pernicious way of incapacitating by Billets; Which as it hath no colour of warrant from Us, (being farre from Our knowledge, and yet farther from Our intentions) So Wee cannot but declare, that Wee esteem it contrary to Our Honour, Freedom, and Gravity of Parliament, to all former practises, to Common Justice, and highly derogatory to Our Authority, and Dignity, as tending to the universal dissatisfaction of all Our good Subjects: For it voting by Billets, and punishing in that way be allowed, no man is secure of his Honour, his Estate, his Liberty, nor his Life, Persons of greatest merit may be this way destroyed; And even Our Officers of State and those of nearest Relation to Us, may by colour of Our Authority, without Our knowledge, be torn from Us, and exposed to intamy and ruine. And because Wee are most confident, such things were, and are as farre from Your meaning and intentions, as they are from Ours, and that Wee have great reason to suspect, that Our Name hath been abused, and many well meaning Persons have been made to believe, that what was done would be acceptable to Us: Therefore for vindicating of Our Honour and Yours, Wee doe in the first place, earnestly recommend to you to take speedy and exact trial, of the contrivance, and carrying on of this pretended Act of incapacitating by Billets, and report the same to Us; That Wee may make known to you Our farther pleasure, And Wee are so confident of your Justice, that Wee are certainly perswaded, you will joine in passing a new Act for rescinding all that relates to Billeting, with the clauses referring to it in the Act of Pardon, and Oblivion, and in the Act of fines, expressing in the narrative, such grounds and reasons as you shall find just, and necessary, rasing all memory of it out of Our records, and discharging all voting by Billets for the future. There be some other Acts in which Wee doubt not you will concur with Our opinion, that they have also need to be mended: But as to these Wee referre you to Our Commissioner, who will assure you, that Wee believe your consent to these things, with which Wee are no wayes satisfied, did proceed (as Wee have said) from your intire deferency to Our Judgment, and the belief of most among you, that they would be acceptable to Us. So expecting the continuance of that Zeal, and Affection to Our service, and the good of that Our Kingdom, of which Wee have had so many, and large testimonies, Wee bid you very heartily farewell.

Given at Our Court at Whythall, the fourth day of June, 1663, and of Our Reign, the 15th year.

By his Majestie's Command,

Commission for trying of the Contrivance, and carrying on of the

Edinburgh 26. of June. 1663.

FOR AS MUCH as it hath pleased his Sacred Majesty. by his Letter of the fourth of this instant, to signify His just esteem of that eminent Piety, Loyalty, Prudence, and affection, to His Royal Person, Crown, and Dignity, which His Parliament of this Kingdom hath by many excellent Acts manifested to the World: And that His Majesty hath observed in the framing of these Laws, such an obsequious compliance, with whatsoever was by his Commissioner represented to have been His Royal intention, or acceptable to him: Which could not but proceed from an unparalleld affection to His Person, and Service, and intire deferency to His Judgment in every point: In so much as although some few things have been in the last Session of Parliament, carried on, and even past, and the Royall assent interponed thereto, without His knowledge, and very farre from his intention: Yet His Majesty declareth, he cannot attribut the concurrence of His Parliament therein to any thing, but to their affection, and deferency aforesaid, though in contrivance and promoting of them, some sinistrous, and giddie courses have been taken, whereby the Loyall affections of well meaning Persons, have been led into absurdities: Which if not redressed may prove a pernicious example, and dangerous consequence, as tending to the dishonour of the Parliament, and the subversion of all Justice, and good Government. OF THIS NATURE was that strange Act for incapacitating TWELVE, Transmitted to His Majesty sealed, (and which His Majesty hath so ordered that it shall never more come to light) and the way of voting it by Billets, a way never before practised under Monarchy, nor ever heard of under any Government, as to punishments in such a nature as this, where the Persons

Persons concerned, were so far from being accused, heard, or upon evidence condemned, that their names were never made known to the Parliament who sentenced them. But because the consent His Majesty gave to the incapacitating some few, seems to have been made use of as the ground to this, with which His Majesty hath by the said Letter made known, how much both His Majesty himself, and the Parliament were abused in that particular, To wit, That before the last Session of Parliament, His Majesty did by His Instructions to His Commissioner, declare his pleasure concerning fines to be imposed by the Parliament, both as to the crimes for which His Majesty did allow fining, and as to the proportion; And this moderate way of fining which His Majesty intended to employ for the relief of His good Subjects, who had been great sufferers, was the only punishment He gave warrand for. His Majesty also commanded the Act of Pardon and Oblivion to be transmitted to Him, before His Royal assent was given to the same, because His Majesty was desirous to see His Grace extended as large as he intended it. And that in obedience to this command, His Commissioner dispatched A Gentleman, with a letter of Credit, who brought to His Majesty two draughts of an Act of Pardon, and Oblivion; The One excepted only as to fines, and the Other excepted also as to incapacity from publick Trust, and this last he publicly owned to be the desire of the Parliament, (though His Majesty is since sufficiently informed that incapacitating was never so much as heard of till his return) and that he likewise prest in the name of the Parliament His Majesty's consent to the incapacitating of some few of the most guilty, not exceeding twelve, to which His Majesty at last consented, merely upon the account of gratifying so Faithful and Loyall a Parliament. By all which the Parliament can best Judge, whether they gave warrand for such a desire, as was made in their name, whether his consent so obtained, was represented as a Command from His Majesty, and whether it was made use of as a rise and ground of this pernicious way of incapacitating by Billets: Which as it had no colour of warrand from His Majesty, (being far from His Royal knowledge, and yet farther from His intentions) so that His Majesty cannot but esteem it contrary to His Honour, to the Honour, Freedom, and Gravity of Parliaments, to all former Practices, to Common Justice, and highly derogatory to His Authority, and Dignity, as tending to the Univerfall dissatisfaction of all His good Subjects, for if voting and punishing by Billets be allowed no man is secure of his Honour, his Estate, Liberty, nor Life, Persons of greatest merit may be this way destroyed, and His Majesty's Officers of State, and those of nearest Relation to His Majesty may by colour of His Authority, without His knowledge be torn from Him. And His Majesty being most confident that such things were, and are as far from the meaning and intention of the Parliament, as from His Own; And that His Majesty hath great reason to suspect, that His Royall name hath been abused, and many well meaning persons hath been made believe, that what was done would be acceptable to His Majesty.

T H E R E F O R E, And for vindicating of his Majesties Honour, and the Honour of his Parliament, His Majesty hath earnestly recommended, that a speedy and exact tryall be taken of the contrivance, and carrying on of this pretended Act of Incapacitating by Billets; That the same being reported to his Majesty, he may make his farther pleasure therein known. IN ORDER WHERE UNTO, & in a due compliance with, & obedience to his Majesties pleasure exprest in the said Letter, T H E E S T A T E S in P A R L I A M E N T Gives full Power and Commission to John Earl of Lauderdale, His Majesties Secretary, John Earl of Hadington, Sir John Gilmour President of the Session, Sir James Lockhart of Lee, Sir Robert Murray Provost of Edinburgh, And Alexander Wedderburn Provost of Dundee, or any four of them, to meet and to take speedy and exact trial of the contrivance, and carrying on of that pretended Act of Incapacitating by Billets: Also to try whether the Parliament gave Warrant to desire his Majesties consent to the incapacitating of some not exceeding twelve: Whether his Majesties consent so obtained, was represented as a Command from his Majesty; And whether it was made use of as the rise and ground of this way of Incapacitating by Billets; And if his Majesties name hath been abused by any, to make others believe that such a procedure would be acceptable to his Majesty. And generally with power to them to take trial of the matter of fact, in the affairs above exprest. And for that effect, that they call before them, and examine upon Oath, all such Persons, as they shall think fit, for giving information to them therein, and that their Depositions be written and subscribed by the Deponents: With power to them also to call for all such Acts, Letters, Instructions, or other Papers, which may give clearness in this matter, and if any Person who shall be called before them, shall refuse, or delay to depon, or to exhibit, and give in such Acts, Letters, Instructions, or other Papers which are in their power, relating to this business, and shall be called for from them; That then the Commissioners aforesaid, make report thereof to his Majesty's Commissioner, the Parliament, or Lords of the Articles, that such farther course may be taken therein as effects. And that the saids Commissioners be ready from time to time to make an account of their proceeding to his Majesty's Commissioner, and Lords of the Articles, That being from them transmitted to the Parliament, a speedy report thereof may be made to his Majesty, conform to the prescript of his Royal Letter aforesaid.

THE PARLIAMENTS ANSWER.

To His Majesty's Gracious LETTER, of the 4th of June, 1663.

Most Sacred Sovereign,

WE DESIRE Wee have had to return to your Majesty a satisfactory account, of what by your most Gracious Letter, of the fourth of June, was entrusted to Us for trying of the contrivance, and carrying on of that design of Billeting, (with which Your Majesty with so much reason declared Your self most unsatisfied) Hath occasioned that Wee have not sooner made these humble, and thankfull acknowledgments, which the gracious expressions in the former part of Your Letter call for; Being desirous that the account of Our dutifull, and hearty obedience, to these Your Majesties just commands, might accompany Our due acknowledgments of your Majestie's grace and goodness, and that Our return might not divide what your Majesty by your Royall Letter Joined.

Wee doe with all humble duty, and thankfulness acknowledge the great blessings which this Your Ancient Kingdom doth now enjoy, under your Royall Authoritie. The Church being restored to its right Government; The Kingdom to its former peace; The Laws to their free course; And the Subjects to their just Liberties; And all these flowing to Us, as the happy fruits and effects of your Majestie's blessed restitution. Wee conceive our selves obliged in a due resentment thereof, and of the often, and renewed expressions of your Majestie's Royall care and tenderness of this Kingdom, To return the humble offer of our Lives, and Fortunes, and all that is dearest to Us, for the advancement of your Majestie's Honour, Authority, and Greatness: And that it shall be Our care, that the expressions of Our obedience to your Majestie's commands, shall be futable to these unparalleld Acts of grace, and favour your Majesty hath vouchsafed upon Us.

By your Majestie's Letter, it appears that by a Gentleman employed last year, with a letter of Credit from the Earle of Middletoun, it was represented to your Majesty, that it was the desire of Your Parliament here, That the Act of Indemnity should carry an exception of incapacitating from Publick trust; And that he earnestly prest in name of Your Parliament your Majestie's consent to the incapacitating some few of the most Guilty, not exceeding twelve, And your Majesty desiring to know the truth thereof from Us. IN OBEDIENCE to your Majestie's commands, this being taken into the consideration of Your Parliament, and every member of Parliament particularly asked thereupon: Wee Find by the unanimous opinions, and votes of the House, That the Parliament gave no warrant to desire of your Majesty, that the Act of Indemnity should carry an exception of incapacitating from Publick Trust, And that the Parliament gave no warrant at all to desire in their names your Majestie's consent to the incapacitating a few: Yet Wee have seen the enclosed double of an instruction given by the Earle of Middletoun in the contrary to Sir George McKenzie signed, and owned by him, in presence of your Parliament, to be a just double, bearing that it was much desired by Your Parliament, that some should be excepted from Publick Trust.

Wee also find no other ground in the Act of Parliament concerning Billeting, neither doe Wee remember of any other ground made use of before the Articles, or in the Parliament, for incapacitating; But that it was your Majestie's pleasure to have it so; And that this was the rise of bringing in the Act of Billeting, as the most expedient way of voting the Act for incapacity.

And in obedience to your Majestie's commands, for the farther trial of the manner of contrivance, and carrying on of this design of Billeting; And your Majesties suspicion that your Name was abused therein; Some Commissioners authorized by your Majesties Parliament, having taken the Depositions of diverse Members of Parliament, and two Knights thereupon; And having delivered the principal depositions to your Majesties Commissioner, to be by his Grace, communicated to your Majesty; Have offered to Us this particular account thereof under their hand-writings, which Wee (without presuming at all to give any Judgment thereupon) offer hereby to your Majesties Royall consideration. And when your Majesty shall be pleased to make Your farther pleasure therein known to Us, Wee shall give such obedience thereto, And to the other particulars in your Royall Letter, as shall witness to the World, that your Majesties Royall Judgment is the rule of Our actions; And that your Majesties commands shall always receive that obedience from Us, which futes with the Duty of good Subjects, and the relation wee now serve your Majesty in; As your Majesties most Loyal and Faithful Parliament. In whose Name, and by whose Command, these are signed by

Your Majesty's most Humble, most Dutifull, most Obedient, Subject, and Servant.

ACT

ACT Rescinding two ACTS

Past in the last SESSION of

PARLIAMENT:

The one for excepting of persons from publick Trust; and the other for voting the same by Billets.

Edinburgh, the ninth of September, 1663.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, out of his innate goodness and love to this His ancient Kingdom, being desirous, that now, after so long troubles, a perfect peace be sealed within the same, and that all His good Subjects might enjoy the happiness and blessings of His Government in a full and free Act of Indemnity, Pardon and Oblivion; Did, by His Instructions to the Earl of Middleton, His last Commissioner, before the second Session of this Parliament, Declare His Royal Pleasure concerning Fines to be imposed, both as to the crimes, for which fining was allowed, and as to the proportions; and this moderate way of fining (which His Majesty intended to impley for the reliefe of His good Subjects who had been sufferers) being the only punishment His Majesty gave warrant for; And His Majesty being careful to see His Royal Grace and Favour to His people extended as large as he intended it: He commanded the Act of pardon and Indemnity to be transmitted to His own consideration, before His Royal consent were given to the same. In obedience whereunto, the Earl of Middleton, in summer, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty-two, dispatched Sir George McKenzie of Tarbet to His Majesty, with a Letter of credit: He carried two draughts of an Act of Indemnity, the one excepted only as to fines, the other excepted also as to incapacity from publick Trust; the last he publicly owned to be the desire of the Parliament, and earnestly prest, in name of the Parliament, the incapacitating of some few of the most guilty, not exceeding twelve; to which His Majesty at last consented, meely to gratifie that which was represented to be the desire of so faithfull and loyal a Parliament: And having desired to know the truth hereof from His Parliament, they, by their unanimous opinions and votes, upon the twenty two of July last, Declared, that they gave no warrant to desire of His Majesty, that the Act of Indemnity should carry an exception of incapacitating from publick Trust, nor any warrant at all to desire in their names, His Majesties consent to the incapacitating a few; and that notwithstanding thereof, they had seen the double of an Instruction given in the contrary by the Earl of Middleton to Sir George McKenzie, signed, and in presence of the Parliament, owned by him to be a just double; bearing, that it was much desired by the Parliament, that some should be excepted from publick Trust: And it was also declared by the Parliament, that there was no other ground for incapacitating, but that it was His Majesties pleasure to have it so, and that this was the rise of bringing in the Act of billeting, as the most expedient way of voting the Act of Incapacitating: by which it appears, both His Majesty and His Parliament were abused, as to that exception from publick Trust. And Our Sovereign Lord considering, that this way of Billeting had no colour of warrant from His Majesty, and that His Royal consent was given to it without His knowledge, and very far from His intention; and that in the contrivance and carrying on of the same, sinistrous courses were taken, and designs laid, for incapacitating the Earls of Craford and Lauderdale, and Sir Robert Murray; persons who for their eminent loyalty to, and great and long sufferings for His Majesty, are deservedly in His high esteem, and who, for the time, had the special approbation of this present Parliament for these great employments they had from His Majesty, as His Officers of State and otherways; and that Therefore He hath, with much reason, declared Himself most unsatisfied therewith: Yet, He doth not attribute the concurrence of His Parliament in Billeting to any thing, but to their unparallel'd affection to His person and Service, and their obsequious compliance to every thing was represented to them to be His Majesties intention, or which might be acceptable to His Majesty. And considering the way of Billeting to be most pernicious in it self, and of a most dangerous consequence, as tending to the dishonour of His Majesty and his Parliament, and to the subversion of all Justice and Government; it being a way never before that time practised in this Kingdom, or in any other place, under Monarchical Government; being so derogatory to his Majesties Authority and Royal Dignity, and so contrary to the the honour, freedom and gravity of Parliaments, to all former practices, and to the rules of common Justice; every man, even these of the greatest merit, being thereby rendered unsecure of their honour, estates, liberties and lives; his Majesties Officers of State and those of nearest relation to him, being exposed to infamy and ruine, to be, by colour of his Authority without His knowledge, torn from Him; and his Royal Prerogative, in the choice of his Chancellors and servants, asserted in this present Parliament, violated and made contemptible, and all his Majesties good Subjects made lyable to censures, without being accused, heard, or legally condemned. In regard of all which, Our Sovereign Lord, with consent, and by special advice of his Estates in Parliament, Doth hereby Rescind and Annul two Acts past in the last Session of this Parliament on the ninth of September, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty two; the one Entituled, Act appointing the manner of voting by Billets, and the other Entituled, Act concerning persons to be excepted from publick Trust, together with the Clauses relating thereto in the Act of Indemnity and in the Act of Fines; and Declares the saids two Acts, with the Clauses aforesaid relating thereto, to have been from the beginning, to be now, and in all time coming, void and null; and Ordains the same to be expunged and razed out of the Records. Likewise accordingly, the saids principal Acts being called for and presented in Parliament, were publickly torn and destroyed; and the Act of Indemnity and Act for Fines, with the Records of the minutes of Parliament being also called for, the Clauses contained therein, relating to the excepting of persons from publick Trust, and the voting of it by Billers, were expunged out of the same: And the Clerk-Register is hereby Ordained to take care, that from henceforth the Act of Indemnity and Act for Fines be extracted and recorded according to these amendments, and that any extracts already given out, be void and null, as to the Clauses thus amended. Likeas Our Sovereign Lord, to evidence His just dislike of so pernicious a course, Doth with advice and consent foresaid, Discharge all voting by Billers for the future.

And forasmuch, as the Parliament, in obedience to His Majesties Commands, did transmit to His Majesty, the originall Depositions of those who were examined, concerning this whole business, to the end he might declare his further pleasure; his Majesty Declares, that having taken all that relates to the business of Billeting into serious consideration, He will, in convenient time, make known His pleasure therein.

*A C T asserting His Majesties Supremacy over all Persons and in all Causes

November 16. 1669.

THE Estates of Parliament having seriously considered, how necessary it is, for the good and Peace of the Church and State, That His Majesties Power and Authority, in relation to Matters and Persons Ecclesiastical, be more clearly asserted by an Act of Parliament; Have therefore thought fit it be enacted, Assented and Declared, Likeas, His Majesty, with advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth hereby Enact, Assent and Declare, That His Majesty hath the Supreme Authority and Supremacy over all Persons and in all Causes Ecclesiastical within this His Kingdom; and that by vertue thereof, the Ordering and Disposal of the External Government and Policy of the Church doth properly belong to His Majesty and His Successors, as an inherent Right to the Crown: And that His Majesty and His Successors may Settle, Enact and Emit such Constitutions, Acts and Orders, concerning the Administration of the External Government of the Church, and the Persons employed in the same, and concerning all Ecclesiastical Meetings, and Matters to be proposed and determined therein, as they in their Royal Wisdom shall think fit. Which Acts, Orders Orders and Constitutions, being recorded in the Books of Council and duly published, are to be observed and obeyed by all his Majesties Subjects, any Law, Act or Custom to the contrary notwithstanding. Likeas, his Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, doth Rescind and Annul all Laws, Acts and Clauses thereof, and all Customs and Constitutions Civil or Ecclesiastick, which are contrary to, or inconsistent with his Majesties Supremacy as it is hereby asserted, And declares the same void and null in all time coming.

ACT concerning the Militia.

November 16. 1669.

FORasmuch as by divers ancient Laws and Acts of Parliament, made in the Reigns of His Majesties Royal Ancestors, it is Statute and Ordained, That Weapon-showings be holden in ilk Shire several times in the year, at which the Lieges are appointed to be harnished and armed, according to their qualities and degrees; as at length is specified in these Acts. And it being declared by the fifth Act of the first Session of His Majesties late Parliament, That it is His Majesties Prerogative-Royal and undoubted Right, to have the power of raising in Armes the Subjects of this Kingdom, and of the commanding, ordering and disbanding, or otherwayes disposing thereof as He shall think fit. As also, the Estates of Parliament of this Kingdom, in recognizance of His Majesties Royal Prerogative foresaid, and in a further acknowledgment of their duty, Having, by the twenty fifth Act of the last Session of the foresaid Parliament, made offer to His Majesty of twenty thousand Footmen, and two thousand Horsemen, sufficiently armed and furnished with forty dayes provision, to be raised from the severall Shires of the Kingdom, according to the proportions exprest in that Act, to be in readines as they shall be called for by His Majesty, to march to any part of His Dominions of Scotland, England or Ireland, for any service wherein His Majesties Honour, Authority or Greatness may be concerned. And His Majesty, finding it expedient that the foresaid number of Foot and Horse should be modelled and trained in military discipline, to the effect they might be in greater readines and fitness for His Majesties Service when they should be called for, Having, by advice of His Privy Council, constituted and settled a Militia of horse and Foot in many Shires of the Kingdom, according to the proportions mentioned in the foresaid Act; And in some other Shires a Militia of horse only; having thought fit in this exigent, for important reasons, to change their Foot into a proportion of horse, suteable to the charge of their proportion of Foot: And having nominated and appointed the Collonels and Lieutenant-Collonels of Foot, and Captains of horse; And the Lords of Privy Council having, by his Majesties Order and warrant, appointed Commissioners of the Militia in the severall Shires, ordered the election of the inferiour Officers, appointed particular dayes of Rendezvous, the way of listing of Foot-souldiers, ordered fit allowances to be given to the Foot and horsemen every day of the Rendezvous; That Collours, Standarts, Drums and Trumpets be provided at the charge of the Shire; And having given severall other Orders and Instructions concerning the ordering and disposing of the Militia, The Estates of Parliament do in all duty acknowledge his Majesties singular Wisdom, and tender Care of this his ancient Kingdom, in constituting and settling the foresaid Militia. Likeas, his Majesty, with advice and consent of his Estates of Parliament, doth Ratifie and Approve the constitution and model of the Militia, as the same is established by his Majesty, with advice of his Privy Council: And particularly, their appointing dayes for Rendezvous, ordering fit allowances to be given to the Foot, and horsemen the saids dayes of their Rendezvous; And all Acts, Commiissions, Orders and Instructions past and emitted by the Council concerning the Militia, and their whole proceedings relating thereto. And Statutes and Ordaines, that in all time coming there be allowed to each Footman six shillings Scots, and to each horseman eighteen shillings Scots, every day of the Rendezvous, to be payed be the heretors; And that the said six shillings to be payed to the Footmen, be reconfounded to the heretors by the men-tennants and servants for whom the Footmen are put out, and who are not listed in the Militia. And also Statutes and Ordaines, that the Rendezvous be punctually kepted, that horse and Foot be duely outreiked and sufficiently armed, that Fractions with their propotions of the price of the Collours, Drums, Standarts, and Trumpets be timeously payed. Likeas, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth give power and warrant to the Commissioners of the Militia in the respective Shires, to fine parties for the Souldiers absence from the Rendezvous, not exceeding six pounds Scots for the horseman, and two pounds Scots for the Footman absent ilke day of the Rendezvous; And likewise, such as shall be deficient in the outreik of horse or Foot, or in payment of the fractions thereof, or of the proportions of Collours, Drums, Standarts and Trumpets, or of the pay allowed by this present Act to the horsemen or Footmen, the men-tennants and servants for whom the Footmen are put out, being alwayes lyable to relieve the respective heretors of the payment of the fines aforesaid, in so far as concerns the deficiency in outreik of Foot, or payment of the fractions thereof, or absents of the Footmen from the dayes of Rendezvous. And to the effect, more ready obedience may be given to this present Act and Ordinance, his Majesty, with advice foresaid (without derogation derogation from any power already given by the Instructions or Acts of council) doth authorize and empower the Commissioners of the Militia in the respective Shires, or any three of them (two of the quorum not being Officers) after tryal taken that parties have been absent from the Rendezvous, or deficient in the outtricks and payments foresaid; to give order and warrant to any one of the Serjants of Foot of the respective Companies, or Corporals of Horse to be named by the saids Commissioners, to poind and destreinzie the readiest Goods and Geer of these absent or deficient, wherever the same may be found, apprise and make sale thereof toward the payment of the sums specified in the said Warrant, and of the charges and expenses of the poinding and apprising; these charges alwayes not exceeding als much more as the sums for which the poinding shall be used. Likewise, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, constitutes the said person, to whom the foresaid Order shall be directed, Sheriff in that part; with power to him, by virtue of that Order, to poind the Goods without necessity of carrying the same to the Paroch-church or Mercat-crofs of the head Burgh of the Shire to be apprifed; and to do and act in the execution of the said Order, sicklike as a Messenger at Armes may do by the Law, in execution of Letters of poinding and apprising given under his Majesties Signet: providing alwayes, that the goods poinded be valued and apprifed by two honest sworn men, whose oaths the said Sheriff in that part is authorized to take to that effect; And declares, that it shall be leifome to the party from whom the Goods shall be poinded, to redeem the same within six dayes after the poinding, by payment of the sums, for which the poinding shall be used, expenses of the poinding foresaid, and twelve shillings Scots each day during the not redemption. And in case the party do not redeem the goods poinded within the space foresaid, Declares that it shall be lawful to the said Sheriff in that part, to retain the goods or sel the same, with deduction of the thrid of the sume to which they were apprifed, He allwayes being countable for the price thereof to the Commissioners of the Militia, who are to see the party, from whom the Goods were poinded, satisfied of the superplus of the price (if any be) of the Goods for which the poinding was used, expenses foresaid of the poinding, third part of the value to which the Goods were apprifed, with twelve shillings Scots ilk day during the space that the party had power to redeem, being alwayes deduced; and declares the said Warrant, being signed by three of the saids Commissioners (one of them only being ane Officer) to have the force and strenght of an Decreet; and that there is no necessity of any Precept or Charge to follow thereon: And that the poinding and apprifing so used, by vertue of the said Warrant, is and shall be als lawful and valid, as if all the solemnities requisite in and usal poindings were observed; whereanent His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth dispense in this case of the Militia. And it is declared, that these who are not sufficiently armed or mounred at the Rendezvous shall be holden as absent therefrom, and shall be fined and poinded accordingly in manner foresaid. And for preventing debates that may arise the time of mustering, It is Declared, that Lieutenants and Cornets of Horse shall be reckoned of the number of Horse-men, appointed to be put out in the respective Shires; But prejudice alwayes to any of the saids Officers, to claim and sure payment of Fractions, if they be Leadsers of Horse. As also, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth authorize and empower the Lords of his Privy Council from time to time, to appoint dayes of Rendezvous, and to give such further orders as shall be requisite for the full establishment of the Militia in every particular thereof; and to call for an account from the several Shires of their procedure and diligence in settling the same. And commands and requires all his Majesties Subjects of whatsoever degree or quality, to give due and ready obedience to all such orders and directions as they shall receive from His Majesties Privy Council, relating to the Militia, under the pains and certifications contained in any Acts made, or to be made by them thereanent.

November 16. 1669.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with the advice of the Estates of Parliament, Staturs, & Otdains, That all Instruments of Resignation that shall be made in the Superiour hands, ad remanentiam, (fourty dayes after the publication hereof) be registrate within threecore dayes after the date thereof, in the same manner and way, and at the same rates as Renounciations, Seifings or Reversions: To the effect, the Lieges may the better know, that the Infesment which was granted to the Resigners is thereby void and extinct, and that they may be put in mala fide to contract with the Resigner theteanent, or to comprise the same from him, otherwayes the said Resignation to be null. It is alwayes hereby Declared, That the Instruments of Resignation of Tenements, Lands and Fishings holden in free Burgage, being registrate in the Town Court Books of the Burgh, shall not fall within the certification of this present Act.

I V.

ACT concerning pointing before the dayes of the Charge expire.

November 16. 1669.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, that hereafter it shall not be lawful to point moveables upon registrate Bonds, or Decrees for personal Debts, while the Parties be first charged, and the dayes of the Charge be expired: With certification, that pointing otherways used shall be null, and the pointers shall be punished and proceeded against as spouillers; But prejudice alwayes of any Decrees recovered at the instance of Heretors against their Tennents in their own Courts; whereupon it shall be lawful to them to use pointing as formerly; And but prejudice to Superiours to use pointing against their Vassals for their Few-duties, as they might lawfully have done of before.

V.

ACT for the security of the Persons of Ministers.

November 30. 1669.

FOrasmuch as the Kings Majesty, considering how just and necessary it was, that the Orthodox Clergy should be protected from the violence of disaffected and disloyal persons; Did therefore, with advice of His Privy Council, by His Royal Proclamations of the fiftenth of March and thirteenth of June, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty eleven, command and charge all Heretors, Life-renters and others, having any real Interest or Rent within the severall Paroches of the Kingdom, to protect, defend and secure the Persons, Families and Goods of their Ministers, not only in the exercise of their Ministerial Function, but in their dwelling Houses, or being elsewhere within the Paroch, from all injuries, affronts and prejudices which they might incur in their Persons or Goods; from the violence and invasion of any disaffected, disloyal or other wicked person: With certification, if the actors of such outrages should not be apprehended and brought to tryal, by the means and diligence of the Parochiniers, the Parochioners should be decreed to pay to suffering Ministers for reparation, damage and interest, such a sum and fine as His Majesties Council should determine; as is more fully exprest in the saids proclamations. And the Estates of Parliament, having taken to their consideration the proceedings of His Majesties Council herein; and finding that the protection of the Orthodox Clergy, and the restraining of the insolency of disaffected, disloyal and wicked persons at this time, did require more nor ordinary means and care from His Majesties Council; Have therefore thought fit, Likeas, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates, doth hereby Ratifie and Approve the two Proclamations aforesaid, and the proceedings of His Majesties Council in prosecution thereof; and authorizeth them still to prosecute the same as occasion shall offer, until His Majesty in his next Parliament give farther Orders therein. And it is Declared, That this Act is and shall be but prejudice of any former Laws and Acts of Parliament made against the invaders of Ministers, and of the pains therein contained; And particularly the twenty seventh Act of the eleventh Parliament of King James the sixth, and seventh Act of King Charles the first His Parliament in Anno, 1633. Which Acts, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth hereby Ratifie and Approve, and Declares the same to stand in full force, strength and effect intime coming.

A C T for the ordering of Suspensions of the Benefices and Stipends of the Clergy.

November 30. 1669.

THe Kings Majesty being careful that the maintainance of the Clergy be duely secured unto them, and that they be not withdrawn by unnecessary Law-sutes, for recovery thereof: Doth therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, that no suspension shall be past in time coming against any Arch-bishop, Bishop, Minister of the Gospel or Universities and Colledges, of any Charges to be given at their instances for payment of the Rents of their Benefices, Stipends or Colledge-rents, where they have special Decrees against the Heretors or possessors due and lyable in payment thereof to them, except upon production of Discharges, or consignment of the sums charged for, if the Rent of the Benefice or Stipend consist in money; or of one hundred merks Scots for ilk Chalder of Victual where the same consists in Victual, and proportionally if the Victual charged for be less then a Chalder, without prejudice to the Lords of Session to modify a greater or less sum for the Chalder of Victual, as they shall find cause at the discussing of the Suspension. And if any Bill of Suspension of a general Charge shall be presented in time of Session, That the ordinary Lord upon the Bills, before the passing thereof, call for the Chargers at the

at the Bar, that they may instruct the ground of the Charge: And in case it shall be found by the Lords of the Session, at the discussing of the suspension, that either the Charge hath been maliciously given or maliciously suspended, That the Lords modify a fifth part of the sum charged for, of expenses of Plea to be payed by the malicious Charger or Suspender.

VII.

ACT for Naturalization of Strangers.

December 8. 1669.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, out of his Innate Bounty and Royal Inclination to favour and protect Strangers, and for the encrease and promoting of Trade and Manufactories, being graciously pleased and willing to give encouragement to Strangers to repair to, and dwell and reside within this Kingdom; Hath therefore thought fit, Likeas, his Majesty, with advice and consent of his Estates of Parliament, doth hereby Statute, Ordain and Declare, That all strangers, being of the Protestant Religion, either such who having Estates shall think fit to bring the same to this Kingdom, to dwell and inhabit within the same; or who shall come to set up new Works and Manufactories therein, and shall repair to, and settle their abode, dwelling and residence within this Kingdom; shall be, and are hereby Naturalized as native born Subjects of the Kingdom of Scotland, and are to enjoy his Majesties Royal Protection, the benefit of the Law, and all other Priviledges which a Native doth enjoy, als freely in all respects, as if they themselves had been born within the same; and that they shall have liberty and freedom of Trade, and freedom to buy and purchase Lands, Heretages, and other Goods moveable and immoveable, and to enjoy the same by succession, purchase or donation, or any other way; and to dispose thereof and transmit them to their Heirs and Successors, who are to succeed thereunto: And to enjoy all other Liberties, Priviledges and Capacities which do belong to, and are competent, or may and shall belong to any native Subject born within this Kingdom. And further his Majesty doth Declare, that upon applications to be made unto him by these Strangers, He will grant unto them the free and publick exercise of their Religion in their own Languages, and the liberty of having Churches within this his Kingdom. It is alwayes hereby provided, that no person or persons shall have the benefit of this Act, untill first by Petition to the Lords of his Majesties Privy Council, containing an exact designation of their names, places of their birth and former residence, and that they are of the Protestant Religion, it be found by the Council, that they are qualified according to this Act, and ought to have the benefit thereof. And it is hereby Declared, that these presents, with an Extract of the Act of Council, in favours of the said persons to the effect aforesaid, shall be unto them a sufficient Naturalization to all intents and purposes. Which Extract shall be given to them freely, without payment of any money or composition; save only the Fee of nine pounds Scots money to the Clerks of Council and their Servants.

VIII.

ACT concerning the Bullion.

December 8. 1669.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD considering, that by divers former Acts of Parliament made by the Kings Majesty and His Royal Ancestors, and specially by the thirty seventh Act of the first Session of his Majesties first Parliament, it is Statute and Ordained, that all and whatsoever Commodities yearly exported forth of this Kingdom, should be lyable to the payment of Bullion, twelve denier fine, according to the quantities contained in the Alphabet of Bullion thereto adjoynd, and that for the yearly support of a stock of Coinage within the Kingdom, and for supplying of his Majesties Mint, being a part of His Prerogative Royal. And his Majesty and Estates of Parliament, being still willing to support and encourage the same, and to provide for all necessary wayes and remedies for increasing the stock of Coinage within the Kingdom, and especially those that may be of most advantage, and may most encourage the Manufactories and the natural growth and native Commodities of the Kingdom; And finding, that the removing of the Bullion from the whole native Commodities and others exported forth of this Kingdom, and that the imposing of the said Bullion upon the Commodities imported, or some considerable part thereof may very much contribute thereto; And being resolved, that His Majesties Mint should be hereby encouraged, and that no hurt or derogation should thereto occur by this change. Therefore his Majesty, with advice and consent of his Estates of Parliament, Declares, That all and whatsoever native Commodities of this Kingdom, and others that shall be exported forth thereof, contained in the aforesaid Alphabet of Bullion, after the second day of February next to come, one thousand, six hundred, & seventy years, shall be free, and are hereby discharged of the payment of all quantities of Bullion therein contained: & the Customers and their deputies are hereby prohibited & discharged to ed to take surety or pledges, or to use any other exaction upon the Merchants therefore, under all highest pain. And his Majesty, with advice foresaid, Rescinds and Annuls any Clauses contained in the foresaid thirty seventh Act of the first Session of his Majesties first Parliament, or in any other Acts of Parliament, in so far allannerly as the same imposes Bullion upon the native Commodities of this Kingdom, and others to be exported forth thereof, and no further: And in lieu and place thereof, Statutes and Ordains; That the imported Goods and Commodities under-written be lyable in payment of the several quantities of Bullion aftermentioned, viz. Spanish, Rhenish and Brandy-wines of all sorts, each Tun twenty four ounces twelve denier fine; French-wines of all sortes, every Tun twelve ounces; Loaf-suggar the hundred weight, six ounces; Playing-cards, one ounce the grofs; Paper for Printing and Writing, of all sorts, one ounce every six rimms; Gray-paper, every twelve rimms one ounce; Deals, every thousand five ounces; Single trees, every thousand five ounces; Double-trees, every thousand ten ounces; Double-double-trees, and all other greater Fir-timber, every thousand twenty ounces; Steel, every hundred weight one ounce; Iron and Iron-work beaten of all sorts, every Tun two ounces; Onions and Apples, every two Barrels one ounce; Mum-beer, every Barrel four ounces; Prunes, every Tun four ounces; Raisins, Currants and Figs, every Tun ten ounces; Iron-pots of all sorts, every dozen one ounce; Sop, every Barrel two ounces; Suggar-candy, every hundred weight ten ounces; Copper-kettles, Bras-pans, and all other made work in Bras or Copper, Yetline or beaten, every hundred weight four ounces; Mader, every thousand weight five ounces; Hats of all sorts, every three dozen two ounces; Window-glass of all sorts, every Chest one ounce; Limons and Oranges, each thousand one ounce; Hopes of all sorts, every hundred weight one ounce; Spanish-leather, Marikin, Tanned-leather, Wild-leather, and all other sorts of Leather, except Muscovia-leather, every hundred weight one ounce; Gloves of all sorts, each dozen one ounce; Whale-bone or Baline, ilk two hundred weight one ounce. And Statutes and Ordains, That the Merchant or other importers of the abovementioned Commodities or any of them, make ready payment of the foresaid quantities of Bullion hereby imposed, to the Officers of His Majesties Mint for the time, being of the fineness of twelve Deniers, and being safer to be considered by weight and reckoning, and that immediately upon the entry of the said Goods; And in case the said importer shall fail to pay in the said Bullion at his entry, he shall be holden and aftricted, to make payment of the sum of twelve Shillings Scots for ilk ounce thereof to the Collectors, at the Port or Precinct where he enters the said Goods; And which money so payed by him at his entry, shall be redeemable from the said Collectors, upon the payment of the foresaid quantities of Bullion in to the Officers of his Majesties Mint: Provided alwayes, such payment of Bullion be made within forty dayes, after the date of the entry of the Goods, and not thereafter. And it is hereby Declared, that it shall not be lawfull to the said Tackf-men, Collectors or their Deputies, to permit the said importers to break Bulk, or to give them Transire's or other warrant thereanent, till first the said Importers report or produce the Mint-masters receipt of the due quantity of Bullion payed in specie, or else, that the Tackf-men, Collectors or their Deputies, receive payment or twelve Shillings Scots for ilk ounce of Bullion not delivered in to the Mint; And for ilk ounce of Bullion of twelve Denier fine, so payed in to the Mint in specie by the Importer, he is to have delivered back to him in his Majesties Coin three pounds, ten pennies Scots, and for ilk ounce of eleven Deniers fine, he is to have delivered back to him fifty five shillings, nine pennies Scots, and so proportionably conform to the fineness of the Bullion given in, and that in satisfaction of all Dues whatsoever that can be acclaimed by the Officers of the Mint, for his Majesty or otherwise. And whereas, by the former Acts of Parliament made ancient Bullion, the general Tackf-men and collectors of the customs and their Deputies, were bound and obliged to take sickle Surety or Pledges, such as they would be answerable for, for the Bullion to be brought in, and which then lay upon export, and that what rested not delivered to the Mint, the said Tackf-men, collectors and their Deputies, were to be answerable therefore; And that by the constant practice of his Majesties Exchequer, the said Tackf-men and collectors by their Tacks and commissions given to them, and Obligations granted by them, are bound to make count, reckoning and payment of the whole Bullion then arising upon the export of this Kingdom. And left his Majesty or his said Mint should sustain any hurt or prejudice, or be at any uncertainty by loosing of these bonds, or by this change; Therefore it is hereby Statute and Ordained, that all general Tackf-men of his Majesties customs of this Kingdom, general collectors of the same and their Deputies present and to come, shall be, and are hereby bound and obliged, virtute Officii, and by the acceptation of their Tacke or Office, to make count, reckoning and payment to the Officers of his Majesties Mint, of all and whatsoever quantities of Bullion that shall yearly arise upon the imported commodities aforementioned, and which shall be delivered by the Merchant in specie; and also to make payment of all such sums of money, as shall be payed by the Merchant to them, in place of Bullion, at the foresaid rate of twelve shillings per ounce, to the General and Master of the Mint for the time being, and that quarterly; beginning the first quarters payment at the terme of Whitsunday next, one thousand, six hundred and seventy, and so forth yearly and quarterly thereafter. And whereas the said Tackf-men, collectors or their Deputies, were formerly holden and aftricted to give in exact accounts of the whole commodities exported yearly forth of this Kingdom upon Oath, whereby the full charge of the Bullion was yearly known; And to the effect, that the full charge of the Bullion now imposed upon the foresaid commodities imported, may be als fully known: It is hereby Statute and Ordained, That the said Tackf-men, collectors or their Deputies at all the Ports or Precincts within this Kingdom, shall give in yearly in Exchequer the exact account of the several quantities of the Commodities, whereupon Bullion is hereby imposed, and that upon Oath, at the feast and term of Martinas yearly: As also to exhibit and produce the subscribed Entries by the Merchants of the forefaids Goods imported; And for that effect, that Letters of Horning be directed against the said general Collectors, Tackf-men and their Deputies, by the Lords of His Majesties Exchequer, upon a charge of six dayes: And it is hereby Declared, That the saids Tackf-men, Collectors or their Deputies shall be holden and astricted to deliver to the importer, Certificates of the forefaid Bullion in specie, or of the Money payed therefore at the rate forefaid, gratis. And whereas; by the meaning of this Act, it is left in the option of the importer, either to pay Bullion in specie or to pay Money for the same, at the rate of twelve Shillings per ounce, and that the Money so payed is to be delivered to the General and Master of the Mint, by the saids Tackf-men, Collectors and their Deputies, and thereby the said General and Master are obliged to import the stock of the Bullion themselves: Therefore it is hereby Statute and Ordained, that the saids Officers shall be obliged to Coin the said Bullion so imported by them, and to make the same pass His Majesties Irons, and that the saids Officers be controled by their Leiters of receipt of the saids sums of money granted by them, to the saids Tackf-men, Collectors and their Deputies. And it is hereby Declared, That the forefaids whole Commodities imported after the forefaid day, shall be lyable to the several proportions of Bullion above specified, notwithstanding of any Act or Acts of Parliament formerly made, or to be made in this present Parliament, in favours of any Manufactories, Companies of Fishing, or Trade, or other Acts whatsoever, which are hereby Declared not to impede the payment of Bullion imposed upon the imported Goods forefaids, in manner abovementioned.

ACT concerning Prescriptions.

December 8. 1669.

OUR Sovereign Lord, with advice & consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all Arrestments to be used hereafter upon Decrees, registrate Bonds, Dispositions or Contracts, not pursued and insisted on within five years after the laying on thereof, shall after that time prescribe; And that all Arrestments already used upon the ground aforesaid, shall prescribe within five years after the date hereof. And that all Arrestments, used or to be used upon dependance of Actions, shall likewise prescribe within five years after Sentence is obtained in the saids Actions, if the saids Arrestments be not pursued or insisted on within that time. And likewise, His Majesty, with advice forefaid, Statutes and Ordains, That Ministers Stipends and Multars not pursued for within five years after the same are due. And likewise Mails and Duties of Tennents, not being pursued within five years after the Tennents shall remove from the Lands for which the Mails and Duties are craved, shall prescribe in all time coming: Except the saids Ministers Stipends, Multars, Mails and Duties shall be offered to be proven to be due and resting owing, by the defenders their Oaths; or by a special Writ under their hands, acknowledging what is resting owing; And that all Bargains concerning moveables or sums of money, probable by Witnesses, shall only be probable by Writ or Oath of Party, if the same be not pursued for within five years after the making of the Bargain. And further, His Majesty with advice and consent forefaid, Statutes and Ordains, That all actions proceeding upon warnings, Spuilzies, Ejections, arreastments, or for ministers Stipends and others forefaid, shall prescribe within ten years, except the said actions be wakened every five years: But prejudice alwayes of any of the saids actions, which by former acts of Parliament are appointed to prescribe in a shorter time. And also Statutes and Ordains, That Holograph missive Letters, and Holograph Bonds, and Subscriptions in Compt-books without Witnesses, not being pursued for within twenty years, shall prescribe in all time thereafter; Except the pursuer offer to prove, by the defenders Oath, the verity of the saids Holograph Bonds and Letters, and Subscriptions in the Compt-books. It is alwayes hereby Declared, That prescriptions shall not run in any of the Cases forefaid, against minors during the years of their Minority:

X.

ACT concerning Interruptions.

December 8. 1669.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all Interruptions, as to the Rights of Lands be citations, shall in time hereafter be execut by Messengers at arms, and against the defenders personally or at their dwelling place and at the Paroch Churches in the time of Divine Service, or immediately after; And in case the parties be forth of the Kingdom, at the mereatcrofs of Edinburgh, and Peer and Shore of of Leith, upon threescore dayes. And that all Citations that shall be made use of for Interruptions, whether in real or personal Rights, be renewed every seven years, otherways to preferve; Except the parties be Minors: in which case this Act is not to be extended against them; during the years of their Minority.

A C T concerning the forfeiture of persons in the late Rebellion.

December 15. 1669.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD and his Estates of Parliament, having considered the Process of Treason, pursued and deduced at the instance of Sir John Nisbet of Dirleton, His Majesties Advocate, By Warrant and Order of his Majesties Privy Council before the Justice, against the persons after-mentioned, for their treasonable rising in Armes, and being in, and having accession to, the late Rebellion in the Western-Shires, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty six; with the Libels, Interloquiturs, Probations, Depositions of Witnesses, and the verdicts of Inquests and dooms of Forfeitures proceeding thereupon: Do find, that the Justice and their Assessors appointed by the Council in the said Process, in finding the said Libels to be relevant, and admitting the same to the knowledge of Inquests; and the foresaid Inquests in finding the same to be verified and proven, and in giving their verdicts and dooms of Forfeiture thereupon respective; Have proceeded justly and warrantably upon relevant Libels, and clear evidences and probation; And therefore, do Ratifie and Approve their proceedings, Interloquiturs, verdicts and respective Dooms and Sentences of Forfeiture given and pronounced by them in the said Process, viz. The Sentence and Doom of Forfeiture pronounced against Collonel James Wallace, Joseph Lermouth, M'Klellan of Barcobe, Mr John Welsh, Mr James Smith, Patrick Listoun in Calder, William Liston his Son, William Porterfield of Quarreltoun, pronounced upon the fiftenth day of August, in the year of God, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty seven years; And the other Sentence and Doom of forfeiture pronounced against William Muir of Caldwell, Caldwell, eldest Sone to the Good-man of Caldwell, Robert Ker of Kerland, Mr. John Cunningham of Bedland, Alexander Porterfield, brother to Quarreltoun, John Maxwell of Monreith younger, M'Klellan of Belmagaban, Mr Gabriel Semple, Mr John Guthery, Mr Alexander Pedan, Mr William Veitch, Mr John Crookshanks, Patrick McKnaght in Cumnock, upon the sixteenth day of August, in the said year of God, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty seven years: And Decerns and Ordains the saids Process and Dooms and Sentences of Forfeiture foresaid, to be valid and effectual to all intents and purposes, notwithstanding that the saids persons found guilty and convicted of the crimes foresaid, did not compear in the saids Process; And Declares, that the said Sentence and Dooms of Forfeiture shall be of als great force and strength, as if the saids persons had compeared, or the same had been pronounced in Parliament. And his Majesty, with consent foresaid, doth Approve His said Advocats service in the said affair. And in respect it were against reason and justice, that when any person or persons are accused of high Treason, for rising in Armes against his Majesty or His Authority, when they are cited to underly the Law before the Justice, if they do not appear, that their absence and contumacy, which ought to be an aggravation, if any can be, of so high and horrid a crime, should be of any advantage to them: Therefore, his Majesty, with consent foresaid, doth Statute and Ordain, that in time coming in all such cases of treasonable rising in Armes, and open and manifest Rebellion against His Majesty or his Successors and their Authority, his Majesties Advocate for the time, may and ought to insist against, and prosecute such persons as he shall be ordered by his Majesty or his Privy Council to pursue: And if they be cited and do not appear, the Justice notwithstanding of their absence, may and ought to proceed to consider, and give their Interloquiturs upon the Libel; and if it be found relevant, to admit the same to the knowledge of an Assize, and upon the verdict of the Inquest, finding the same to be proven, the Doom and Sentence of Forfeiture ought to proceed, and be given and pronounced in the same manner, as if the persons accused had compeared and were present. And his Majesty, with consent foresaid, doth remit to the Justice-General, Justice-Clerk or Justice-Deputes, the Summons and Process of Treason, intended at the instance of his Majesties Advocate, against certain persons therein mentioned, for their accession to the said Rebellion, and depending before his Majesty and the Estates: With power to them to proceed, notwithstanding of the absence of the saids persons; And if the saids Summons be found relevant and proven by the verdict of the Inquest, to pronounce the Sentence and Doom of Forfeiture thereupon.

XII.

ACT concerning the Excise and Customs.

December 15. 1669.

Forasmuch as many debates, questions and inextricable difficulties do and may arise, in levying and inbringing of the Excise, imposed by the fourteenth act of the first Session of His Majesties first Parliament, to the great prejudice of His Majesty, and of the Trade of this Kingdom: Therefore, and for preventing and clearing of the same, and to the effect, the said Excise may be more orderly and easily levied and collected, His Majesty with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and ordains, That notwithstanding the said Excise is due and payable by the Retailers, yet the Importers shall be liable for the same in time coming, at the rates contained in the said Act, for Wines of all sorts, Vinegar and Salt, as they are particularly exprest therein, and that under the provisions after-specified: To wit, that what shall not be payed by the Retailers, shall be compleatly made up by the Importers, within twelve moneths after the importation thereof, for which they are to give sufficient security to the Farmers or Collectors of his Majesties Excise, at the entry of the saids Wines, which are to be according as they shall be loaded at the port from whence they came; And for the said Importers, their greater ease and encouragement, his Majesty, with consent foresaid, doth Statute and ordain, That the collectors or Farmers of his Majesties Excise in all time coming, shall grant abatement to the said Importers of the fourth part of the said Excise duties of all Wines and Vinegar imported and entred by them, in consideration and upon the account of leakage and decayed Wines, and other hazards and inconveniencies. And further, It is Statute and Ordained, for the encouragement and greater ease and advantage of trade and Merchants, that the Importers of all other Goods and commodities, except what is excepted from the duties of Excise by the foresaid act of Parliament, shall pay the Excise thereof, according to the Books of Rates for His Majesties customs, and as the said commodities are and shall be valued and rated in the same; And if any of the saids commodities be not contained in the Books of Rates, the Excise of the same is declared to be five per cent. according to the value of the said Goods; And the Excise of the said Commodities is to be payed at the entring of the same in the Excise-office, unless the said Excise-duty exceed the sum of one hundred Merks Scots; in which case, the said Importers shall be obliged to give sufficient security for payment of the said Excise-duty, within six Moneths after the entring of the same; they making it alwayes evident, that no Merchant shall make entry of any Goods, but what properly belongs to himself. And for further encouragement of Trade and Traffick, It is Statute and Ordained, that all Goods and Merchandise whatsoever imported, and which shall be instructed to be really exported, within twelve Moneths after the entring thereof, shall be free of Excise; and in case of payment thereof, the same shall be repayed at the exportation of the said Commodities, the Importers alwayes making faith, that the Commodities exported, are the same which were imported and entred; and in case bond of security hath been given for the Excise of the said Commodities, the same shall be returned unregisstrat, or discharged if the same be regisstrat. And for the regulating of the Excise of Salt, and the better levying and inbringing of the same, his Majesty, with consent foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, that the Importers of forraign Salt of all sorts, at their entring of the same at the Excise-office, shall give sufficient security for payment of the Excise thereof, conform to the Rates contained in the foresaid fourteenth Act, and that the Importers shall be obliged by the said security, to pay the saids respective Excise-duties, for such parcels of the said Salt as shall be retailed, when and as the same shall happen to be retailed, and to pay compleatly the whole Excise of the said Salt, within twelve Moneths after the entring thereof, and that whether the said Salt hath been expended and employed upon the cureing of Fishes or not; providing alwayes, there be abated and allowed to them, the Excise of all Salt that shall happen to be cast away at Sea; And likewise, the Excise of Salt expended upon Fishes, that may happen to be cast away betwixt one Port and another, before the same be entred, to be exported out of this Kingdom, the wrack and quantities of the Salt or Fishes lost thereby, being alwayes sufficiently instructed. And further, It is Ordained that all In-land Salt consumed within this Kingdom, whether the same be expended upon Fishes or employed otherwise, shall be liable to the duty of Excise, exprest in the said Act, which shall be payed by the first buyer thereof, and that before it be carried from the Salt-pans where it is bought; And albeit it be provided in manner foresaid, that the Excise-duties respective above-mentioned, should be payed for Forraign and In-land Salt, whether the same be employed upon Fishes or otherwise, and that in respect of the great difficulties, to clear and make appear what Salt is employed upon Fishes or not, and that his Majesty may be prejudged of the Excise of Salt, upon groundless pretences, that the same hath been, or is to be employed upon Fishes; Yet, nevertheless, his Majesty being most willing to give all due encouragement to the Trade of Fishing, and that whatsoever Salt shall be employed and expended in order to the said Trade, and upon the cureing of Fishes to be exported, shall in effect be free of excise; and upon, and after mature and exact consideration of the quantity of Salt, necessary and sufficient for each Last of Herring and White-

White-fish of any kind, and of each Last of Salmond, and what the Excise of the same Salt respective will amount to, finding that the Excise of the Salt of the Last of Herring and White-fish, will amount to the sum of ten pounds, four shillings Scots, and that the Excise of the Salt of each Last of Salmond, will amount to the sum of twelve pounds, money foresaid. His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, that there shall be no Custom exacted at the exportation of the saids Herring and White-fish, and that whatever the foresaid ten pounds, four shillings of Excise, shall exceed the Custom payable for the saids Herring and White-fish; at the exportation thereof, shall be duly and timely paid to the Merchant-exporters, without any delay, reward or abatement for each Last of Herring and White-fish of any kind whatsoever that shall be exported out of this Kingdom: And that the foresaid sum of twelve pounds, for the Excise of the Salt of each Last of Salmond, at the entry and exportation shall be payed to the Heretors, Life-renters and others, from whom the Merchant-exporters bought these Salmond, they alwayes producing Certificates from the respective Heretors and others, making up the just quantities contained in their Entries; upon which Certificate, the foresaid sum of twelve pounds is to be payed, to the Heretors and others from whom these Salmond were bought, or to any having their warrant to receive the same; which sums respective above-written, for the Herring, White-fish and Salmond, are to be payed in manner above-specified, by the Collectors at the respective Ports where the same shall be entered, for whom, the Farmers and principal Collectors of the Excise are to be answerable and careful that the same shall be punctually payed; and in case of not punctual payment, they shall be lyable for the parties damage; providing alwayes, that the said Herring, White-fishes and Salmond, be duly entered in the Excise-office, and the exportation thereof sufficiently instructed to the Collectors, so as they may certifie the same under their hands. Likeas, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth inhibit and discharge the Collectors or Farmers of Excise upon any pretext, to give any ease or abatement of the fourty shillings Scots imposed by the foresaid fourteenth Act, upon ilk Boole of forraign Bay-salt, Linlithgow-measure, imported into this Kingdom: Certifying them, if they contravene, the saids Collectors shall suffer deprivation of their Office, and the saids Farmers shall loose the benefit of their Tack of the Excise, and shall be further lyable to the payment of such fines and penalties, as the Lords of Exchequer shall think fit to inflict. And for the better inbringing of the Excise of the said In-land Salt, it is Ordained, that all Owners of Salt-pans and their Greeves, shall be obliged to exhibite and produce to the Collectors or Farmers of Excise or their Deputies, when they shall be required, their Compt-book of all Salt sold, to be perused by them, and returned within the space of twenty four hours, to the effect, it may be known what Salt is consumed, and that the Excise of the same is duly payed, whereupon they are to make faith, if they be required, and that they have sold nor disposed upon no more nor is contained in the said Books; And likewise, the Salters of every Salt-pan shall be obliged to give an account to the Collectors of the said Excise of the Salt appertaining to them any manner of way, and what they have sold of the same, and to instruct, that the same hath been duly entered in the Excise-office, and that the Excise-duty of the same hath been payed, whereupon, and that they have sold no more but what hath been duly entered, they are ordained to make faith if they be required; It is alwayes provided, that where Excise-offices are in the Town or place where the Salt is made, the Salt-masters, their Greeves or Salters, shall be holden to repair to the Excise-office, to the effect foresaid, if they be required; but if there be no Excise-office in these places, the Collectors or Farmers of Excise or their Deputies are appointed to convene them at the respective Salt-Girnals, or Salt-pans where the Salt is made, and the saids persons shall not be obliged to go any further. And in like manner, His Majesty considering, that divers questions and debates may arise, anent the interpretation of several Acts and Priviledges made and granted in favours of Manufactories, for immunity and exemption from the Excise or Custom of certain Goods, which are the Materials of the saids Manufactories; Doth hereby, with consent foresaid, Statute, Ordain and Declare, That no Manufactory shall have the benefit thereof, excepting such as shall be, or hath been lawfully erected since the first day of January, one thousand, six hundred, sixty one years, and shall be found by the Lords of His Majesties Exchequer to have been, or to be erected conform to the Acts of Parliament, and to have the qualifications required by the same. And further, His Majesty understanding, that if after so large expressions of His Majesties Royal care and tenderness for the advancement of Trade and ease of Merchants, any shall be so unfaithful as to presume to conceal and abstract the Goods imported by them, thereby evading the payment of the Custom and Excise due and payable to His Majesty; nor only His Majesty will be prejudged of His Custom and Excise, but also the Trade of Merchandise will be much endamaged by the saids Merchants their underselling others, who do honestly make true entries of their Goods, and pay the duties of Custom and Excise. Therefore, for preventing of the said prejudice and abuse, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, doth give power and warrant to the Collectors of Custom and Excise, or to their Deputies, to call and pursue such persons who shall wilfully and wickedly conceal and abstract their Goods, or any part thereof, and not duly enter the same, or who shall be accessory, or any wayes aiding and assisting to the concealing or abstracting thereof; and that before the Lords of His Majesties Exchequer, if the saids persons dwell and reside within twelve miles of the place where the saids Lords shall happen to sit for the time, or in their option, before any other competent Judge: And in case the saids persons live at farther distance, it shall be lawful to the saids Collectors or Farmers, or their Deputies, to pursue them before the Sheriffs, Stewards of Stewtries, or Bailiffs of Regalities, Magistrates of Burghs, or any other competent Judges, who are hereby required to take due and speedy tryal of the premises, and to admit probation thereof by writ, witness, Oath of party or otherwise according to Law, any Act or Acts of Parliament, or Clauses therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithstanding. And to the end, that his Majesties Lieges and Merchants, upon the occasion and pretence foresaid, be not unjustly molested and troubled, It is Ordained, that the saids Process and Pursutes shall be intended within three Moneths after the fraudulent abstracting and imbezeling foresaid; and that these at whose instance they shall be pursued, shall be obliged to give their Oaths de calumnia, if thereto required, that the saids pursutes are not intended of malice, but upon credible information, and that they have just reason to pursue, as they conceive. And in case any Merchant, Skipper, Mate or Marriner, or other person shall be found guilty of, or accessory to, the said imbezeling, in concealing or abstracting any Goods which ought and should have been entered; It is Statute and Ordained, that the said delinquents shall be imprisoned for the space of twenty four hours, and until they make payment of the full price and value of the Goods which shall be found to have been abstracted by them, and shall be further fined by the Lords of his Majesties Exchequer, as they shall see cause. And in case any Goods shall be found and seised, upon account that they were concealed and not duly entered, they shall not only be detained and confiscat without redemption, but also the Owners of the saids Goods, and all others who shall be found to be accessory or aiding to the concealing or abstracting of the same, shall be imprisoned for the space of twenty four hours, and such fines and other punishment shall be imposed and inflicted upon them, as the Lords of Exchequer shall appoint. And that the Collectors of his Majesties Customs and Excise and their Deputies, at the making their accounts of their intromission with the Custom and Excise duties, shall be holden and obliged to give their Oaths upon the truth of these accounts to be given in by them. And it is Provided and Declared by His Majesty, with consent foresaid, that the foresaid Act of his Majesties first Parliament, whereby the Excise is imposed, shall stand, and is and shall be of full force; except in so far as the same is altered, innovat, qualified and taken away in manner above-mentioned.

XIII.

ACT for annexation of Orkney and Zetland to the Crown.

December 17. 1669.

INASMUCH as the Isles of Orkney and Zetland are a great and so considerable a part of this His Majesties ancient Kingdom, that for divers ages they were the occasion of much trouble and expence of blood and money, for maintaining thereof against the invasion of Forraigners, and recovering the same out of their hands by Armes and Treaties; And the saids Isles being of a great and large extent of bounds, and so remote and at such a distance from the ordinary seat of Justice and Judicatories, that the Inhabitants within the same are not able to travel in the winter season; and at other times cannot, without great trouble and expences, repair to the said Judicatories to complean when they are oppressed and grieved. It is not only fit in order to His Majesties Interest, but will be the great advantage of His Majesties Subjects dwelling there, that without interposing any other Lord or Superior betwixt his Majesty and them, they should have an immediat dependance upon his Majesty and His Officers, being their great security against Forraign attempts and oppression at home. And seeing it is most expedient and necessary, that a publick Patrimony and certain Revenue in Lands, Lordships and others, should be settled upon, and annexed unto his Majesties Crown, for supporting of His Royal Estate and Government, and the great and necessary charges of the same, which if not defrayed out of His Majesties own Property and Revenue, would unavoidably ly, and be a heavy burden upon his Majesties Lieges: And to that purpose, divers Acts of Annexation have been made from time to time, and in special the Earldom of Orkney and Lordship of Zetland, with the pertinents of the same, were annexed to the Crown in the years, one thousand, five hundred, and forty, and one thousand, six hundred, and twelve, respective. And yet importunity prevailing with his Majesty and his Royal Father, their goodness and inclination to gratifie their Subjects, they have been induced to give away and part with so great a Jewel of their Crown, and to dispose and grant Rights of the said Earldom and Lordship; which being found to be to the great prejudice of His Majesty, His Crown and Subjects, and contrary to the Laws and Acts of Parliament of this Kingdom, by a Decree of the Lords of Session, obtained upon the twenty fifth day of February last by-past, at the instance of Sir John Nisbet of Dirlotoun Knight, His Majesties Advocate for His Majesties interest, against William Earl of Mortoun, Charles Lord of Dalketh his Son, George Viscount of Grandistoun, and certain other persons therein mentioned; the saids Lords by their Decree foresaid, have reduced the Contracts, Dispositions, Infeudments, Acts of dissolution, and other Rights therein mentioned, made and granted by His Majesty and His Royal Father, to, and in favours of the deceased William Earl of Mortoun, Grand-father to William now Earl of Mortoun, and the said George Viscount of Grandistoun, of the said Earldom of Orkney and Lordship of Zetland, with the Rights also therein mentioned depending thereupon: and the said Lords have found and declared, that His Majesty hath good and undoubted Right to the said Earldom and Lordship, as His annexed Property, for the reasons therein contained; as the said Decreet at length proports. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, doth Ratifie and Confirm the said Decreet, and Ordains the same to be of full force, strength and effect in all time coming; holding and willing this their Ratification to be as sufficient and effectual, as if the said Decreet and whole tenor of the same were insert herein. And his Majesty, following the laudable example and practice of his Royal Predecessors, doth, with consent foresaid, Ratifie the said former Annexation of the same to the Crown; and without prejudice thereof, doth of new again unite, annex and incorporat to His Crown of this His ancient Kingdom, to remain inseparably with the same in all time coming, the said Earldom of Orkney and Lordship of Zetland, withall and sundry Isles, Holms, Udal-lands and other Lands whatsoever, of what name and by what designation soever the same are or may be known, lying within the Sheriffdom of Orkney and pertaining to the said Earldom and Lordship, and belonging to his Majesty in manner foresaid, in Property or Superiority, or by any other Right or Title, together with all Castles, Towers, Fortalices, Milns, Multars, Fishings, Annual-rents, Reversions, Patronages of Kirks, and Teinds, Parsonage and Vicarage pertaining to his Majesty within the bounds foresaid; And all and whatsoever Mines of Gold, Silver, Copper and other Minerals within the bounds bounds, with the heretab Office of Justiciary, Sheriffship and Foudrie and Admiralty within the foresaid Isles, and belonging to the said Earldom and Lordship, with all other Parts, Pendickles and Pertinents, Casualties, Priviledges, Jurisdicktions, Offices and others whatsoever pertaining to the same; all which, his Majesty, with consent foresaid, doth unite and annex to His Crown, Declaring the generality foresaid to be sufficient to the intent & effect foresaid, as if each Part, Parcel, Pertinent, Office, Patronage or Priviledge belonging to the said Earldom and Lordship were herein exprest. And it is Statute and Declared, That the said Earldom and Lordship, Lands, Teinds, and others above-mentioned, annexed to the Crown in manner foresaid, shall remain therewith in all time coming; and that the same or any part thereof shall not, nor may be given away in Fee and Heretage, nor in Frank-tenement, Life-rent, Pension or Tack, except for the full duty which may be gotten from, and payed by the Tennents, nor by any other manner of Alienation, Right or Disposition whatsoever, to any person or persons of whatsoever estate, degree or quality they be, without Advice, Decreet and Deliberation of the whole Parliament; and for great, weighty and reasonable causes concerning the good, welfare and publick Interest of the whole Kingdom, first to be proposed and to be advised, and maturely pondered and considered by the Estates, re integra, before any previous Grant, Right or Deed be given, made or done by his Majesty or his Successors, concerning the disposition of the said Earldom and Lordship or any part thereof, which may any wayes predetermine them or the Estates of Parliament, and prejudice the freedom of their Deliberation and Consent. And if at any time hereafter it shall be thought fit to dispose or grant any Right of any part of the said Earldom and Lordship, It is Declared, that the general narrative of good services, weighty causes and considerations shall not be sufficient; but the particular causes and considerations, whereupon His Majesty and His Successors may be induced to grant, and the Estates to consent to such Rights, are to be exprest; that it may appear, that the same is not granted through importunity, or upon private suggestions or pretences, but for true, just and reasonable causes and considerations of publick concernment. And farther, It is Declared, that if any general Act of Dissolution of His Majesties Property shall be made at any time hereafter; the said Earldom and Lordship, and others above-mentioned and annexed, shall not be understood to fall or be comprehended under the same; And if the said Earldom and Lordship, or any part thereof, shall be annallied or disposed, or any Right of the same shall be granted otherwaies then is appointed and ordained in manner above-mentioned; His Majestie, with consent foresaid, doth statute and Declare, That all Dispositions, Infeudments and other Rights of the said Earldom and Lordship, or any part thereof which shall be granted contrary to this present Act, with all Acts of Dissolution and Ratification and other Acts of Parliament concerning the same, shall be from the beginning and in all time coming void and null, and of no effect; And notwithstanding thereof, that it shall be lawful to our Sovereign Lord and His Successors for the time, to take back and receive at their pleasure for their own use, without any Procefs of Law, the Lands and others above-annexed, or any part thereof which shall be annallied or disposed; and these in whose favours any such Rights and Alienations shall be made, shall be countable for, and liable to refund and pay all profits, intromission or benefit taken, uplifted or enjoyed by them in the mean time: And it is Declared, that all other Clauses, Articles and Provisions contained in any former Act or Acts of Annexation to the advantage of His Majesty and His Crown, are and shall be holden as repeated and insert herein. And farther, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates foresaid, hath suppressed the said Office of Sheriffship, and hath erected and hereby erects a Stewartry within the bounds foresaid of the said Earldom and Lordship, and Isles of Orkney and Zetland, to be called in all time coming, The Stewartry of Orkney and Zetland; Ordaining the Tennants, Possessors and Inhabitants within the bounds foresaid, and other persons who were formerly answerable and liable to the jurisdiction of Sheriffship, and Foudrie above-mentioned, to be answerable to His Majesties Stewart of the said Stewartry, with all Priviledges competent to any Stewartry of His Majesties Property within this Realm. Likeas, it is Declared and Statute, that the foresaid Office of Stewartry shall not be given heretab to any person or persons and their heirs, without advice and consent of Parliament in manner above-mentioned; and all Rights of the same which shall be granted otherwaies at any time hereafter, shall be from the beginning and in all time coming null and void.

It is always Declared, that this Act and Annexation foresaid shall not prejudice the Bishop of Orkney of His Patrimony and Priviledges belonging to him, or of any part thereof; and that he and his Successors shall be in the same case as they were before the making hereof. And likewise it is Declared, that the Annexation foresaid and the suppressing of the said Office of Sheriff, and the erecting of the said Stewartry shall be without prejudice to His Majesties Vassals within the said Isles, of their Liberty and Priviledge to have and send Commissioners to Parliament, to represent them in the same manner as they did or might have done formerly.

XIV.

ACT concerning the exportation of Corns.

December 17. 1669.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD considering, that by the eleventh Act of the third Session of His Majesties late Parliament, liberty is granted to export Corns of all sorts, when they are under the prices following, viz. Ilk Boll of Wheat under twelve pounds the Boll, Beer and Barley under eight pounds the Boll, Oats and Pease under eight merks the Boll. And seeing, by reason of several Duties formerly imposed upon Corns, the exportation thereof hath been hitherto obstruited; And His Majesty being desirous for the good of this His ancient Kingdom, to give all due encouragement to the export of Corns, and to remove every thing which may impede the same: Hath therefore thought fit, Like-as, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth Statute and Declare, That all Corns which shall be exported in time coming by His Majesties Subjects forth of this Kingdom, shall be free, and are hereby discharged of the payment of Custom, Bullion, and all other Duties whatsoever, except one Merk Scots allanerly for ilk Chalder. And lest any considerable prejudice should thereby ensue to His Majesties Customs, it is Statute and Ordained, that the Duties after-mentioned are and shall be imposed upon the Commodities following, viz. Ten shillings Scots upon ilk Barrel of Tar, and twenty shillings Scots upon ilk Tun of Iron imported into this Kingdom, and that over and above all former Impositions put thereon; and the Customers, Collectors and their Deputies are hereby appointed and impowered to uplift the same accordingly. And for preventing any debates that may arise anent the respective prices of the Victual, when the same are under or above the rates exprest in the said Act; His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth recommend to, and authorizeth the Lords of Privy Council to determine the same; And Declares, that it shall be lawful to His Majesties Subjects to export Corns of all sorts, unless by a Proclamation or publick Intimation from the saids Lords of Council, they be prohibited and discharged to do the same. And Ordains this Act to begin and take effect upon the second day of February next to come.

X V.

ACT for regulating the prices of Ale and Drinking-beer, and Malt-men.

December 23. 1669.

OUR Sovereign Lord considering that it is most agreeable to reason and equity, and of universal concernment to all His Majesties Subjects, and specially to those of the meaner sort, that a due proportion be observed betwixt the price of the Boll of Beer, and the Pint and other measures of Ale and Drinking-Beer vended and sold within this Kingdom, that thereby the liberty taken by Brewars and Vintners, to exact exorbitant prices for Ale and Drinking-Beer at their pleasure, may be restrained. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth recommend to, and authorize the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council from time to time, after consideration had of the ordinary rates of Rough-Beer and Barley for the time, to regulate and set down the prices of all Ale and Drinking-Beer, vended and sold in the several Shires and Burghs of the Kingdom, as they shall think just and reasonable; And likewise to set down a Table of proportion betwixt the weight and price of all Bread made of Wheat, and the price of the Boll of Wheat, in like manner as betwixt the price of the Ale and the Boll of Beer: With power to the saids Lords of Council to make and emit such Acts, Orders and Directions, in relation to the prices of Ale and Drinking-Beer, and weight and prices of Wheat-bread, and to inflict such censures, pains and penalties upon the contraveners of these Acts and Orders as they shall think fit; and to do all other things requisite for execution of the same. And in case, after setting of the saids prices by the Lords of Council, any Brewer shall cease from, and give over their Brewing or vending of Ale or Beer, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Declares, that they shall not be permitted or allowed to brew or vent any Ale or Beer for the space of one year thereafter, and shall be further lyable to such pains and punishments, as the Lords of Council shall think fit. And further, His Majesty taking to consideration, that by the twenty ninth Act of the first Parliament of King James the sixth, Malt-men are declared to be no Craft, & discharged to have a Deacon; which Act of Parliament, His Majesty, with advice foresaid Ratifies and Approves, and Ordains the same to stand in full force and effect in all time coming, and that notwithstanding of the said Act, and expressly contrair thereto, the Provost and Council of Edinburgh have, by their Act dated the eleventh of March, one thousand, six hundred, and fourty six, ranked Maltmen amongst one of their Trades and Callings, discharged any to be admitted thereto within their Barrony of Leith, but by their Licence, with consent of the Calling; and have constitute a Box-master amongst them, and granted liberty to them to meet and keep correspondence, providing the Water-Bailiff be present with them: Therefore, his Majesty and Estates of Parliament nor only Declares the said pretended Act of the Council of Edinburgh to have been null and void from the beginning, and Ordains the same to be razed out of their Registers; but discharges the said Town, or any other Burgh within the Kingdom, ever to presume to do the like again; And Ordains the said Box to be broken, and the Office of Deacon, Visitor, Box-master, or any other pretending to the like power, and the pretended Calling or Incorporation and Society of Brewars or Malt-men, to cease at Leith, and in all other Burghs, Towns and places in the Kingdom; With certification, that if they shall be found hereafter to meet and keep correspondence amongst themselves, upon whatsoever pretence, either at Leith, Edinburgh, or in any other Burgh, Town or Place, ilk person so meeting shall be lyable in the penalty of five hundred Merks toties quoties, whereof the one half to be payed to the informer, he proving the same before the Council; and this by and attour such personal punishment, as the Lords of Privy Council shall think fit to inflict.

And

XVI.

A C T for repairing High-ways and Bridges.

December 23. 1669.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD considering how necessary it is for the good of the people, that High-ways be made and maintained for ready and easie Passage, Travel and Traffick through the Kingdom; and that the care thereof which hath been laid upon the Justices of Peace, hath yet for the most part proven ineffectual, in regard the saids Justices have not had special Orders and Warrants for that effect. For remeid whereof, his Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Doth Appoint and Ordain the Sheriff of the Shire, and one of his Deputes, being alwayes an Heretor therein, and the Justices of Peace in each Shire, to convene at the head Burgh of the Shire upon the first Tuesday of May yearly, for ordering of High-ways, Bridges and Ferries; with power to them, or major part of them that shall happen to convene, to set down a particular List of the High-ways, Bridges and Ferries within their bounds, and to divide the Paroches of the saids bounds as they lye most to the severall High-ways to be repaired, and as they may have the most equal burden, and to appoint such of their number or others Overseers of such parts and portions of the saids High-ways, as are most convenient and nearest to their ordinary residence, and to nominate such of their number as they see fit, to survey and give an account of the High-ways, Bridges and Ferries unto the rest; with power to them to appoint Meetings from time to time, till the said Survey, List and Division of the saids High-ways be closed: which persons, or any one of them to whom the particular portions of the saids Highways shall be committed, are hereby authorized and strictly required, to call and convene all Tennants and Cottars, and their Servants, within the bounds appointed for their parts of the High-ways, by publick intimation at the Paroch-Kirks upon the Sabbath day, immediately after the first Sermon, or any other way that they shall think fit, to have in readinesse Horses, Carts, Sleds, Spades, Shovels, Picks, Mattocks, and such other instruments as shall be required, for repairing of the saids High-ways, and to convene at such places thereof as they shall be required, and in such proportion and with such furniture as the saids Justices or Overseers shall appoint, and that in the most equal and proportionable way, as the saids Justices and Overseers will be answerable. With power to them to design such of the saids persons as they find to be most skilful, to attend and direct the rest, and to appoint them fit wages for their attendance; providing that the dayes they are required to work do not exceed the number of six dayes for Man and Horse yearly for the first three years, and four dayes yearly thereafter, and that they be only betwixt the Bear-seed yearly, and Hay-time or Harvest thereafter: With power to the saids Justices or Overseers to poind the readiest Goods of the absents, for twenty shillings Scots money for the absence of ilk Man daily, and thirty shillings for the Man and Horse, without further solemnity but apprising the same upon the ground of the Land, and therewith to hire others in place of the absents; and in case the saids absents shall have no poindable Goods, to punish them in their persons as they shall see cause. Which High-ways shall be twenty foot of measure broad at least, or broader, if the same have been so of before, and shall be so repaired, that Horses and Carts may travel Summer and Winter thereupon: and if any part of the saids High-ways cannot well be continued as now they are, but require to be changed, the saids Justices shall appoint three of their number to visit the places where the High-ways need to be changed, and to set down Meiths for the new way in place thereof, and upon Oath to estimate the damage of the parties prejudged thereby, and to deliver the same to them in writing under their hands, to the effect the same may be satisfied by the whole Shire, in manner afterwards specified. Which Justices are Ordained again to convene at the head Burgh of the Shire the first Tuesday of June yearly, and thence every Tuesday from fourtnight to fourtnight, at such places as shall be by them appointed appointed during the Moneths of June and July, for three years next ensuing, for taking account of the said several Justices and Overseers of the respective proportions of High-ways committed to them, & to fine those Justices and Overseers who shall failzie; still increasing the said fines till they give obedience and perform their part, and to point therefore upon the ground of the Lands where their Goods shall be found, without further solemnity. With power also to the saids Justices to visit the Ferries in their Shire, and where the Ferries ly betwixt two Shires, that they correspond with the Justices of the other Shire, to the end they may appoint fit and sufficient Boats, and convenient Landing places; and so to regulate all things concerning the Ferries, as His Majesties Lieges may be readily and conveniently served, and at reasonable rates, and to punish all such as shall neglect or transgresse the Rules set down be them for the effect foresaid.

And because the work of the inhabitants within the several bounds, will not be able sufficiently to repair the High-ways and others foresaid; Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the said Estates, doth hereby authorize and require the whole Free-holders and Heretors of the several Shires, to convene at the respective head Burghs the said first Tuesday of June yearly, and to call for an account from the Justices of Peace of what is needful for reparation of the High-ways and others foresaid, and what charges and expenses is requisite for promoting thereof, and for making or repairing Bridges and Ferries where they shall be found needful, and accordingly to stent the Heretors of the said Shire, comprehending the Heretors of the Burrough-lands therein, in what shall be found necessary for the effect foresaid, not exceeding ten shillings Scots upon each hundred pound of valued Rent in one year, which is to be uplifted be the saids Justices or whom they shall appoint, be pointing as said is, and employed for the use foresaid; and of which they shall be obliged to give an account to the saids Heretors at the next Michaelmas head Court yearly. Likeas, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, prohibits and discharges all persons whatsoever to break or abuse the saids High-ways by plowing up any part thereof, laying stones, rubbish or dung thereon, or any way breaking or pooling the same, or turning in, or damming water thereupon; and Ordains the Conveener of the saids Justices at their meeting the said first Tuesday of May yearly, to take an Oath of the remanent Justices and of the Constables, of what damage they know done to the High-ways, Bridges or Ferries since the year preceeding, in any of the foresaid particulars prohibited, or any other, and by whom. Upon which the saids Justices shall convene the transgressors, and in case of conviction by Oath or Witnesse, shall fine them as they shall see just, and shall point therefore in manner foresaid, and apply the same for the use of the saids High-ways. with power also to the saids Justices, to call for an account of all Destinations and Mortifications to Bridges, Causa's, Ferries or High-ways, and to cause the intromitters therewith, that have not applied the same to these proper ends, to make payment thereof to such persons as they shall appoint, to be employed to the uses for which the same were destinat. Likeas his Majesty Ordains the Conveener of the saids Justices to give a particular account under his hand, of what progress is made in the reparation of the saids High-ways, Ferries and Bridges, upon the third Tuesday of July next to come, and so forth yearly to the Lords of his Majesties Privy Council, who are hereby impowred to grant Letters of Horning and Pointing for the effects foresaid, if need be.

And further, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, gives power to the said Lords of his Majesties Privy Council, to Ordain the levying of moderat Customs at Bridges, Causa's or Ferries, for the building, repairing and upholding thereof, in case the said Stent shall not be able to accomplish the same, and to appoint the endurance thereof as they shall see cause. With power also to them, that in case the saids Justices and Heretors failzie in the performance of the things by this Act committed to them, so that the High-ways shall not be sufficiently repaired, nor Bridges and Ferries sufficiently provided for, to take such course for making the same effectual as they shall judge expedient, and to punish the saids Heretors and Justices, as their neglect shall deserve. With power likewise to the saids Lords of privy Council, to appoint and commissionat Overseers for putting the premises in execution where they shall see cause; which Overseers so appointed, shall have the same power as is by this present Act committed to the Justices of Peace foresaid. And farther, his Majesty Ordains, that where laboured Land lyes upon the sides of High-ways, the said laboured Land shall be fenced with Dike and Ditch or Hedge; yet so as neither Dike, nor Ditch, nor Hedge, nor any part thereof, be within the forementioned breadth appointed for the High-way: And in case any laboured Land so lying shall not be fenced betwixt the first day of August, one thousand, six hundred, and seventy one, then and in that case, the saids Justices are hereby authorized and required to cause point in manner foresaid, the Labourers of the said Land, for four shillings Scots for each elm which shall not be so fenced after the said time, and to apply the said fines for the fencing thereof in manner foresaid. Likeas, it is hereby Declared, that whatsoever stones, rubbish, dung or other impediments beis thrown or found lying upon the saids High-ways, or water turned in or dammed thereupon, shall be esteemed and held as done by the Labourers of the Land next adjacent to the High-ways where the damage is done, who shall be fined therefore be the said Justices and Overseers; Reserving right to the saids Labourers to call before the saids Justices any other for their relief, who have been the real actors of the skaith.

ACT anent inclosing of Ground.

December 23. 1669.

WHEREAS by the fourty one Act of the first Session of His Majesties first Parliament, entitled, An Act for planting and inclosing of Ground, It is provided, that where Inclosers fall to be upon the borders of any mans Inheritance, the next adjacent Heretor shall be at equal pains and charges in building, ditching and planting that Dike which divides their Inheritance. And the Estates of Parliament considering the inconvenience and difficulty the execution of that part of the said Act may meet with, in Lands marching together where the Marches are crooked and unequal, or where any part of the bordering Ground is unfit or incapable of bearing a Dike or receiving a Ditch, or hinders the compleating of the Inclosure in an equal line. For remedie whereof, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the said Estates, doth Statute and Ordain, That whensoever any person intends to inclose by a Dike or Ditch upon the March betwixt his Lands & the Lands belonging to other Heretors contiguous thereunto; it shall be leifom to him to require the next Sheriffs or Bailiffs of Regalities, Stewarts of Stewartries, Justices of Peace or other Judges Ordinar, to visit the Marches alongst which the said Dike or Ditch is to be drawn, who are hereby authorized, when the said Marches are uneven or otherways incapable of Ditch or Dike, to adjudge such parts of the one or the other Heretors Ground, as occasion the inconvenience betwixt them; from the one Heretor in favours of the other, so as may be least to the prejudice of either party, and the Dike or Ditch to be made, to be in all time thereafter the common March betwixt them; and the parties so adjudged respective from the one to the other, being estimat to the just avail and compensated pro tanto, to decern what remains uncompensed of the price, to the party to whom the same is wanting: And it is hereby Declared, that the parts thus adjudged hinc inde, shall remain and abide with the Lands or Tennandries to which they are respective adjudged, as parts and pendicles thereof in all time coming.

ACT anent adjudications.

December 23. 1669.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD taking to consideration, that by severall Acts of Parliament and constant Practick of the Kingdom, there is one years Rent of all Lands, Annual-rents or others apprifed, due and payable to the Supetior of the saids Lands and others, before he be holden to enter and intrest the Compriser; and that there is the same reason in cases of Adjudications as Apprifings. Therefore his Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes, Ordains and Declares, that the Superiors of Lands, Annual-rents and others adjudged, shall not be holden to grant any Charter for Infesting the Adjudger, till such time as he be payed and satisfied of the years Rent of the Lands and others adjudged, in the same manner as in Comprisings; And Declares, that in all cases, Adjudications shall be in the like condition with Comprisings, as to Superiors.

ACT concerning the Confirmation and Quots of Testaments

December 23. 1669.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That it shall be lawful to Executors, at the confirmation of the defuncts Testament, to give up the debts owing be the Defunct, and that the Quot be only payed for the free Geer (the Debts being alwayes instructed) With power to the saids Executors, for instructing of the saids Debts before the Commislar the time of confirmation, to cite the Creditors for production of the Bonds and Instructions of their saids Debts; and if the saids Creditors shall not produce the same, and yet shall happen thereafter to seek payment from the Executors, that then and in that case, the Creditors shall be obliged to relieve the Executors of a proportion of the Quot payed by them, esseiring to the said Debt, or otherways to allow the same to them; And preventing of all fraud, both the Executors and the Creditors shall be holden to make faith, if required, anent the truth and reality of the saids Debts, that they were truly resting unsatisfied the time of the defuncts decease. And likeways, Statutes and Ordains, That in all time comming, Executors Creditors be free of paying of Quot, in so far as they confirm only for Debts resting ro them be the Defunct the

the time of his decease, and thereupon the saids Exccutors shall be holden to make faith, if required, notwithstanding of any Instruction produced by them. As also, the Relict confirming her self Executrix Creditrix, and for satisfying of the obligement of her Contract of Marriage, or other Provision made to her by her Husband where there was no Contract of Marriage, be also free of Quot, in so far as the Inventer extends to five years purchase of the Annual-rent or Life-rent provided to her; and that she shall be lyable and pay Quot for the superplus of the free Goods or Debts confirmed; And that this be extended to all other Life-renters, confirming themselves Executors Creditors. As likewyses, that poor people, not worth in heretable or moveable Estate fourty pounds Scots money, have their Confirmation past and registrat free from payment of any Quot; and for Fees of Court, that they pay only two pounds eighteen shillings Scots. And farther, it is Statute and Ordained, That heretable Debts resting by the Defunct, be Inseftment, Bonds or Contracts bearing obligement to inseft, be not allowed be the Commissars at the Confirmation, to default off the Inventer in prejudice of the Quot, where there is an heretable Estate belonging to the Defunct to satisfie the heretable Debts, even though the saids Debts be given up by the Defunct himself or his Executor. And likewyses, it is Statute and Ordained, that Commissars admit of no division in Testaments, in favours and upon account of the Relict, where by her Contract of Marriage or otherwayes, she is seclused from all part of her Husbonds moveables; And if a bipartit or tripartit division be craved be the Executor at the confirmation upon her acceptmpt, in that case the Procurator Fiscal shall have power to cite the Relict, for production of her Contract of Marriage, or to give Oath upon her having thereof, or that by the same or any other Writ, she is seclused: And if it appear, either be the said Contract or be any other Writ, or be the Relicts Oath, that she is seclused from the third or half of the moveables, That then the Testament shall be confirmed without division upon her acceptmpt, and the Quot payed accordingly; And in case there be any exception in the Relicts favours, of the Inseft and Houhold-plenishing, or any part thereof, In that case deduction is only to be granted of the Quot, effeiring to the proportion excepted and reserved in her favours. And lastly, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, that in time coming, no Charges of Horning be given to any person, at the Procurator Fiscals instance, for giving up of Inventer, but upon a Roll of the persons names to be charged subscribed be the Commissar, and that within the space of three years after the Defuncts decease, after which time it shall not be lestone to give any such Charges of Horning for giving up of Inventer; And for the years preceeding, that they shall only charge for giving up Inventer of the Goods of such Defuncts who have deceast since the year, one thousand, six hundred and sixty. And Ordains, That Letters of Caption shall not be used against any of His Majesties Lieges for not confirming of Testaments but where the Letters of Horning have been executé against the parties personally, or at their Dwelling-houses and Paroch Kirk-doors, on a Sabbath-day after Divine Service. And Ordains the Commissars of the respective Diocesses, to keep Circuit Courts the time of the Spring and Harvest Vacance, for Confirmation of Testaments at such convenient places in ilk Presbytery, as may be most conducing to the good and ease of the Lieges; and whereunto they are to be cited personally, or at their Dwelling-places and Paroch-Kirks as saids, to the end and effect foresaid: With certification, that if the Commissar, Commissar-clerk, Procurator Fiscal, or any other Member of Court, contraveen this Act, the contraveener shall suffer deprivation of his Office, and never be re-admitted thereto again, beside satisfaction to the party grieved, of any damage sustained by him there-through.

ACT for in-bringing of publick Dues from the Northern Shires.

December 23. 1669.

OUR Sovereign Lord considering, that divers persons within the Shires of Ross, Sutherland, Caithness, Argyle, Inverness and Burghs within the same, ate in arrear, and deficient in payment of a considerable part of the Annuity of Excise, granted to His Majesty in the year, one thousand, six hundred and sixty one, the Taxation and Assessment imposed by the Conventions of Estates in the years, one thousand, six hundred and sixty five, and, one thousand, six hundred and sixty six, notwithstanding of all legal diligence used for in-bringing thereof. For obtaining payment of which Arrears, and for the more effectual and better payment of the said Annuity of Excise in time coming, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, doth Statute, Ordain and Declare, That the persons deficient and in arrear of the foresaid Annuity of Excise, Taxation and Assessment in the said Shires, and Burghs within the same, preceeding the Month of November last, and who shall not pay in the same according to their respective proportions, to the Receivers and Collectors thereof, berwixt and the first day of June next to come, shall be lyable in double payment of all such deficiency and arrear, without any manner of defaultation. And farther Declares, that if for the future, three quarters payment of the said Annuity of Excise in the said Shires, shall happen to run in the fourth unpaid (the feast and terme of Candlemas next ensuing being the first terme). Then

Then and in that case, such Shires, Burghs and Persons therein so deficient, shall be lyable in payment of the double of the whole years Annuity of Excise, toties quoties, and all execution personal and real shall be used against them therefore. And His Majesty and Estates of Parliament doth hereby Declare, That this present Act or any thing therein contained, shall no wise liberate the Commissioners of Excise for the said respective Shires and Burghs, from being lyable in the single payment allannerly of the said Annuity of Excise; but that they shall still stand obliged therefore as formerly, in manner contained in the Act of Parliament made thereanent.

XXI.

ACT Salvo jure cujuslibet.

December 23. 1669.

OUR Sovereign Lord taking to consideration, that there be many Acts of Ratifications and others, past and made in this Session of Parliament, in favours of particular persons, without calling or hearing of such as may be thereby concerned and prejudged: Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all such particular Acts and Acts of Ratification past in manner foresaid, shall not prejudice any third party of their lawful Rights, nor of their Actions and Defences competent thereupon, before the making of the said particular Acts and Acts of Ratifications; And that the Lords of Session and all other Judges within this Kingdom, shall be obliged to judge betwixt Parties, according to their severall Rights standing in their persons before the making of the saids Acts: All which are hereby expounded, and Declared to have been made, Salvo jure cujuslibet.

XXII.

ACT of Adjournment.

December 23. 1669.

THE King's Majesty Declares this Parliament current, and Adjourns the same to the eight of June next to come; Ordaining all the Members of Parliament to attend that day, And that there be no new Election of Commissioners from Shires or Burroughs, except upon the death of some of the present Commissioners.

THE LAWES AND ACTS
Past in the SECOND SESSION
PARLIAMENT,
Of Our Most High and Dread Sovereign,
CHARLES
THE SECOND.

By the Grace of GOD, King of Scotland, England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith.

Begun at Edinburgh, from the 28. of July, to the 22. of August, 1670.

By a Noble Earl, John Earl of Lauderdale, Viscount Maitland, Lord Thirlestane and Bolton, &c. His MAJESTIES Commissioner, &c.

I.

ACT, Authorizing certain Commissioners of the Kingdom of Scotland, to treat with Commissioners of England, for the weell of both Kingdoms.

Edinburgh, the 30. day of July, 1670.

Orasmuch as the Kings most Excellent Majesty, from His Princely Zeal and Fatherly Care of the weelfare and happines of his Subjects (persisting in the same pious and prudent Resolution of His Royal Grand-father, King James of ever blessed memory, to endeavour a nearer and more compleat Union between His two Kingdoms of Scotland and England) Hath recommended it to the Parliaments of both Kingdoms, that Commissioners might be nominat to Treat and Consult concerning this Union, to the end, that His Majesties Royal and Gracious Purposes therein may be accomplished, and such a further Union may be treated and agreed upon, as may compleat and confirm for ever, a constant, mutual love and friendship betwixt His Subjects of both Realms.

Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth hereby Statute, Ordain and Enact, That such Persons, or Quorum thereof, as shall be nominated by His Majesty under His Great Seal of Scotland, are by verue and authority of this Act, Authorized, Commissionare and Impowred, to meet and assemble at such times and in such places, as His Majesty shall appoint; And there to Treat and Consult, according to the tenor of their Commission and Authority in that behalf under the Great Seal, with the Commissioners authorized by Authority of the Parliament of England, of, and concerning such an Union of the Realms of Scotland and England, and of and concerning such other matters, causes causes and things whatsoever, as upon mature deliberation, the greatest part of the saids Commissioners assembled, as said is, and the Commissioners authorized by the Parliament of England, according to the tenor and purport of the Commission in that behalf, shall in their wisdoms think convenient and necessary for the Honour of His Majesty, and the Well and Common-good of both Kingdoms during His Majesties Life, (which Almighty God make long and prosperous) and of His Heirs and lawful Successors for ever. Which Commissioners of both Kingdoms shall, according to the tenor and purport of the Commissions in that behalf, reduce their Doings and Proceedings therein into Writings or Instruments tripartite, every part to be subscribed and sealed by them; To the end, that one part thereof may in all humbleness be presented to the Kings most Excellent Majesty, another part thereof offered to the consideration of the Parliament of Scotland, and another part to be offered to the consideration of the Parliament of England, at their next Sessions to be held in either Kingdoms respective, after such Writings or Instruments shall be subscribed and sealed by the saids Commissioners, that thereupon such further proceedings may be had, as by his Majesty and both the saids Parliaments, shall be thought fit and necessary for the Well and Common-good of both the said Kingdoms; To whom the entire consideration of the whole, and the allowing or dis-allowing thereof, or any part thereof as they shall think fit, is wholly reserved. Likeas, his Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, doth hereby Statute and Declare, that no matter or thing to be proposed, treated of, or agreed by the saids Commissioners, by virtue of this Act, shall have any force or effect, or be put in execution, until it be confirmed and established by Act of the Parliament of Scotland.

I I.

ACT against such who shall refuse to depone against Delinquents.

Edinburgh, 3. of August. 1670.

FOrasmuch as it is the duty of all good Subjects, to give their best concurrence and assistance as they shall be thereunto required by publick Authority, for discovery and punishment of all crimes against the publick Laws, or which may tend to the breach or disturbance of the publick Peace of the Kingdom; And that it is an high contempt of Authority, and a signal evidence of disloyalty and inclination to rebellion, to refuse or shift the same when required thereunto. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of his Estates in Parliament, doth hereby Statute and Ordain, That all and every Subject of this Kingdom, of what degree, sex or quality soever, who hereafter shall be called by His Majesties Privy Council, or any others having Authority from His Majesty, to declare and depone upon Oath, their knowlege of any crimes against the publick Laws and Peace of the Kingdom; and particularly, of any Conventicles or other unlawful Meetings, and of the several circumstances of the persons present, and things done therein, or of the resetting and intercommuning with persons who are, or hereafter shall be declared Fugitives or Rebels: Are obliged in conscience, duty, and by the alledgiance of Subjects, to declare and depone their knowlege thereof, and of all the particulars relating thereunto. And if any shall happen to be so perversly wicked and disloyal, to refuse or delay to declare or depone, being thereunto required, as said is; His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, appoints their punishment to be fining and close imprisonment, or banishment, by sending them to His Majesties plantations in the Indies, or elsewhere, as His Majesties Council shall think fit. Likeas, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth require His Privy Council to be careful in tryal of the crimes above-written, and in the speedy and due execution of the pains foresaid, upon all such, without exception, as shall refuse or delay to declare or depone thereupon, as said is. It is alwayes hereby provided, that no mans declaration or deposition against any other person, shall infer against himself the pain of loss of Life, or Member, or Banishment.

ACT for the raising a Supply of three hundred and sixty thousand pounds offered to His Majesty.

Edinburgh, 9. of August, 1670.

THE Estates of Parliament taking to their consideration, that His Majesty, from His Princely Zeal, and Fatherly care of the good and wel-fare of His Subjects, doth imbrace and improve every opportunity which may tend to the further securing of their peace and happinens; They in a due acknowledgment of His Majesties unparalleld grace and goodness, and for defraying the expence which the extraordinary occasions of His Royal Service and Government will at this time require: Do with all humble duty and thankfulness, for themselves, and in name of this His Majesties most ancient Kingdom, whom they represent, make offer to His Majesty of a new Supply of three hundred and sixty thousand thousand pounds Scots, to be raised and payed out of the Land-rent, in the same manner, according to the same proportion, and with the same exceptions that the former supply granted to His Majesty by the convention of Estates in January, one thousand, six hundred, sixty seven years was raised; And whereof one hundred, forty four thousand pounds Scots, as being the proportion of two months of the former Supply, is to be payed betwixt and the first day of February, one thousand, six hundred, seventy one; and seventy two thousand pounds betwixt and the first day of May thereafter; And another seventy two thousand pounds betwixt and the first day of August following; And the last seventy two thousand pounds betwixt and the first day of November thereafter; being all in the year one thousand, six hundred, seventy one. Likewise His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth hereby Ordain the Commissioners for the Valuations, nominat by the Act of Convention for the late Supply in the year one thousand, six hundred, sixty seven, to take care and be answerable that this Supply be duly raised and payed in to such as shall be warranted by His Majesty to receive the same, at the particular terms of payment above-mentioned; And that all manner of diligence and execution contained in that Act be made use of for raising of this Supply, as fully as if the same were expressly repeated in this Act.

IV.

ACT against Invaders of Ministers.

Edinburgh, 13. of August, 1670.

FOrasmuch as the assaulting of Ministers, and the invading of their houses be atrocious crimes, often prohibit and discharged by Law under high and severe pains; And yet, such hath been the wickedness of some loose Men, Rebels and Vagabonds, that of late they have, in several places in the night time, invaded and broken in upon Ministers houses, assaulted and wounded their persons, and pursued them for their lives. And the Kings Majesty having a just indignation of such horrid and unchristian villanies, hath thought fit to brand the same with a signal mark of His displeasure: And Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates in Parliament, doth hereby Statute, Enact and Declare, That whatsoever person or persons shall be found guilty of the assaulting the lives of Ministers, or troubling their houses, or actually attempting the same, shall be punished with the pain of death, and the confiscation of their Goods. And for the better discovery of these crimes, His Majesty doth, with advice and consent foresaid, hereby offer and ensure the sum of five hundred Merks to any person who shall discover and seize any of the saids Assaulters, Robbers or Attempters: And in case they shall be discovered by one person, and apprehended by another, the discoverer is to have two hundred Merks, and the apprehender three hundred Merks, to be payed out of His Majesties Treasury by the Commissioners thereof, who are hereby authorized to pay the same. And if there shall happen any slaughter to be committed in the apprehending of such persons, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth hereby indemnifie the persons employed, and all such as shall assist in the apprehending of them; and Declares them free of all question or trouble for the same in time coming.

ACT against Conventicles.

Edinburgh, 13. of August, 1670.

FOrasmuch as the assembling and convoking of His Majesties Subjects without His Majesties Warrant and Authority, is a most dangerous and unlawful practice, prohibite and discharged by several Laws and Acts of Parliament, under high and great pains; And that notwithstanding thereof, divers disaffected and seditious persons, under the specious, but false pretences of Religion and religious Exercices, presume to make, and be present at Conventicles and unwarrantable Meetings and Conventions of the Subjects, which are the ordinary Seminaries of Separation and Rebellion, tending to the prejudice of the publick Worship of God in the Churches, to the scandal of the reformed Religion, to the reproach of His Majesties Authority and Government, and to the alienating of the hearts and affections of the Subjects from that duty and obedience they owe to his Majesty, and the publick Laws of the Kingdom. For the suppressing and preventing of which for the time to come, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, hath thought fit to Statute and Enact, Likewise they do hereby Statute and Command, That no outed Ministers, who are not licenced by the Council, and no other persons not authorized or tolerate by the Bishop of the Diocese, presume to preach, expound Scripture, or pray in any Meeting, except in their own Houses, and to these of their own Family; and that none be present at any Meeting, without the Family to which they belong, where any not licenced, authorized nor tolerat as said is, shall preach, expound Scripture or pray: Declaring hereby, all such who shall do in the contrair, to be guilty of keeping of Conventicles; and that he or they who shall so preach, expound or pray within any house, shall be seized upon & imprisoned, till they find caution, under the pain of five thousand Merks, not to do the like thereafter, or else enact themselves to remove out of the Kingdom, and never return without His Majesties Licence; And that every person who shall be found to have been present at any such Meetings, shall be, toties quoties, fined according to their qualities, in the respective sums following, and imprisoned untill they pay their fines, and farther during the Councils pleasure, viz. Each Man or Woman, having Land in Heretage, Life-rent or proper Wodset, to be fined in a fourth part of his or her valued yearly Rent; each Tenant labouring Land, in twenty five pounds Scots; each Cottar in twelve pounds Scots, and each serving Man in a fourth part of his yearly Fee. And where Merchants or Trades-men do not belong to, or reside within Burghs Royal, That each Merchant or chief Trades-man be fined as a Tennant, and each inferior Trades-man as a Cottar: And if any of the persons above-mentioned shall have their Wives, or any of their Children living in Family with them, present at any such Meeting, they are therefore to be fined in the half of the respective fines aforesaid, consideration being had to their several qualities and conditions. And if the Master or Mistris of any Family, where any such Meetings shall be kept, be present within the house for the time, they are to be fined in the double of what is to be payed by them, for being present at a House-conventicle. And it is hereby Declared, that Magistrates of Burghs Royal are lyable, for every Conventicle to be kept within their Burghs, to such fines as His Majesties Council shall think fit to impose; and that the Master or Mistris of the Houses where the Conventicle shall happen to be kept, and the persons present thereat, are to relieve the Magistrates as the Council shall think fit to order the same; it being notwithstanding free to the Council to fine the Inhabitants of Burghs, for being present at Conventicles within or without Burghs, or where their Wives or Children shall be present at the same.

And farther, His Majesty understanding that divers disaffected persons have been so maliciously wicked and disloyal, as to convocat His Majesties Subjects to open Meetings in the Fields, expressly contrair to many publick Laws made thereanent; And considering that these Meetings are the rendezvous of Rebellion, and tend in a high measure to the disturbance of the publick Peace: Doth therefore, with advice and consent foresaid, Statute and Declare, That whosoever, without Licence or Authority foresaid, shall preach, expound Scripture or pray at any of these meetings in the Field, or in any House where there be more persons then the House contains, so as some of them be without doors, (which is hereby declared to be a Field-conventicle) or who shall convocat any number of people to these meetings, shall be punished with death, and confiscation of their goods. And it is hereby offered and assured, that if any of His Majesties good Subjects shall seize and secure the persons of any who shall either preach or pray at these Field-meetings, or convocat any persons thereto, they shall for every such person so seized and secured; have five hundred Merks payed unto them for their reward, out of His Majesties Theaury by the Commissioners thereof, who are hereby authorized to pay the same; and the saids seizers and their assistants are hereby indemnified for any slaughter that shall be committed in the apprehending and securing of them. And as to all Heretors and others aforesaid, who shall be present at any of these Field-conventicles, it is hereby Declared, they are to be fined, toties quoties, in the double of the respective fines appointed for House-conventicles; but prejudice of any other punishment due to them by Law as seditious persons, and disturbers of the Peace and Quiet of the Kirk and Kingdom. And seeing the due execution of Laws is the readiest means to procure obedience to the same; Therefore, His Majesty, with consent and advice foresaid, doth Impower, Warrant and Command all Sheriffs, Stewarts of Stewartries, Lords of Regalities and their Deputs, to call before them and try all such persons who shall be informed to have kept, or been present at Conventicles within their Jurisdictions, and to inflict upon these who shall be found guilty, the respective fines exprest in this Act; they being always countable to the Commissioners of His Majesties Theaury; for the fines of all Heretors within their bounds. And His Majesty, for the encouragement of the saids Sheriffs, Stewarts and Lords of Regalities, to be careful and diligent in their duties herein, doth allow to themselves all the fines of any persons within their Jurisdictions, under the degree of Heretors; and requires the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council to take exact tryal of their care and diligence herein: And if the Sheriffs, Stewarts and Bailiffs shall be negligent in their duties, or if the Magistrates within Burghs shall be negligent in their utmost diligence, to decreet and dilate to the Council all Conventicles within their Burghs, that the Council inflict such censures and punishments upon them as they shall think fit. And the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council are hereby required to be careful in the tryal of all Field and House-conventicles, kept since the first day of October, one thousand, six hundred, sixty nine, and before the date hereof, and that they punish the same conform to the Laws and Acts of State formerly made thereanent. And lastly, His Majesty being hopeful that His Subjects will give such chearful obedience to the Laws, as there shall not be long use of this Act; Hath therefore, with advice foresaid, Declared, That the endurance thereof shall only be for three years, unless His Majesty shall think fit that it continue longer.

Edinburgh, 17. of August, 1670.

FOrasmuch as the disorderly carriage of some Persons, in withdrawing from the Ordinances of the Sacraments in their own Parish Churches & procuring their Children to be Baptized by persons not publickly authorized or allowed, is highly scandalous to the Protestant Religion, and tends exceedingly to the increase of Schism and Profanitie: Therefore the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates in Parliament, doth Statute and Prohibit all His Majesties Subjects, that none of them, of whatsoever degree or quality, presume to offer their Children to be Baptized by any but such as are their own Parish Ministers; or else by such Ministers as are Authorized by the present established Government of the Church, or Licenced by His Majesties Council, upon a Certificat from the Minister of the Parish, if he be present; or in his absence, by one of the Neighbouring Ministers: And declares, that the Father of any Child which shall be otherways Baptized, shall be liable to the pains and penalties following, viz. Every Heretor, Life-renter, or proper Wod-setter, shall be fined in a fourth part of his valued yearly Rent; Every person above the degree of a Tennent, having a personal, but no real Estate, in one hundred pounds Scots: Every considerable Merchant in one hundred pounds: Every inferior Merchant, or considerable Tradesman, and every Tennent labouring Land, in fifty pounds: Every meaner Burges, Tradesman, Inhabitant within Burgh, and every Cottar, in twenty pounds Scots; and every Servant in half a years Fee. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, requires the Sheriffs, Stewarts, Lords of Regalities and their Deputes, and Magistrates of Burghs Royal, within their severall Bounds and Jurisdictions, to be careful to put this Act in execution; and that upon Information from the Bishop of the Diocess, or any other, they call before them, and judge the Persons Contraveners thereof, and uplift the Penalties foresaid. Likeas, His Majesty, for the further encouragement of the saids Sheriffs, and others foresaid, to do their duty herein, doth allow them to retain for their own use, the Fines of the severall Persons above-mentioned, except these of the Heretors, for which they are to be completable to the Commissioners of His Majesties Thesaurie.

ACT against Separation and withdrawing from the publick Meetings of Divine Worship.

Edinburgh, 20. of August, 1670.

FOrasmuch as it is the duty of all His Majesties good Subjects, to acknowledge and comply with His Majesties Government, as it is by the Lawes of the Kingdom established in Church and State; and in order thereunto, to give their cheerful concurrence and countenance to such Ministers, as by Publick Authority are, or shall be admitted in their severall Parishes, and to attend all the Publick and Ordinary Meetings of Divine Worship in the same. And seeing the Laws of the Kingdom hath declared a withdrawing, and not keeping of, and joyning in, these Meetings, to be seditious, and of dangerous example and consequence: His Majesty conceives Himself also bound in Conscience and Duty to interpose His Authority, that the Publick Exercises of Gods Worship be countenanced by all His good Subjects, and that such as upon any pretext do disorderly withdraw, be by the Censures of the Law made sensible of their miscarriages, and by the Authority of the Law, drawn to a dutiful obedience to it. And therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates in Parliament, Statutes, Ordains, and commands all His good Subjects of the Reformed Religion within this Kingdom, to attend and frequent the ordinary Meetings appointed for Divine Worship, in their own Parish Churches; Declaring hereby, that every such Person who shall three Lords Days together withdraw & absent themselves from their own Parish Churches, without a reasonable excuse to be allowed or disallowed by the Judges and Magistrates after-mentioned, shall toties quoties be liable to the pains and penalties following, viz. Every person having Land in Heretage, Life-rent, or proper Wod-set, in the eight part of his or her valued yearly Rent: Every Tennent in six pounds Scots: Every Cottar or Servant, in fourty shillings Scots: Every person above the degree of a Tennent, and who hath a personal, but no real Estate, in twelve pounds Scots: Every considerable Merchant in twelve pounds Scots: Every inferior Merchant, and considerable Tradesman, in six pounds Scots: Every other meaner Burges, Tradesman, and Inhabitant within Burgh, in fourty shillings Scots. And His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, doth commit the execution of this Act, and the raising the Penalties above-mentioned, to the Sheriffs, Stewarts, Lords of Regalities and their Deputes, and to Magistrates of Burghs within their severall respective Jurisdictions: And doth hereby Authorize and require them to be careful to see this Act put in due execution; and in order thereunto, that they Examine upon Oath such persons in every Parish as they shall think fittest, for discovery of such as shall withdraw, and thereby incur the penalties above-mentioned. And for their encouragement herein, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth hereby allow to themselves the Fines of all persons within their respective Jurisdictions, below the degree of Heretors, they being always comtable for the Fines of the Heretors to the Commissioners of His Majesties Thesaurry. And in case any Heretor, Life-renter, or proper Wod-setter, shall be so froward and obstinat, as to withdraw from their Parish Churches for the space of one year, notwithstanding of their being fined as aforesaid: It is Ordained, That the Sheriffs and other Judges aforesaid, within their severall Jurisdictions, dilate them to His Majesties Privy Council, who are hereby authorized to call the saids persons before them, and to require them to subscribe the Bond following:

I oblige my self, that I shall not upon any pretext or collour whatsoever, rise in Arms against the King's Majesty, or any having his Authority or Commission; nor shall assist nor countenance any who shall rise in Arms. And if any person so called and required, shall refuse or delay to subscribe the Bond, That the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council secure or banish them, as they shall think fit. And it is hereby declared, that upon such refusal or delay to sign this Bond, the single Escheat, and Life-rent Escheat of the refusers or delayers shall fall and appertain to His Majesty, and is to be intromitted with, and disposed of, for His Majesties use. Likéas, the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council are hereby required to call from time to time for an Account from the Sheriffs, and others foresaids, of their diligence in putting this Act in execution; and if they be found negligent, that they inflict such Censures and Punishments, on them, as they shall judge fit. And it is further declared, that this Act is to endure only for the space of three years, unless His Majesty shall think fit it continue longer. And it is further hereby provided, that this Act is to be without prejudice of the Censures of the Church, to be used against such who shall be absent from the Publick Meetings for Gods Worship, conform to the former Acts and Practices of the Church thereanent.

VIII

ACT ratifying the Priviledges of the Ordinary Lords of Session.

Edinburgh, 22. of August, 1670.

FOrasmuch as at the first Institution of the Colledge of Justice, the Kings Majesty and Estates of Parliament, considering that the Lords of Session did represent His Majesties Person and Authority, in doing Justice to the Subjects; And in regard thereof and their daily attendance, did by an express Act of Parliament, exeem them, and every one of them, from payment of all Taxes, Contributions, and other extraordinary charges in all time thereafter; which Priviledge and Immunity hath been fully ratified and approven in all succeeding Parliaments. Therefore, and in consideration that the pains and travels of the saids Lords have been since rather increased then diminished, His Majesty being willing, for their greater encouragement in the discharge of their Trust and Employment, their Priviledges be preserved entire, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Doth Ratifie and Approve their whole Priviledges and Immunities foresaids, granted by their first Institution, or any other subsequent Act of Parliament. And for their farther security, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, That the saids Ordinary Lords of Session shall bruik and enjoy their saids Priviledges and Immunities, from all burdens imposed, or to be imposed by this or any other Parliament in time coming, als fully as if they were particularly excepted out of the saids Acts.

IX

ACT concerning High-ways.

Edinburgh, 22. of August, 1670.

OUR Sovereign Lord considering, that in the sixteenth Act of the last Session of Parliament, anent High-ways, the time appointed for working thereat is limited betwixt Seed-time and Harvest, whereas it will be much more convenient working at, and repairing several of the High-ways at other Seasons of the Year: Therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, doth declare, that the respective Sheriffs and Justices to whom the Execution of the said Act is committed, may require all persons liable to work and repair the said High-ways, Bridges, and Ferries, to convene, the number of dayes they are liable, at any time or season they shall judge most convenient, Seed-time and Harvest being always excepted. And sicklike, where the Wayes ly at great distance from those who are liable to repair the same, that it shall be leifome to the saids Justices and Over-seers to dispence with those persons who live at such a distance, they paying six shillings yearly for ilk Man, and twelve shillings for ilk Horse which ought to have been employed in the said Work; which sums of money so to be payed in, shall be expended at sight of the said Sheriff and Justices, on Work-men to work in place of those who live at such distances, in manner foresaid.

X.

ACT Salvo jure cujuslibet.

Edinburgh, 22. of August, 1670.

OUR Sovereign Lord taking to consideration, that there be many Acts of Ratifications and others, past and made in this Session of Parliament, in favours of particular persons, without calling or hearing of such as may be thereby concerned and prejudged: Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all such particular Acts and Acts of Ratification past in manner foresaid, shall not prejudice any third party of their lawful Rights, nor of their Actions and Defences competent thereupon, before the making of the said particular Acts and Acts of Ratifications; And that the Lords of Session and all other Judges within this Kingdom, shall be obliged to judge betwixt Parties, according to their several Rights standing in their persons before the making of the saids Acts: All which are hereby expounded, and Declared to have been made, Salvo jure cujuslibet.

XI.

ACT of Adjournment.

Edinburgh, 22. of August, 1670.

THE King's Majesty Declares this Parliament current, and Adjourns the same to the eleventh of May next to come; Ordaining all the Members of Parliament to attend that day, And that there be no new Election of Commissioners from Shires or Burroughs, except upon the death of some of the present Commissioners.

ACT for Settling the Militia.

Edinburgh, the 25. of June, 1672.

HE Kings Majesty considering, that the Honour and Security of this His Ancient Kingdom are much concerned in the right ordering and settling of the Militia within the same: Which being a Service and Employment of so great Trust, His Majesty Resolves to take special notice thereof; and as He will give all due encouragements to those who shall be employed therein, so He will expect, and require from them an exact performance of the duties and services incumbent to them in their several stations. And therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth hereby Declare, Statute and Enact, That all such persons who shall be enrolled and admitted in this trust of the Militia, shall be entirely reserved for that employment; and during their service in it, shall be freed and exempted from all other Levies whatsoever. And that the persons employed may be suitable to, and qualified for such a trust, It is also hereby Statute and Ordained, That all the Officers in the Militia, be persons well affected to the Religion and Government of the Church, as it is now established by the Laws of this Kingdom: And that all the Officers and Souldiers, to Horse or Foot, shall, at the first Rendezvous of each Regiment or Troup, where they shall be present, Take the Oath of Allegiance, which is hereby Ordained to be administered unto them, by the chief Officer commanding upon the place. And if it shall happen any of them to refuse the same,

That they shall be presently seized on, and sent to the next publick prison, there to be kept, till, by order of His Majesties Privy Council, they be banished the Kingdom: And that those who outreiked them, do forthwith furnish others in their place.

And further, it is hereby Statute and Ordained, that all the Officers of the Militia do punctually attend their several Charges, and that none of them offer to desert or demit the same (but upon a just and reasonable cause, to be first offered to, and allowed by His Majesties Privy Council) under the pains following: viz. a Collonel of Foot, and Captain of Horse, two thousand merks; a Lieutenant-Collonel of Foot, and Lieutenant of Horse, one thousand, five hundred merks; a Major, or Captain of Foot, one thousand merks; a Lieutenant, or Ensign of Foot, or Cornet of Horse, five hundred merks. And that all Officers to be hereafter named, shall accept and attend their Charges; and if any of them shall refuse to accept, without a reasonable cause, to be first allowed as said is, they shall be also lyable to the respective Fines aforesaid. And in case any of the Officers already admitted, or who shall hereafter be admitted in this Service, shall neglect the same, and not give due attendance at the several diets of Rendezvous of the Regiments, Troups, and of the Companies, they shall belyable ro, and forfeit the Fynes following; a Major and Captain of Foot, and a Lieutenant and Cornet of Horse, fifty pounds in time of war, and twenty five pounds in time of peace; and the other inferior Officers, twenty four pounds in time of war, and twelve pounds in time of peace. And it is also hereby Declared, that all Fynes formerly imposed by Act of Parliament, for absence from Rendezvous, or deficiency in outreik of Horse or Men, or in cases of insufficiency of Horse or Armes, shall be doubled in time of war.

It is also hereby Ordained, that none be designed Horse-men or Foot-men of the Militia, but such as dwell and reside in the bounds within which they serve; and if any be already otherwise designed, that they be changed, and others accordingly put in their places: And that in time coming, no Leader change any Tennent, Cottar or Servant designed Horse-man or Foot-man in the Militia, so long as he continues on the Leaders ground, or in the bounds for which he serves, or shall be in the Leaders or Tennents service: And that the Tennent, Cottar or Servant listed in the Militia, shall not remove from his Masters ground, nor leave his service, until year and day expire; and then the removal is only to be at the term of Whitsunday, the Leader being alwayes obliged, before his removal, to present to the Captain another sufficient man in his place, who shall continue in the service as aforesaid. And if any man listed in the Militia, shall desert the service, and withdraw to any other place without the bounds for which he serves; the persons who reffer him, upon intimation thereof given by his Master, or the Captain of the Troup or Company, shall be holden to return him back within three dayes thereafter, and the person himself to be punished for his fault, at the discretion of the Captain and any two Commissioners of the Militia: And in case the Resfeter, being required, shall not return him, he is to be Fyned inane hundred merks Scots by any two Commissioners of the Militia, if he live within the Shire: and if he live in any other Shire, by the Sheriff, Magistrats of Burgh, or any other ordinar Magistrat on the place.

It is likewise hereby Ordained, that the Leader of every Horse is to furnish and uphold a sufficient Horse with his furniture for the space of seven years from this time; and that after the expyryng of the seven years, those of the Fraction with him shall contribute for another Horse, at the rate of ten pounds Sterling, and that the Horse be provided to the value of that summe, and so after the expyryng of each seven years thereafter successive: And that the Heretors of every Shire allow yearly forty eight pounds Scots to the Trumpetter who serves their Troup, and twelve pounds Scots to every Drummer who serveth their companies. And it is further Ordained, that besides the dayes of Rendezvous already appointed, and which are still to be observed in the time of Peace; Yet in the time of War, there are to be two Rendezvous yearly of the Regiments of Foot; at either of which, the Companies are to be kepted together, and exercised for two dayes; as also, four dayes of Rendezvous for the several Companies. But in regard of the distance of the bounds, and other difficulties in drawing together the Regiment which is raised out of Argyl, Bute and Dumbarton, they are to have onely one general Rendezvous in the year, and two for the several Companies, who are to stay together two dayes at either of their Rendezvous.

And further, his Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, Ratifies, Approves and Renewes all former Acts, Orders or Instructions past in Parliament, or by His Majesties Privy Council concerning the Militia; and Ordains them to be put to due execution, except in so far as any of them are innovate or altered by this present Act.

II.

A C T concerning Pupils and Minors, and their Tutors and Curators.

Edinburgh, 28. of June, 1672.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Considering the great prejudice and inconvenience befalling to Pupils and others, who cannot provide for, or defend themselves, That their Tutors or Curators have immediate access to their Charter-chests, Writs, Evidents and Securities of their Lands, sums of money, and others belonging to them, which they may imbesit, suppress, or by collusion, give up to their Debtors or other parties interested, without just satisfaction; Or otherwise, having gotten satisfaction, there is no mean by which a Charge can be made up against the saids Tutors and Curators, but themselves, when they are brought to an account, make both their own Charge and Discharge; and in case of their decease, they who succeed to them, for the most part, can have no Charge made up against them at all. For remeedy whereof, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes, Ordains and Declares, that no Tutor or Curator of any Pupil, Minor, Idiot or furious person, to be named or designed in any time coming, or who is not actually stated and entered in the said office, shall have power or authority to exercise the said Office of Tutor or Curator, or to meddle with the Writs, Evidents, Means and Estate of the saids Pupils, Minors, Idiots or furious persons, until first an Inventar be made up, in manner after-specified, by the saids Tutors and Curators, with advice and consent of the nearest of kin on the Fathers side, and the nearest of kin on the Mothers side, who shall be Majors, and within the Kingdom for the time: Which Inventar shall be subscribed by the saids Tutors and Curators; and the saids nearest of kin; and one subscribed double thereof kept by the saids Tutors or Curators, another by the nearest of kin on the Fathers side, and the third by the nearest of kin on the Mothers side. All which subscribed Duplicats shall be judicially produced before the Judge ordinar of the place, where the Pupil, Minor, Idiot or furious person their chief residence is, and an Act made upon production thereof, bearing the production of the Inventar, and expressing the names of the persons subscribers thereof, and in whose custody the same were left; and that the Duplicats be also subscribed by the Clerk of Court, that they may not be altered thereafter. And in case the nearest of kin on both sides will not concur in making up the Inventar in manner foresaid, the saids Tutors and Curators shall raise summons at their instance, before the saids Judges ordinar respective, for summoning the nearest of kin that are majors, and within the Countrey, upon either side, for decerning them to concur in making up of the said Inventar in manner foresaid: And in case they compare not, or do not concur as said is, With certification, the said Inventar shall be made up by the said Tutor or Curator, with advice and consent of the Judge ordinar, or any whom he shall delegate or appoint, who shall subscribe three Duplicats of the said Inventar with the saids Tutors or Curators, whereupon a Judicial Act shall be made, and the Duplicats subscribed by the Clerk, in the same manner as if the nearest of kin had concurred; and a Duplicate thereof shall be kept by the saids Tutors and Curators, and the other two Duplicats shall remain in the Clerks hands, to be delivered to the nearest of kin on the Father and Mothers side, being closed up and sealed by the saids Tutors or Curators, and the person delegate for making the said Inventar as said is. Which Inventar shall contain the names and designations of the Lands belonging to the Pupils, Minors and others foresaid, and the Bands, Counts and Tickets due to them, and sums therein contained, and their Moveables, aswell Heirship-Moveable as other Moveables: And in case that thereafter any other Lands, Debts, sums of money or other Goods and Gear whatsoever belonging, or that may happen to belong to the saids Pupils, Minors, Idiots, or furious persons, shall come to the knowledge of the saids Tutors or Curators, so that they may attain to the possession thereof; In that case, and within the space of two Months after they attain to the possession of the same, They shall eek the same to the foresaid Inventar, and make a judicial Act thereupon in the hands of the Clerk of Court where the principal Inventar was made, and shall leave two Duplicats of the said Eek or Eeks, one or moe, sealed as said is, in the hands of the said Clerk, for the use of the nearest of kin as said is. And it is hereby further Declared, that the Debtors of the Pupils, Minors, Idiots or furious persons, shall not be obliged to make payment to the Tutors or Curators of the saids persons, of any sums due by them, unless the said Tutor or Curator shew to the saids Debtors, that the Sums or Goods demanded from them, are contained in the saids Inventars or Eeks subscribed by the saids nearest of kin, or by the Clerk of Court in manner respective foresaid. And it is hereby further Declared, that if the saids Tutors or Curators shall failzie in making up the saids Inventars and Eeks in manner above-written, They shall be lyable both for intromission and Omission, and shall have no allowance or defalcation of the charges and expenses wared out by them in the affairs of the saids Pupils, Minors, Idiots or furious persons: and shall be removable from their Office as suspect Tutors and Curators, if they fail in making up the Eeks from time to time in manner foresaid. It is alwayes hereby Declared, that this Act shall nor pre-judge Pupils, Minors and other persons aforesaid, to charge their Tutors or Curators with what it can be made appear they have intromitted, or might have intromitted with, over and above what is contained in the Inventar. And further His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, That all Gifts of Tutorry, that shall be granted hereafter, by His Majesty or His Exchequer, shall proceed upon citation of the Minors nearest of kin on both sides, at the instance of the Cravers of the saids Gifts: That they may be heard, if they have any thing to say against the person to whom the Gift is to be granted; or, upon consent first obtained thereto, under the hands of the said nearest of kin. And Ordains, that the said Gifts shall bear expressly that the nearest of kin were cited, or consented to the passing of the said Gifts: Certifying all who shall procure Gifts of Tutorry or Curatorry fore-said, without citation or consent of the saids nearest of kin, or where the same is not expressly mentioned therein, That these Gifts shall be declared null and void, by way of exception or action, at the instance of any person who shall have obtained a Gift of the saids Tutorry or Curatorry, conform to the Tenor of this present Act.

III.

ACT discharging the importation of Irish Victual.

Edinburgh, 28. of June, 1672.

Forasmuch as the importing of Victual, Horses and Cows from Ireland into this Kingdom, hath been, by divers publick Acts and Statutes, discharged, under great pains; And that, notwithstanding thereof, sundry persons, preferring their own privat interests to their obedience to the Law and good of the Kingdom, have adventured to import diverse quantities of Victual from Ireland, and have vented and sold the same in this Kingdom; whereby the sale of Corns, growing within the Kingdom, hath been stopped, and much money hath been unwarrantably carried out of the Kingdom. And His Majesty being resolved, for the good of this His Ancient Kingdom, to take an effectual course for preventing and restraining such courses for the time to come: Doth therefore, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, that all Heretors, Wod-seuters and Life-renters within the Shire of Lanerk below Glasgow, and in the Shires of Air, Renfrew, Wigton, Dumbarton, Bute, Argyl, and Stewartrie of Kirkcudbright, having Land on the Sea-coasts; and the Magistrates of the Burghs of Glasgow, Dumfries, Kirkcudbright, Renfrew, Dumbarton, Inverness, Air, Stranrawer, Rosfa and Inverary, give Bonds, that they, their Tennents, or any dwelling on their Lands, or Inhabitants within the saids Burghs, shall not import or resell any sort of Victual from Ireland, under the pain of twelve hundred pounds Scots, toties quoties. And if any of that Victual shall happen to be Livered within their bounds, by persons not living within the same, That they also detain and seise the Victual, Vessel and persons therein, if they can be apprehended, under the same pain. And if the Importers make any forcible resistance, It is hereby Declared, that the Seisers, and these who shall assist them, shall be free of all skaith or prejudice may fall out thereupon: And that they give timely notice thereof to the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council or Exchequer, who are hereby empowered to punish the Importers, by fynyng or imprisonment, or both, as they shall think fit. And for the Vessels and Goods, whether imported by Natives or Strangers, They are hereby Declared to be confiscat; two parts thereof to His Majesties use, and the third part to the Seiser, whether he be Heretor of the Lands where the Importation happeneth, or not. And in case any Heretors or Magistrates shall suffer any Victual to be imported, and shall not seise and certifie, as said is, and that any other person shall inform thereof, and venise the same; This Informer is to have the third of the Goods, if they shall be apprehended, and also the third of the fine imposed upon the Heritors or Magistrates failzeing as said is. Likas His Majesty, with advice fore-said, doth Authorize the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council to appoint fit persons to receive the Subscriptions of the Heretors, Magistrates & others fore-said, within the bounds above-written, to the Bond hereunto subjoined. And if any of them shall refuse to sign the Bond, they are, for such refusal, Declared to incur the pain and penalty of Two hundred pounds Sterling, and imprisonment during the Councils pleasure: Besides that, they shall be lyable to the same pains as if they had subscribed the Bond. And for the encouragement and relief of such Heretors and Magistrates, as shall give Bond as said is, It is appointed, that if any Victual so imported, shall happen to be resell in any of the saids Shires or Burghs, the Reseller shall be lyable to relieve the Heretor or Burgh in whose bounds the Victual was Livered, of the Fyne they incurred thereby: As also, that their Tennents and Inhabitants shall also subscribe the same. And in case of their refusal, their Tacks of their Rooms, if they have any, are declared void, and they, and all such other Tennents or Inhabitants, as have no Tacks, are to be removed from their Possessions and Dwellings, by sentence of any Judge ordinar, before whom the refusal shall be proven; Besides that, they shall be lyable as if they had subscribed the Bond, and their persons to be imprisoned during the pleasure of his Majesties Privy Council, who are also hereby warranted to give Commissions & allowances to fit persons to seise any of the saids Vessels that shall be Water-born within the Waters, betwixt the Head of Kintyre and Lochryan, or within the Western Isles, or any Port, Loch, Creek or River from Lochryan to Dumfries: As also, to allow importation of Victual for such time as they shall think fit, the price of Victual, within the Kingdom for the time, being at eight pounds the Boll of Beir and Meil, and ten pounds Wheat, or above. And last, His Majesty Ratifies and Renews all former Laws, and Acts, and Proclamations of Council made against importing of Victual as said is: And Ordains them to be put to Execution, except in so far as they are altered by this Act; And Ordains Letters of Horning to passe hereupon, in form as effeirs.

The Tenor of the Bond above-mentioned.

In obedience of, and conform to, the Act of Parliament against Importation of Victual from Ireland, Do hereby bind and oblige me, that I, nor my Tements, nor any other Person dwelling upon any Lands belonging to me, shall not import nor resset any Victual from Ireland. And if any Victual, so imported, shall be Livered in any Bounds belonging to me, by any Person not living within my bounds, I oblige me to seise and detain the Victual, Goods, Vessels and Persons therein, if they can be apprehended: And to give speedy notice thereof to His Majesties Council or Exchequer, under the pain of Twelve hundred pounds, as oft as I or they shall failzie in any of the premises; To be payed to And for the more security, &c.

The like Bond to be given by the Magistrates of the Burrows above-mentioned for their Inhabitants.

I V.

ACT for raising of a New Supply of Eight Hundred and Sixty Four Thousand Pounds Scots, Offered to His Majesty.

Edinburgh, 5. of July, 1672.

THE Estates of Parliament being sensible of the great Obligations lying on them to imbrace every Occasion whereby they may renew the Expressions of their Duty, Loyalty and Gratitude to His Majesty, for the many and constant Proofs they have had of His Affection to, and Care of, the Concerns of this His Ancient Kingdom; And considering that His Majesty is now engaged in a most Just and Necessary War against the States General of the United Provinces, They conceive themselves obliged to take such courses, and provide such remedies, as may evidence the sense and resentments this Kingdom hath of His Majesties Honour and Interests, as well as what may concern their own security, against all Accidents which either from without or within the Kingdom may fall out upon this occasion: And therefore They do hereby Declare, that, as the Kingdom of Scotland will cheerfully hazard their lives and fortunes in this or any other cause wherein His Majesties Safety, Honour or Interests may be concern'd; So, in order thereunto, They have so fortified the Militia, as the Forces of the Kingdom may be in readines, when ever His Majesty shall be pleased for those ends to make use of them. And conceiving it necessary, for the rendering of this Humble Tender of their Duty the more effectual for His Majesties Service, That His Majesty be provided with a stock of money toward the encouragement and maintenance of the Forces of the Kingdom, and such other necessary occasions as concern His Majesties Honour, or the publick Peace: They do therefore, with all humble Duty and Cheerfulness, for Themselves, and in name of this Kingdome which They represent, Make offer to His Majesty of a new Supply of Eight hundred, sixty four thousand pounds Scots, to be payed and raised out of the Land-rent of the Kingdom, according to the present Valuations, in the same manner, and conform to the proportions contained in the Act of the Convention of Estates, for raising of the Supply granted to His Majesty in the Year, One thousand, six hundred, sixty seven, and to be payed in four parts at the Terms following, each fourth part answering to three Moneths Cefs; viz. Two hundred, and sixteen thousand pounds, as being one fourth part thereof, and answering to three Moneths Cefs, to be payed at the Term of Lambas next to come in this present Year, One thousand, six hundred, seventy two: Another Two hundred, and sixteen thousand pounds, at the Term of Candlemas, One thousand, six hundred, seventy three; And the third Two hundred, and sixteen thousand pounds, at the Term of Lambas, One thousand, six hundred, seventy three; And the fourth and last Two hundred, and sixteen thousand pounds, to be payed at the Term of Candlemas, One thousand, six hundred, seventy four. Likeas the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth hereby Ordain the foresaid summe of Eight hundred, sixty four thousand pounds Scots to be raised and payed at the Terms of payment particularly above-mentioned: And that the Commissioners for the Valuations take care, and be answerable, that the same be accordingly raised and payed in to such as shall be warranted by His Majesty to receive the same; And that all manner of diligence and execution contained in the foresaid Act of Convention, One thousand, six hundred, sixty seven, be made use of for raising of this Supply above-mentioned, at the several Terms of payment thereof, as fully as if the same were expressly repeated in this Act. And as His Majesty with Advice foresaid, Ordains that exactness, diligence and execution be used for the speedy bringing in of this Supply as aforesaid; So, for the encouragement of such as shall make due payment, as aforesaid is, It is also hereby Declared, That no person liable in any part of this Supply, shall be holden to produce their Discharges or Receipts of the same after the second of February, in the Year One thousand, six hundred, and eighty one. And farther, the Kings Majesty, considering that the whole burden of this Supply lieth upon the Land-rent; And conceiving it just, that the personal estates of money should bear some proportion of the Burden, toward the relief of the Land-rent: Doth therefore, with Advice and Consent foresaid, Statute and Ordain, That every Debitor owing money within this Kingdom, shall, for the space of one year, from the Term of Martinmes, One thousand, six hundred, seventy two, to the term of Martinmes, One thousand, six hundred, seventy three, in the payment of their Annual-rents for that Year, have retention in their own hands of one sixth part thereof, at the payment of the other five parts of the saids Annual-rents due for that Year as said is.

V.

A C T concerning the Priviledges of Burghs Royal.

Edinburgh, 10. of July, 1672.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, taking into His serious Consideration, how necessar it is, for the Wealrh and Welfare of this His ancient Kingdom, that Trade & Commerce be encouraged, both for the Export of the growth and Manufacturie of the Kingdom, and for the Import of Foreign Commodities, requisite for the use and satisfaction of His People; And for that effect, that the Priviledges of the Royal Burrows granted by His Majesty and His Royal Predecessors, may be established, and cleared from the many Controversies and Debates that have been thereanent, to the great disquiet and expences; both of the Royal Burrows themselves, and other Incorporations and People of the Kingdom: Which Controversies have arisen concerning the extent of the Priviledges of the Royal Burrows; and how far the Ratifications thereof granted by His Majesty and His Royal Predecessors; and the Estates of Parliameut, have been derogate and abrogate by contrair Custom, Or by Infements and Priviledges granted by His Majesty, and His Royal Progenitors; and specially the 24. Act of the Parliament, holden by His Majesties Royal Father, of happy Memory, in the Year of God, 1633. entituled, Ratification of the Priviledges of the Royal Burrows, whereby all exportation of any Merchandice is prohibited to any persons bur the Burgeses of Royal Burrows, their Factors or Servants; and all Persons, dwelling out of Burrows, are prohibited to use any Merchandice, or to buy Wine, Wax, Silks, Spicery, Wald or sicklike Stuffs; nor that none Pack nor Peil without the Kings Burrows, under pain of Escheat of the Goods that should be topped, fold, packed or peiled contrair to that Statute: And giving power to the saids Royal Burrows, or their Commissioners, to search unfree-mens Goods, intromet therewith as Escheat, either within the Countrey or any other part. Which Priviledges so extended, were never in use, and are higly prejudicial to the common interest and good of the Kingdom, and are by the said Statute, extended far beyond the ancient Priviledges of Burrows, repeated and confirmed therein; applying the priviledges granted to Burrows generally to Royal Burrows only, to the prejudice of the Burghs of Regalities and Barony, and extending of the sale of Imported Commodities which could only be understood of whole sale, to the topping and retailing of the saids Commodities. And on the other part, the just priviledges of the Royal Burrows have been encroached upon by others, not only by exporting, but by importing of Staple-Commodities, without bearing burden with the saids Royal Burrows in the publick Taxations and Aids granted to His Majesty. For remeed whereof, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, that it is, and shall be the priviledge of Free-men of Royal Burrows, and no other Incorporation or person within this Kingdom, to buy or sell, in great or whole sale, Wine, Wax, Silks, Spiceries, Wald, and other Materials for Dying; And that no other Incorporation or person within this Kingdom, shall have power to import or export the same, or to import any other Commodities, except such as are allowed to them by this present Act: But prejudice to Noble-men, Prelates, Barones and others, of their priviledge of importing any of the saids Goods, for the proper use of themselves and thcir families allanerly. Likeas, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Doth hereby Enact and Declare, that it shall be leifom to any of His Majesties good Subjects, or any person that shall buy from them, to export forth of this Kingdom, by Sear or Land, all manner of Corns that are of the Growth of the Kingdom, all manner of Cattel, Nolt, Sheep, Horfe, Coal, Salt, and Wool, Skins, Hydcs, and all other Native Commodities of the Kingdom: And that it shall be leifom to the Burghs of Regality and Barony, by any of their Burgeses or Members of Society, to export all their own proper Manufacturie, or such Goods as shall be bought by them in Fairs or Markets. And that it shall be leifom to the saids Burghs of Regality or Barony, or Societies erected or to be erected for Manufacturies, and all others exporting the Native Growth of the Kingdom as aforesaid, to import, in return of the saids Goods expotted, or of the Fraught and Hire of the Ships, the Goods and Commodities following; viz. Timber, Iron, Tar, Soap, Lint, Lint-seed, Hemp, Onions, or other necessars, for Tillage or building, or for the use of their foresaid Manufacturie: And als, to top and retail all Commodities whatsoever. Likeas, His Majesty, with consent of the said Estates, Statutes and Ordains, That, if any man, not being free-man in the Royal Burrows, shall be found to have in His possession any Goods or Commodities to be bought or sold, exported or imported by him, contrait to this present Statute, Statute, and the Privilege of the Royal Burrows granted thereby; The said whole Goods shall be escheat, the one half to His Majesty, and the other half to the Burgh-apprehender: And that, if the said Goods be apprehended within any of the saids Royal Burrows, or the Sub-urbs or Appendices belonging to them, or within their Ports or Harbors; The same may be summarily seized and secured, as Goods escheat in manner foresaid. But if the saids Goods, competent only to Free-men of Royal Burrows, shall be found, or alleadged to be found, elsewhere; They shall only be arrested and pursued to be declared Escheat, to be divided in manner above-written, before any competent Judicator, as accords of the Law: And that, upon pretence thereof, the Magistrates of Burghs, or others by Commission from them, or any of their Inhabitants, shall not search or seize upon any Goods, or any way trouble or molest His Majesties good Subjects, living without the bounds of their saids Burghs or Sub-urbs, summarily and by way of fact, but only by Legal Process according to Law, upon the pretence of any Privilege, Custom or Usage whatsoever, unless the Persons be deprehended in the present and actual transgression of the Privileges of the Royal Burrows above-written, and that within the bounds of the saids Burghs, Sub-urbs and Ports thereof; Under the pain of being proceeded against as Committers of Ryot, and Disturbers of His Majesties Peace. Likeas, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Casis, Annuls and Rescinds all Acts of Parliament and Ratifications, in so far as they are contrair to this present Statute: And Ordains Letters of Horning to be Direct summarily at the instance of all Royal Burrows, against all and whatsoever Persons who have transgressed, or shall transgress the foresaid Privileges; as the same are Established and Declared by this present Act.

V I.

ACT discharging second Summonds, &c.

Edinburgh, 10. of July, 1672.

Forasmuch as the former Practice and Custome, that Process and Summonds before the Lords of Session, for the most part, should be continued, has been the occasion of delay of Justice, and of great trouble and charges to His Majesties Leiges: By reason, that when the Parties, at least the Defenders, did live at a great distance from the said Judicatory, after the Pursuer had raised the first Summonds, and had sent, and caused execute the same in remote places of the Kingdom: They were forced to return the same to be continued, and, upon an Act of continuation, to raise other Summonds, and to send the same again to the Counreyy, and to cause execute the same in remote places of the Kingdom, for the most part by Messengers employed and sent there of purpose; And to return the same before there could be any Process in the Cause foresaid. And even when Parties had their residence near the said Judicatory, and the Pursuers were concerned, and desirous, to insist with all possible diligence; and to that purpose had raised Summonds; Yet, if the Vacation-time did intervene, (during which their Summonds could not be continued) their Processes could not be in readines against the next ensuing Session; so that they were postponed by the space of diverse moneths, to their great prejudice. And Our Sovereign Lord, being tender, and equally carefull of the Interest of His Subjects, both Pursuers and Defenders; And that a remedy may be provided for preventing the said inconvenients and prejudice to the Pursuers: and yet such a one, as the Defenders be not prejudged: Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth Statute and Ordain, that, in all Causes and Processes that shall be intended hereafter before the Lords of Session, of whatsoever nature the same be; and albeit formerly the Summonds were in use, and ought to have been continued: Yet, the Pursuer shall not be obliged to cause continue their Summonds, and to take out Acts of Continuation, and to cause raise and execute Letters and second Summonds thereupon, any Law, Custome, Statute or Act of Sederunt to the contrary notwithstanding, which is hereby Repealed. And because by the Law and Custome formerly observed in the Causes foresaid, being oft-times of great importance, a Decree could not be obtained summarily upon a single Citation; which may be, and sometimes was industriously, and of purpose, so conveyed and concealed, that it could not come to the Defenders knowledge: And upon the considerations foresaid, after that the Defenders were cited by the first Summonds, they behaved again to be cited, and in some cases, nor by Sheriffs in that part; but by Messengers at Arms, and with, and under other and higher certifications then were contained in the first Summonds. And seeing it is just, and it is His Majesties intention that they should not be prejudged of the benefit and means foresaid, whereby they may be the better certiorate, and have time, to deliberate, and prepare themselves for their defence: It is therefore Ordained by His Majesty, with consent foresaid, That all Summonds before the Lords of Session, which before were in use, and ought to have been continued, shall contain two several Warrants for citing the Defenders at two several times, and to two distinct diets and dayes of Compearance; And that the saids Summonds be directed to Sheriffs in that part, and Messengers respective; and that, by the first Warrant to be insert in the said Summonds, such persons, as might, and were in use, to have executed the first Summonds, be warranted to give the first citation upon the same time, and with the same certifications as formerly were were and ought to have been in citations upon the first Summonds: And by the second Warrant, Messengers at Arms, or such other persons as formerly were and ought to have been employed to execute Letters or second summonds, when they were apart, and upon Acts of Continuation; shall be warranted, and commanded to give the second Citation, after the passing and elapsing of all the time contained in the Warrant for the first Citation: And the said second Citation shall be upon the same time, and with the same certifications that were usual in second Summonds, and in the Acts wherupon the same proceeded, according to the several styles, conception and nature thereof respective. And it is Declared, That upon all Summonds against Parties, either within or without the Countrey, containing the said Warrant for two Citations, being executed as said is, and no otherwise; Process shall be granted in all causes which before did abide Continuation, in the same manner, and with the same effects, to all intents and purposes, as were granted upon Summonds, Acts of Continuation and Letters: And in all other Processes and causes, which did not require Continuation, it is Declared, that the Summonds shall be libelled, and Process shall be granted thereupon as before, and in the same manner, without any change or alteration. And it is further Statute and Ordained, that, in time coming, all Executions of Summonds shall bear expressly the names and designations of the Parties pursuers and Defenders: And that it shall not be sufficient that the same do relate generally to the Summonds, otherwise the Execution shall not be sustained.

VII.

A C T concerning Writs passing the Great and Privy Seals.

Edinburgh, 12. of July, 1672.

THE Kings Majesty, considering how much His own Service and the Interests of His Subjects is prejudged, by the neglect of Registrating these Charters, Infeftments, Gifts, Commissions and other Writs, which do pass, and are written to, the Great and Privy Seals; Doth, for remedying and preventing of this evil for the time to come, with advice of His Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, that all Charters, Infeftments, Commissions, Gifts and other Writs which hereafter shall pass under the Great and Privy Seals, shall be registrat in the Registers of the great and privy Seals, respective, before the Seall be appended to them: And the Writers to these Seals, who keep the Registers thereof, are hereby Ordained to Registrat every Writ passing their Office, and, by their subscription, to mark the same on the back thereof, to be written and Registrat by them, before they give them out to be sealed; and that they make and keep a perfect Minut-book, containing the Names, Surnames and Designations of the persons in whose favours the Charters and other Writs are granted, with the Names of the Lands and special matters therein contained: And the keepers of these Seals are hereby Discharged to append the Seals to any writs which are not so marked and attested to be Registrat, as they will be answerable. And his Majesty further considering, that the Writing of Precepts of Seasing, to pass under the Quarter Seal, is a great and unnecessary trouble to His Subjects, and may be aswell, and with less trouble supplied, if the Precept of Seasing were insert in the Charter; Doth therefore, with advice foresaid, Suppress, and for ever Discharge, the passing or writing of any precepts of Seasing to, or under the Quarter Seal: And Ordains, that, in lieu thereof, every Charter shall, towards the end, contain a Precept of Seasing of all the Lands and others contained therein; which shall be als sufficient for taking of Seasings, as if the same were past under the Quarter Seal as said is. Likeas, His Majesty, understanding the great trouble and inconveniencies occasioned by the Writing of long Chartets and other Writs, which pass the Seals aforesaid, in one broad parchment, of so great length and largeness, that they can hardly be read: Doth, for remeid thereof, with advice foresaid, Statute and Ordain, that it shall be free to any person, who hath any Charter or Writ to be written for the Great or Privy Seals, to choise whether to have the same written in a broad skin of parchment as formerly, or to have them written by way of a book in leaves of parchment, about the breadth of an ordinary sheet of paper; and accordingly, the Writters to the Great and Privy Seals, are hereby Ordained to write and exped the same: And, if they shall be written in the way of a book, that each page be signed and marked by them as said is. Which being done, the respective Seals are to be appended thereto in manner following, viz. To such as shall be written on a skin of parchment in the ordinary way, That the Seals be appended as formerly: And to these which shall be written in the book-way, that the Seals shall be appended upon a Tye or Band, which is to go thorow all the leaves in the Margine. And that for doing hereof, this shall be a sufficient warrand to all persons concerned.

VIII.

A C T concerning Arrestments used within Burghs.

Edinburgh, 12. of July, 1672.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD considering, that the Burrows Royal have been in use to arrest Strangers, who live without their respective Burghs, for all Debts due by them to any of the Inhabitants Burgesies of the said Royal Burrows, any manner of way, without distinction; Do daily force them to find Caution to compare before the Town-Courts, or otherwise go to Prison, to the great hurt and prejudice of the Leiges, who being Strangers, and not able to find Caution within Burgh, are oftentimes summarily incarcerated, without any just cause, to their great damage, expences, and disgrace. For remeid whereof, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, that, in time coming, no Burgesie nor other Inhabitant of any Royal Burgh shall have power, or be permitted, to arrest any of His Majesties Subjects of this Kingdom, who live ourwith the Burgh, or force them to find Caution, or imprison them as said is, for any debt whatsoever; Except allanerly for Horse-meat or Mans-meat, Abuilzements or other Merchandice due by Strangers to Burgesies: For which they have no other security but their own Compt-books; and for which the said privilege of Arrestment shall only be competent to the Merchant, Inn-keeper or Stabler respective from whom the samin was gotten, and to whom it was originally addebted: So that, in case the samin be assigned to any other Burges, the Assignee shall not have the benefit of that Privilege. And siklike, if Strangers have given Band or other security, for the Mans meat, Horse-meat, Abuilzements or other Merchandice, the Merchant, Inn-keeper or Stabler respective shall not have the benefit of the foresaid Privilege; but shall be left to pursue for their respective Debts before the Judge Ordinar as accords. And in regard that Burghs of Regality and Barrony do assume the same Privileges; Therefore His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Inhibits & Discharges the Magistrates of these Burghs to Arrest or Incarcerat any persons who are not Burgesies Inhabitants in their Burgh, for any manner of Debt: And it is hereby Declared, That, if any Magistrate of any Burgh shall presume to do in the contrair hereof. They shall be punished for wrongous Imprisonment of His Majesties Leiges.

IX.

A C T against Unlawful Ordinations.

Edinburgh, 24. of July, 1672.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD considering, that the true and regular way of Ordination to the holy Calling and Employment of the Ministry is of great and necessary importance, to the Constitution, Peace and Unity of this Church, and for preserving the Reverence and Interest of the Reformed Religion professed in it; and for the preventing of the growth of scandalous Schism and Confusion arising from various and different Ordinations: Doth therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, that no person or persons whatsoever presume to appoint or Ordain any person to the Office and Work of the Ministry, except these who have Authority approved by the Laws of the Kingdom for that effect; and that no person take Ordination from any, but such as are thus Lawfully Authorized to give the same: Declaring hereby, all pretended Ordinations of any persons, since the Year, 1661. which have not been, or hereafter shall not be, according to the Appointment of the Law, to be null and invalid; And all persons who, since the said Year, have received pretended Ordination, or shall receive the same any other manner of way then as is settled by Law, to be no Ministers. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, that both the pretended Ordainers, and these who shall pretend to have received Ordination, be seised upon by the Sheriff or other ordinar Magistrat of the place, and committed to Prison, until they be dilated to the Lords of the Privy Council; who are hereby Authorized and Ordained after tryal, and finding the saids persons guilty, to sentence them by Confiscation of all their moveable Goods, and banishing them, and to cause them find Caution not to returne to His Majesties Dominions. And in case they shall refuse to find Caution, or being banished, shall afterwards return to this Kingdom, that they shall suffer perpetual imprisonment, and not to be released, except by a Warrant under His Majesties own hand. And farther, it is hereby Statute & Declared, that whosoever shall be married within this Kingdom by the foresaid persons, or by any other person not lawfully Authorized, They shall amit and lose any right or interest they may have by that Marriage, jure Mariti vel jure Relictæ, and that by and attour the pains and penalties provided by the Act of Parliament in Anno 1661. against disorderly and clandestine Marriages: Which Act is hereby Ratified and Renewed.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD considering the great prejudice, which this Kingdom doth sustain by the sumptuousness and prodigality which all sorts of persons use in their Apparel, without regard to, or distinction of, their several degrees and qualities; considerable summes of money being, upon that occasion, unnecessarily exported out of the Kingdom, and the Native Commodities and Manufactories thereof being thereby neglected, and not improved for the use and advantage of the Inhabitants: For remeid whereof, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, that none of His Majesties Subjects of this Kingdom, of whatsoever degree, condition or quality, shall, after the first day of June, one thousand, six hundred, threecore thirteen Years, wear any Cloths or Apparel wherein there is any Gold or Silver; or wear any Gold or Silver Laces of whatsoever kind, Buttons, Ribbands, Tracings, Fringes, or Louping made of Gold or Silver; or have any Imbroidering of Gold or Silver upon their Apparel, Sword-belts or any other manner of way: Excepting alwayes Butrons, Buckles and Hilts of Swords of Gold-smith-work, which the Priviledged Persons after-exprest are allowed to wear, and no others: And that none wear any Flowred Stuffs, Stripped stuffs, or Brocado's of Silk, or have any Silk-lace, Gimp lace, or any other kind of Lace or Imbroidering of Silk upon their wearing Cloathes: And that no person presume to import into this Kingdom, or make, or sell therein any of the Commodities above-exprest after the date hereof; Certifying such as shall contravene, that they shall be lyaible in the pains following, viz. The Importer, Maker and Seller, shall be fyned in One thousand pounds Scots, by and attour the Confiscation of the Goods so imported, made or sold: And the Wearer thereof in five hundred merks Scots, toties quoties, by and attour the Confiscation of the Cloathes. And it is hereby Declared, that the Importer of such prohibited Goods shall not have Action, for the price thereof, against the Merchant, for whose use the same were imported; Nor the seller thereof against the Buyer, albeit Bands be given for the same, if it can be made appear that the Bands were given for that cause: Excepting alwayes from this present Act, Comedians, as to the Cloathes which they make use of upon the Stage; Heraulds, as to their Coats, and His Majesties Trumpeters; And also excepting Pages and Lacqueys of the Priviledged Persons after-named, as to silk-laces and Pasmments allannerly, which they are hereby allowed to wear upon their Livery-cloathes. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Doth Statute and Ordaine, that none of His Subjects shall, after the first of June next, wear any Cloathing or Apparel of Velvet, Sattin or other stuffs of Silk, or wear any Beaver-hats, under the pain of five hundred merks, to be payed by the contraveener, toties quoties: Except Noble men, Prelates, His Majesties Counsellors, Lords of Session, and such Barrons, Knights, or Gentle-men, who have of yearly valued Rent Two thousand pounds Scots money; And the Provosts of the principal Burrows within this Kingdom; Or these that have been Provosts, and such also as shall be for the time, or have been Provosts, Baillies, Dean of Gild or Theasurer within the Town of Edinburgh: Excepting also Rectors of Universities, and the Wives of the saids Priviledged Persons, their eldest Sons, and eldest Daughters unmarried, and all the Children of Noble-men; And that none wear any Ribbands or Louping of Silk upon their Apparel, or any white Lace, or Point made of Threed, under the pain of Five hundred merks Scots toties quoties; Excepting the Priviledged Persons aforesaid, who are hereby allowed to wear plain Taffety-ribbands upon their Apparel, and to wear white Lace or Point made of Threed upon their Linnings only. And all persons whatsoever are hereby prohibited to wear Feathers, except Souldiers, under the pain aforesaid: But prejudice alwayes to all ranks of persons (except those of the Yeomanry) to wear plain Taffety-ribbands upon such parts of their Apparel where they may have occasion of the same for Tyes; and to Women to wear Hoods and Skarfs of Taffety: And but prejudice to domestick servants to wear their Masters or Mistresses old Cloathes, allowed to them by this Act. And for the better effectuating hereof, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Ordains all Collectors of Assessment and Excise, and their Sub-Collectors, Farmors and Collectors of Customes, and Waiters in Burgh or Land, at every Term to give up, upon Oath, to the Commissioners of Excise in the several Shires and Burghs, and to the General Collectors of the Customes and Excise, Lists of all those whom they have seen and observed to transgress this Act: And it is hereby Declared, that the one half of the penalties aforesaid shall belong to themselves, and the other half shall be collected by them for His Majesties use; Tryal being first taken, and the persons found guilty, by the Commissioners of Assessment or Excise, Justices of Peace, or other ordinary Magistrate of the place: And such Contraveeners as they shall not give information of, that the one half of their Fynes shall belong to any other person who shall discover them. And in case the said Collectors of Assessment and Excise, Farmors and Collectors of Customes, or Waiters, shall failzie to give up the said Lists as aforesaid, They shall thereby lose their places, and be incapable of that Service for ever. It is alwayes provided, that no persons contraveining this Act, shall be liable to the saids penalties, unless their names be given up within the space of three months after their incurring thereof: But prejudice alwayes to any other person, who shall discover the Contraveeners in manner foresaid, foresaid, of the one half of the penalties, whensoever they shall discover them. Likeas, the Commissioners of His Majesties Justiciary are hereby required to give Order, at their Circuit Courts, to take up Dittays against the Transgressors of this Act; and to proceed against them, by fyning them in the summes above-mentioned, and to exact the same. Likeas, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Doth hereby Authorize and Impower the Lords of His Privy Council to take such further courses, for making this Act effectual, as They shall think fit.

X I.

ACT against such who do not Baptize their Children.

Edinburgh, 16. of August, 1672.

THe Kings Majesty, considering that diverse disaffected persons in this Kingdom, being unwilling to have their Children Baptized in an orderly way, do either delay to Baptize them, or pretend that they are not Baptized; thinking thereby to escape the punishment, which by former Acts of Parliament, is appointed to be inflicted upon such as are guilty of disorderly Baptizing: Doth therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates in Parliament, Statute and Declare, that such Parents, who shall hereafter keep their Children un-baptized for the space of thirty dayes together, or shall not produce a Testificat under the hand of the Minister of the Parish, bearing that the Children were Baptized within the said space, shall incur, and be lyaible to, the pains and penalties following; viz. Every Herctor, Life-renter, or proper Wod-fetter, shall be fyned in a fourth part of his valued yearly Rent; Every person, above the degree of a Tennent, having a personal, but no Real Estate, in One hundred pounds Scots; Every considerable Merchant, in an hundred pounds; Every inferior Merchant, or considerable Tradesman, and every Tennent labouring Land, in fifty pounds; Every meaner Burgeis, Tradesman, Inhabitant within Burgh, and every Cottar, in twenty pounds Scots; and every Servant in half a years Fee. And it is hereby Declared, that, where Kirks are Vacant, the Parents shall, within the said space of thirty dayes, be obliged to go to the next adjacent Parish Kirk which is Planted, and obtain their Children Baptized there, under the foresaid penalties. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Requires the Sheriffs, Stewarts, Lords of Regalities, and their Deputs, and Magistrates of Burghs Royal, within their respective bounds, to put this Act in execution, by calling before them, and judging the Contraveeners, and uplifting the Fynes above-mentioned: And for their encouragement, They are hereby allowed to retain the Fynes of all the said persons for their own use; except these of Heritors, for which they are to be comptable to the Commissioners of His Majesties Thesaurary.

ACT for an Anniversary Thanksgiving.

Edinburgh, 21. of August, 1672.

THe Estates of Parliament, considering the great Blessing of Almighty GOD, in restoring His Majesty to the Throne of His Royal Ancestors; and thereby liberating these Kingdoms from the thraldom and bondage under which they did so long groan; In acknowledgment of Their Thankfulness to GOD, and of Their Duty and Loyalty to His Majesty, and that the memory of so great a Mercy may never fall in oblivion or neglect: Do humbly offer to His Majesty, that the Anniversary Solemnity be yearly and perpetually kept by all the People of this Kingdom, upon the 29. of May, being the Day of His Majesties Birth and Restauration. Therefore His Majesty, with consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, that the Anniversary Solemnity, for His Majesties happy Birth and Restauration, shall, in all time coming, be kept upon the 29. day of May yearly; and that ringing of Bells, throughout the whole Kingdom, and other Evidences of Joy, be observed the said whole Day, with Bonfires at night; And that all Ministers within the Kingdom shall Preach yearly upon the said 29. of May, that they, with the People, may give thanks to GOD Almighty, for His so signal Goodness to these Kingdoms. Certifying, that whosoever shall fail in observing this present Act, they shall be fyned, and otherwise punished, by His Majesties Privy Council, and other Judges ordinar, according to their coudition and estate. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Declares, that this present Act shall be the Rule and Warrant for the said Anniversary, in all time coming.

ACT for the Ann due to the Executors of Bishops and Ministers.

Edinburgh, 23. of August, 1672.

THe Kings Majesty, judging it necessary, for the good of the Church, that such a stated and equal course be taken for clearing and securing the Ann due to the Executors of deceased Bishops, Beneficed persons and Stipendiary Ministers, as may be suitable to the Interest of the Executors, and no discouragement or hinderance to the planting of the Vacant Benefices: Doth therefore, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, that, in all such cases hereafter, the Ann shall be an half years Rent of the Benefice or Stipend over and above what is due to the Defunct for his Incumbency; which is now sciled to be thus, viz. If the Incumbent survive Whitfunday, their shall belong to them for their Incumbency, the half of that years Stipend or Benefice, and for the Ann the other half: And if the Incumbent survive Michaelmas, he shall have right to that whole Years Rent for his Incumbency; and for his Ann, shall have the half years Rent of the following year: And that the Executors shall have right hereto, without necessity or expences of a Confirmation.

Commission for Plantation of Kirks, and Valuation of Teinds.

Edinburgh, 28. of August, 1672.

FOrasmuch as His Majesties Father, of ever blessed Memory, out of His Royal Care and Zeal for the Reformed Religion within this Kingdom, and the maintenance and provision of the Ministry and Churches thereof, and the Peace of the Kingdom, and for preventing, and settling all Questions and Differences that did, or might arise betwixt Titulars and others having right to Teinds, and Heretors, concerning the leading and drawing of their Teinds; Did, immediately after His attaining and succeeding to the Crown, Give forth and emit His Royal Declaration anent the premises, and the other particulars therein mentioned. And in pursuance of the ends foresaid, diverse Laws and Acts of Parliament were made in the year of our Lord, 1633. His said Majesty being present in His Royal Person; and since, diverse Acts of Parliament and Commissions have been, from time to time, Made, Given and Renewed to that purpose: And yet, by reason of the unhappy Troubles and Distractions of the late Times, that good and necessary Work neither is, nor could be thoroughly and fully accomplished. And, His Majesty being resolved, and desirous to prosecute so good a Work, for the universal Good of His Subjects, and specially for the encouragement of the Ministers of the Gospel: Therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, Gives full power and Commission to His Majesties Officers of Estate for the time being; And to the Arch-Bishop of St. Andrews, the Arch-Bishop of Glasgow, the Bishop of Edinburgh, the Bishop of Dunkeldin, the Bishop of Galloway, the Bishop of the Isles, the Bishop of Brechin, the Bishop of Dumblaine, and the Bishop of Aberdene, for the Clergy; The Duke of Hamilton, the Earl of Argyll, the Earl of Arbol, the Earl of Linlithgow, the Earl of Queensberry, the Earl of Tweeddale, the Earl of Kincardin, the Earl of Dundonald, and the Lord Elphinstoun, for the Nobility; The President of the Session, the Lord Colington, the Lord Gosford, the Lord Craigie, the Laird of Niddrie, the Laird of Nickolson, the Laird of Balcaskie, Sir Charles Erskin of Cambo, and Sir William Lockhart, for the Barons; Sir Andrew Ramsay, Sir William Thomson, Sir William Sharp, Sir Alexander Bruce, John Murray, Tutor of Stormonth, Robert Milne, Thomas Calderwood, William Binning, and John Johnston of Poltown, for the Burgesses; Or any eleven of them, whereof two of the Clergy, two of the Nobility, two Officers of Estate, and two Commissioners of Shires, and two of Burghs; Of which number, the Arch-Bishop of St. Andrews, or the Lord Chancellor, or one or one of the Commissioners of the Thesaurary, or the Arch-Bishop of Glasgow, or the Lord Privy Seal, or the Lord Secretary, or the Duke of Hamilton, or the Earl of Tweeddale, being alwayes one, To meet and convene at Edinburgh, the day of Years; And at such other place or places, times or diets as They shall appoint, To Value, and cause be valued, whatsoever Teinds great or small, Parsonage or Vicarage, within this Kingdom, which are yet unvalued: Declaring, that where the Vicarage of any Parish is a several Benefice and Title from the Parsonage, the same shall be severally valued, to the effect the Titulars, or Ministers serving the Cure, having right to the said Vicarage, be not frustrated of the true worth thereof. With power to the saids Commissioners, or Quorum foresaid, to appoint Committees, or Sub-committees of their own number, and to grant Sub-commissions, and to receive reports from them, and to approve or disapprove the same, as they shall find just; and to rectifie whatsoever Valuations led or to be led, to the enorm prejudice of the Titulars, or the hurt and detriment of the Kirk, and prejudice of the Ministers maintenance and provisions. Provided alwayes, Likeas it is hereby expressly provided, that, where Valuations are lawfully led against all parties having interest, and allowed by former Commissions; The same shall not be drawn in question, nor rectified, upon pretence of enorm lesion, at the instance of the Minister (not being Titular) or at the instance of His Majesties Advocate, in respect of His Majesties Annuity; Except it can be proven, that collusion was used betwixt the Titulars and Heretors, or betwixt the Procurator Fiscal and Heritors and Titulars: Which collusion is declared to be, when the Valuations are led with the diminution of the third part of the just Rent: which diminution shall be proven by the parties oath: And with power to the saids Commissioners, or Quorum foresaid, where Ministers are not already sufficiently provided, or have not Localities assigned to them for their Stipends, out of the Teinds within the Parish where they serve the Cure, in so far as the same will amount to, according to the quantities, proportions and rules contained in the nineteenth Act of the Parliament in Anno, 1633. To modifie, settle and appoint constant local Stipends to ilk Minister, out of the Teinds of the Parish where they serve the Cure. With power also, to grant recompence, by prorogation of Tacks to parties, for the augmentation of Stipends, which shall be imposed suitable to the said augmentation, as the saids Commissioners shall think just. And sicklike, with power to disjoin too large and spacious Parishes, to cause erect and build new Churches, to dismember and annex Kirks, as they shall think convenient. And to take order, that every Heritor and Life-renter shall have the leading and buying of their own Teinds, if they be willing, according to the rules prescribed by the nineteenth Act and Commission granted by His Majesty, with consent of the Estates of Parliament in Anno, 1633. and the Acts of Parliament therein mentioned. With power to determine all Questions concerning the prices of Teinds betwixt Titulars and others having right thereto, and the Heritors: and to appoint such securities, in favours of the Titulars and others having right to the Teinds, for the prices to be granted to the Heritors or others lyable in payment of the valued Duties, or Buyers of the saids Teinds; and in favours of the Ministers, as to their maintenance, as the saids Commissioners shall think fitting, according to the Rules set down in the said Act in Anno, 1633. And the Heritors to have liberty to buy the Teinds of their Lands which are not valued, within the space of three years after the date of this Act: With this Declaration alwayes, that, in case the impediment, during the time foresaid, flow from the Titular, by reason of his minority or other inability; in that case the Heritor, who offered to buy his own Teind within the space foresaid, shall have place, so soon as the impediment is removed, to buy his Teinds, notwithstanding of the expyryng of the years and space above-express. And it is Declared, that, if the Heritor be Minor, and his Tutors neglect the buying of his Teinds within the foresaid space; The Minor shall have action for two years after his minority, to compel the Titular to sell his saids Teinds: And generally with power to the saids Commissioners to decide and determine in all other points which may concern the leading and drawing the Teinds, the selling or buying of the same, or payment of the rates thereof, contained in the former Acts of Parliament, or set down in the general determination given out by His Majesties Royal Father, of blessed Memory. And if any person or persons shall find themselves grieved, and complain of the injustice or exorbitancy of any Decrees and Sentences given in any of the Commissions during the late Troubles; with power to the saids Commissioners to take the same to their consideration, and to alter, annul or allow the saids Decrees and Sentences, as they shall find just. And it is alwayes Provided and Declared, that Arch-Bishops and Bishops, and other Beneficed Persons, being Ministers, and their Successors, shall not be prejudged of the Rents whereof their Predecessors were in Actual and Reall possession; and which, by the Laws of the Kingdom, were due to them in Anno, 1637. And that they shall be no farther bound, but according to the provisions and conditions express in the Submissions made by the Bishops to His Majesties Royal Father, of blessed Memory; which is of the date the day of 1628. Years, and Registrate in the Books of Commission for Surrenders and Teinds, upon the 15. day of July, 1631. And whereas it may fall out, that some of the saids Commissioners may be unable to attend the Service, through death, sickness or other known impediment: Therefore His Majesty Declares, that He shall be careful to fill their places with other Persons qualified, whose Oaths, for faithful discharge of the same, shall be taken by the Chancellor, or, in his absence, by the President of the Commission for the time; And Ordains this present Commission to endure ay and while the same be discharged by His Majesty, and the Acts, Decrees and Sentences thereof to have the force, strength and effect of a Decree and Sentence of Parliament; liament; and the Lords of Session to grant Letters of Horning, Poinding and others requisite in manner contained in the forefaids Commissions. And His Majesty, with consent forefaid, hereby Discharges all former Commissions, Declaring the same to be expyred.

A C T concerning the Regulation of the Indicatories.

Edinburgh, 30. of August, 1672.

THE Kings Majesty being desirous, that the publick Indicatories of this Kingdom might be so regular, that all abuses which had, or might probably creep into the same, be redressed and prevented; and that the best, most summar and equal way, of bringing and calling of Processees for dispensing of Justice, should be settled, as his Subjects might be relieved and secured against oppression and exactions, and that Justice might be administrat to them with expedition, and as little trouble and charge as may be: Did, by a Commission under the Great Seal, of the 21. of September, 1669. Authorize some Noblemen and others of his Privy Council and Session, to consult, settle and set down such Rules and Orders as they should judge necessary for these ends, and to return an account of their proceedings to His Majesty, that He might take such course therein, as in His Royal Wisdom He should think fit. In obedience whereunto, the Commissioners having had several meetings, and consulted on the best and readiest wayes, for the prosecution of His Majesties Royal Intention, for the good and ease of His Subjects, and finding the same to be of such importance, as required a longer time to make a full settlement therein; Yet, in the moneth of March, 1670. they agreed unto, condescended upon, and did return to His Majesty, certain Rules and Articles of Regulation, without prejudice of what, upon furdur consideration, they should thereafter offer for a full settlement. And His Majesty having considered these Rules and Articles, did, by His Royal Allowance of the fourth of June, 1670. Ratifie and Approve the same, and did Ordain them to be duly observed in all time coming. And the Commissioners having since that time, kept several Meerings, and taken that Affair into their furdur consideration, have resolved upon some other Articles, Rules and Amendments; which being joyned with the former, and again offered to His Majesties consideration, His Majesty doth, with Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Ratifie and Approve the same, and Ordains them to be recorded in the Books of Parliament, and duly observed by all His Majesties Subjects. Of the which Articles, the Tenor follows.

Concerning the S E S S I O N.

1. SEeing a great part of the trouble and expences of the Lieges, in obtaining of Justice in their Causes, is occasioned through the uncertainty of their attendance, upon Processees depending before the Lords of Session; whereby not knowing any certain time, at or about which their Processees will be called, they are necessitat to wait on the most part of the time of the Session, during the dependence of their Processees, or otherwayes to be absent when the same are discussed. That therefore, all Processees shall be discussed and determined as the Parties are in readines, and do call for Justice after the same have been seen by the Defenders Advocats, and are returned by them; And that according to the date of the Returns which are set down, and signed by the Defenders Advocat upon the Process it self, that no Parties be preferred in obtaining Justice to any other who was ready, and calling for it before. And that Books of Enrollment be made for entolling the said Processees, according to the dates of the Returns; that thereby notice may be timeously given to all Parties having Interest in the Process, how far the Lords of Session are advanced, in discussing and determining Processees according to the saids Rolls, that the Parties may be present when their Processees will fall in to be discuss'd and determined, in their course as they stand in the Rolls; and may in the mean time rest quiet and secure, that their Rights and Interests will not be decided when they cannot know to be present, which cannot be attained, unlesse all privileges whereby any Cause can be called, otherwife then according to its due course in the saids Rolls, be laid aside; Excepting only the Causes belonging properly to the Kings Majesty (and not to Donators or others) which may be called at any time when His Majesties Advocat please, upon either of the two next Sederunt-dayes after the Processe is returned; or if the same be not called on either of the saids two dayes, at any time thereafter, upon fifteen dayes advertisement to the Delenders Advocats, that they may acquaint their Clients to be present.

2. That the Books of Enrollment for the Outer-houfe be kept and made up by the person appointed, or to be appointed by the Lords of Session, who shall attend at the Session-houfe each Sarurday in Session-time, from two a clock in the afternoon, till four, and shall take up a Note of all Processees shown to him, containing the names and designations of the Pursuers and Defenders, and the name of the Cause, whether it be Advocation, Suspension, Declarator, Reduction, or any other having a special name; or otherwife under the name of Lybell'd Summonds, and contain the date of the return, signed by the Defenders Advocats upon the Process; and by the said Note, shall insert in the Books all that is produced that day, in manner following, viz.
in one in one Book Suspensions, Advocations, Removings, Ejections and Recent-spulzies: And in the other Book, all other Causes, according to the dates of the Returns; expressing in the Books, the day of the month of the uptaking, before the Causes taken up that day, and also expressing the day of the month of the return, before the Causes returned each day, and shall interline nor infer no Cause in the said Books, but set them down in order as they were presented, according to the date of their returns; and shall receive for inserting of the said Causes in the Books; and for affixing Rolls upon the Wall conform to the said Books, for every Process four shillings Scots, and no more, although the said Process should continue to be Enrolled several weeks, until the Ordinary have called and heard the same; which Books of Enrollment shall always remain in the Session-house, and be patent to the Lieges, that thence Advertisements may be given to all parties having interest; and for shewing whereof, the Keeper of the Books shall exact or take no money or gratification.

3. That the Keeper of the Books of Enrollment for the Outer-house, take out of these Books, and affix each Monday upon the ordinary place of the Wall of the Outer-house, two Rolls, one containing Suspensions, Advocations, Removings, Ejections and Recent-spulzies, to be called upon Tuesday and Wednesday; And the other Roll containing the Causes insert in the other Book of Enrollment, to be called upon the rest of the dayes of the week; which Rolls are to be taken up in all things conform to the said Books of Enrollment, expressing the day of up-taking; and that the day of the month of the several Returns, be set before the Processes insert each day, and each subsequent weeks Roll shall, in the first place, contain what remained undiscuss'd by an Act, Decree, or Protestation, or not delet by the Ordinary, upon the Pursuers not insisting. And where Processes are delayed to a day, till the Parties see, or something be produced or done, which requires not an extracted Act, the same shall remain in all subsequent Rolls, in the same day that it was in the first Roll, that after the day to which it was delayed, it may be called by the Ordinary till it be discuss'd or delet: And for that effect, the Ordinary shall on the Margent of the Roll, mark at that Process, to what day it is delayed; which shall remain so marked in the subsequent Rolls, till the Cause be discuss'd. And in case the Ordinary shall discuss the Roll of the Causes above-exprest, appointed to be called upon Tuesday or Wednesday before these two dayes expire; he is to proceed to the discussing of the Causes in the other Roll.

4. That the Keeper of the said Books of Enrollment for the Outer-house, do exactly and punctually observe the Rules and Orders aforesaid, and that the person who shall hereafter be appointed Keeper of the saids Books, give his oath for that effect, (the present Keeper of these Books having already made faith to that purpose) and if he transgress the saids Rules, the Lords shall deprive him of his Office, and otherwayes punish him as they see cause, and appoint another in his place, who, and his Successors; shall always be lyable for observing the ptemisses.

5. That in like manner there be a Book of Enrollment of Processes to be discuss'd in the Inner-house, containing Causes proper for the Inner-house; as the discussing of reasons of Reduction of Heretable Rights of Lands, or Annual-rents, Declarators of Rights thereof, Probations of Tenors of Writs destroyed or lost, Cessiones bonorum, which Book shall be kept by a person appointed, or to be appointed by the Lord Chancellor, who shall insert the saids Processes as they are in readines to be discuss'd in the Inner-house, viz. Reductions after the Production is closed, and Declarators; Tenors and Cessiones bonorum, after the Dilators are discuss'd in the Outer-house, and a great avisandum made by the Ordinary in the Outer-house, who is to proceed no further therein; and that according to the date of that great avisandum, as it stands written upon the Process by the Clerk of the Process: And where the Lords, upon report of Dispute from the Outer-house made by the Ordinary, shall for the importance, intricacy, or preparative of the points reported, ordain the Cause to be heard in presence of the whole Lords, the said Process shall be insert in the Roll of the Inner-house; according to the date of the Lords deliverance, appointing it to be heard in their presence:

6. That there be a Book of Enrollment of concluded Causes, whereof the probation is to be advised by the Lords, to be insert according to the date of the conclusion of the Cause, as the same shall be presented by the Clerks of the Process, to be kept by the Keeper of the said Book of Enrollment for the Inner-house.

7. That the Keeper of the saids Books of Enrollment for the Inner-house, shall attend in the Session-house each Saturday from two to three a clock in the afternoon, and shall receive and insert all Processes which shall be offered to him in either of the saids Books, according to the order foresaid; and shall receive thirty shillings Scots for each Process to be insert in the Book of Causes to be discuss'd, and twelve shillings for each Cause to be insert in the Book of concluded Causes, and shall exact or take no more for himself or his servants; and shall make the saids Books patent to all the Lieges freely, and shall affix a Roll both of Processes to be discuss'd in the Inner-house, and of concluded Causes, in all things conform to the Books, upon Monday, als oft as need beis; and shall add to the Causes in the said Roll for subsequent weeks, in the same manner as is appointed for the Rolls of the Outer-house, and both in the Books and Rolls shall express the day of up-taking the Process, and the day of the great avisandum or Ordinance of the Lords for hearing the Cause in their presence, subjoyning thereto the Causes each day, both in the Books and Rolls of Causes to be discuss'd, and the like for the Book and Roll of concluded Causes; according to the date of the conclusion of the Cause.

8. That the keeper of the saids Books of Enrolment for the Inner-house observe the premisses punctually, under the pain of deprivation, and being further censured by the Lords, as they shall see cause: And that his Successors shall make faith to observe the premisses in all points; the present Keeper of these Books having already given his oath to that effect.

9. That the Lords both in the Inner-house and Outer-house shall proceed to the discussing of Processes, in order as they stand in the said Rolls respectively, without passing over, or anticipating any Cause; and that each Process shall be still called in its order, untill it be brought to an Act, Protestation, or Decree; and if it be delayed till something be produced or done which requires not an Act extracted, that after the day to which it is delayed, the same shall be call'd till it be discuss'd.

10. And where at the calling of any Cause in the Inner or Outer-house, the Pursuer insists not, the Process shall be delet out of the Roll, and Protestation shall be granted to the Defender, without any other solemnity, but the demanding thereof at the calling of the Cause, whereby the Defender shall not be obliged to answer untill he be summoned of new, and the Protestation money paid, that he be not obliged to an uncertain attendance at the Pursuers pleasure. And in case at the calling of any Process in the Outer-house, any Parties Advocate be in the Inner-house, the Ordinary shall call the Cause the next day thereafter, if he be desired upon a Ticket to be given to him before he go to the Bench; but that no Advocate make interruption by calling otherways over the Bar.

11. That the Lords by no importunity alter the order of the saids Rolls by any Deliverance or Warrant, except it be for discussing reasons of Reduction of small difficulty and importance in the Outer-house, before they be Enrolled in the Inner-house, which shall be Enrolled in the Roll of the Outer-house, according as they shall be presented to the Keeper of the Roll, in the same manner as other Processes.

12. That if any Cause be called by anticipation, out of its due place, the Pursuers Advocate may refuse to insist, or the Defenders Advocate to answer, and it shall be a sufficient defence that he is not obliged to answer before its due course in the Roll: And although neither parties Advocate should object, seeing others who were anterior in the Roll are prejudged, the Clerks are prohibit to write on any such Process called out of its own course, or to extract any Act or Decree thereupon.

13. That the Lords of Session every Session, go near the discussing of all Causes enrolled that Session; and that as they see their work by the Books of Enrollment, they meet the sooner in the morning, and also meet in the afternoon for taking in Reports from the Outer-house, which requires not the attendance of Advocats, and which consumes much of the time both in the Inner and Outer-house in the forenoon; and also for advising of concluded Causes, which of all other should be least delayed.

14. That if any Act, Decree or Protestation be stopped, either by the Ordinary or by the whole Lords, the same shall be called and heard upon the Bench in the Outer-house, by the Ordinar who formerly heard the Cause, either the next day, or upon Tuesday in the ensuing week, or any other morning thereafter, before the Ordinary in the Outer-house come out; and that he proceed in the Processes untill the same be discuss'd, delet, or Protestation ganted in manner foresaid, and that the same shall not be again brought into the Roll.

15. That no Bill be presented to the Lords for stopping or rectifying any Act or Decree past in the Outer-house, untill the party first make application to the Ordinary who heard and pronounced the same; and if he refuse to hear the Party upon any new matter condescended on, or in case of doubtfulness, to report at least upon consignation of an Amaund: In that case, the Party may give in a Bill to the Lords, expressing his application to the Ordinar, and his refusal to hear or report, as said is, and expressing the special matter which he desireth in the Process, and no otherways.

16. To the effect, the Lords of Session may be in better capacity to discuss the Processes which come before them, not being overburdened with small and inconsiderable Causes, That all Causes, not exceeding the value of two hundred Marks Scots, be in the first instance carried on before the inferior Judges; And that no Summons be raised upon Bill, or otherways for Causes of less importance, for which the Clerk of the Bills and Writers to the Signet are to be answerable at their peril; except there be such reasons condescended on in the Bill, as would be sufficient to procure an Advocation of the Cause from the inferior Judge, in behalf of a Defender, and competent Instructions thereof; And that such Bills do not pass of course, but be specially presented and read to the Ordinary, and that the deliverance on the back thereof bear, Because the Lords have found sufficient ground, for which the Cause ought not in the first instance to be pursued before the inferior Judge Ordinar, but before the Lords: Excepting also, the Causes belonging to the Members of the Colledge of Justice, and except Sums due to Merchants, Cooks, Vintners and others in Burgh, for Furniture taken off from them, by such as dwell not within the Shire where the Furniture was taken off.

17. That where Causes are begun before inferior Courts, no Advocation thereof shall be past, being of no greater importance then as aforesaid, otherways then is provided by the Act of Parliament; And that the Clerk of the Bills be answerable therefore, not to present, pass or write on any such Bill at his peril.

18. That where Decrees are past before inferior Courts, and craved to be suspended; if the reasons proceed not on iniquity, but upon alledgeance, that the Decree was in absence, so that the craver of the Suspension hath never appeared, or hath not continued to defend while there was no in-justice done: Then and and in that case, he shall be obliged at the passing of the Bill of Suspension, to consign in the hands of the Clerk of the Bills, such sums for the expences of the party, as the passer of the Bill shall appoint, according to the importance of the Cause and the distance of the party, which shall be given up to the Charger, if the Suspenders hath not compared, or continued to defend before the inferior Court, as said is; and that immediately at the calling of the Cause to be discuss'd, when the compearance in the Decreet may appear, unless the Suspenders improve the Executions of the Summons whereupon the Decreet did proceed.

19. That Decreets, in foro contradictorio, before the Lords of Session be not again suspended, upon reasons competent to have been proponed, or which were repelled in the former Decreet. And to the effect it may be known, with the least expence, what Decreets are in foro, That the Keeper of the Minute-book make up a Book of the Decreets in foro, according as the same shall each day be given in to him by the Clerks, expressing the names of all the Defenders for whom there is compearance; And that the Clerk of the Bills from time to time, call for and receive a double of the said Minute-book of Decreets in foro; And when any Bill of Suspension is to be presented by him, that at his peril he write on no Suspension of any Decreet in foro, contained in the said Book, untill it be presented to the whole Lords in time of Session, and to three met together in time of Vacance, the deliverance bearing, that they were met together: And where there is once compearance for any Party, and Defences proponed, the Decreet shall be holden as done in foro, and all the Dispute proponed by the Advocats shall be insert therein, albeit the Advocat thereafter past from his compearance; And that the first Protestation shall not be suspended, but upon consignment of thirty pounds, and the Suspension thereof shall bear that it is the second Suspension; and so forth, all the Suspensions that shall be obtained thereafter, shall bear that the same is the third or fourth Suspension; and that no Suspension shall pass of the second protestation, but in presence of the whole Lords in time of Session, and by three of the Lords met together in time of Vacance, the deliverance bearing as aforesaid: And that the Clerk of the Bills write upon no Bill of Suspension otherways, as he will be answerable at his peril, and that the second and posterior Protestations shall be insert in the said Book, with the saids Decreets in foro.

20. That where Processess are kept up unreturned by the Defenders Advocat longer then six dayes after the out-giving thereof, which is the time allowed for seeing of Processess; that upon complaint given unto the Lords thereanent, the Ordinary upon the Bills call the Advocat who keeps up the Processess, and fine him in three pounds Scots for ilk day he hath kept the same, from the time that the Processess was required from the Advocat, or his principal servant, personally at the Advocats Chamber, by way of Instrument under a Nottars hand, unto the day that the complaint was given in, and six pounds for every day that the Processess shall be detained by him, after in-giving of the complaint: And that one of the Maceers be ordered to exact the fine, under the pain of deprivation; And to that effect, that he be warrantred to exclude the Advocat out of the House, and not to suffer him to enter the Outer-bar, untill he make payment, and that he return the money so exacted, to the Ordinary upon the Bills, whereof the one half is to be put in the povers Box, and the other half to be payed to the party Pursuer, if he desire the same, otherwise that the whole be put in the Box.

21. But when there are moe Defenders then one called in a Processess, and severall Advocats compearing for them, that the Advocat who taketh up the Processess to see for the party principally concerned, in whose house the same is appointed to be seen, shall be allowed only four dayes for seeing the Processess; and in case he do not return the same within that time, that he incur the penalties contained in the former Article: And that after the Processess shall be returned, the same shall remain in the Clerks hands six dayes before it be called, during which time, any Advocat compearing for any other of the Defenders, may see the Processess in the Clerks hands, and write thereupon for whom he compears, and subscribe the same, and may also borrow the same up from the Clerk, for the space of twenty four hours, upon his receipt and consignment of an Amaund, according to the importance of the Cause; and in case he do not reproduce the Processess within the said space of twenty four hours, upon complaint made thereof, he is to lose the Amaund, and pay six pounds for ilk day he keeps the Processess after the said space of twenty four hours, and the like execution to be used therefore, as in the former case of the Defenders Advocats not returning Processess, given out to them by the Pursuers Advocats. And Likewise, if any Advocat during the said space of six dayes, be desirous to see the Processess for any other party having interest, who was not called in the Processess, that upon production of the parties interest in the Clerks hands, he be allowed to see in manner aforesaid, he alwayes consigning and subscribing for whom he compears: And in case of failzie to reproduce, being lyeable as said is, and that the Advocat shall not be heard when the Cause is called, if he hath neglected to see in manner aforesaid, whither he be compearing for any party called in the Processess, or compearing for his interest.

22. In respect it is a great obstruction to the dispatch of Processess, that when Causes are called, Defences sometimes are proponed upon Writs, which being neither produced nor seen by the pursuers Advocats, all that is ordinarily done, is to ordain the Writs to be produced; therefore, where ever the Defenders Advocat is to found any Defence upon Writs, that at the returning of the Processess, he also produce therewith the Writs, whereupon he intends to found any alledgeance, and give in the Defence which he founds upon these Writs, and mark the particular clauses of the Writ whereupon he founds, otherwise no respect is to be had to the al-ledgeant to be founded on these Writs, which were in any of the Defenders Advocats hands, or which, or any copy thereof were seen by the saids Advocats, which the pursuers Advocats shall be obliged to return within four dayes after they receive the same; otherwise, complaint may be made against them, as against Defenders Advocats for keeping up of Proceses. And in case any other Writs come to their hands, after the returning of the Proces upon which they will found, that in like manner they produce the same to the Pursuers Advocats, before calling of the Cause, under the same certification.

23. That the Suspender at the out-giving of the Suspension, produce therewith all his Verifications, and that at the calling of the Cause, if he have kept up the Verifications, and offer then to produce the same, that the Ordinary shall give Decreet, because the reasons are not verified conditionally; That if with the Verifications, the Suspender produce in the Clerks hands twelve pounds Scots, two parts thereof to be payed to the Charger, and the third part to the Poor, the same shall be received, and the parties heard thereupon, without enrolling of new; and therefore the Ordinary shall mark upon the Cause, Decreet conditional, to such a day: and if betwixt and the said day, obedience be not given, the Decreet is to be extracted.

24. That the Suspenders Advocat be not allowed to propone any new reasons of Suspension at the Bar, which was neither lybelled nor contained in the eiked Reasons of Suspension given out to, and seen by, the Chargers Advocats, unlesse therewith they consign in manner foresaid.

25. That because Proceses are very much lengthned, by the long running of ordinary and incident diligence and terms for production in Reductions and Improbations; For remeid whereof in time coming, there shall only be two diligences against Witnesses, one by Horning, and another by Caption; and there shall be no incident Diligence sustained upon Acts, but where the same is craved and allowed at the pronouncing of the Act, and expressed therein, which shall proceed against the alledged havers of the Writs, first by Horning, charging them to compare and produce upon oath, and next by Caption, in case they do not compare and depone; and that there be only one term for production in single Reductions, and two in Improbations: And that the Clerks insert no Reservations in Acts for Production, but that all exceptions competent before production, be discussed before assigning of terms.

26. That no more Advocats be employed or marked in any Cause for a Party, but only three in the Inner-house, and three in the Outer-house at most; and that only two be allowed in the Inner-house, to speak one after another upon one side, before the other Party make an answer; And that the Lord Chancellor or President keep the Advocats close to the point, and that no Advocat be allowed to speak above half an hour together at most, at one time.

27. That the Allowance of Advocats in time coming, be regulate according to the quality of the persons who employes them, in manner following, viz. that for every Consultation, Pleading thereupon, and drawing Bills upon any Interloquitor thereanent altogether, there be given at most to any Advocat, by Noble-men eighteen pounds, by Knights and Barrons fifteen pounds, by Gentle-men and chief Burgeses twelve pounds, and by all the rest of the people nine pounds: And that nothing be allowed for drawing Informations to be given to the Lords after Dispute, but to one Advocat only, and that the Allowance therefore be only the half of what is allowed for the Consultation.

28. That the parties Pursuer and Defender do give in with the Proces, a Declaration under their hands, bearing, That as they shall answer to God, they have not given, nor shall give any more to any Advocat employed by them in that Proces, for every Consultation comprehending as aforesaid: then the foresaid Allowance; which Declaration is to be given in by the Defender at the return of the Proces, and by the Pursuer before the Proces be called. And in case of the Clients Minority, his Tutors or Curators, and in case of his absence, or that he hath employed another to disburse the money for him, the person so employed shall give in the foresaid Declaration upon Oath, which shall bear, That he being the only person employed to disburse money to Advocats in that Proces, he hath not given, nor shall give any more then as aforesaid. And in regard these who are already admitted Advocats have given their oaths, that they shall always observe the saids Rates, that no Advocat be admitted hereafter till they give that Oath.

29. And because by the Act of Parliament, one thousand, six hundred and twenty one, the rates of Writs are ordered conform to an Act of the Lords of Privy Council and Lords of Session, in anno, one thousand, six hundred, and six, the effect whereof hath been frustrate, because nothing thereby is provided to Clerks Servants: And in respect the rates of all things are much encreased since that time; Therefore, that the rates of the Clerks of Session be as followeth, viz. For Acts, Decreets, Protestations and Diligences, there shall be only payed to the Clerk and his Servants, three pounds Scots for each sheet, written in the same manner as they are now accustomed, conforme to a Pattern signed by this Commission, and kept by the Lords of Session, excepting Decreets of Transumpt, Transferring, and of Registration by way of Action, and Commissions wherein there is no dispute, for which there shall be payed three pounds Scots only for the first sheet, and twenty shillings Scots for ilk one of the rest of the sheets. And as to other Writs passing that Office, the same rates be observed which are contained in the said Act of Parliament; And that the Clerks or their Servants take no money for production of Writs, or giving up of the same again, minuting of Disputes, or booking of Acts and Decreets, all which shall be payed by the saids Extracts, but that there be allowed to them two merks for taking a Parties Oath; and one merk for every Witnesses deposition, and thirty shillings Scots for calling of every Act in presence of the Ordinary. And that the Clerks or their Servants do not mark upon any Process, Calling, or Compareance, or the calling of any Act, but what was publicly done by a Macer, that the Advocats may have timous notice to falsifie the conclusion of Acts. And that no Decretes be pronounced conditionally, but simply, according to the Act to be extracted twenty four hours after the same is read in the Minute-book; and that every Sederunt day, the Minute-book be read out fully, that the Lieges be not delayed or necessitate to attend. And that the Clients shall in the same manner, as in relation to Advocats allowance, give their Oaths that they have kepted, and shall keep the saids Rates, which shall be contained in a Paper, with their Declaration in relation to Advocats. And seeing the present Clerks and their Servants have given their Oaths, that they shall alwayes observe the saids Rules and Rates, that no Clerk be admitted hereafter, till he give that Oath; excepting Acts and Decretes of contentions dispute in presence of the Lords, which are to be at the discretion of the Party, conform to the Act of Parliament. And in regard diverse Processes after dispute and Interloquitors pronounced therein, either in presentia, or in the Outer-house, are transacted and settled by the Parties, so that the Processes come not the length of a Decreet, or if Decreet be pronounced, the same is not extracted: And it being just and reasonable, that the Clerks should have allowance for the pains taken by them in these Processess; therefore, that the Clerks in these cases be allowed to take from their Clients, satisfaction as if Decretes were extracted, according to the sheets of the Act of Litis contestation, or other Act in the Process; or if their be no Act, according to the sheets of the Summons, Suspension or Advocation; and if the Cause was dispute in the Inner-house, according to the sheets the Minutes of the Processess would amount to, if the same were extended into an Act or Decreet.

30. And anent the Clerks of the Bills and his Servants, that the Rates in the said Act of Parliament, one thousand, six hundred, and twenty one, be in all points observed, with this alteration, That whereas that which is allowed by the said Act for the Acts of Caution, with the relief which comprehends the Bills of Suspension, is too low for the Clerk and his Servants, That there be allowed to the said Clerk and his Servants therefore, three pounds and a merk Scots and no more; And seeing the present Clerk of the Bills and his Servants, have made faith that they shall observe the saids Rates, that any Clerk of the Bills who shall be admitted hereafter, shall at his admission give that Oath, and likewise his Servants: And in case there be moe persons contained in the saids Bills of Suspension then one, that every such person, except the chief person, shall pay six shillings eight pennies, untill they come the length of ten persons, and no allowance is to be granted to any exceeding that number, nor for a Community more then the said number of ten: And for Relaxationes, six shillings eight pennies for every person more then one, untill they come to the number of ten persons, and no more to be taken for any greater number or Community, which dues shall be payed at the first in-giving of the Bill of Suspension, and shall be retained by the Clerk, whether the Bill be past or not, and no more to be given for that Bill, or for any new Bill which shall be given in, in that matter. And as for the allowance of Comprisings, that the rate thereof be fourty shillings Scots, where the sums contained in the Comprisings (by and attour the Sheriff-fee) do not exceed two thousand pounds Scots; And if the sums comprised for be above two thousand pounds, that there be payed four pounds Scots; and that this be in satisfaction of all that is to be given in that Office, both for Master and Servants.

31. In respect several persons, being neither Advocats, nor Advocats Servants, do take upon them, under the name of Agents, to meddle and negotiate in Processess, who are found to be of no use, but burdensome to the Lieges; That hereafter all the Agents be debated the House, and not permitted to negotiate, or mannage Processess; and recommends to the Lords of Session to see the same punctually observed.

32. That the Keepers of the General Registers of Hornings and Inhibitions, and of Seafings and Reversions; As also, the Keepers of these Registers in the several Shires, in time coming, be careful to book all Hornings, Inhibitions, Interdictions, Seafings, Reversions, and others registrat by them; And that they make exact Minute-books relating to these Registers, these of Hornings, Inhibitions, and Interdictions; containing the names, Surnames and Designations of the Parties, Principal and Cautioners; And these of Seafings, Reversions and others appointed by the Act of Parliament to be Registrat in that Register, containing the Names and Designations of the Parties, and the common Designation of the Lordship, Barrony or Tennendry of the several Lands mentioned in the Writ; And that the Clerk of Register, or any whom he shall appoint, every quarter of the year, compare the Minute-book with the general Registers, and subscribe the Minute-books at the collationing of the same; And in the several Shires, that the Sheriff, Bailiff of the Regality or Royalty, or their Deputies (with whom, any two of the Justices of Peace to be nominate by the whole Meeting, are allowed to be present) be appointed quarterly, viz. upon the first Tuesdays of February, May, August and November, to call for, and take inspection of, the saids Registers, and of the Minute-books relating thereto; and after collationing of the same, that they with the saids two Justices of Peace, if they be present, subscribe the Minute-book: Certifying the saids Sheriffs and Bailiffs, if they do not meet and compare the saids Registers at the several times above-specified, They shall be lyaible in the penalty of One Hundred pounds Scots for ilk failzie; and Certifying the Clerks, if they shall not have the Books in readinesse at the aforesaid times, or if any Hornings, Inhibitions

Seafings,

*Reg. of Hon.

Seafings, Reverfions, and others forefaids then in their hands, fhall not be regiftrat in the Books, they fhall incur the pain of deprivation, and be lyable in payment of the parties damage: And that the Clerks, keepers of the faids Regifters; book all Hornings, Inhibitions, Interdictions, Seafings, Reverfions, and others which now are in their hands, for the fpace of forty years by-gone, and have exact Minute-books relating thereto, in manner forefaid, within the fpace following, viz. The keepers of the general Regifters betwixt and the firft of June, 1674. and the Keepers of the particular Regifters in the feveral Shires, betwixt and the firft of June, 1673. And that all Hornings and Inhibitions, regiftrat in the Shires, be marked by the Keepers thereof, conform to the 21. Act of the Parliament, 1600. under the pains aforefaid; And that in the interim, betwixt the collationing of the Books, the Clerks fhall be obliged to keep a private Minute-book for their own ufe, wherein they are to infer a Note of all Hornings, Inhibitions, Interdictions, Seafings and Reverfions, as they are given in to be regiftrat: And in cafe any be omitted out of that Minute-book, they fhall incur the pain of deprivation, and be lyable to pay the parties damage. Whilk Minute-books refpective forefaids, as well for the fpace of forty years by-gone, as in time coming, the Clerk fhall be obliged to make patent to all His Majesties Lieges, whensoever they fhall defire to fee the fame, upon payment of the ducs following, viz. Thirty fhillings Scots for infpection of the minute-book of the general Register of Seafings and Reverfions, and twenty fhillings Scots for that of the general Register of Inhibitions; and for that of the general Register of Hornings, twelve fhillings Scots; And for infpection of the Minute-book of the particular Register of Seafings and Reverfions in the feveral Shires, twelve fhillings Scots; And for that of Hornings and Inhibitions, fix fhillings and eight pennies Scots money. And it is hereby Declared, that the care of feeing the premiffes done and performed, after the expiring of this Commiffion, is committed to the Lords of Session.

33. As for Writers to the Signet, it is Ordained, that the rates of all Writs to be formed and written by them, be as followeth, viz. For Bonds, Affignations, Translations, Discharges, Tacks and other Writs of that nature, and likeways for Summons and all Letters that pafs the Signet, there be allowed only eighteen fhillings Scots for the firft sheet, and twelve fhillings Scots for ilk an of the reft of the sheets; Excepting Supenfions and Advocations, for the firft sheet whereof they fhall have forty fhillings Scots, and two Merks Scots for ilk sheet more: And where Summons are blank in any part thereof, that the fame be only payed for, according to the sheets which are written and filled up. And as for Contracts, Dispositions, and other securities of Lands, Annual-rents or other heretable Rights, Chartors, Signatoures, Precepts in Latine, and other Writs of that nature, and likewise for Comprifings and Services, there fhall be only payed three pounds Scots for the firft sheet thereof, and thirty fhillings Scots for each of the reft of the sheets, the fame being alwayes written, conform to a pattern to be figned by the Lords of Session; And that no diftinct payment be taken by the Writers, or their Servants, for Bills whereupon Summons or Letters are raifed, or for claimes whereupon Services or Comprifings do proceed, or for Scrolls of any of the faids Writs; Which rates or prices aforefaid fhall be in fatisfaction of all that is to be given, both to Mafter and Servants: And where Bonds, Affignations, Translations, Discharges, Contracts, Dispositions, and other securities aforefaid, are drawn or written by any perfons who ufe to write for payment, not being Writers to the Signet, that there be payed to them only two parts of the rates allowed to Writers to the Signet, in manner forefaid. And that all Writers to the Signet, and others refiding within the Town of Edinburgh, who ufe to write for payment, fhall compear before the Lords of Session betwixt and the firft of December next, and give their oaths that they fhall obferve the faid rates; and that thefe who refide in any other place of the Kingdom, fhall betwixt and the faid day, take the forefaid Oath, in prefence of the Sheriff of the Shire or his Depute, or other ordinar Magiftrat of the place; or in cafe they dwell within a Burgh Royal, before the Magiftrats of the Burgh; and the Writers to the Signet and other perfons aforefaid, are hereby difcharged to form or write Writs of any kind, after the faid firft of Decemb. next, unlefs they take the faid Oath, under the pain of deprivation, and fuch other punifhment as the Lords of Session, or the ordinary Magiftrats of the place refpective fhall think fit to inflict. And it is hereby Declared, that it fhall not be lawful to any perfon, to be Clerks to the deducing of Comprifings which are led by Difpenfation within the Town of Edinburgh, or to Services led before the Macers, except they be Writers to the Signet.

Concerning the JUSTICE-COURT.

Seeing Caufes Criminal are of the greateft importance, and may extend to the Lives and Liberties of any of His Majesties Subjects, and their perfons and Fortunes: and feeing the punifhment of Crimes is of the greateft confequence for the fafety and fecurity of his Majesties perfon and Authority, and the Peace and Quietneffe of the Kingdom; and therefore, matters Criminal ought to be determined in the moft folemn, exact and regular way, that the Loyal and Innocent may be in full fecurity, and Offenders may be punifhed either in the moft publick places of the Kingdom, or in the places where the Crimes have been committed, to terrifie others from the like: That whereas formerly affeffors from time to time were appointed to the Justice-General, in matters of importance, which being ambulatory, cannot be fo convenient, as if all the

the Members of that Court were settled and chosen by His Majesty of fit persons, who might make it their work to make a just and constant procedure in Matters Criminal.

1. For that effect, that the Office of Deputes in the Justice-Court be suppress'd, and that five of the Lords of Session be joyned to the Justice-General and Justice-Clerk, and all of them invested with the same and equal Power and Jurisdiction in all Criminal Causes; That the Justice-General being present preside, and in his absence the Justice-Clerk, and in absence of both, that these present elect one of their number to preside, four of the whole number being alwayes the Quorum of that Court, except at the Circuit-Courts.

2. That they be appointed to meet each Monday at nine of the clock in time of Session, and oftner if busynesse so require.

3. That the persons to pass upon Affizes be listed, and their Names and Designations insert in an Roll to be signed by the said Judges or their Quorum.

4. That for the splendour of that Court, all the Judges sit in red Robes faced with white, that of the Justice-Generals being lined with Ermine, for distinction from the rest.

5. That once a year, in the Moneth of April or May, Circuit Courts be kept, two of their number appointed to go and keep Courts at Dumfries and Jedburgh, two at Stirling, Glasgow and Air, and other two at the Towns of Perth, Aberdeen and Inverness; the Justice-General being alwayes super-numerary in any of these Circuit-Courts.

6. That it be left and recommended to the Judges of that Court, to regular the inferior Officers thereof, and order every other thing concerning the said Court.

7. That a convenient Room be appointed for their meetings, Benches for the Judges, a place for the Justice-General, more eminent then the Seats of the other Judges; That the Advocats, Clerk, Assize and Pannels have distinct places appointed to them.

8. That the Clerk of the Court, nor no other person, be present with the Assize after they are inclosed.

9. That the Chancellor of the Assize mark what way every individual person who is upon the Assize shall vote, whether condemning or assailing, and that on the same Paper wherein the Verdict of Assize is written; which after the pronouncing of the Verdict, is to be closed and sealed with the Seals of the Court, of the Chancellour of the Assize, and of so many more of that number, as the Chancellor shall think fit, and never to be opened again, but by order of the Judges: With certification, if the Clerk who shall have the keeping of the said Verdict, do make open the same without warrant, he shall be deprived of his Office, and otherways punished as the Judges shall think fit.

10. That in all Criminal Pursutes, the Defender or his Advocats be alwayes the last speaker, except in cases of Treason and Rebellion against the King.

11. That when any Criminal Libel or Summons of Exculpation are given and execute against any Party, that at the same time, Lists of the Witnesses to be adduced for proving of the said Libel and Summons, and of the persons who are to pass upon the Inquest, be also given to them; to the effect, the Party may know what to object against the said Witnesses and Assizers, and may take forth Diligences for summoning of Witnesses for proving of their objections, why any contained in the saids Lists should not be admitted to be a Witness, or upon the Assize.

Concerning the Exchequer.

THAT there be payed to the Keepers of the Thesaurer Register and his Servants, for registration of Signatures fourty shillings Scots for the first sheet, and twenty shillings Scots for each other sheet of the Signature given in; And that neither he nor his Servants take or exact more, upon any account, or for more sheets then the Signature consisteth of, and that they give their Oaths to that effect.

2. That there be payed to the presenter of Signatures, for each Signature containing an Barrony, or Lands above that value, and which is to pass the Great Seal, six pounds Scots; And if it be of Lands under a Barrony, three pounds: And for all Signatures which are to pass the Privy Seal, only half a Crown. And that he make Faith to observe these Rates.

3. That no Eques be made in the Exchequer, by the Vassals of His Majesties Property, for any Blench or Few-duties which are under the sum of ten pounds Scots; But as to these, that Lists of the Vassals and of the Blench and Few-duties payable by them, be subscribed by the Commissioners of His Majesties Thesaurary, and sent to the Sheriffs of the severall Shires, who, or their Deputes, shall charge the Vassals for payment of these Duties, and shall be countable for them to the Exchequer; And that upon payment by the Vassals of their saids Few and Blench-duties, the Sheriffs or their Deputes shall be obliged to grant to them Discharges thereof; without any money or gratification to be given therefore, either to the Sheriff or his Servants, except a Merk Scots only.

4. That the present way of making the counts of Exchequer in Rolls, be altered, and that the same be made hereafter in Books of Parchment; That Eques be made yearly; And that for all the Lands contained in one Chartor, belonging to one Heretor, there be made but one Eque.

AND further, His Majesty Recommends to the Commissioners aforesaid, that what by the shortnesse of time is not yet determined, as to the Commissary-courts, Sheriff-courts, Town-courts, and all other Cowrts and Judicatories of the Kingdom, may be done with all conveniency, conform to his Majesties Commission granted to them; and that they return their Judgements thereof to His Majesty, that He may give such order therein, as He shall think fit.

XVII.

ACT against keepers of Conventicles, and with-drawers from Publick Worship.

Edinburgh, 4. of September, 1672.

FOrasmuch as the Act past by His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, upon the 13. of August, 1670. against Conventicles, and the other Act past in the same Parliament upon the 20. day of the said moneth of August, 1670. against separation and with-drawing from the publick Meetings of Divine Worship, were appointed to endure only for the space of three years, unless His Majesty should think fit to continue them longer. And his Majesty considering, that these Acts have not hitherto received that obedience which was due unto them, and that the execution thereof hath not been so duely prosecuted, as by the tenor of the same is prescribed, and that therefore, the continuance thereof will be necessary for some longer time; Doth, with advice and consent of his Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, that the two Acts of Parliament above-mentioned, against Conventicles and with-drawing from publick Meetings of Divine Worship, are and shall endure and continue Acts of Parliament and publick Laws of the Kingdom, for the space of three years, after the expiring of these three years above-mentioned, and longer as his Majesty shall be pleased to appoint. Likeas, His Majesty considering, that by the said Act against Conventicles, it is Statute, that no outted Minister, nor licensed by His Majesties Council, nor other person not authorized nor tolerated by the Bishop of the Diocess, presume to preach, expound Scripture, or pray in any Meeting, except in their own houses, and to these of their own Family; And since there may be some questions and doubts, concerning the meaning and extenr of that word Pray, His Majesty doth, with advice foresaid, Declare, That it is not to be understood, as if thereby Prayer in Families were discharged, by the persons of the Family, and such as shall be present; not exceeding the number of four persons, besides these of the Family: It is alwayes Declared, that this Act doth not give allowance to any outted Minister to pray in any Families, except in the Paroches where they be allowed to preach. And further, His Majesty with advice foresaid, doth hereby also Authorize the Magistrates of the Royal-burroughs, to call before them all such of their Burgeses, as shall be guilty of keeping Conventicles, and to proceed against them by fining and other wayes, as is at length exprest in the said Act; and that they make account and report of the fines to the Commissioners of His Majesties Thesaury, and of their diligence to His Majesties Council. And His Majesty considering the slow progress hath been made, in putting these Acts in execution for the time by-gone, Doth therefore, with advice foresaid, Statute and Command, that all Sheriffs, Stewarts, Lords of Regalties and their Deputes, and Magistrates of Burroughs within their respective Jurisdictions, shall from henceforth be careful in putting these Acts to due execution, against keepers of Conventicles; and with-drawers from publick Worship, conform to the power and trust committed to them thereby: And that they return an account of their proceedings to His Majesties Council yearly, on the first Thursday of July, under the pain of five hundred Merks, to be payed by each Sheriff, Stewart, Bailiff and Magistrates of Burgh, for each years failzie, in not giving an account of their diligence as said is.

XVIII.

ACT for establishing Correction-houses for Idle Beggars and Vagabonds.

Edinburgh, 4. of September, 1672.

THe Kings Majesty, considering the many good Laws and Statutes made by himself and his Royal Predecessors, for suppressing of Vagabonds, Beggars and Idle persons, who are a great burden and reproach to the Kingdom, and for the most part, live without all Law or Rule, Sacred or Civil; And that a numerous brood of such persons are dayly increasing, who if they were set to work, and bred to Trades & callings, the people might not only be disburdened of them, but they might, in a short time & upon far less expence, become useful and profitable for the whole Kingdom. And withall considering, that the effect of all these good Laws hath been frustrate, because there hath been no place provided wherein such poor people might be set to work, nor persons appointed to have the charge and oversight of them: For remeid whereof, his Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes, and Ordains, that the Magistrates of the Burghs following, betwixt and the term of Whitfunday next, 1673. provide Correction-houses for receiving and entertaining of the Beggars, Vagabonds and Idle persons within their Burghs, and such as shall be sent to them to them out of the Shires and Bounds after-specified; and that they appoint Masters and Overseers of the same, who may set these poor persons to work; viz. one Correction-house at the Burgh of Edinburgh, for these of the Town and Shire of Edinburgh; one at the Burgh of Haddington, for those of the Shire of Haddington, one at Dunfermline for the Shire of Berwick; one at Jedburgh, for the Shire of Roxburgh; one at the Burgh of Selkirk, for the Shire of Selkirk; one at the Burgh of Peebles, for the Shire of Peebles; one at the Burgh of Glasgow, for the Shire of Lanerk; one at the Burgh of Dumfries, for the Shire of Dumfries; one at the Burgh of Wigtown, for the Shire of Wigtown; one at the Burgh of Kirkcudbright, for the Stewarty of Kirkcudbright; one at the Burgh of Air, for the Shire of Air; one at the Burgh of Dumbarton, for the Shire of Dumbarton; one at the Burgh of Rothesay, for the Shire of Bute; one at Paisly, for the Shire of Renfrew; one at Sterling, for the Shires of Sterling and Clackmannan; one at Linlithgow, for the Shire of Linlithgow; one at Culross, for these twelve Paroches in the Shire of Perth, belonging to the Presbytery of Dumblane; one at the Burgh of Perth, for the rest of the Shire of Perth; one at Montrose, for the Shire of Kincardine; one at the Burgh of Aberdeen, for the Shire thereof; one at Inverness, for the Shires of Inverness, Ross, and Cromarty; one at the Burgh of Elgin, for the Shires of Elgin and Nairn; one at Inverary, for the Shire of Argyll; four in the Shire of Fife, viz. one at St. Andrews, one at Coupar, one at Kirkcaldy, and one at Dunfermline, for the four ordinary Divisions of that Shire; one at Dundee for the Shire of Forfar; one at the Burgh of Banff, for the Shire of Banff; one at the Burgh of Dornoch, for the Shire of Sutherland; one at the Week, for the Shire of Caithness; and one at the Burgh of Kirkwall, for the Shire of Orkney and Zealand; each of which Houses shall have a large Clois, sufficiently inclosed for keeping in the said poor people, that they be not necessitated to be alwayes within doors, to the hurt or hazard of their health. And in case the Magistrats of the said Burghs, or any of them shall not provide and have in readiness, the saids Correction-houses betwixt and the said term of Whitsunday next, they shall incur the pain and penalty of five hundred Merks Scots money, and that quarterly, untill the Correction-houses be provided: Which penalties shall be payed to the Commissioners of Excise, in the respective Shires or Bounds from which the saids poor persons shall be sent, to the saids Correction-houses: And the saids Commissioners are hereby warranted to raise Letters of Horning, and use other execution at their instance, against the Magistrats of the saids Burghs for payment of the penalties that shall be incurred by them, in manner foresaid; which penalties shall be applied by the saids Commissioners, for building or buying of houses to the effect foresaid: And in the mean time, untill the saids houses be provided, the Magistrats of the said Burghs are required to dispose of these Beggars and poor People, who were either born within their respective Burghs, or have haunted therein the last three years, in some convenient places, so as they may not go begging on the Streets, or at houses within the Town. And for the better enabling of the saids Burghs, to bear the charges and expences of the saids Correction-houses, His Majesty, with consent of the saids Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, that the Contributions and Allowances for maintaining of the Poor, appointed by the fifteenth Act of the third Session of His Majesties first Parliament, intituled, Act concerning Beggars and Vagabonds, be applied for the use of the saids Correction-houses, whereby they shall have two shillings Scots for ilk poor person per diem that shall be sent to them, and entertained and bred by them, for the first year; and twelve pennies Scots per diem, for the space of three years thereafter, during which they shall entertain and educate them, together with the profit arising from the labour and work of the saids poor persons, for seven years thereafter: Which Contributions are to be payed by the Paroches relieved of the said Poor, in manner contained in the said Act. And to the effect it may be known, what poor persons are to be sent to the said Correction-houses, and who are to be kept and entertained by the Contributions at the Paroch-kirks for the Poor, the Ministers of ilk Paroch, with some of the Elders, and in case of Vacancy of the Kirks, three or more of the Elders are hereby ordered to take up an exact List of all the poor persons within their Paroches, by Name and Sir-name, condescending upon their age and condition, if they be able or unable to work, by reason of age, infirmity or disease, and where they were born, and in what Paroches they have most haunted during the last three years, preceeding the upraising of these Lists; intimation being alwayes made to the whole Heretors of the Paroch to be present, and to see the Lists right taken up; and that the Heretors who, and the possessors of their Land, are to bear the burden of the maintenance of the poor persons of each Paroch, or any of them who shall meet with the saids Ministers and Elders, shall condescend upon such as through age and infirmity, are not able to work, and appoint them places wherein to abide, that they may be supplied by the Contributions at the Paroch-kirk: And if the same be not sufficient to entertain them, that they give them a Badge or Ticket to ask almes at the dwelling-houses of the Inhabitants of their own Paroch only, without the bounds whereof, they are not to beg; and that they do not at all resort to Kirks, Mercats, or any other places where there are meetings at Marriages, Baptismes, Burials, or upon any other publick occasion: And likewise, that such of the saids poor persons as are of age and capacity to work, be first offered to the Heretors or Inhabitants of each Paroch, that if they will accept any of them to become their Apprentices or Servants, they may receive them upon their obligement to entertain and set to work the saids poor persons, and to relieve the Paroch of them; For which cause, they shall have the benefit of their work untill they attain the age of thirty years, conform to the tenth Act of the twenty two Parliament of King James the sixth, and that the rest of the saids poor persons be sent to the Correction-houses, for whose entertainmēt, the saids Heretors shall cause collect the saids Contributions, and appoint a quarters allowance to be sent along with them, with Cloathes upon them; to cover their nakedness, and the said allowance to be payed quarterly thereafter, by way of advance. With power also to the saids Commissioners of Excise in each Shire, quarterly to take an account of the diligence of these of each Paroch in performing of the premises: And in case of their neglect, to appoint other persons to make the saids Lists, and Collectors to uplift the saids Allowances, and to bring them to Correction-houses. And the Sheriffs their Officers, and Mayers and Constables are hereby required to concur and be assisting to the carrying and delivering of the saids poor persons to the Correction-houses. And in case any Heretors shall find within their bounds, any other Vagabonds, Beggars or Idle persons, not being in service, nor having any visible way or flock to entertain themselves, who were not born, nor did haunt formerly within their bounds; they are hereby impowered to seize upon such persons, and to send them to the Correction-houses; and to charge the Magistrats or Masters of the saids houses to receive them, without advance of any allowance: With power notwithstanding to the saids Magistrats or Masters, to charge the Heretors of the Paroches where these idle persons were born, or have most haunted the last three years, for the allowance of such of them as are not bred to work; And as to such of them as can work, the Masters shall have the benefit of their work for their meat. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth impower and require the Masters of the Correction-houses to put and hold the saids poor people to work, as they shall see them most capable and fit; And in case of their disobedience, to use all manner of severity and correction, by whiping or otherwayes, (excepting torture), and to detain them within the said Correction-house and Clois thereof; with this provision, that in case any of the saids poor persons being received, shall be suffered to escape to burthen the Countrey of new, that the Magistrats shall be charged to recover and receive them again, without any allowance thereafter, during the said space of four years, under the pain of forty pounds Scots for each person so escaping: With power also to them, to receive disobedient servants, and to put them to work, and to correct them according to their demerits. Likeas His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Ordains Letters of Horning and other execution to pass hereupon, at the instance of these who shall send the poor in manner foresaid, against the Magistrats of Burghs for receiving the poor sent to them, with the quarters allowance foresaid: And likewise, Letters of Horning to be direct at the instance of the Masters of the saids Correction-houses, against these lyable in payment of the said allowance for the poor, conform to the said Act of Parliament, and that quarterly in manner foresaid; and at the instance of the Collectors, to be named by the Heretors or Commissioners of Excise, against the Heretors and Inhabitants of the saids Paroches, conform to the said Act of Parliament. It is alwayes hereby provided, that it shall be lawful to Coal-masters, Salt-masters, and others who have Manufactories in this Kingdom, to seize upon any Vagabonds or Beggars, where ever they can find them, and to put them to work in their Coal-heughs or other Manufactories, who are to have the same power of correcting them, and the benefit of their work, as the Masters of the Correction-houses. And further, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, recommends and commits the execution of this present Act to His Privy Council, with power to them to appoint all means and wayes for making the same effectual; To whom the Commissioners of excise in the severall Shires, are hereby Required to return an account of their diligence in the premises, by some of their number the second Council day in November, and the second Council day in June yearly, under the pain of Forty pounds Scots for every Commissioner of Excise, who shall be deficient in doing his part of the premises.

ACT Concerning Adjudications.Edinburgh, 6. of September, 1672.

THe Kings Majesty, considering how far Comprisings have deborded from the first design of the Legislators, who did never intend that opulent and great Estates should be carried away for considerable sums, nor that Messengers or ignorant persons should be Judges in matters of so great importance; And considering the great prejudice ensuing to Trade & Commerce, by the length of the legal Reversion formerly granted, the Creditor not being able to command his money, and both Debitor and Creditor neglecting to use any policy & improvement of the Lands during the running of the legal Reversion; And that after expiring thereof, Comprisings have become the foundation of much fraud; the right thereof being sometimes acquired by the appearand Heirs of the Debitor, who thereby secluded the lawful Creditors: And that by the ignorance of Nottars and Messengers, and many unnecessar solemnities, oftimes Nullities have happened in Comprisings, and the same have alwayes been most expensive by heaping of penalties and Sheriff-fees. And His Majesty, being desirous to secure equally the interest of Debtors and Creditors, Doth, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, that in place of Comprisings, the Lords of Session, upon Processess raised before them at the instance of any Creditor against his Debitor, Principal or Cautioner, shall Adjudge and Decern to the Creditor in satisfaction of his Debt, as the same shall be decreed by the saids Lords, such a part of the Debtors Estate, consisting in Lands and other Rights which were in use to be appraised, as shall be worth the sum principal and Annual-rent then rest- and to the Creditor, and a fifth part more, in respect the Creditor wants the use of his money, and is necessitat- to take Land for the same, besides and attour the composition to the Superior, and expences of the Infestment; Which Adjudication shall be made, according to the several rates of the Lands and other Rights in the places where the same do ly; And for that effect, Probation shall be taken by the saids Lords for the part of the Cre- ditor, and likewise for the part of the Debtor (if he shall desire the same) concerning the yearly Rent and value of the saids Lands and Rights, and what they have payed for five years by-gone, and what the same may pay, and the rates and prices at which such Lands and Rights are usually sold in these places of the Kingdom where they ly; With Power to the saids Lords to determine what warrantice the Debtor shall be lyable in to the Creditor, of the Lands and Rights so adjudged as they shall find just: Upon which Decree of Adjudica- tion, it shall be lawful to the Creditor immediately to enter to the possession of the Lands and other Rights adjudg- ed to him, and to intromet with the Mails and Duties thereof, in satisfaction of his Annual-rent during the not redemption, without being lyable to any restriction or action of Count and Reckoning. And in case there be adjudged Lands affected with Life rents, or any Casualty or other Right not yielding Rent during the running of the Legal after-specified, the same shall be express in the said Decree, together with that part of the sum effect and thereto; That in case of redemption, the Creditor may have his Annual-rent for that part of his sum, for which he had no profit in manner foresaid: Which Lands and other Rights adjudged as said is, shall remain heretably and irredeemably with the Creditor, in case they be not redeemed within the space of five years after the Decree of Adjudication, by payment or consignation of the sums principal and Annual-rent, for which the Adjudication did proceed, the Composition payed to the Superior, and exp- ences in obtaining Infestment and Annual-rent of the same, in so far as is not satisfied by the Creditors pos- session in manner foresaid: And the Creditor being once in peaceable possession of the saids Lands or Rights, conform to the Decree of Adjudication, it shall not be lawful for him to use any further execution against his Debtor, except in the case of eviction upon the warrantice to be decreed by the saids Lords; But it shall be lei- sum to the Creditor, to use all manner of execution against his Debtor Principal or Cautioner, by Horning, Caption, Arrestment or otherwise, untill he enter to the actual possession of the Lands to be Adjudged in manner foresaid. And it is hereby Statute and Ordained; that no Comprisings shall be led in time coming, of any Lands or other Rights, which are not already comprised; But prejudice alwayes of any apprisings led before the date of this Act, or to be deduced of Lands or other Rights already appraised, whereof the Legal is not expired, which are to have course conforme to the Laws and Acts formerly made thereanent: It is alwayes hereby Provided and Declared, that in case the Debtor shall abstract the Writs and Evidents of the Lands and other Rights to be adjudged, and shall not produce a sufficient Right thereof, and deliver the same, or Transumps thereof to the Creditor as the Lords shall Judge necessary; and in case he shall not renounce the possession of the Lands and other Rights to be adjudged, and ratifie the Decree of Adjudication, to the effect the Creditor may enter thereto summarly, without any impediment, so that the Creditor may have a clear right and quiet possession: Then and in that case, it shall be lei sum to the Creditor to adjudge all or any Right belonging to his Debtor, in the same manner as he might have appraised the same, conform to the Act of Parliament, 1661. anent the payment of Debts betwixts Debtor and Creditor, in all points, under the Reversion, and with the power competent to other Creditors express in the said Act. And it is hereby De- clared, that neither the Superior, nor the Adjudger shall be prejudged by this Act, but that they shall be in the same case after citation in this Proceeds of Adjudication, as if Apprising were led of the Lands at that time, and a Charge given to the Superior thereupon: Whilk Decrees of Adjudication above-mentioned shall be al- lowed by the Lords of Session, as Apprisings now are; And the allowance shall be registrar in the same man- ner, and under the same certification, with the allowanees of Comprisings; To the effect, the same may be known, and that Creditors may not be disappointed by Adjudging Lands already adjudged to others.

A C T for employing Vacant Stipends for the Universities.

Edinburgh, 10. of September, 1672.

THe Kings Majesty, considering the present condition of several Universities and Colledges within this Kingdom, and the mean and incompetent provision of the Masters and Professors thereof; and being desirous to give all due encouragement to these Seminaries, that thereby able and fit persons may be invited to accept of Functions within the same; Dorth therefore, with advice & consent of his Estates of Parliament, Sta- tute & Ordain, that the Stipends and Benefices of Kirks that shall happen to Vaik for the space of seven years, This present year, one thousand, six hundred, and seventy two, being the first of the seven, and so forth to continue until the expiring of the seven years, shall be employed for the use of the Universities and and Colledges in manner after-specified, viz. The Vacancies within the Diocesses of St. Andrews, Dunkeld, Brichin and Orkney, for the Universities of St. Andrews, and the Vacancies within the Diocesses of Edinburgh, for the Colledge of Edinburgh; and the Vacancies within the Diocesses of Aberdeen, Murray, Rofs and Caitbness, for the Universities of Aberdeen; and the Vacancies within the Diocesses of Glasgow, Galloway and the Isles as follows, viz. The Vacancies of the Diocess of Glasgow for this present year, one thousand, six hundred, and seventy two, to be employed, the one half for the University of St. Andrews, and the other half for the University of Glasgow; and the Vacancies of that Diocess for the six years ensuing, with the Vacancies of the said two Diocesses of Galloway and the Isles for the whole seven years above-mentioned, to be employed for the University of Glasgow. And that this supply may prove the more effectual, The several Universities and Colledges are hereby warranted to name Collectors (for whose diligence and faithfulness, they are to receive sufficient Caution before they receive their Commissions) to uplift the Vacant Stipends which are or shall become Vacant during the seven years above-mentioned, within the respective Diocesses hereby allotted to them; The Collector to be appointed by the Colledge of Glasgow, to uplift the Vacancies of the Diocess of Glasgow, always finding sufficient Caution at the sight of the University of St. Andrews, to make payment to that University and to the University of Glasgow, equally betwixt them, of the Vacancies which he shall receive within the said Diocess of Glasgow for this present year, one thousand, six hundred, & seventy two; And his Majesty, with advice foresaid, Ordains Letters of Horning, and all other execution necessary, to pass at the instance of the saids Collectors, for the more speedy raising & inbringing of the Vacancies aforesaid: which Vacancies are to be disposed of & employed for the use of the respective Universities and Colledges yearly, by the Visitors to be appointed by his Majesty for the respective Universities and Colledges under the Great Seal. It is alwayes hereby Declared, that the Vacancies shall be burdened with the up-holding of the Manes of these Paroches, out of which the Vacancies shall be raised, in the same manner as they were formerly upon removal of the Incumbent, conform to the Act of Parliament made thereanent: and as to the Vacancies of the Diocess of Argyl, they are to be employed for maintenance of Bussars, as is appointed by former Acts of Parliament: And his Majesty, with advice foresaid, Declares the former Act past in the third Session of His Majesties first Parliament, Entituled, Act for additional Provision in favours of Universities, to be void and null to all the intents therein contained.

Edinburgh, 10. of Septembur, 1672.

OUR Sovereign Lord, considering, that albeit by the 125. Act of the 12. Parliament, holden by His Majesties Grand-father in the year, 1592. the usurpation of Armes by any of His Majesties Leidges, without the Authority of the Lyon King of Armes, is expressly discharged; And that in order thereto, power and Commission is granted to the Lyon King of Armes, or his Deputies to visit the whole Armes of Noble-men, Barons and Gentle-men, and to matriculate the same in their Registers, and to fine in one hundred pounds, all others who shall unjustly usurp Armes; As also to escheat all such Goods and Gear, as shall have unwarrantable Armes engraven on them. Yer, amongst the many irregularities of these late times, very many have assumed to themselves Armes, who should bear none, and many of these who may in Law bear, have assumed to themselves the Armes of their Chief, without distinctions, or Armes which were not carried by them or their Predecessors. Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Ratifies and Approves the foresaid Act of Parliament; And for the more vigorous prosecution thereof, doth hereby Statute and Ordain, that letters of publication of this present Act be direct to be execute at the Mercat-crofs of the head Burghs of the Shires, Stewartries, Baileries of Royalty and Regality, and Royal Burroughs, charging all and sundry Prelats, Noble-men, Barons and Gentle-men, who make use of any Arms or Signs Armorial, within the space of one year after the said publication to bring or send an account of what Arms, or Signs armorial they are accustomed to use, and whither they be Descendants of any Family, the Arms of which Family they bear, and of what Brother of the Family they are descended; With Testificats from persons of Honour, Noble-men or Gentle-men of quality, anent the verity of their having and using those Arms, and of their descent as aforesaid, to be delivered either to the Clerk of the Jurisdiction where the persons dwell, or to the Lyon Clerk, at his Office in Edinburgh, at the option of the party, upon their Receipts gratis, without paying any thing therefore; Which Receipt shall be a sufficient exoneration to them, from being obliged to produce again, to the effect, that the Lyon King of Arms may distinguish the saids Arms, with congruant Differences, and may matriculate the same in his Books and Registers, and may give Arms to vertuous and well deserving persons, and Extracts of all Arms, expressing the blasoning of the Arms under his hand and Seal of Office; For which shall be payed to the Lyon, the sum of twenty merks, by every Prelat & Noble-man, and ten merks by every Knight and Baron, and five merks by every other person bearing Arms, and no more: And His Majesty Majesty hereby dispenses, with any penalties that may arise be this or any preceeding Act for bearing Armes, before the Proclamation to be issued hereupon. And it is Statute and Ordained, with consent foresaid, that the said Register shall be respected as the true and un-repealable rule of all Armes and Bearings in Scotland, to remain with the Lyons Office as a publick Register of the Kingdom, and to be transmitted to his Successors in all time coming: And that whosoever shall use any other Armes any manner of way, after the expiring of year and day from the date of the Proclamation to be issued hereupon, in manner foresaid, shall pay one hundred pounds money, toties quoties, to the Lyon, and shall likewise escheat to His Majesty, all the moveable Goods and Gear upon which the saids Armes are engraven, or otherwise represented. And His Majesty, with consent foresaid Declares, that it is only allowed for Noblemen and Bishops to subscribe by their Titles; And that all others shall subscribe their Christned Names, or the initial letter thereof with their Surnames, and may, if they please adject the Designations of their Lands, prefixing the word OF to the saids Designations. And the Lyon King at Armes and his Brethren, are required to be carefull of informing themselves of the contraveeners hereof, and that they acquaint His Majesties Council therewith, who are hereby empowered to punish them as persons disobedient to, and contraveeners of the Law. It is likewise hereby Declared, that the Lyon and his Brethren Heraulds are Judges in all such causes, concerning the Malversation of Messengers in their office, and are to enjoy all other priviledges belonging to their Office, which are secured to them by the Laws of this Kingdom, and according to former practice.

XXII.

ACT against Profaneness.

Edinburgh, 11. of September, 1672.

OUR Sovereign Lord, considering the many and great violations of the Law of GOD, and of the Laws of this Kingdom, established by His Majesty and his Royal Predecessors, against cursing, swearing, drunkenness, fornication and uncleanness, profanation of the Lords-day, mocking or reproaching of Religion and the exercises thereof; Which are prohibit by several Acts of Parliament, under diverse pecuniary mulcts and penalties; and especially by the twenty Act of the twenty two Parliament of King James the sixth, entituled, Act anent the punishment of Drunkards; And by the eighteenth Act of the first Session of His Majesties first Parliament, entituled, Act for the due observation of the Sabbathday; And the nineteenth Act thereof entituled, Act against swearing and excessive drinking; And by the thirty eight Act of that same Session of Parliament, containing instructions to the Justices of Peace: Doth, with advice of His Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, that the several pains and fines appointed by the said Acts, be inflicted on, and exacted off the respective transgressors; And for that effect, it is hereby Statute and Ordained, that besides the exercise of Church-discipline, according to the Laws and practice used in this Church, in every Paroch within Royal Burgh, or wherein any of His Majesties Privy Council or Lords of Session, Sheriff, Lord, or Bailiff of Regality or their Deputes, or Commissaries, have their residence or keep Courts, that the saids Councillors or Lords of Session, Magistrates of such Burghs, the Sheriffs and the Lords and Bailiffs of Regalities or their Deputes, the Commissaries or any Justice of Peace, They or any one or more of them, execute or cause execute the saids Laws, against such delinquents in the several Paroches where they reside, as shall be dilated to them by the Kirk-Sessions, or other Church-Judicatories. Providing alwayes, Likeas it is hereby provided, that the Minister and Kirk-Session, with the Heretors of each Paroch, or such of them as upon publick intimation by the Minister from the Pulpit, upon eight dayes warning, shall meet with the Minister, and his assistants in discipline, have the nomination of a Collector, who is to receive and count for the fines so imposed; Excepting to the Royal-Burghs the nomination of their Collectors, who have been accustomed so to nominat, they alwayes being accountable as other Collectors, for the uses after-specified: And whete there be any Paroches, in which there is none of the saids above-named persons in Authority resident, the Minister and Kirk-Session and Heretors of the Paroch, or Major part of them, who shall convene upon publick intimation by the Minister upon eight dayes warning, shall nominat so often as they see cause, a person resident within the Paroch, whom they find most fit for executing of the saids Statutes, and shall under their hand, offer the person so chosen to the Sheriffs, Lords and Bailiffs of Regalities, Stewarts, Commissaries, having the ordinary Jurisdiction of that place, who are hereby authorized to give Commission and Deputation to the persons so chosen for conveying the persons transgressors of the foresaid Statutes, and to judge in them according to Law: And it is hereby Declared, that all execution shall pass upon the Decretes and Sentences of the saids Judges and Commissioners, as do or may pass upon the Decretes or Sentences of Sheriffs, Bailiffs of Royalty or Regality, for executing of the saids Statutes, conform to the tenor thereof in all points. With Power to the said Minister, Kirk-Session and Heretors of each Paroch convened in manner foresaid, to modifie and appoint such part and portion of the sums arising by the said Decretes, to the Collectors Collectors nominat by them for their services, as they shall find just, according to their pains and diligence. And it is hereby Declared, that the remainder of the saids sums shall belong to, and be made use of, for the poor of each Paroch respective, in manner following; viz. The one half thereof for the use of the poor of each Paroch to be sent to the Correction-houses, for being bred to lawful Trades, conform to an Act of Parliament, made in this Session of Parliament; And for which, the Collector shall be countable to the Heretors of each Paroch, and shall deliver to them Receipts from the Masters of the Correction-houses of the one half of the saids sums, toward the allowance of the said poor people, appointed to be payed out of each Paroch by the said Act: and the other half of the saids fines shall belong to the poor of each Paroch respective, who by the said Act, by reason of their age or infirmity, are appointed to be entertained within each Paroch by the Contributions at the Paroch-Kirk, and for which the saids Collectors are to be countable to the Minister and Kirk-Session of each Paroch, or to the Elders during the Vacaney; and to be applyed be them for the use of the poor, as they shall see cause.

XXIII.

ACT Salvo jure cujuslibet.

Edinburgh, 11. of September, 1672.

OUR Sovereign Lord taking to consideration, that there be many Acts of Ratifications and others, past and made in this Session of Parliament, in favours of particular persons, without calling or hearing of such as may be thereby concerned and prejudged: Therefore, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all such particular Acts and Acts of Ratification past in manner foresaid, shall not prejudice any third party of their lawful Rights, nor of their Actions and Defences competent thereupon, before the making of the said particular Acts and Acts of Ratifications; And that the Lords of Session and all other Judges within this Kingdom, shall be obliged to judge betwixt Parties, according to their several Rights standing in their persons before the making of the saids Acts: All which are hereby exponed, and Declared to have been made, Salvo jure cujuslibet.

XXIV.

ACT of Adjournment.

Edinburgh, 11. of September, 1672.

THE King's Majesty Declares this Parliament current, and Adjourns the same to the second Wednesday of June next to come; Ordaining all the Members of Parliament to attend that day, And that there be no new Election of Commissioners from Shires or Burroughs, except upon the death of some of the present Commissioners.

At Edinburgh, the 25. of Novembér, 1673.

THE King's most Excellent Majesty, having, from the constant affection and care, which He hath alwayes had of the concerns of this His Ancient Kingdom, Resolved further to gratifie His good Subjects, by such Grants and publick Laws as he shall judge to conduce most for their good and advantage: And understanding by the prosecution and management of the Pre-emption of Salt within this Kingdom; that the same hath been occasion of trouble and burden to His Subjects, His Majesty doth therefore Annul and Discharge the said Pre-emption, and all Pre-emptions of Salt in time coming, and Declares the same, and all Acts, Commissions, or other warrands whatsoever authorizing it, to be, from and after the first day of December, this present year, one thousand, six hundred, and seventy three, vacated, void and null. And in order therunto, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth hereby rescind and Annul;

all and sundry the Contracts, which in prosecution of this Pre-emption, were entered into by the Salt-masters, and these persons who, by warrant of the Commissioners of His Majesties Thesaurie, contracted with them for the sale of their Salt. And declares the saids Contracts and every of them to be void and null, after the said first of December next to come: It is alwayes hereby declared, that these Contracts are to stand good to all intents and purposes therein contained, for all the Salt that is or shall be made before the said first day of December. Likeas the Kings Majesty, for the encouragement of the Manufacture of Salt, and for the further ease of His good Subjects, Doth hereby declare, all Salt made or ro be made within this Kingdom, to be henceforth free from payment of Excise. And further, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, allows the Importation of forraign Salt; And Statutes and Ordains, that ilk Boll of forraign Salt of Linlithgow measure, shall pay fourty shillings Scots of Excise, whether the Salt be employed on Fishes or not; and that security shall be given at the entry of the Salt, that this Excise duty shall be compleatly payed within year and day after the Importation thereof: And in consideration of the Exemption which the forraign Salt employed on Fishes had from Excise formerly; His Majesty Declares, That all exported Fishes, whither Herring, Salmond, or others, shall be in time coming free from the payment of Custom.

Likeas, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth Inhibit and Discharge the Collectors and Farmers of Excise, upon any pretext, to give any ease or abatement of the said fourty shillings of Excise imposed upon ilk boll of forraign Salt, under the pain of deprivation, if they be Collectors, and the loss of the Benefit of their Tack of the Excise, if they be Farmers; and of such further punishment as the Lords of Exchequer shall think fit to inflict. And to the end it may be known, what quantities of Forraign Salt are truly entered, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Ordains the several Collectors of Excise, from time to time, to make patent to any of the Owners of Salt, or these having their Warrant, their Books, in so far as concerns the entry of forraign Salt: And if the Salt-Owners, or their Factors, shall find any quantity concealed or imbez'd, or that there is abatement given of the duty, they are hereby warranted to pursue the transgressors before the Lords of Exchequer: And shall have for their own use, the equal half of the seizure-concealment, or abatement respective, which shall be so discovered by them. And his Majesty doth, with advice foresaid, Rescind and Annul any former Acts of Parliament, or clauses therein, relating to the Excise of Salt, which are inconsistent with, and prejudicial unto, the intent of this Act: And Declares, that so long as the Excise continues, this shall be the constant rule for regulating the Excise of Salt, and the Custom thereof to continue as it is in the Book of Rates.

A C T Concerning the Importation and Exise of

B R A N D Y.

At EDINBURGH, the 1. of December, 1673.

THE King's Majesty, having, upon good consideration, thought fit to allow the Importation of Brandy, and Mum or Bremer-beer within this Kingdom; Doth therefore with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Rescind and Annul all Acts of Parliament and Privy Council, Proclamations and other Warrands prohibiting the same. Likeas, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Appoints every Tun of Imported Brandy to be lyable in payment of fourscore pounds Scots for Custom, without any defalcation, and ilk Scots pint of the same Brandy to be liable in the payment of six shillings Scots for Excise: And every barrell of the aforesaid Mum, not exceeding twelve gallons to be lyable in thretty shillings Scots of Custome, and als much for excise, which Excise of Brandy and Mum; is to be raised in the severall Shires and Burghs, where the same shall be retailed, by tapping and selling in smalls, and employed for the proportional relief of the annuity of Excise payable by the saids Shires and Burghs, and this Custome and Excise to be listed and payed conform to the Laws and Acts, made concerning Custome and Excise respective.

A C T Concerning

At EDINBURGH, the 2. of December, 1673.

THE King's Majesty, considering that some difficulties have occurred, concerning some expressions and qualifications mentioned in the Act made in the last Session of Parliament, concerning Apparel, and that the Manufacture of whyt Lace or Pearling made of threed (whereby many poor people gain'd their lively-hood) was thereby much prejudged and impaired: For the clearing and remedied whereof; in time coming, His Majesty hath thought fit, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, to Rescind, Discharge and Annul that part of the afore-mentioned Act for Apparel, concerning the allowance granted to the persons thereby priviledged, to wear Velvet, Satins, and other Silk Stuffs, &c. And Declares, that now and in time coming, it shall be free to all and every person within this Kingdom, to wear all such Silks, white Lace, Cloaths and others, in the same manner, and als freely as be the aforesaid Act, they were allowed to be worn by the priviledged persons therein mentioned: And that plain Satin Ribbons may be worn upon Apparel in the same manner as Tassitie Ribbons; Any thing in the said Act to the contrair, notwithstanding. Likeas, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth hereby Ratifie and renew the aforesaid Act, past in the last Session of Parliament, concerning Apparel, in all the other heads, clauses and articles thereof, which are not by this Act innovat or discharged.

ACT concerning the Imposition on

T O B A C C O.

At EDINBURGH, the 2. of December, 1673.

THE King's Majesty, considering the prejudice that doth and may arise to the trade of Tobacco, be and upon occasion of the late Imposition upon the Tobacco, and the gift of the same given under His Majesties Great Seal, to Sir John Nicolson of Nicolson, of the date the second of December, 1671: Therefore His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, doth discharge the said Imposition upon the Tobacco. And declares the said Imposition, and Gift thereof granted to the said Sir John Nicolson to be void and extinct in all intents, as if the said Imposition and Gift had not been imposed or granted. And His Majesty, with consent foresaid, doth allow the Importing of Tobacco in all time coming free and without payment of any other Custome and Imposition but the ordinary Custome: Conform to the book of Rates, And the Excise. It is alwayes Declared and Ordained, that such sums of money as have been payed to the said Sir John, or to any person in his name, for and upon the account of the said Imposition, and all Bands granted upon the account foresaid, shall pertain to His Majesty, and the said Sir John shall be accountable for the saids sums, and shall be obliged to deliver the saids Bands to the Lords of His Majesties Thesaurie for His Majesties use; Excepting alwayes, the Band given for the Tobacco, imported in the Ship called Whereof John Philips is Master, arrived at the Port of in the West, which His Majesty doth discharge, and Ordains, to be given back to those who granted the same: And sicklike, excepting any other Bands granted upon the account of the said Imposition, where the Tobacco is not vented, as to such proportions thereof, as the Merchants shall declare upon their Oath, are not sold by them, they alwayes paying the ordinary dues, viz. Custom conform to the book of Rates, and Excise. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth hereby Declare all Tobacco already Imported, to be free of the said Imposition, where money hath not been payed, or Bands granted for the same, and discharges any arrestments laid thereon upon the account of the said Imposition.

ACT Ratifying all former Laws for the Security of the Protestant Religion:

August 13. 1681.

UR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, Ratifies and approves all and whatsoever Laws, Acts, and Statuts made by his Royal Grand-father, and Father of Blessed Memory, or made and past in any of his Majestie's former Parliaments, for settling and securing the Liberty and Freedom of the true Kirk of God, and the Protestant Religion, presently Professed within this Realm, and all Acts made against Popery, And Ordains the same to stand in full force, and effect, and to be put in Execution, according to the tenour and purport of these Acts, As if they were specially mentioned, and set down herein.

II.

ACT Acknowledging and asserting the right of Succession to the Imperial Crown of Scotland.

August 13. 1681.

T H E Estates of Parliament, Considering that the Kings of this Realm deriving their Royal power from God Almighty alone, do succeed lineally thereto, according to the known degrees of Proximity in blood, which cannot be interrupted, suspended or diverted by any Act or Statute whatsoever, And that none can attempt to alter or divert the said Succession, without involving the subjects of this Kingdom in Perjurie and Rebellion, and without exposing them to all the fatal and dreadful consequences of a Civil warr, DOE therefore from a hearty and sincere sence of their duty, Recognize, acknowledge and declare, that the right to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, is by the inherent right and the nature of the Monarchie, asvelas by the fundamental and unalterable Laws of this Realm, transmitted and devolved by a lineal Succession, according to the proximitie of blood. And that upon the death of the King or Queen, who actually Reignes, The subjects of this Kingdom are bound by Law, duty and allegiance, to obey the next Immediat and Lawful Heir either Male or Female, Upon whom the right and administration of the Government is immediatly devolved. And that no difference in Religion, nor no Law nor Act of Parliament made, or to be made, can alter or divert the right of Succession and lineal descent of the Crown to the Nearest and Lawful Heirs, according to the degrees foresaids: nor can stop or hinder them in the full, free and Actual administration of the Government according to the Laws of the Kingdom. Likeas OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With advice and consent of the saids Estates of Parliament, Do declare it is high Treason in any of the subjects of this Kingdom, by writing, speaking, or any other manner of way to endeavour the alteration, suspension or diversion of the said right of Succession, or the debarring the Next Lawful Successor from the immediat, Actual, full and free administration of the Government, conform to the Laws of the Kingdom. And that all such attempts or designs shall infer against them the paine of Treason.

III.

ACT For a voluntary offer of a new Supplie to the King's Majestie.

August, 20. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of Parliament taking to consideration, That the Convention of Estates, holden at Edinburgh, in the Moneth of July, 1678, upon the weighty considerations therein specified, and particularly the great danger the Kingdom was under, by seditious and rebellious Conventicles, and the necessitie which then appeared to encrease the forces, for securing the Government, and suppressing these Rebellious commotions, which were fomented by seditious principles and practises. DID THEREFORE humbly, and dutifully offer a chearful and unanimous supplie of Eighteen hundred thousand pounds Scots, to be raised and payed forth of the Shires and Burghs of this His Majesties ancient Kingdom, in the space of five years, according to the present valuations; And that as Twentie five Moneths cefs in the whole, being five Moneths yearly, amounting to Three hundred and sixty thousand pounds Scots each year, at two terms in the year be equal portions, at the terms mentioned in the said Act, being two Moneths, and an halfe Moneths cefs for every term; according to the proportions imposed on each respective Shire, and Burgh by the said Act of Convention. AND the Estates of Parliament now convened, having taken to consideration, how the dangers from the foresaids causes doe much encrease, in so far as such as are seditiously, and rebelliously inclined, doe still propagat their pernicious principles, and go on from one degree of rebellion to another; till now at last the horrid villanies of murther, assassination, and avowed rebellion are owned, not only as things Lawful, but as Obligations from their Religion, to the dishonour of God, the scandal of Religion, the danger of His Majestie's Saered Person, the overthrowing of all Government Ecclesiastical and Civil, and the Imminent and apparent ruine of the Subjects lives and fortunes. DOE THEREFORE, In a due sence of their duty to God, To their Sacred Sovereaigne, and to the preservation of themselves, and their posteritie, Of new make ane humble, unanimous, chearful, and hearty offer, for themselves, and in name of, and as representing this His Majestie's ancient Kingdom, of a continuation of the foresaid supply granted by the Convention of Estates; and that for the space of five years, or Ten terms succcessive: Beginning the first term's payment, at the term of Martin-mas 1683. being the next immediat term, after the expyryng of the last term of the supply granted by the said Act of Convention, being two Moneth's, and an halfe Moneth's cefs, for each term of the saids Ten terms, and so forth to continue in manner foresaid, yearly, and termly, during the saids five years; HUMBLY beseeching His Majestie, graciously to accept this their unanimous offer, and tender foresaid. WHICH supply is to be uplifted, levied and collected in the same way, and manner, as is prescribed, and appointed by the said Act of Convention, with the alterations and additions following, viz. That the Commander of the forces shall give, and allow such parties, and no more, to the Receiver General, for quartering on deficients, as he shall require from time to time, for inbringing of the said supply; As also that the said Receiver General shall send parties to each Shire, in such number, and no greater, and at such times, as the Commissioners of Excise and Cefs, or any two or more of them, or their Collector within the respective Shires, shall require, to be employed for inbringing the supplie; and that all parties sent to quarter in any Shire upon the account foresaid, shall be directed in their quartering, by the Commissioners of Excise and Cefs, within each Shire, according, and in the manner prescribed by the foresaid Act of Convention. IT IS ALWAYS HEREBY DECLARED, That although the Commissioners, or their Collectors should not require any partie of Souldiers: Yet it shall be Lawfull to the Receiver General after the elapsing of the terms of payment, to send parties to quarter upon the deficients, according to their proportions, viz. four Troupers, or Dragoons, or Sex foot, for each Thousand pounds Scots, of deficiencie, and so forth proportionally; Which parties shall be ordered to quarter upon any deficients within the Shire; as the Commissioners or any two of them, or their Collector shall direct, which order and method is to be observed in quartering for the Excise; And the Receiver General or Tacksmen of the same, are only to imploy the number of forces so quartered therefor, as for the supplie. AND It is STATUT, and ORDAINED, that in case the Collector of any Shire, shall receive in any of the said supply, and retain the same in his hands, not paying it in to the General Receiver, That he shall be lyable to pay Ten pounds, for each one hundred pounds received by him; which he shall not pay to the said Receiver, within a Moneth after his receipt thereof, But prejudice alwaies to the said Receiver, to use quartering and other diligence, against the saids Collectors, or others lyable in manner foresaid. "AND HIS MAJESTY In His Royall goodnes, and care to His People", taking to his Princely consideration, the many troubles, and inconveniences; which arise from the transient, or free quartering of Souldiers, and from the localities for furnishing, and carrying Corn, Straw, or Grasse, to the Souldiers Horses, DOETH with consent of the Estates of Parliament discharge and prohibit, all free quartering of the Souldiers, either transient, or local, and all localities for furnishing and carrying Corn, Straw, Hay, or Grasse, to Souldiers Horses, and that from, and after the first day of November next in this instant year, 1681. the quartering, and localitie alwaies betwixt and the said first day of November being payed or allowed, conform to the said Act of Convention: And in case any Officers or Souldiers shall exact any free quarters, or any such localitie thereafter, the damage being instructed before two Commissioners for the supplie, or Excise, upon production of a certificat thereof under their hands, the Officer being required be way of Instrument to give redress to the partie, and not doing the same, shall lose a Moneths pay to be payed to the partie injured by the Collector of the Cess or Excise in the Shire, by and attour the said damage, which shall be allowed to him by the General Receiver: And this punishment to be extended to any quartering for deficiencie which shall be used, or exacted otherwise then is prescribed in manner foresaid. AND It is hereby DECLARED, that no discharges granted by Tennents to Souldiers, for provisions, either of Men or Horses, shall exoner the Officers or Souldiers, unless these discharges be under the hand of the Master, or Chamberlain. IT IS ALWAIES hereby specially PROVIDED and ORDAINED, that the Sheriff principal or his Deput in the respective Shires, with any two or three of the Commissioners of supplie or Excise, shall set prices on Corn for the use of the Troupers, conform to fiars of the year, and prices upon Straw, Hay, and Grasse, according to the Current rates of the Countrie, and take care that the same be sold at these rates, upon present payment of money to be made by the Souldiers to the owners of the saids provisions: And in case it shall happen that any Horses shall be imployed, and made use of, by Officers, or Souldiers, in Towns, or in the Countrie, for carrying Artillery, Ammunition, or provision, or any other use of the Army, It is hereby Ordained, that there shall be payed for each day that they travel Three shillings Scots, for each two myles to the Man and Horse, and each day that they doe not travel, Six shillings Scots to the Man, and as much for the Horse: the Man being obliged to provide himselfe and the Horse, which shall be payed by the Magistrates of the Burgh, if the Horses be taken within a Town, or if in the Countrie, by the Collector of the supply in the Shire, who are to be repayed thereof, or to have the same allowed to them by the Receiver General. AND HIS MAJESTY & Estates of Parliament ORDAINS the Commissioners named by the Act of Convention to be Commissioners for ingathering of this supply, And appoints the Sheriffs of the respective Shires, to be Conveners of the saids Commissioners: Recommending to the Lords of Privy Council, to appoint Commissioners in place of any of them already named by the said Act of Convention, who are deceased, upon lists given in by the remanent Commissioners, AND The Estates of Parliament doe declare, that no person lyable in this supply, shall be excused from paying his proportion of the same; And doe beseech his Majesty not to grant any such exemptions, in favours of any Person. AND IT IS HEREBY DECLARED, that no person lyable in payment of this supply shall be holden to produce their discharges or receipts of the same after the Tenth day of June, one thousand six hundredth, ninety and one year. His Majesty with advice and consent foresaid STATUTS and ORDAINS, that for the releife of the Heretours and others lyable in this supply, their Vassals, and Fewlers, who pay no part of the Cess, and also their Tennents, Sub-Tennents, and others living upon their Lands shall be taxed and pay into the saids Heretours yearly, each one of the saids Five years, the sums of money following, viz. Each Gentleman above the quality of a Tennent, the sum to be appointed by the Heretor, not exceeding six pounds Scots, for himselfe, his Wife, and Children; Each Tennent and other Inhabitant, above the qualitie of a Tradfman, Cottar, or Servant for themselves and their Wyves and Children, any sum not exceeding four pounds Scots: And each Tradfman, Cottar or Servant any sum not exceeding Twenty shillings Scots. And it is ordained that the Heretor shall have the same Execution for raising the saids sums, as for their Mails and duties.

A C T Concerning probative Witneses in Writs and Executions.

August 29. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD Considering that by the Custom introduced when writing was not so ordinary, Witneses insert in writs, although not subscribing, are probative Witneses, and by their forgetfulness may easily disown their being witneses. FOR REMED whereof, His Majestie with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament DOETH ENACT and DECLARE, That only subscribing Witneses in writs to be subscribed by any partie hereafter, shall be probative, and not the Witneses insert not subscribing; And that all such writs to be subscribed hereafter, wherein the Writer & Witneses are not designed, shall be null, and are not supplyable by condescending upon the Writer, or the designation of the Writer and Witneses. AND it is farther STATUTE & DECLARED, That no witnes shall subscribe as Witnes to any partie's subscription, unless he then know that partie, and saw him subscribe, or saw, or heard him give warrant to a Nottar, or Nottars to subscribe for him, and in evidence thereof touch the Nottar's pen, or that the partie did at the time of the Witneses subscribing acknowledge his subscription; Otherwise the saids Witneses shall be repute and punished, as accessorie to forgerie. AND SEING writing is now so ordinary, HIS MAJESTIE with consent foresaid DOETH ENACT and DECLARE, that no Witneses but subscribing Witneses shall be probative in instruments of Seising, Instruments of Resignation ad remanentiam, instruments of intimation of assignations, translations, or retro-cessions to bands, contracts, or other writs, which shall happen to be subscribed in any time hereafter: AND THAT none but subscribing Witnesses shall be probative in Executions of Messengers, of Inhibitions, of Interdictions, of Hornings, or arrestments; And that no Execution whatsoever to be given hereafter, shall be sufficient to infer interruption of prescription in Real rights, unless the same be done, before Witnesses present at the doing thereof subscribing: And that in all the saids cases the Witnesses be designed in the bodie of the Writ Instrument, or Execution respective, otherwise the same shall be null and void, and make no faith in Judgment, nor out-with.

VI.

ACT Anent Religion and the TEST.

August. 31. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, With His Estates of Parliament Considering, That albeit by many wholesome Laws made by his Royall Grand-father, and Father, of Glorious memory, and by himself, in this, and His other Parliaments, since His happy Restauration, the Protestant Religion is carefully asserted, established and secured against Popery and Phanaticism: Yet the restless Advancers of our Religion, do not cease to propagat their errors, and to seduce his Majestie's Subjects, from their duty to God, and Loyalty to His Vice-gerent, and to overturn the established Religion, by introducing their Superstitions, and delusions, into this Church, and Kingdom. And knowing that nothing can more encrease the numbers and confidence of Papists, and Schismatical dissenters from the Established Church, then the supine neglect or putting in Execution the good Laws provided against them, together with their hopes to insinuat themselves, into Offices, and places of trust, and publick Employment. THEREFORE, His Majesty, from His Princely and pious zeal, to maintain and preserve the true Protestant Religion, contained in the Confession of Faith, recorded in the first Parliament of King James the Sixth, which is founded on, and agreeable to the written word of GOD; DOETH, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament. Require and Command, all His Officers, Judges, and Magistrats, to put the Laws made against Popery, and Papists, Priests, Jesuits, and all persons of any other Order in the Popish Church, especially against sayers and hearers of Mass; Venders and dispersers of forbidden Books; And Resettlers of Popish Priests, and excommunicat Papists: As also against all Phanatick Separatists from this National Church; Against Preachers, at House, or Field Conventicles, and the Resettlers and harbourers of Preachers, who are Intercommuned; Against disorderly Baptisms, and Marriages, and irregular Ordinations, and all other Schismatical disorders. To full and vigorous execution, according to the Tenour of the respective Acts of Parliament thereanent provided. And that His Majestie's Princely care to have these Laws put in Execution, against those enemies of the Protestant Religion, may the more clearly appear: HE DOETH, with advice and consent foresaid, STATUT and ORDAIN, That the Ministers of each Paroch, give up in October Yearly, to their respective Ordinaries, true and exact lists of all Papists, and Schismatical withdrawers from the publick Worship, in their respective Paroches; which Lists are to be subscribed by them, and that the Bishops give in a double of the saids Lists Subscribed by them, to the respective Sheriffs, Stewards, Bailies of Royalty, and Regality, and Magistrats of Burghs, To the effect the saids Judges may proceed against them according to Law: As also the Sheriffs, and other Magistrats foresaid, are hereby ordained to give an account to His Majestie's Privy Council in December yearly, of their proceedings against those Papists, and Phanatick Separatists, as they will be answerable at their highest peril. And that the diligences done by the Sheriffs, Bailies of Regalities, and other Magistrats foresaid, may be the better enquired into by the Council, the Bishops of the respective Diocesses, as to send exact doubles of the lists of the Papists and Phanaticks, to the Clerks of Privy Council, whereby the diligences of the Sheriffs, and other Judges foresaid, may be controlled and examined. And to cut of all hopes, from Papists, and Phanaticks, of their being employed in Offices and Places of publick Trust. IT IS HEREBY STATUT and ORDAINED, that the following Oath shall be taken by all persons in Offices, and places of publick Trust, Civil, Ecclesiastical, and Military, especially by all Members of Parliament, and all Electors of Members of Parliament, all Privy Counsellors, Lords of Session, Members of the Exchequer, Lords of Judiciary, and all other Members of these Courts; all Officers of the Crown, and State; all Arch-Bishops and Bishops; and all Preachers and Ministers of the Gospel whatsoever; all persons of this Kingdom, named or to be named Commissioners for the Borders; all Members of the Commission for Church Affairs; all Sheriffs, Stewards, Bailies of Royalities and Regalities, Justices of the peace, Officers of the Mint, Commissars and their Depurs, their Clerks and Fiscals, all Advocats and Procurators before any of these Courts, all Writers to the Signet, all Publick Notars, and other persons employed in Writing or Agenting; The Lyon King at Arms, Heraulds, Purservants, and Messengers at Arms; all Collectours, Sub-Collectours and Farmours of His Majestie's Customs and Excise; all Magistrats, Deans of Gild, Counsellors and Clerks of Burghs Royal and Regality; all Deacons of Trades, and Deacon-Convencers in the saids Burghs; all Masters and Doctors in Universities, Colledges, or Schools, all Chaplains in Families, Pedagogues to Children; and all Officers and Souldiers in Armies, Forts, or Militia; and all other persons in publick Trust or Office within this Kingdom, who shall publicly swear, and subscribe the said

Oath as follows, viz. The Arch-Bishops, Chief Commanders of the Forces, and Officers of the Crown and State, and Counsellors, before the Secret Council: All the Lords of Session, and all Members of the Colledge of Justice, and others depending upon them, before the Session: The Lords of Justiciary, and those depending upon that Court, in the Justice Court: The Lords and other Members of the Exchequer, before the Exchequer: All Bishops, before the Arch-Bishops: All the inferior Clergy, Commissars, Masters and Doctors of Universities, and Schools, Chaplains and Pedagogues, before the Bishops of the respective Diocesses: Sheriffs, Stewards, Bailies of Royalty and Regality, and those depending on these Jurisdictions, before these respective Courts: And Provests, Bailies and others of the Burgh, before the Town Council: All Collectors and Farmourers of the King's Customs and Excise, before the Exchequer, The Commissioners of the Borders, before the Privy Council; All Justices of Peace, before their Conveener; And the Officers of the Mint, before the General of the Mint; And the Officers of the Forces, before the Commander in Chief; And common Souldiers, before their respective Officers; The Lyon, before the Privy Council; and Heralds, Purfevants and Messengers at Arms, before the Lyon. And His Majesty, with consent foresaid, STATUTES and ORDAINS, that all those who presently possess, or enjoy any of the foresaid Offices, publick Trusts, or Employments, shall take and subscribe the following Oath, in one of the foresaid Offices, in manner before prescribed, betwixt and the first of January next, which is to be recorded in the Registers of the respective Courts, and Extracts thereof under the Clerks hands, to be reported to His Majestie's Privy Council, betwixt and the first of March next, One thousand, six hundred, eighty two, and thereafter in any other Courts, whereof they are Judges or Members, the first time they shall sit, or exerce in any of these respective Courts: AND ORDAINS, that all who shall hereafter be promoted to, or employed in any of the foresaid Offices, Trusts, or Employments, shall at their entry into, and before their exercising thereof, take and subscribe the said Oath, in manner foresaid, to be recorded in the Registers of the respective Courts, and reported to His Majestie's Privy Council, within the space of forty dayes after their taking the same: And if any shall presume to exerce any of the saids Offices; or Employments, or any publick Office, or Trust, within this Kingdom, (the King's Lawful Brothers and Sons only excepted) untill they take the Oath foresaid, and subscribe it, to be recorded in the Registers of the respective Courts, They shall be declared incapable of all publick Trust thereafter, and be further punished with the loss of their Moveables, and Liferent-Escheat, the one half whereof to be given to the Informer, and the other half to belong to His Majesty. And His Majesty, with Advice foresaid, recommends to His Privy Council to see this Act put to due and vigorous Execution.

Follows the Tenour of the OATH to be taken by all Persons in Publick Trust.

I. A. B. Solemnlie swear in presence of the Eternal God, whom I invocat as Judge, and Witness of my sincere intention of this my Oath, that I own, and sincerely profess the true Protestant Religion, contained in the Confession of Faith, recorded in the first Parliament of King James the Sixth; and that I believe the same to be founded on, and agreeable to the written Word of God. And I promise and swear, that I shall adhere thereto, during all the dayes of my lifetime, and shall endeavour to educate my Children therein: and shall never consent to any change, or alteration contrary thereto: And that I disown, and renounce all such Principles, Doctrines, or Practises, whether Popish, or Phanatical, which are contrary unto, and inconsistent with the said Protestant Religion, and Confession of Faith. And for testification of my Obedience to my most Gracious Sovereign CHARLES the Second, I do affirm, and swear, by this my solemn Oath, That the King's Majesty, is the only Supreme Governour of this Realm, over all Persons, and in all Causes, as well Ecclesiastical as Civil; And that no forraign Prince, Person, Pope, Prelate, State, or Potentate, hath or ought to have any Jurisdiction, Power, Superioritie, Prebeminence or Authoritie Ecclesiastical or Civil, within this Realm. And therefore I doe utterly renounce, and forsake all forraign Jurisdictions, Powers, Superiorities and Authorities. And doe promise, that from henceforth, I shall bear Faith and true Allegiance to the King's Majesty, His Heirs and Lawful Successours. And to my power shall assist and defend, all Rights, Jurisdictions, Prerogatives, Priviledges, Prebeminencies, and Authorities belonging to the King's Majesty, His Heirs and Lawful Successours. And I farther affirm and swear by this my solemn Oath, That I judge it unlawful for Subjects, upon pretence of Reformation, or any other pretence whatsoever, To enter into Covenants or Leagues, or to convocat, convene, or assemble in any Councils, Conventions, or Assemblies, to treat, consult, or determine, in any matter of State, Civil or Ecclesiastick, without His Majestie's special command, or expresse licence had thereto, or to take up Arms against the King, or those commissioned by Him: And that I shall never so rise in Arms, or enter into such Covenants, or Assemblies: And that there lies no Obligation on me from the National Covenant, or the Solemn League and Covenant (so commonly called) or any other manner of way whatsoever, to endeavour any change or alteration in the Government, either in Church or State, as it is now established by the Laws of this Kingdom. And I promise and swear, that I shall with my utmost power, defend, assist, and maintain, His Majestie's Jurisdiction foresaid against all deadly: And I shall never decline His Majestie's Power and Jurisdictions, As I shall answer to God. And finally, I affirm, and swear, that this my solemn Oath, is given in the plain, genuine sense and meaning of the words, without any equivocation, mental reservation, or any manner of evasion whatsoever; And that I shall not accept, or use, any dispensation from any Creature whatsoever. So help me God.

VII.

ACT discharging the Summer Session.

September 2. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, upon grave and weighty considerations, finding it necessary and of great import for the good of his Majestie's Subjects, that the Summer Session in the Moneths of June and July yearly, be suppress'd, and taken away: DOETH with advice and consent of his Estates of Parliament, STATUTE, and ORDAIN, That in all time coming, the meeting and sitting of the Judicature of the Session, and Colledge of Justice, shall only be yearly, from the first of November, to the last of March Inclusive, and that there be a surcease of their meetings yearly, from the Twentieth and fourth of December, to the first of January immediately following. And inhibits, and discharges the sitting of the Judicature of the Session in the saids Moneths of June and July, or any other time, but as the same is appointed, allowed, and prescribed, by this present Act.

VIII.

ACT For continuation of the Excise.

September 6. 1681.

THE ESTATES of Parliament, considering that the Excise of forreigne, and in-land commodities, imposed by the fourteenth Act of the first Session of his Majestie's first Parliament, does terminate with the life of His Sacred Majesty who now reignes, whom God Almighty long preserve. AND They being desirous, that the Royal Government of the Kingdom, should not be then destitute of a due, and futable support, for defraying the exigences thereof: THEY DOE THEREFORE, make ane humble and cheerful offer of a continuation of the Excise, for the space of Five years, to begin at the termination foresaid. to be raised, levied, and collected, of the forreigne commodities specified in the said Act, at the rates mentioned therein, and in subsequent Acts of Parliament, which are holden as here repeated: And likewise of the in-land commodities of this Kingdom, and particularly of two merks Scots upon each Boll of Malt Browen, and fold, within the Kingdom, and three shillings Scots upon each Pynt of Aqua-vitæ, and Strong-waters, not made of Malt Browen, and sold, within this Kingdom. WITH POWER to His Majestie's Royal Successours during the saids years, to nominat and appoint Collectors, and other Servants, for the collecting, and inbringing of the said Excise, or to let the same in farm to the best advantage as they shall think fit. IT IS ALWAIES hereby DECLARED, that then neither Commissioners of Shires, nor Heretours, shall be lyable for the quota's of the Shires, nor shall the Land-owners be affected therewith, but that the same shall only be collected from the Brewers, Vintners, and Tappers over the whole Kingdom, according to the extent of their Brewing, and at the rates foresaid, during this said continuation.

IX.

ACT Against personal Protections.

September 6. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of Parliament, DOE Ratifie, and approve all former Laws, and Statutes, made against Superfedere's, and Protections; And to the end the same may be made yet more effectual, THEY Discharge the Lords of His Majestie's Privy Council, Session, and Exchequer, and Commissioners of Justiciary, to grant Protections, Licences, or Superfedere's, Certifying such as shall grant the same, that they shall be lyable for the debt, upon which execution is stoped by the said Protection. And to the end such as are accessory may be clearly discovered, They ordain that all Protections, Superfedere's, and Licences, shall be signed by such as grant them; And they declare that their signing thereof shall prove against them their voting thereto, and shall make all who signe them, whether the President of the Court, or others as lyable, as if they had become Cautioners for the said debt: And ordains that these Protections be recorded in the Books of the Court, which granted the Protection, and that extracts thereof under the Clerks hand, shall make faith against the granter. IT IS ALWAIES hereby DECLARED, that it shall be free to the the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, Session, and Exchequer, and the Commissioners of Justiciary, to grant Protections to such as are cited, charged, or required by Law to compare before them, for such few dayes, as they may come and give their apparance, and during their necessary stay, and some few dayes for their return, not exceeding a Moneth in all: The parties who require witnesses to be cited, or their Tutors and Curatours, if the saids parties be Minors, giving their Oaths of credulity, or subscribing a certificate under their hand upon Oath, that these who are cited by them to be Witnesses, are material Witnesses, which Protections shall bear the cause for which they are granted. AND LASTLY, It is hereby DECLARED, that it shall not only be Lawful to put the Laws in Execution, notwithstanding of Protections and Licences, granted contrary to this and former Laws, but that if any Messenger, or Magistrate refuse to concur, they shall be liable in payment of the debt; And that the Lyon shall be likewise liable, if he refuse to deprive the Messenger who refuses to execute the Law, upon pretence of any such Protection, Licence, or Superfedere.

X.

ACT Concerning Wives Terces.

September. 6. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD Considering that sometimes through the ignorance, and inadvertence of some Writers and Notars, Clauses are insert in contracts of Marriage, containing provisions by Husbands in favours of their Wives, without mentioning the terce that is due to her by Law, or expressing the provision to be granted in satisfaction of the terce; whereby occasion is given to Relicts to claime a terce out of their Husbands estates by and attour the provision conceived in their favours, contrary to the meaning and intention of the parties contracters. FOR REMED whereof, the Kings Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, STATUTES and ORDAINS, That in time coming where there shall be a particular provision, granted by an Husband in favours of his Wife, either in a contract of Marriage, or some other writ, before or after the marriage; That the Wife shall be thereby secluded from a terce out of any lands or annual-rents belonging to her Husband, unless it be expressly provided in the contract of Marriage, or other Writ containing the said provision, that the Wife shall have right to a terce, by and attour the particular provision, conceived in her favours: But prejudice alwaies to the Lords of Session, to determine as to Contracts of Marriage, or provisions already made, according to the former Law and Custom.

XI.

A C T Concerning the Registration of Seifings, and Reversions of Tenements within Burgh.

September. 6. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, Considering the great security that this Kingdom enjoys by the publick Register of Seifings, and Reversions, conform to the sixteenth Act of the 22. Parliament of King James the Sixth, holden in Anno 1617. And that there is fully the like reason and benefite, that the foresaid Statute should extend to the whole Kingdom, as well to Burgh, as Landward. THEREFORE His Majesty, with consent of his Estates of Parliament, STATUTES and ORDAINS, That in time coming, all Instruments of Seifing of Tenements within Burgh Royal, or Liberties, or freedoms thereof holding in Burgage, and all Reversions, Regresses, Bands, or Writs, for making Reversions, or Regresses, Assignations thereto, discharges thereof, Renunciations of Woodsets, and Grants of Redemption of the saids Tenements within Burgh, or the liberties, or freedoms thereof holding Burgage, shall be insert in the Town Clerks Books of the several Burghs respective, within Threecore dayes after the date of the same, excepting reversions incorporat in the body of the right; And that the Town Clerk shall keep a several book therefore, depending only upon the Magistrats of the Burgh, without necessity of any warrant from the Clerk of Register, and minor Books of the same, to be quarterly compared and signed, by the Provost and Bailies of the several Burghs. IT IS ALWAIES DECLARED, that it shall not be necessary, to insert any Bands, or Writs, for making of reversions, unless Seifings pass in favours of the parties makers of the saids Bands, and Writs: IN THE WHICH CASE, It is ordained that the same shall be insert within sixty dayes after the date of the Seifing, the extract out of the which Register shall make faith in all cases, except where the Writs so insert are offered, to be improven: And if it shall happen any of the saids Writs which are appointed to be insert as said is, nor to be duely insert, within the said space of Sixty dayes: THEN and in that case, His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, DECERNs the same to make no faith in Judgment, be way of action, or exception, in prejudice of a Third partie, who hath acquired a perfect perfect and Lawful right to the saids Tenements, But prejudice alwaies to them to use the saids Writs against the parties makers thereof their Heirs and Successours. AND it is hereby DECLARED, that there shall be nothing payed to the Town Clerks for registration of the saids Seifings, but for any posteriour extracts, they shall have the halfe of the rates prescribed by the Act of Parliament for extracts out of the Registers of Seifings in the particular Shires. And for registering in the Town's Books, of Reversions, Assignations thereto, or discharge thereof, Renouciations, and Grants of Redemption of Wodfers, which were not in use to be registrat before in the Towns Books, That they shall have the halfe of the rates prescribed by the Act of Parliament, for registration and extracting the same, as said is.

XII

ACT For encouraging Trade and Manufacturies.

September 13. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, from His Princely care for the Wealth and Flourishing of this His Ancient Kingdome. Considering that the Importation of Forraign Commodities (which are superfluous, or may be made within the Kingdom, by encouragement given to the Manufacturies thereof) had exceedingly exhausted the money of the Kingdom, and heightened the Exchange to Forraign places, so that in a short time the stock of Money beehood to be exhausted, and the Trade thereof to fail: FOR REMEDY whereof, His Majesty's Privy Council after long and serious Deliberation, and advice of the most judicious and knowing Merchants of the Kingdom, DID by two Acts of Council of the dates, the first of March, and eleventh of April last, and publick Proclamations following thereupon, GIVE encouragement to Manufacturies erected or to be erected in this Kingdom, in manner, and to the effect underwritten: THEREFORE His Majesty, with advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, strictly Prohibits and Discharges, all Merchants, and other persons whatsoever, To Import into this Kingdom, any Gold or Silver threed, Gold or Silver Lace, Fringes, or Tracings, all Buttons of Gold or Silver threed, all manner of Stuffs, or Ribbons in which there is any Gold or Silver threed, all Philagram of Gold or Silver to be worene upon Apparel, and all the Counterfeits of any of them, all flower'd, strip'd, figur'd, chequer'd, painted, or printed Silk Stuffs or Ribbons, (no wayes comprehending changing coloured, or watered Stuffs or Ribbons), All Embroideries of Silk upon wearing Cloathes: WITH CERTIFICATION, That all such Goods as shall be imported contrary hereunto in any time coming, or which have been imported contrary to the saids Proclamations, shall be burnt and destroyed, and the Importers, or Resettlers fined in the value thereof. LIKE AS His Majesty, with advice and consent foresaid, strictly prohibits and discharges the wearing of any of the saids prohibited Goods, and Commodities within this Kingdom, by any of His Majesty's Subjects, or others dwelling and residing therein, after the first of April next, under the pain of five hundred merks Scots money, twies quoties, by and attour the Confiscation of the Cloathes, upon which any of the saids prohibited Goods shall be found; Allowing hereby to Officers and Souldiers of the Kings whole standing Forces, the space of two years after the first of November next, to wear out their Cloathes upon which there is any Gold or Silver Lace, Threed, or Buttons. LIKE AS His Majesty, with consent foresaid, strictly prohibits and discharges all Merchants and other Persons whatsoever, to import into this Kingdom, any forraign Holland-Linnen, Cambrick, Lawn, Dornick, Damesk, Tyking, Bousten, or Damety, Tuited or Stripped Holland, Calligo, Selesia, or East-India Linnen, & all other Forraign Cloaths & Stuffs, made of Linnen or Cottoun, Wool or Lint: (noways comprehending Flannen, Arras hangings, Forreign Carpets, and made Beds of Silk, Damesk-hangings, Chairs and Stools conform thereto) all forraign Silk or Woollen Stockings, all forraign Laces made of Silk, Gimp or Threed, all forraign Laces or point, of any sort or colour, all forraign made Gloves, Shooes, Boots, or Slippers, all wearing Cloathes made abroad for Men, Women, or Children, (excepting wearing Cloathes and Linnens brought home by Persons for their own use, who have been Abroad, and used by them, and made of such Cloathes, Stuffs, and Furniture as are by this Act allowed to be worene within this Kingdom.) WITH CERTIFICATION, that all such Goods as shall be imported contrary hereto, and contrary to the saids Proclamations, shall be burnt and destroyed, and the Importers or Resettlers thereof fined in the value of the saids Goods. And the Tacksmen, or Collectors of the Customs, Surveyers, Collectors, Waiters or their Servants, are hereby strictly required, and commanded, to search for, seize upon, apprehend, burn and destroy any of the saids prohibited Goods that shall happen to be imported contrary to this Act; With certification to them if they failzie, and suffer the saids prohibited Goods to be imported, either by tolerance or connivance, they shall not only amit and loose their places, and for ever be incapable to serve in that or any such Publick charge, but also tynd in the value of the Goods that through their fault or neglect, shall happen to be imported; and any Merchant, or other person, who shall inform against any of the Farmourers, Collectors, Surveyers, or Waiters, for neglect of their Duty in the Premiss, and prove the same, shall have their Fynes for their reward. LIKE AS, His Majesty RATIFIES, and APPROVES all Acts already made for the encouragement of the Manufacturies of this Kingdom, and encouragement of Strangers to come thereto, and set up their severall Callings therein:

and anent the Weaving and Bleaching of Linnen cloath, declaring, that if any Strangers shall come, or be brought into this Kingdom by Natives to set up, work, and teach his Art of making of Cloaths, Stuffs, Stockings, Soap, or any kinde of Manufactory, That he shall enjoy the benefit of Law, and all other privileges that a Native doth enjoy: with power to set up Manufacturies, either in Burgh or Land-ward, as they shall think fit, and there to dwell, and exercise their Trade, without any stop or trouble; and that they shall have liberty and freedom of Trade, and to buy and purchase Lands, and Heretages, and all other Goods moveable and immovable, and all other privileges, liberties, and capacities that do belong to any Native Subject, born within this Kingdom. And For the Farther encouragement of Manufacturies, all Oyl, dying Stuffs, forraign Wool, Lint, and Flax, Pot-ashes, or any other Materials whatsoever useful for Manufacturies, that shall be imported, are hereby declared to be free of Custom and Excise, and all other publick Dues in all time coming; and that all Cloaths, Stuffs, Stockings, or any other Commodities to be made, and exported by them, shall be free of all Custom and Excise, for the space of nineteen years after the date hereof. And it is farther declared, that any stock employed, or to be employed, for erecting and entertaining any Manufacturies, the same shall be free of all private and publick Taxes whatsoever, and all quartering and levying of Souldiers; and all the Servants of the saids Manufacturies shall be free of watching, warding, Militia, or Levies during their actual service therein, for the space of seven years after the date hereof. WITH POWER to the Masters, Erectors, or entertainers of Manufacturies, to meet for making of Ordinances for the Right ordering of their Servants, sufficiency of their Stuffs, Cloaths, and others, and appointing Visitors of their Works. AND HIS MAJESTY, with consent foresaid, RATIFIES and APPROVES the 43. Act of the 1. Session of His Majesties 1. Parliament, and the 46. Act of the same Session of Parliament, dischairgeing the exporting of Linnen yarne, Worsteed, Woolen yarne, raw or unwaked Cloaths (except Plaiding, Fingram, and Galloway white) under the pain of Confiscation thereof; And the Act of Parliament ordaining, that Linnen of the price of Ten shillings Scots the eln, or above, be not under the breadth of an eln and two inches, and that the same be taken up by the Selvedge and not by the Ridge, and so presented to the Mercat, and that the same be bleached without Lime, under the penalty of Confiscation of the Linnen otherwayes taken up, and bleached, and imprisonment, and Fyning of the persons transgressors, not exceeding the value of the Linnen. LIKEAS it is hereby ORDAINED, that hereafter, all Linnen brought to Mercat for publick Sale, be made up of Peeces and half Peeces, and that the Peece contain Twenty four elns, and the half Peece twelve elns, and that it contain not one eln more or less, under the pain of confiscation thereof. And that all Fingram, Plaiding, Linnen, and Woolen Droggats, to be made in time coming, shall be of the breadth of three quarters and an nail, all Sarges an eln and two inches, and the length of the Peece to be fifty, or fifty two elns to the whole Peece, and the half thereof to the half Peece, under the penalty foresaid, and that all the saids Peeces, whether Linnen or Woolen, be taken up in Folds, eln or three quarters long, and that none of them be rolled, that thereby the sufficiency of the whole Peece, may be known, and that the same be not stretched by the rolling, whereby the measure will not hold out; and that under the penalty foresaid, for all such Cloath otherwise taken up and presented to the Mercat. AND His Majesty, with ADVICE and CONSENT foresaid, DOETH Authorize the Lords of His Privy Council, to declare these Manufacturies already set up, or that hereafter shall be set up, to be such, to the effect they may enjoy the Priviledges, Liberties, and Immunities granted by the saids Acts of Parliament. AND for the more effectual execution of this Act, His Majesty with advice foresaid, ORDAINS the Collectors of the Assessment and Excise, and their Sub-Collectors, Farmourers and Collectors of Customs, and Waiters in Burgh or Land, at every Term to give upon Oath, to the Judges ordinary upon the place by Sea or Land, and Justices of Peace, Lifts of all those whom they have seen and observed to transgress this Act. And it is hereby declared, that the one half of the Penalties afore said, shall belong to themselves, and the other half shall be collected by them for His Majesties use, tryal being first taken, and the persons found guilty by the saids Judges ordinary, or the Justices of Peace, and such contraveners as they shall not give information of, that the one half of the Fynes shall belong to any other person who shall discover them: And in case the saids Collectors of Assessment and Excise, Farmourers, and Collectors of Customs, or Waiters shall by connivance, or otherwayes Failzie to give up the saids Lifts as afore said, they shall loose their Places, and be incapable of that Office for ever. IT IS alwayes hereby provided, That no persons contravening this Act, shall be lyable to the saids Penalties, unless they be found guilty within the space of three Moneths after Dilation in manner foresaid; But prejudice alwayes to any other person who shall discover the contraveners, and furnish probation against them, of the one half of the penalties, whensoever they shall discover them, they being alwayes discovered and found guilty, within the time and in manner foresaid. AND it is hereby DECLARED, That this present Act, is, and shall be in place of any former sumptuary Law, in relation to Apparel.

XV.

ACT Against Assassinations.

September, 13. 1681.

THE KING'S Most Excellent Majesty Considering, that notwithstanding Assassination be a Crime of a high nature inconsistent with, and wholly destructive to all human society: Yet such are the the pernicious principles, and wicked practises of several persons, That they doe assert, and maintain these villanous, Impious, and horrid Doctrines, and principles. THEREFORE, HIS MAJESTY, With advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament DOETH STATUTE, and ORDAIN, That not only all such persons who shall assassinate, But that all who shall maintain, or assert, That it is lawful to kill any man upon difference in opinion, or because they have been employed in the service of the King, or of the Church, as it is presently established by Law, shall incur the pain of Treason, and be punished by tinsel of Life, Lands, and Goods. AND Remembring with horror, the execrable murder of that most Reverend, & Worthy Prelat James late Arch-Bishop of Sanct-Andrewes, Lord Primat of Scotland, (who deserved so well of this Church, and Monarchy, for his eminent services to both) DOE Ordain the Sherriff of Fife and his deputs, To make weekly searches in these places, where it is, or may be, suspected these Assassins doe reside, that they may be brought to Justice, and exemplatly punished. And likewise ordains all other Sherriffs, and Magistrates, upon Information that those Assassins are within their bounds, To make search for and apprehend them, that they may be brought to Justice. AND DOE hereby Ratifie the former Acts of Council against such as shall reffer those Murderers.

ACT Concerning the Jurisdiction of the Admiral Court.

September 14. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, Considering that the clearing and establishing the Jurisdiction of the High Admiral of this Kingdom, will greatly tend to the advancement, and encouragment of Trade, and Navigation. THEREFORE, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, DOETH Ratify and approve the 15. Act of the 12. Parliament of King James the Sixth, in the whole Heads, Clauses, and Articles of the same, And Decerns, and Declares, the High Court of Admiralty to be a Sovereigne Judicature in it self, and of it's own nature to Import summar execution. And STATUTES and DECLARES, That the said High Admiral, as he is His Majesties Leive-tenant, and Justice General upon the Seas, and in all Ports, Harbours, or Creeks of the same, and upon Fresh waters, or Navigable Rivers below the first bridges, or within the flood marks, so far as the same does, or can at any time extend; So the said High Admiral hath the sole Priviledge and Justification, in all Maritim and Sea-faring causes, forreign and domestick, whether civil or criminal whatsoever within this Realm, and over all persons as they are concerned in the same. And Prohibits, and Discharges all other Judges to meddle with the decision of any of the saids causes in the first instance, except the Great Admiral, and his Deputs allennarly. And STATUTES, ORDAINS and DECLARES, that it is the Priviledge of the said High Admiral, to cause parties become enacted, and find Caution, not only for comparance, but for performance, of the Acts and Sentences of his Court, and that he may punish all breakers of his arrestments, and resisters of his Officers, in the Execution of his precepts, and apply the fines, and amerciaments to his own use, conform to the Laws of the Kingdom. And farther STATUTES and DECLARES, that the High Court of Admiralty is a supreme Court, and that the Decrets and Acts of all other Inferiour Courts of Admiralty, are subject to the review, and reduction, of the said High Court of Admiralty. AND for the more ready and quick dispatch of Justice, in Maritim, and Sea-faring causes, forreign and domestick, whether Civil or Criminal within this Realm, and over all persons in so far as they are concerned in the same, both to Natives and Strangers, OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD with advice and consent foresaid Prohibits and Discharges all Advocations in the foresaid causes, from the said Court of Admiralty to the Lords of Session, or any other Judges whatsoever in all time coming, and that no suspension or other stop to the Execution of the Decrets, or Acts, of the said Court of Admiralty, be past be the Lords of Session, at any time hereafter, except by the whole Lords, in presentia, in time of Session, and by three of the saids Lords the time of Vancance met together to that effect: And that if any suspensions, or stops shall happen to be past in manner foresaid, the same be summarly discussed upon a Bill, and be Priviledged and exeemed from the ordinary course of the Roll: And if upon discussing thereof, the same shall be found to have been unjustly, and maliciously raised, That the said High Court of Admiralty, may upon the Application made by the Parties concerned, Modifie, and Decern the Damages they have sustained by the saids suspensions, and stops of execution of thcit Acts and Decrets, attour the expences of plea before the Lords of Session, which is to be modified by the saids Lords of Session. AS ALSO His Majesty with advice and consent foresaid, STATUTES and ORDAINS, That it shall be lawful and competent to the said Court of Admiralty, to review their own Decrets and Sentences, if there be just occasion for the same. And His Majesty with advice and consent foresaid DECERNs and DECLARES, That it is the sole Right and Priviledge of the High Admiral, and his Deputs, the Judges of the High Court of Admiralty, To grant passes, and safe conducts to all Ships; And Inhibits and Discharges, all others to grant the same, as they will be answerable upon their highest perill. And His Majesty with advice and consent foresaid Casses, Annuls, and Rescinds, all and whatsoever Laws, Acts of Parliament, or Customs, contrary to, or any wayes inconsistent with this present Act.

ACT

XVII.

ACT Concerning the Sale of Bankrupts Lands.

September, 14. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, Considering, that when the Estates and Lands of Bankrupts are affected with Adjudications, Comprisings, and other real Rights, exceeding their value, It oftentimes falls out that the Creditors do not agree to sell the Lands, whereby such as have small sums upon such securities, cannot command any part thereof, and such Estates do oftentimes become ineffectual to many Creditors. THEREFORE, His Majesty, with consent of His Estates of Parliament, DOTH authorize, and empower the Lords of the Session (upon a Process at the instance of any Creditor having a real Right) To cognosce, and try the value of such Estates, where the Heretor is notoriously Bankrupt, and the Creditors in possession of the Estate, and to value the same according to the true worth thereof, in its Rents, Casualties, Rights, and Holdings, according to the use and custom of the Country where the Lands ly, And to commission persons to sell these lands, and Estate, or any part thereof, at the said rates, or more, as can be had for the same, with consent of the debtor, where there is a legal reversion competent to him, and without his consent where there is no legal: And ordains the said sale to be by a publick Roup, not being under the rate, and price, appointed by the Lords of Session; and that the Roup be made after publick intimation at the Mercat-crofs of the head Burgh of the Shire where the Lands ly, and at the head Burgh of the Bailiary, Stewartry, or Regality, if they ly within the same, and at the Paroch Kirk where the Lands ly, and at six other adjacent Paroch Kirks, (to be named by the Lords of Session) at the dissolving of the Congregation, on a Sunday after the forenoon's Sermon, by letters of intimation under the Signet, upon the Lords deliverance: Which letters shall specially express the time, and place of the Roup; And the Creditors having real rights and in possession shall be specially cited, upon Twenty one dayes, and all other persons concerned, whether within or without the Kingdom, at the Mercat-crofs of the head Burgh of the Shire, Stewartry, or Regality, and at the Mercat-crofs of Edinburgh, and Peer and Shoar of Leith upon sixty dayes, and a copy of the said intimation shall be affixed at all the places foresaid, expressing the Lands to be Rouped, the price appointed by the Lords of Session, and the time, and place of the Roup. Which alienation so made, and reported to the Lords, and by their warrant registrat in the Books of Council and Session, HIS MAJESTY, with consent foresaid, DECLARES, to be as effectual upon payment of the price, as if the same were made by the Debtor, and all the Appriters, Adjudgers, or other Creditors, who are so cited, and have any rights affecting the saids Lands, and that a Signature shall pass thereupon in Exchequer, and an warrant for charging the Superior to enter the Purchaser, upon payment of a years rent, DECLARING alwaies that the price which shall be gotten for the saids Lands conform to the Roup shall be distribut by the Commissioners appointed to sell the Lands, or by the Purchaser of the same, amongst the Creditors proportionally, according to their several sums, rights, and diligences, as they are, or shall be ordered, and found preferable by the saids Lords, whether the saids Creditors have compeared, or not.

XVIII.

ACT Asserting His Majestie's Prerogative in point of Jurisdiction.

September 16. 1681.

THE ESTATES of Parliament considering that all Government, and Jurisdiction within this His Majesties Ancient Kingdom of Scotland, does originally reside in his Sacred Majesty, his lawful Heirs, and Successours: And though His Majesty, and his Royal Predecessours, have bestowed Offices, and Jurisdictions, upon several of his well deserving subjects, yet these are not privative of his Jurisdiction, They doe therefore, in a dutiful, and humble Recognizance of His Majesties Royal Right, and Prerogative as to this point, DECLARE, that notwithstanding of these Jurisdictions, and Offices, His Sacred Majesty may by himself, or any commissioned by him, take Cognizance, and Decision, of any cases; or causes, he pleases.

XIX.

ACT Concerning the Oaths of Minors.

September 16. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, and Estates of Parliament, taking to their serious consideration, the great abuses which may be committed against Minors, within twenty one years of Age compleat, by by causing them subscribe Bonds of borrowed Money, Contracts of Alienation of their Lands, Dispositions, Discharges, and other Writs of Importance, and ratifie the same by Oath, swearing that they shall never come in the contrary, thereby depriving them of all the benefite of Revocation, Reduction, and Restitution in Integrum, allowed to them by the Laws of this Kingdom, where such Oaths are not made. IT IS THEREFORE Statute and Ordained, by the King's Majesty, with advice and consent of the saids Estates, That no such Oaths shall be exacted in time coming; And in case of Contravention, Declares the Contract to be void and null, and that no Execution shall pass thereupon, And Declares the Eliëitor, or Exacter of the Oath to be Infamous: And it is hereby declared, that it shall be competent to any Person related to the Minor, to obtain the saids Writs to be declared void and null, be way of Action, exception, or reply.

XX.

ACT Concerning Bills of Exchange.

September. 16. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, Considering how necessary it is for the flourishing of Trade, That Bills or Letters of exchange be duely payed and have ready Execution, conforme to the Custom of other parts, DOETH THEREFORE, with advice and consent of his Estates of Parliament, STATUTE and ORDAIN, that in case of any Forraign Bill of Exchange, from or to this Realm duely protested for not acceptance, or for not payment, the said Protest having the Bill of Exchange, prefixed, shall be Registrable within six Moneths after the date of the said Bill, in case of non-acceptance, or after the falling due thereof, in case of non-payment, in the Books of Council and Session, or other competent Judicatures, at the instance of the person to whom the same is made payable, or his Order, either against the Drawer, or Indorser, in case of an protest for non acceptance, or against the Acceptor, in case of a protest for non-payment, to the effect it may have the Authority of the Judges thereof, interponed thereto, that Letters of Horning upon a simple charge of six dayes, and others executorial necessary may pass thereupon, for the whole sums contained in the Bill, as well Exchange, as Principal, in forme as effects, sicklike, and in the same manner, as upon registrat Bonds, or Decrees of Registration, proceeding upon consent of Parties. PROVIDING alwayes, That if the saids Proteests be not duly Registrat within six Moneths, in manner above provided, Then and in that case, the saids Bills and Proteests, are not to have summar Execution, but only to be pursued by way of Ordinary Action, as accords. AND FARTHER, It is hereby STATUTE, and ENACTED, That the sums contained in all Bills of Exchange, bear Annual-rent, in case of not acceptance from the date thereof, and in case of Acceptance, and not payment, from the day of their falling due, ay and while the payment thereof. AND FARTHER His Majesty with advice foresaid, hereby Declares, That notwithstanding of the foresaid Summar Execution provided to follow upon Bills of Exchange, for the sums therein contained, in manner above specified; Yet it shall be leasom to the party charger to pursue for the exchange, if not contained in the saids Bills, with re-exchange, damage, interest, and all expences, before the Ordinary Judge, or in case of Suspension, to seek the same to the Charge at the discussing of the said Suspension, To the effect, that the same may be liquidat, and Decree given theretofore, either against the party principal, or against him and his Cautioners, as accords.

XXI.

LIKE AS, The saids Free-holders shall meet and convene, at the Head Burghs of the saids Shires, & Stewartries respectively, at the Michaelmas head Court yearly thereafter, and shall revise the said Roll of Election, and make such alterations therein, as have occurred since their last Meeting, from time to time; which Roll for Election shall be insert in the Sheriff, or Stewart books, particularly appointed for that end, according as they shall be stated each Michaelmas Court; And at the Election of Commissioners, either at the Michaelmas Court, or at the calling of Parliament, or Conventions, the saids Free-holders shall meet and convene at the Head-Burgh of the Shire, or Stewartry in that Rowm, where the Sherrieff or Stewart Court useth to be held, betwixt mid-day, and two afternoon, which Rowm shall be patent to them, and all others removed, but whom they call, and the first or second Commissioner last Elected, or in their absence the Sherrieff or Stewart Clerk shall ask the Votes who shall preside, and who shall be Clerk to the Meeting, and in case any alteration have happened in the said Roll of Elections since the last Meeting, the persons then coming to have right to Vote, shall be insert in the Roll, and there shall no objection be admitted against any Insert in the said Roll as said is, but what shall be propounded before they begin to vote to Election: And if the Objecters shall not be cleared, and acquiesce, they shall take Instruments containing their Objections against the admitting to, or excluding any person from the foresaid Roll: AND It is Hereby Declared, that no other Objection shall be competent in Parliament or Convention, but what shall be contained in the Instruments taken, as aforesaid: And in case Objections be made when a Parliament or Convention is not called, a particular Diet shall be appointed by the Meeting, and intimat to the Parties contraverting, to attend the Lords of Session, for their determination, who shall determine the same at the said Diet summarly according to Law, upon Supplication without farther Citation. And it is hereby Declared, that Horning for a civil Cause, or Non-residence, shall be no sufficient Objection, but that the Minority being instantly verified shall be a sufficient Objection, or the not taking the Tert appointed by the sixth Act of this present Parliament, which is hereby ordained to be subscribed by all the Voters in Presence of the Meeting; before they proceed to the Election, and recorded in the Sherrieff Court Books, and so returned with the Commission to the Clerk of Register. And if the Persons Objected against, shall appear at the Parliament, or Convention, and instruct the Right to Vote, the Objecter shall pay their expences, and be farther Fined in Five hundred Merks: And if the Objection be sustained in Parliament, the Objecters appearing shall have their expences, and the Party Objected against shall be Fined in Five hundred Merks. And to the effect that sufficient advertisement may be given to all parties having Vote in Election, who are to elect at the calling of a Parliament, or Convention, the Sherrieffs and Stewards, are hereby ordained to make Publication of the Call and Diet of the said Parliament, and Convention, and of the Diet appointed for Election, and that at the Head-Burgh of the Shire or Stewartry, upon a Mercat day betwixt ten and twelve in the Forenoon; And also shall make the like Intimation at each Paroch Kirk, on Sunday immediately thereafter, which Diets for Election, shall at least be twelve dayes before the Meeting of Parliament, or eight dayes before the meeting of a Convention, that the Commissioners elected may have sufficiency of time to keep the Diet of the Parliament or Convention. LIKE AS His Majesty with consent foresaid, STATUTES and ORDAINS, the whole Heretors, Liferenters, and Wodsetters, within each Shire, and Stewartry, to contribute for the charges of the Commissioners thereof, according to their valuation, except only those who hold of Noblemen, or Bishops, or Lands belonging to Burrows Royal in Burgage: And also to the expences of the Foot-Mantles.

XXII.

XXVI.

ACT Concerning Publick Debts.

September 17. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD Considering that diverse Noblemen, Barrons, and Burrowes, during the time of the late troubles, and Rebellion, did give their bonds for several great sums of money; Which albeit bearing for Borrowed money, were employed for the use of the Publick, and for security whereof, the pretended authority for the time, did by Acts of pretended Parliaments, during these troubles, bind and oblige the Estates of the Kingdom, to warrant, and relieve the Members of the saids Committees, and all other Persons whatsoever, who had given bonds or security, for any sums employed for the use of the Publick, And that upon the rescinding of these pretended Parliaments, HIS MAJESTY and Estates of Parliament, after his happy Restauration, in Anno 1661, for security of all such persons bound in these Bonds, did by an Act in that Parliament, suspend all execution, as well Real as Personal against the saids Persons, or their Heirs upon the foresaid Bonds, till the next Parliament: AND also in the subsequent Parliament holden in the year 1669, did continue the foresaid suspension, ay and while the foresaid Debts should be considered in Parliament. AND HIS MAJESTY now Considering, that the sums contained in the saids Bonds, granted by the foresaid persons, were employed for the use of the Publick, during the time of the said Rebellion, and that the saids persons by the rescinding of the foresaid Parliaments, are cut off from the Benefit of any reliefe granted, or contained, in any of the saids pretended Acts in their favours. THEREFORE, the King's Majesty, with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, by this present ACT, Exoners, and perpetually discharges, the saids Noblemen, Barons, and Burrowes, and all others granters of the saids Bonds, their Heirs, Executors, and Successors, of the saids Debts, and Bonds granted thereupon, and of all diligence, Pursue, Action, or Execution thereupon competent, as well Real as Personal, bygone or in time coming, And declares them and their foresaid, quit and free thereof for ever. PROVIDING alwaies that no Persons shall have the Benefit of this Act unless they take the Test appointed by the sixth Act of this present Parliament. DECLARING that the principal Debittour in these Bonds taking the Test, the Cautioner shall be free, and if the Principal refuse to take the Test, the Cautioner taking the same, shall be free as to his part. EXCEPTING alwaies the Heirs, Executors and Successors of the deceased Duke of Rothes late Lord Chancellour, who in Respect of his Eminent Loyalty and Service to His Majesty, are hereby absolutely exonerated and discharged of the saids Debts, without necessity of taking the foresaid Test, upon the account foresaid alennary; AND ALSO EXCEPTING Minors who shall not be obliged to take the Test upon the foresaid account, Untill they attain to the years of Majority. And in Regard there were Debts contracted by the Earles of Cassile and Louthian and others with them in the year 1650. for His Majesties Service. For which they granted their own Bonds, and which are mentioned in an Act of Parliament past in their favours, in the year 1661, HIS MAJESTY with consent foresaid Discharges all Action and Execution for the sums contained in these Bonds against the saids Earles and Others, who were bound with them and their Successors, in Respect the same is a publick Debt, The money having been Borrowed for His Majestie's service as said is.

XXVII.

ACT Anent the Prices of French and Spanish Salt.

September 17. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD Out of his Princely care to encourage the Manufacturies and other publick Works of this his Ancient Kingdom, and to prevent the Unnecessary Importation of foreigne commodities and the exorbitant prices that may be exacted from the Leiges. THEREFORE His Majesty with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, DOETH Erect and Declare All the Salt-works of this Kingdom to be free and publick Manufacturies: Endowing them, with all the Priviledges, Liberties, and Immunities, granted by Law in favours of any Manufactory, within this Kingdom. AS ALSO HIS MAJESTY Considering that the In-land Salt of this Kingdom, is sufficient for all other uses except the curing of Fishes, and Beeff exported, And that the foreigne Salt which shall be employed for the use of the Nation, may be furnished at the rates following: THEREFORE His Majesty with advice and consent foresaid, DOTH Statute, and Ordain, That all Importers of French Salt, or Retailers thereof, at the places, or Ports, where the same is imported, shall not upon any pretence whatsoever, exact more from the Leiges, then Five pounds Scots for the Lanlithgow Boll Boll of French Salt, Including the Forty shillings per Boll to his Majesty for Excise; And that Importers and Retailers of Spanish Salt, shall not exceed six pounds for the Linlithgow Boll thereof, including likewise the Excise, under the penalty of One Hundred pounds Scots, Toties quoties, for each Boll they shall sell above the rates forefaids, the one half thereof to his Majesty's use, and the other half to the Discoverer, who shall have power to pursue the Importers, who shall contravene this Act before the Judges Ordinary. IT IS ALWAIES hereby DECLARED, That this Act shall be but prejudice of His Majesties Prerogative asserted by the Twentieth and sixt Act of the Third Session of His Majesties first Parliament, And that His Majesty may alter the saids rates, upon such occasions as shall seem necessary to him, In His Royal Wisdom.

XXVIII.

ACT Salvo jure Cujuslibet.

September 17. 1681.

OUR SOVERAIGNE LORD, Taking to consideration, that there be many Acts of Ratifications, and others past and made in this Session of Parliament, in favours of particular Persons, without calling, or hearing, of such as may be thereby concerned, or prejudged: THEREFORE His Majesty with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, STATUTES, and ORDAINS, That all such particular Acts, and Acts of Ratification past in manner forefaid, shall not prejudice any Third party of their lawful Rights, nor of their Actions, and defences competent thereupon, before the making of the saids particular Acts, and Acts of Ratification; And that the Lords of Session, and all other Judges of this Kingdom, shall be obliged to Judge betwixt parties, according to their several Rights standing in their Persons, before the making of the saids Acts: All which are hereby exponed, and declared, to have been made Salvo jure Cujuslibet. EXCEPTING alwaies, the Act past in this present Parliament, discharging persons of bonds given by them in the time of the late Rebellion, for sums employed for the use of the publick, which is declared to be no ways comprehended herein.

XXIX.

ACT, Of Adjournment.

September 17. 1681.

THE KING'S MAJESTY, Declares this Parliament Current, and Adjourns the same, To the first day of March next, One thousand, six Hundreth, eighty and two years. AND ORDAINES all Members of Parliament, to attend that day; And that there be no new Elections, of Commissioners, from Shires, or Burghs, except upon the death of some of the present Commissioners.

Of the CONVENTION of

Of the Kingdom of SCOTLAND,

By a noble Lord, John Earl of Rothes, Lord Lesly and Bambreith, &c.
His MAJESTIES Commissioner:

For a free and voluntar offer of a TAXATION to His MAJESTY.

At Edinburgh, the fourth day of August, 1665.

THE Estates of the Kingdom of Scotland, conveyened at this time by His Majesties special Authority and Command, Taking to their consideration the great blessings this His Majesties antient Kingdom doth now enjoy under His Royal Government, being thereby delivered from all the miseries and bondage that do accompany the Iron Rod of an Insolent Usurpation, and possessed of all the Liberties and Priviledges of a free People, living under the Royal Scepter of their lawfull Prince, and that, by a full and free exercise of their Religion, with all suitable encouragements thereunto, by an equal and due administration of Justice, and peaceable and secure enjoyment of their Laws, Rights and Properties: Do find themselves obliged in conscience, honour and gratitude, to embrace every occasion, whereby they may witness to the world their just resentments thereof, and their readines to contribute their lives and fortunes for the maintaining and advancing of His Majesties Royal Authority, Power and Greatness; under the protection whereof, the Peace, Freedom and Interest of this Kingdom and Subjects thereof, is, and can only be, secured. And understanding, that His Sacred Majesty is now engaged in a War with the Inhabitants of the United Provinces, for the maintenance of His own Honour, and the Peace and Trade of His Kingdoms, and that thereby a new opportunity is offered to them to make good their professions of their zeal and affection to His Majesties service. Therefore, the Estates of the Kingdom, in a due sense of His Majesties Honour and Interest, and of their own duty, Do, with humble, loyal and cheerful hearts, for themselves, and in name of the whole Kingdom, whom they do represent, make humble and free tender to His Majesty of a Taxation, which they do humbly beseech His Majesty would be graciously pleased to accept of, and which is to be payed in manner, and at the terms following;

That is to say, the Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, Viscounts, Lords, and Commissioners of Shires, for the Temporal Estate, Have granted, that there shall be uplifted of every Pound-land of old extent within this Kingdom, pertaining to Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, Viscounts, Lords, Barons and Free-holders, and Fewers of His Majesties proper Lands, the sum of fourty shillings money, at every one of the five terms following, viz. The sum of fourty shillings at the term of Whitsonday, in the year of GOD, one thousand, six hundred, sixty six years; The sum of other fourty shillings at the term of Whitsonday, one thousand, six hundred, sixty seven years; The sum of other fourty shillings at the term of Whitsonday, one thousand land, six hundred, sixty eight years; The sum of other fourty shillings at the term of Whitsonday, one thousand, six hundred, sixty nine years; And the sum of other fourty shillings at the term of Whitsonday, one thousand, six hundred, seventy years, being the last term. And the Archbishops and Bishops, for the Spiritual Estate, Have granted, that there shall be uplifted of all Archbishopricks, Bishopricks, Abbacies, Pories, and other inferiour Benefices within this Kingdom, at every one of the five terms above-specified, the just Taxation thereof proportionally, according to the sum of fourty shillings money, now imposed upon the Pound-land, as they have been accustomed to be taxed unto in all time by-gone, when the Temporal Lands of this Kingdom were stinred only to thirty shillings the Pound-land of old extent, with the addition of a fourth part more: And the same Taxation to be payed at every one of the five terms above-specified. And the Commissioners of Burghs, for their Estate, Have granted, that there shall be uplifted of all the Burghs of this Kingdom, at every one of the five terms above-specified, the just Taxation thereof proportionally, according to the sum of fourty shillings money now imposed upon the Pound-land, as they have been accustomed to be taxed unto in all time by-gone, when the Temporal Lands of this Kingdom were stinred only to thirty shillings the Pound-land of old extent, with the addition of a fourth part more, to be payed at the respective terms above-written. And in regard, that His Majesty hath erected sundry Prelacies, and Temporal Lordships, whereby the owners thereof may claim to be taxed with the Barrons of the Temporal Estate, and thereby His Majesty would be defrauded of a great part of the said Taxation: Therefore the saids Estates Ordain, that all erections of Prelacies and other small Benefices, in whole or in part, in Temporal Lordships, shall, in payment of the said Taxation, pay to the Collector thereof, so much of the same Taxation (pro rata) as if they were no wayes erected, and as they were subject to do before the erection of the same. And sikelike, it is Statute and Ordained, that all dissolved Benefices within this Kingdom, in whole or in part, shall be subject in payment of so much of the same Taxation (pro rata) as they would have been subject to pay though the same had not been dissolved: And that those parties, who have gotten any part or portion of any Prelacies, or other inferiour Benefices, dissolved, and new Securities made unto them by His Majesty, of that part and portion thereof so dissolved, shall be subject in payment of the Taxation thereof to the Prelat or other beneficed Person, for his relief of the same Taxation, as they would have been so the same had not been dissolved; notwithstanding of any condition contained in the Inseftments and Securities made by His Majesty to them in the contrary thereof.

And further, His Majesty, with advice and consent of the said Estates; Declares, that the Lands and Teinds, belonging in property to the ordinary Lords of the Session, the Advocats, Clerks, Writers to the Signet, and other Members of the Colledge of Justice, and all few duties payable to them out of the Lands whereof they are Superiours; all Benefices given, disposed and mortified, for entertainment of Universities, Colledges, Schools or Hospitals (the Vassals holding of the saids ordinary Lords of the Session, and other Members of the Colledge of Justice, and of the said Universities, Colledges, Schools and Hospitals, being alwayes lyable in payment of this Taxation, for their Lands so holden, as others of His Majesties Subjects) all modified Stipends, and Vicarages where they are a part of the said modified Stipend; all Parsonages, Vicarages belonging to Ministers serving the Cure, where the said Parsonages and Vicarages do not exceed the value appointed by the Acts of Parliament for a modified Stipend, are, and shall be free from payment of any part of this present Taxation; And discharges and disannuls all Priviledges and Immunities, whereby any person may conceive himself free of the payment of any part of this present Taxation, except as above excepted. And Ordains the saids Senators of the Colledge of Justice, and other Members thereof, and the persons, in whose favours any Lands, Teinds or Superiorities have been given, disposed and mortified, for entertainment of Universities, Colledges, Schools or Hospitals, to send in to the Collector-general of the Taxation, or Clerk thereof, a note under their hands, threescore dayes before the first terms payment of this Taxation, of the Lands, Teinds, and Few-duties belonging to them, as said is, within what Shire they lie; and if they be Kirk-lands, what Benefice they hold of. And also Ordains, the Archbishops and Bishops, to send in to the said Collector or Clerk, betwixt and the time foresaid, a note under their hands, of the Parsonages and Vicarages belonging to Ministers serving the Cure within their respective Diocesses, which do not exceed the proportion allowed by the Acts of Parliament for a modified Stipend.

And for the more speedy and effectual in-bringing of the Spiritual Mens part of this said Taxation, Ordains Letters to be directed as formerly, charging all and sundry Archbishops and Bishops, Abbots, Priors; as likeways all Noblemen and others, in whose favours the erection of any Prelacy or other inferiour Benefice, or any part or portion thereof, be it in Lands, Kirks or Teinds, or in whose favours the Patronage of any Benefice, Kirks or Teinds, are past; And all other beneficed Persons contained in the taxed Rols, their heretable Baillies, Chamberlains, Factors and Intrometers with their Rents and Livings, personally or at their dwelling places, and by open Proclamation at the Mercat-Crosses of the head Burghs of the Sheriffdoms, Stewarties and Bailleries, where the said Prelacies, erected Lordships, and small Benefices lyes, if they be within this Kingdom: And if they be without the Kingdom, by open Proclamation, at the Mercat-Cross of Edinburgh, Peir and Shore of Leith, upon threescore dayes warning, to make payment of that sum, that they, and ilk one of them, are taxed unto, for every one of the saids five terms, to the Collector-general of the said Taxation, appointed, or to be appointed by His Majesty, or His Deputies and Officers in His Name, having His Power and Commission to receive the same, at the particular terms above-written, under the

the pain of Rebellion, and putting of them to the Horn, and if they failzie therein at the by-passing of every one of the said terms, to denounce the disobeyers Rebels, and put them to the Horn, and to Escheat, &c. And that the Prelats and beneficed Persons, and such Noblemen and others, in whose favours the Erections and Patronages above-written are past, for their relief have Letters as formerly, charging their Vassals, Sub-vassals, Ladies of Terce, Conjoint-fiars, Life-renters, Proper-wod-setters, who are not accountable for the superplus of the Rents, Fewers, Tacksmen and Pensioners, to make payment of their part of the said Taxation, ilk one of them, (pro rata) according to the sum they shall be taxed unto, to the saids Prelats, and other beneficed Persons, and to the said Noblemen and others having power to receive the same, within twenty dayes next after the Charge, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. And if they failzie, &c. to denounce, &c. and escheat, &c. and to poynd and distreinzie therefore, as they should think most expedient: Providing alwayes, That the first termes payment of the said Taxation be ever past, before the next termes payment be charged for. And the Estates Declares, That the production of sufficient Hornings against the said Vassals, Fewers, Tacksmen and Pensioners, shall be a relief to the saids Prelats, Lords of Erections and beneficed Persons; and shall exoner them (pro tanto) from payment of the said Taxation: Providing, That the same Hornings, with their Taxt Rols authentickly made and subscribed by the said Prelats, Lords of Erections and other beneficed Persons, and by their Fewers, Vassals, Tacksmen and Pensioners, in manner hereafter prescribed, containing the particular sum which each one of them are taxed unto; be delivered to the Collector of the same Taxation, within the space of threecore dayes after every terme: otherwayes, he shall be no wayes obliged to receive the same, neither shall the Prelat, Lord of Erection nor beneficed Person, be exonered by production of the same at any time thereafter.

And further, that the said Prelats, and such Noblemen and others, in whose favours the Erections and Patronages above-written are past, and all other beneficed persons, may have their relief of their Vassals, Sub-vassals, Ladies of Terce, Conjoint-fiars, Life-renters, Fewers, Wodsetters foresaid, Tacksmen and Pensioners, to the greater ease and less trouble to the said Vassals and others foresaid: And to the effect, that every one proportionally may pay his part of the said Taxation, according to the quantity and avail of the free Rent which he hath of his Benefice, Lands, Pensions, Kirks, and Feind-heaves pertaining to him, as well Prelat, Lord of Erection, Patron and other beneficed Persons themselves, as the Fewer, Tacksmen and Pensioner; It is thought Expedient, Statute and Ordained, That the said Prelats and others above-rehearsed, every one of them severally, shall convene his whole Fewers, Vassals, Tacksmen and Pensioners, at the particular places hereafter designed: They are to say, The Archbishop of St. Andrews at the City of St. Andrews, the Archbishop of Glasgow at the City of Glasgow, the Bishop of Edinburgh at the City of Edinburgh, the Bishop of Orkney at the Town of Kirkwall, the Bishop of Caithness at the Town of Durnock, the Bishop of Ross at the Town of Chanry of Ross, the Bishop of Murray at the Town of Elgin, the Bishop of Aberdeen at the Burgh of Aberdeen, the Bishop of Briehen at the Burgh of Briehen, the Bishop of Dunkell at the Town of Dunkell, the Bishop of Dumblain at the Town of Dumblain, the Bishop of Galloway, at the Town of Wigtown, the Bishop of Argyll at the Town of Inverary, the Bishop of the Isles at the Burgh of Rothesay in Bute, the Abbot of Icolmkill at the Burgh of Rothesay, the Prior of Ardrachattan at the Burgh of Rothesay, the Abbot of Fairn at the Burgh of Tayn, the Lord Beuley at the Burgh of Inverness, the Lord of Kinlofs at the Burgh of Forres, the Prior of Pluscarden at the Burgh of Elgin, the Lord of Dier at the Town of Peterhead, the Prior of Fryy at the Town of Turrif, the Prior of Monymusk at the Town of Monymusk, the heretable Bailly of the Lordship of Arbroth at the Burgh of Arbroth, the Lord of Scoon at the Burgh of Perth, the Lord Cowper at the Town of Cowper in Angus, the Prior of Reslenneth at the Burgh of Forfar, the Collector of this present Taxation in place of the Priors of Charterhouse, the Seat now vacant, at the Burgh of Perth, and the like in other cases where any Seats are vacant, at the places appointed by this present Act; the Prior of Elcho at the Burgh of Perth, the Prior of Strathbilland at the Kirk of Comry, the Lord of Inchaffray at the Burgh of Perth, the Prior of Inchmacbomo at the Burgh of Sterling, the Bailly of the Regality of Dumfermling at the Burgh of Dumfermling, the Lord of Balmernoch at the Burgh of Cowper in Fife, the Lord Lyndoris at the Burgh of Cowper in Fife, the Masters of St. Leonards Colledge in St. Andrews for the Priory of Portmuck at the Burgh of Cowper in Fife, the Prior of Pettenweym at the Burgh of Pettenweym, the Lord of St. Colmb at the Burgh of Inverkeithing, the Lord of Culrofs at the Burgh of Culrofs, the Abbot of Cambuskenneth at the Burgh of Stirling, the Lord Torphichan at the Burgh of Linlithgow, the Prior of Marwell at the Burgh of Linlithgow, the Lord Newbottle at the City of Edinburgh, the Priorefs of Haddington at the Burgh of Haddington, the Lord of the Temporal Lands of the Priory of North-berwick at the Burgh of North-berwick, the Patron and Parson of the Kirk of Kilconchar, dissolved from the Priory of North-berwick, at the Town of Ely; the Patron and Parson of the Kirk of Largo, dissolved from North-berwick, at the Town of Largo; the Patron and Parson of the Kirk of Mayboll, dissolved from North-berwick, at the Town of Mayboll; the Patron and Parson of the Kirk of Logie, dissolved from North-berwick, at the Burgh of Stirling; the Lord of Kelfo at the Town of Kelfo, the Lord of Coldingham at the Town of Eymouth, the Lord of Dryburgh at the Town of Dryburgh, the Prior of Eccles at the Town of Dunee, the Prior of Coldstream at the Town of Dunee, the Lord of Jedburgh at the Burgh of Jedburgh, the Lord Melrose at the Town of Melrose, the Lord of the Paislay at the Town of Paislay, the Lord Blantyre at the City of Glasgow, the Lord and Bailly of the Temporal Land of Kirkwinning, dissolved from the Abbacy of Kirkwinning, at the Burgh of Irwing; the Abbot of Corfs-Ragwel, at the Town of Mayboll, the Prior of Whitborn at the Burgh of Whitborn, the Abbot of Saulfer at the Burgh of Whitborn, the Prior of St. Mary-Ile at the Burgh of Kirkcudburgh, the Lord of Dundrennand at the Burgh of Kirkcudburgh, the Lord of Glenluf at the Burgh of Wigtoun, the Abbot of Tungland at the Burgh of Wigtoun, the Abbot of New-abbay at the City of Edinburgh, the Abbot of Holywood at the Burgh of Dumfries, the Prior of Canaby at the Burgh of Amman, the Baron and Bailie of the Barrony of Broughtoun, dissolved from the Lordship of Holy-rud-bouse, at the City of Edinburgh; the Heretors of the hundred Pound-land of the Barrony of Munkland, dissolved from the Lordship of Newbole, at the City of Glasgow; the Minister of Felfoord at the Burgh of Air, the Minister of Scotlandwell at the City of St. Andrews, the Minister of the Crofs Kirk of Peebles at the Burgh of Peebles, the Parron and Parlon of the Kirk of Dundee, dissolved from the Abbacy of Lindores, at the Burgh of Dundee; And all other beneficed Persons at the Paroch Kirks of their particular Benefices: and that they conven to the effect above-written, upon the twenty fifth day of October, in this present year of God, one thousand, six hundred, sixty five years, which is declared to be the precise day appointed for all their Vassals, Fewers, Tack-men and Pensioners to keep the said Meeting; and that no further citation of summoning shall be requisite, then this Proclamation, and publication of this present Act at the Mercat-crosses of the head Burghs of this Kingdom.

As also it is Declared by His Majesty and His said Estates, That if any Vassals, Sub-Vassals, Fewers, Tack-men of Teinds, Pensioners, or any other Justly bound to make relief to Prelat, Lord of Erection, Parron or other beneficed person, of any part of the said Taxation, shall send any Procurator in his name sufficiently authorized to the said Meeting; the same shall not only excuse the principal Parties absence, but the Procurators shall be admitted in all things, and received to do and perform in the distribution of the said Taxation, what could, or lawfully might, have been done by him who sent him. It is likewise Declared, that the Prelat, Lord of Erection, Patron, or other beneficed Person, impeded by disease, or diverted upon some other necessary occasions, from attending that Meeting, having his absence supplied that day by a sufficient worthy person, whom he shall authorize and appoint to that effect, shall be as lawful as if he were personally present himself; and the party so authorized shall be admitted and received in all things, to do and perform in the distribution of the same Taxation, what could, or lawfully might, have been done by him who sent him.

It is further Statute and Ordained, That at the said day of Meeting, the saids Prelats, Lords of Erection, Parrons and other beneficed Persons, shall by themselves, or by their Procurators lawfully authorized as said is, fence and hold Court, call by name and surname upon every one of their Vassals, Sub-vassals, proper Woodfeters, Fewers, Tack-men of Teinds, Pensioners and others obliged to relieve them of any part of the same Taxation, and lawful time of day being bidden, to shew to their said Vassals, Fewers, Tack-men and Pensioners, or their procurators comparing for them, the quantity of the Taxation imposed upon their Prelacy, erected Lordship or other Benefice, authentickly subscribed by the Clerk of the same Taxation; and they all (at the least so many of them as shall conven for that effect, with consent of the most part) shall distribute the same, to be payed by every man, as well as by the Prelate, Lord of Erection and present possessors of final Benefice, for the free rent that every one of them hath of their Prelacies, erected Lordships and small Benefices, as by the Vassal, Fewer, Tack-man and pensioner, according to the great and small quantity of the free Rent which every one of them hath either of their Lands, Teinds or Pensions: With certification to any of the saids persons, Fewers, Vassals, Tack-men and pensioners, that compare not by themselves or their Procurators, at the day and place above-specified, to the effect foresaid; that such as shall conven with the saids Prelats, Lords of Erection, Patrons or other beneficed Persons, or their Procurators, shall proceed in the equal distribution of the same Taxation, as well amongst them that are absent, as present; and shall make and subscribe an authentick Taxt-roll thereupon; the Teinds valued since the year, one thousand, six hundred, twenty seven years, being limited and estimat without respect to the said Valuations, sicklike, and in the same manner, with the addition of a fourth part, as they were for the Taxation granted in the year, one thousand, six hundred, thirty three years, and to be taxed accordingly. And in case that none of the saids Vassals, Fewers, Tack-men and Pensioners, shall conven at the day and place above-specified, to this effect, by themselves or their Procurators, but shall wilfully absent themselves from the said meeting; it shall be lawful for the saids Prelats, Lords of Erection, Patrons and other beneficed persons, being present by themselves or their Procurators, at the day and place above-specified, to make, set down and subscribe the same Taxt-roll; And in case any of the saids Prelats, Lords of Erection, Patrons or other beneficed persons, shall not conven by themselves or their Procurators at the day and place above-specified, particularly designed to every one of them; it shall be lawful for the saids Vassals, Fewers, Tack-men and Pensioners, at the least so many of them as shall conven by themselves or their Procurators, to make, set down and subscribe the said Taxt-roll; which Taxt-roll shall contain the particular sum that every one shall be found justly to be addebted to pay, the parties name addebted to pay the same, and the cause wherefore the same ought to be payed. And being so set down, either by the Prelat, Lord of Erection, Patron and other beneficed person, or their lawfull Procurators, with so many of their Vassals, Sub-vassals, Fewers, Tack-men of Teinds, Pensioners and others obliged to relieve them of any part of the same Taxation, tion, as shall convene with them to this effect; and in case that none shall convene with them, the said Roll being then set down by the Prelat, Lord of Erection, Patron or other beneficed Person, or their lawful Procurators, or in case of their absence, being set down, made and subscribed by the most part of the said Vassals, Fewers, Tacksmen and Pensioners, by themselves or their Procurators, as shall convene themselves for this effect; His Majesty and the said Estates Declares to be as lawful in all respects, as if the whole number of persons having interest therein had convened, made, set down and subscribed the same; which Taxt-roll being so set down, made and subscribed in manner above-written (and no otherwayes) and delivered to the Clerk of the Taxanon; His Majesty and the said Estates, Ordains him to give warrant for giving of Letters of relief thereupon; discharging him, in any case, to give warrant for giving of Letters of relief upon any Roll presented to him, not made and authentickly subscribed in form above-written, as he will answer to the contrary upon his perill.

It is likewise Statute and Ordained, That Tacksmen of Teinds shall have their relief of their Sub-tacksmen, pro tanto, respect being had to the gressum payed by the said Sub-tacksmen. And in regard that divers Kirks have been of new erected, and several augmentations of Ministers Stipends granted since the year, one thousand, six hundred, twenty seven years, to the diminution of the Spirituality: It is therefore Statute and Ordained, That where Kirks have been of new erected, or any augmentations of Ministers Stipends granted since the time foresaid, out of the Teinds belonging to Archbishops, Bishops, or other beneficed Persons, or to any Nobleman or other, in whose favours the Erection of any Prelacy, or other inferiour Benefice, in whole or in part, has been made and past, the Collector of the Taxation shall allow and deduce to the saids Archbishops, Bishops, or any other beneficed Persons, or Nobleman and other Persons, out of whose Teinds the Stipends of the new erected Kirks, and the foresaid augmentations have been granted, and who have gotten no prorogation in recompence thereof, such a proportion of the said Taxation as shall be esseirand to the proportion of the said Stipend or Augmentation granted out of their Teinds: Which Stipend & Augmentation, what the same amounts to, shall be attested by the Bishop of the Diocess; Providing, that the whole Teinds of the saids Benefices be stinted proportionally, as they were for the Taxation granted in the year, one thousand, six hundred, thirty three years, with a fourth part more.

And for in-bringing of the Barrons and Free-holders part of the same Taxation, and of the Fewers & Rent-tellers of our Sovereign Lords proper Lands, their part thereof; Ordains Letters to be directed as formerly; charging all and sundry Sheriffs, Stewarts, Baillies, their Deputies, Clerks, Fewers, Chamberlains, and Receivers of our Sovereign Lords proper Lands; That they, and every one of them, within the Bounds of their proper Offices, raise and uplift the sum of forty shillings money of this Realm, of every Pound-land of old extent, lying within the bounds of their Jurisdictions, for every one of the saids five terms above-specified, and in-bring and deliver the same to the Collector foresaid, or to his Deputies and Officers in his name, having his power to receive the same, at the particular terms above-specified, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. And if they failzie, at the by-passing of every one of the said terms, to denounce & escheat, &c. And Declares, That no Privilege or Immunity shall be of any force to stop the execution of the Law against them upon the premises; And for their relief, that Letters be directed as said is, charging all and sundry Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, Viscounts, Lords, Barrons, Free-holders, Fewers, and Rent-tellers of our Sovereign Lords proper Lands, personally, or at their dwelling places, and by open Proclamation at the Mercat-crofs of the head Burgh of the Sheriffdom, Stewartrie or Bailliery where their Lands lye, if they be within the Kingdom: And if they be without the Kingdom, by open Proclamation at the Mercat-crofs of Edinburgh, Perth and Shore of Leith, upon threescore dayes warning, to make payment to the said Sheriffs, Stewarts, Baillies, their Deputies and Clerks, Chamberlains and Receivers of our Sovereign Lords proper Lands, every one of them for their own parts respective, of the said sum of forty shillings money foresaid, for every Pound-land of old extent pertaining to them, for every one of the said five terms payment, within twenty dayes next after they be charged thereto, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. And if they failzie, &c. to denounce and escheat, &c. And if need be, That the saids Sheriffs, Stewarts, Baillies, their Deputies and Clerks, Chamberlains and Receivers of our Sovereign Lords proper Lands, poynd and distreine the readiest Goods and Gear, being upon the saids Lands, therefore, as they shall think most expedient. And that the saids Noblemen, Barrons and Free-holders, Fewers and Rent-tellers of our Sovereign Lords proper Lands, have Letters for their relief, as said is, to charge their Vassals, Sub-vassals, Ladies of Terce, Conjunct-fiers, Proper-woodfettors and Life-renters, to make payment of their parts of the said Taxation, within twenty dayes next after the charge, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. and if they failzie, &c. to denounce, &c. and escheat, &c. And if need be, that they poynd and distreine therefore: Providing alwayes, that the first terms payment of the said Taxation be ever past before the next term be charged for.

And also Declares, That where any Goods are poynded within any of the Isles of this Kingdom, for payment of any part of this Taxation, the apprising of the saids Goods, at the Paroch Kirk of the Lands where they were poynded, shall be as valid and sufficient, as if they were apprited at the head Burgh of the Shire. And in case any person, lyable in payment of the Taxation, within the Shires of Inverness, Ross, Argyll, Caitness, Sutherland, Orkney and Zetland, shall not make payment of the respective sums due by them, within twenty dayes after they are denounced, then to be further lyable in payment of the double of the sums due, and all execution to pass against them therefore: And recommends to the Lords of His Majesties

Privy Council, to take such further course for in-bringing of the Taxation, payable out of the fore-named Shires, as they shall think fit.

Likeas, His Majesty, taking to His gracious consideration the grievance represented to His Highness, by divers of His Subjects, within the Shires of Lanerick, Air, Ransfrew, Dumbartoun, Bute, Argyl, Wigtoun, Dumfries and Peebles, anent the high extent of their Retours, Doth, with consent of His said Estates, Declare, That as to the present Taxation, the Pound-lands of the whole Temporal Lands within the saids Shires of Lanerick, Air, Ransfrew, Dumbartoun, Bute, Argyl, Wigtoun, Dumfries and Peebles, with the Stewarries and Bailleries lying within the same, shall only be taxed and pay as if they were Merk-lands: But that the said Retours shall stand and pay as formerly, to all other intents and purposes.

And for in-bringing of the Burroughs part of the same Taxation, Ordains Letters to be directed, charging the Provost and Baillies of ilk Burgh to make payment of the Tax and Stent thereof to the Collector-general aforesaid, his Deputies and Officers in his name, having his power to receive the same, at the particular terms above-specified, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. And if they failzie, &c. to denounce and escheat, &c. And for their relief, that Letters be directed, charging the Provost, Baillies and Council within each Burgh to convene, and elect certain persons to stint their neighbours: And the said election being made, to charge the persons elected, to accept the charge upon them in setting of the said stint upon the Burgessees and Inhabitants of every Burgh, and to convene and set the same, and make a Stint-roll thereupon as effecters, within twenty four hours next after their charge, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. And if they failzie, &c. to denounce and escheat, &c. And sicklike, the said Stint-roll being made and set down; as said is, to charge the Burgessees, In-dwellers and Inhabitants within ilk Burgh, to make payment of their part of the said Stint to the said Provost and Baillies, conform to the Tax-roll to be given out thereupon, within three dayes next after the charge, under the pain of Rebellion, &c. And if they failzie, &c. to denounce and escheat, &c. And if need be, that the said Provost and Baillies, poynd and distreinzie therefore, as they shall think most expedient. It is alwayes provided, that no person whatsoever be stinted or taxed within Burgh, except according to the avail and quantity of his Rent; Living, Goods and Gear which he hath within Burgh; no wayes respecting his Lands nor Possessions which he hath to Land-ward, for the which he will be obliged to pay Taxation to other Officers: Providing alwayes, that the first terms payment of the said Taxation be ever past before the next term be charged for.

Attour, His Majesty and the saids Estates, Decerns and Declares, That the charges to be given for payment of the said Taxation, shall be executed before the terms of payment above-specified, for every terms payment particularly by itself; and that the denunciation of the Horning, following thereupon, shall not be executed untill the term of payment be bypast, and twenty dayes thereafter; Which denunciation so following, upon the charges given before the saids terms of payment, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Decerns and Declares to be valid and sufficient.

And His Majesty, with consent of the said Estates, Ordains the Lords of Session to be only Judges to all Suspensions to be craved and suited by any of our Sovereign Lords Lieges touching the said Taxations: Which Suspensions, the saids Estates find may be granted, upon lawfull and equitable reasons to be considered by them; and discharges all other Judges within this Kingdom of granting of any Suspensions thereanent. With power to the saids Lords to delect five at the least of their ordinary number, as they shall think expedient, to sit, cognosce and decide the said Suspensions in time of vacancy, if need be.

And lastly, The Kings Majesty, Declares, in favours of all His Subjects, lyable in payment of this Taxation, that they shall not be holden to produce their discharges or Receipts of the said Taxation, from, and after, the term of Whitsonday, one thousand; six hundred, seventy three years; unless where diligence hath been used by denunciations against them; before the elapsing of the said term of Whitsonday, one thousand, six hundred, seventy three years: And Ordains all Commissions granted to Sub-collectors, for up-lifting and in-bringing of the said Taxation, to be insert and registrar in the Books of Council and Session; And these presents to be printed and published at the Mercat-cross of Edinburgh and other places needfull, where-through none pretend ignorance of the same.

O f t h e K i n g d o m o f S C O T L A N D,

By a noble Lord, John Earl of Rothes, Lord Lesly and Bambreith, &c.
His MAJESTIES Commissioner:

For a new and voluntar offer to His MAJESTY, of seventy two thousand pounds
Monethly, for the space of twelve Moneths.

At Edinburgh, the 23. day of January, 1667.

THE Estates of the Kingdom of Scotland, being by His Majesties Authority met together at this time, and taking to their consideration the great happiness this Kingdom doth enjoy under His Majesties Royal and Wise Government; with His Majesties Fatherly care and tenderness for all the Concerns thereof, express in every instance wherein His Majesty could have the least opportunity to manifest the same: And especially, in so seasonably providing for their security, by the Forces raised this last Summer by His Royal Command, and maintained hitherto at His own Charge; of whose courage, fidelity and usefulness this Kingdom hath had a recent and clear demonstration. And withall, understanding that His Majesty is still engaged in a just and necessary War; against so many powerful Enemies, who will probably endeavour the invading of His Majesties Dominions: Do conceive themselves obliged in Conscience, Honour and Duty to provide all suitable remedies for defence of the Kingdom against all Forraign Invasion, and other Enemies whatsoever: And therefore the Convention of Estates for themselves, and as the Representatives of the Kingdom, do revive and renew all the former engagements of the late Parliament, and meeting of the Estates, for the tender of their lives and fortunes, for the maintenance of His Majesties Royal Greatness, Authority and Government in Church and State, as it is now asserted and established by the Laws of the Kingdom. And in order to the entertainment of these Forces, which have been by His Majesties care so seasonably raised for defence of the Kingdom, or shall hereafter be raised by His Majesties warrant: They do humbly beseech His Majesty may be graciously pleased to accept their unanimous, willing and chearful offer of a new supply of threescore and twelve thousand pounds Monethly, for the space of twelve Moneths, to commence from the first day of this current Moneth of January. And the Estates do declare, that this supply is over and above the former supplies of four hundred, and fourscore thousand pounds, granted by the late Parliament to His Majesty yearly, during His Lifetime: And the other supply of one hundred, and thirty three thousand pounds, granted by the late Convention yearly, for the space of five years: And which new supply of threescore twelve thousand pounds Monethly, is ordered to be raised and payed by the several Shires and Burghs of this Kingdom, according to the Valuations in the year of God, one thousand, six hundred, and sixty, and at the proportions underwritten, respective: That is to say;

- The Sheriffdom of Edinburgh, the sum of three thousand, one hundred, eighty three pounds, and eight shillings.
- The Sheriffdom of Haddington, the sum of two thousand, seven hundred, eighty two pounds, and six shillings.
- The Sheriffdom of Berwick, the sum of two thousand, eight hundred, thirteen pounds, and one shilling.
- The Sheriffdom of Roxburgh, the sum of three thousand, six hundred, eighty six pounds, seventeen shillings, and six pennies.
- The Sheriffdom of Selkirk, the sum of nine hundred, four pounds, and nine shillings.
- The Sheriffdom of Peebles, the sum of one thousand, fourty two pounds, and eight shillings.
- The Sheriffdom of Lanerk, the sum of three thousand, ninety one pounds, and twelve shillings.
- The Sheriffdom of Dumfries, the sum of two thousand, seven hundred, twelve pounds, and seventeen shillings.

AND for the Burghs, the Magistrats of the same for the time being, with power to them to choose Stent-Masters within their respective bounds. Which Commissioners are hereby ordained to accept and discharge their trust, as they will be answerable. And are at their acceptation thereof to take the Oaths of Allegiance, and for doing their duty faithfully in the matter of this Administration, and to sign the Declaration appointed by Act of Parliament to be signed by all persons in Publick Trust: And which Commissioners are hereby impowered to call for, and consider the Valuations of all Lands, Teinds, and other real Estate within their respective Shires and Burghs; And such as they shall find just and equal, that they approve thereof, and appoint the same to be the rule for levying and raising this present supply. And where Lands, or Teinds, or other real Estate, did the time of former Valuations pertain to, and were in the hands of one person, and are since dismembered and disposed to several persons in parcels, so that the value of each parcel by it self cannot be known by the former Valuations, the Commissioners are hereby impowered in this and all other cases of that nature, or where they shall find any just cause by inequality to value of new again. As also, to value the Rents of all Archbishopricks, Bishopricks, and other Benefices, in so far as they exceed the ordinary value of modified Stipends: Provided alwayes that notwithstanding of the Valuation thereof within the Shire where there is any such Lands, Teinds, or other real Rent, the total and proportions above-specified of the said Shires continue without any alteration; And that after the Valuation of the said Benefices, a proportional abatement and ease effeirand to the proportion payable out of the said Benefices be granted to the Heretors and others within the said Shires, lyable in payment of the said supply; and that from the first day of January instant. And where any Complaint or Representation shall be made of the Valuations by any persons concerned, that the Valuations are unequal, and that the Lands and other real Estate and Rents within the Shires or Burghs, are either over, or undervalued; The Commissioners are hereby empowered to hear and determine upon the saids Complaints, and upon trial, to rectifie all such Valuations as they shall find unequal. And they are to take course that all persons within the Shires and Burghs be equally and proportionally burdened: And in order hereunto, all persons who conceive themselves grieved by former Valuations, are hereby appointed and warranted to make application to the Commissioners of the respective Shires and Burghs where their Estates ly, betwixt and the tenth day of April next: And the saids Commissioners, or Quorum thereof (which is hereby declared to be the Major part) are ordained to proceed and determine thereupon, and to perfect and close their Valuations betwixt and the first day of June next. And their first meeting to be the second Wednesday of March, at the head Burgh of the Shire, and thereafter to adjourn their meeting to such diets and places as they shall think fit. It is alwayes provided, that this supply for the first three Moneths, to be levied and paid according to the Valuations already made: But after that any of the saids Valuations shall be rectified, the supply is then to be payed according to the said rectification. And those persons whose Valuations shall be rectified, are in the first end of the next payment to have retention of what they shall have payed more then their just proportion in the former Moneths: And these persons who shall be found to have been undervalued, shall after the rectifying of the Valuations pay their proportions accordingly; and what they shall have payed less then their just proportions for the former Moneths, they shall also pay the same to the Collector, for relief of those that payed more then their proportions. It is alwayes understood, that the total proportion upon the whole Shire shall remain intire, without any alteration or diminution. And further, the saids Commissioners are hereby empowered to call before them all persons concerned, and to direct Precepts, if need beis, against Parties and Witnesses; and to take Oaths, and use all other means of tryal, and to call for their assistance, information and advice, all such persons within the Shire or Burgh as they shall think fit, and if any shall refuse, the Commissioners are to represent the same to the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, that they may be censured for their contempt. And the saids Commissioners are also hereby empowered to prescribe and set down such Rules and Orders within the respective Shires and Burghs, as may be most effectual for the speedy and easie raising, leaving, and bringing in of the said supply, and ordering and doing every thing that may concern the same: And particularly, with power to them to choose their own Collectors for in-gathering of the said supply, for whom they are to be answerable, and to allow them and their Clerks such Fees, to be payed by the Shires and Burghs, as they shall think fit. And which Collectors and Clerks are to take the Oaths, and sign the Declaration foresaid. And the Kings Majesty doth with advice and consent of His Estates, ordain all execution real and personal to pass at the instance of the Collector General, and the Collectors of the respective Shires and Burghs, against all persons deficient in payment of their proportions, as formerly: And also, impowers the Commissioners by their Officers, to Arrest, Poynd and Distrenzie the Goods, and Imprison the Persons of the Deficients, ay and while they make payment of their just proportions and necessary expenses. And for the more ready and effectual payment, doth also impower the Commissioners and Collector General to Quarter upon Deficients, with this expresse provisô, that every Horse-man that shall be upon the place, shall have only free single Quarter allotted to them upon the persons Deficient, or be Quartered in Burghs or Villages, as the Commissioners shall appoint; and in that case to have fifteen shillings Scots a-day, from the time of presenting the Order to the Collector, and their stay upon the place, or eight shillings for their own Diet, and the Commissioners to cause provide every Horse with twenty pound weight of sufficient Straw, and three fourth parts of Oats in the twenty four hours, if the Horse-men cannot conveniently provide themselves in the places where they ly: And each Foot-man to have four shillings Scots, or their Diet, as the Commissioners shall order; and the Commander of the Party, Horse or Foot, to have only double Quarter, or pay of an Horse-man or Foot-man as he serves. And declares, that in order to the Quarters, and matters relating to the in-bringing of this supply, any three of the Commissioners shall be a Quorum, and who are impowered to proportion upon, and raise from the Deficients the expence and charge of their deficiency. And the Kings Majesty considering, That the Land and real Rent of the Kingdom, is lyable to His Majesty for this supplie, and that the said Land-rent is under many other great burdens, and His Majesty being desirous to ease the same so far as is possible: Doth therefore, and for relief thereof, with advice of His Estates, Statute and Ordain, that all persons, Inhabitants within the severall Shires, past sixteen years of Age (excepting Archbishops, Bishops, Noblemen, Barons, Heretors, Liferenters, and Beneficed Persons, bearing burden for their real Estates, and all Beneficed Persons, whose Benefices exceed not the ordinary Value of Modified Stipends; all Stipendary Ministers, School-Masters, Readers, Precentors and their Wives and Children: And also excepting the Colledge of Justice, and Members thereof; Officers of the Mint, and their Wives, Children and Servants) be Taxed, and pay in to the Heretors and others lyable for real Rent, under whom they live, and for their relief, the sums of Money after-mentioned, for this year, one thousand. six hundred, sixty seven; viz. Each Gentleman above the quality of a Tennant, the sum to be appointed by the Heretor, not exceeding six pounds Scots for himself, his Wife and Children; And each Tennant and other Inhabitant, above the quality of a Tradfman, Cotter, or Servant, for themselves and their Wives, any sum not exceeding four pounds Scots; And each Tradfman, Cotter, or Servant, Servant, any sum not exceeding the sum of twenty shillings Scots : And the Burghs Royal are for their relief hereby impowered to Taxt all their Burgesſes, conſtant Inhabitants, Tractſmen and Servants, conform to the above-mentioned Rules, excepting, as is before excepted, in relation to the Shires. And it is Ordained that the Heretors ſhall have the ſame Execution for raiſing of the ſaid ſums, as for their Mails and Duties ; And the Burghs, as for other Publick Dues payable to the ſaid Burghs. And further, The King's Maſteſty being willing to give all poſſible eaſe and encouragement to the Heretors and others lyable in payment of this ſupply out of the Land-rent, which will be impoſſible for them to pay, if they ſhould likewiſe be for the time ſtrained for payment of their Debts: Therefore the King's Maſteſty doth hereby, with Advice and Conſent of His Eſtates, ſuſpend and diſcharge all perſonal Execution for payment of any Principal Sum above one thouſand pounds Scots, due before the Date hereof by any perſons having viſible and real Eſtates, untill the Term of Whitſonday, one thouſand, ſix hundred, ſixty nine years: Excepting alwayes all ſuch Sums and Bonds given for the ſame, as are due for the payment of His Maſteſties Annuity, Cuſtomes, Few-duities, Taxations, and other Dues belonging to His Maſteſty, which are no wayes comprehended under this Suſpenſion ; but all Execution is to paſs for payment thereof as formerly, notwithstanding that the Bonds given for the ſame, grant the receipt of borrowed Money. And it is hereby declared, that the Suſpenſion above-written is granted with this expreſs condition, that the Debtors make payment of one years Annualrent yearly, within twenty dayes after the ſame is due, during the time foreſaid, otherwiſe ſhall loſe the benefit of this Suſpenſion. It is alſo declared, that this Suſpenſion is but prejudice of all Execution, real and perſonal (except Attreafments upon Rents) for bygone Annualrents, due at, and before Martmas laſt ; And in caſe that any Creditor ſhall think fit to ſecure himſelf further, as to the payment of the Sums due to him, by real Execution, in that caſe the Debitor is hereby obliged to give his Creditor ſufficient real ſecurity : And, if notwithstanding thereof, the Creditor ſhall uſe further real Execution, the ſame is to be upon his own charges ; but if the Debitor ſhall reſuſe to give ſufficient real ſecurity, then the diligence that is to be done by the Creditor, ſhall be upon the Debtors charge and expence. And further, His Maſteſty for ſatiſfaction of His good Subjects, is graciouſly pleaſed to declare, that all Officers and Souldiers, Horſe and Foot, ſhall make due and punctual payment of their Quarters, Local and Tranſient, according to the Rates to be eſta-bliſhed thereanent by the foreſaid Commiſſioners : And in caſe the Souldiery have not ready Money for de-fraying their Quarters, that then their Quarters be ſtared betwixt the Quarter-maſters or other Officers, and any two of the Commiſſioners, and the Compts being ſtated and ſited, that they be allowed by the reſpective Collectors, in the firſt end of what is due by the Shire or Burgh where the ſaid Quarters are owing ; providing the ſaid Quarters exceed not two parts of their Pay ; and which ſtated Accounts are to be allowed to the reſpective Collectors, by the Collector General, and to be by him retained off the firſt end of the Troops or Companies Pay : And in caſe the Officers do remove before the Accounts can be ſtared, in that caſe the Collectors of the Shires and Burghs are to retain what after tryal the Commiſſioners ſhall find reſt-ing, till the Accounts be ſtated in manner foreſaid ; and the ſaid retention for Quarters to Commence from the firſt of January, inſtant. And alſo, that no perſon lyable in any part of this ſupply ſhall be holden to produce their Diſcharges, or Receipts of the ſame, after the firſt day of February, one thouſand, ſix hundred ſeventy one years, unleſs where diligence hath been done by Denunciations before the Elapſing, the ſaid firſt of February, one thouſand, ſix hundred, ſeventy one years. And the Convention of Eſtates, being deſirous that ſome courſe be taken for the ſpeedy and effectual in-bringing of the Taxation granted to His Maſteſty by the late Convention, Therefore Ordains and Appoints, that what is yet remaining unpaid of the ſaid Taxation, the ſamin ſhall be brought in (after Legal diligence firſt done by thoſe who are authorized for in-bringing the ſame, and the diſcuſſing of Suſpenſions raiſed, or to be raiſed thereanent) by Quar-tering in the manner preſcribed for raiſing this preſent ſupply.

And Ordains theſe preſents to be Printed and Published.

A C T Of the CONVENTION of E S T A T E S,

Of the Kingdom of SCOTLAND,

Holden at Edinburgh, from the 26 day of June, to the 11. of July, 1678.

By His Grace John Duke of Lauderdale, Marquess of March, Earl of Lauderdale, Viscount Maitland, Lord Thirlestane, Muffelburgh and Bolroun, &c.

His MAJESTIES Commissioner, &c.

For a new and voluntar offer to His MAJESTY, of Eighteen Hundred Thousand Pounds Scots.

At Edinburgh, the tenth day of July, 1678.

THE CONVENTION of Estates of the Kingdom of Scotland, by His Majesties Authority and Command, at this time assembled, Considering the great happiness, peace, and tranquility they enjoy under His Majesties Royal Government; and His Fatherly Care for this His Ancient Kingdom, in being so watchful over all its Concerns; And that as all Kings and Estates do at present carefully secure themselves and their people, by providing against all such forraign Invasions and Intestine Commotions, as may make them a prey to their enemies: So it is not fit that this Kingdom should only of all others, remain without Defence, in a time wherein these dangerous Field-conventicles, declared by Law, Rendezvous of Rebellion, do still grow in their numbers and insolencies, against all which the present Forces cannot in reason be thought a suitable Security. And considering the many frequent and renewed professions this Kingdom hath made, with their lives and fortunes to serve His Majesty, in the maintenance of His Honour, and Greatness; And that there is a new opportunity offered to them to make good the professions of their zeal, dury, and affection In recognisance whereof, and in humble acknowledgement of the same, & that His Majesty may be the better enabled to raise more Forces for securing this His Ancient Kingdom, against all forraign Invasions & Intestine Commotions; And to the end, they may be maintained by equal & regular wayes: And to let the world see the unanimous affection of this His Maj. Ancient Kingdom, for the maintenance of His Majesties Royal Greatness, Authority, & Government, in Church & State, as it is now asserted, & established by the Laws of the Kingdom, & in order to the entertainment of such forces, as His Majesty shall raise for the defence thereof; The CONVENTION of ESTATES of this Kingdom, for themselves, and in name of, and as representing this His Majesties Ancient Kingdom, do humbly beseech His Majesty would be graciously pleased to accept the unanimous, ready, and cheerful offer, & humble tender

AND ORDAINS the first meeting of the Commissioners for the several Shires, to be at the Head-burghs thereof, upon Wednesday the fourth day of September next; and appoints the Major part of the saids Commissioners, named for the respective Shires, to be a Quorum, at their first meeting, who are to appoint the next dyet of meeting, and the Major part of such as shall meet at the second dyet, or upon advertisement from the Conveener, at any other dyet, to be a Quorum: With power to the saids Conveeners, for the saids Shires respective, to call the Commissioners foresaid, at such dyers hereafter as they shall find necessary, for the effectual execution of this Act; and remits to His Majesty's Privy Council, to nominate such other persons to be Commissioners of Assessment, as they shall see cause.

And for the Burghs, His Majesty with advice foresaid, nominats and appoints the Magistrates of the same, for the time being, with power to them to choose Stent-masters, within their respective bounds: Which Commissi-

Commissioners, are hereby ordained to accept and discharge their trust, as they will be answerable; and that at their acceptation thereof, to take the Oaths of Allegiance; and for doing their duty faithfully in the matter of this administration: and to sign the Declaration appointed by Act of Parliament, to be signed by all persons in publick Trust. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth hereby empower the saids Commissioners, to prescribe and set down such rules and orders within the respective Shires and Burghes, as may be most effectual for the speedy and easie raising, levying, and bringing in of the said supply, and ordaining and doing every other thing that may concern the same: And particularly, with power to them to choose their own Collectors, for ingathering of the said supplie, for whom they are to be answerable; and to allow them, and their Clerks, such Fies (to be payed by the Shires and Burghes) as they shall think fit. And which Fies are hereby declared, to be over and above the foresaid supply, and no part of the same: and which Collectors, and Clerks, are to take the Oaths, and sign the Declaration foresaid.

And the Kings MAJESTY, with advice and consent of His Estates, Ordains all execution, real and personal, to pass at the instance of the Collector General, and the Collectors of the respective Shires, and Burghs, against all persons deficient in payment of their proportions as formerly. And also impowers the Commissioners by their Officers, to arreast, poind, and distrenzie, the Goods, and imprison the Persons, of the deficientis, ay and while they make payment of their just proportions, and necessary expenses. And for the more ready and effectual payment, doth also empower the Commissioners, and Collector General, to Quarter upon Deficients, with this expresse proviso, that every Horse-man that shall be upon the place, shall have only free single Quarter allotted to him upon the persons Deficient, or by Quartering in Burghs and Villages, as the Commissioners shall appoint to be satisfied, and payed, by the Deficients, and not by these on whom they are Quartered, except where they themselves are Deficient: and in that case, to have fifteen shillings Scots a day, from the time of presenting the Order to the Collector, upon whom they are to Quarter, until he give them a list of the Deficients, and the sums wherein they are Deficient, and thereafter to Quarter upon the Deficients: And each Dragowner, to have ten shillings Scots a-day: And each Foot-man to have four shillings Scots, or his Diet, as the Commissioners shall order; and the Commander of the Party of Horse, Dragowns, or Foot, to have only double Quarter, or pay of an Horse-man, Dragowner, or Foot-man, as he serves. And declares, that in order to the Quarters, and matters relating to the in-bringing of this supply, any three of the Commissioners shall be a Quorum, and who are empowered to proportion upon, and raise from the Deficients, the expence and charge of their deficiency; and to see payment made to these on whom the Souldiers are Quartered, who were not Deficient. And further, His Majesty, for satisfaction of His good Subjects, is graciously pleased to declare, that all Officers and Souldiers, Horse-dragowners, and Foot, shall make due and punctual payment of their Quarters, Local and Transient, as the same shall be appointed by the foresaid Commissioners, according to the Rates of the Countrey: And in case the Souldiers do not pay their Quarters, that the Quarters be staired betwixt the Quarter-masters, or other Officers, and any two of the Commissioners: And the accompts being staired, and fitted, that they be payed, or allowed by the respective Collectors, in the first end of what is due by the Shire, or Burgh, where the saids Quarters are owing, Providing the saids Quarters exceed not two parts of their Pay; and which staired Accounts are to be allowed to the respective Collectors, by the Collector General, and to be by him retained off the first end of the Troops, or Companies Pay. And in case the Officers remove before their Accounts can be staired, in that case the Collectors of the Shires, and Burghs are to retain what after tryal the saids three Commissioners shall find resting, till the Accounts be staired in manner foresaid; and the said retention for Quarters to Commence from the last of November next, in this instant Year, one thousand, six hundred, seventy and eight. And His Majesty, with advice of the saids Estates, doth declare, that no Persons lyable in any part of this Supply, shall be holden to produce their Discharges, or Receipts of the same, after the tenth day of June, one thousand, six hundred, and eighty six Years, unless where diligence hath been done by denunciation, before elapsing of the said tenth day of June, one thousand, six hundred eighty six. And the Convention of Estates doth declare, that this supply now granted to His Majesty, is over and above the former Supply, of four hundred, and fourscore thousand Pounds, granted by the Parliament, in the Year, one thousand, six hundred, sixty one, to His Majesty yearly, during His Life-time; and al's by and attour the remainder of any other Supplies, formerly granted, yet resting unpaid. And Ordains these Presents to be Printed and Published.

ACT For Security of the Protestant Religion.

April 28. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Consent of the Estates of Parliament Convened, Ratifies and Confirms, all the Acts and Statutes formerly past, for the Securitie, Liberty, and Freedom of the true Church of God, and the Protestant Religion, presently professed within this Kingdom, in their whole Strength and Tenor, as if they were here particularly set down and exprest.

II.

A Declaration and Offer of Duty by the Kingdom of Scotland, with an Annexation of the Excise to the Crown.

April 28. 1685.

THE ESTATES OF PARLIAMENT now Conveened by His Majesties Sovereign Authority, Taking into their Consideration, how this Nation hath continued now upwards of Two Thoulard Years in the unaltered Form of Our Monarchical Government, under the un-interrupted Line of One Hundred and Eleven Kings, whose Sacred Authority and Power hath been upon all signal Occasions, so owned and assisted by Almighty God, that Our Kingdom hath been protected from Conquest, Our Possessions defended from Strangers, Our Civil Commotions brought into wished Events, Our Laws vigorously Executed, Our Properties legally Fixed, and Our Lives securely Preserved; so that We and Our Ancestors have enjoyed those Securities and Tranquillities, which the greater and more flourishing Kingdoms have frequently wanted; Those great Blessings we owe in the first place to Divine Mercy; and in dependance on that, to the Sacred Race of Our Glorious Kings, and to the solid, absolute Authority wherewith they were Invested by the first and fundamental Law of Our Monarchy; nor can either Our Records, or Our Experience instance Our being deprived of those happy Effects, but when a Rebellious Party did by Commotions and Seditions Invade the Kings Sovereign Authority, which was the cause of Our Prosperity, yet to so far hath Our primitive constitution, and fundamental Laws prevailed against the Innovations and Seditions of turbulent Men, as that these Interruptions never terminated, but either in the Ruine, or at least the Suppression of these who at any time did Rebel or Rise in Opposition to Our Government. And since so many Ages hath assured to Us the great advantages, which flow down to all Ranks of People from the happy Constitution of Our Monarchy, and that all Our Calamities have ever arisen from seditious Invasions upon these Sacred Rights; THEREFORE, The Estates of Parliament for themselves, and in name of the whole Kingdom, judge themselves obliged to Declare; And they Do Declare to the World, that they abhor and detest, not only the Authors and Actors of all preceeding Rebellions against the Sovereign, but likewise all Principles and Positions which are contrary, or derogatory to the Kings Sacred, Supream, Absolute Power, and Authority, which none, whether Persons, or Collective Bodies can participat of, any manner of way, or upon any Pretext, but in Dependance on him, and Commission from him. And as their Duty formerly did bind them to owne and assert the just and legal Succession of the Sacred Line as unalterable by any Humane Jurisdiction; So now, They hold themselves on this occasion obliged for themselves, and the whole Nation Represented by them, in most humble and dutiful manner, to Renue the hearty and sincere Offer of their Lives and Fortunes, to Assist, Support, Defend, and Maintain King James the Seventh, their present Glorious Monarch, and His Heirs, and lawful Successors, in the possession of their Crowns, Sovereignty, Prerogatives, Authority, Dignity, Rights, and Possessions, against all Mortals: And withall, to assure all His Enemies, who shall adventure on the Disloyalty of disobeying his Laws, or on the Impiety of Invading his Rights, that such shall sooner weary of their Wickedness, then they of their Duty, and that they firmly Resolve to give their intire Obedience to His Majesty without Reserve, and to concur against all His Enemies, Forraign or Intestine. And They solemnly Declare, That as They are bound by Law, so they are voluntarily and firmly Resolved, that all of this Nation, betwixt Sixty and Sixteen, Armed, and Provided according to their Abilities, shall be in readines for His Majesties Service, where, and as oft as it shall be His Royal Pleasure to Require them.

And since the Excise of Inland and Forraign Commodities granted to King Charles the Second, of ever Blessed Memory, by the 14. Act of the Parliament 1661, during all the days of his Lifetime, and Prorogate by the 8. Act of the Parliament 1681, for Five Years thereafter, will shortly Terminat. And the Estates of Parliament Considering the usefulness of this Grant, to Support the Interest of the Crown, Do as the first Evidence of their Sincerity in the foresaid Tender of their Duty, Humbly and Unanimously Offer to His most Sacred Majesty King James the Seventh, their present Monarch, and to His Lawful Heirs, and Successors, in the Imperial Crown of Scotland, the said Excise of Inland and Forraign Commodities, exprest in the said 14. Act of Parliament 1661 to be Collected in the manner prescribed by the said 8. Act of the Parliament 1681. for ever. And His Majesty, and Estates of Parliament, by the force of this Act, have United, Annexed, and Incorporated; and Unites, Annexes, and Incorporates the same to the Crown of this Realm, to Remain therewith in annexed Property in all Time coming: And in respect that the alteration in the method of Collecting the Inland Excise from what it was by the Act 1661, to that prescribed by the 8. Act, Parliament 1681. will require some time to Establish it in Collection. THEREFORE, His Majesty, with Consent of the Estates, Continues the Collection prescribed by the 14. Act, Parliament 1661, for the said Inland Excise for Six Moneths, from the first of May next allanerly.

III. ACT.

III.

ACT Concerning Citations in Processes for Treason.

May 1. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Do hereby Ratifie and Approve, the former Custom used by His Majesties Commissioners of Justiciary, in proceeding against Pannals already in Prison, and Indicted for Treason, upon Twenty Four Hours; but for the future, His Majesty allows such Pannals to be Cited on Fourty Eight Hours, And if the Pannals Represent such Deferences to the Commissioners of Justiciary within that time, as may need an Exculpation, His Majestie with Advice foresaid, allows the saids Commissioners to delay the Trial till the days elapse, to which the Exculpation is to be rais'd.

IV.

ACT Concerning Witnesses in Processes for Treason.

May 1. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of Parliament, Do Statute and Ordain, That such as being Cited to be Witnesses in the Cases of Treason, Field, or House Conventicles, or Church Irregularities, do refuse to Depone, they shall be Lyable to be Punished as Guilty of these Crimes respectively, in which they refuse to be Witnesses: It being alwayes hereby Declared, that these Depositions so emitted, shall not militate against the Deponent himself any manner of way.

V.

ACT Declaring it Treason to Take or Owne the Covenants.

May 6. 1685

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of Parliament, Do hereby Declare, that the Giving, or Taking, of the National Covenant, as Explained in the Year 1638. Or of the League and Covenant, (so commonly called) or Writing in Defence thereof, or Owning of them as lawfull, or Obligatory on themselves or others, shall infer the Crime and Pains of Treason.

VI.

ACT obliging Husbands to be liable for their Wives Fynes.

May 6. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Considering, that the Lords of His Privy Council, and others Commissionated by His Majestie and them, have Fyned Husbands for their Wives withdrawing from the Ordinances, Doth with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Declare the said Procedure to have been Legal, and Ordains the same to be Observed in all time coming; And Ratifies all Decrees and Sentences granted against Husbands for such Fynes: Reserving alwayes Power to the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, to Absolve, or Mitigate the Fynes of such Husbands as are known to be of Loyal Principles.

VII. ACT

VII.

ACT Anent Porterfield of Duchall, And Concealing of Supply given to Rebels.

May 6. 1685:

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of Parliament, Do Ratifie, Approve, and Confirm the Sentence of Forfaulture pronounced by the Commissioners of Justiciary against John Porterfield, sometime of Duchall, and the Interlocutors, and whole Procedure of the saids Commissioners in that Process. And Declares that the same was conform to the Laws of this Kingdom. And in general, Statutes and Declares, that the Concealing, and not Revealing of Supplys Given to, or Demanded for Traitors Forfaulted for Treason against the Kings Person or Government, is Treason, and to be Judged accordingly.

VIII.

ACT Against Preachers at Conventicles, and Hearers at Field-Conventicles.

May 8. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Considering the Obstinacy of the Fanatical Party, who notwithstanding all the Laws formerly made against them, Persevere to keep their House and Field-Conventicles, which are the Nurseries and Rendezvous of Rebellion. THEREFORE, His Majesty, with Consent of His Estates in Parliament, Doth Statute and Ordain, That all such as shall hereafter Preach at such Fanatical, House, or Field-Conventicles; As also, such as shall be present as Hearers at Field-Conventicles, shall be Punished by Death, and Confiscation of their Goods.

IX.

ACT For the more effectual Payment, and Inbringing of His Majesties Rents and Revenues.

May 8. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and the Estates of Parliament, Considering the great Neglect and Remissness of the Sheriffs, Stewarts, Baillies of Bailliarries, and Regalities, and their Deputs, in their Discovering, Collecting, and Inbringing of His Majesties Rents and Revenues Constant and Casual; And of the Feuars and other Vassals, who are lyable for the Rents and Duties of His Majesties Property, and the Chamberlains thereof, whereby the Payment of the same is fallen very much in arrear; And the Compting yearly in the moneth of July, according to former Acts of Parliament, is greatly neglected. THEREFORE, the better to prevent the same for the future, His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, not only Ratifies and Approves all former Laws and Acts of Parliament made for In-bringing His Majesties Rents, and particularly the 15th Act, 3d Session of the first Parliament K. Charles the 2d, Ordaining the same to be put in full Execution, Conform to the Tenor thereof; But likewise, further Statutes and Declares, That in all time coming, whatsoever Sheriff, Stewart, Baillie of Bailliarie, or Regality, or their Deputs, or Chamberlains of His Majesties Proper Rents respective, shall delay, or neglect to Compear and Compt yearly in Exchequer, in the Moneth of July, and accordingly receive their Aques, and Exoneration of all that can be Charged on them, as due and payable by them to His Majesty; That immediatly after they shall be Charged and Denounced for the same, at the Mercat Cross of Edinburgh, Conform to the former Laws and Practice; And the Horning and Denunciation shall be duely Registrat, that Persons so Denounced and Registrat, shall ipso facto, amit, los and tyme (during their life-time) their Offices of Sheriffship, Stewartry, Bailliary, or Chamberlanry, whether the same be Heretable, or during Life, or Pleasure; And it shall not be lawful for them by themselves, or their Deputs, to Exerce, or Officiat therein at any time thereafter; but the same shall vaik and fall in His Majesties hands, without any Declarator, or Process of Law: As also that all Feuars, and other Vassals of His Majesties Property, who shall neglect, or delay to compear yearly in the said Moneth of July, in Exchequer, and make Compt and Payment of the Feu, Blench, or Taxt-ward-duties and others, due due and payable by them, and receive their Æquies and Exonerations thereof accordingly; So as two years thereof shall run together unpaid, and that they shall be therefore Charged, Denounced, and Registrat, as is abovementioned, that immediately after the said Denunciation, and Registration, they shall be lyable for the double of the whole Feu, Blench, Taxt-ward, or other Duties, then due and payable by them, and all Execution shall passe against them therefore, Sicklike as if the same were mentioned, and contained in the Reddenoes of their Insements; And that by and attour, and but prejudice of the penalties formerly Imposed, and payable by the said Non-accomptants, conform to former Laws. And it is further Statute and Ordained, That be holden and obliged, to send Lists from time to time to the Lord High Thesaurer, Thesaurer Deput, or Clerks of Exchequer, of all Wairds and Marriages, as well Simple as Taxt, that shall happen to fall and vaik in time coming, or that are already fallen within their respective Jurisdiccions, bearing the time of the Decease of the Person by whom the same vaiks, and of the Successor, and their Age, and whether Married or not; Certifying all such Clerks, as shall not, before the first day of November next to come, report in Exchequer the Lists under their hands, of all such bygone Casualties fallen, proceeding the date hereof, and thereafter from time to time, within six moneths after the same shall happen to fall and vaik, if the persons die within the Kingdom; That they shall amit, lose and tyne their Office of Clerkship, to be immediately disposed on; by these who shall have right thereto, without any Declarator, or other Process whatsoever; And to the effect, they may the better know the tenor of the holding of all Lands within their respective Jurisdiccions, His Majesty, with Advice forsaide, Ordains the saids Sheriffs, Stewarts, Baillies of Bailliarries, and Regalties, and their Deputs, at the next Michaelmas Head-Court, and at such other Dyets, as they shall think convenient, to cause all the Vassals within their respective Jurisdiccions produce before them their Charters, to the effect the Clerks may record the Reddenoes thereof in their Books, who are ordered immediately thereafter to return them to the Parties, without payment of any money for the same. And Ordains Letters of Horning to be directed against those who shall fail to produce their Charters, as laid is: And it is hereby declared, that in all time coming, when poynding is used for the Kings proper Rents, the Apprising of the Goods poynded may be als Legally done upon the Ground of the Lands allenarly, as if the same were Apprifed at the Mercat Cross of the head Burgh of the Jurisdiction, notwithstanding of any Law, or Practice in the contrary.

XII. ACT

XII.

ACT of Supply.

May 8, 1685.

THE ESTATES OF PARLIAMENT, Calling to mind the many great Blessings they have, and do enjoy, under the Protection of the Royal Government, and especially by the many Deliverances from the Rebellious Insurrections, and Designs of Fanatical Traitors, from whom they could expect no less than Confusion in Religion, Oppression in their Estates, and Cruelty against their Persons and Families: And that the terror of His Majesties Forces hath been very Instrumental for procuring our present Security; But considering, that not only these Enemies continue their inveterate hatred against King and People, but that their frequent Disappointments have heightened their Malice to Despair; and that the present Forces may be too few to undergo all the Fatigue which His Majesties Service, or the Protection of the Countrey doth Require. And to demonstrate to all Seditious Men, that this Nation is resolved to bestow all they have in the Kings Service, rather than to be exposed to the least of their Insults. Do therefore, for themselves, and the Nation represented by them, Make a hearty and dutiful Offer to His Majesty of Two Hundred and Sixteen Thousand Pounds yearly, payable at two Terms, viz. Whitsunday and Martmas, each year, beginning at Whitsunday next 1685, and so forth Termly, and that over and beside the Five Moneths Cels already Imposed on this Kingdom by the 3. Act of the Parliament 1681, whereby there will be Four Moneths Cels payable at each Term hereafter, beginning at Whitsunday next 1685. And as a further evidence of their entire Affection to the Sacred Person of His present Majesty, they humbly and heartily offer a Continuation and Prorogation of the said Four Moneths Cels termly, from the said Term of Whitsunday 1685 inclusivè, during all the Terms of His Majesties Lifetime (which God Almighty long preserve,) that being the greatest of our Earthly Wishes, as it is the chief of our Temporal Felicity and Glory. And for the better and more speedy inbringing of Payment of the said Eighth Moneths Cels, the Kings Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Nominats, Appoints, and Ordains the Persons underwritten to be Commissioners within the respective Shires, for Ordering and Uplifting of the said Eighth Moneths Cels, viz.

AND Ordains the first Meeting of the saids Commissioners, for the severall Shires, to be at the Head-burghs thereof, upon the day of next, and appoints the major part of the saids Commissioners, named for the respective Shires, to be a Quorum at their first meeting, who are to appoint the next Dyet of meeting, and the Major part of such as shall meet at the second Dyet, or upon advertisement from the Conveener, at any other Dyet, to be a Quorum: With power to the saids Conveeners, for the saids Shires respectiv, to call the Commissioners soe saids, at such Dyets thereafter as they shall think necessary, for the effectual execution of this Act; And Remits to His Majesties Privy Council, to nominate such other persons to be Commissioners upon the death of any of the fore-named persons.

And for the Burghs, His Majesty with Advice foresaid, Nominats and Appoints the Magistrats of the same, for the time being, with power to them to choose Stent-masters within their respective bounds, which Commissioners of Shires and Burghs, are hereby Ordained to Accept, and Discharge their Trust, as they shall be answerable, and that at their Acceptation thereof, to take their Oaths of Allegiance, Supremacy, Declaration and Test, and Oath de fidei administratione. And His Majesty, with Advice foresaid, Doth hereby Impower the saids Commissioners to prescribe and fet down such Rules and Orders within the respective Shires and Burghs, as may be most effectual for the speedy and easie Raising, Levying, and bringing in of the said Supply; and Ordaining, and doing every other thing that may concern the same: And particularly, With power to them to choose their own Collectors, for In-gathering of the said Supply, for whom they are to be answerable, and other Officers (except the Clerks who are to be named by the Clerk of Register;) And Ordains that no Clerk shall officiate in the said Office, either in Shire or Burgh, without a new Deputation from the said Clerk of Register: And that the saids Commissioners shall at the first meeting, choose their Collectors, for In-gathering of the said Supply. And the saids Commissioners are hereby Ordained to receive the saids Collectors and Clerks accordingly, and to allow them such Fees to be payed by the Shires and Burghs, as they shall think fit; And which Fees are hereby Declared to be over and above the foresaid Supply, and no part of the same: And which Collectors and Clerks are to take the Oaths appointed by Law.

AND the Kings Majesty, with Advice and Consent of His Estates, Ordains all Execution, real and personal, to pass at the Instance of the Collector General, and the Collectors of the respective Shires and Burghs, against all persons deficient in payment of their proportions as formerly. And also, Impowers the Commissioners by their Officers, to Arrest, Poynd and Distrenzie the Goods, and Imprison the persons of the Deficients, ay and while they make payment of their just proportions, and necessary expences. And for the more ready and effectual payment, Doth also Impower the Commissioners, and Collector-General, to Quarter upon Deficients, with this expresse Proviso, That every Horse-man that shall be upon the place, shall have only free single Quarter allotted to him upon the persons Deficient, or by quarrelling in Burghs and Villages, as the Commissioners shall appoint to be satisfied, and payed; by the Deficients; and not by these on whom they are quartered, except where they themselves are Deficient, and in that case to have fifteen shilling Scots a-day; from the time of presenting the Order to the Collector upon whom they are to quarter, until he give them a List of the Deficients, and the sums wherein they are Deficient, and thereafter to quarter upon the Deficients; and each Dragoon, to have ten shilling Scots a-day, and each Foot-man to have four shilling Scots, or his Dyer, as the Commissioners shall Order; And the Commanders of the Party of Horse, Dragoons, or Foot, to have only Double-quarter, or pay of an Horse-man, Dragoon, or Foot-man, as he serves. And Declares, That in Order to the Quarters, and matters relating to the In-bringing of this Supply, any three of the Commissioners shall be a Quorum, and who are Impowered to proportion upon, and raise from the Deficients, the Expence and Charge of their Deficiency, and to see payment made to these on whom the Souldiers are Quartered, who were not Deficient. And further, His Majesty, for satisfaction of His good Subjects, is graciously pleased to Declare, That all Officers and Souldiers, Horse, Dragoons and Foot, shall make due and punctual payment of their Quarters, local, and transient, as the same shall be appointed by the foresaid Commissioners, according to the Rates of the Countrey; and in case the Souldiers do not pay their Quarters, that the Quarters be stated betwixt the Quarter-masters, or other Officers, and any two of the Commissioners; And the Accompts being stated and fitted, that they be payed, or allowed by the respective Collectors, in the first end of what is due by the Shire, or Burgh, where the saids Quarters are owing: Providing the saids Quarters exceed not two parts of their Pay; And which stated Accompts are to be allowed to the respective Collectors, by the Collector-general, and to be by him retained off, the first end of the Troops, or Companies Pay. And in case the Officers remove before their Accompts can be stated; In that case, the Collectors of the Shires and Burghs, are to retain, what after tryal, the saids three Commissioners shall find resting, till the Accompts be stated in manner foresaid.

And His Majesty, with Advice of His Estates, Doth Declare, That no persons lyable in any part of this Supply, shall be holden to produce their Discharges, or Receipts of the same, after ilk fifth year, Commencing from the Date of this Act, unless where Diligence hath been done by Denunciation, before elapsing of the said fifth year.

XIII.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, With Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all Protestant Heritors, Liferenters, and Others having Right to Liferents, Fore Mariti, Wodletters, Tacksmen, having Tacks for longer time than for Eighteen Years: All Masters of Ships, and such other Burgesles, and Inhabitants of Bugh, whether of Royalty, Regality, or Barrony, as are not Heritors, and who shall be Appointed by the Privy Council, shall take the Test Prescribed by the sixth Act of the Parliament 1681. Before the First Day of November, for all such as Live be-south the River of Tay, and before the first day of January next, for all be-north Tay. And for that end, that all Noblemen, and their Eldest Sons above the Age of Eighteen Years, shall Compear before His Majesties Privy Council: All Masters of Ships, and Burgesles aforesaid, shall Compear before the Provost or Bailliffs of the Bugh to which they belong, and all others foresaid, before the Sheriff of the Shire where they live, at some time before the said Days; And there shall swear and Subcrive the said Test before the Judge and Clerk of the Court, with Certification, that such as fail in Swearing and Subscribing the Test as said is, shall be Punished in such Pecunial Sums as the Secret Council shall Determine; To be Disposed of by His Majestie, at His Royal Pleasure. It is alwayes Declared, that this Act Extends not to Women; And all Clerks are hereby Ordained, to send in Lists of such as have taken the Test, within their Respective Jurisdictions, to the Clerks of His Majesties Privy Council, before the First Day of February next to come, under the pain of losing their Office, and to be Punished otherwayes as the Privy Council shall Determine: But such as have already Sworn and Subscribed, shall not be Obligated to Renew it on this Occasion. And further, His Majesty with consent foresaid, Doth Ratifie and Approve what is already done, in offering the Test by His Majesties Privy Council, Justice Court, or any Commissionate from any of them, or by Sheriffs, and other Magistrats, Declaring the same to have been good Service to the King and Countrey.

XIV.

ACT Explaining the Ninth Act of the Parliament 1669, Concerning Prescriptions;

May 13. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Considering, That at making of the Ninth Act of the 1. Session of the 2. Parliament of King Charles the 2. Concerning Prescriptions, in that part of it relating to Actions proceeding upon Warnings, Spulzies, Ejections, Arrestments, or for Ministers Stipends, and others foresaid; the Cases that existed before that Act were not taken into Consideration: Therefore, His Majesty with Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That all such Actions proceeding upon any Diligence mentioned in that Act, already intended either before the said Act 1669, or since, shall prescribe within five Years after the Date of this Act, if they be not Wakened within that time: And all Actions to be raised hereafter upon the foresaid grounds shall prescribe in five Years, if they be not Wakened within that time. And His Majesty Wills and Declares, the foresaid 9th Act to stand in full force as to the rest of the tenor thereof.

XV.

ACT Explaining the Tenth Act of the Parliament 1669, Anent Interruptions.

May 13. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Considering, that the Clause concerning Citations uled for Interruption, mentioned in the 10. Act of the 1. Session of the 2. Parliament of King Charles the 2. Hath left the Case of such Citations before the said A^t undetermined. His Majesty therefore, with Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, that all Citations uled for Interruptions preceeding that A^t, shall prescribe within seven Years after the Date of this A^t, if they be not Renewed within that time. And further Statutes and Ordains, that in Citations for Interruption as to Rights of Lands and Wakenings thereof, Copies of the Citation shall be affixed on the most patent Door of the Paroch Church, and that over and beside what is required by the said A^t anent these Executions, XVI.

ACT Anent Justices of Peace.

May 13. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Considering the many Advantages which His Leiges might have had, if the Justices of Peace had exerceed their Function, with that diligence which the Law required, and the many Evils, especially in Ecclesiastick Disorders and Irregularities, which might have been prevented by their care. For Remeid whereof in time to come, His Majesty, with the Consent of His Estates in Parliament, Doth hereby Ratifie, Approve, and Confirm the 8. Act of the Parliament 1617, Intituled, Act anent the Justices for keeping of the Kings Peace and Constables. The 25. Act of the Parliament 1633. And the 38 Act of the Parliament 1661, Intituled, Commissions and Instructions to the Justices of Peace and Constables, in the whole Heads, Articles and Clauses contained in them. And further, His Majesty Gives full Power, Authority and Commission to the saids Justices, to put the Laws in Execution against all who shall be Guilty of Conventicles, Irregular Baptisms and Marriages, withdrawing from Church Ordinances, and other such Disorders, in so far as they are not Capital, Conform to the Laws made thereanent; And where the Crime is Capital, they are to secure the persons, and acquaint the Sheriff, or other Judge ordinary thereof: And it is Declared, That in their proceedings against Church Irregularities, Baptisms, Marriages and Conventicles, The Justices may proceed immediately without waiting any time after the Crimes are committed, and their Clerk is appointed to send Information of their proceedings once in the Quarter, to the Clerks of the Council, as they will be answerable. And for their further Encouragement, His Majesty allows unto the saids Justices of Peace, the Fynes of all, except Heritors, which shall arise from these Delinquencies judged by them, to be employed for Explicating of their Jurisdiction as they shall think fit, and for Discovering of what the Fynes of Heritors shall amount to. The Clerks of these Courts are hereby appointed to send a subscribed List of them to the Clerks of Exchequer, in the first week of November yearly, under the pain of Deprivation: And His Majesty with Advice foresaid, allows the Justices to Nominat their own Clerks at their first meeting. Attour, His Majesty and Estates foresaid, Give full Power, Authority and Commission, to the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, upon the Decays of any of the Justices of Peace, to nominat others in their place, and to set down and Impose Penalties upon such of the Justices as shall not keep and observe the Dyets prefixed for their several and particular Meetings, according to former A^{ts}, and an A^t made in this Parliament; And with power likewise to the saids Lords of Privy Council to Enlarge and Amplify the Power and Authority of the saids Justices of Peace, if they shall find it necessary and expedient: And what the Council shall Decreet and Determine thereanent, Find and Declare, that the same shall have the Force, Strength and Power of an A^t of Parliament. It is alwayes Declared, That Sheriffs, Stewarts, and Bailies of Bailliaries, Regalities, and Baronies, are to Remain in the Possession and Exercise of their former Rights, according to the Laws of the Kingdom: Any thing in this A^t notwithstanding.

XVII. ACT

XVII.

ACT For Taking the Oath of Allegiance.

May 22. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, With Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Doth Ratifie, Approve and Confirm, all Priviledges, Liberties, Freedoms and Immunities, Given and Granted by His Majesty's Royal Predecessors, to, and in Favours of, the Ordinary Senators of the Colledge of Justice, and whereof they are in Possession; and all Acts of Parliament Made and Conceived in their Favours, and speciallie but prejudice of the Generality foresaid, doth Ratifie the 8. Act of the 2. Session of the 2. Parliament of King Charles the second, Concerning the Immunity of the Ordinary Lords of Session, from all Burdens Imposed, or to be Imposed by the Parliament: And Declares, that this Ratification shall be as sufficient and effectual, as it all these Priviledges and Immunities, and Acts of Parliament concerning the same, were specially express, and at length insert herein.

XX.

ACT For Preserving Game.

May 27. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, And Estates of Parliament, now presently Conveened, Taking to their Consideration, the great Decay of Game in this His Ancient Kingdom, especially in the Low Countries, notwithstanding of all the Laws and Acts of Parliament, and Acts of Privy Council made thereanent by His Royal Predecessors, which does principally proceed through the not vigorous Execution of the said Laws and Acts, and not Exacting of the Fines and Penalties therein-contained. THEREFORE, Our Sovereign Lord, With Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament now presently Conveened, Does Revive, Renue, Ratifie, and Approve all the former Laws and Acts of Parliament made for preserving of the Game, and the Act of His Majesties Royal Brother (of blessed Memory) King Charles the Second, with the Advice of His Privy Council, of the date the 9. day of June, 1682 years, with the whole Laws and Acts of Parliament therein-narrated, of which Act the Tenor follows, A Proclamation, Reviving the Laws anent Hunting, Hawking, Fishing: and appointing Masters of the Game. CHARLES, by the Grace of God, King of Great-Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith; To Macers of Our Privy Council, or Messengers at Arms, Our Sheriffs in that part, conjunctly and severally, specially constitute, Greeting; We taking to Our Consideration the great prejudice the Kingdom doth sustain in the Decay of Deer, Roes, and Wild-fowl, and that there is not only danger of an utter decay of so useful Creatures, but the Manly exercises of Hunting and Hawking, is like to be altogether neglected; And albeit Our Royal Progenitors have made many good Laws to prevent and repair this great evil and mischief, and against the destroying of Smolts and Trouts with Creels, and other Engines, anent Cruives and Zairs, steeping of Lint in Rivers, Lochs and Burns, where Fishes are; which good Laws, although they be yet in force unrepealed, yet by the distraction of the late Times, they have been less regarded these many Years by gone, to the enmoleison of Our People, and contempt of Our Authority: Have therefore, with Advice of Our Privy Council, thought fit to Revive all the Laws that stand yet unrepealed or innovate, for preserving of Doe, Roe, Hares, and Wild-Fowl, and especially the 31 Act of the 23 Parliament of K. James the sixth, whereby all Persons who are not Heretors, are prohibited to Hunt or Hawk, and that neither Heretor or other shoot Deer or Roe in time of Snow: As also, the 11 Act of the 4 Parliament of K. James the fifth, and 210 Act of the 14 Parliament of K. James the sixth, by which, Letters are ordained to be directed, charging all Keepers of His Majesties Forrests, to permit no Pasturage within the Marches of the Forrests, but that they seize and escheat them, under the pain of loss of their Office; and that Forresters of Forrests belonging to privat Men, shall apprehend such as travel with Guns or Dogs in Forrests, and carry them to the nearest Sheriff, Stewarts of Stewartries, Baillies of Bailliaries and Regalities, or Justices of Peace, to be secured, to answer as accords of the Law; and that all such of the Leidges who shall be required to concur to apprehend such Persons, give ready Obedience, as is ordained by the Forrest Laws, cap. 15. and cap. 22. and these who conceal them, be fined as Art and Part of the said fault. And to ther, We do hereby forbid all shooting of Hares, or Herron at any time, under the pains contained in the Acts of Parliament made thereanent. Item, That all Persons forbear to slay any Muir-fowl, Heath-fowl, Partridge, Quail, Duck, or Mallard, Tale or Atale, or Tormichan, from and after the first day of Lent, fowl with Hawks in Dredging-time. Item, The 23 Act, Parl. 16. K. James 6. Forbidding the killing of Muir-fowl-pouts before the first of July, Heath-pouts before the first of August, or Partridge or Quail before the first of September yearly. Item, We Revive the 48 Act, Parl. 4. K. James 4. Forbidding Muirburn after the last of March, and the Masters to be lyable for all upon their Land. And furthermore, We considering that Setting-Dogs, and other Engines for killing of Fowl, is a great cause of the less he be an Heretor of one Thousand Pound of valued Rent, and have express License of the Masters of Our Game within their several Bounds, under the pain of Five Hundred Merks, toties quoties, in case of default they be Domestick-Servants to Noblemen or Gentlemen, who are Heretors of One Thousand pounds Scots of valued Rent, to have or make use of Setting-Dogs, or Fowling-pieces, under the pain of forfeiture of such Dogs of Guns, and imprisonment of their persons for the space of six Weeks, toties quoties. Item, We Revive the 210 Act, Parl. 14. K. James 6. Whereby Shooting, Hunting, or Hawking within six Miles of Our Palace are Prohibited, under the pains therein contained, without express License of the Masters of the Game: And seeing the Fowls, Hares and Roes are already so far destroyed, that there is ground to fear a total decay thereof, We therefore with Advice foresaid, Do Revive the 23 Act, Parl. 16. K. James 6. Forbidding all selling or buying of Deer, Roe, Hares, Muir-fowl, Tormichan, Heath-fowls, Partridge, or Quail, for the space of seven Years next ensuing the 20 day of June instant Year 1682, under the pains contained in the said Act; And for the better discovery of the Contraveeners, We do hereby give Warrant to the Masters of Our Game, their Deputs, or others empowered by either of them in their respective Bounds, to make search for any of the saids Deer, Roe, Hares, Muir-fowl, Tormichan, Heath-Fowl, Partridge, or Quail so killed in any suspect place, within or without Burgh, as well the Buyers, as Sellers in Mercat, or outwith the same, or Fowlers, and to seize, search, secure and confiscate the same for their own use. Item, We do hereby Revive the 51 Act, Parl. 6. Q. Mary, Forbidding Hunting on other Mens Ground without leave of the Owner. And whereas by the 12 Act, Parl. 1. K. James 1. Cruives and Zairs set on fresh Water without express Inseftments of Salmond-fishing, are ordained to be destroyed and put away for ever, and that where Cruives are allowed by Inseftments, that ilk Heck be three Inch wide, which is ratified by the 73 Act, Parl. 10. K. James 3. And by the 87 Act, Parl. 14. K. James 2. It is statute that no Man set Vessels, reels, Weirs, Nets, or any other Engine to hinder Smolts from going to the Sea, and that Coups, Masses, Nets, Prins set on Waters that has course to the Sea be destroyed, and who holds them up, to be lyable as destroyers of red Fishes. Item, That all Millers that slays Smolts or Trouts with Creels, or any other Engine; or any who Dams or Laves, shall be punishable as Slayers of Red-Fish, conform to the 73 Act, Parl. 5. K. James 3. and where the Transgressours has no Means, they are appointed to be put in Prison, Irons, or Stocks, for the space of one Moneth upon their own Expenses, and if they have it not of their own, to be fed on Bread and Water, conform to the 89 Act, Parl. 6. K. James 6. And by the 13 Act, Parl. 18. K. James 6. The steeping of Lint in Rivers, Lochs, or Burns where Fishes are, is discharged, and that under the pain of fourty Shilling Scots, toties quoties, and confiscation of the Lint: Which good and ancient Laws yet standing unrepealed or innovate, We have thought fit hereby to Revive and Ordain to be put in Execution; Ordaining hereby the Masters of Our Game to require all Heretors and others, to throw down all Cruives and Zaires set on fresh Waters, without express Inseftment of Salmond-fishing, betwixt and the first day of July next, under the pain of an hundred pounds Scots, to be uplifted off these who refuse, and the Sheriffs and their Deputs to give speedy Justice therefore, when desired by the Masters of the Game, or their Deputs. And We appoint the several Sheriffs and their Deputs, Stewarts of Stewartries, Bailiffs of Regalities and their Deputs, and Magistrats of the next adjacent Burrows to concur with the Masters of Game, for throwing down of the saids Cruives, Creels, Nets, and Engines, when they shall be required; and it the saids Judges be found negligent, that the foresaid Penalty be uplifted off themselves, according to the 68 Act, Parl. 9. of Q. Mary. And to the effect the saids Laws may receive the more vigorous Execution, We do hereby Commissionate the Persons following to be Masters of Game, within the respective Bounds after-specified, viz. Our Chancellor for the time being, for the three Lothians, and Town of Edinburgh, and Shire of Bathgate; The Earl of Mar, for Stirling Shire; Sir George Mackenzie of Tarbet, Lord Clerk Register, for Clackmannan Shire; The Earl of Balcarras, for Fife; and Sir William Bruce of Balcaskie, for Kinross; the Marquess of Athol, Lord Privy Seal, for Perth Shire; the Earl of Perth, for the Stewartries of Strathern, Monieith, and Balquhadder; the Earl of Southesk, for Forfar Shire; the Earl of Marischal, for the Shire of Kincardin, and for all below Mormouth Hill, and the Water of Eugie in Bamff Shire; and the Earl of Airly, for all the rest of Bamff Shire; the Earl of Dumfermling, for all betwixt Crathus, Bannachie, and the Sea in Aberdeen Shire; the Earl of Kintore, in all above that in the said Shire; the Earl of Murray, for all from Spey to Ness, high and low, comprehending Elgin, Nairn, and Inverness Shire, to Lochness; The Earl of Seaforth, from Ness to Conan, high and low, comprehending Cromarty Shire; Sir George Mackenzie of Tarbet, Lord Clerk Register, from Conan to Portnaculter, and Okel-Water, and on the West from Lochew to Cuilisenuack; the Lord Duffus, for Sutherland, excepting Afint, which is in the last Division; the Earl of Caithness, for Caithness; the Stewart of Orkney, for Orkney; for Argile and Bute, the Sheriff for the time being; the Earl of Horne, for the Shire of Berwick; the Sheriff of Roxburgh, for the Shire of Teviotdale; the Lord Duke of Hamilton, for Lanark Shire; the Earl of Kilmarnock, for the Shire of Air; the Lord of Tetter, for Peebles Shire; the Earl of Glencairn, for the Shire of Renfrew; the Marquess of Montross, for the Shire of Dumbarton; the Laird of Burghoun, for the Shire of Wigtoun; the Earl of Galloway, for the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright; and the Marquess of Queensberry, Lord High Thesaurer, for the Shire of Dumfries. Hereby Impowering and Warranting them to put the standing Laws in Execution, in so far as concerns the preserving of Forrests, Wild-fowl, and Fishing, especially the Laws and Ordinances above-specified. And We Require all Our Judges ordinar, in their respective Bounds and Jurisdictions, to give speedy Justice thereupon, in favours of the saids Masters of Our Game, or their Deputs, when they de-late or pursue Delinquents before them, as they will be answerable upon their Duties and Offices. And all Sheriffs, Mayors, other Officers, and Fiscals of their respective Courts, are Ordained to cite Delinquents before these Courts, as they shall be informed thereof, and Witnesses to prove the same, and to prosecute them until final Sentence be pronounced against them, and thereafter see these Sentences put to due and lawful Execution, the Expenses whereof is to be payed out of the first and readiest of the Fines of the Delinquents so uplifted, at the sight of the respective Masters of Game, under the pain of Deprivation, and further Censure in case of neglect, as Our Council shall find cause. And for further enabling Our saids Masters of Game, We Impower them to appoint Deputs, one or moe, for whom they are to be answerable, as well for their Diligence as Fidelity. And that their saids Deputs themselves, nor none by their connivance, take upon them to contravene this Proclamation, and destroy the Game; And to encourage them in so good Service to Us, and Our People, We hereby allow Our parts of all Fines and Unlaws due to Us by Our Laws, for the Crimes relating to Forrests, Game, and Fishing, in favours of the saids Masters of Our Game, within their respective Bounds, and during the time We shall think fit to employ them in the said Service; Withall certifying them, that if they be remiss or negligent in their Duty, they are to be discharged of their Offices, and fined by Our Privy Council, as they shall find cause. And We declare Our said Commission is to continue and endure for the space of seven years after the date hereof, and until We, or Our Privy Council think fit to recall the same. And that We have recalled Our former Proclamation anent Game of the Fourth of March, 1680. Our Will is hereof, and We Charge you strictly, and Command, that incontinent, these Our Letters seen, ye pass to the Mercat-Cross of Edinburgh, and other Mercat-Crosses of the Head-Burghs of the several Shires of this Kingdom, and other places needful, and there by open Proclamation, make Publication of the Premises, that none pretend Ignorance. Given under Our Signet at Edinburgh, the 9. day of June, 1682 years. And of Our Reign the thirtieth and fourth Year. And Does strictly Require and Command all Our Masters of Game, Sheriffs, and other Magistrats, and their Deputs, and all Heretors, and Liferenters, and proper Wodletters, within their respective Bounds, to be diligent and vigilant in Time coming, in putting the saids Acts and Laws therein contained to full and due Execution. And Does hereby Require all Our Judges, before whom Our Masters of Game, or others, shall Pursue the Contraveeners, to give them full and speedy Justice, as they shall be answerable. And for the Preservation and Increase of Partridge, Muir-fowl, Heath-fowl, and Quails (which are so much decayed of late,) Our Sovereign Lord, with Consent foresaid, Does Statute and Ordain, That no Person or Persons whatsoever shall make use of Setting-Dogs with Nets, for taking or killing of Partridges, Muir-fowls, Heath-fowls, or Quails, within any part of this Our Ancient Kingdom, for the space of Seven Years, immediately after the Publication hereof, under the Penalty of Fourty Merks Scots for each Fowl that shall be so killed, or taken, to be payed by the Killers or Takers to Our Masters of Game, and their Deputs, or others who pursues the same: And whoever shall Shoot Hares, shall pay Fourty Merks Scots for each Hare that he shall shoot,

May 27. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of this present Parliament, Taking to their Consideration, the great Prejudice and Inconveniencies that has, and does dayly fall out through the Stealing and Keeping of Hawks and Dogs that has strayed and got away from their rightful Owners, by Persons that has no right or interest to do the same, Does Statute and Ordain, That whosoever hereafter shall Steal a Hawk out of the Nest, or Air, or take a Collar from a Dogs Neck, or Vervel from a Hawk with the Masters Name or Style thereon, shall be Fined in the Sum of Five Hundred Merks Scots; And whosoever shall give away, or sell any Hawk, or Dog, which is not his own, shall be Fined in the Sum of One Hundred Pound Scots; As also, that whosoever does get a Dog straying, having the Collar above-named, or Hawk with Bells or Vervels that has got away from her or his Master, and does take the said Hawk or Dog into his Possession, shall be obliged within Fourty Eight Hours after the said Dog or Hawk shall be so taken by him, to send and Book the same in the Sheriff-Clerk his Books, (where the Waithveis, if it have any, for which there shall be payed to the Sheriff Clerk Six Shillings Eight Pennies Scots, which the Owner of the Hawk or Dog shall be obliged to repay, together with Two Shillings Scots for each Mile that the Bearer shall be sent to the Sheriff-Clerk, or Booking of the said Dog or Hawk; And in case the Dog or Hawk shall not be Claimed by Letter, or otherways, by the just Owner, within Six Moneths after it shall be so booked in the Sheriff-Clerk of the Shire, where the Dog or Hawk shall be taken, his Books; Then and in that case, the Dog or Hawk shall belong and appertain in Property to the Possessor, and the Owners shall not be heard thereafter to Claim the same; And if the Taker and Keeper of any Hawk or Dog, shall failzie to cause Book the same in manner above-specified, he shall pay the Sum of Fourty Pounds Scots of Penalty to the Owners, if they shall pursue the same before any Judge competent.

XXII.

ACT Concerning Tailzies.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, With Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Declares, That it shall be lawful to His Majesties Subjects to Tailzie their Lands and Estates, and to Substitute Heirs in their Tailzies, with such Provisions and Conditions as they shall think fit, and to Affect the saids Tailzies with Irritant and Resolutive Clauses, whereby it shall not be lawful to the Heirs of Tailzie, to Sell, Annailzie, or Dispose the saids Lands, or any part thereof, or Contract Debt, or do any other Deed whereby the same may be Apprifed, Adjudged, or Evisited from the others Substitute in the Tailzie, or the Succession frustrate or interrupted, Declaring all such Deeds to be in themselves null and void; and that the next Heir of Tailzie may immediately upon Contravention, Pursue Declarators thereof, and Serve himself Heir to him who died last Infeft in the Fee, and did not Contravene, without necessity any ways to represent the Contraveener; It is always Declared, that such Tailzies shall only be allowed in which the foresaid Irritant and Resolutive Clauses are insert in the Procuratories of Resignation, Charters, Precepts, and Instruments of Seafing: And the original Tailzie once produced before the Lords of Session Judicially, who are hereby Ordained to Interpose their Authority thereto, And that a Record be made in a particular Register Book, to be kept for that effect, wherein shall be Recorded the Names of the Maker of the Tailzie & of the Heirs of Tailzie, and the general Designations of the Lordships and Barronies, and the Provisions and Conditions contained in the Tailzie, with the foresaid Irritant and Resolutive Clauses subjoyned thereto, to Remain in the said Register ad Perpetuam rei memoriam, And for which Record, there shall be payed to the Clerk of Register and his Deputs, the same Dews as is payed for the Registration of Seafings, and which Provisions and Irritant Clauses shall be Repeated in all the subsequent Conveyances of the said Tailzied Estate to any of the Heirs of Tailzie; And being so Inset, His Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, Declares the same to be real and effectual, not only against the Contraveners and their Heirs, but also against their Creditors, Compriers, Adjudgers, and other Singular Successors whatsoever, whether by Legal or Conventional Titles. It is always hereby Declared, that if the saids Provisions and Irritant Clauses shall not be Repeated in the Rights and Conveyances, whereby any of the Heirs of Tailzie shall brook or enjoy the Tailzied Estate, the said Omission shall Import a Contravention of the Irritant and Resolutive Clauses against the Person and his Heirs who shall omit to inset the same, whereby the said Estate shall ipso facto fall, accresce, and be devolved to the next Heir of Tailzie, but shall not militat against Creditors, and other Singular Successors who shall happen to have Contracted bona fide with the Person who stood Inset in the said Estate, without the saids Irritant and Resolutive Clauses in the body of his Right. And it is further Declared, That nothing in this Act shall Prejudge His Majesty, as to Confiscations or other Fines, as the Punishment of Crimes, or His Majesty or any other lawful Superior of the Casualties of Superiority which may arise to them out of the Tailzied Estate, but these Fines and Casualties shall Import no Contravention of the Irritant Clause.

XXIII.

ACT Ratifying the opinion of the Lords of Session, anent these who refuse to Depone anent the late Treasonable Proclamation, 1684.

June 2. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Ratifie, Approve and Confirm an Opinion given by the Lords of Council and Session, upon the day of November 1684. Whereby they find, that if any of His Majesties Subjects, being questioned by His Majesties Judges, or Commissioners, if they owne a late Traiterous Proclamation, in so far as it Declares a War against His Sacred Majesty, and asserts, That it is lawful to Kill all such as Serve His Majesty, or who shall not disown the same; are thereby guilty of High Treason, and are Art and Part of the said Treasonable Declaration: And also Ratifies, Approves and Confirms all Proceffes of Treason, Led, or to be Led thereupon in time coming.

XXIV.

ACT ordaining that Tennents be obliged by their Tacks to live Regularly:

June 2. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of the Estates Conveened in Parliament, Do Statute and Ordain, That all Masters, whether Heretors, Liferenters, proper Wodsetters, Tutors, Tack-men, Donators of Wards, or Liferents, shall in all time-coming, insert in all Tacks to be set by them to their Tennents, as well in Burgh as Landward, an expresse Clause, whereby the Tennent shall oblige himself, That he, his Family, Cottars and Servants, shall live Peaceably and Regularly, free of all Fanatical Disorders, under the pain of the Tennent, Cottar, or Servant Contravening, their losing the half of their Moveables respective, each for their own fault; And where there is no written Tack, that all the Tennents shall enact themselves in the Masters Court Book, or in the Town Court Books within Burgh, or give Bond, to that effect, and in the Tenor foresaid. Which Enrolment of Court is to be subscribed by the Tennent, or if he cannot write, by the Clerk of the Court in his name; and if the Master, or any of the persons foresaid shall fail herein, they shall pay an years Rent of the Lands, set otherwise; a third part whereof to the Discoverer, if he prove the same, and two parts to the Kings Majesty: And all Masters and others foresaid, who have Lands already set in Tack, without the saids Clauses, are hereby Ordained to renew the same, and inset the said Clauses in them, betwixt and Whitsonday one thousand six hundred eighty and six, or to take an obligation apart from the Tennent, bearing these Clauses, otherwise to remove summarly; such Tennents as refuse to accept them on the saids conditions, notwithstanding of any former Tacks, which in this case are hereby Declared void and null. And in case the Tennents will not immediately Remove, that the Master may commit them to Prison. And it is hereby Statute and Ordained, That if any Tennent shall refuse to renew his Tack, enact himself, or give Bond in the Terms foresaid, he shall be lyable to pay to his Master an years Rent of of the Lands set to him. And this but prejudice or derogation to all former Acts of Parliament, whereby Masters are obliged for their Tennents, in the manner therein-specified.

XXV.

ACT Ratifying two Acts of Parliament and a Proclamation of Council, anent apprehending of Rebels.

June 2. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Ratifies and Approves the 124. Act Par. 12 of King James the sixth, Entituled, Act Anent the Duty of Sheriffs and Judges ordinary, their Deputis and Clerks: As also, the 144. Act of that same Parliament, Entituled, Act for punishing the Refettors of Traitors and Rebels, in the whole Heads, Clauses and Contents of them; Together with a Proclamation by His Majesties Privy Council, Dated the eight of July 1682. Entituled, Anent the Discovery of persons in Arms, and Apprehending of Rebels, in the whole Contents thereof: of which Proclamation the Tenor follows. A Proclamation, anent the discovery of persons in Arms, and apprehending Rebels and Fugitives. Charles, by the grace of God, King of Great-Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, To

Our Lyon King at Arms, and his brethren Heralds, Macers of Our Privy Council, Purservants, and Messengers at Arms, Our Sheriffs in that part conjunctly and severally, specially constitute Greeting: Albeit by the blessing of Almighty God, upon Our Royal Endeavours, the many Attempts of His and our Enemies (made most impiously under pretence of Religion and Zeal, against the Laws of God, of Nature, of Nations, and of this Our Kingdom, designing the overthrow of Religion, Government, Liberty and Property) have been frequently Disappointed and Defeated, and their malice turned upon their own heads, and that the many Acts, both of Mercy and Justice, exerc'd by Us, conform to the Laws of God and the Kingdom; and the great Prudence, Vigilance, Moderation and Justice, of Our dearest and only Brother, during his abode in, and Government under Us, of this Our ancient Kingdom, have had such happy success, as to bring Our good Subjects to further abhorrence of Fanaticks and their Impieties, and most of these who were misled by the lying Spirit of some of their pretended Ministers, are shrunk from these wayes, whereof they are justly ashamed, so that Our people are brought nearer to that Dutiful and Peaceable Deportment which becomes Christians and Subjects: Yet some are so indefatigable in malice, as to continue and stir up others to Disturb that Peace and Tranquillity, which Our people may enjoy under Our Reign: In so much as of late, some Traitors, Runnagates, and Fugitives, have Convocat towards the number of eighty, with forbidden Weapons, and in unlawful manner, near to Tala-lin, in the Shire of Peebles, And the people in that Country, have been so Defective in the Duties of Loyal Subjects, or good Country-men, as to neglect giving timely notice of such Meetings or Actings, either to Our Council, the Sheriff of the Shire, or the Commanders of Our Forces, who were nearest to them; and this neglect of theirs being not only a breach of Duty in them, but of very bad example, and dangerous consequence, if practised by others on such Emergents; We therefore by Our Royal Authority, and also in conformity to the whole course of Our Laws, particularly to the 144. Act of the 12. Parliament King James the 6. And 7. Act, Parliament 1. King James 1. Do hereby strictly Require and Command, all the Subjects and Inhabitants within this Our Kingdom, whether in Burgh or Land, upon Knowledge or Information; that any number of men do Convocat unlawfully in Arms, or appear in company in any place, or where any one or two of such, as are Declared Traitors or Fugitives from Our Laws, on Treasonable accounts, shall repair, that they shall with all Diligence give Intimation therof to Our Chancellour, and such others of Our Secret Council, as shall be at Edinburgh: As also, without delay; that they give Information to any Commander of Our Forces, who shall be nearest to the place where the said unlawful Convocation, or such Traitors and Fugitives are, and to the Sheriff of the Shire, Stewart of the Stewartry, Bailie of the Regality, or Magistrates of Burrows, where the said Meeting, or persons appear, or are informed to be, and that within the space of one hour at most, for every three miles distance they are at the time from Edinburgh, or from the nearest Commander of the Forces, Sheriffs, and other Magistrates foresaid. And farther, We do hereby Require and Command Our said Sheriffs, Bailies, and Magistrates, upon any such Information given to them, that they call together competent numbers of Our good Subjects, and with these, do exact Diligence; at the utmost of their power, to Search, seek, and Apprehend these who are so met, and to present them to Justice, and to follow them until they be apprehended, or expelled out of their Jurisdiction.

on, and on their flight, they are immediately to acquaint the Magistrates of the next Shire, whither they are fled; who are hereby required to do the like Diligence; and so from Shire to Shire, until they be apprehended, or expelled forth of this Realm: And in case any hurt or skaith fall out in the Pursuit, or in apprehending of these so unlawfully convocat, the Actors thereof are to be free, and unpunished in any manner of way: With Certification, that these whoever fails in their said respective Duties, whether it be the Magistrates, in not pursuance, or Our other Subjects, in not giving timeous Information within the space foresaid, or in not rising with, and assisting the Magistrates in their forementioned Duties, they shall be held and reputed as Disaffected to Our Government and Service, and as Art and Part, and conspirers with them in their said unlawful Designs and Convocations, and undergo the punishment due to these who were of the said unlawful Convocation, by the Laws of this Our Kingdom. And We hereby of new, Intimat to all Our Subjects, that whoever shall Intercommune with, Refet, supply, shelter, or give any comfort to any declared Traitors or Fugitives; or who shall conceal, refet, or shelter any who do Convocat in manner foresaid; that such Refetters or Assisters, shall be proceeded against, as if they were guilty of the Crimes whereof these Traitors and Fugitives are guilty, according to the just rigor of Our Laws. Our Will is therefore, and We Charge you stridly and Command, that incontinent, these Our Letters seen, ye pass to the Mercat Cross of Edinburgh, and the whole Mercat Crosses of the Head Burghs, and whole Paroch Kirks of this Kingdom, and other places needful, and there, in Our Name and Authority, by open Proclamation, make publication of Our Royal Will and Pleasure in the Premises, that none may pretend ignorance, but give cheerful and punctual obedience thereto; The which to do, We commit to you conjunctly and severally, Our full power, by these Our Letters, Deliv'ring them by you duely execute, and indorsed again to the bearer. Given under Our Signet at Edinburgh, the eighth day of July, One thousand six hundred eighty two years, and of Our Reign, the thirtieth and fourth year. And Declares the same shall have the effect of an Act of Parliament. And ordains the saids Acts and Proclamation to be put vigorously in execution.

XXXIX.

ACT Concerning Citations before Circuit Courts.

June 2. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Do hereby Ratifie and Approve the practice of the Circuit Courts, in citing persons even for Treason, upon Porteous Rolls by Messengers, or Sheriff-officers, without employing Heralds or Purfevants, which because of the Circumstances of the time, place and number of the Pannals cannot be done in Circuit Courts: And Declare that for the future, it shall be lawful to cite before Circuit Courts after that manner. It is alwayes hereby Provided, that in cases of Treason, the Messenger or Sheriff-officer, and Witnesses to the Citation shall be Sworn upon the verity thereof.

XXX.

ACT Approving the Narrative of the Plot.

June 4. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Having Read, Seen and Considered a Narrative of the late horrid inhumane Conspiracy by that Execrable Traitor, Archibald Campbel, sometime Earl of Argile, and others, and the Papers, Ciphers, and Instructions whereon the same is founded; They Do Find and Declare, that there has been a pernicious and treacherous Conspiracy, carried on by him and others; And they THEREFORE Approve the Discovery of the said Plot, by the extraordinary Pains, Exactness and Industry of the Lords of the Secret Committee; Together with the Narrative Drawn and Printed by Authority of the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, as good and acceptable Service done by them for the Security of His Sacred Majesty, and this His ancient Kingdom.

XXXI.

ACT for Security of the Officers of State and others.

June 4. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Considering the great and acceptable Services done to His Majesty by the Secret Committee, His Majesties Privy Council, and His other Judges and officers; And being desirous to Secure them for their Actings and Omissions in His Majesties Service, in most ample Form; Doth therefore, with Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Indemnifie and Secure all and every one of His Majesties present Officers of State, the Members of the Secret Committee, Lords of the Privy Council, and all His Majesties Judges, both Civil and Criminal, the Officers of the Army, and all others who have Acted by His Majesties Commissions, or by Commission from His Privy Council, against all Pursuits or Complaints that can be raised against them any manner of way, for their Actings in His Majesties Service: As likewise for their Omissions, and wherein they have fallen short of their Duty, and that as fully as if every particular Crime or Misdemeanour were particularly specified in a Remission under His Majesties Great Seal, or contained in an Act of Indemnity; Requiring all His Majesties Judges to Interpret this Indemnity in the most ample and favourable Sense, as they will be answerable.

XXXII.

ACT Concerning the Militia.

June 4. 1685.

 OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Considering that it may contribute for the ease of the people, to have the ordinary Rendezvouzes of Militia Discharged, unless extraordinary occasions should otherwise require : THEIR MAJESTIES ROYAL PLEASURE; and until His Pleasure be so Declared, that no Leaders, nor Assistants shall be lyable for furnishing, and contributing to buy or maintain Horse or Foot on that account; And they Recommend to the Secret Council to take such courses for disposing of the Militia Arms in the respective Shires, as shall seem most expedient for His Majesties Service; But prejudice alwayes of the continuance of the former, and present Constitution of the Militia, during the present Rebellion,

XXXIII.

ACT for Security of the Records.

June 4. 1685.

 OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of Parliament, Considering of how great Importance it is to the Leidges, That the Records and Registers be securely Keaped; Do therefore Ordain, That all Clerks within the Kingdom, who keep such Registers as are, or have been in use to be delivered in to the Clerk Register, to be preserved in His Majesties General-Register-house, shall give in all their Registers and Books preceeding the first of August 1675. before the first of November 1685. To be kept by the Clerk of Register; And that hereafter they shall keep only ten years Records in their own hands, for the use of the Leidges; With Certification, that these who failzie, shall incur such pains and penalties as the Lords of Session shall think fit. And it is hereby Declared, That no privat Grant made by any Clerk Register, shall excuse them from obedience to this Act, which tends so much to the security of the people, and preservation of the Records,

XXXIV.

XXXV.

ACT anent Messengers Fees.

June 4. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, That it shall be in the power of the Sheriffs, Stewarts, Bailies of Regalities, Justices of Peace, and Magistrates of Burghs Royal respective, within whose bounds any Legal Diligences shall be used, to modify the Prices and Charges craved by Messengers, for execution of their Offices from any of His Majesties Leidges upon the Complaint of the Parties, either for, or against whom the Messengers were Employed.

XXXVI:

ACT anent the Address of the Estates of Parliament of His Majesties ancient Kingdom of Scotland, to His Sacred Majesty, against the arch-Traitor Archibald Campbel, sometime Earl of Argile:

June 11. 1685.

THE ESTATES of PARLIAMENT, Taking to their Consideration the great happines conferred on this Nation by Almighty God, in having been for so many Ages Governed and Protected by a long and continu'd Succession of Glorious and Just Monarchs, and when they had very just reason to expect a further continuance and increas in this happines, from the auspicious Entry of Your Sacred Majesty to the Possession of Your undoubted Right, and from your extraordinary Justice, Prudence, Courage and Conduct, They cannot but with horror reflect on the unparalleled Treachery of that Hereditary and Arch-Traitor, Archibald Campbel, late Earl of Argile, who after that Our late Merciful King had restored His Family, notwithstanding it had been guilty of a dreadful tract of Rebellion, Bloodshed, and Oppression, and had raised it to a greater Lustre and Estate than ever it had formerly arrived at; Yet he did employ that Power the King had invested him with, to support that Traiterous and Fanatical party, and to oppress all who had served the King against His Father in the late Rebellion; And being more led by the inveterat Treachery, in which he had been educated, then remembring the great favours so undeservedly bestowed upon him, he committed these Crimes for which he was justly forefaulted; And in prosecution of them, he has at last absolutely plucked off the mask, by Invading this Your Majesties ancient Kingdom, and his own Native Countrey. and by endeavouring to defame in a publick Proclamation, the late King and Your Sacred Majesty, Robbing and spoiling such Innocent and Loyal men as would not joyn with him, and associating to him these barbarous Miscreants, who did undertake to assassinate Your Majesty, and Your Royal Brother, as Rumbold the Maltster, now passing by the Name of Bowls, who at the Ry was to have committed the said horrid Assassination; These also who actually murdered James late Arch-bishop of St. Andrews, as John Balfour of Kinloch, George Fleming in Balbuthy, and these other Assassins who have rendered almost every mans life insecure: From all which just Resentments, We judged it our Duty in all humility, to Address to Your most Sacred Majesty, and with all earnestness to Implore, that the said Archibald Campbel, late Earl of Argile, that execrable Traitor, should be for ever secluded from Your Majesties favour, and that Your Majesty would be pleased to Declare, that he, his Family, and the Heretors, Ring-leaders and Preachers who have joyned with him in this Rebellion, should be for ever Declared incapable of Mercy, and bearing any Honours, or enjoying any Estate within this Kingdom, and to Discharge under all highest pains, all Your Majesties good Subjects to interceed for him or them, any manner of way; And that all such as shall interpose for their Restauration, shall incur the pain of Treason; and that Your Majesty would be pleased in Your Royal Prudence, to Inquire who have been the Assisters and Abaters, either at home or abroad, of this Treasonable Invasion, by which Your Majesties Government has been so highly injured, and maliciously arraigned, and this your Kingdom, so Disturbed and Harassed; to the end Your Majesty may Declare Your high Displeasure against them, and every one of them, to the Terror and Example of others; In Return of all which, We the Estates of this Your Majesties ancient Kingdom, Do hereby most Cordially and Sincerely, Offer with our Lives and Fortunes, to assist Your Majesty against this, and all other Traitors, their Adherents and Associates.

XXXVII.

ACT for the Clergy.

June 13. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Considering how just and necessary it is, and how much it imports the honour of His Government, That the persons of the Arch-Bishops and Bishops, and all others the Orthodox and Loyal Clergy, be protected from the Sacrilegious Assaults, Violence, Outrages and Assassinations of Fanatical, Impious and Bloody-men, who to the scandal of Religion and Humanity, do maintain the pernicious and horrid Principles of Rebellion, Violence, Murder and Assassination, and to practise accordingly; Doth with Advice and Consent of His Estates in Parliament, Not only Ratifie and Confirm all former Laws and Acts of Parliament, made for the Security of the persons of the Clergy, particularly the fifth Act, first Session, second Parliament, Charles the Second; Fourth Act, second Session, second Parliament, Charles the Second; And fifteenth Act, third Parliament, Charles the Second. But further, His Sacred Majesty from His just abhorrence of, and Indignation against all such horrid and inhumane Principles and Practices, Doth with Advice and Consent foresaid, of new, Statute and Ordain, That whatsoever person or persons shall be found guilty of Assaulting the Lives of Bishops, or other Ministers, or of Invading or Robbing their Houses, or actually attempting the same, shall be punished with Death, and the Confiscation of all their Goods; And if any regular Minister shall happen to be Assassinated, or Murdered, the Parochioners of that Paroch wherein he is Assassinated, shall pay such sums as the Privy Council shall determine; which sum shall be bestowed to the use and behoove of the Wife and Children of the said Minister, at the sight of the Privy Council; and if he hath neither Wife nor Children, It is hereby Declared to belong to the nearest of the said Ministers Kindred; and the Legal and Conform Parochioners are to have relief, and to be Re-imburshed by the Non-conform Parochioners, or others, who shall be proven to have had accession thereunto, at the sight of the Privy Council. And the Estates of Parliament make their humble Address to His Majesty, for conferring a competent encouragement and Reward to such persons as shall make effectual Discoveries, or shall apprehend any who commit any of the violences foresaid, either upon Bishops, or Ministers in their persons or goods respectively; and if there shall shappen any Slaughter, or Mutilation to be committed in apprehending such persons; His Majesty with Consent foresaid, Doth hereby Indemnifie the persons Employed, and all such as shall assist in apprehending of them; and Declareth them free of all question or trouble for the same, in all time thereafter.

And His Sacred Majesty being firmly Resolved to Conserve and Maintain the Church in the present State and Government thereof, by Arch-bishops and Bishops, and not to endure, nor Conive at any Derogation from, or Violation of it; Doth therefore, with Advice and Consent of His Estates Assembled in this Parliament, Ratifie, Approve and Confirm all former Laws and Acts of Parliament made and passed in the Reigns of His Royal Grand-father, King James the Sixth, His Royal Father King Charles the First, and Royal Brother King Charles the Second of Glorious, Memorics: Restoring the Church to its ancient and right Government by Arch-bishops and Bishops, and Redintegrating the Estate of Bishops to the Exercise of their Episcopal Function; and to all the Privileges, Immunities, Dignities, Jurisdictions and Possessions which was enjoyed by, or by the Laws of the Kingdom was due to their Predecessors, in the year 1637. And Ordaineth them to stand in full force, as publick Laws of the Kingdom, and to be put in execution in all points, conform to the Tenor thereof, as if they were herein all specially repeated and expressed: And in pursuance of His Majesties Royal Resolution therein, His Majesty with Advice foresaid, Doth rerecommend to all His Ministers of State, Lords of His Privy Council, and all other Judges and Magistrates, to take the Persons and Interests of the Loyal and Orthodox Clergy, under their special Care and Protection; That all Laws, Acts and Statutes, made in their favours, may receive due and ready obedience from all His Majesties Subjects.

XXXVIII.

ACT Concerning the Registration of Writs in the Books of Session.

June 13. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, With Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Considering, That there have been in all Time by-past, only three Offices of the Ordinary Clerks of Session, and that the Erection of any more of these Offices is unnecessary, and may be prejudicial to the Leidges, THEREFORE, Statutes and Ordains, That there be only three Offices of Ordinary Clerks of Session in time coming, and that there be no more then two Persons conjoynd in each of these Offices, which shall remain intire in the full extent thereof, without Alteration, Division, or Dismemberment of any part of the same. And Statutes and Declares, That they as Clerks to the Session, and their Successors have the only Right to be Clerks as Deputies to the Lord Register, to all Processes which are competent before the Lords of Session, and to the Registrating and Extracting of all Writs Registrat in the Books of Council and Session, and have right to all Privileges, Profites and Emoluments, whereof the saids Clerks are in Possession: And for the better securing of the Leidges, both as to the Registration and Preservation of Principal Writs, Statutes and Ordains, That the Clerks of the Session keep an exact Register a part in every one of their Offices for Registration of all Writs, and that they appoint one or two fit, diligent, and faithful Persons in every Office, to receive in the Writs given in to be Registrat, from whom they are to take Caution for their Registrating, Recording, and safe Preseiving of these Writs. And Appoints, That there shall be two Minut-Books kept in every Office, in the One whereof there shall be set down the Title of Writs given in to be Registrat, the Name of the Giver in, and the Date of the ingiving; which is to be subscribed by the Clerk, or his Substituts foreaids, and all Writs so given in, shall be booked within the space of one year after the ingiving; and if any Party, or one employed by him, shall desire up a Writ given in, within the space of Six Moneths after its ingiving, then the Title of the Writ, the name of the Party, and the Date of both ingiving and outgiving of the said Writ shall be insert in the other Minut-Book, and be subscribed by the Receiver thereof, that as the one Minut-Book doeth Charge, to the other Minut-Book may Discharge the Clerk of such Writs, And that no Writ given in, shall be taken out after the same is Booked, And the Clerk are to begin the foreaid Method of the saids two Minut-Books, from the first day of August next ensuing; And when the time comes that these Registers are to be given in to the General Register House, the two Minut-Books are likewise to be given in with them subscribed by the Clerk; And the Deput appointed by the Lord Register for keeping of the saids Registers, shall subscribe other Doubles of the saids Minut-Books, which are to be kept by the Clerks for Information of the Leidges in their Offices. And the Clerk of Register, or his Deput, are hereby Ordained to keep all Principal Writs in a secure Room, distinct from the Room where the Registers are kept: As also, Further Ordains the Clerk of Register once in the year to visite the Registers in every Chamber, as he shall be answerable. And because many Writs are Registrat incompetently out with the Jurisdiction, to the great prejudice of the Leidges, (such Registrations being void and null, and consequently all Execution following thereupon,) THEREFORE, Statutes and Ordains, That no Clerk of Inferior Court for the future, presume to Registrat any Writs in his Books, either for Conservation, or where Execution is to pass against any Party that dwells without the Jurisdiction, under the pain of Deprivation, and of Five Hundred Merks of Penalty, the one half to His Majesty, and the other half to the Party Pursuer. Likes, His Majesty, with Consent foreaid, Ratifies and Approves the Gifts granted by the Clerk Register to the present Ordinary Clerks of Session, of their respective Offices, in the whole Heads, Tenors, and Contents of the same; Declaring these Presents to be as effectual, as if the saids Gifts were verbatim here insert. And in respect that by this Act, there is a great addition to the Clerk Register his Care and Trouble, as well as to the Peoples Security, THEREFORE, It is Ordained, That there shall be Twenty Shilling Scots payed to the Clerk Register in place of the Merk formerly payed to him and his Predecessors for each Subscription,

XXXIX. ACT

XXXIX.

ACT in Favours of Planters, and Inclosers of Ground.

June 13. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, With Advice and Consent of the Estates of this present Parliament, for the Encouragement of Inclosing of Ground and Planting of Trees, Does Ratifie and Approve all former Laws and Acts of Parliament made in favours of Inclosers of Ground and Planters of Trees, and particularly the 41 Act, Parl. 1. Charles 2. Intituled, Act for Planting and Inclosing of Ground. And because the time Prescribed in the said Act is now elapsed, They Statute and Ordain, That the whole Heads contained in the said Act be observed for the space of Nineteen Years next to come, Commencing from the Date hereof. And Likewise, Ratifies and Approves the 17 Act, Parl. 2. Charles 2. Intituled, Act for Inclosing of Ground. And Ordains the same to be observed in all time coming. ACT of Annexation of the Offices belonging to the late Earl of Argile.

June 16. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, With Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Considering how dangerous it hath always been to the Peace and Quiet of this Kingdom, to bestow too many Heretable Jurisdicions, Offices, and Superiorities upon any of His Majesties Subjects, living in the remot High-lands, and that by such helps as these, the Family of Argile did in the last Age, as well as this, commit, and maintain their Execrable Treasons, and oppress and enslave His Majesties faithful and Loyal Subjects, and that the Jurisdicions, Offices, Superiorities, and Constabularies after-specified are now fallen in His Majesties hands, by the Sentence and Doom of Forfeiture given and pronounced against Archibald Campbell late Earl of Argile, by the Commissioners of Justiciary upon the day of THEREFORE, His Majesty, with Consent foresaid, Do Unite, Annex, and Incorporat to His Crown of this His Ancient Kingdom, to remain inseparably with the same in all time coming, the Offices of Justice General of all the Isles of Scotland, except Orkney and Zeland, of the Shires of Argile and Tarbet, and of all the remanent Lands and Estate belonging to the said late Earl in Scotland, the Heretable Lieutenancy of Argile and Tarbet Shires, the Heretable Chamberlainry of both these Shires, the Office of Admiralty of all the Lands belonging to him the said Archibald Campbell, the Right of the Commissariat in so far as it belong'd to the late Earl, the Office of the Kings Master-Household within Scotland, the Heretable Sheriff-ship of Argile and Tarbet Shires, the Heretable Crownership, and Toshdorch, or Mayorship in these Shires, as also that half of the Casualties belonging to the King and Prince formerly dispo'd by His Majesty and His Predecessors to the Earl of Argile and his Predecessors, viz. The hall of the Wards, Releifs, Marriages, Non-Entries, Escheats, Amerciaments, and of all Casualties whatsoever belonging to the King and Prince within the saids Shires; And sicklike, the Patronage of all Kirks and Prebandries which any manner of way did belong to the said late Earl and his Predecessors; And in like manner, the Constabularies, of the Castles of Craignish, Tarbet, Carrick, Duniae, Swine, and Dunstaffnage, with the Profits, Rents, and Emoluments uments belonging thereto; As also, the Superiorities of all and whatsoever Lands belonging to the Earl of Broad-A'bin, Lord Lovat, John McLeod of Herreis, the Heirs of the late Lord McDonald, of McDonald of Torlosk, and of the other Heretors holding of the late Earl of Argile in the Isles of Mull, Fura, Macalister of Tarbat, Arbruchell, Duncan of Lundy, Campbell of Auchattan, the Lairds of Ormsley and Castle, and Parks of Inverary; Declaring that the generality hereof, shall be as sufficient, as if each Annexation is affected with all the Conditions and Provisions as to the way and manner of Alienation and Dissolution mentioned and expressed in the former Act of Parliament, Annexing to the Crown the Lands of the Earl of Tarras, Lord Melville, and others.

XLI.

ACT Declaring the Greenland-Fishing to be a Manufactory

June 16. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, With Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Considering the great Advantage which may accrue to this Kingdom by encouraging the Greenland-Fishing, whereby vast Sums of Money will be kept within the Kingdom, and by the export of Oyl and Whale-bone considerable Sums of Money brought into the Kingdom. Do therefore Declare the Greenland-Fishing an Manufactory, and to have all the Privileges and Immunities made in favours of any other Manufactory, or Fishing-Company; And that all Ail or Drinking-Beer made use by the Ships to be sent to Greenland, and an Butt of Brandy for each Ship yearly shall be free from Excise, Imposition, Custom, or any Dues whatsoever. And the Greenland-Fishing being much prejudged by the importing of Foreign Soap, or Whalebone, the Customers quitting the one half of the Duty imposed by Act of Parliament upon Imported Soap. Do therefore, expressly Prohibit and Discharge the Fermors of His Majesties Custom, or others, from quitting or abating any of the said Duty due by Law upon Imported Whale-bone or Soap; and if it be discovered, that they shall quite or abate any of the said Duty, that the said Soap or Whale-bone shall be Confiscate, the one half to His Majesty, and the other half to the Discoverer, and the Tacksmen or Collector who shall be found so guilty, to be Censured by His Majesties Privy Council or Exchequer, as they judge fit.

XLII.

XLIII.

ACT in favours of the Inhabitants of Orkney and Zetland.

June 16. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD Considering the great distance of the Islands of Orkney and Zetland from the Town of Edinburgh, the ordinary place of Justice, and the uncertainty of Passage by Sea, and the many fresh Waters and other Ferries in the way by Land; Doth with Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, That all Summons to be intented against the Inhabitants of Orkney and Zetland, before the Lords of Privy Council, the Lords of Session, and before the Commissioners of Justiciary, and Letters of Horning and Law-borrows upon their Decrees, or by their Warrant, shall be execute in time coming upon forty days; but prejudice always of Letters to be raised upon Writs Registrated of consent of parties, where, by the Clause of Registration, the party consents that execution should pass on a shorter time.

XLIV.

ACT for a Standart of Miles.

June 16. 1685:

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Thinking it fit, that there should be a fixed Standart for Measuring and Computation of Miles, and that the whole Isle of Britain should be under on certain kind of Commensuration, Doth therefore with Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, That three Barley Corns set lengthways, shall make an Inch, as it is already used; That twelve Inches shall make a Foot of Measure, which is to be the only Foot by which all Work-men, especially Masons, Wrights, Glasiors and others are ordained to measure their Work in all time coming, under the pain of an hundred pounds, toties quoties; Three of these Foots are to make a Yard, as three Foot and one Inch makes a Scotts Elu, And a thousand seven hundredth and sixty Yards are to make a Mile, which is to be made the Standart of Computation from place to place in all time coming.

XLV.

ACT in favours of Sir William Bruce, for enlarging the Shire of Kinross.

June 16. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of Parliament; Considering the smallness and extent of the Sherifdom of Kinross, and Jurisdiction thereof, to support and maintain the State and Rank of a distinct Shire, as it is, and anciently has been; and that it will be of great advantage and ease to His Majesties Lieges, the several Heretors, Residenters and Inhabitants within the Parochs of Portmuck, Cleish and Tillibool (excepting alwayes, and reserving the jurisdiction of the Lands of Cornboe, Bridge-lands, Cruick, and Cruick-miln, lying in the said Paroch of Tillibool, and Stewartry of Strathern, whereof James Earl of Perth, Lord high Chancellour is Heretable Stewart, out of this present Act, which is hereby Declared to be without prejudice thereunto, Infringement thereof, or Ineroachment thereupon, or to the detriment of the said Heretable Stewartry in any manner of way whatsomever) and to the Heretors of these several parts and portions of Land, lying in the Paroch of Kinross, and in the Shiros of Fife and Perth; and of the Barony of Cuthilgourdy, lying in the Shire of Perth, and belonging to Sir William Bruce of Kinross

Ba-

Baronet, Heretable Sheriff of the said Shire of Kinross, be Disjoyned from the said Shires of Fife and Perth, and Jurisdictions thereof, and Joyned, Annexed, and United to the Shire of Kinross, and Jurisdiction thereof, unto which the said Parochs and Landsly contigge; and most conveniently: And that John Marquess of Athol, Sheriff principal of the Sheriffdom of Perth; and Margaret Countess of Rothes, and the Deceast Charles, Earl of Haddington her Husband, Heretable Sheriff of the Shire of Fife, have for their respective Interests, consented to the Disjunction of the said Shire to the said Shire of Kinross, and Heretable Jurisdiction thereof, in favours of the said Sir William Bruce, Heretable Sheriff of the same, with the burthen of the Valuation, and all other publick upon the Considerations foresaid, hereby Dismember and Disjoyn the said several Parochs of Portmouck, Cleish and Tillibool, and whole Lands contained therein (Reserving the Jurisdiction of the said Lands, as is above reserved) and the said parts and portions of Land, in the Paroch of Kinross, lying within the said Shires of Fife and Perth, and the said Lands and Barony of Cuthilgourdy, from the said Shires of Fife and Perth, and Jurisdictions thereof, for now and ever; And Adjoyn, Unite, Annex, and Incorporat the same to the said Sheriffdom, and Heretable Sheriffship of Kinross, in and to all effects and purposes, and in particular in point of Jurisdiction, Judicatures, sitting and collecting of Cess, Excise, Militia, Out-reeks of Levies, and mending of High-ways, as amply and freely as any other Shires do, or may do within this Kingdom; Discharging hereby all other Sheriffs and their Deputs, and Justices of Peace within the said Shires of Fife and Perth from exercising any Power of Jurisdiction over any of the said Lands and Parochs foresaid, Heretors and Inhabitants thereof, in any time coming, as being now only answerable to the Sheriff-Court of Kinross, and Justices of Peace within the same (Reserving alwise to the said James Earl of Perth, and his Heirs, the Jurisdiction of the said Lands of Cruik, Cruikmiln, Carnloe and Bridg-lands, as Heretable Stewart of the said Stewartry of Strathern) And in respect that formerly the publick Burthens, Cess, Excise, Militia, and mending of High-ways, and other publick Concerns, were (because of the smallness of the Shire of Kinross, and that for many years, the Right and Interest thereof was broken, and divided in the hands of many Creditors) casten in, and managed with the publick Concerns of Fife; And the Shire of Kinross being now enlarged, and that Interest brought in, and made intire again in the person of the said Sir William Bruce; THEREFORE His Majesty, with Consent foresaid, separates the said Shire of Kinross from Fife, as to all these publick Concerns and Actings, as well the Lands contained therein formerly, as these Annexed thereto by this present Act; and from the Shires of Fife and Perth respectively, in all matters whatsoever that relate to, pertain, and fall within the precinct, and Jurisdiction of the said Shire of Kinross, as it is now Established and Comprehended by this present Act; and to consist of the Parochs of Kinross, Urmell, Portmouck, Cleish, and Tillibool, and whole Lands lying within the said Parochs, and of the said Lands and Baronies of Cuthilgourdie, with the burthen of the Valuation of the said Parochs and Lands; and liberating and freeing the said respective Shires of Fife and Perth, proportionally of the Burthen thereof; and particularly (without prejudice of the generality foresaid) of all Cess, Excise, Militia, Out-reeks of Horse and Foot, High-ways, and all other publick Burthens, and Impositions laid, or to be laid upon these Lands, Disjoyned from the said Shires of Fife and Perth, and Annexed to Kinross in manner foresaid; and particularly, liberats the Shire of Fife of the Valuation of the Lands formerly contained in the Shire of Kinross, and of the Valuation of the Lands that are now Disjoyned from the Shire of Fife, and Adjoyned to the Shire of Kinross, amounting both, to the sum of Eighteen Thousand five hundred and sixteen pounds Scots Money. And also, particularly Liberats and Frees the Shire of Perth of the Valuation of the said Lands, hereby Disjoyned from the Shire of Perth, and now Annexed to the Shire of Kinross, extending to the sum of One Thousand, seven hundred and eighteen pounds, six shilling eight pennies, Scots Money, making up the said two Valuations, in the whole, the sum of Twenty Thousand, two hundred and thirty four pounds, six shilling, eight pennies, Scots Money, Which is Declared to be the full and compleat Valuation of the Shire of Kinross hereafter, and the Rule of proportioning the publick Burthens laid on, or to be laid on the said Shire of Kinross, Willing and Appointing the Heretors, Inhabitants and Possessors of the said Lands, in all time coming, to answer to the Courts of the said Sheriffdom of Kinross, and to be lyable to the Jurisdiction of the Sheriffs thereof, in all Causes, Civil and Criminal, competent to an Sheriffs Cognition, and to be holden, reputed and esteemed in all time hereafter, a part of the said Shire of Kinross, to all effects, and particularly (without prejudice of the generality foresaid) with the burthen of all Cess, Excise, and other Impositions whatsoever.

Militia and other Out-reeks, Collecting and Ordering thereof: And that in all Retours, Rights, Dispositions, Charters and Infeftments of the faids Lands, they be Designed in all time-coming, to ly within the faid Sheriffdom of Kinross: And that all Denunciations, and Executions of Hornings, Appryfings, Inhibitions, Adjudications, Publications of Interdictions, and other Legal Diligences, againſt the Heretors, Poſſeſſors and Inhabitants of the faids Lands, with all Brieves, Proclamations and others, be uſed and Execute at the faid Mercat Croſs of Kinross, head-Burgh of the faid Shire, in like manner, and to the ſame effect, as theſe Executions are uſed at the head-Burgh of any other Shire, And in caſe there be any miſtake in the caſting of, and inserting in this Act the ſums of the Valuation above-mentioned, to the prejudice of any of the faids other Shires. His Majeſty with Conſent forſaid, Ordains the Commiſſioners of Cefs and Excife of the faids other Shires, to Meet, Adjust, and ſettle the faids Proportions, and being ſo Adjusted, to ſignifie the ſame to the Lords of His Majeſties Privy Council under their hands, that the ſame may be Recorded in the Books of Privy Council, for a Rule hereafter. As alſo, His Majeſty, with Conſent of the faids Eſtates of Parliament, Conſidering that by the ſixteenth Act of the twenty ſecond Parliament of His Majeſties Deareſt Grand-Father, King James ſixth, in anno 1617. (Entitled Act ancient Registration of Seaſons, Reversions and other Writs) That for the great eaſe of the Lieges, the faids Registers were Eſtabliſhed in the Burgh of Coſper in Fiſe, for the whole Lands lying in the bounds of the faids Sheriffdoms of Fiſe and Kinross, or were to be Eſtabliſhed in any other place or places more convenient: And that now for the greater eaſe and accomodation of the Leiges, it is thought more fit and convenient, That the ſaid Register be kept at Kinross, head-Burgh of the Shire thereof, for the whole Lands, as well formerly lying within, as now Annexed to the ſame Shire: THEREFORE His Majeſty, and Eſtates of Parliament forſaid, Statute and Ordain, That in all time coming, there be a publick, particular Register, for Registrating Seaſons, Renunciations, Reversions, Discharges of Reversions, Grants of Redemption, and other Writs, enjoyned to be Registrated by the ſaid former Act of Parliament, kept by the Clerk of Registers, and his Deputs, at the ſaid Burgh of Kinross, for the whole Lands, as-well formerly lying within the ſaid Shire of Kinross, as now annexed thereto, within the ſpace, to the ſame effect, and with the like conditions mentioned and contained in the forſaid Act, in anno 1617. For Registration of Seaſons, Reversions, &c. And Laſtly, His Majeſty and Eſtates of Parliament forſaid, Hereby Ratiſhe and Approve, in favours of the ſaid Sir William Bruce, and his Heirs-male, Tailzie, and others contained in his Infeſtments of the Eſtate of Kinross, the twenty ninth Act of the firſt Parliament of His Majeſties Deareſt Father, King Charles the firſt of ever bleſſed memory (Entitled, Act in Favours of the Earl of Morton and the Lord Dalkeith his Son, anent the Loch of Loch-Levin, and preſervation of the Fiſhes thereof) And Ordains the ſaid Act to be put to Execution by the ſaid Sir William Bruce, and his forſaid, and his and their Deputs and Bailies, after the Form and Tenor thereof. It is alſo hereby Declared, That this Act, and every part thereof, is but prejudice to the ſaid Sir William Bruce, and his Heirs of any other Jurisdiction of Regality or Bailiary, formerly belonging to him of any of the faids Lands, either formerly belonging, or now Annexed to the ſaid Shire of Kinross.

XLVI.

ACT Salvo jure Cuſuslibet.

June 16. 1685.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD Taking to Conſideration, that there are ſeveral Acts of Ratification, and others paſt, and made in this Session of Parliament, in favours of particular perſons, without calling or hearing of ſuch as may be thereby concerned, or prejudged; THEREFORE His Majeſty, with Advice and Conſent of the Eſtates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, that all ſuch particular Acts, and Acts of Ratification paſt in manner forſaid, ſhall not prejudice any third party of their lawful Rights, nor of their Actions and Defences competent thereupon, before the making of the faids particular Acts, and Acts of Ratification; And that the Lords of Session, and all other Judges of this Kingdom, ſhall be obliged to judge betwixt parties, according to their ſeveral Rights ſtanding in their perſons, before the making of the faids Acts: All which are hereby Exponed, and Declared to have been made, Salvo jure Cuſuslibet.

ACT of Dissolution of the Lands of Celsnock and Duchal.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of Parliament, Taking into Their Consideration, That His Majesties Commissioner, as having special Warrant and Instruction from His Majesty, Having Proposed and Expounded in plain Parliament, The Great and Faithfull Services Done to His Majesty, and His Royal Brother, of ever blessed memory, by John Lord Viscount of Melfort, one of His principal Secretaries of State, and his constant Zeal and Faithfulness to the Interest of the Crown, and particularly, That His Majesty was sensible of the many Journeys made by the said John Viscount of Melfort, from Scotland to the Court of England, upon occasions of great Importance, to the Service of the Crown and Government, for most of which he had no allowance, at least none suitable to his Expenses; And that he had Faithfully executed several Offices of great Trust, as Lieutenant General and Master of the Ordnance, Lieutenant Governour of the Castle of Edinburgh, Thesaurer Deput, and Secretary of State for His Majesties Ancient Kingdom of Scotland.

land; In which Employments he did very well behave himself; That he was instrumental in the Defeat of the Rebels at Bothwell-bridge, was diligent against the Rebels thereafter; And at great Pains and Charges in the Circuits, for the Shires of Lanerk, Stirling, Renfrew and Dumbarton, in the year 1684. And that he had performed several other good and acceptable Services. As also His Majesties Commissioner, as having speciall Warrant and Instruction from His Majesty, Having proposed to the Estates of Parliament, That His Majesty judging it fit for the Interest of His Crown, and the Good and Wellfare of this Kingdom, To Purchase and Acquire from the said John Viscount of Melfort, the Lands, Baronies and others aftermentioned, wherein the said Viscount stands Heretabill Infeft, viz. The Lands and Barony of Muirhall, Comprehending therein the Lands of Inverneil, Kilmor, Downanoltich, Craigmoirail, Kilbryd, Kilmorich, Auchinbreck, Melfort, Kennmore, Knaps, Kilmorie, Kilberrie, Auchinlalloch, Imstremich, Barleamich, Donnardenrie, Eunichan, Kildalban, Dargachie, Cariedale, Drummoir, Crear, Oib, Muirhall, and several other Lands, Teinds and Rights mentioned in the Charter thereof, Granted by His Majesty to the said John Viscount of Melfort, of the Date the nineteenth day of March 1686. Which did formerly pertain to Sir Duncan Campbell of Auchinbreck, John Campbell of Melfort, John Campbell of Knap, Dougal Campbell of Kilberrie, Patrick McCarter of Imstremich, Eivor McEivor of Askins, Donald Mearvish of Donnardenrie, Neill Campbell of Eunichan, Campbell of Kildalban, John Campbell of Dargachie, Duncan Campbell of Cariedale, Alexander Mcmillan of Downiemoir, Donald McNeill of Crear, Alexander Mcervorlich of Oib, Alexander Campbell of Otter, William Denholm of Westheill, Mr. Alexander Campbell Advocat, Collin Campbell elder of Allangreig, and Duncan Campbell younger thereof, and Stuart younger of Cultivels, And which tell in His Majesties hands by the Forefaulture of the forenamed persons, And likewise the Lands and Barony of Melfort, Comprehending the Superiorities and the Feu-Duties of the Lands of Kayra, and the Isle of Loung, The Lands of Torsay, The Lands and Isle of Shennay, The Lands of Daginnelsh, Armadie, Anchnasoul, Ragray and of many other Lands, particularly mentioned in the Charter thereof, Granted by His Majesty, under His Majesties Great-Seal, to the said John Viscount of Melfort, of the Date the day of 1685. Which Superiorities and Feu-Duties pertained formerly to Archibald Campbell, late Earl of Argile, and tell in His Majesties hands by his Forefaulture, Excepting only the Superiorities and Feu-Duties of Glen-ila, Balquhan, Spittle-town of Balquhan, Edinample and Menstrie, which are Reserved to the said Viscount of Melfort, The said Lands and Baronies being of a vast and great extent, and containing great Superiorities, and as lying and being Situat in the Highlands, and formerly belonging to the late Earl of Argile, and others of his Party, who were involved in the late Rebellion, and Forefaulit for their accession thereto, has always been subject to Disorders, which might indanger the publick Peace, which being in His Majesties hands. And His Royal Authority and Interest concurring, may Restrain and prevent the same, and His Majesty conceiving it just and reasonable, That the said John Viscount of Melfort, in lieu and place of the forelaids Lands and Baronies formerly belonging to him, and which at His Majesties Desire, he is willing to Resign in His Majesties Hands, ad perpetuam remanentiam, should have a full Recompence and Satisfaction for the same. And His Majesty Designing to Give and Dispose in Permutation and Excambion thereof, The Lands and Barony of Riccartoun; The Lands and Barony of Cesnock and Galsfoun, with the Tower of Cesnock and Pertments; The Lands and Barony of Barr; The Lands and Barony of Castlemains and Cummock; The Lands and Barony of Haining-Rofs, all lying within the Sheriffdom of Air, formerly pertaining to Sir Hugh and Sir George Campbells, sometime of Cesnock. The Lands and Barony of Duchall, and the Lands of Porterfield, with the Pertinents which pertained to Porterfield, sometime of Duchall, and all other Lands, Teinds and Rights whatsoever, belonging to the said Sir Hugh and Sir George Campbells, and Porterfield; And upon their Forefaulture did come in His Majesties Hands, and are Annexed to the Crown by the Fourty two Act of the first Session of this current Parliament, Dated the sixteenth day of June 1685. And albeit His Majesty be satisfied that the said Transaction and Excambion, is of advantage to His Majesty and His Crown, and for the Good and Wellfare of this Realm, upon the Considerations foresaid, And that the Lands and others which the said Viscount of Melfort is willing to Resign in His Majesties hands, are of greater yearly Rent and Value; Yet His Majesty has thought fit, re integra, to propose the same in plain Parliament, That they may seriously ponder, and consider the said particular Services, done and performed by the said Viscount of Melfort, to His Majesty and His Crown; And the foresaid Proposal, as to the Transaction and Excambion above-mentioned, and give His Majesty Their Advice, Judgement and Determination thereanent: And the Estates of Parliament after mature Deliberation, Treating and Consulting anent the Premisses, being fully satisfied and convinced, That either the said particular Services, Done and Performed to His Majesty by the said Viscount of Melfort, (The truth whereof is sufficiently known, and did appear to Them) or the foresaid Permutation and Excambion, are Just, Sufficient and Important Reasons, concerning both His Majesties Interest, and the publick Good and Wellfare of this Kingdom, That They should Advise and Consent sent to His Majesties Giving and Disposing the saids Lands, Baronies and others above-exprest, to the said John Viscount of Melfort, his Heirs and Assignes; and for that effect, that the saids Lands jefty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Decerns, Ordains and Declares, That the saids Lands and Barony of Riccartoun, The Lands and Baronies of Cesnock and Galsoun, of Castlemains and Cumnock, The Lands and Barony of Bar, The Lands and Barony dom of Air, formerly pertaining to the said Sir Hugh and Sir George Campbells, sometime of Cesnock, And the Lands and Barony of Duchal, and the Lands of Porterfield, with the Pertinents, which pertain to Porterfield, sometime of Duchal; And all other Lands, Teinds and Rights whatsoeever, belonging to the said Sir Hugh and Sir George Campbells, and Porterfield, hereby Dissolves the same from the Crown, and Patrimony thereof; And for that effect has Dissolved, and of Annexation, made the sixteenth day of June One thousand six hundred eighty five; And from all other Acts of Annexation, and from all Clauses, Qualities and Conditions therein contained: And His Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, Finds, Decerns and Declares, That this present Act of Dissolution, having proceeded upon the Advice and Deliberation of the Estates of Parliament, re integra; And found by the saids Estates, to be for Great, Weighty and Reasonable Causes, Concerning the Good, Wellfare and Publick Interest of the whole Kingdom; First Proposed and Advised, and maturely Pondered and Considered, before any previous Grant, or other Right or Deed, Given, Made or Done by His Majesty, in Favours of the said Viscount of Melfort and his foresaid, of the Lands, and others particularly and generally above-mentioned, or any part or portion of the same, Does fully satisfie the whole Clauses, Conditions and Qualifications contained in the foresaid Act of Annexation, and shall have the Force, Strength and effect of a general Law or Act of Parliament, and shall beas valid and effectual to the said Viscount of Melfort, and his foresaid, for the Security of the Lands, Baronies and others above-exprest, as any other Act of Dissolution Granted by His Majesty, or His Royal Ancestors, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, in Favours of whatsoever Person at any time hereafter. Likeas, His Majesty with Advice and Consent foresaid, Finds, Decerns and Declares, That this present Act of Dissolution, shall not be understood to fall under, or be comprehended in any Act Salvo jure, To be past in this, or any other Session of this current Parliament; But is hereby excepted therefrom in all time coming.

II.

ACT For the better Inbringing of His Majesties Supply.

May 26. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD Considering, That by a Clause in the Act of Convention of Estates, July 10. 1678. It is Provided, That Persons liable in payment of the Supply then Imposed, should not be holden to produce Discharges, or Receipts of the same, after the tenth day of June 1686. years. And seeing there is a great part of the Cess and Supply yet resting unpaid, for which no Diligence is done; THEREFORE, His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statutes, Ordains and Declares, That the particular Collectors in each Shire, for whom the Commissioners are answerable, shall be liable in all time coming, to do Diligence by Quartering, or Denunciation against the Deficients, at the head Burgh of the respective Shires where they live; And Declares the said Diligence so to be used, shall be sufficient to stop and interrupt the prescription, and make the Deficients liable, notwithstanding of the Clause in the foresaid Act, finding them not liable to produce their Discharges after the said day: And because the time prescribed by the said Act, is now near elapsed, THEREFORE, His Majesty with Advice and Consent foresaid, Does Prorogate the same until the first day of November next; To the Effect, the particular Collectors may do Diligence in the mean time. Likeas, His Majesty and the Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains in time coming, That all Cess which shall not be payed within six Moneths after the same falls due, shall bear Annual rent after elapsing of the said six Moneths, albeit Horning or other Diligence be not used for the same, And whereas by the Act 3. Par. 3. Ch. 2. The number of Foot to be employed in Parties for Quartering upon the Deficients, is Declared to be six Foot for every 1000 Pounds of Deficiency, and so proportionally; Which number is not sufficient, nor proportionable to the number of Horses or Dragoons appointed by the same Act. It is therefore hereby Ordained and Declared, That the number of Foot hereafter to be employed, shall be fifteen for each 1000 Pounds Scots, and so proportionally; And the number of Horses and Dragoons to continue as formerly. And likewise Statutes and Ordains, That if the Parties appointed to Quarter, shall not exact their Quartering money every twenty days at least, That they shall not have power to exact the same thereafter, It being always Competent to the Parties, in case they get not voluntary payment, to poynd therefore (within the said time) any Goods belonging to the persons on whom they are Quartering, in the ordinary way appointed by Law. And it is hereby Enacted and Declared, That Deficient Money shall only be due to Parties, so long as they are actually Quartering within the Shire, and that the Quartering Money shall commence and be payed according to the foresaid Act of Convention of Estates.

III.

ACT Ordaining Interlocutors to be Subscribed by the Judges.

May 26. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That from and after the first of November next, All Interlocutors pronounced by the Lords of Council and Session, and all other Judges within the Kingdom, shall be Signed by the President of the Court, or the Judge pronouncer thereof: And His Majesty, with Advice foresaid. Prohibits and Discharges the Clerks upon their peril, to Extract any Acts or Decrees, unless the Interlocutors, which are the Warrands thereof, be Signed as said is: Declaring hereby the Extracts which shall be given out otherways, to be void and null.

IV.

ACT Ordaining all Executions to be Subscribed by the Witnesses, without necessity of Stamping.

May 26. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That in time coming, all Citations before the Lords of Session, and Citations before any other Judges, Civil or Criminal, which formerly by Law or Custom used to be in Writ, and all Executions of Letters of Horning, Inhibition and others whatsoever, be Subscribed by the Executer thereof, and the Witnesses; Otherwise to be null and void. And that the same shall not be quarrellable for the want of stamping, any Law or Practick to the contrary notwithstanding.

V.

ACT Anent the Session.

May 26. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, That the ordinary Dyets for Sitting of the Session, shall be thus Regulated for the future, viz. The Winter-Session, shall Sitt down the first of November, and Rise the last of February: And the Summer-Session shall Sitt down the first day of June, and Rise the last of July; And that this present Act shall take effect from the first of November 1686. And that notwithstanding of the seventh Act of the third Parliament of King Charles the Second, of ever Glorious Memory, which is hereby Rescinded,

VI.

ACT For the Christmas Vacans

May 26. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of His Majesties Three Estates Assembled in Parliament, Statutes, Ordains and Declares, That the Christmas Vacation of the Session or Colledge of Justice, shall yearly, and in all time coming, Continue and endure from the Twentieth of December, to the Tenth day of January inclusive; Any former Law, Act or Custom to the contrary Notwithstanding.

VII.

VII.

ACT Of Dissolution of the Lands and Barony of Torwoodlie, in Favour of Lieutenant-General Drummond.

May 28. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of Parliament, Taking into Their serious Consideration, That His Majesty's Commissioner, as having special Warrant and Instruction from His Majesty, Having Proposed and Expounded in plain Parliament, The great and faithful Services done and performed to His Majesty's Royal Father King Charles the First, and His Royal Brother King Charles the Second (of ever Blessed memories) and to His Majesty's Self, since His accession to the Crown, by Lieutenant-General Drummond, Commander of all His Majesty's Forces within the Kingdom of Scotland; And Considering the particular Services Done by him, in his ready and chearful joyning with the Forces, Levied in the Year 1648. For Rescuing the Sacred Person of His Majesty's Royal Father, out of the hands of His rebellious English Subjects, by whom He was then kept Prisoner; And with the Forces Levied in Ireland, for the Service of the Crown, in the year 1649. under the Command of the Duke of Ormond, then Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; And his brave and chearful Concurring with the Royal Armies, both in Scotland and England, in the year 1651. which was the occasion of his suffering great loss, and a grievous long Imprisonment; And his Resolute and Courageous appearing in Arms against the Usurpers in the year 1653. being Cloathed with a Commission of Major-General: And Considering also, That after the hopes of the Loyal Party were absolutely cut off, by the prevalency of the Usurpation, The said Lieutenant-General Drummond having endured the greatest hardships and miseries, under the influence of Tyrannical Powers, made a generous choice, rather to undergo Exile and Banishment from his own Native Country, than submit upon any Terms, to or comply with an Unlawful and Usurped Authority, and that upon a Call from His Majesty's Royal Brother, after His Restauration, he left a Splendid and Honourable Employment under the Emperour of Russia, to give Obedience to His Native Prince, and that since his Return to this Kingdom, he did Good and Signal Service, as Major-General in the Defeat of the Rebels, and Suppressing the Rebellion, raised in the year 1666. And in his painful and Faithful Performance of the Office of Master-General of the Ordnance, for divers years; And in his Good and Successful Conduct of His Majesty's Forces, as Lieutenant-General against the late Rebels and Conspirators, who under the Command of the late Earl of Argyle, Designed to Overturn the Government of this Nation; And upon many other occasions, hath given pregnant proofs of a firm and steady Loyalty: And all the saids great and memorable Services and Sufferings, being proposed and laid open in plain Parliament, to the end, the Three Estates might give His Majesty Their Judgement, Advice and Determination, re integra, whether the same were True, Good and Reasonable Causes of publick Government, for Dissolving the Lands and Barony of Torwoodlie, formerly pertaining to

Pringle sometime of Torwoodlie, with all other Lands, Heretages and Rights, which belonged to him; from the Crown, and which came in His Majesty's hands, through the Crimes of Treason, and lese Majesty, Acted, Committed and Done by the said Pringle, and the Doom and Sentence of Forefaulure, given and pronounced against him for the same, upon the day of

One thousand six hundred eighty five years, and were Annexed to the Crown by the forty two Act of the first Session of this current Parliament; And the said Estates of Parliament, after long and mature Deliberation, and Treating and Consulting anent the Premises, being fully satisfied and convinced, That the particular Services and Sufferings above-mentioned, Done, Performed and Undergone by the said Lieutenant-General Drummond, The Truth whereof is clearly known and did appear to them, are Just, Weighty and Important Reasons, concerning both His Majesty's Interest, and the publick Good and Welfare of this Kingdom, That they should Advise and Consent to His Majesty's Giving and Disposing the saids Lands and Barony of Torwoodlie, and others above-express, to the said Lieutenant-general Drummond, his Heirs and Assignes; And for that effect, that the saids Lands should be Dissolved from the Crown, and from the said Act of Annexation: THEREFORE, His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Decerns, Ordains and Declairs, That the saids Lands and Barony of Torwoodlie, and all other Lands, Heretages and Rights, sometime belonging to the said Pringle late of Torwoodlie, and which came in His Majesty's hands, and were Annexed to the Crown in manner foresaid, may be Disposed to the said Lieutenant-General Drummond, and his forefairs; And for that Effect, has Dissolved, and hereby Dissolves the same from the Crown, and Patrimony thereof; And from the foresaid Act of Annexation, made the sixteenth day of June One thousand six hundred eighty and five years, and from all other Acts of Annexation, and from all Clauses, Qualities and Conditions therein contained; And His Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, Finds, Decerns and Declares, That this present Act of Dissolution having proceeded upon the Advice and Deliberation of the Estates of Parliament, re integra; And found by the saids Estates to be for great, weighty and reasonable Causes, concerning the Good, Wellfare and publick Interest of the whole Kingdom, first Proposed and Advised, and maturely Pondered and Considered in plain Parliament, before any previous Grant, Or other Right or Deed, Given, Made or Done by His Majesty, in Favours of the said Lieutenant-General Drummond and his forefairs, of the Lands and others above-mentioned, or any Part or Portion of the same, Does fully satisfie the whole Clauses, Conditions and Qualifications contained in the foresaid Act of Annexation, and shall have the Force, Strength, and Effect of a General Law, or Act of Parliament, and shall be as valid and effectual to the said Lieutenant-General Drummond, and his forefairs, for their Security of the Lands and Barony of Torwoodlie, and others above-exprest, as any other Act of Dissolution, Granted by His Majesty, or His Royal Ancestors, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, in Favours of whatsoever person at any time heretofore, and that notwithstanding of any former Gift or Grant, Given by His Majesties Royal Brother, to the said Lieutenant-General Drummond, which shall no ways weaken or Infringe this present Act of Dissolution, or His Majesties Grant of the Lands and others above-exprest, to follow thereupon. Likeas, His Majesty with Advice and Consent foresaid, Finds, Decerns and Declares, That this present Act of Dissolution shall not be understood to fall under, or be comprehended in any Act, Salvo Jure, To be past in this, or any other Session of this current Parliament, but is hereby excepted therefra in all time coming.

And on the other part, The said Viscount of Melfort hath Disposed in favours of Our Sovereign Lord the Kings Majesty, and Resigned in His Majesties hands, ad remanentiam, The Lands and Baronies of Muirhall and Melfort, Comprehending the whole Lands, Superiorities and Feu-Duties above-specified, excepting and reserving to the said Viscount of Melfort, as is before excepted and Reserved; And His Majesty now intending, That the Lands, Baronies, and others Disposed and Resigned by the Viscount of Melfort, in favours of His Majesty, should be annexed to the Crown, and Incorporat with the Patrimony thereof: THEREFORE His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Has Annexed, United and Incorporat, and hereby Units, Annexes and Incorporats to the Crown of this His ancient Kingdom, to remain inseparably therewith in all time coming, The Lands and Barony of Muirhall, Comprehending the whole Lands and others above-mentioned, viz. The Lands of Inverneil, Killmore, Downanoltich, Craigmuirhall, Kilbryd, Kilmarich, Auchinbreck, Melfort, Kenmore, Knap, Kilmore, Kilberrie, Auchinjalloch, Inshermich, Barleamich, Donnarderie, Eunichan, Kildalban, Dargachie, Cariedale, Drumoir, Crear, Oib, Muirhall, and remanent Lands, Teinds, and Rights mentioned in the foresaid Charter thereof, Granted by His Majesty to the said John Viscount of Melfort; and likewise, The foresaid Lands and Barony of Melfort, Comprehending the Superiorities and the Feu-Duties of the Lands of Rayra, and the Isle of Loung, the Lands of Torsey, the Lands and Isle of Shennay, the Lands of Dugachish, Ardmadie, Auchnasoul, Ragray, and whole remanent Lands, particularly mentioned in the Charter thereof, granted by His Majesty, under His Majesties Great Seal, to the said John Viscount of Melfort, Excepting only the foresaid Superiorities, and Feu-Duties of Glen-Isle, Balquhan, Spittleton of Balquhan, Ednample and Mensfrie, which are reserved to the said Viscount of Melfort; And it is hereby Statute and Declared, That the saids Lands, Baronies and others above-mentioned, with the Teinds thereof, excepting as is before excepted, shall remain with His Majesties Crown in all time coming, and that the same, or any part thereof, shall not, nor may not be given away in Fee and Heretage, nor in Frank-Tenement, Liferent-pension or Tack, except for the full Duty, which may be gotten from, and payed by the Tennents, or by any other manner of Alienation, Right or Disposition whatsoever to any Person or Persons of whatsoever Estate, Degree or quality they be, without Advice, Decreet and Deliberation of the whole Parliament, and for great, weighty and reasonable Causes, concerning the good, welfare and publick Interest of the whole Kingdom; First to be proposed, and to be Advised and maturely Pondered and Considered by the Estates, reintegrata, before any previous Grant, Right, or Deed be Given, Made or Done by His Majesty, or His Successors, concerning the Disposition of the saids Baronies, and others foresaid, or any part thereof, which may any ways predetermine them or the Estates of Parliament, and prejudice the freedom of their Deliberation and Consent; And if at any time hereafter it shall be thought fit to Dispon, or Grant any Right of any Part of the saids Lands, Superiorities, Offices, Teinds and others, It is Declared That the general Narrative of Good Services, Weighty Causes and Considerations shall not be sufficient; But the particular Causes and Considerations, whereupon His Majesty, and His Successors may be induced to Grant, and the Estates to Consent to such Rights, are to be exprest, that it may appear, That the same is not granted thorow importunity, or upon privat suggestions or preferences: But for True, Just, and Reasonable Causes, and Considerations of publick Concernment, And farther, It is Declared, That if any general Act of Dissolution of His Majesties Property, shall be made at any time hereafter, The Lands, Baronies and others above-mentioned, now annexed, shall not be understood to Fall, or be Comprehended under the same; and if the Lands and others foresaid, hereby Annexed, or any Part thereof, shall be Annallized or Disponed, or any Right of the same shall be Granted, otherways than is appointed and Ordained in manner above-mentioned; His Majesty, with Consent foresaid, Doth Statute and Declare; That all Dispositions, Infeudments and other Rights of the saids Lands, and others now annexed, or any Part thereof, which shall be granted contrary to this present Act, with all Acts of Dissolution and Ratification, and other Acts of Parliament concerning the same, shall be from the beginning, and in all time thereafter, void, null, and of no effect; And notwithstanding thereof, It shall be lawfull to Our Sovereign Lord and His Successors for the time, To take back, and receive at their pleasure, for their own use, without any Process of Law, The Lands and others above-rehearsed, hereby annexed, or any part thereof, which shall be Annallized or Disponed, and these in whose Favours any such Rights or Alienations shall be made, shall be accountable for, and lyable to Refound and pay all Profits, Intromissions, or Benefits taken, uplifted or employed by them, in the mean time; and it is Declared, That all other Clauses, Articles and Provisions contained in any former Act or Acts of Annexation, to the advantage of His Majesty, and His Crown, are, and shall be holden as repeated and insert herein, Likeas His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Doth Ratifie and Confirm the foresaid Contract, past between His Majesty and the said Viscount of Melfort, in the whole Heads, Clauses, Articles, and Provisions of the same, with the Resignation made by vertue of the Procuracy therein contained by the Viscount of Melfort, in his Majesties hands, of the foresaid Lands, Baronies, and others hereby annexed to the Crown, together with the Signature granted by His Majesty to the said Viscount of Melfort, and his Heirs of the foresaid Lands, Baronies and others dissolved from the Crown, Dated the _____ day of _____ One thousand six hundred eighty six years; And the Charter under the Great Seal, Precepts and Instruments of Seisin to follow thereupon; and Decerns and Declares this present Ratification to be as valid, effectual and sufficient to all intents and purposes, as if the foresaid Contract, Signature and other Writs or Rights Confirmed, were all Verbatim herein ingrossed; and His Majesty and Estates of Parliament Dispenses with, and supplies the generality of these Prefents for now and ever.

XII.

ACT For Cleansing the Streets of Edinburgh.

June 8. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Considering the many Complaints of the Nastiness of the Streers, Vinds, Cloffes and other places of the City of Edinburgh, which is the Capitall City of the Nation, where the chief Judicatories reside, and to which His Majesties Liedges must necessarily resort and attend; As also, the great Trouble that does arise to His Majesties Liedges, and the Inhabitants, by the great numbers of clamorous Beggars, repairing in and about the said City of Edinburgh, THEREFORE, His Majesty with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Decerns and Ordains the present Magistrats of Edinburgh, and their Successors, to lay down effectual Ways for preserving the said Town of Edinburgh, Cannongate and Subburbs thereof, from the Nastiness of the Streets, Vinds, Cloffes, and other places of the said Burgh, and for freeing and purging the same of these numerous Beggars which repair in, and about the said Burgh, and that under the pain of 1000. Merks yearly, To be payed by the Magistrats, who shall be in Office, to the Lords of Session, to be applyed by them for the end and use foresaid; Declaring, that the Magistrates who are in Office, and who shall be found negligent of their Duty, shall have no relief of their said fine, out of the Common Good of the said Burgh, or by Stenting the Inhabitants: As also, His Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, for the further Incouragement of the Magistrates of Edinburgh, present and to come, in the said matter, Does Statute and Ordain, That the Lords of Council and Session, shall receive from the Magistrates of the said City, or others, all Proposals which the said Lords shall judge rational to the effect above-mentioned, And for that effect, Authorizes and Impowers the Lords of Session, with Advice and Consent of the Magistrates, to impose such Taxes upon all the Inhabitants, Burgeses and others, within the said Town, Cannongate and Suburbs thereof, as they shall find just and necessary, for purging and cleansing the said Town of the foresaid Nastiness, and that all Execution by Horning or summar Poynding, proceed against the Inhabitants for payment of their Proportions: And Recommends to the Lords of Session, to meet with the Magistrates, and to Proceed in the said Matter, as well in time of Vacans, as in the time of Session; And Ordains the present Magistrates and their Successors, to put all such Acts and Ordinances as shall be agreed upon, and settled by the Lords of Session, for the effect above-mentioned, to vigorous Execution, under the pain and certification above-mentioned, to be incurred by the Magistrates yearly, in case the said City of Edinburgh be not effectually cleansed, and purged of the foresaid Nastiness and Beggars, without any relief to the Magistrates out of the Common-Good of the said Burgh, or from the Inhabitants.

XIII.

ACT Of Dissolution in Favours of the Duke of Gordon,

June 8. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of Parliament, Taking to their Consideration, the many signal Services done and performed to His Majesty and His Royal Ancestors by the Family of Huntly, for many ages, with the eminent Sufferings of several of the Representatives of that Family, for their constant adherence to the True Interests of the Crown, and the great Services and Sufferings of George Marquis of Huntly, Grand-Father to George now Duke of Gordon, who for His Loyalty to His Majesties Royal Father, of blessed memory, was by the then Rebels Condemned, and thereafter cruelly murdered on a Scaffold: And also, Taking into their Consideration the constant Loyalty, great Services and Merits of the said George Duke of Gordon, who has fully answered and improved the high and honourable Characters of Loyalty and Nobility, Derived unto him by his Predecessors, and his readiness by himself, his Friends and Followers, in subduing the late Rebellion. As also, His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, Considering That Mr. Robert Baillie, sometime of Jerriswood, being upon the 24 day of December 1684 Found guilty by an Assize of the Crime of high Treason, was Forefaulted by His Majesties Justice-General, Justice-Clerk, and Commissioners of Justiciary. And by the 42 Act of the first Session of His Majesties current Parliament, The Lands and Barony of Mellarstanes, and all other Lands, Teinds and Rights whatsoever, pertaining to the said Mr. Robert Baillie, were Unite, Annexed, and Incorporated to the Crown of this His Majesties ancient Kingdom; And the said Lands and Barony of Mellarstanes and Fawns, with the Pertinents lying within the Lordship of Gordon, Huntly, Parochin of and Sherifdom of Berwick, did anciently belong to, and were holden of the said George Duke of Gordon, and his Predecessors, and are specially contained and ingrossed in their, and his Inestments, under the great Seal of this Kingdom: And His Majesties Commissioner, as having special Warrant and Instruction from His Majesty, Having proposed and Expounded in plain Parliament, That His Majesty upon the Considerations foresaid, and as a mark of His Royal Bounty and Favour, resolved to bestow on the said Duke of Gordon, the Lands which did anciently hold of his Family in the Merse, as well as such as yet hold of himself, all of which belonged to the said Mr. Robert Baillie, late of Jerriswood: And the Estates of Parliament, after mature Deliberation, Treating and Consulting anent the Premises (re integra) being fully satisfied and convinced, That the foresaid Services and Sufferings, done and endured by the said George Duke of Gordon, his predecessors and himself, for His Majesty and His Royal Ancestors; The truth whereof is sufficiently known, and did appear to them, are Just, Sufficient and Important Reasons, concerning both His Majesties Interest, and the publick Good and Welfare of this Kingdom, That they should Advise and Consent to to His Majesty Giving and Disposing the saids Lands and Barony of Mellarstanes and Fawns, with the Pertinents above-exprest, to the said George Duke of Gordon, his Heirs and Assignes: And Annexation. THEREFORE His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Decerns, Ordains and Declares, That the saids Lands and Barony of Mellarstanes and Fawns, with the poined to the said George Duke of Gordon, and his forefairs; And for that effect has Dissolved, and hereby Dissolves the same from the Crown, and Patrimony thereof, and from the forefairs Act of Annexation, and from all other Acts of Annexation, and from all Clauses, Qualities and Decerns and Declares, That this present Act of Dissolution, having proceeded upon the Advice for Great, Weighty and Reasonable Causes, concerning the Good, Welfare and publick Interest fore any previous Grant, or other Right or Deed, Given, Made, or Done by His Majesty, in favours of the said George Duke of Gordon, and his forefairs, of the Lands above-written, with the and Qualifications contained in the forefairs Act of Annexation, and shall have the Force, Strength and Effect of a general Law, or Act of Parliament, and shall be as valid, and effectual to the said George Duke of Gordon, and his forefairs, for their Security of the saids Lands and Barony of Mellarstanes and Fawns above-exprest, with the Pertinents, as any other Act of Dissolution Granted in favours of whatsoever person, at any time heretofore. Likas, His Majesty with Advice and Consent forefairs, Decerns and Declares, That this present Act of Dissolution shall not be understood to fall under, or be comprehended in any Act Salvo Jure, to be past in this or any other Session of this current Parliament, but is hereby excepted therefrom in time coming.

XIV.

ACT Against Importing Irish-Viſual or Cattell.

June 14. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Does Ratifie and Approve the 3 Act 3 Sess. Par. 2. Ch. 2. Against the Importing of Irish-Viſual, with this alteration, Viz. That all the Viſual that shall be Imported, shall be sunk and destroyed, and the Seizer or Discoverer, in place of the third part of the Viſual allowed him by the forefairs Act, for his Reward, shall have the Boat, Bark, or Vessel wherein the said Viſual shall be Imported, to dispose of at his pleasure, together with the half of the Fines, by the forefairs Act Imposed upon the Importers; Receivers and Heretors, and the other half of the saids Fines to belong to His Majesty: As likewise His Majesty, with Advice and Consent forefairs, Enacts and Ordains, That no Horse, Mare, or Cattell whatsoever, shall be Imported from Ireland to this Kingdom, under the pain and Penalty of Forfeiture, of the Horse, Mares, or Cattell that shall be Imported, and further of paying the sum of an hundred Merks Scots for each Beast that shall be so Imported, the one half of both the Beasts and Fines to belong to the Seizer and Discoverer, and the other half to His Majesty: As likewise, That no Person within this Kingdom, Reset or Buy any Horse, Mares or Nolt, That they know to be Imported out of Ireland, under the pain of an hundred merks Scots for each Beast, besides the Forfeiture of the Beasts themselves, the one half to belong to the Discoverer, (he always pursuing and instructing the same Importation within six Months after) and the other half to His Majesty; And Recommends to the Lords of Council, to nominate and appoint such Persons as they shall think fit for seeing this Act put in Execution.

XV.

ACT Declaring that Inhibitions shall not be prejudged by Recognition.

June 14. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, with Advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That in time coming, no Inhibition duly Execute, shall be prejudged or disappointed by the Debtors, doing Deeds after the Inhibition interring Recognition; But that the Lands falling under Recognition, shall be burdened with the prior Inhibition and ground thereof.

XVI.

ACT For Burjing in Scots Lincn.

Commission for Regulation of Judicatures.

June 14. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD from His Royal and Princely Care of the Good and Welfare of this His ancient Kingdom, being desirous to prevent and Redress all abuses and unwarrantable exactions within the same, especially in Offices of Publick Trust, and in the Dispensation of Justice, to the effect the same may be speedily and impartially Administrat with as little trouble and expence to His Subjects, as the nature of such Affairs and Proceedings can admit of. And His Majesty likewise Considering, That His dearest Brother, King Charles the Second of blessed memory, Having by a Commission under the great Seal of this Kingdom, of the Date the 21 of September 1669. For the same end and design, Impowered and Authorized the Persons therein-mentioned; to make such Rules, Orders and Constitutions, as might prevent the same in time-coming; and who in pursuance of the said said Commission, did agree upon certain Articles of Regulation, relating to the Session, Justice, Court and Exchequer; All which are Ratified by the 16 Act of the 3 Session of the 2 Parl. K. perfect and accomplish so great and necessary a Work, as the Good and Interest of the Kingdom sal good of His Subjects, and to perfect the same, that His Subjects may be convinced, and sensible of their great Happiness and Prosperity under His Protection and Government; Therefor His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Gives full Power, Warland and Commission to Whereof the number of the day of to be a Quorum, to meet and convene at Edinburgh; appoint; And with power to the saids Commissioners to take full and exact Tryal of all abuses, and other Exorbitancies or Exactions, which are practised in prejudice of His Majesties Liedges, in any Offices of Judicature, or others within this His Ancient Kingdom; And to take Tryal and Information by all manner of Probation thereanent, and how the saids Abuses have crept in, and from what time, and to take notice and tryal of the Authors and Committers thereof; and to Transmit an exact and perfect Accompt of the same to His Majesty, that He may signify His Royal Pleasure, and give what Directions therein He thinks just. And for the effectual preventing and restraining the same in time coming. His Majesty with Advice and Consent foresaid, Does hereby Authorize and Impower the foresaid persons, or Quorum thereof, to make such Orders, Acts, and Constitutions for Regulating the same in time coming, as they shall find just, under such Penalties and Certifications to be incurred by the Contraveeners, as the saids Commissioners shall find necessary in that behalf. All which Acts, Ordinances and Constitutions made by the saids Commissioners, and Approven under His Majesties Royal Hand, His Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, Does Ratifie, Approve and Confirm, And Decerns and Ordains the same to be put to Execution, and to have full Force, Strength and Effect against the Contraveeners in all time coming. As likewise His Majesty, with Consent foresaid, Does hereby Authorize and Impower the saids Commissioners, to prescribe and set down clear and distinct Rules for the Inferiour Judicatures in this Kingdom, as to their competency, and the Nature of their Jurisdictions, that His Majesties Leidges may be at a certainty, and not be put to trouble and expence by being called and forced to compare and attend before different Courts for the same cause, hereby Inhibiting and Discharging the saids Judges, to proceed or determine in any other Actions or Causes, than what shall be found by the saids Commissioners to be proper and competent for their Jurisdictions; Declaring all such Acts and Decrees to be given and pronounced by them, in matters not competent to their Jurisdictions, to be null and void, and the Judges to be lyable to the damage and prejudice of the Party grieved, and to be punishable at the sight of the Lords of Privy Council, for transgressing their Jurisdiction. And to the effect, so just and necessary a Work may meet with no obstruction from the negligence, or not attendance of the foresaid Commissioners. His Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, Statutes, Ordains and Declares, That the Commissioners, who without a just and lawful excuse, (to be allowed by such of the Commissioners who shall meet) shall not attend the dyets of meeting appointed, or to be appointed for carrying on of the said Work, shall incur the pain of toties quoties, to be disposed of by the commissioners; as they shall think just, And for which, Letters of Hoining and Poynding are hereby granted: And it is hereby Declared, That this Commission shall continue and endure, during His Majesties Pleasure, and ay and while the same shall be recalled, or discharged by His Majesty.

XXIV.

ACT anent an humble Offer to His Majesty for an Imposition upon certain Commodities, for defraying the Expence of a free Coynage, and other matters relating to the Mint.

June 14. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and the Estates of Parliament, Considering the great advantages that may accesse to this His Ancient Kingdom, by encouraging the Importation of Bullion to be Coyned in His Majesties Mint, and that a free Coynage is of all others the greatest encouragement for that end. And the Estates of Parliament taking into their Consideration, That the Charge and Expences of a free Coynage cannot be supported, without their giving unto His Majesty a suitable Found for the same; THEREFORE, They Do out of a due Sense of His Majesties great Care for the Prosperity of this His ancient Kingdom, Humbly offer unto His Majesty twelve shillings Scots for each Ounce of Bullion Imposed by the eight Act of the first Session of the second Parliament of King Charles the Second, upon the several Commodities therein-specified, viz. And His Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, Doth hereby Annex the foresaid Imposition for ever unto the Imperial Crown of this Kingdom, to remain with His Majesty, His Heirs and lawfull Successors, in all time-coming, for supporting the Charge and Expence of a free Coynage, and for paying the Sallaries of the Officers of Mint. And His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Doth hereby appropriat and set apart the foresaid Imposition allanely for the use of the said Mint, and the supporting the Charge of a free Coynage. And His Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, Doth hereby Command and Require the Tackf-men and Collectors of His Customs, and their Deputs, to keep the said Imposition a-part by it self, and to pay the same quarterly to the Lords Commissioners of His Majesties Thesaury, Thesaurer-Principal, and Thesaurer-Deput for the time-being, who are hereby Required to keep the saids Moneys and Imposition a-part by it self, separat and distinct from all other His Majesties Customs, and Revenues; And His Majesties Cash-keeper, or Receivers, are hereby Commanded to keep a-part the said Moneys in a secure Chest by it self, whereot the General, or Master of Mint, is to have one Key, and the Cash-keeper or Receivers another Key, and the said Chest is not to be opened without the General or Master of the Mint be present; Nor shall the saids Moneys be delivered but at such times, times as His Majesty, or His Privy Council shall think fit, to the General and Master of His Majesty's Mint, for payment of the Salaries of the Officers thereof, and for the defraying the expence and Charge of a free Coyneage; And for the further encouragement of Merchants and others, to Import Bullion, His Majesty with Advice and Consent of His Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That any Merchant or other Person, as well Strangers as Natives, who shall Import into this Kingdom, and bring in to His Majesty's Mint, any quantities of Bullion, or Silver of the fineness of eleven Deniers, two Grains, which is hereby Declared to be the Standart of fineness of this Kingdom in all time coming, they shall receive out again from the General, or Master of His Majesty's Mint, for all such quantities Imported by them, Weight for Weight in His Majesty's Coyne, of the Standart of fineness, and the Species aforementioned; That is to say, for each pound Scots of sixteen ounces, conform to the Standart Pile of Scots weight, now in His Majesty's Mint, one pound of sixteen ounces of His Majesty's current Coyne, without being lyable to any charge or expence whatsoever for Essaying, Melting, Supporting of waist in Coyneage of the saids quantities of Bullion, or Silver of the Standart of eleven Deniers, two Grains fine aforesaid; And for every pound of Silver that shall be brought in to the Mint, to be Essayed, melted down, and Coyned as aforesaid, that shall be finer upon Essay than the Standart of eleven Deniers, two Grains aforesaid, there shall be delivered for the same to the Merchants, or other Importers thereof by the Officers of the Mint, so much more than a pound, as the same doth in proportion and value amount unto the fineness and value; and for every pound of Silver that shall be brought in to the Mint to be Essayed, melted down, and Coyned as aforesaid, that shall be coarser or baser than eleven Deniers, two Grains fine, there shall be delivered by the Officers of the Mint, so much less than a pound, as the same doth fall short in fineness and value. It is always hereby Declared, That it shall not be lawful to the Officers of the Mint, to Import or bring in to be Coyned any Bullion, either in their own name, or in the name of others, with certification, if they contraveen, it shall be holden a malversation in their Office, and punished according to the Laws of the Kingdom; And Statutes and Ordains, That there shall be three Piles of Weight, whereof one to be kept in Exchequer, one by the Dean of Gild of Edinburgh, and the third in the Mint-House. And likewise, that there shall be a Standart, or Printed Table kept in the Mint-House, of the value of Money or Bullion, according to the Denominations of Weights used in the Mint of Deniers, Grains, Primes and Seconds; and the ordinary Denominations of Pounds, Ounces, Drops and Grains, by which Merchants or others may know what they are to give in, or get out, when their Bullion doth arise above, or fall below the Standart appointed. And His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, Do hereby Statute and Ordain, That there shall be no preference in point of Essaying, or Coyneage; But that all Silver brought in, and delivered in to the Mint, to be Essayed & Coyned, shall be Essayed, Coyned and Delivered out to the respective Importers, according to their Order and times of bringing in, and Delivering the same to the Mint, and not otherways, so as he that shall first bring in and Deliver any Silver to be Coyned, shall be holden and accounted the first person to have the same Essayed, Coyned and delivered, and he or they that shall bring in the Silver next, to be accounted the second person, to have the same Essayed, Coyned and Delivered; and so successively in course, and that the Silver brought in, and Coyned as aforesaid, shall be in the same Order Delivered to the respective Bringers in thereof, their Heirs, Executors and Assignes, successively without preference of one before another, and not otherways; and if any undue preference be made in entering of any Silver, or Delivering out of Coyned Money, contrair to the true intent and meaning of this Act, by any Officer, or Officers of the Mint, or their Deputies and Servants, then the Party or Parties offending, shall be lyable to legal Execution, as for a just Debt, and to pay the value of the Silver brought in and not entered, and Delivered according to the true intent and meaning of this Act, with Interest, besides Cost and Damages to the Party or Parties grieved, and shall over and above ipso facto be Deprived, lose and amit their Office or Offices: Providing always, that if shall not be Interpreted any undue preference, to incur any Penalty, in poynt of Delivery of Moneys Coyned, if the Officer, or Officers, their Deputies or Servants shall deliver out, or pay any Moneys Coyned to any person or persons that do come and demand the same upon subsequent Entries before others, that did not come to demand their moneys in their Order and Course, so as there be so much money reserved as will satisfie them, which shall not be otherways Disposed of, but kept for them. And for the better clearing of what quantities of Bullion, are from time to time Delivered in to His Majesty's Mint: As likewise, what quantities of Silver do pass His Majesty's Mints, His Majesty, with Advice aforesaid, Does Statute and Ordain, That there shall be a Clerk, or Book-keeper in the Mint-Office, who shall be obliged to keep two Registers or Records, in fair Parchment-Books, and in one of them, set down the times of in-giving the several quantities of Bullion, by the Merchants and others, in presence of the In-giver; which Book shall be made patent to any that shall require the same gratis, under the pain of Deprivation: As likewise to receive subscribed Accompts from the Master-Warden, Counter-Warden, and the Essay-master, of all the quantities of Silver Coyned in His Majesties Mint, according to the Standart and fineness; Which Accompt is given in to him, he is to Record in his other Register, and the whole Officers of the Mint, or their Deputes, for whom they shall be answerable, are to subscribe the same quarterly, to the effect, that it may be known what quantities of Silver are past His Majesties Irons from time to time. And likewise, That the several Officers of the Mint are to keep particular Books of Record in their respective Offices as formerly, all which Registers are to be made and kept upon their highest perill. And for the more orderly and clear performance hereof, It is hereby Statute and Ordained, That the Master of His Majesties Mint for the time-being, or his Deput, shall at the time of the Delivery, and Entry of any Silver in the said Mint, give to the Bringer, or Bringers in thereof to be Coyned, a Note, or Receipt under his hand, Denoting the Weight, Fineness, and value thereof, together with the day and Order of its Delivery in to the said Mint, bearing in the Body of it, a Clause of Registration; It being always hereby expressly Provided, That the Master of His Majesties Mint shall be obliged to Deliver back again to the In-bringers, any quantity of Bullion he shall Receive from them, in His Majesties Coyn, within the space of ten days, if the Bullion do not exceed six thousand pound scots; and on fifteen days, if it do not exceed twelve thousand pound scots: And in case the quantity be greater, within twenty days, and in case of Failzie, the Merchants or Importers, shall have legal Diligence against him, by Charging him with Horning, upon Registration of his Note aforesaid, with Interest, by and attour Cost and Damage therefore; And for the further Encouragement and Assurance of such as shall Import, and bring in to His Majesties Mint, any quantities of Silver to be Coyned, His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That no Confiscation, Forefaulture, Seizure, Arrestment, Stop, or Restraint whatsoever, shall be made in the said Mint, of any Silver brought in to be Coyned, or by reason of any Embargo, Breach of Peace, Letters of Mark, or Reprysal, or War with any Forraign Nation, or upon any other account or pretence whatsoever, publick or privat; But that all Silver brought in to His Majesties Mint, within this Kingdom to be Coyned, shall truly, and with all convenient speed, be Coyned and Delivered out to the In-bringers thereof, their Heirs or Assignes, according to the Rules and Directions of this Act. And His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, further Enact and Declare, That the General, or Master of His Majesties Mint, shall be obliged to give the Coynage free to any Merchant, Strangers, or others Importers, or In-bringers of Bullion; and in case the General or Master of His Majesties Mint, shall refuse to accept of, Enter and Coyn any quantity, or quantities of Bullion, to be brought in by the Merchants, or others into His Majesties Mint, the General, or Master for such refusal (the Merchant or Importer taking Instruments in a Notars hand thereupon) shall ipso facto be deprived of their Offices respective; It being always hereby Provided, that in case the quantities of Bullion to be Imported, shall exceed the Stock of Money granted to His Majesty for supporting of a free Coynage, in that case the General, or Master of His Majesties Mint, is to make application to the Lords of Privy Council, and to acquaint their Lordships therewith, to the end, that by their appointment, the Commissioners of His Majesties Thesauri, Thesaurer-Principal, or Thesaurer-Deput for the time being, may furnish and advance eighteen pounds Scots money, for every Stone that shall be brought in by Merchants, or others to be Coyned in the Mint, until the next Parliament, or Session of Parliament thereafter, shall take unto their Consideration, the manner of Re-imbursing His Majesty for the said Advance, It being always hereby Declared, That the Officers of the Mint shall not be lyable to the Obligation aforesaid, for refusing to Coyn any such quantities brought in to the Mint to be Coyned, in case upon any accident, the Commissioners of His Majesties Thesauri, Thesaurer-Principal, or Thesaurer-Deput for the time being, shall refuse or delay to pay eighteen pound scots per Stone for the Coynage aforesaid. And His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, for certain weighty Considerations, Do hereby Statute, Ordain, and Declare, That in all time coming, the species of Current Coyn within this Kingdom, shall be, five shillings, ten shillings, twenty shillings, forty shillings, and sixty shillings scots pieces, to be Coyned of the Standart of fineness and Weight aftermentioned, viz. The sixty shillings scots pieces is to Weigh, according to the Denomination of Weights used in the Mint, twenty one Deniers, eighteen Grains, ten Primes, eighteen Seconds; and in the ordinary Denomination of Weights, fourteen Drop, eighteen Grains: And in regard that the sixty shilling scots piece of the Weight aforesaid, cannot be brought to a certain number, to make up a scots pound weight, without Fraction; Therefore it is hereby Declared, that the lesser species of Coyn shall be Delivered to the Merchant, or others Importers of Bullion, to make up the just Weights; and when it shall fall out, that the Fraction is less than a five shilling scots piece, in that case the Merchant, or Importer shall have such a proportion of a five shilling piece clipped off, and delivered to him, as may make up the just quantity of a pound weight, by which means there will be in a scots pound weight, according to the Standart Pile of Weights now in the Mint, seventeen sixty shilling pieces, one twenty shilling piece, one ten shilling piece, one five shilling piece, and a small Fraction of three shilling four peanies scots; The forty shilling scots piece is to weigh according to the Denomination of Weights used in the Mint, fourteen Deniers, twelve Grains, seven Primes, and four Seconds, and according to the ordinary Denomination of scots Weight, nine Drop, twenty four Grains, whereof twenty six, and one ten shilling piece, one five shilling piece, and a small Fraction of three shilling four pennies scots, makes a pound weight; The twenty shilling piece is to weigh according to the Denomination of Weights used in the Mint, seven Deniers, six Grains, three Primes, four Grains, whereof fifty two, and one ten shilling piece, one five shilling piece, and a small Fraction of three shilling four pennies scots, makes a scots pound Weight; The ten shilling piece is to weigh according to the Denomination of Weights in the Mint, three Deniers, fifteen Grains, one Prime, Grains, whereof one hundred and five, one five shilling piece; and a Fraction of three shilling four pennies scots, makes a scots pound weight; The five shilling piece is to weigh, according to the Denomination of Weights in the Mint, one Denier, nineteen Grains, twelve Primes, twenty one a half, whereof two hundred and eleven, and a Fraction of three shilling four pennies scots makes a scots pound Weight. It is always hereby Provided, that if upon tryal, it shall be found that the weight of the several species of the money appointed by this Act, shall be any way prejudicial to the Interest of Trade of this Kingdom, that in that case His Majesty, with Advice of His Privy Council, may Rectifie or alter the same as they find Cause; But because it may sometime fall out casually, that money be not Coynded and Fabricat exactly in all things, to the true Standarts of Weight, and fineness above, and after-specified: THEREFORE His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, Statute and Ordain, that if it shall casually fall out, that any species of Coyn to be Coynded for the future within this Kingdom, be lighter or heavier than the Standart of Weight aforesaid, the Officers of the Mint may Deliver the same, providing always it be merely accidental and casual, and do not exceed the quantities after-specified, viz. Two Grains over, or under the true Weight of every sixty of forty shilling piece, One Grain over, or under the true Weight of every twenty shilling, ten shilling, or five shilling scots piece; above-specified, appointed to be Coynded by this present Act: As also, if the money in the species aforesaid to be Coynded, shall fall out accidentally to be a Grain finer, or coarser than the true Standart of eleven Denier, two Grains upon every twelve Ounces Weight, so to be Coynded, the Officers of the Mint may Deliver out the money to the Merchants, or others, according to these remedies of Weight and fineness above-specified. It is hereby always expressly provided, that the Officers of the Mint shall by no means Work and Fabricat the money with regard to the Remedies aforesaid, as they will be answerable at their highest peril. And it is Statute and Ordained, That they shall keep an exact Record of all these Remedies, both of Weight and Fineness, and Compt for the same yearly in Exchequer, for His Majesties use; And Appoints and Ordains in all time coming, that the Essay-master shall take two pieces of every Journal, that he shall cut off so much of one of the pieces as will make an Essay, and shall put up the remainder, and the other whole piece, with the Reported Essay: All which shall be put into the Pix, the Warden, or Counter-Warden, being always present, which is to be opened once every year in the month of December, at the sight of the Privy Council. And it is hereby Declared, That the tryal of the Pix being made, the whole Silver in the Pix is to be returned to the Master as his own; and the Say-master is to have no part of it; The Pix shall have three Keys, one to be kept by the Lords of the Treasury, or Thesaurer for the time being, one by the General, and one by the Warden-principal of the Mint; And His Majesty, with Advice and Consent aforesaid, Doth Statute and Ordain, That all the money to be Coynded for the time to come within this Kingdom, shall be Lettered and Grained round the edges, that is to say, the sixty and forty shilling pieces shall be Lettered, the twenty, ten shilling, and five shilling scots pieces shall be Grained round the edges, the particular Impression, Inscriptions, and Reverses; As likewise what poption of each species of money shall be Coynded in each Stone Weight of Silver, are hereby left and Recommended to the Lords of His Majesties Privy Council, who are by this present Act fully impowered to Consider and Cognosce upon the fineness and weight of the Gold Coyn, when His Majesty shall think fit to Grant Warrant for the same, and to Regulat, Appoint and Determine the fineness, weight, and species of the said Gold Coyn, and to Ordain and Appoint such Impression, Inscription and Reverse, as they shall see cause. And His Majesty and Estates of Parliament Do further Statute and Ordain, That no Copper shall be Coynded without His Majesties expresse Warrant; And that all Copper which shall be Coynded conform to His Warrant, shall be Coynded in two penny and six penny scots pieces, and that forty of the six penny pieces, and sixscore twelve of the two penny pieces shall make a pound: And Recommends to the Lords of Privy Council, to appoint Tryal to be taken of the weight of every Journal of Copper, before it go out of the Mint-House, and what Profit shall arise by the Coynage of the Copper, the Officers of the Mint shall be lyable to compt for the same to the Exchequer. And His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, Do hereby further Statute tute and Ordain, That the sum of twelve thousand pounds Scots of the Imposition aforesaid, imposed by this present Act, upon the Commodities above-specified, shall be in all time coming set apart for payment of the Officers-fees, maintaining of the Fabrick of the Mint, and providing new Tools, and other incident Charges relating to the Mint, in manner after-specified, viz. The General of the said Mint, the sum of three thousand six hundred pounds Scots as his Fee and Salary; the sum of two thousand four hundred pounds Scots to the Master of the Mint, and this over and above the sum of eighteen pounds money for every stone of Silver that shall be Coyned and passed His Majesties Irons, to be payed to him out of the remainder of the said Imposition, for supporting a free Coynage as aforesaid; The sum of one thousand two hundred pounds Scots money to the Principal Wairden; The sum of one thousand two hundred pounds Scots to the Essay-master; The sum of seven hundred and twenty pounds Scots money to the Counter-Wairden; The sum of six hundred pounds Scots to the Sinker or Graver; The sum of four hundred and eighty pounds Scots money to the Clerk or Book-keeper; The sum of three hundred thirty three pounds six shilling eight pennies Scots to the Clerk of the Bullion, who is to be Clerk for the time to come to this new Imposition, as he was formerly to the Bullion, or twelve shilling per Ounce payed in lieu thereof; To the Master-Smith, the sum of three hundred and sixty pounds Scots, as their Fees and Salaries; and the sum of eleven hundred six pound thirteen shilling four pennies Scots, to be payed in to the General and Master, for maintaining the Fabrick of the Mint-House, providing of new Tools, and other incident Charges relating to the Mint, for which they are to compt yearly to His Majesties Exchequer, and the overplus (if any shall be) To go to the stock of free Coynage aforesaid: The which sum of twelve thousand pounds Scots for the Officers of the Mint, and other expenses thereof, is to be payed to the General and Master of the said Mint, together with the sum of eighteen Pounds per stone to the Master for the Coynage of the Money, at four Terms in the year, viz. Candlemas, Whitsunday, Lambmas and Martinmas yearly; and the said payment to commence from and after the first of November next. And His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, further Statute and Ordain, That no Heads, Sweeps or Chizel of any Gold or Silver to be Coyned in His Majesties int, shall pass His Majesties Irons without taking a second Essay thereof, as if the same were newly brought in to the Mint to be Coyned; And to the effect that all matters relating to the Coynage and Mint, may be equally Ordered and Regulated according to this present Act, and in such further ways and manner as His Majesty and His Privy Council shall think fit. It is hereby Recommended to His Majesties Privy Council, by some of their number, to try every Journal of Coyn by it self distinctly, and to take exact tryal of all matters relating to the Coynage, both as to the weight and fineness of the money, and other matters relating to the said Mint, twice every year, viz. In the monthes of July and December yearly, and to call before them the whole Officers of the Mint, and to Examine their Proceedings, and to inspect their Books, and to sign and subscribe Approbations thereof, as they shall see cause: And this without prejudice of the said Officers of the Mint, their compting yearly to the Lords of His Majesties Exchequer and Thesaurie, for all matters committed to their Trust.

ACT Dissolving the Lands and Estates of Earlestown, Craichlaw, and Caitloch from the Crown.
June 15. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD Taking to His Royal Consideration, that His late Majesty and his Royal Brother of ever glorious Memory, by Charter under the Great Seal of this His Majesties Ancient Kingdom, of the date at Windsor-Castle, the eleventh day of May, 1680 years, upon the account of Sir Theophilus Ogilthrop, Lieutenant Colonel Main, and Captain Hendry Cornowall, their Loyalty and Service performed to the Crown, Did Give, Grant and Dispose to them, their Heirs and Assignes, the Lands and Estates of Earlestown, Craichlaw, and Caitloch, and others more fully specified in the said Charter, whereupon they were Infefted, and the said Right Ratified in Parliament; And which Lands and Estates fell in His late Majesties hands, by the Forefaulter of Mr. William and Alexander Gordons, elder and younger of Earlston, James Gordon of Craichlaw, and Mr. William Ferguson of Caitloch. Likeas His late Majesty, by His Letter of the eleventh of May One thousand six hundred eighty Directed to the Lords Commissioners of His Highnesses Thesaurie, upon Information that the saids three Estates did exceed six hundred pounds Sterling per annum, which His Majesty was pleased to Promise should be made good unto them, Ordered, That before the said Gift past in Exchequer, the saids Lords should take their Security to pay the superplus, if any were, that the saids Estates should be found to exceed the forefaid Rent, and the Debts payable out of the same by Law, in such manner, and to such uses as His Majesty should think fit thereafter to direct. And in like manner, His Majesty by another Letter, directed to the saids Lords, of the 15th of February 1681. Required them to take sufficient Security of the saids persons for payment of their share of the expence disbursed out of His late Majesties Thesaurie, towards the suppressing of the Rebellion in the year 1679, not exceeding two years Rent of the saids Forefaulterd Estates, and accordingly the saids Donatars granted Security to the saids Lords in the Terms forefaids. As also, OUR SOVERAIGN LORD Considering, That His Majesty by His Letter of the last of October 1685. upon the Consideration that the saids Estates did not exceed, but are rather considerably short of the saids six hundred pounds Sterling per annum, and of the great trouble and expence, the said Sir Theophilus (who also acquired the other two Parts from Main and Cornowall) was, and is exposed to, in attaining to the Possession of the saids three Forefaulterd Estates, and being desirous the same should be made fully effectual to him; free of all future trouble and inconvenience: THEREFORE, as a further Mark of His Favour to the said Sir Theophilus, and in Consideration of his great Loyalty and Service, Authorized and Required William Duke of Queensberrie, His Majesties Thesaurer-Principal for the time, Thesaurer-deput, and remanent Lords of Exchequer, to deliver to him the said Security, and Ordained the same to be delet out of the Records of Exchequer, which accordingly was done, and an Act thereupon past the eight of January last; And further upon Consideration of the said Sir Theophilus his constant loyalty and adherence to the Crown, and signal evidence given by him thereof in the late Rebellion of the late Duke of Munmouth, Did Order his Right Trusty and Familiar Cousen and Counsellor, Alexander Earl of Murray, Junct-Secretary of State for the Kingdom of Scotland, and his Majesties high Commissioner therein for the time, to represent the matter in Parliament for a Dissolution of the saids three Forefaulterd Estates from the Crown, to which the same were Annexed in the last Session of Parliament, holden at Edinburgh the sixteenth day of June, One thousand six hundred eighty five years, Which Annexation proceeded upon a Supposition that the yearly Rent exceeded six hundred pound Sterling a year; Whereas now upon serious Examination it is found short; Which Considerations being this day Propounded in plain Parliament, and the Estates of Parliament having fully pondered and Considered the whole matter, and the truth thereof being sufficiently known, and made appear to them, by production of the forefaid Charter, Act of Exchequer, and other Evidences requisite; And by the said Lord high Commissioner his Grace, his Declaration in plain Parliament, in name of, and by Warrant from His Majesty: His Majesty; and Estates of Parliament, after mature Deliberation, Finds the same just, sufficient, and reasonable Causes for Advising His Majesty to Dissolve the saids three Forefaulterd Estates, all particularly mentioned in the said Charter, from the Crown, that the same may pertain, and belong to, and remain with the said Sir Theophilus Ogilthrop and his forefaids, as their own proper Heretage, heretably and irredeemably in all time coming; And THEREFORE, His Majesty with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, has Dissolved, and hereby Dissolves the same Lands and three Forefaulterd Estates aforesaid from the Crown and Patrimony thereof, and from the said Act of Annexation, and from all Clauses, Conditions and Qualifications therein contained; And Finds, Decerns and Declares, that the forefaid Dissolution having proceeded upon the Grounds, Causes, and Deliberation aforesaid in plain Parliament; Does satisfie all the Conditions, Clauses and Qualifications contained in the foresaid Act of Annexation, past the said last Session of Parliament, and shall have the Force, Strength, and Effect of a General Law and Act of Parliament, and shall be as valid and effectual to the said Sir Theophilus Ogilthrop and his foresaid, for their Security of the saids Lands and Estates, as any Dissolution Granted by His Majesty or Royal Ancestors, with Advice and Consent of Their Estates of Parliament for the time, in Favours of whatsoever person or persons at any time heretofore, and that notwithstanding of any Clauses, Conditions, or Qualifications contained in the said Act of Annexation; And notwithstanding of any Security granted by the saids Donatars, or any of them in Exchequer. And His Majesty with Consent foresaid, hereby Ratifies, Approves and Confirms the said Act of Exchequer, and Grounds thereof in all Points. And Lastly, His Majesty and Estates of Parliament, Finds and Declares, That this present Act shall not fall under the Act Salvo Jure, to be past in this, or any other Session of this Current Parliament, but is hereby excepted forth thereof, in all time coming.

XXVII.

ACT of Dissolution of the Lands of Grange in Favours of Sir Thomas Kennedy, Lord Provost of Edinburgh.

June 15. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of Parliament taking into their serious Consideration, That His Majesties Commissioner, as having special Warrant and Instruction from His Majesty, having proposed and proponed in plain Parliament, the Loyalty and Fidelity of Sir Thomas Kennedy Lord Provost of Edinburgh, and the good and acceptable Services performed by him to the Crown and Kingdom, in the diligent Suppressing of the late tumult within the City of Edinburgh, and since; And Considering also the Service done by the said Sir Thomas Kennedy, against the Rebels at Boikwell-Bridge; And likewise the constant Loyalty and eminent Services and Sufferings of Lieutenant-Collonel Thomas Kennedy of Kirkhill his Father, and his Firm Adherence to the Crown, in so far as the said Lieutenant Collonel Kennedy having attended the late King of ever blessed memory at Worcester Fight, he was then taken Prisoner, and detained eighteen Moneths in the Kingdom of England, and afterwards sent Prisoner to Leith, from whence after he had stayed some while, he was transported to Air, and kept Prisoner there until the year 1659. And his Estate in the mean-time Sequestrat, and possessed by the Usurpers, and himself absolutely ruined: All which Services and Sufferings being proposed and laid open in plain Parliament, to the end the three Estates might give His Majesty their Advice, Judgement and Determination re integra, whether the same were good and reasonable Causes for Dissolving from the Crown, the Lands of Grange, formerly pertaining to Thomas Kennedy sometime of Grange, with all other Lands, Heretages and Rights which belonged to the said Thomas, and which fell in His Majesties Hands, through the Doom and Sentence of Forefeiture; given and pronounced against him upon the day of
One thousand six hundred years, by the Lords of Justiciary for the Crime of Treason and La-Majesty, committed by the said Thomas, and were annexed to the Crown by the forty two Act of the first Session of this Current Parliament: And the saids Estates of Parliament, after mature Deliberation, and Treating and Consulting anent the Premises, being fully satisfied and convinced, That the saids particular Services and Sufferings, Done, Performed and Undergone by the said Sir Thomas Kennedy, Lord Provost of Edinburgh, and Lieutenant Collonel Thomas Kennedy his Father, the truth whereof is sufficiently known, and did appear to them, are just, sufficient and important Reasons, concerning both His Majesties Interest, and publick Good and Welfare of this Kingdom, That they should Advise and Consent to His Majesties Giving and Disposing the foresaid Lands of Grange, and others above-express, to the said Sir Thomas Kennedy, his Heirs and Assigns; And for that effect, that the saids Lands should be Dissolved from the Crown, and from the said Act of Annexation. THEREFORE His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Decerns, Ordains and Declares, That the saids Lands of Grange, formerly pertaining to the said Thomas Kennedy sometime of Grange, and all other Lands, Heretages and Rights, which belonged to him, and which came in His Majesties hands, and were annexed to the Crown in manner foresaid, may be Disposed to the said Sir Thomas Kennedy Lord Provost of Edinburgh, and his foresaid; And for that effect, has Dissolved, and hereby Dissolves the same from the Crown and Patrimony thereof, and from the foresaid Act of Annexation, made the sixteenth of June One thousand six hundred and eighty five, and from all other Acts of Annexation, and from all Clauses, Qualities and Conditions therein contained: And His Majesty with Advice and Consent foresaid, Finds, Decerns and Declares, That this present Act of Dissolution having proceeded upon the Advice and Deliberation of the Estates of Parliament, re integra, regra, and found by the saids Estates to be for Great, Weighty and Reasonable Causes, Concerning the Good, Welfare, and publick Interest of the whole Kingdom, first Proposed and Advised, and maturely Pondered and Considered, before any previous Grant, or other Right or Deed, Given, Made or Done by His Majesty, in Favours of the said Sir Thomas Kennedy and his forefairs, of the Lands and others above-mentioned, or any part or portion of the same, Does fully satisfy and shall have the Force, Strength and Effect of a General Law or Act of Parliament, of Annexation, be as valid and effectual to the said Sir Thomas Kennedy and his forefairs, for their Security of the Lands and others above-express, as any other Act of Dissolution past by His Majesty, or His Royal Son or persons at any time heretofore. And Declares that this Act shall not be comprehended under the Act of Salvo Fure, to be past in this present Session, or any subsequent Session of this Current Parliament, but is hereby excepted therefrom.

XXVIII.

ACT Dissolving the Lands of Culneß, North-Berwick and Goodtries from the Crown.
June 15. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, and Estates of Parliament, Taking into their Consideration, that His Majesties Commissioner, as having special Warrant and Commission from His Majesty, Having proposed and expounded in plain Parliament, the great and Faithful Services done to His Majesty, and His Royal Brother of ever blessed memory, by James Earl of Arran, First Gentleman of His Majesties Bed-Chamber, and his constant Zeal and Faithfulness to the Interest of the Crown; And particularly, the said Earl of Arran his extraordinary expenses, when Employed by His Majesties said Dearest Brother, as Envoy to the French King, and of his activeness against the late Earl of Argyle, and the other Rebels associating with him in the year 1685. For which he had no allowance, at least not suitable to his expenses; and that he had faithfully executed the said Offices, and did very well behave himself therein; and that he was Instrumental in the Defeat of these Rebels, and had performed several other good and acceptable Services: All which being Proposed and laid open in plain Parliament, to the end the Three Estates might give His Majesty their Judgement, Advice and Determination re integra, whether the same were True, Good and Reasonable Causes of publick Concernment; for Dissolving the Lands and Barony of Culneß, lying within the Sheriffdom of Perth, and the Lands of North-Berwick, lying within the Constabulary of Haddington, and also the Lands of Goodtries, with the Teinds and Pertinents thereof, lying within the Sheriffdom of Edinburgh, sometime pertaining to Thomas and David Stuarts, late elder and younger of Culneß, together with all other Lands, Annualrents, and others pertaining and belonging to them, from the Crown, and which fell and became in His Majesties Hands, through the Crimes of Treason and Laf-Majestie, Acted, Committed and Done by them, and either of them, and the Doom and Sentence of Forfeiture, Given and Pronounced against them for the same, upon the _____ and _____ days of _____ 1685 years, and were Annexed to the Crown, by the fourth two Acts of the first session of this Current Parliament, and by the _____ Act of this present Session of Parliament: And the saids Estates of Parliament, after long and mature Deliberation, Treating, and Consulting anent the Premises, being fully satisfied and Convinced; that the particular Services and Expenses above-mentioned, Done, Performed and Expended by the said James Earl of Arran, the truth whereof is clearly known, and did appear to them as Just, Weighty and Important Reasons, concerning both His Majesties Interest, and the Publick Good and Welfare of this Kingdom; that they should Advise and Consent to His Majesties Giving and Disposing the saids Lands of Culneß, North-Berwick, Goodtries, and the other Lands above-written, with the Pertinents, to the said James Earl of Arran, his Heirs or Assignes; And for that effect, that the saids Lands should be Dissolved from the Crown, and from the saids two Acts of Annexation: THEREFORE, His Majesty with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Decerns, Ordains and Declares; That the saids Lands and Barony of Culneß, and Lands of North-Berwick and Goodtries above-written, sometime belonging to the saids Thomas and David Stuarts, late elder and younger of Culneß, with all other Lands, Heretages, Annualrents and others belonging to them, or either of them, which came in His Majesties Hands, and were Annexed to the Crown in manner foresaid, may be Disposed to the said James Earl of Arran and his forefairs; and for that effect, Have Dissolved, and hereby Dissolves the same from the Crown and Patrimony thereof, and from the saids two Acts of Annexation, the one made the 16 day of June 1685. And the other made the _____ day of May 1686. And from all other Acts of Annexation; and from all Clauses, Qualities and Conditions therein contained. And His Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, Finds, Decerns and Declares this present Act of Dissolution, having proceeded upon Advice and Deliberation of the Estates of Parliament re integra, and found by the saids Estates, to be for Great, Weighty and Reasonable Causes, concerning the Good, Welfare and publick Interest of the whole Kingdom, first Proposd, Advisd and maturely Pondered and Considered in plain Parliament re integra, and found by the saids Estates to be for Great, Weighty and Reasonable Causes, before any previous Grant, or other Right or Deed, Given, Made or Done by His Majesty, in favours of the said James Earl of Arran, and his foresaid, of the Lands and others above-mentioned, or any Part or Portion of the same, Does fully satisfie the whole Clauses, Conditions and Qualifications contained in the two foresaid Acts of Annexation, and shall have the Force, Strength and Effect of a general Law and Act of Parliament, and shall be as valid and effectual to the said James Earl of Arran and his foresaid, for their Security in the saids Lands of Culnefs, North-Berwick, Goodtries, and others above-exprest, with the Pertinents, as any other Act of Dissolution Granted by His Majesty, or His Royal-Ancestors, with Advice and Consent of Their Estates of Parliament, in Favours of whatsoever Person at any time heretofore. Likeas, His Majesty, with Advice and Consent foresaid, Finds, Decerns and Declares, That this present Act of Dissolution is, and shall not be understood to fall under, or be comprehended in any Act Salvo Jure, to be past in this, or any other Session of this Current Parliament, but is hereby excepted therefrom in all time coming. It is always hereby Declared, That this Act of Dissolution of the Lands of North-Berwick, which did once belong to the said Thomas Stuart, sometimes of Culnefs, shall not prejudice the Senators of the Colledge of Justice, as to their Right and Interest in these Lands, who are hereby Declared preferable for the same.

XXIX.

ACT of Dissolution in Favours of the late Earl of Tarras.

June 15. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD and Estates of Parliament taking into their Consideration, That His Majesties Commissioner, as having special Warrant and Instruction from His Majesty, having proposd and expounded in plain Parliament, the great benefite and advantage that did arise to the Crown and Government of this Kingdom, by the full and sincere Confession made by Walter late Earl of Tarras, of several Matters and Circumstances, relating to the late horrid Conspiracy, the Discovery whereof, did in a great measure contribute towards the preventing the fatal Consequences and Effects, which so apparently Threatned the Peace of His Majesties Dominions: As also the Promises and Assurances given to him at the time of the said Discovery of his Princes Bounty and Favour upon that account: All which being proposd and laid open in plain Parliament, to the end the three Estates might give his Majesty their Judgement, Advice and Determination re integra, whether the same were True, Good and Reasonable Causes, for Dissolving from the Crown, the Lands of Robertoun, Howclench and Borthwick-mains, with the Pertinents which formerly appertained to the said Walter, late Earl of Tarras, and came in his Majesties Hands through the Doom and Sentence of Forefealture, given and pronounced against him before the Lords of His Majesties Justiciary, upon the day of One thousand six hundred years, and were annexed to the Crown, by the 42th Act of the first Session of this Current Parliament: And the saids Estates of Parliament, after mature Deliberation, and Treating and consulting anent the Premises, being fully satisfied and convinced, that the particular Services done and performed by the said Walter, late Earl of Tarras, in his Confession and Discovery foresaid, and the benefite and advantage thereby accruing to the Crown and Kingdom, and the Promises and Assurances given to him of his Princes Bounty and Favour, the Truth whereof is sufficiently known, and was made appear to them, are Just, Weighty and Important Causes, concerning both His Majesties Interest, and the publick Good and Welfare of this Kingdom, that they should Advise and Consent to His Majesties Giving and Disposing the saids Lands of Robertoun, Howclench and Borthwick-mains, with the Pertinents, to the said Walter late Earl of Tarras, his Heirs and Assignes: And for that effect, that the same should be Dissolved from the Crown, and from the foresaid Act of Annexation. T H E R E F O R E, His Majesty with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, Decerns, Ordains and Declares that the saids Lands of Robertoun, Howclench and Borthwick-mains, with the Pertinents, may be Disposed to the said Walter, late Earl of Tarras, and his foresaid; And for that effect, has Dissolved, and hereby Dissolves the same from the Crown and Patrimony thereof, and from the foresaid Act of Annexation, made the sixteenth day of June One thousand six hundred eighty five, and from all other Acts of Annexation, and from from all Clauses, Qualities and Conditions therein contained. And His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Lords, and of the Commons in Parliament assembled, doth hereby Declare, That this present Act of Dissolution, having provided for the said Estates, to be for Great, Weighty and reasonable Causes, concerning the Good, Welfare and Publick Interest of the whole Kingdom, first Proposed, and Advised, and maturely Pondered by His Majesty, In Favours of the said Walter late Earl of Tarras, and his forefairs, of the Lands and others above-mentioned, or any Part or Portion of the same, Does fully satisfy the whole Clauses, Conditions, and Qualifications contained in the forefaid Act of Annexation, and shall have the Force, Strength, and Effect of a General Law, or Act of Parliament, and shall be als Valid and Effectual to the said Walter late Earl of Tarras, and his forefairs, for their Security of the Lands and others above-express, as any other Act of Dissolution; Granted by His Majesty, or His Royal Ancestors, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament, in favours of whatsoever Person at any time heretofore. Likeas, His Majesty with Advice and Consent forefaid, Finds, Decerns and Declares, that this present Act of Dissolution shal not be understood to fall under, or be comprehend- ed in any Act Salvo Jure, to be past in this, or any other Session of this Current Parliament, but is hereby excepted therefrom in all time coming.

XXX.

ACT Anent the Measure of Bark,

June 15. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD and Estates of Parliament, Taking to their Consideration the great prejudice that does arise through the uncertainty of the measure of Bark within this Kingdom; Do Statute and Ordain, That the constant measure of Bark in all time coming shall be as follows, viz. That twenty two Gallons shall be the measure of one Boll of unbeaten Bark, and so proportionally for lesser measures, and that the Linlithgow Barly measure, shall be the measure for all small beaten mallowie Bark; And prohibits and Discharges all Persons whatsoever, to make use of any other measures than the measures aforesaid, in buying or selling of Bark, in time coming, under the pain of an hundred Pounds Scots, torries quoties, beside the Forfeiture of the Bark, to be bought or sold.

XXXI.

ACT In Favours of John Meikle Founder, and others of that Trade.

June 15. 1686.

HIS MAJESTY and Estates of Parliament taking to Consideration, the great advantage that the Nation may have by the Trade of Founding, lately brought into this Kingdom by John Meikle, for casting of Bells, Cannons, and others such useful Instruments, Do for Encouragement to him, and others in the same Trade, Statute and Ordain, That the same shall enjoy the benefit and priviledges of a Manufacture in all points, as the other Manufactures newly Erected, are allowed to have by the Laws and Acts of Parliament, and that for the space of nineteen years next following the date hereof.

XXXII.

ACT Salvo Jure Cujuslibet.

June 15. 1686.

OUR SOVERAIGN LORD, Taking to Consideration, That there are several Acts of Ratifications, and others past and made in this Session of Parliament, in favours of particular persons, without calling or hearing of such as may be thereby concerned or prejudged; Therefore His Majesty, with Advice and Consent of the Estates of Parliament; Statutes and Ordains, That all such particular Acts, and Acts of Ratification past in manner forefaid, shall not prejudice any third Party of their lawful Rights, nor of their Actions and Defences competent thereupon, before the making of the saids particular Acts, and Acts of Ratifications; And that the Lords of Session, and all other Judges of this Kingdom, shall be obliged liged to Judge betwixt Parties, according to their several Rights, standing in their Persons, before the making of the saids Acts: All which are hereby Exponed, and Declared to have been made, Salvo Jure Cujuslibet.

XXXIII.

ACT of Adjournment.

June 15. 1686.

HE Kings Majesty Declares this Parliament Current, and Adjourns the same to the 16 day of August next, 1686. And Ordains all Members of Parliament to attend that Day: And that there be no new Election of Commissioners from Shires or Burghs, except upon the Death of some of the present Commissioners.

TO THE READER.

I Have rather opened and shewen ane occasion to the gud Reader, to perform this warke, then expounded, or declared the samin; being an matter nocht pleasand in it self, nor treated be uthers of before: Gif I have preased to do weil, or attempted that, quibill uthers may accomplishe and make persfite, the profite and commodity redounds to thee, quba at thy pleasure, may big upon this little ground and fundament. Gif urtherwaies be errour or ignorance, I have nocht satisfied thy desire and expectation, Sic erranti medicina confessio. For ane absolute memorie, and persfite knowledge, in na thing erroneous, is proper to God, and not competent to man. Quhat ever I have done, I did it not to offend thee, or displease any man, but to provoke uthers to do better, alwaies for thine awin weil, be warre to reprehend my doings, flowand from ane benevolent, and gude mind: except thou be assured to be reprehended of na man, quba cumis after thee and fall censure thy doings. I am affrayed of all Readers, for ilk man hes his awin Judgement and opinion, qubair of their is als mony contrarieties, as diversities of persons. Advise therefore, and or thou do any thing rashly, gif thou may, transact and agree with all the posteritie, that albeit thou doe aswel as Homer in his Poesie: nane of them be unto thee, successor or imitatur of Zoilus: so great is the varietie of ingines, and inclinations, that nane can be sure fra reprehension. Reade therefore, and make thy profite of gud thinges. Correct modestly al errours, quibilks are ignorant, and nocht wilfull. Eik all necessaries omitted. Cut away al superfluties adjected. And whatever thou do, esteeme of me, as I do of thee and of al, to qubais knowledge, this my little labour shall happen to cum. And swa.

ane fault, trespass, or any ither cause, as is manifest in the Register, in the action perfused be the Thesaurar contrar the burgh of Perth, 16. Decem. 1541. The un-law in the Chalmersanis airc or court, is filite schillings; and twa schillings to the Serpentes of the burgh of ilke un-law. The un-law before the Justice on the North pairt of the water of Forth, aucht Kye, ane colpindach to the Crowner, and twa schillings to the Clerk. And in the South-side of the water of Forth, as in Louthian, & bewest the water of Tyne, and Forth, ten pundis, and ane colpindach, or threitie pennies to the Crowner, and twa schillings to the Clerk. In the Schireffe-court, it suld nocht exceed sextene schillings, and twa schillings to the Clerk, or ane colpindach, or threitie pennies. In the Baronne court the famin laws & un-laws, suld be kept, quhilkis are used in the Schireffe-court. In the court of them quha haildis of Barones, and are called milities, heir un-law is half of their superiours un-law. The un-law of them quha are called submigeris, is ane Kowe, ane zowce, or three schillings, leg. *Malc. Julij p. 4. c. 82. & p. 5. c. 99. Quhilk is like-wayes the un-law of them quha comperis nocht in general Councelles, quhilk now is altered be the newe act of Parliament, maid be O U R S O V E R A I N E L O R D E King James the Sext. 29. Julij. p. 11. c. 34. Quhair it is statute that everie Earle fall pay three hundred pounds, ilk Lorde twa hundred poundes, ilk Prelate ane hundred poundes: And everie Burgh ane hundred markes, in case it fall happen onie of them to be absent fra the Parliament.

ANNEXATION, Ane Laine word, quhilk signifies ane fast knitting and binding, as quhen ane thing is bund or knit with ane ither and bath as it were united togidder, and incorporate in ane. As quhen ony Lord-shipp, landes, Castelles, Customes, Offices, fishings, or ither renis are annexed to the Crown, to remaine perpenally their-with quhilk is called incorporatio, quando bona aliqua, velus terre, rediguntur in corpus fisci, cum eorum scribiur Inventarium, manu publica, continens eorum nomina & qualitates, & ita ponuntur in numero rerum fiscalium. si quando 3. & ibi gl. C. de bonis vacan. lib. 10. In the Lawes of this Realme there is twa kindes of annexation: The ane quhilk may be called activa, quhairin the word of Annexation is nocht expremed, but uther wordes equivaile theirow. The uther is expressa, quhilk contains manifest mention of annexation or union. The first forme is used in the daies of King David the secund 6. Novem. 1357. quhair it is statute & ordand, that all landes, rents, and possessiones, quhilkis of auld pertain to the crown, or the Kingis domaine and propertie, suld all hail, and perpenual remaine in the hands and possession of the King, for his sustentation & living, without ony alienation therof. And sike-like 27. Septem. 1367. with consent of the three Estates, it was statute for the Kingis better sustentation, and living, that all rents, fermes, kunes, customes, forrests, offices, and ither emolumentes quhat-sum-ever. And also all landes, alswid the pr. p. tie, and uthers, in quhat-shair King Robert 1. father to King David the second, decaid as of sic; and that all possessiones, & landes quhilkis pertained to the richt and propertie of the Crown, the time of the said King Robert, or of King Alexander the third, or of the said King David the second, suld returne all and hail to the crown, with all advocations of Kirkes, and all service pertaining therio; To remaine perpenual to the Crown, nocht-withstanding onie alienation therof, maid to onie person, and that na disposicion therof be maid thereafter, without consent of the three Estates. And gif onie person had onie of the saides landes labourd with his awin pleuch: It was ordand that he suld paie all meikle ferme and dewtie therfore, as the famin micht gudlie pay, or as onie ither lands as gud, and alsmeikle used to pay. And sike-like all the great and small customes, and burrow mailles of the Realme, are ordand to abide and remaine with the King, till his living, be ane act maid be Ja. 1. Parl. 1. c. 8. Of the second forme of Annexation quhairby landes, possessiones and uthers, per expressum, are annexed, united, and incorporate diverse and findre examples are extant in the actes of Parliament of King James the 2. 11. Parl. 4. Aug. c. 41. & of uthers maid therafter. Landes, and uthers dewties, or possessiones quhat-sum-ever annexed to the crown, being annallid or disposed, na lauchful dissolucion maid therio, it is lesfume to the King, nocht-withlauding the said allianceion to pur his hand to the saides landes, and take them back again to the Crown, brevis manu. without onie ordour or proces of law. And as concerning the profits therof, quhilkis are extant, pendentes & nondum consumpti, the time of the said intromission, the king, or his comptrollar maie intromet their-with, in the famin maner, as he maie intromet with the landes, tunc soli, quia fructus pendentes, & exant consensu pars soli. And twiching the fructes, and profits of the landes quhilkis are spented, and consumed; The King and his comptrollar, ancht & suld repute the famin fra the possessor, and uptakers of the saidis fructes, of all zeires of their intromission therewith, be waie of action, because they are consumed and spendid. Quhilk deid consistand in factu, suld needfull be proven be ordinar waie of action. To the quhilk hail profits the King hes gud richt, in respect that of the Law, male fidei possessor, can never acquire and conqueis to himselfe, onie fructes or profits, ither extant or consumed. And trew it is that al thay, quha receives ony infestment or unlauchful disposicion of the Kings annexed propertie, ar male fidei possessor; they receiving the famin against the manifest law of this Realme. The ignorance quhairof excusis na inhabitant of the famin. And mair-over, trew it is that the forsaide forme of intromission with the Kings annexed landes, and repiticion of the profits therof, hes bene in use and practik sen the making of the actes of Parliament therairon: Likas in the beginning of the reign of King James the Fourth 18. Jan. 1488. the landes and Lord-ship of Brechen, and Newar were taken fra David Earle of cransford, and ane termes assigned to prove against him, the avayl of the mailles and dewties of the saides Landes with the pertinents, intrometted with be him, sen the time of the gift therof. Item the King may intromet with his annexed propertie, and profits therof, quhair he be Major or minor. For gif they be na lauchful dissolucion of the famin, he is ay as it were minor anent his faid propertie. Al annexations ar perpetual, and induris continually, ay and quhill ane lauchful dissolucion be maid be onie King: Induring the time of the quhilk dissolucion, the annexation ceasis, and sleeps, and the dissolucion being ended be decaife of the maker therof, the faid annexation beginns to quicken & quasi reviviscere. In sik forthat the King quha succedis to the maker of the faid dissolucion may set na fewes of his annexed propertie, be vnew of the dissolucion made be his predecessor, but mon make ane new dissolucion to the effect forsaide. Quhilk fault and vice, I finde in divers and findre infestmentes of the propertie; and specially in the minoritie of King James the Fifth, quhilkis are wrangously given be vertue of the dissolucion maid be King James the Fourth, his Father. vid. Dissolucion.

ANNUELL ane word used in the praftik of this Realme, for an zeirelie revenue, or dewty, payd at certaine crimes, ither legal, quhilkis are called termini legales vel legitimi, prescribed and appoynted be the law of this Realm, sike as Martin-mes & Whit-fondays; Or conventional as pleas the parties will agree and appoynt, be paction and contract, as betwix Zule and cand-mes, or onie ither time. In the Actes of Parliament maid be Quene Marie 4. Parlia. 29. Maji. c. 10. mention is maid of ground annuell, few annuell, and incertain quhat they do signifye: but refers the famin to the judgement and opinion of the Reader. Alwaies ground annuell is effeemed to be quhen the ground and propertie of onie land bigged or unbiggid, is disposed and annallid for ane annuell to be payd to the annallier therof, or to ane ither person, sike as onie Chappellane or Priest. Top annuell is ane certaine dewtie, given and disposed furth of onie bigged tement, or land, of the quhilk tement the propertie remanis with the disposer, and he is onlie obligid to pay the faid annuell. Few annuell, is ither quhen the few mail, or dewtie is disposed as ane yeirle annuell. Or quhen the land, or tement is sette in few-ferme heretabill for ane certaine annuell to be payd nomine fidei firme. The annuell of Norwaie quhairfoir mention is maid in the actes of Parliament of King James the third, and in the Register of this Realme, was an annuell of the summe of an hundred markes, sterling money, quhilk the Kings of this Realme was obligid to pay yeirle to the King of Norwaie, for the cause after specified. Because Donald Bane, brother to King Malcolm Cammoir, wrangouslie after the decaife of his brother usurped the richt of the Crown against his brother fones, Edgar, Alexander, David, and uthers. And for help, and supplie, gave all the lles of Scotland to the King of Norway, quhairthrow, and for ither occasions, monie bluidie and cruell battalles followed, untill the battell of Largs 3. August, 1263. In the time of King Alexander the third, And also King of Norway: Quha thereafter in the famin zeire 21. Januare departed in Orkney. And the Scottis beand victorious, Magnus the fourth of that name, King of Norway, sonne to the faid Ache, maid peace and concord, with the faid King Alexander in anno, 1266, and renounced, quite-clamed, and discharged all richt, or title, quhilk he or his successors had, or micht have, or pretend to the lles of Scotland. The King of Scotland payand theirow yeirle to the faid Magnus, and his successors ane annuell of an hundred markes, sterling money. Quhilk contract and agreeance was ratified, and confirmed be Haquinus King of Norway, the fifth of that name, and Robert the first, King of Scotland, in anno 1312. Borat the last faid annuell, with all the arrierages, and by-turnes thereof, was discharged, and renounced simpliciter, in the contract of marriage betwix King James the third, and Margaret, onlie daughter to Christianus the first, King of Norway, Denmark, and Sweden, 8. Septem. 1468. Quhilk discharge is nocht onlie ratified, but also renewed thereafter be the faid Christianus 12. Maji. 1469. And like-wise the faid King James the third 24. Fe. 1483. commanded his Ambassadors send to the Paip, to desire confirmation of the faid perpetual renunciation, and discharge of the contribution of the lles.

A R A G E, utherwaies Average, from Averia, Quhilk signifies ane beaft, as false hereafter expound: And fwa consequente Average, signifies service, quhilk the tennent acut to his mailster, be horse, or cariage of horse 18. Jan. 1501. John Stewart contrair William Blair. In the act of Parliament Ja. 4. p. 2. c. 10. It is written Average. And likewise, in the indenture at Perth pen. Mart. 1371. betwix Robert Stewart Earle of Menstith upon the ane part, and Dame Isabell Countess of Fife, on the uther part, it is plainly written, in Averagis & Caragiis. In the quhilk indenture, the faid Isabell daughter and aire to Duncane Earle of Fife, & spouse to Walter Stewart brother to the faid Robert, in the time of her Widuite, after the decaife of her faid husband, oblistid hir, to resigne the faid Earldom of Fife, in the Kingis hands in favour of the faid Earle, for new heritable infestment thereto, to be given to him. The quhilk indenture is subscribed be Joannes Rollo, quha was secretary to the faid Earle, And conforme thereto, resignation was maid: for the quhilk fcho received zeirle for her sustentation, an hundred fourtie five pounds, sterling money. Like as also the faid Isabell 22. Junij 1380. resigned ad perpetuum remanentiam in the hands of K. Normand. l. 5. c. 2. Nu. 7. Zafius de Feud. Tit. qui Fendum dare possunt. Some callis Banerens them quha hes Baner rent, and divided in fundrie partes. Others callis them quha hes the rent or zerlie dewtie of ane Barrenne. And sik-like, some understanis them quha bearis the Kingis Baner in his hoist and armie : quhilk office and honour, pertains hererablie, and allanetlie, to the Costable of Dundee, the Kingis Baner man. But all when they are belied and maid Earles, are called Barrenne Banerens, and Lorde of our Sovereine Lordis Parliament : Quhairby it is manifest, that the said dignitie is common to manie, and nocht proper to ane man : And therefore seeing Zafius in the place foresaid, writis, that Baner-rent is ane dignitie concerning weir-fare : I think in my opinion, that Banerents are called chevaliers of armes, or Knichtes, quha for obtaining of great honours, dignities or riches, hes power, or priviledge granted to them be the King, to raise and lift up ane Baner, with ane companie of men of weire, either horse-men, or fute-men, quhilk is nocht lesum to ony Earl or Barrenne, without the Kingis speciall licence, asked and obtained to that effect : As Hencie Tasquill Advocat. lib. 2. des re. cerbes de la France. c. 9. Fol. 100. provis be money and fundrie argumens of the Historie of France. And Doctour Thomas Smith, ane learned man, in his buike, anent the common weill of England. lib. 1. c. 17. Sayeth that Knightes, Banerents, at maid in the felds, with the ceremonie of cutting of the poynt of their standerd, and making of it as it were ane Baner, they being before Bachelers, are now of ane greater degree, allowed to displaie their Armes in ane Baner, in the Kingis hoist and armie.

BANNITUS, Banished for onie crime or uther cause. Bannum, signifies ane trumpet, in latin tuba, as writis Alciatus. l. 2. par. c. 2. ex Procopio. l. 4. belli Persici. And be the common use and consuetude of this Realme, quhen onie person is banished, or put to the horne, the same is done with three blaifs of ane horne, or an trumpet. And for that effect, it is stature and ordained that the Kinges maire, or serfant fall have ane horne and wand. Ja. 1. p. 7. c. 99. for with the horne he denunces men rebellis, and with the wand, he receives them to the Kingis peace, quhilk therefore is commonlie called the wand of peace. *An Bannius possit impune, offendi in corpore & bonis. vid. BARO, Ane Barrenne. Zafius de Feud. Tit. qui feudum dare possunt, writes conforme to Cornelius Tacitus, in Libro de Germania : That Dux, or onie Duke, is the Governour of ane Province, or Armie, Comites, or Earles, are they quha are affeious to the Duke or Prince. SWA Call a comitandus, because they accompanie the saidis Dukes, and never callis out of their preference.

Marchiones, or Marqueffes, Wardaires, or keepers of the Bordoures : For Mark, Marche, in Latine Limes, and Mark-grave in Dutche, is Comes Limitaneus, or onie Marchiones dwelling on the Bordoures, or Marches, of the Cuntrie. As in this Realme the Earldome of March, quhilk perteineth to OUR SOVERAINE LORD, As ane part of his annexed percheinie. Bot Comes Martialis, or Earle Martialis, is ane man of dignitie or jurisdiction, de morte, vel bello : Because the iurisdiction of weir-fare perteinis to him. Alciatus libro de singulari certamine. c. 32. Affirms, that like as the Earle is inferior to ane Duke, swa ane Barrenne is inferior to ane Earle : And that Baro, cummis fra the Greek word Barys, gravi, wif, grave, prudent, and discreet : Bot contrarie wif, Petrus Pithaur. lib. 1. Adversariorum writis, That Baro signifies ane baistid, fuile, or un-wif-man. Quhais opinion, I cannot gudlie approve.

Baldus in Cap. Immutis de electione, definit Baronem, ut sit quisquis merum iussumque habet imperium in aliquo castro vel oppido, ex concessione principis. In this Realme he is called ane Barrenne, quha haldis his landes immediatlie in chief of the King, and hes power of pit and Gallous.

BARRATRIE, or Barrataria, ane kinde of Simonie, especiallie in obtaining the richt of benefices. Socius reg. 55. Baldus in consilio 21. Part. 5. For all men passand to Rome and buyand benefices commis Simonie, and are called Barratrones. Be quhome Barratrie is committed, and qubat is the paine thereof, it is manifest be the actes of Parliament. It is ane Italian word, and be the Italiane interpreters of the civil Law, Barrataria, is quhen ane Judge corrupted be buddies (lik as gold and silver) judgis wrangecouslie, Petrus de Raven. singulari. 156. and swa doing sellis iustice for meid and profitie, and makis his offel der to be bought be him, quha will give maist thereof. Angel. de Syndicato. Nu. 4. For the quhilk crime he may be deprived, and sherpelie punished. *Barth. l. 1. Ma. q. 13. BASTARDUS, in French Bastard, anbarne unlauchfullie gotten outwith the band of Marriage. Quhilk word is barbarous, and (as I suppose) nareafone can be given quhairfore it is so called. Bot Gabriel Palesus, in his buik de nobilitate, Spiritualis filius. c. 18. allcagis it to cum fra Bastardus, quhilk signifies ane huire, or common woman : Be reason that bastards are commonlie gotten and procreat with sik weemen, in Greeke he is called nothos, for in notha signifies that part of the fathers gudes & gear, quhilk be the law of the Athenians leasumlie might be given be the Father to his bastard sonne, extending to the summe of mille drachma, and therefore Nothos was called all that was not woir or lauchfull, as writis Budaeus in Pandectis. And swa Nothos cumis fra no, privative particula, & nothos, de divinum, esse Suida. Because he wantis that quhilk is godlie and lauchfull, that is ane honest and lauchfull birth, or parentage. And swa nothos dicitur qui non sit legitimus, to the quhilk there is in a proper Latine word correspondent, as Quintilianus testifies lib. 3. c. 6. Nevertheless, he is commonly called Spiritus, for in l. 1. ff. de posses. contr. tabul. Spiritus di- cuntur para ten spiritus, h. c. statione, vel seminatione, etque uaga, & promiscua, ubi doctores sporadem legunt, quasi spiritum concepti, like as they are called uaghi concepti. l. in adoptivis. 14. de ritu nuptiarum. Likewise Spiritus was the proper name of ane man amougis the Romains, as Titus, or Caius, and was written with two letters Sp, and likewise they quha had na certain Father, was designed with the saids two letters, S, and P. And swa be common use and consuetude, Spiritus dicebatur sine patre, and Plutarchus in problematibus, because their Father and mother nocht being lauchfullie married, they have na certain Father : quia pater dicitur quem legitima nuptia demonstrant. l. 5. ff. de in jure vocand. And it is alike to have na Father, and to have incertain Father, as we say, he quha will have monie Gods, hes na God. Postremum Blondus lib. 8. Roma triumphans, is (inquit) qui illegitimam natum esse ex concubina vel foris, contumeliose causa, spiritus dicitur, eo quod Sabini, muliere pudendum spiritum appellarent : hac ille in honesto originis genere lateo editor, infamem & inhonestam appellationem natum voluerunt veteres. And that part of weemens claires, lik as of their gown, or petticoat, quhilk under the belt, and before, is open, commonlie is called, the spare. As concerning the succession of bastards, this choert rules are to be observed, conform to the Law, and practice of this Realme. First na bastard, nor na persone, nocht procreat, and gotten in lauchfull marriage, may onie waies be lauchfull airt and successor to onie of our Sovereine Lordis lieges. lib. 2. c. in custodia 50, for be the law of God Ismael being bastard, gotten upon ane bound woman Agar, might not be airt to Abraham, with Isaac. Gen. 21. 10. Because all richt of succession is be reason of blood, and consanguinitie of the Father side, quhilk is called jus agnationis, and thetheris ane bastard, quhais Father is incertaine, be the law is understand, be reason of blood to be sib to na man, and nane to him, & ubi nullus est pater legitimus, ibi nulla est agnatio aut successio ratione agnationis.

Secondlie the batrines mail, or female, lauchfullie gotten be ane bastard, with ane lauchfull married wif, succedis to him as righteous and lauchfull airt, in his Landis, gudes and gear, in the samin manner, as gif their father had been gotten and borne in lauchfull band of marriage, quia filius est heres legitimus, quem nuptia demonstrant. lib. 2. c. in custodia 50.

Thirddie gif the lauchfull baime mail, or femaill of ane bastard, succedisto him, and thereafter decaiss without lauchfull airt gotten of his awin bodie, or without lauchfull brother or sister : and lauchfull testament and latter will maid be him, all and hail his landis, gudes and gear, nocht being disponed and analied be him in his lifetime, aucht and suld perteine to the King, be the priviledge and richt of his Crown : Because, as saidis, there is na richt of succession in this Realme, be the Mother side, and the sonne or daughter of the bastard decaissand as saidis, hes na persone sib to him be his Father side : And swa all richt of succession ceasand baith uppon the Mother and Father side : tota ratione agnationis, quoniam agnationis, the King be reason of his Crown, is universal successor to him in his landis, gudes and gear, as ultimus heres.

Fourthly, ane bastard being legitimat, or not legitimat, may in his lige pousty and induring his lifetime, annalie and dispone his landes, gudes and gear moveable, and unmoveable, to quhom he pleasis, in the samin forme and manner as onie person gotten in lauchfull bed may do be the Law.

Fifilie, all gudes moveable and unmoveable of ane person borne bastard, and decaissand bastard, without lauchfull airt gotten of this bodie, and na disposition thereof maid in his time, perteinis as escheite to the King, be reason of the richt of his Crown. lib. 2. c. quare autem. 51. leg. foret. c. s. bastardus. 50. de judic. c. s. bastardus. 54.

Sextlie, Ane bastard being naturalized or legitimat be the King under the great seal, be the practice now used and observed, hes allanetie power to make testament, dispone his moveable gudes and gear, and nominate executors, conform to the Law of this Realme : be the quhilk Law, na man lauchfullie, or unlauchfullie gotten or borne, may make onie disposition in his testament, bot of his moveable gudes allanetie. For na man upon his death-bed, or in his latter-will, without consent of his airt, may dispone ony part of his heretage. lib. 2. cap. Potest. 21. cap. Cum quis. 36.

Seventhlie, gif ane bastard legitimat and rehabed in his life-time, makis ane testament lauchfullie : The King thereby is excluded fra all richt and intromission with his moveable gudes : Bot gif he makes ane testament, quhilk is null and unlawfull : Or gif he makis na testament : The King be reason of bastardrie, succedis to him in all his moveables, and unmoveables. For in this case, the effect and power of the legitimation ceasis, and hes na operation.

Achtlie, quhen ane bastard decaiss without ony lauchfull testament maid be him, or nothavand airt hes lauchfullie gotten of his bodie : The King, be his Theasurer, or ony uther havand gift and power fra him, may intromet with all the moveable gudes quathsumever, perteinie to the bastard, the time of his decaise, and not disponed be him in his lifetime, as escheit perteinie to his Hiensell, be reason of his crown and Kinglie power.

Ninthlie, Sick-like all landes and tenements pertaining to the said bastard, the time of his decaise, and halden immediatlie of our Sovereine Lord in chief, after his decaise perteinis to the King, and the propertie thereof, be decaise of the bastard, and be reason of escheit of bastardrie, belangand to the Crown, is consolidat with the superiority in the Kingis person : in sik forme and manner, as gif the bastard in his life-time, had maid resignation thereof, in the Kingis handes.

Tenthlie, Concerning landes and heretage, pertaining to ane bastard, not halden of the King, bot of ane uther superior, Spiritual, or Temporal, the King hes richt of presentation : Be the quhilk, after the decaise of the bastard, he may present ony person quhom he pleasis, as heretabie tenent

It is necessar and also useful to the Schireffe, or onie uther Judge of this Briewe, to summonsd certaine persons maift worthy within his jurisdiction to passe upon the assise, and that upon the space of fiftene daies, or zit gif he pleas upon ane uther time, and gif they be present in the dole-buith unsummonsed, it is leasum to the Judge to compell them to passe upon the said inquest. 1. a. 5. p. 6. c. 94. And all ilk persones summonsed and nocht comparand, ar charged at the barre and disobeyand, suld be decreed in ane unlaw and amerciamet of court. The briewe beand lauchfullie proclaimed, and the persons of inquest like-waies summonsed, and the daie of comparance being cum: the perswearer exhibitis and presentis the briewe dewlie execute and indorfate, in judgement to the Judge, and desiris him to cause the famin be red, and put to the knowledge of ane assise: Thereafter the officiar, executor of the said briewe, be his great airt, fall fware judiciallie, that he did execute the famin briewe, conforme to the indorfation therof in all poyntes, and the witnesses therein in-vill, fall also make faith, that they heard, saw, and bytude, quhen the said officiar did execute and proclaim the Briewe, in ilk manner, as is containid in the indorfation therof: The briewe and indorfation being fwa verified, gif ony person havand entrefse, compenis to defend and object against the briewe, he sulde have inspection therof, gif he desiris the famin: And gif he proponis ony relevant exception, declinator, dilator, or peremptory: Hee thereby castis and annullis the Briewe: either unil ane newe briewe be raised againe, or simpliciter in all times cumming: utherwaies, gif he has ane reasonable exception or defence to stop the briewe, the famin fall passe to the knowledge of ane assise, Quoniam attach. de brevis. 13.

THE N Certaine lauchfull menne maiste worthie, and quha beste knawis the veritie, to the number of Thretee, or fiftene, ar chosen in judgement, in presence of the perswearer, and defender: Or in presence of the perswearer, and in absence of the defender, knawin to have entrefse, and being lauchfullie summonsed, and nocht comparand, to the said election, to object against the assise: For likeas it is necessar, that he be anis summonsed: Swa gif he compenis nocht, being lauchfullie summonsed, the briewe suld receive process, and passe to the knowledge of ane inquest, at the desire of the perswearer, in absence of the defender. lib. 3. c. generalia. 3. 5. aff. Reg. Da. c. sciendum est. 44. lib. 4. c. Si petens. 57. Quhilkis persones, na lauchfull and competent against them, suld be received, fsworne, and admitted: And therefore ar callid Juratores. vid. Bona Parria. And gif they, or onie ane of them be fsworne and received, the judge may continue the brieweto ane uther daie, gif he pleas, and as necessitie requiris: utherwaies the continuation therof, is nocht leasum, without the consent of the partie, after the claine is given in; And inquisition taken in the cause, gif the persones of inquest, being well counsellid, and advisid, deliveris and fewis Negative, in favours of the defender, and findes the perswearer na waies nearre and lauchfull airt to him: quha dedit lair Vette, and failed in the Landes achimed: In that case the defender dois bruik and joyis the possession of the said landes, and the perswearer is debarrid and feclued theretha. Bot gif the assise deliveris and fewis Negative, as said is, or affirmative, in favours of the perswearer against the defender, conforme to the claine in all poyntes: This their answer to all and fundie the poyntes of the briewe, sealed with all their seals, or of the maill part of them, toger with the seale of the Schireffe, or uther judge closed, and the briewe inclosed therein (to the effect the same may be confered with the answer) is sent back and retoured to the chancellerie, conforme to the Kings command, containid in the end of the briewe. Stat. Rob. 3. c. 1. Quhilk therfore is called ane retour. And it is to wit, that there is twa kinds of retours, or answers maid be the persons of inquest, to this briewe, and retoured to the Chancellerie: The ane is general and the uther speciall: The generall is, quhair na landes or tenements ar speciallie acclamed or toucht be the perswearer of the briewe: Bot onlie it is desired, that hee may be served and retoured generale, nearre and lauchfull airt to his Predecessour: To the quhilk generale claine, ane general retour is maid, be venue quhairto the said general airt, hes gude richt and title to all contractes, obligations, and reversi-ones, and to the moveable airt-shippis quhilkis pertained to his predecessour, and were not discharged, or disposed before his decease, in his liege possitie: And ilk-like, he may perswew, and defend quha sume- ever action competent to him, be decaise of his fathir predecessour, to quhom he is served airt general. 8. March. 1540. James Scott, contrair Blair: The speciall answer and retour is, quhen the perswearer of the briewe, clains speciall landes, and the persons of inquest givis ane particular and special answer to ilk special poynt of the briewe. 1. 6. c. 1. statuti Dominus 45. The quhilk is direct and tend to the directioun of the Chancellerie, to be tryed be him, gif the famin be conforme to the directioun and ordour of the briewe in all poyntes. Here is to be understand, that the landes containid in the retour, ar halden immediatlie of our Sovereign Lord the King, or of ony uther superiour. Gif the landes be halden of the King in chief, the directioun of the Chancellerie, comandis his Clerkes to direct ane precept, under the testimoniall of the great seale, called the quarter seale, in quhite Walk, to the Schireffe of the Schire, quhair-in the landes lyes: commanding him to give saifing to the person retoured, or his Attourney, of the landes containid in the retour: And to take securitie of the mailles and dewties of the landes, sa lang as they ar retoured, to have bene in the handes of the King, or his Predecessours, be reason of warde, or none-entrefse, quhairof ane memoriall is maid in ane buike callid, Responde, vid. Responde. Gif the landes retoured be balden of ane uther immediat superiour then the King: The directioun of the Chancellerie, directis ane precept, charging the superiour, to give saifing to the person retoured, of all and fundie the landes containid in the retour: He doand to him therefore all quhilk he is obliged to do be the Law: Quhilk precept, gif the superiour disobeyis, beand required personallie, or at his dwelling place, to obey the famin: And for verifing therof, ane authentick instrument reported to the Chancellerie: Then the second precept, callid Memento, is direct to the said superiour, beand in effect, that the King remembrand, that of before he gave command to him to give saifing: quhilk command as zit is nocht obeyed, quhairof he mervails: And therefore zit, as of before, chargis and comandis the said superiour, to give saifing to the person retoured, of the landes containid in the retour. And gif ane uther authentick instrument be reported to the chancery for verifcation of the superiours disobedience the second time; The third precept callid Furche, is direct, commanding him to give the said saifing, or utherwaies gif he disobey, the king certifies him, that he will direct his uther precept to his schireffe to give the famin. In the execution of all thir three precepts, it is not necessari, that the superiour fall be personallie apprehended. But it is sufficient gif he be charged in the execution of any one of them. The third precept and charge being like-waies disobied, and the famin disobiedience lawfullie verified, as said is, ane precept is direct furth of the chancellerie, to the schireffe and his deputies of the schire within the quhilk the landes retoured lyes. As kend mention, that the King hes given command be his uther letters, to N. Barron and his deputies, that he without delay suld give saifing to the person retoured, or his attourney of the landes containid in the retour, quhilk gif he dois not, he comandis and chargis the schireffe, to give saifing of the said landes with the peniments without delay, saifand ilk mans richt. Quhilk precept being obeyed be the schireffe, and saifing given conform therio, the superiour who was three times charged of before and refused, be reason of his disobedience, tynis and forfeits the superiority of the landes quhairto he refused to give saifing induring his lyfe time. Quhilk superiority fall pertene to his immediat superiour, quhiddir that be the King or ony uther. And after his deceas, his airt being served and retoured to the superiouritie of the famin landes, recoveris the said superiouritie quhilk his father did time throw his disobedience. And sa be the law and practice of this realme, ane superiour may tynne and forfeit his superiouritie. First, quhen he is entered and failed in the superiouritie, and being charged be precepts of the Chancellerie, refusis to receive his vassall; & tennens, served and retoured to the property. In the quhilk cause be reason of his contempt and disobedience of the Kings precepts and command, he tynis the superiouritie, induring his lyfe time, without any declaratioun, or decreit of ane judge. Secondly, quhen the superiour is not entered nor failed in the superiouritie, and is charged be the Lords letters raised be his vassall, to crue within fourtie dayis thereto, to th' effect he BURLAW. Eydaw. Lawes of Burlaw are maid, and determined be content of neighbors elected and chosen be common consent, in the courts, called the Burlaw courts. In the quiklik, cognitiō is taken of complaints betwixt neichbour and neichbour, lib. 4. c. 4. The quiklik men faichosen, as judges and arbitors to the effect foresaid, are commonly called byrlaw men. It is an Dutch word, for baur or bursuman in Dutch, is rufficus, an husband-man. And byrlaw burlaw, or barlaw, leges rufficorum: Lawes maid be husband-men, concerning neichbour-hold to be kept amongs themselves.

CADROW. quahair of mentio is maid in the act of P. printed. 1568. Ja. 2. 4. An. 14. 54. c. 41. wrangously, for cadrow, becaue lenth of the barony of Cadrow, an zeirly pension or annuall-ent of 26. pound 15. schil. 4. pen. was payed to the King in the checker, as is manifest in the Schireff-rolles. Ja. 2. 14. 56. and likewise in the Schireff-rolles, Ja. 3. 1487. in the quiklik rol, the barony of Cadrow is called Hammilton, and in divers others rolles.

CANUM. Cana. In hindrie charters and infestments of lands, specially halding of the kirk, is commonly used, for the duey and revenue quiklik is paid to the superior, or lord of the land, and specially to bishops, or kirk-men, quidder it be quhair, beir, aites, or uther kinde of vicuals: s. for, or summes of mony, as is manifest, Julij. Feb. 1509. The King contrare the fol. of Balmonech. That nevertheless, the lands of Kilconquhair, liand within the schireldome of Eyre, are retoured to be halden be service of ward and relieve, payand a certain fun of silver, nomine cani. to the B. of S. Andrews. Quiklik to be well done, I cannot assure: for it is certain, that all lands halden nomine cani, payis ane certain fun of silver, or some uther certain duty, particularly exprest in the infestment. Sa gif that manner of halding be like to the halding be service of ward and relieve: of necessity the famin mon be ane taxed ward, and during the time thereof, the tenant full pay na maist but the particular summs or duty contained in his infestment. Canum, appers to be ane Irish word, for Kene signifies the head, as King Malcolm Kellmair, grandis Capite, vel capio, great head and likewise Kain or Chan, is called tribute, payed be the servant, or subiect to the maister, as I have red in ane auld amhenick register of the bishopric of Dunkeld, quhair it is called Chan or Chanum. And amongs the Romaines there was twa kinds of tribute: ane real, quiklik was impure be reason of the quantity of the landes and guds immovable, quiklik is called jagurie, quod pro modo jurgum imponebatur, l. 9. c. de agricol. et censil. lib. 1. An uther personal, quiklik was impured to the agricol and is called capitatio, quod pro capite hominis prestatur, d. l. 9. cum. l. seq. c. ubi gl. l. sacrosancti. 8. c. de sacrosanct. eccles. l. ult. c. de annon. et tribul. lib. 9. And in the Evangel, licetne dare censum Cesari. Thod. Pera interpretis, licetne dare captationem Cesari. Aulus Cellius, and uther latin writers makis mention of them quia was taxed be the head or pow. In latin capite censui. Sa this word Cane signifies the head, or rather tribute, or dute, as ane lowes, Cane chels, Cane aites, quiklik is payed be the tenant to the maister as ane duey of the land, specially to kirk-men and prelates, quia in the time of their greatnes and supremacie, used ane forme and stile differs from uthers: and the auld form of precepts, given in the time of K. Robert xi extant, anent the inbringing of the K. remis, contains censum, Cana, redius, culsumas. And canage of wol, or hyds, is taken for the custome therof, *l. navium fol. 171. in li. M. The quihik had priviledge and liberie of Girth; in ilk fort, that quhen onie man-slayer, being within the ninth degie of kin and bluid to Mak-duff, sumtime Earl of Fife, come to that croce, and gave 9 kic and an colpinchad, he was free of the slaughter committed be him. In the flanes of this Croce, I saw sindrie barbarous wordes and verses writen, quihik here willingly pretermitt, and zit sum of them appear to be conforme to this purpose;

Propter makgidrim & hoc oblatum, Accipe smeleridem super lampade Impida lubrum.

King David the 2. gave and disposed the Earle-dome of Fife, with all priviledges & cum lege quia vocatur Clan-mak-luff, to William Ramsay and his aires, quihik charter is zit extant in the Register. Hector Boetius lib. 12. dedatis three priviledges given to Mak-duff, his clanne and familie, 1. that the Earle of Fife suld set up the King in his Chyre, the time of his Coronation: the 2. that in the time of battell, he suld secht the want-guard. The 3. that Mak-duff and his clanne suld have the priviledge and richt of regallitie. And I saw an auld evident beand, that Spens of Wormelown brand of Mak-duff Kinne, enjoyed the benefite and immunitie of this Lawe, for the slaughter of ane called Kinnymont.

CLAREMETHEN Clarmathen, the Law of Claremeiben concerns the warrandice of stollen cattell, or gudes: for quhen ilk guides are challenged, or repeated be the iust awners thairfor: It is statute and ordaind that all persons, quha suld warrant the famin, fall cum to certaine places, speciallie nominat and appoynted to that effect, and lauchfullie warrant the famin. *lib. 1. c. hac sunt loca. 22. CURIA christianitatis lib. 2. c. debet autem. 37. lib. 1. c. placitum. 17. Is called the ecclesiasticall jurisdiction or court: utherwaies forum ecclesiasticum, lib. 1. c. 5. Curia Christianitatis opponitur laicali seu seculari, lib. 2. c. cum aliquis 50. lib. 3. c. preterea. 23. For unto the ane pertainis the ecclesiasticall, and to the uther the temporal or secular jurisdiction.

CURIALITAS, curialitie, curtesie, from the French Curtioise, civillitie, gentleness, humanitie, for the law of curtesie, is an gentil and favorable ordinance or constitution, grantd and observed in this Realme, and nocht universalie kept, or used in uther cuntries, And therefore it is called Curialitas Scotiae, the curtesie of Scotland. And in the Lawes of England lex Anglia, or the curtesie of England, within the quihik twa realmes and nane uther this law is use. That is quhen onie man maries lauchfullie ane wife, and receivis lande and heritage with her: And it happen that he beget with her ane bairne, quia being borne, is heard cry and beuixt four wallis of ane house: And thairer his wife decays before him, he fall bruck and possesse, all the landes quihik she pertained to her, in during his lifetime, albeit the bairne live or decease. Lib. 2. c. cum itaque 58. The bairne borne, being sonne, or daughter, maill, or femall de Indie. c. Maritagium. 127: Quhilk law hes place in landes and heretage, lyand without burgh, halden of the King or any other superior: An also in landes and tenementes lyand within burgh and halden in free burgage. Leg. burg. c. falquis. 44. This Law is nocht introduced in favours of the wife or bairnes, bot is maid in favours of the husband allanerlie. And therefore it is nocht necessary that he have onie failing, infirmite, or uther richt, to the landes quhilk pertaine to his wife heritable: Bot onelie the benefice and privileg of the curselie, quhilk is valuable and sufficient to him induring his life-time, for bruiking and posseling of the landes, and for removing, out-purting and inputing offmentees, in sik maner as gif he were proprieter, lyt-rentar, tackes-man or rentaller. And maire over, the Law of the curselie is extended in favour of the Second husband. And therefore gif one man maries ane heretrix, and after his decease, shee maie ane Second husband, and beare to him ane sone, or ane daughter, and thereafter shee decease, hir second hus-band aicht and sulde bruik and joie the privileg of the curselie, in sik maner as gif the first hus-band might have done, in case his wife had deceasid before him. lib. 2. dic. cap. 58. de Jadic. cap. 137.

As concerning the estate and qualite of the woman that is married, it is necessary that she be heretablie infest and faised in the landes as aire to his father or uther hir predecessour. Bot it is nocht necessarilie required, that she be ane virgine and maiden. Because the curselie perteineth to the second hus-band, quia maries ane widow as faise is. Alwaies quhiddir the wife be widow, the time of hir second marriage: or virgine and maiden, the time of hir first marriage, necessarilie shee suld be ane heretrix, aire, or universall successor to hir Father, Mother, or to sum uther of hir predecessours. For gif the wife hes onie richt and titill to the landes and heretage, as singular successor, be ventue of onie contract, ut illo tempore: Hir husband after hir decease can never claime richt to the landis, in thousand, five hundred, ninie five. Robert Lunde of Ballyngy: contrair Robert Balfoure of Droune. The curselie hes nocht place quhen na bairne is borne in lauchfull marriage, for it is necessar that ane bairne be borne mail or femall, quick and livand: And for probatiōn theirof, he is written be hand bukkes brayand, lqueland, or loulde cryand. For in French brayer, in the latin vagire, isto crie or greite with ane loud voice. Quhilk word in our language, is als wa attributed to Hofs, Hantes, and uther beastes. And gif contraverse ane annent the life or crying of the bairne, it is lesuim to the Father to pruisse the famin be twa lauchfull men or women, quia heard the bairne clamare, plorare, vagire sen brayare leg. burg. d. cap. 44. The husband or Father suld bruik the curselie after the death of his wife, albeit the bairne being borne quick happen to decease immediatlie, or shortly after his nativite. Or albeith the bairne and the Mother both departe this life, for suppose the bairne happen to decease before his Mother and shee decease thereafter, or albeith both the bairne and the Mother decease at ane time, or zit gif the bairne leveis, and the Mother before the hus-band depart forth of this life, the hus-band survivand after her death fall bruik the privileg of the curselie of all Landes quhairin his wife was heretablie infest: ninth of Julij, ane thousand, five hundredth ninie seven. Martha and Eupheme Mackalkane, contrair Maister James Ward-law advocate. Iwa the substantiall heades of the curselie are this following, quabair gif onie ane falsifie the curselie cause. Firsh is required ane lauchfull marriage betuixt man and wife. Secondlie, the wife suld be ane heretrix haveand ius universale, quabie shee succeeds to her Father, Mother, or some uther her forebear. Thirdlie: She suld be heretablie infest and faised in the Landes. For gif she decease, nocht beand entered and faised, hir hus-band suld have na curselie. Fourthlie: She suld decease before her hus-band, for as lang as shee and the husband livis, he hes ius mariti. And after hir decease, he hes ius curialitatis. Fiftlie, Bairnes suld be lauchfull givand & borne, at the least ane bairne, mail or femall, quick and livand. Last of all the curselie is effectuall to the husband, twiuing waide-landes, pertaining to his wife, as the Kings confirmation. For landes halden of the King in chief, and confirmed be him, fallis nocht in waide, induring the life-time of the person to quhome the confirmation is granted. He being thereby immediat tennent to the King. And like-wis, gif onie man maries ane heretrix of waide landes, and after her decease her aire is Minor, and of less aige: Nevertheless the landes fallis nocht in the superiours handes, be reason of waide. Bot the husband sulde bruik and posses the famin induring his life-time, be reason of the curselie of this Realme. Because the richt of the waide Pertaining to the superior, ceasis quhair the curselie belanged to the hus-band has place. Pervis. Februar, ane thousand, five hundredth, fiftie three: George Gorthie contrair the Lord Melbourn. And zit the hus-band being onlie life-rentare may nocht fel or annaillie heretablie the faide Landes, or onie paine theirof, in hurte and prejudice of the tictious aire. leg. burg. c. 44.

D

DISCLAMATION is used in the law, and practick of this realme Clamare. Clamare id est quod dicere, asseverare: As clamare aliquod tenementum aut aliquam terram esse suam, to claime, and asseme onie heretage or lands to be his awin. Clamare aliquem dominum to claime, avow, and asseme onie man to be his maister or superior, to quhome he aicht service, & of quhome he haldis his landes in chief. Disclamare is to disclaime, disavow or denie as to denie ane uther to be his superior, as quhen the superior affirmis the lands to be halden of him, and the vassall denies the famin. In the quhilk case, if the contrair be fund of veritie, the vassall tines and amittis all the landes quhilk he haldes of that superior, & the propertie theirof returns to the superior, de maritag. c. 18. Stat. Ro. 3. c. primo. ao. Quhair the auld forme and manner of disclamaion is declared. Maireover, disclamaion is quhen the persouer claimes landes perteinand to him, and haldin of ane superior: and the defendour affirmis the famin to be haldin of ane uther over-lord. lib. 1. c. foli. 26. lib. 3. c. tali, 18. To the decisiōn of the quhilk contraverfie, both the faids allaged over-lords suld be called. And he quha failst to prove himselfe superior, fall never be heard to claime the famin afterward, and the vassall being convict, tynis the land and propertie theirof, quhilk is adjudged to him, quia was wrangoulle denied be the superior, and is forsoth to have richt theirof. lib. 1. c. feroth, 28. Last the vassall tynis & forscaldis his landes, gif he wrangoulle denies his few, or the condition theirof, that is the service aicht theirof, conforme to the French proverb qui se denie, se perit. The reason is because the vassall denyand his halding, his maister or landes, contemnis and dishonours his maister. Bot it is necessar that the vassall or tennent denie fraudulently, that is wittinglie, quia vassallus scdmum quod sciens abnegavit, amittit: ignoranti vero subvenitur. Quod subdubites, dubitanter respondere passit. Causas. lib. 4. de feud. tit. 5. c. Tit. 21. & Tit. 39. de parane-gatis feudum.

DISRATONARE, from the french word Differer. In Latin Duellare, Duellum contendere, to fecht in singular battell, and commonlie is understand of the appealer, or persouer, quia cum vadit duellum provocat ad quadum disratiōnem, & defendens vadit ad defendendum. Sum-time disratiōnare is maier general taken, for to tene onie thing in judgement be forme of proces, concord or aggrievance. lib. 3. c. cum itaque, 14. lib. 2. c. fieri autem, 67. quoniam aiaach. c. 4. Item it signifies to prove onie thing conforme to the consideration of the Court be battell, write, or be ane assise of the curie. lib. 1. Cap. fveris, 18. Cap. fveris Dominus, 20. Iter cad. mer. Cap. apparet, 24. Or be the airt of the parties, and certaine conjuratiōn: tounes quhair are called Sacramentales, quia sum-time maie, and sum-time, fewer in number maks faith and swearis in onie cause with ane partie haveand entreffe in persure or defence. Caus. lib. 1. de feud. And in the Lawes of this Realme, dictur aliqui jurare cum tercia, septima, Duodima manu. Quhen three, seven or twelve persoues swearis with him. Quhilk in the Cannon Lawe is called Purgatio Canonica.

DISSASINA, Sassina is ane French worde, and signifies possession, to the quhilk Dissassina is contrare, and signifies dispossession, quhair ane person beand in possession of onie Landes, as mailer to his maister, or haveand onie uther title theitio in write, is wrangoulle ejected and put fra the famin, without onie warning or ordour of Law. Like-wis Dissassina is called spulzie, quhen onie person is spulziez violently and wrangoulle of moveable gudes and gearre, pertaining to him, as his awin proper gudes: and being in his possession certain daies or monthes. For ejection concernis Landes and gudes in moveable: and spulzie is of cartell, and gudes moveable, and both the ane and the uther is comprehended under Dissassina aff. reg. de Cap. Statutum fuit, 31. Quhilk is conforme to the English Lawes. Henric. 3. Stat. de Mercurio, c. 3. and the lawes of France. Molineus in fitt. v. Part. 1. c. 18. And be the auld law of this realim, Dissassinator, or committer of spulzie or ejection, being convict theirof suld paye ane unlaw of ten pundis to the King. Stat. Alex. c. Stat. 7. And may be accused criminallie before the Justice and his depuies. la. 5. p. 4. c. 33.

DISPARAGIUM, like as parage is called equalitie, from the latin word paritas. Sa disparagium is called inequalitie in bloud, honour, dignitie, or utherwaies, from the word disparitas, leg. Forre. c. de heredi-bus, 64. cum seq.

DISSOLUTION, ane latin word, quhilk signifies lowing of that thing quhilk was bound of before. And likewise lowing is contrair to binding: Swa dissolution is contrair to annexation, speciallie in the Kings propertie, annexed and united to the Crown. For the famin being dissolved is maid lowse, and free of that nature and qualitie that it may be annaill and disposed to sik as pleasis his Hienes, with certaine conditions and provisions. Dissolution of the propertie is maid to the effect the famin maie be fauld and annaill be the King, and therefore can nocht be lauchfully maid in his minority. la. 6. p. 14. c. 203. For like as the King being Minor may nocht fel his propertie: evin fa that time it is nocht lesuim to him to doe onie thing that maie be ane preparative to the annexatiōn theirof. And likewise gif onie man haveand heretablie infirmen or uther richt to onie part of the Kings annexed propertie, for the crime of treason, is forfeald: and thereafter be the three Estates in Parliament is restored in the minority and lesse age of ane King. Albeit this restitution may rehale his person: Zit is na sufficient richt to repone or restore him againe to his richt of the said annexed propertie. For like as dissolution maid in the Kings minority is null: Evin swa, ane restitution maid in his aige, concerning his annexed propertie is of ane avall: for the dissolution, and restitution at birth of ane nature, and produciens effect, hurtfull and prejudicial to the King, in Regillo, 18. Julij, 1597. The Kings advocate contrair Alexander, Lord Hume, and tennentes of Dum. lution suld be maid. And sa it is manifest that ane dissolution of the annexed propertie suld be maid be ane King in his majority, in ane Parliament with consent of the three Estates, la. 6. p. 15. c. 233. Bot an annexation may be maid in Parliament in the Kings minority, la. 6. p. 15. c. 233. It is leuim to the King after the dissolution, to fet his proper lands annexed, or unannexed in few-feme to onie of his lieges, and speciallie to the kindle tennentes and possessours theirof, as he pleasis. Dissolution induris only for the lifetime of the King, maker and author theirof, and quhen he de- ceasis, the same ceasis and endis. ed landes in fowerme, be vertue of one diffolution, maid be his Father or predecessour. Albeit diffolution be temporal, as fild is, zit the Landes set and disposed heretabie after the diffolution, remains perpetuall with them and their aires, to quhom they are disposed, after the forme of the condicions, conveined in their indentures. And swa the alienation and diffolution lauchfull maid, is perpetuall, & transferta ad heredes. Albeit the diffolution be Temporal and personall, as fild is, the diffolution expyand and cessand, be the decease of the author thereof, as fild is: All the landes annexed of before, returns againe to the forme & nature of the annexation; Swa that the same may not be set in fowerme, nor annexed be the King, succedand to him, quha maid the diffolution, untill a new lauchfull diffolution be maid thereof be himselfe. In respect that all annexations of their awin nature, ar perpetuall; and albeite, they may be interrupted and stayed, for auncertaine space, be ane diffolution; zit after the ende thereof, the annexation dois quicken, revive, and walken, as it were, out of sleep, and returns to the awin perpetuall nature, and swa remains untill a new diffolution be maid.

The King after a diffolution, may set his landes in fowerme allanerlie, and not in blench, or venite alba ferme, nor be service of warde & reliefe, or uthervais, bot in fowerme, as fild is. Lam 6 par. 1. ca. 234.

The King may not set his landes in fowerme, except the famin bee done with expresse augmentation of his rental: That is, his greffines, customes, burrow-milles, fermes, marters, mutton, pultrie, avange, carnage, or any uthir dewties & service. Quhilk is not only manifest in the alienation of the annexed propriety: Bot likewise fild be observed and kept in the diffolution of the un-annexed propriety. For it is cerneine, that the Kings of this realme, the time of their Coronation, makis faith full solemnitie, that they fall not auncle, transfers, nor dispone the right and rents of the crown: As it is statute be David 2.6. No. 13.57. & 6. ca. 10. may not sell the right of the crowne, na maid may he annulle the rentes thereof, quhairfoir the un-annexed propriety is ane parte. Mair-over, albeite an diffolution is not necessar in the alienation of the unannexed propriety (because that quhilk is not bound, requiris na lowering) zit in a diffolution maid be kings of this realme, expres mention is maid baith of the annexed & unannexed propriety, to be set in fowerme, for augmentation of the K. rental, quhairby it is cerneine, that the an, allwell as the uthir, being set in fowerme, cannot be disposed in diminution of the rental. And concerning that qualitie & condition, expremed in the form of all diffolutions, the un-annexed, & annexed propriety, ar oflike nature: Et in hoc causa pari jure censetur: Sa that neither the ane, nor the uthir, may be disposed, with diminution of the rental, uthirwise the mention of the un-annexed propriety, in the acts maid annule diffolution, were superfluous. Thir ar the substantiall condicions, expremed in the diffolutions of the propriety, maid be the Kings of this realme, quhairfoir, gif any ane be not observed, the alienation & diffolution maid after the diffolution, is null, & of nane availle: 1.6. p. 1.5. c. 236. Vj. & uthir, the forme of diffolution abone expremed; it is lessum to the King, with advise, deliverance & decreet of the hail parliament, and for great, feand and reasonable causes, concerning the well-fare of the realme: first advised and digested, lill considered be the three estates: To fell, annulle, and dispone the kings annexed propriety. 1a, 2. par. 11. cap. 41. 1a, 3. p. c. 84.

De nepote uno vel pluribus ex filio.

Gif any man decass, leavand behind him ane Nepuoy or Nepuoyes, ane or maas, procreat be his sonne already decassid: (Ex filio primario) they fild succede to him in the samin manner, asis above said, of the succellion of sonnes: That is, gif there be ane Nepuoy allanerlie, he is onelie universal succellor: And gif there be maas Nepuoyes, the eldest allanerlie succedis to all. Lib. 2. c. Porro 33.

De nepote & filio.

Gif any man decass, leavand behind him ane Nepuoy, begotten be his eldest Sonne, already decassid, And ane second sonne, quia is his brother to the said Nepuoy: The second sonne is excluded from all right and commoditie of succellion to his father. Becanse the Nepuoy lauchfully begotten be the eldest sonne representis the person of his father, and therefore Jure representationis succedis in his fathers right; and consequently is onelie aire to his Gud-Chir: like as his father would have been, gif he had not decassid before him. Lib. 2. c. Porro 33.

The like is to be understood of ane Neice or Neices, ane or maas, begotten be the eldest sonne already decassid, quia fild be preferred to their father brother, anent the succellion of their Gud-Chirs heretage: Except speciall provision of tailzie be maid in favours of the aires mail. Quo casu heredes masculi succedunt, non dispositione juri, sed ex provisione hominis.

ITEM, Ane Neice or maas, of ane sonne or daughter, succedis to their Gud-Chir or Guddame, in the samin manner as their father or mother fild have done, gif they were zit living. Lib. 2. c. Porro 33. And in this case it is to be observed, that quhen maas Neices nor ane, borne of sinder mothers succedis, that the heretage fild be divided ratione stirpis, in alsomny partes, as there is stockes, of quhome the saids Neices descendis and procedis: As for example, gif there be ane Neice begotten upon ane daughter, and twa Neices begotten upon ane other daughter, they all three fild succede to their Gud-Chir; bot the heretage fild not be divided in three partes: ratione capium; bot in twa partes allanerlie, ratione stirpis: That is, of the twa sisters quilkis are the twa stockes, of quhome the saids Neices descendis: And fwa the ane Neice, gotten upon the ane sister, fild have the ane lesle: And the other twa, in the other halfe allanerlie of the heretage: Quilk forme of succellion is callid succesio in stirpes, quhen the bairnes being maas in number, succedis to als meikle allanerlie, as would have pertaind to their mother, gif shee had been living.

EXTENT of landes, signifies the rentis, profites, and issues of the famin, quhairfor there is twa kinds. The auld extent, and the new extent; For it appeares, that the rental and valour of landes, has been taxed; and liquidat to ane certaine summe of silver, conforme to the profites and dewties, quhilke the landes payed at that time: Quhilke is called the auld and first extent, tempore pacis. Bot because the revenues and dewties of landes be progresse of time, did interresse and grow mair and mair: ane uthir taxation and extent was maid in the time of peace, as the former extent, conforme to the profites augmented, as said is; quhilke therefore is called the new, or second extent: And propertie is the verie availe that the land is worth, and givis the daye of serving of the brieve. Ja. 3. p. 7. cap. 55. To the quhilke, the worde Nunc, contained in the brieve and retour, fuld be referred. For tempore belli, or in time of weire, there is na ordinar or certain extent of landes, prescribed be ony law: for in firk time, either the landes are wast, and are not labourd; or the lands-lordes servis in proper persone: And it is na reason, that they fuld baith make personal service, and also pay extent or taxation. The lordes of the Session esteemes ane marke land, ane auld extent, to four marke land of new extent. 21. Mart. 1541. Quhilke commonlie is called the fourth maille, and fuld be generallie used in retouring of landes to the Kings Chancellerie, and uthers Chappelles: Albeit the famin is nocht perpetuallie observed. This distinction of the auld extent, and new extent, is necessary For taxation of landes are raised, conforme to the auld extent, and the relief of landes, is the retoured maille, according to the new extent. And firk-like, quhen landes are fallen in the superiours handes, be reason of none-entres, he fuld have allanerie, the retoured maille thereof, conforme to the new extent. vide None-entres.

HERREZELDA, is the best aucht, ow, kow, or uthere beast quhilk ane husband man possesseur of the aucht pair of ane duach of land: (fourne oxen gang) dwelland and decaftand theirpon, hes in his possession, the tyme of his decafte, quhilk aucht and suld be given to his Landif-lord, or master of the said land. lib. 4. c. si quis. 22. aff. reg. Da c. si quis. 41. for Herr in Dutch, in latine herus, dominus, signifies ane lord, or maister, and zeild is called ane gift, tribute, or taxation, as in the auld actis of parliam-ent maid be King James the first, it is written, that ane zeilde was gad-dered, for the reliefe of him out of England. And ane uthere zeilde, is collected, for resisting the rebelles in the North. Swa Herrezelda, is ane gift given be one man to his maister and Lord, quhilk suld be his best aucht 17. October. 1470. Quhilk is conforme to the auld lawes. li. 2. c. reventur 35. quhairlik lork man makand his testament, fild recognoefce, and acknowledge his maister with the best thing he swa. It is manifest that the Herrezelde is given, be reason of the tenentes decedes to his maister, as ane gift, for acknowledgeing, and honouring of him, and therefore in the civil law is called, laudemium, a laudando domino. Item in the auld Saxon, and Dutch language, Herr, is ane hoist, armie, or weirmen. Swa (as sum thinkis) Herrezelda, signifies that quhilk is given to the Lord, or maister passing to the hoist, or be reason of weisfare. For sli small husband-men having onely foure Oxen-gang of land, and thereby, be reason of their povertie, nocht able to passe to weisfare in proper person, suld help their maister, passand forward theirunto: like as Herischulda, is the paine of him quha obeys not the proclamation maid for weisfare, for schulda is debittum or debt, and heribannum is ane charge or proclamation maid for weisfare. Ornia lib. 1. de fend.

N. proxima futuri, cum continuatione die-ram. apud. F. Inſra vicecomitatum veſtrum levare intendimus, vobis pre-cipimus & mandamus, quatenus ſummonitis, ſer ſummoniti ſaciatis, le-gitimè coram teſtibus legalibus, de qualibet baronia, duodecim vel quin-decim homines, ad hoc opus magis ſufficientes. Et de qualibet vicaria, ſeu villa quatuor vel ſex homines. Et de quolibet burgo, duodecim, vel ſex decim burgeſes, ad hoc opus magis ſufficientes, ſecundum quantitate lo-corum, & numerum perſonarum, in iſdem exiſten, ſua cum ſervitio, ſa-bor, molendinario, braſtorio, & ſellatario, cuiuſque baronie, ville, ſeu vicarie tenendurie. Quod compertum coram clericis noſtris, pluribus aut uno, di-ctis die & loco, cum continuatione dierum, ad ſarſam reddendum indiſtincta regia. Et faciendum ad ſubduendum, id quod in hac parte, juri or-do requirit. Et ſuis vicecomes, & ballivi veſtri, ibidem, coram cle-ricis noſtris, dictis die & loco, cum continuatione dierum. Haben. vobis cum ſummonitionibus veſtre teſtimonia, & hoc breve. Proinde etiam pro expenſis doſtorum clericorum, quos vobis in primis compuit, de exiſ-tentibus juſtitiarie reddendis, ſaciatis plenius allocari. Et hoc nullatenus e-mittatis ſub omni pena, quae competere poterit in hac parte. Datum ſub ſigillo officii noſtri juſtitiarie. Quhilk brieve, the Schireffe ſuld reporte at the day appoynted, in the place, quhair the ditty ſuld be taken up, to the juſtice Clerke, and two witnes at the leaſt with him, ſort to verifie the execution of the brieve, to be lauchfullie done, conform to the command of the juſtice. Cõforme to the precept & command abone written; the juſtice Clerke ane, or maa, convenis the day, and in the place appoynted, and there remainis ſulleined upon the Schireffs ex-penſes (quhilk is allowed to him in his comptes, of the iſſues & proſites of the juſtice aive) and takis up ditty be the relation, and depoſition of the perſons ſummoned, for the giving up thereof. Quhilk ditty they ſuld keip quiet, and ſuld na waies reveale the famin to ony perſon, nor tranſlate it utherwaies then it was given to them, nor change names, ar for ane uther: Nor put out ony luth of the rolles, bot lauchfullie and trew-lic ſuld report and deliver the famin to the juſtice, and his deputies. Ia. 2. par. 6. cap. 28. Ditty ſuld be given up be verue of the Kings com-miſſion; direct to Earles, Lordes, Barrones, Knights, and ſpecial Lan-ded Gentle-men: And be fourde of the Councell of everie Burgh, quha ſall mak & give up ditty, be their awin knowledge, or be ane ſworne in-queſt, or ſworne particular men: Upon all perſones ſuſpect capla-ble of the crimes and faultes, pertain to the juſtification of the juſtice and his deputies. Iam. 6. parlia. 11. cap. 81. Quhilk ſuld be like-wiſe keiped quiet, and reported, as ſaid is, to the juſtice. And ditty be-ing taken up, upon ony crime againſt ony perſones: Neither judge, bot the juſtice and his deputies, may mell therewith. Likas the War-daine on the Bordoures, in his wardaile couerte, may nocht intromet with ony thing that pertainis to the ditty of the juſtice aive. Iam. 2. par. 11. cap. 42.

The ditty taken up, in maner foreſaid, The juſtice Clerke, at com-mand of the juſtice, makis ane catalogue, containe the names of the perſones indited; And upon quhom ditty is given up, quhilk is called ane portuous. Togidder with ane uther Catalogue, quhilk containis the particular ditty, given and taken up, upon tranſgreſſours and ma-lefactours, called the traifes: Baith the ane, and the uther, is delivered be the juſtice Clerke, to the crowner: To the effect, that all the perſones quhaſ names ar containe in it, may be attached, and arreſtied be him to compeir in the juſtice aive, to anſwere to ſik crimes as ſalbe im-put unto them. Ia. 1. p. 13. c. 139. Ia. 3. p. 14. c. 99.

The crowner, in making his arreſtments ſuld paſſe to the habitation and dwelling place of the perſones, given to him in portuous, and thereafter make proclamation at their Paroch Kirkes, upon ſeſſual daies, and take ſervice of them, ſik as he will ſtand for to the King. And gif the perſones ſwa areſtied, be nocht ſtreinzicable; The Crow-ner ſall areſt their gudes, and put them in ſure keiping, to the Kings uſe: quhilk the ſaid ſervice be founde: Or elſe take their perſons, and put them in the Kings Caſtell, gif ony bee within the Schire. And gif there be na Caſtell, hee ſulde deliver them to the Schireffe to bece keiped. Ia. 3. p. 3. c. 5.

And mai-over, becauſe ſindrie perſones indited, uſis to fle and abſent themſelves; ſwa that the Crowner can nocht apprehend them per-ſonally, to areſt them. In that caſe, it is ſufficient that the Crowner com to the dwelling place of the ſaides perſones, and make them warning, and charge to compeir in the juſtice aive nixt following, to anſwere to ſik acculations of crimes, as ſalbe im-put unto them. And thereafter upon the nixt Sabbath day following the ſaid charge, the Crowner ſhall make open and publick intimation of his warning, charge, and premo-nition, maid to the ſaides perſones, be their names, in their Paroch Kirkes. Quhilk charges, premonitions, and intimationes, ſhall ſtand to them for ſufficient arreſtments, the famin being lauchfullie proven, as effects of the Law. Iam. 5. p. 4. c. 33.

And mai-over, gif he cannot attach ony man perſonally, be reaſon of his abſence; he ſuld areſt all his gudes moveable, and un-moveable, person.

All the indwellers within the towne or village, suld concur and assist the crowner, in attachment or arresting any malefactor to compeir in the justice aire, to underly the law. Stat. Alex. c. 2. And like-like, quhen the crowner receivis his pounous, containand the name of any person indited, quha wil not obey him, or quhom he dare not, nor is of power to arrest; he sall passe to the Lord of the Baronnie, quhairin that person dwells: Otherwise gif the dwells not within ane Baronnie, he sall passe to the Schireffe of the Schire, and require them to be borgh and soverie, to enter the said person to the justice aire; quhilk gif the Baronne or Schireffe refusis; the Crowner sall require them to send their officers, and sufficient number with them, to forisfick and supplic him, in making of his arrestment, taking and keeping of the said disobedient person, quhilk he brocht to the Schireffe, to be kept to him, untill the time of the Justice aire. Jan. 3. p. 14. c. 99. Mai-over the crowner sall bring all perones arrested be him, quha hes not, or may not find borrowes to the Schireffe of the Schire, quha sall receive him in suretie, and furance, upon the Kingis expences; and quhair it failles, on their awin gudes, quhilk the next justice aire, and there present them to the justice. Ja. 3. p. 14. c. 102.

The crowner
expens.

The Crowner, or makers of the attachementes and arrestments, suld not inromet, or carie awaie any gudes or geare, pertaining to the perones attached: Bot the Lord, or officer of the towne, sall fustene them reasonable upon the expences of the said person, be the space of one day, and ane night. Stat. Alex. c. 2. And gif the said person cannot be personally apprehended: The crowner may remaine in his dwelling-house one day and ane night, and suld be furnished with twa servantes, and uthir twa as witnesses, and his clerke suld have twa shillings, and sa may nocht take any maiir of the gudes and geare, pertaining to the said person attached, albeit he be absent. Leg. Malc. Mak. c. 1.

arrestmentis.

Attachementes and arrestmentis maid be Crowners and serjantes, may be proven be them and wines. 14. 3. p. 7. c. 52. That is, be the aith of the Crowner, & ane wines, conforme to the auld consuewde. 1. 5. p. 4. cap. 33.

The crowner
fit.

The crowner sall have for his fee, for ilk man amerced or componand, ane colpindach, or threitie pennies. For him that is elenged be ane assise, the crowner sall have na thing. For him man fled or condemned, the crowner sall have all the dancotted horse nor schood. Leg. Malc. c. 1. Quhilk is to be understand, of dancotted horse, depute to warke, and not to the saddle; that was never schood, nor used to schoone. 1. 3. p. 14. cap. 113. The crowner suld have all the cornes lying in binges and mowes, caften and broken. All the in-fight, utensile, and domicile, within the inner part of the house: That is, within the cruk hingand upon the fire. And all and findrie scheip within twentie: And all the swine and Gaies within treie. *Leg. And being cum to their limes and ludging, suld laye their armour and weaponis from them, and ulewa weapon, bot their knife. 14. 3. p. 14. c. 83. Mai-over, all Lordes, Spiritual and Temporal, Barones and others, cummand to the justice aire, fuld na waies maintrine, fortifie, supplie, defend, nor be Advocates, nor stand at the Bar, with maner traitouris, men-layers, thieves, rieviers, nor at uthir trespassours, nor perones pertaining to themselves, or uthirs: Salland, it false kaskum to them in fawber waies, to stande with their kin, and friendes in defense of them, in their honest adions. 14. 3. p. 14. c. 98. Quhen the justice aire is to be halden upon the Bordours: The Wairdaines, within their Wairdaines, and their deputies, with the free-halders of the Schireff-dome, being warned thereto be the Schireffe, be open proclamation, fuld convoy the justice and his deputies, to the place appointed for halding of the Court; And accompanie them, in doing their residence, and untill they be out of the boundes of their Schireff-dome, and received be the next Schireffe. Ja. 6. p. 11. c. 81.

Perones
lashed.

In the justice aire, fuld compeir all perones attached, and arrested, conforme to the dittay given & taken up upon them; quhairif, some were arrested of before, to have compeired in the justice Court preceding, already ended, and expired, and compeired none in the famin: quha is names ar given to the Crowner, to be of new attached, and arrested, to the aire following, as of before: Uthers are of new indited, upon quhom na poynt of dittay was taken up, in any time by-gane, quha is names ar comprehended in ane Catalogue, called pounous. All the fore-said perones indited, baith of auld and of new, suld be attached and arrested be the Crowner, to compeir and underly the law, the time of the justice aire, as is manifest be the precept foresaid, direct be the justice generally, to the Schireffe.

Inhabitantes
landes.

All perones arrested, that may be apprehended, the time of the aire, in the Tolburh, or in the town, quhair the justice is, false taken and delivered to the justice, to be justified for their crimes and trespasses. Swa that the arrestment be maid before the time of the beginning of the justice aire, and feare of justice. Jan. 3. par. 7. cap. 57. And quhair landes lyand in findrie Schireffdomes, ar annexed and united in ane Baronnie: The inhabitantes thereof, fall answer in the justice Court, quhair the landes lyes, and the Lord, or proprietor of the landes annexed, givis preference or service, in the court of the Schireff-dome, within the quhilk the baronnie lyes, to the quhilk the landes ar annexed. Ja. 4. par. 6. c. 93. For in this case, respect and consideration is had to the natural situation of the landes, and to the jurisdiction, within the quhilk they lye: rather nor to the imagin, and civil forme of lying, of the landes be annexation.

Stewardries & Bailiories.

Atour, all inhabitantes of stewardries and bailiories, fall cum to the head burgh of the Schireff-domes, quhairin they lye: And within the quhilk head burgh, the Kingis justice aires are halden. Ja. 6. par. 11. c. 81.

The judge.

The judge in the Kingis justice aire, is the Kingis justice generally, or the Kingis bailie, in his regales, havand lawfull power and commissi-on granted to them. Ja. 2. p. 3. c. 9. For the King, or the justice generally, may make ancht deputies, quha withane depute of the Thesaurer, and ane uthir of the justice Clerke, suld pass severallie throw the aucht quarters of the realme, and hald justice Courtis. 1. 6. p. 11. c. 81.

The justice
expens.

The justice generally, fuld have for his sustentation, like day of the aire, five pence. Like as the justice Clerke fuld receive for ilk man elenged, beane assise, and drawn forth of the rolles, four pennies. And for ilk man amerced, or componand, ij. s. Leg. Malc. Mak. c. 2. For ilk Attorney and commissi-on, twa shillings. For ilk man quha producis ane remission, twa shillings. For ilk man that cummis in the justice wiff, twa shillings. For ilk man convict and fled, twa shillings. For ilk letter of winneise, sex shillings, aucht pennies.

The Schireffe,
The crowner.

The Schireffe fuld be present, as he quha is warned be the justice precept, to answer to all the pounyes thereof: And touching the execution of his office, togidder with the Crowner, quha fuld answer for his attachementes and arrestmentis, and verification thereof: And the Schireffe, with the Crowner, fuld tholl ane assise, the last day of the aire, anent the using and execution of their offices, to quhome justice fuld be ministrat, as they fall be founde innocent, or culpable. Jan. 3. par. 14. cap. 103.

the courtis.

The day of compeirance being cum, to the quhilk the justice aire is cryed and proclaimed: The justice and his deputies, fuld compeir with all uthir perones, charged and commanded to concur and assist with them. At the quhilk time, the fures fuld be first called, with their Lordes. For albeit the Suters compeir, nevertheless, their Lordes and maiiters ar obliged likewise to compeir, and give preface to the justice in his aire: They being lawfully summoned, and charged to that effect, be open proclamation, and be the justice precept abone writen.

Commissioners.

2. The Commissi-on and power given to the justice, fuld be produced and red: And gif the Commissi-on be given and granted to man perones, none are con-junctive: They fuld be all present; uthirwaies it is na lawfull court. Bot gif they be continie conjunctive and severall-and consel-lers.

Quhilk precept and command, is conforme to the Lawes of this realme: Because all free-halders, haldand landis in chiefe of the King, within the Schireff-dome, quhair the justice aires are halden, fuld compeir and be present all excuse falsid, except the fame be of sickness, the Kingis service, or in-lie: It is sufficient, that any one of them be present. And maiſt-ov-er, the juſtice may nocht make and conſtitute deputies and ſubſtitutes under him, except he have ſpecial power in his commiſſion, to do the ſamin. Lib. 4. c. 3. ſumus. 27. Thirdly the judge ſhall begin and lenſe the court, conforme to the common ordour and conſuetude uſed and obſerved. La. 6. par. 11. c. 81. Quhilk ſuld be done at eleven houres before noone. Ja. 6. p. 11. c. 86. Fourthlie, the court beand affirmed, the dampſer ſuld be called and cauſed to be ſworne, that he ſhall leallie and trewlie, uſe and exerce his office. Fifthlie, the ſuites ſuld be called. La. 6. p. 11. c. 81. 2it againe as be-fore ilk man, twiſe with their lords and maiſters, and the abents deemed to have failized, and therefore ſuld be unlauwed, and gif bairn the ſuiter and his Maiſter be abſent, ilk one of them betheſelves ſuld be americiar.

The affiſe.

Sextlie, the affiſours being ſummoned beane precept direct be the juſtice to that effect, ſuld be called, ilk perſone under the paine of fourtie puns, and the juſtice may cheife affiſe one or mair, as he pleaſis, of the beſt and maiſt worthie of the countie, before quhom the hail accuſation, reaſoning, writs, witneſſe, and utter-probation, and inſtruction quhat-fur-ever of the crime, ſhal be reaſoned and deduced in their preſence, and alſo in the preſence of the partie accuſed in face of judgement. La. 6. p. 1. c. 90. 91. And it is to wit, that he quha givis up dritay upon ane other, ſuld not paſſe upon his affiſe. La. 1. p. 3. c. 50.

The perſons attached.

7. The juſtice ſuld procede in his court, and put the offenders: gif any be already in priſon, to the knowledge of the affiſe; and miniſter juſtice upon them, as they ſhalbe found innocent or culpable. La. 6. p. 11. cap. 81.

Pledges for court of his theris.

8. He ſhall call thereafter the pledges, and cautioners of perſones attached, quha laund foverie before the juſtice any time preceeding, at any particular day, or court, to compeir the third day of the aire, or ſooner, upon ſiſtene daies warning. La. 6. p. 11. c. 81.

9. This being done, the clerke ſhall viſit and conſider the hail rolles, and journell, and call all them quha ar writen from the aires preceeding. Upon quhais heades and names is abſent, prima dies, ſecunda dies, tertia dies: Be the quhilk he underſtandis, ira quhat aire or court they were abſent. And that they may be therefore americiar, ilk one of them be themſelve, be reaſon of their abſence. And gif the ſaidis perſones, nocht compeir and before, now compeiris & ar preſent: The clerke ſhall liuk the auld diitties and rolles, and accuſe them, conforme thereto, in the beſt maner he may gudlie. And gif there be na particular poynt of dritay, or accuſation; he ſhall lay common dritay to their charge.

10. Thereafter the juſtice ſhall call the perſones ſwite in-drit and arreſted; And gif they or onie other of the arreſted perſones forſeidis, compeir; they ſuld be preſented to the court, and to the Schireffe, quha ſuld anſwer for them, untill juſtice be done upon them.

Excuse for non-compeirance.

11. The quha ar attached, and compeiris not, may na-waies be accuſed for their nocht compeirance, bot be the Kings ſervice; quhilk ſuld be verifieid be the Kings letter, produced in court: Or be reaſon of ſickneſſe. Quhilk be the auld law, was tryed be ane affiſe: quhiddie it was trew, or feintid: Albeit the partie was abſent. Stat. 2. Rob. Br. c. 5. Bot now it ſuld be proven and verifieid be the Miniſter of the Paroch, within the quhilk the perſon excuſed dwells: And be two witnes perſonallie compeirand in judgement. 1. 1. p. 9. c. 14. And concerning perſones abſent, it is generally ordained, that everie barrone and free-holder, ſhall anſwer in the juſtice aire, for his awin men: dwelland upon his awin proper landes, tackes, ſteadings, cowmes, and baronies, and ſhalbe halde to enter them; or els anſwer to the King, for their unlaues. 1. 5. p. 3. c. 6. Quhat is the unlaue in the juſtice aire. vid. Americiation. Bot for the better underſtanding of the lawes, concerning fugitives and abſenters: It is to wit, that be the auld lawes of this realme, gif the partie defenden being lauchfullie warned, compeired not, bot ſend ane excuſe, or excuſe; the ſamin being reaſonable, was received and admitted to the judge, three ſindrie daies or courtis: And gif he compeired afterwarde, and verifieid his his effiſonizies to be lauchfull, he was dritreinzid, and poynded therfore. Bot gif he neither came, nor ſend ane excuſe: The partie perſewer compeired at lauchfull day and time of court, and offered him reddie to perſew, quhilk he did be the ſpace of three daies. And the third court beand by-paſt, the defender was ſummoned to compeir the fourth court: The quhilk ſuld be peremptory; becauſe ſentence definitive was given a- gainſt him, conforme to the claim and petition, gif he compeired nocht. Tab. 1. c. ſummonitus. 9. The like ſorme and ordour of proceſſe was obſerved in juſtice courtis. For mentionis maid of the firſt aire. La. 3. p. 13. c. 94. And of the ſecond aire. 1. 5. p. 4. c. 32. And of the fourth court. 1. 3. p. 14. c. 101. And gif any perſon indicted, and lauchfullie attached, compeired not, the ſaid three courtis, his pledge or law borch was called and americi- at for the firſt, ſecond, and third court, and at ilk time after ilk one of the ſaidis courtis, the ſaid pledge was poynded and dritreinzid. And the diſ- cuſſe or poynd was letten to borch, and maid free under caution; that the ſaid perſon indicted, ſuld compeir in the next aire following, to under- lie the law. And gif he was abſent at the fourth court, the peremptory doome was given againſt him; That ſik ane man was in ane americiand, and at the Kings houn, and his landes and all his gudes effect to the King, except he come within fourtie daies, and did bidde the law: And there- after the court being ended, the ſaid perſon was denuncied rebell, and put to the hoome openlie at the merat croce of the head burgh of the Schire. Quhilk forme of proceſſe was ſa lang and prolux, that in many zeires, parties hurt and grieved, gar na juſtice: And treſpaſſours and crimes paſſed unpuniſhed: quhilk was the occaſion to many perſones to commit crimes, truſting na haſtie puniſon nor correccion to follow. Therefore King James the Fifth, ſtaute and ordained, that the proces of juſtice aire, and juſtice courtis, ſuld be peremptory at the ſecond aire or court, ſwa that fugitives not compeirand at the ſecond aire

12. Hereafter the Lordes of regalitie may deſire their men to be remit- ted to their awin juſtice courtie, and replege them, ſchawand their com- miſſions, power, and payan and therefore, and leivand ane caution behind them, called cultrach, quha ſhalbe acted and obliſhed, in the juſtice Court, that juſtice ſhalbe done and miniſtrid, in the court of the regalitie, to the partie complainand upon the perſon repleged.
13. The juſtice or his Clerkes, ſhall demand and ſpeare at the Bailies of Burrowes, gif they be ready to preſent ilk Burghes within their Burgh, in- drited to the Kings juſtice aire: Quhilkis perſones ſhall all emer perſonal- lie before the juſtice, under the paine of ane new-law and americiand of court: quhais names the ſaidis bailies ſhall put in writ, and deliver the ſam- in to the juſtice, or his clerkes. And gif they will borrow or replege their ſaidis neighbours, they ſhall ſchaw their Commiſſion, & pay therefor, & thereafter gif they draw or oblige theſelves, their Commiſſion, & burgh in pledge: That they perſones quhom they replege, and quhais names they give in writ, ſhalbe forth-cummand, and anſwerable to the laws, and chal- lenge of the juſtice. At the quhilk time, he and his deputies ſhall aſſiſe to them ane certain day, to underlie the law, either in that aire, or there- after quhen he ſhall think ſpeedfull. And at the ſamin time, it is leaſum to the Kings juſtice, ſitand in the principall burgh of the royaltie, to give ane aſſiſe to all the ſaidis burghes, repleged of their awin neighbours, that beſt knowis the veritie, dwelland in the ſame burgh with them. And gif there be nocht ane ſufficient number of the ſaid con-burghes: It ſhalbe leiſum to choiſe ane aſſiſe of the burghes of the ſaid head burgh, quhair the juſtice and his deputies ſitis, as he ſhall think expedient. La. 4. p. 1. c. 1.
14. Gif the partie accuſed compeirand, allegis to his remiſſion or reſpect; he ſhall produce the ſamin in court, and ſhall finde ſicker borowes to aſſiſh and content the partie complainand, within fourtie daies fol- lowing: Quhair-upon ane act is maid in court, quhairby he and his cau- tioner, ar obliſhed to aſſiſh and ſatisfie the partie, within the ſpace fore- ſaid; Quhilk is called the act of Adjournall. And gif he refuſis to finde caution, he ſhall remain in the Kings priſon, quhill the ſaid fourtie daies be runne, and then his remiſſion ſhalbe expulſed, and of na value. La. 2. pa. 14. c. 75. And in this caſe, quhen any man takis him to his remiſſion, reſpect, or compoſition, in the juſtice aire, or juſtice court, and ſindis foverie to aſſiſh the parties: It is leiſum to the partie to call the ſaid foverie before the Lordes of Court, conforme to the act of Adjournall, maid there- anent. La. 5. p. 3. c. 7. As gif any man becumis foverie for ane other, a- nent ſpualite committed be him; and for reſtitution or ſatis. ſaſon to be maid be him therfore. He as foverie may be called and convened for the gudes ſpualizid. For the violent prices thereof, for the damage, ſkath, and intereſt ſuſteined be the perſewer, throw the committing of the ſaid ſpualite. *10. Martij. 1500. NONE-ENTRES, Is quhen ane vassall, well and laifed in the fee and propertie of the landes decassit, leavand behinde him ane aire, quha beane of lauchfull age, may enter to the landes, be taking of saifing thereof, and zit enters nocht. In the quhillk case, the landes ar in the bandes and power of the immediate superiour, be reason of none-entrefe. Propter negligentiam heredis, ius suum non consequitur. Stat. Rob. 3. Cap. No. 14. 21. Mair-over, there is two kinds of None-entres: The ane simple, nocht followand after ane warde, in the quhillk, the superiour of the Landes, untill they be declared be decreete of ane ordinar judge, to be in None-entrefe, fild have allanerlie the retoured mail thereof, conforme to the new ent. And after the declarator, the superiour may remove the tennentes, or occupy the landes as he pleasis, induring the time of the None-entrefe. The uther kind of None-entrefe, is that quhillk followis after ane warde: As quhen landes ar halden be service of warde and relieve; and the aire is Minor, and may nocht enter: The famin landes pertainis to the superiour, be reason of warde, and nocht of None-entrefe. For quhair there is warde, there is na None-entrefe. Be reason the warde, falong as it indures, stops the none-entrefe. Bot quhen the warde expires, togidder with the twa termes of the relieve; The None-entrefe begins, gif the aire beand of perfite age, enters nocht to the landes, and obeisins saifing thereof. The quhillk None-entrefe, requiris na declarator, bot is of the like nature, with the warde preciddand. And induring the time thereof, the zeirly mailles and dewties of the landes, as they give be tack and alidation, pertainis to the superiour; or he may remove the tennentes and possellours theredra, and occupy the famin as he please, like as he might do, in the time of the warde. Mair-over, this kinde of None-entrefe, beand given and disposed be the King, or uther superiour, to the appeare and aire himselfe, or to any uther person, is sufficient and valuable to the donator, for all zeires and termes precidding the gift and disposition, and three termes after the perfite age of the aire allanerlie. And endis and ceasis after the ischue & out-running of the said three termes. And gif the aire enters nocht within the said space: It is leasum to the King, or uther superiour, to dispose of new, the said none-entrefe, to quhom he pleasis, to be used be him, unto the entrie of the lauchfull aire; as was decreed and ordained, be the Lordes, and Auditors of the Checker, in the Moneth of Julij. 1596. P PANNAGIUM Porcorum, ane French worde, signifies the deutie quhilk is given to the King, for the pastorage of Swine in his Forreifes. Leg. forest. c. 6. 8. As it is manifest in the lawes of England, in the charour of Forreifes, quhair Pannage, is called ane certaine summe of silver, quhilk the awner of ane Parke, or of some great wood, quhair-in there is great store and abundance of Mastie, Aik, Betche, or uther trees, ustake to call of his tenants or uthers, for their swine, that fall feed there, betwixt Michael-mes and Maritime-mes. Item Pannagium, signifies ane paite of the Kingis demaine, or propertie, given to his second, or uther younger sonne, or coufine, quhairof *Chopin*is wities, de domato regis Francie. But hereof no mention is maid in the lawes of this Realme.

PARTICATA, vel pericuta terra. From the French word perche, meikle used in the English lawes, ane ruid of land. leg. burg. c. 1. c. particata. 130. stat. Wilh. c. particata. 13. quon. attach. c. de brevis 31. It is of verity, that three beare cornes without talleis, fet togidder in length, makis ane inch. Of the quhilk cornes, ane fild be taken off the mid rig an off the side of the rig, and an off the furrow. Twelve inches makis ane lute of measure: Three fute and ane inch, makis ane Elne: Six elnes lang, makis ane Fall: quhilk is the common lineall measure and mette. And fexe elnes lang, and fex elnes broad, makis ane squire or superfiціаль fall, of measured land. And it is to be understand, that ane rod, ane rap, ane lineal fall of measure, are all ane, and signifies ane thing, for like ane the contrinis fex elnes in length, albeit ane rod is ane stasse, or gade of tymmer, quhairwith land is measured, in latine perica. Ane rapis maid of towie, fike as hempt, or uther stufie, and faneieck lande, as in measuring fallies under the rod, or rap, in length is called ane fall of measure, or ane lineal fall, because it is the measure of the line, and length allanerly. Likas the superfiціаль fal is the measure, bath of the length, & the bredth quia linea est mensura solius longitudinis, superficies vero est mensura longitudinis & latitudinis. Item, ten fallies in length, and foure in bredth, makis ane ruid: four ruid makis ane aiker. And fwa ane discreet and true man, may measure ilk aiker of land, lang or schort, with rod or rap, be the measure of the fall. Swa that he keepe juft count, and gude remembrance, that the endes of the rod, or rap, be richly and caven laide, without fraude or guyle. But it is necessary, that the measurers of land, called landmires, in latin, agrimensores, observe and keep, ane juft relation, betwixt the length & the breadth of the measure, quhilk they use in measuring of lands, quhairanent I findena mention in the lawes & register of this realme, albeit ane ordinance thereanent be maid be King Edward the first, King of England, the 33. zeir of his reigne: and because the knowledge of this mater is very necessary, in measuring of lands, dayly used in this realme. I thought gud to propound certain questions, to John Naper, fear of Merchilflow, ane gentleman of singular judgement and learning, specially in Mathematicke sciences. The tenour quhairof, and his answers maide therof followis.

First, be quhat rule fall we understande the length and bredth of the fall? It is answered: There is twa sortes of fallies, the ane lineall the uther superfiціаль: the lineall fall, is ane met-wand, rod, or rap, of fex elnes lang, quhairbe, length and bredth, are feverly met. Ane superfiціаль fall of lande, is faneieck boundis of landes, as quairty contrinis ane lineall fall of bredth, and ane lineall fall of length, quhairof followis, that be the lineall fall, lande is measured, and be the superfiціаль fall, lande is recked. Nowe quhairtis inquired be quhat rule the length and bredth of ane fall fall be understand. I answer, That quhen-soever the elnes of bredth being multiplied be the elnes of length do produce 36. elnes: the number product, is ane superfiціаль fall: and the faide bredth and length, are the juft bredth and length that makis ane fall. Swa 36. elnes lang, of ane elne broad, are ane fall of land. Item, aucht elnes lang, twa elnes broad, are the like: alwa, twelve elnes lang, of three elnes broad. Or nine elnes lang of foure elnes broad, are ane fall. Lastly, fex elnes alwa, that is to say, fex elnes lang, and fex elnes broad, makis ane fall. To this fall the lirtle ruid, or maid of warke, or of buirdes, or of malfon, or skait warke, is equal, quhilk is maist properly the ruid, as after followis.

Secondly, how many kinds of ruides are in use? Answer, Twa, quhairof the ane is proper, the uther improper. The ruid properly is ane superfiціаль fall, and contrinis threitie fex squair elnes: Ane squair elne, being the boundes of ane elne in bredth, and ane elne in length, squarely included. The uther vulgar and improper ruid of land, contrinis foure of their former ruides, or superfiціаль fallis, and is the quarter of ane aiker of lande, because foure of this ruides makis ane aiker, as faide is.

Thirdly, be quhat rule may the juft measure of ane aiker in length and bredth be understand? It is answered, Multiply be Arithmetick multiplication, the number of the fallies that are in the length of the land, be the number of fallis that are in the bredth thereof: Everie aucht-score fallis of the number produced, and refusing of the faid multiplication, is ane aiker: and therefore aucht-score fallis of length, and ane fall of bredth, makis ane aiker: and foure-score fallis of length, and twa fallis of bredth, makis ane aiker. Item, foure fallis of length, and foure fallis in bredth, makis ane aiker. Alwa twentie fallis in length, and aucht fallis in bredth, makis ane aiker. Lastly, ten fallis in bredth, and sextene fallis in length makis ane aiker.

Fourthly, being there is ane kinde, of measuring of land be Rod, and rap: quhat is the forme thereof? And githere be any maa formes, how are they called? and quhat is the forme and manner of the famin? It is answered, There be knawin ro expert Mathematiciens, mony and divers wayes to mette land, all agreeand togidder in ane, bot of the vulgar peere there is bot ane forme of metting used and understand, to wit, be rod and rap, that is to say, be ane rod or gade of fex elnes lang: Or be ane string or coard, offex elnes lang, stented betwixt rwa staves. The coarde being ane schalt length abone the pykes, or ether endes of the staves. The faid rod or rap, or cither of them, is called ane fall: to wit, the lineall fall forefaid. With these fallies, like quare piece of lande, is met over the middis, quhar fallies and elnes it hes of length, and thereafter is met croce-over the middis, quhar fallies and elnes it hes of bredth. Thereafter the fallis and elnes of the length on the ane pairt, and the fallies and elnes of the bredth, on the uther pairt, are multiplied togidder, and the producte schawis the number of the aikers, ruides, elnes, quhilk the faid piece of land contrinis. As for example, fike the piece of land be 31. fall, three elnis of length, and 10. fallis 2. elnis of bredth: multiply 31. fallis 3. elnis, or 31½ fallis to 10. fallis 2. elnis: Or be 10½ fallis; The product will amount to 332½ fallis: Or 532. fallis. 6. elnis: quhairof every aucht-score fallies, ar ane aiker. Swa 332. fallis 6. elnis, are three aikers and ane quarter, 12. fallis, & 6. elnis of met land.

practique of this realme, is when any vassall, or free tennent, hold- and his landes be service of warde and relieve, fells and annales all and hails his landes with their pertencis, or the maist part thereof, without licence, consent, or confirmation of his over-lord. In the quibill caise, all and hails his landes, aswell nocht annalled, as annalled, and halden as said is, may be recognoffed and possession thereof pertainis to him to be beiraked, or displosed be him, at his pleasure; quhairfo divers and fundie practiques are extant in the Register in the daies of King James the Fourth, of gud memorie. The superior understanding the landes to be wrangellous annalled, as said is: is incontinent thereafter may use the recognition thereof, and conforme to the auld praik of this law, may take raising of the famin, conforme to the auld praik of this law: Because the famin alienation is done to his dishonour and contemptre be his vassall, quha suld do reverence, and service to him, & therefor without his consent fuld nocht doe one thing to dissolve the league and band, quhairis beirake them. Moreover the vassall, may nocht make the said alienation, because thereby, he may becom puit, and unable to do to his superior ilk service, as he fuld do of the law. Cuic lib. 1. Recognition of landes is sum times generallie takene the superior may recognoffe, and reitene all the landes halden of him untill they be recovered fra him be the entrefle of the rightous aie, and that be reason of none-entres.

2 After that the aie he has recovered the landes, furth of the handes of his superior: Nevertheless the superior may recognoffe, and reitene the famin, untill securitie be maid to him for payment of the relieve.

3 Gif the vassall is fugitive for hauchter, or the maist part thereof, the superior may recognoffe the land halden of himselfe, as lang as the felon or manslayer happens to live. Conforme to the law the horn pertains to the immediat superior, except he be rebell for treason, in the quibill caise; his life-rent, & all his landes, gudes and gear moveable, & immoveable, pertainis to the King allanerlie, quia pena eorum eidem applicari ad-versus quem committitur culpa. 4 Gif the vassall annalles his landes, or the maist part thereof, without licence, consent, or confirmation of his Over-lord: The Overlord may recognoffe the same, as said is. Bot in this caise he is obliged to let the landes to borge, to his vassall, askand, and craving the famin within the lauchfull space of fourtie daies, after the recognition; and saiking tane untill it be tryed be the judge. 5 Ordinar, quhairder the cause of recognition be lauchfull or nocht, quibill being founde lauchfull, the judge fuld counsell the King, and decern any o-ther superior, to hald his handes fra the landes, and let them to borge to his vassall. And gif the cause be found just and reasonable: The judge fuld decerne the propriete, and possession of all and hails the landes, to pertaine and remain with the superior. 6 Quhen two or mair parties contendis be way of dede and armes, for the possession of landes, the superior thereof may recognoffe and sequestrate the famin, untill it be tryed, quibill of them is lauchfull possessor; and thereafter let the landes to borge to him, quha is found to have beiricht of the possession.

6 The superior may recognoffe and reitene landes halden of him in chief, for service aucht to him, furth of the famin landes. Bot be the praik of this realme: The service aucht to be proven and liquidat, and thereafter the landes may be lauchfullie comprised.

7 Landes halden in few-ferm, payand ane certain zeirlic dewtie, Nomine feudi ferme, may be recognoffed be the superior, for none payment of the few dewtie, & that rwa manner of waies. The first, ex provisione legis, & natura contractus. For the few-fermer not payand his few-ferm, for his ingratitude and un-thankfulness, this and fore-faldis his few-ferm, be the disposition of the Law, quibill as said is was not in praik of use within this Realme.

The secondeis, ex provisione hominum, et conditionibus contractus inferis, quibill is called ane clause irritant, as quhen ane clause and provision is contained in the instrument, that it twa or mair termes run in ane of non payment of the few-ferm dewtie: then and in that caise, the instrument of few-ferme to be irritant, null and of none avall, quibill, is conforme to the dailey praik of this realme, quia pacta convensa legem contrahentibus prescribunt. vid. l. 1. et Tit. c. de iure employen. Always, be the act of Parliament maid be la. 6. p. 15. c. 246. Alienations of lands maid in few-ferm, are null for none payment of the few-dewties, be the space of two zeires, albeit na paction or provision be maid thereanet in the instrument.

And in auld times the ferjandes, or mairis, maid therecord of the fundmondes, be word, or be writ, as they pleased: and verified the famin as said is. And untill the famin were done, the defender could nocht be compelled to make ane answer. lib. 1. c. cum autem. 8. de indic. c. 50. And King David the second. 18. Febr. 1369, and of his reigne the fourtie zeire, statute and ordained anent the record of ferjandes, or mairis, that the fundmondes and record thereof, fuld put in writ gif it please the ferjand or mair, and he fall reade the famin gif he can, in plaine court. Otherwis, he may make the record be word: in the best form he may, and gif he failies, he may be helped and supplied be interrogatories of the judge, concerning all and fundie clauses or articles, necessarie used in the record of ane fundmondes, quhair record the ferjand or mair fall prieve sufficientlie be lauchfull witness. And the said record being swa maid, the famin fall be received as lauchfull, and the contrair partie fall nocht be heard, to object against the same, or to propound any exception against the lauchfulness thereof: And it fall be laisum to the schireffe, his depute, ferjand, mair of sic, or one utherde perving in the office of ane ferjand or mair, be the authoritie of the King, or of one utherde having power to make rehearfall of the fundmondes of the record or indofation thereof, swa that they be qualified, and abill to doe the famin. la. 1. p. 9. c. 112.

ITEM, recordum curie, signifies the report, rehearfall, or minute of that quibill is done in court or the interloquutor of the court. *lib. 1. c. contingit. 31. RESPONDE, Or the buike of Responde. Ia. 6. par. 11. c. 73. It is maid and written be the directour of the Chancellerie. For quhen he directis preceptes to the Schireffe, to give faling of any landes retoured befor him to the Chancellerie: He makis anememoriall of the dait of ilk precept, and dewtie of the landis; and commandis the Schireffe, to take securitie for the faling, during the time of feild warde, and non-entres, and of the relieve auchtand to the King, gif the landis be halden be service of ward and relieve. Or of the doubling of the few-ferme, or of the blench ferme, according to the halding of the landes. Quhillik buike zeirlike is presented to the Checker: And like Schireffe, and other judges, givers of falinges upon preceptes, direct furth of the Kingis Chancellerie, are charged there-with in their comptes, compelled to make answer be thereto, and payment of all summes contained therein: for the quhill tale, it is called Responde. quhillik is the first worde of like article of the foist buike. Further in the end of the saidis preceptes, it is said, presentibus poß proximum terminum minime valueris. And therefore, gif the obtainer of the precept furth of the Chancellerie, lye our and take nocht faling upon the famin, quhill ane terme and maie be by-run after the dait therof, he sulde come againe to the Chancellerie, and raise ane new precept, quhairin is augmented the by-run mailles of the landis, sen the dait of the first precept, and ane newe memoriall or Responde, is maid therof.

RETOUR, quhom be it is maid, and quhy it is fa called. vid. breve de morte antecessoris.

REGRES, from Regrediendo, like as REVERSION, revertendo: For like as the buyer of landes, letis them retorne to the seller therof, be the reversion given unto him. Even swa be the regresse of the superiour of landes wed-fet, be his vassall, after the redemption therof, suffers the first fellor of the famin to come back againe to his awin place, anent the halding of the land, as he did before the said alienation. Swa reversion and regresse are different, for reversion is given be him quha buyis the lande, Cum patto de retro-vendendo, to the annaler therof. In French it is called, ius rechaptes or rechapts. And a regresse is given be the superiour of landes, to the annaler therof, quhairby he promissis to receive againe him, or his heirs to be his vassalles, as they were before: quhen it fall happen any of them to redeem the saids landes. 27. November 1367. Gregory Haliburton, contrare the Laird of Hynton. And gif any man annales landes under reversion, to be halden of him and his heirs, ane regresse is not necessary: For they being afterward redeemed, he quha first annalled them, recovers the property therof, without any new faling and the same retourns to him, & is consolaid, with the superiourtie quhill he referred to him and his heirs, the time of the alienation. But gif ane man annales landes to ane uth-er, under reversion to be halden of the superiour, and the byar there-by of obteine infesment, and faling halden of him: The annaler there-by is denuded of the propertie, and allwa is na langer vassall to his former superiour, and can na wayes recover his former estat, but be redemption of the landes, conforme to the reversion granted be him quha bought them. And allwa bee ane regresse, givento him be the superiour: In the quhillik case it is necessary to him, quha first annalled the landes, and there-after redeemed them to take newe falinges. To the effecte, the propertie quhillik was firste annalled, may retorne to the seller. And that he may halde the famin landes in chiefe of his superiour, and his heirs, as he did before the alienation. And it is generally to be observed, that quhair ane regresse is required, ane new faling is necessary. In auld times, the reversion was contained in the chartour, as is manifest be divers chartours, zit extant in the regestir, given in the time of King David the seconde: conteneand the tenour of the reversion after the claute. Tenent. & habent. and uthers auld chartours in the forme after following.

Sik-like aſtiones of ejection and ſpuilzie, pertainis to the Schirreffe, and his juſtification. And therefore, gif any man is wrangoully ejected furth of his land, or violently ſpuilzie of his guds and gear: The Schirreffe ſuld take cognition there-ane. And the ejection or ſpuilzie beand proven, ſhall caſt him quha is ejected or ſpuilzie, to be reſtored to his awin landes, guds and gear, with the proſeſs thereof, and damage and ſkail ſuffered be the partie. Aſſ. Reg. Da. c. ſtat. 31. Spedallie gif the perſones quha ar ejected and ſpuilzie be religious men, clerks, widows, aged perſones, or ſik uthers, quha be the law, ar excuſed fra ſingular battell. Aſſ. Reg. Da. c. ſtat. 38. Stat. Alex. c. 5. ſtat. Ro. Br. 3. c. 6.

Ejectiones.

And in ejectiones, quhen any man is ejected furth of his landes, fee, or heretage, The Schirreffe at command of the Lordes of Seſſion, ſhall furth with gar reſtore the ground, without prejudice of any partie, and recognoſce the landes in the Kings handes, untill they be lowed be the King. And in the mean time, inquisition is taken be the Schirreffe, quha was lauchfull poſſeſſour of the landes: And the ſamin beand retoured to the King, the landes ar letten to boghite to the ſaid perſon. l. 2. p. 14. c. 62. And generallie, the Schirreffe ſuld arreſt, and put in the Kings ward, all maſterfull and wrangous occupiers or uther menis landes, and ſhall caufe the ground to be maid voyde of them and their guds. Ja. 2. p. 14. c. 78.

Spuilzie.

Concerning ſpuilzie, the Schirreffe ſuld compell ſpuilziers, and their receivers (the ſpuilzie being proven) to reſtore their gudes ſpuilzie, and charge them to anſwer therefore, as law will. And in caſe they diſobey, he ſuld denunce them rebelles, and put them to the Kings horne. Quhairin, gif he be negligent or partiall, he ſhalbe puniſhed as the principall ſpuilzier. Jam. 2. parlia. 5. cap. 10. The like reſtitution ſuld be maid be the Lordes of regalities, quhill gif they doe not; the Schirreffe ſuld caufe the ſamin be done within the regalitie. Jam. 2. p. 5. c. 11. Laſt of all, aſtiones of recent ſpuilzie, may be perſewed before the Lordes, or the Schirreffe, within xv. daies nixt after the committing of the ſpuilzie. Jam. 4. p. 6. c. 65.

Execution not onely of decreets of ejection and ſpuilzie, as ſaid is, bot alſo of all uther decreets pertainis to the Schirreffe, be reaſon of his office and juſtification. For ane decreet beand given againſt any man, letters are direct to the Schirreffe of the Schire, ſteward, or Bailles to burgh, or to land, charging them to put the ſaid decreet to execution: quhill ſuld be done be ilk ane of them, within their awin juſtification, and ſuld receive for their office and fee xij. d. for ilk li. recovered or contained in the decreet, to be taken of him, againſt quhom the decreet is given. And gif the Schirreffe or uther official failzies to doe the ſame, he ſal fine his office for iij. zeirs, gif he be heretale; and perpetually, gif he ſis in li. rent, or for ane certainie time; & ſal pay the principal ſume recovered, to the partie, with the coſts and expenſes ſuſtained be him. l. 4. p. 3. c. 30. l. 4. p. 6. c. 67. Likewaiſe all ſentences and decreets given be the Lordes of the ſeſſion ſuld be execute be the Schirreffe of the Schire, or his deputies, quhair the party dwellis, againſt quhom the decreet is given, Or els be Herauldes, purſevantes, or Maifers: And for execution thereof, nane ſhall take mai nor is prefcribed be the act of Parliament foreſaid; except be liberalitie of the partie, under the paine of deprivation of their office. Ja. 5. p. 5. c. 58.

Poynding.

For the better and maid reddie execution of decreets: It is leaſum to the Schirreffe, to poynd the guds and gear pertaining to the debtour, be the brievie of dittres: quhill brievie pertainis to the Schirreffe's juſtification. lib. 1. c. Pleuitum. 7. Quha ſuld caufe execute the forme of poynding, & taking of dittres. Quantum attach. c. de brevis. 31. Bot the Schirreffe or uther judge may not poynd any man, or take ane dittres, bot within his awin juſtification allanerly. And gif he dois in the contrair, it is plainie riſe or ſpuilzie. lib. 1. c. 13. And it is not leaſum to the Schirreffe, or any uther judge, within his awin juſtification, to poynd oxen, horſe, or uther guds pertaining to the pleuch, or that labouris the ground, the time of the labouring thereof, gif they be uther ſtreinzeable guds, quhill may be poynded. And gif any man will take ane poynd within the Schirreffe's lorn, he ſall cum to the Schirreffe or his deputies, and deſire him to concurre and aſſiſt with him therein. And thereafter the Schirreffe, or his deputies, ſhall paſſe with him to the houſe of the debtour, fra quhom the poynd ſuld be taken. And gif the debtour confeſſis the debt, and prievs payment thereof to bee maid be him, or be uthers in his name: Na poynd ſuld be taken. And gif any is taken, the ſamin ſuld be delivered againe, utherswaiſe, gif he grants the debt, and proovis it not payed: The Schirreffe ſuld take the poynd, and the poynd ſhall not be taken fra him, except it be maniſt, that the debt is aucht to the creditor; becauſe na dittres or poynd ſuld be taken bot for debt conteſted or proven. li. 4. c. Si quis nemo. 30. And gif the debtour has na moveable guds, or hes not ſumkeil within the Schire, as is equivalent to the debt recovered againſt him. And gif it happens that he have ſome moveable guds within ane uther Schirreffe's lorn, The Schirreffe of ſuche uther Schire, within the quhill the ſaids moveable guds lyeis, ſhall caufe the ſame to be poynded & compried, & the creditor to be payed. And failzieng of moveable guds, the Schirreffe ſal caufe the lands & immoveable guds pertaining to the debtour, to be compried conforme to the act of Parliament, and caufe the ſamin to be ſauld and annallid, to the availle of the debt and the creditour. Ja. 2. p. 5. c. 36.

Diverſe and ſindrie criminal aſtiones pertainis and belongs to the Schirreffe, and his juſtification, quhair of ſome ar capitally wheres ar pecuniary, as after follows: And firſt generallie the Schirreffe may follow and perſew all treſpaſſours, in the Kings name, and cauſeis: Maikes and ſerjantes arreſt them; Albeit na partie perſew compely or aſſiſt. l. 1. p. 13. c. 139. Like as the ſchaur, and advocat, may perſew ſlauchter, and uther crimes, albeit the parties keipe cleire, or uther waiſes privadly. l. 1. p. 13. c. 139. And ſwa quhen any complaint is maid, be any perſon to the juſtice General, or to the Schirreffe, or to any uther official of law within burgh, or without the ſamin; The Schirreffe, or uther judge, ſhall ſummond both the parties: And gif the deede be done be Chaidmelle, the partie ſhall perſew, as effeſſis of the law. Bot gif it be done be fore-thought-fellonie, the committer thereof, ſhal be accuſed of the breaking of the Kings peace: He ſhall ſatiffie the partie, and be imprifoned in the Kings priſon. Becauſe his life and gudes ar in the Kings will. l. 1. p. 3. c. 51. And gif any treſpaſſor be fugitive for any crime, the Schirreffe ſuld perſew and follow him: And ilk Gentle-man, not followand the ſchowite, or out-horne, ſal pay law. And ilk zeaman xx. s. to the King. l. 1. p. 6. c. 9. 8.

The Schirreffe, Crowner, or Provost within Burgh, ſuld caufe burie him quha is murdered. Leg. Maj. Make. 1.

The Schirreffe ſuld puniſh Witches, Sorcerers, Necromancers, and them quha ſeckis helpe, reſponſe, or conſultation of them, unto the death, alſowill he abuter, as the ſeeker of the reſponſe, or conſultation. Mar. p. 6. c. 78.

The Schirreffe, and uther ordinar judges, ſuld ſearch, take, and apprehend, all them quha not being lauchfullie admitted, dois miniſter the Sacramentes, ſayis Meſſe, or hearis the ſamin, to be brocht to the King to be puniſhed conforme to the Law. l. 1. p. 6. c. 1. c. 5.

The Schirreffe ſuld take frait inquisition, of them quha kirkis falſe, or forbidden cuinze, and ſuld caufe them to be brought to the King, to be puniſhed to the death. l. 3. p. 3. c. 18.

The Schirreffe beand certified of ſlauchter, committed within his Schirreſdome, and royaltie thereof, he ſhall incontinent raiſe and follow the ſlayer, with found of horne, and convocation of the Kings lieges. And gif he beis apprehended with reid hand, juſtice ſhall be done within that Sunne. And gif he be taken and apprehended without reid hand, Hee ſalbe pur in priſon, and law ſalbe done upon him, within 40. daies. And gif he eſcapis, or flies furth of the Schirreſdome, the Schirreffe ſhall certifie the nixt Schirreffe thereof, quha ſal perſew and follow the ſlayer in manner foreſaid. And conſequencie, ilk Schirreffe ſal certifie uther, until the treſpaſſor be put furth of the Realm, or els brocht to juſtice: The like certification ſuld be maid be the Schirreffe, to the Lord of regalitie, quha ſuld perſew the malefactours, as the Schirreffe ſuld do. l. 1. p. 6. c. 89. Jam. 3. par. 5. c. 3. Jam. 4. par. 1. c. 28. Quhen the committer of ſlauchter, cummis to the Girth: The Schirreffe ſuld advertiſe the Maifter of the Girth, and caufe the ſlayer bee put to the knowledge of ane Aſſiſe, quhider the ſlauchter committed be him, was done upon ſuddaunt, or be fore-thought-fellonie. And gif it be found ſuddaunt, he ſalbe retoured to the libertie of the Girth, and Santuarie. And gif it be founde fore-thought-fellonie, he ſalbe puniſhed to the death. l. 3. p. 3. c. 35. Ja. 5. p. 4. c. 22.

The Schirreffe ſuld not onely puniſh committers of ſlauchter, as ſaid is; bot alſo ſuld after his power, itay, and top the committing thereof. And therefore, quhen any man has doubt of his life, either be ony dedde, menacing, or violent preſumption; and verifies the ſamin be his aith, or uther probation, And for that cauſe, aſkis law-fortewrite be given to him be the Schirreffe, that he ſalbe harmeles and ſkairles of him, of quhom he dreads the bodielie harme. The Schirreffe ſuld grant his petition; & gif he reſuſis the ſame, he ſal pay 40. pound to the King, & aſlyth the partie. l. 1. p. 9. c. 129. l. 2. p. 6. c. 13. l. 2. p. 14. c. 83. And gif the law-borrowes happens to be broken, the paine thereof, ſuld be payed to the Schirreffe, for the quhill he ſalbe comptable in the Checker. l. 3. p. 1. c. 5.

It is leaſum to the Schirreffe and his deputies, to peſſew ony perſone for Theif. theif, Albeit na partie concurre and informe him there-ane. Quantum attach. c. ubi aliquis. 25. As likewaiſe, he is judge competent to theif and ſlauchter, quhen any perſon compairis and inſiſtis with him, in the perſute. PARA INESIS AD IUDICES.

Mnis qui judicare debet, Stateram in manu teneat: Nam equalia & sine perfonarum exceptione esse debent judicia. Nihil iniquius quam munera capere in judiciis: Quia munera excæcant corda prudentium, & subvertunt verba iustorum. Qua enim Balance judicabitur, eadem judicabimini. Quapropter, tu iudex, timeas Deum iudicem; ne forte eo judicante, damneris. Stat. Wilbel. Cap. 27. Proinde sis Deum honorans & timens: Sapiens & in scientia potens: Veritatem sequens & amans: Avaritias odens & detestans. de Maritag. c. 2. Cave justitiam subvertas odio, per quod inventa aliqua malitiosa cautela, contra partem tibi exosam, reddis iudicium indirectum: Vel cupiditate, dum corruptus muneribus, malitiose judicabis: Vel timore, dum metu potentioris, vere judicare non audes: Vel amore, dum causa amicitie defendis amicum, & suppressis inimicum. de Maritag. c. 4. Facias igitur justitiam equaliter, tam pauperibus, quam divitibus. Stot. 2. Rob. Br. Cap. 2. Quia omnes iudices & magnates, qui plus favent his, quam illis in iudicio, aut malefactores ullo modo manu-tenent, sunt falsi, & perjurati contra Deum, Regem & populum regni. leg. Mal.
